Something Needed

Last Saturday morning for the first time in some years we attended a meeting of the Lauderdale County Quarterly Court. The meeting was called to reconsider the action of the July term of the court in approving a $750,000 school bond referendum. Prior to the meeting of the court earlier last week we made an effort to learn just what the court had in mind to do. At no time were we able to get any real information nor were the magistrates informed. In consequence when the court was called to order many of the magistrates did not know just what was in prospect, others felt that they had been misled and only a few magistrates were really informed. The action of the court in refusing to rescind their action was easily understood under the circumstances and in our opinion was as should be. Those few magistrates who wished to rescind the action were seemingly not fighting schools but merely wanting to keep costs at a minimum and keep the county court informed. In all probability had all the magistrates been sufficiently informed many of the points of the resolution as read would have been passed. As it was, lack of knowledge made the majority of the court unwilling to make any changes. All this discussion is leading to the fact that in our opinion the court should work up some means of keeping the members of the court informed on what will be considered and what to expect at each meeting. Some such committee should be appointed to consider matters to be brought before the court, set up a calendar and notify the various magistrates in sufficient time that they may be informed. Why not a calendar committee so that magistrates may consider their actions prior to the court meeting?

See Need of Schools

One thing that impressed us at the court meeting Saturday was the fact that almost all of the magistrates were interested in needed schools being built in Lauderdale County. There was little or no quibbling about the need of schools and it was evident that the majority of the court members mean for schools to be built. We hope that this intention will remain firm in their mind until the schools are actual facts and not plans on paper.

Fish Promised

Absent from the paper this week is an advertisement that is usually present in the paper. When contacted Tuesday the proprietor stated that he was going fishing and would bring us a big fish instead. He has been known to catch a fish so we'll let you know the facts next week. We're seriously considering charging for the space anyway if he doesn't come through with the fish.

Congratulation

Our congratulations to Coach and Mrs. Jim Peery on the new football prospect who was born early Friday morning. Not fully informed but grapevine says the youngster has been named James Michael and that both are doing fine.

Revivals Well Attended

Attendance at the Church of Christ revival which closed Sunday night and the Baptist Church revival now in session has been excellent according to reports.

Pleanty To Eat

Speaking of the Baptist revival, we were informed previously that the Rev. Bouldin would bring his family with him from Texas but he did not. There's some rumors going around that the Baptist pastor started the report in order that a sufficient supply of food would be made available. Of course this may be an unjust accusation but at the same time we are informed that the Baptist ladies are delivering an enormous amount of food to the parsonage each day.

Condition Good

Rep. Gore Is Congratulated on Farm Bill Fight

Rep. Albert Gore, left, of Tennessee's Fourth Congressional District is congratulated by Mr. Tom Hitch, President of the Tennessee Farm Bureau Federation, for Gore's successful fight against the Brannan farm subsidy plan in Congress.

The Little Grave

"It's only a little grave," he said. "Only just a child that's dead." And so they carelessly turned away from the mound the spade had made that day.

Ah, he did not know how deep a shade the little grave in the home had made.

I know its coffin was narrow and small, one yard would have served for an ample pall and so now some things will have been put away. I know that a mother had stood that day with folded hands by the form of clay, and that her lips and cheeks and brow were almost as white as her baby's now. Yes, some things will be put away, the little suit with wrappings gay. The little sock with a half worn shoe. An empty crib with covers spread as white as the face of the sinless dead. It's only a little grave but, oh beware, for world-wide hopes are buried there. And ye perhaps in coming years, may see like her through blinding tears.

How much of life, how much of joy was buried with the little boy.

County Court Again Approves School Bond Referendum

RIPLEY — A special session of the Lauderdale County Quarterly Court here Saturday beat back attempts to delay an Aug. 25 school bond referendum and added $50,000 to the amount to be voted upon, bringing the proposed expenditure to $800,000.

Judge J. E. Lewis had summoned the session at the request of five magistrates for the purpose of reconsidering the action of the court at its last regular session in passing a resolution authorizing the issuance of $750,000 school bonds and amending, rescinding, modifying or repealing the resolution.

The court voted 21-5 to defeat a referral of the school building program to the Board of Education for further study. It then added Dry Hill School, with $50,000, to the eight projects previously approved — Halls Elementary School, Gates, Central, Edith, Nankipoo, Henning, Ripley High School, and the Lauderdale County Training School, a negro high school.

The nine schools which all county voters, without poll tax prerequisite, will pass on Aug. 25 represent the core of the County's school improvement program.

A modern school has been erected in Arp Community and one is under construction at Ashport. Henning's Palmer-Turner School, largest negro school in the state, has had its contract awarded for rebuilding after destruction by fire in early Spring.

County School Supt. Edric Owen told the court Saturday that higher teacher's salaries had dropped the number of uncertified teachers in the county from 39 to 19 in the past year. He predicted "an adequate supply of teachers" within two or three years.

Board Votes To Do Street Work

The City Board of Mayor and Aldermen at their regular meeting Monday night voted to pave and gutter Shannon Street between Highway 51 and Front St. Property owners in the block will bear two-thirds of the costs of the curb and gutter with the city paying one-third and paving the street.

Bids on the work were submitted by Forcum-James Lumber Co. of Dyersburg and Dyer Bros. Lumber Co. of Halls. Since specifications varied no definite contract was awarded. It is expected that work can be started in the near future.

The board also voted to rebuild the concrete walk along Front St. where needed between the Hurt Brothers building and the Frozen Food Locker building with two-thirds of the cost to be borne by property owners and one-third by the city.

The board named F. W. Hurt, W. C. Patton and F. E. Pugh as members of the Board of Equalization and announcement has been made that the Board will be in session on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, August 8, 9 and 10.

Four people met with the board to protest the proposed removal of rent control in Halls and the board deferred action at the meeting for further consideration.

The second reading of the tax ordinance placing the tax rate at $1.75 (the present rate) was carried out. The board was dismissed on a deferred meeting motion and will convene again next Monday night for the third and final reading of the tax ordinance.

Softball Playoff To Start Next Tuesday Night

Potters, league leading team, and Legion, who can move into a tie for first place with a victory, will play the final regularly scheduled game of the Halls Softball League Friday night of this week. Potters has lost one game during the season while Legion has lost two for second place in the standings.

Potters made certain of at least a tie for first place Tuesday night when they handed Poplar Grove a stunning 13 to 0 defeat with the game ending in five innings. Poplar Grove had defeated Potters earlier in the season. In the second game Tuesday night High School defeated Nankipoo.

In games tonight (Thursday) High School will play Paul's and Poplar Grove will play Nankipoo. High School must have a win over Paul's to maintain undisputed fourth place in the standings.

Opponents for the playoff have not yet been determined but Jim Peery, head of the league, has announced that the playoff will start next Tuesday night with two games scheduled for both Tuesday and Thursday nights. In the playoff will be Potters, Legion and Poplar Grove with the fourth team as yet undetermined.

A two out of three series will be played between the four teams taking part and then a two out of three series between the winners of the first round.

REA Big Shots Visit Here

Two big shots of the Rural Electrification Administration visited H. E. Pentecost, manager, and the Forked Deer Electric Cooperative Thursday of last week. They were: William J. Neal of Washington, Deputy REA Administrator, and E. A. Coffey of Memphis and Washington. The two men were in this territory to attend the installation ceremony of the millionth TVA customer near Humboldt and visited Mr. Pentecost and the Halls cooperative while in this section.

TO APPEAR ON TELEVISION PROGRAM FRIDAY NIGHT

Carolyn McCorkle, talented young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. McCorkle, has accepted an invitation to appear on the WMCT television program, "Steps To Stardom", Friday night of this week. The program will be held from 7:30 to 8:00 o'clock with several youngsters appearing during the thirty minute program.

Hilliard Radio & Appliance Co. and Vaden Furniture have each stated that if at all possible the public may view the program over their television sets.

OVERHEATED MOTOR CAUSES BLAZE

The Halls Fire Department answered a call to the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Jones on the Cross Roads highway just east of town late Saturday afternoon and managed to extinguish the fire without causing much damage. The fire started from an electric refrigerator motor which was believed to have been overheated. Mr. and Mrs. Jones had been in town and had just arrived home.

Take Soil Samples Now

Farmers planning to seed alfalfa or permanent pastures in late August or early September should certainly take soil samples this week and get them off to the laboratory. Telephone 234 or write the County Agent in Ripley to get boxes and instruction for taking and mailing samples. A charge of 50 cents per sample is made by the laboratory in Nashville. That is a very small charge for the savings that may be made and the extra profits by knowing just what the soil in each field needs for highest yields of the crop to be planted. This soil testing service is sponsored jointly by the Extension Service and the Tennessee Crop Improvement Association.

Corn Needs Nitrogen and Water

Corn planted early this year which shows burned leaves near the ground, in most cases in simple need of nitrogen. We have surely had plenty of water for corn this year, especially that which is on level land or soil containing plenty of organic matter to make it retain the water that has fallen on the ground.

Joe Johnson has a field of corn on the South side of the Arp road going out of Ripley which illustrates this point. Crimson clover was grown on this land last winter and on the 14 rows on the West side of the field Anhydrous Ammonia was applied at the rate of 20 gallons or 80 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre. There are no burned leaves on these rows.

On the adjoining rows no nitrogen was applied and the corn looks fine but shows some need for nitrogen.

Cotton Boll Weevils Reported Active

F. H. Paschal, County Agent Cotton boll weevils made headlines this week with reports of infestations as high as 40 percent in Shelby and Fayette Counties in Tennessee and even higher in Mississippi and Arkansas.

Supplies of all the new insecticides for cotton insects were sold out in Memphis forcing growers to fall back on the old reliables such as Calcium Arsenate.

We have not checked any fields in Lauderdale County which had more than 2 percent of the squares showing evidence of boll weevils, but growers are warned to check their fields often in order that they can get an early start where weevils attack in large enough numbers to justify dusting. It is advisable to begin dusting cotton when it shows 10 percent infestation.

Life History Explained The boll weevil lays its eggs in squares and bolls. The bracts on the squares always flare 2 or 3 days after the squares have been "tung." Some fall to the ground.

Three to five days after the eggs are laid within the squares or bolls, they hatch into white grubs. The grubs feed for 7 to 14 days and then change into pupas within the squares or bolls. These change to the adult in 3 to 5 days and cut their way out. After feeding on blooms, squares, or bolls for 3 to 4 days the females are ready to lay eggs. The complete life cycle requires about 3 weeks when temperatures are high, and there may be 7 or 8 generations in a season.

Do We Need More Pickers? A county controversy was started this week over the question of whether Mexican labor should be imported to pick cotton this fall. Some said there was an abundance of labor available and some said a lot of extra pickers would be needed.

Farm operators themselves are the only ones who can settle this question. We have an Employment Office in Ripley over the Wiley T. Daniels Motor Company under the supervision of Grady Cook who works for the Department of Employment Security. His telephone is 357. Every farmer who would like to have Mexican cotton pickers and is willing to contract for them on a business basis should immediately notify Grady Cook, Ripley, Tennessee, by letter, telephone, or personal visit stating the number of pickers wanted and answering questions with regard to housing facilities available.

These pickers are supposed to be paid prevailing wages. Housing does not have to be too expensive, because they will not stay until cold weather, more than likely. It is absolutely necessary that definite requests be made now for any of these pickers we want this fall. If we later decide that extra pickers are not needed, we can keep them from coming very easily, but we cannot get them without arranging for them beforehand.

trogen by the leaves being burned near the ground. On the remainder of the field nitrogen was applied in the form of Anhydrous Ammonia at the rate of 40 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre. There is not much sign of nitrogen starvation in this corn.

The growing of winter legumes such as crimson clover or hairy vetch adds organic matter and nitrogen to the soil. The organic matter makes the soil easier to cultivate and causes it to hold more water for the production of crops. This is certainly important for corn since 7600 gallons of water is required for the production of each bushel.

AAA Payments Help
Many farmers eligible to receive AAA payments for soil building practices such as the application of lime, phosphate, potash, and borax and the seeding of cover crops such as crimson clover and vetch have not placed orders for these materials or seeds at the AAA office under the Dailey Store.

For the first time in several years, they have 45 percent superphosphate, 50 percent potash, and borax on hand. Lime can be ordered and delivered without delay.

The seeding of permanent pastures costs real money, but AAA payments can help on these. Let's use these payments.

THE FILTHY FLY
The common house fly is an enemy of good health. In addition he is a filth-bred, ill mannered, pesky insect with dirty feet.

His birthplace and his habits account for his filthiness. He is born in filth and he wades around in filth up to his knees. He doesn't pick and choose his wading places either.

Once his feet are well laden with foul, unhealthy matter, he seeks entrance to your home where he searches for food and drink. He will come right in if doors are unscrubbed and open; otherwise, he will crawl through a crack or crevice in on someone's back.

This intruder enjoys walking around on baby's hands and face, or on the toys and food of the child. Tiny bits of food and sweet liquids sticking to baby's teething ring are relished by the fly.

In addition to his pesky disposition, the fly brings the germs of many diseases with him, principally those causing various kinds of diarrhea. Also, he may carry dysentery, typhoid, food poisoning organisms, and amebiasis.

Keep the flies out of your home by screening, swating, and spraying. Destroy his breeding places and keep all garbage and other refuse in covered containers.

As a final precaution, keep all food and drink in the home out of his reach. Some of them will survive all efforts at eradication and will get in in spite of your heroic measures.

FACTS BEHIND RED ACTIVITY IN U. S. REVEALED IN FILM

How are Americans hood-winked into joining the Communist party? How, in this great Democracy, do the tools of the Kremlin swell their ranks?

What happens to a person after he joins the party?

The startling answers to these questions and many others are brought to the screen in one of the most amazing and courageous pictures ever produced, Republic Studios' "The Red Menace" shown at the Ritz Theatre in Dyersburg on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, August 7, 8, and 9.

Based on Fact
More incredible because every burning moment of it is based upon fact, "The Red Menace" brings into the open every trick of Communist party leaders and organizers so that Americans can recognize their methods and motives.

The Communistic formula for enlisting new party members, dramatically exposed by Republic, includes the use of women, set up by the party in swanky apartments to lure unsuspecting men into the party's ranks.

"The Red Menace" reveals how the Commies pit class against class, race against race and creed against creed in order to achieve their ends; how they promise everything to everybody with never any intention of delivering. You see how loyal party members are dropped from the ranks and beaten up because they dare to question the Moscow-dictated party line. You see how people are driven to suicide when they learn the real truth too late.

Filmed in secrecy with a cast of unknown, though talented actors, "The Red Menace" is a tribute to Republic Studios, and its president, Herbert J. Yates, for the courage and patriotism displayed in bringing this shocking story to the screen.

MRS. PATTON HOSTESS TO MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The W. S. C. S. of the Methodist Church met with Mrs. W. C. Patton on Monday, August 1, at 8:30 p. m. with Mrs. Colley presiding. The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. Colley and responsive scripture reading. Following roll call and payment of dues minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Regular business was then transacted.

Mrs. Millo Hurt had charge of the program, "Spreading The Light In Burma" which she presented in her usual pleasing and efficient manner. She was capably assisted by Mrs. Horace Jordan, Mrs. H. T. Abernathy and Mrs. T. N. Dyer.

The meeting was concluded with prayer by Mrs. Wiley remembering especially our sick members whom we missed greatly.

Upon adjournment the hostess served refreshing iced drinks.

Research Improves Average Crop Yield

Better Machinery and Fertilizer Aid Advance

Farms now are growing about a third more crops than in 1920 and getting the job done in about 10 per cent less time, according to U. S. department of agriculture statistics.

Several factors have made this record possible. One has been the research work of plant breeders in developing heavier yielding, hardier varieties of corn, small grains, root crops, legumes and vegetables.

Another is the improvement in machines that helps farmers do more work in a day. A third has been the increasing use of commercial fertilizer and a better knowledge of how to use it.

Even with increasing use of fertilizer, the bigger per acre yields from improved crop varieties are being obtained at the expense of the soil's plant food and organic matter supply, warns Middle West Soil Improvement committee.

"Unless this drain is offset by fertility building practices that put back needed nutrients and replenish organic matter," the committee says, "worn out soils and lower yields will be the eventual result on millions of farms."

Sunday School Lesson

By Walter C. Davis, D. D., Tennessee School of Religion, University of Tennessee

(Psalms 92:1-5; 103:1-11)

"Songs of Thankfulness"

It is to the credit of the American nation that we observe a day of thanks. The President calls upon all to worship and give thanks for the blessings of the year.

Thankfulness is goodness. Lack of it is meanness and selfishness. Even a strange hound whose leg was freed from a twist in the wire lingered to nose his benefactor and to unmistakably say, 'Thank you.'

Psalms 92:1. It is a good thing to give thanks. How beautiful it is to see a family sit together around the table and bow their heads in thankfulness before eating.

Verse 2. Begin the day with gratitude for the rest and safety of the night. Joyously open upon each new day as if it were a gift of God.

Verse 3. Begin the day with gratitude for the rest and safety of the night. Joyously open upon each new day as if it were a gift of God.

Verse 4. Begin the day with gratitude for the rest and safety of the night. Joyously open upon each new day as if it were a gift of God.

gone your ways in field or in traffic, at night give thanks that the family is together again.

Thankfulness is thoughtfulness. He who thinks, thanks. Only a brutish man who lives for self and for profit would fail to know the greatness of God's work and that His thoughts are "very deep."

Psalms 103 is a general favorite. It is good to begin a prayer with its first five verses. None of His benefits are to be overlooked. He forgives; He heals; He redeems; He crowns with loving kindness and tender mercies.

Life today is highly competitive. Business firms must practice the things regarded essential to success. One of these is thankfulness.

Telephone operators are taught to say "thank you." Much time is consumed each day in saying that over and over again. Why? Because it pays. It helps to smooth out the impersonal-personal contacts. My grocer sends a card to me and all customers on Thanksgiving to say, "Thank you for your business."

With only a little thought you can buy a card to thank a friend.

A card cannot be bought and sent to God. That requires thoughtfulness, and right living. Thankfulness adds to the joy of living.

A writer has summed up this lesson on those who are not thankful: 1. Brutish men. 2. Foolish men. 3. Selfish men. 4. Greedy men. 5. Envious men. 6. Doers of iniquity.

An old proverb says, "As soon as you have drunk, you turn your back upon the spring." Shakespeare says, "Blow, blow, thou wintry wind, Thou art not so unkind as man's ingratitude."

Vitamin D Will Prevent Development of Rickets

Like the old fallacy about locking the stable after the horse is stolen, treating calves for rickets after they have them is not the same as preventing the disease.

A nutritional disease, rickets are caused by a deficiency of vitamin D in the diet. The animal is unable to store sufficient mineral in the bones, which thus become soft. The bones bend under the weight of the animal, causing bowed legs, knock knees, roached back, low loin, drooped tail head and depression behind the withers.

Hay Prod Thermometer Permits Constant Check

To reduce danger of a barn fire from spontaneous ignition of hay, Fred Roth, farm safety specialist at Michigan State college, advises construction of a simple hay prod thermometer.

When hay is stored with more than 20 per cent moisture content, danger of heating in the mow is present unless a mow drier is being used. Even small amounts of damp hay, if concentrated in one spot, may cause heating in a limited area.

An inexpensive hay prod thermometer consists of 10 feet of one-half inch electrical conduit with an oak or ash point on one end to permit driving into the hay.

Fresh Paint Will Cause Lead Poisoning in Cattle

Painting time on the farm may mean lead poisoning time if cattle get near freshly painted buildings, University of Illinois veterinarians point out. Paint is by far the most common source of lead poisoning in cattle.

Straightening Out The Facts

Signed A Taxpayer, we are this week publishing a letter which is in opposition to the proposed school bond issue. We would be the last to criticize a man for his opinion on a subject so long as it is honest and sincere and no doubt this opinion is sincere. However, we wonder if his facts and information aren't a little bit off. He states that the hospital wasn't started until recently because of inability to sell the bonds. Perhaps we have been misinformed but one of the continued criticisms that we have heard of the hospital is that the bonds were issued several years before construction began and that the county had been paying interest on that money long before it was put into use. A reference to the Trustee's Report for September, 1947, shows a balance of $280,222.84 in the Hospital Building Funds and we believe that the 1946 report showed a similar sum, that however we were unable to verify since a copy of the report was not immediately at hand. We believe that these school bonds are needed in order to erect satisfactory buildings for our children but we do not in any way intend to dispute the right of anyone to oppose them but we do think that the facts should be kept as straight as possible. The facts are — as nearly as we can learn through county officials — the bonds were sold in 1945 and the money used to purchase government bonds at that time until construction was gotten under way on the hospital. The issue is "Do We or Do We Not Want To Build Adequate School Buildings For Our Children" and it should be decided on that basis. If you think that the children need and are entitled to the building—vote for the bonds. If you think they do not and that the county shouldn't spend that money then it is your duty to vote against the bonds. My children come first, how about yours?

Tractor, Pickup Met Headon

One of the strangest accidents to occur here in some time happened Friday afternoon of last week when the pickup truck driven by Dave Walker collided with a tractor owned by Chesley Dew and driven by a negro employed by Mr. Dew. The accident occurred just off the old Beech Bluff road near Beech Bluff.

The two vehicles met at a corner with Mr. Walker reaching a stop and then the tractor striking the truck according to reports. The negro attempted to stop the tractor but was unable to apply one brake swinging the tractor around and smashing the front of the truck. The tractor broke half in two following the collision.

No one was seriously injured although all were slightly bruised and cut.

Wine was produced in Egypt as early as 2400 B. C.

sidewiped one of the city's fire plugs the other day but that does not mean that every time a fire plug is out of line or a post knocked over that we are the guilty party. Other accusations aren't based on fact either.

No Fish
Despite all promises we didn't get any fish from the customer who went fishing last week. We probably will charge him for the ad. he didn't get.

Television Program

Nell and your editor were in Memphis on business Friday of last week and while there we remained to see the television program "Steps To Stardom" in which Carolyn McCorkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. McCorkle, was participating. The program consisted of several numbers presented by youngsters through eleven years of age. All of the numbers were excellent with Carolyn's toe-tap dance number well received. We were able to see the program through the courtesy of John Flowers, program director, and Mr. and Mrs. McCorkle, who arranged with Mr. Flowers for us to be present. We were delighted with the program and feel that Halls has many children who would show up well on the program.

Strange Accident

We heard a member of the firm of Townsend - Daws, local Ford dealers, boasting about how well Ford pickup trucks are built after the unusual accident that involved Dave Walker's pickup and a tractor. Seems that following a collision between the pickup and the tractor, the farm machine broke apart right in the middle and while very much abused the truck was still in one piece.

Ain't So

Yes, as the evidence shows on one of our car fenders, we rubbed against: or maybe we should say

"Uncle Bubby" Hall Died Monday

Conley L. "Uncle Bubby" Hall died late Monday afternoon after an illness of some time. He was 75.

A member of a pioneer Halls family for which the town was named, Mr. Hall was formerly a member and was well known in this section for his connection with various logging enterprises in earlier years. He was one of the few remaining men in this section who had logged with oxen teams.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock from the Halls Funeral Home chapel with the Rev. William O. Beard officiating. Burial was in Beech Bluff cemetery near here.

Surviving is his sister, Mrs. M. E. McDearman, Sr., two daughters and several nieces and nephews. Pallbearers were: M. E. McDearman, Jr., David H. Hurt, Will Lawrence, Loyd Edens, David R. Nunn and Woodrow Lawrence.

Taxpayer Protests Bond Election

It's Bonds, Bonds again. We can get no rest until the Bond shark is liquidated or died out. No, never cross them, it only make them madder. See what they did for just being chided by one fellow, they just slapped on another $50,000.

Don't you remember last year and the year before they didn't know what to do with the Sales Tax. It was too much to give the School so this year our ever-wise Legislators got their heads together and donated it to teachers of higher education. The tax payers could issue Bonds for as much as they needed notwithstanding the fact they were paying the Sales Tax along with all other Tax. Did you know the reason they waited so long in starting the Hospital, because they could not place the Bonds as readily as they thought at their present rate of interest. That is why this issue was placed at 4%. Home Banks are only offering one and one-half percent on time deposit. Our famous Governor figured it would be easier for us to vote Bonds if our legislators took our part of the Sales Tax away from us. It's another way to get more tax. I for one am fed up on such business. We now have a 3.40 tax rate, they say we won't have any higher taxes this year. But watch the County Court in 1950 for it's first meeting put the rate at 4.25 or there abouts.

Folks, we can't get new industries with such tremendous tax rate, neither can we survive ourselves. If we do away with the Sales Tax, they say we can build new buildings with the liquor tax, but you see what is happening to the liquor tax. I can see it from where I sit in the words of Joe Marsh. Come on lets swat the cause of all this evil (Bond Devils) and fox foil the politician.

City Board Sets Tax Rate At $1.75

At a session of the City Board of Mayor and Aldermen held Monday night the third and final reading of the 1949 tax ordinance was carried out with the tax rate being set at $1.75, the same rate that has been in force for the past several years.

Blame It On The Other Driver

A mysterious "other guy" is every driver's worst enemy.

This was the belief expressed today by Nolen E. Puckett, Executive Director of the Tennessee Safety Council, in commenting on the Council's August campaign boosting "Motor Manners" and the individual's responsibility for safe and courteous driving.

"Most motorists consider the 'other guy' as the chief highway menace — never themselves. And yet, with about 25,000 fatalities a year resulting from improper driving practices and with about three-fourths of all drivers involved in fatal accidents being guilty of

Bankers Visit Dunavant Farm

F. H. Paschal, County Agent
Reid Dunavant was star of the show as bankers from all over the Memphis district of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis toured his farm last Friday to get first hand information on the value of following a diversified system and making good use of every acre of land on the farm.

Reid is growing cotton, soybeans, strawberries, and sweet potatoes as cash crops besides beef cattle and hogs. He grows plenty of hay from alfalfa and lespedeza and plenty of grain from corn and oats. He has some good permanent pastures on land too steep for row crops. We did not see any idle land on the whole farm.

W. T. Savage, county key banker, J. O. Paris, James Fitzhugh, R. V. Lilley, O. J. and D. R. Nunn all were present at the bankers meeting. Lon Viar and a few other farmers came as guests of the bankers.

Soybean Growers to Meet
Anthony Fisher will be chairman of a meeting at Ripley Courthouse at 8:00 o'clock on Friday night, August 19, to which all soybean growers in Tennessee are invited.

The theme of this meeting will be "Soybeans are Worth More Money." It is sponsored by the American Soybean Association. Growers will hear some good speeches on soybean production and marketing and will hear explained the method by which the Association hopes to increase the demand and marketing price for soybeans.

Pioneer Agent Dies After 36 Years Of Service

Tennessee's oldest County Agent in years of service to the State and to one county, R. E. Ellis, died of a heart attack at his Dresden home on July 23. Mr. Ellis had served Weakley County continuously as County Agent and Assistant Agent for more than 36 years. Erosion control, reforestation, 4-H Club work, dairying, and pasture improvement were leading projects in the pioneer work which Mr. Ellis did in Weakley County. He had a great part in building the high standard of living enjoyed by the rural people of Weakley County today.

Get Soil Tested For Pastures
The value of any feed depends on what percentage of it can be digested by livestock and used to maintain and put pounds on the animal. This is largely determined by the amount of protein in the feed.

On this basis, one acre of good pasture often contains more feed than an acre of corn. An acre of good pasture will provide total digestible nutrients equal to 44 bushels of corn or 90 bushels of oats or 2 tons of good hay.

Far more acres of good permanent pasture are needed in Lauderdale County. They will prove to be a good investment, but they cost money to get them established. For that reason, it pays to take samples of the soil carefully and get them analyzed in order to better determine the amount of lime, phosphate, potash, borax, and other materials needed to make conditions most favorable for the production of high quality pastures with high carrying capacity.

We have a soil testing laboratory in Nashville, and boxes for soil samples and complete instructions for taking and mailing samples can be got from the County Agents Office. Soil samples should be sent in immediately for land to be seeded to permanent pastures and alfalfa next month.

Paul Williams Returns Home

Paul Williams, local grocery merchant who was stricken with polio three weeks ago, was able to return home Tuesday afternoon of this week. Paul must rest for some time but is not expected to have any permanent ill effects from the disease.

Only victim of polio from Halls now remaining in the hospital is J. W. Warren, Jr. and he is reported as progressing nicely.

No new cases have been reported from the Halls vicinity for more than two weeks and it is hoped that the four cases reported will be all that strike here. However, continued attention to the health of children is vital since polio usually remains prevalent through September with August the peak month.

AUGUST POULTRY JOBS BIG FACTOR IN EGG PROFITS

Good poultry management practices for August are simple, but their simplicity should not give a false impression of their importance to profitable operation, say specialists of the U-T Agricultural Extension Service.

Keep pullets growing rapidly by providing good feed, shade, fresh water, green feed, and freedom from parasites - particularly lice and mites.

Sell hens that go out of production; and if the owner has enough pullets to fill the laying house, sell all old hens 10 days to two weeks before housing the pullets.

Thoroughly clean poultry houses and make necessary repairs before housing the pullets. Install lights for a longer working day.

Four Measures Listed To Curb Elm Disease Increasing Toll Noted Over Widespread Area

The dread Dutch elm disease, killer of thousands of trees, is spreading rapidly over large areas. Control measures should include: (1) Pruning and burning of all dead material from elms; (2) removing of the bark before elm wood is stored or dumped, if the wood is not destroyed; (3) piling of stored elm wood in a dry building or cellar; (4) removing and burning promptly all elm trees killed by the disease.

There are three good clues for spotting the diseased trees, according to University of Massachusetts specialists. Evidence of woodpecker work is one. Where strips of bark have been removed from tree limbs it may indicate that woodpeckers are feeding on elm bark beetles, carriers of the Dutch elm disease.

Shepherd's crooks are another sign of the disease. These crooks are twisted twigs branching out at the end of last season's growth. Third, lack of spring buds may indicate that the trees have been attacked by the disease.

Early detection of the disease will aid control measures, foresters say.

Electricity Serves New Chore in Poultry House

Electricity has added one more chore to its list of poultry operations. It has invaded the egg storage room in a battle against mold and musty odors.

Accompanying picture shows how this battle is being fought on a Virginia farm. The "armament" consists of two bactericidal lights. From a central place on the ceiling, the lights radiate powerful germ-killing rays into every part of the room.

The egg storage room has been free of mold and musty odors since the equipment was installed three years ago. As a result, eggs stored there have been rated as "top quality" and sold at premium prices.

Electricity also lends a hand in incubating and brooding operations; cleaning and grading eggs; ventilating and lighting poultry houses, de-beaking, watering and, finally, after killing, in removing feathers and freezing for delayed home use or commercial sale.

Use of electricity on farms has made marked strides recently.

Wisconsin Notes Drop In Dairy Cow Numbers

At the beginning of 1948, Wisconsin, America's greatest dairy state, had 2,580,000 cows and heifers, two years old or over, kept for milk, also 1,015,000 heifer calves and heifers one to two years old kept for milk cows. Compared with a year ago, the number of milk cows declined 51,000 and the number of young stock kept for future milk cows decreased 16,000.

Safety Conference Called By Governor

Governor Gordon Browning has issued a call for the second statewide Governor's Highway Safety Conference to be held at the War Memorial Building in Nashville on Friday, September 30, for the purpose of hearing reports on accomplishments and present needs in the field of traffic safety.

Every civic, religious, service, fraternal and business organization in Tenn. is urged to send one or more representatives and all individuals interested in traffic safety are invited to attend. Delegates who notify the Tennessee Safety Council of their intentions to attend the Conference will be asked in advance to state their preference for committee assignments and some of the committees will meet in Nashville on Thursday afternoon, September 29, before the Conference.

Plans for the Conference are being prepared by the officers and staff of the Tennessee Safety Council and members of the Governor's Official Coordinating Committee. Several outstanding safety experts and leaders will be invited to appear on the program.

INSECT DAMAGE TO GRAINS CUT BY FUMIGATION

Fumigation of farm-stored wheat at the right time will do more to prevent damage from insects than any other measure, say specialists of the U-T Agricultural Extension Service.

In Tennessee grain should be fumigated within two weeks after storage. Wheat should be stored in as dry condition as possible. Inspect farm-stored wheat once a month, and fumigate whenever infestations are found.

For successful fumigation, a bin must be tight enough to hold the fumigant for at least 24 hours. Use a commercial fumigant, and follow manufacturer's directions. County agents can give further suggestions for effective grain treatment.

FALL SEEDINGS DOUBLE SPRING YIELD OF OATS

Any Tennessee farmer planning to seed oats is likely to "short change" himself unless he does the seeding in the fall, according to results obtained by the U-T Agricultural Experiment Station.

The gist of the tests is: fall seeded oats produce about twice as much grain as spring seedings. In addition, fall and winter oats provide a winter cover for the land and afford excellent pasture.

The experiments, conducted by N. I. Hancock and O. H. Long of the Agricultural Experiment Station staff, covered as much as nine years in one area. Tests were run in East, Middle, and West Tennessee to get a composite of varying soils, climatic conditions, etc. The average for all the tests show that winter oats produce 100 percent more than spring oats. In fact, the U-T Agronomists say that one is scarcely justified in seeding spring oats either for grain or pasture.

Be t yields in grain were obtained from seedings about the middle of September. For pasture, seedings should be in August or early September. In either case, for pasture or grain, or for both, oats developed at the U-T Experiment Station are best adapted to Tennessee conditions.

Particularly recommended are the well known Forkedear; and the LeConte, which will be released this fall.

THIRD ARMY COMMANDER APPOINTS ADVERTISING MAN AS RECRUITING PROMOTION DIRECTOR

Lieutenant General Alvan C. Gillem, Jr., Commanding General, Third Army, has announced the appointment of Duncan Muse, Atlanta advertising man, as Recruiting Promotion Director for the seven southeastern states, according to a statement today by M-Sgt. James L. Bingham, station commander of the Dyersburg Army and Air Force Recruiting Station.

Commenting on the appointment, General Gillem said, "While the position Mr. Muse will fill is 'honorary' in the sense it carries no salary or other compensation, it can be of considerable importance to the Recruiting Service. I am gratified that Mr. Muse has accepted. He will perform a function long needed in the procurement processes of both the Army and the Air Force."

Mr. Muse, an Air Force lieutenant colonel during the war, is now Promotion Director for Tucker Wayne and Company, an Atlanta advertising agency.

According to General Gillem's announcement, Mr. Muse is to be assisted by a committee composed of Larry Benedict, also of Tucker Wayne and Company; Walter Patrick Kelly, southeastern representative for the Gardner Advertising Company of Washington, DC; and Lieutenant Henry G. Thompson, Public Information Officer for the Military Personnel Procurement Division of the Third Army.

The appointments follow a national pattern set by the Departments of the Army and Air Force, which have jointly adopted a policy of inviting civilian experts in sales promotion and management to assist in the over-all direction of the recruiting operations of both services.

BRAIN DAMAGE

You may be out of luck if you forget to duck! Head injuries are one of the most common causes of brain damage.

Nature has protected the brain by encasing it in a hard, bony shell—the skull. Because the brain is so extremely delicate, it is still susceptible to damage from blows and infection. Accidents resulting in injury to the head or face may result in a brain abscess. It is not necessary that the skull be fractured to produce brain injury. Any blow to the head is potentially dangerous. Concussion and hemorrhage may result from what might be considered a "slight blow."

The second greatest cause of brain abscess is the infections of the eyes, ears, nose and face. Of all these infections, those of the ear are more likely to invade the brain itself.

Man owes his supremacy over other creatures to his superior brain. This position of dominance over other animals has resulted from "using our heads."

Guarding the head from all possible physical injury and securing prompt and proper treatment of all infections, even of the face and scalp, are excellent ways of continuing to "use our heads."

Nature has done a wonderful job of built-in protection for one of our most delicate organs. Our job is to avoid injury and disease which are too much for Nature's protection to withstand.

Sunday School Lesson

By Walter C. Davis, D. D., Tennessee School of Religion, University of Tennessee

(Psalms 105:1-6; 117:1-2; 118:19-24)

"FESTIVAL SONGS"

A Sunday School teacher said to his class: "Why should we talk about trusting God when we do not trust one another?" We find some explanation for this problem of not trusting our fellowmen when we read Psalms 105 and 106 together. In the first is set forth the faithfulness of God, and in the second Israel's unfaithfulness.

God "remembered" His covenant and kept it. In all the checkered history of Israel, He was with them to sustain and defend. He was with them when there was just one man, a handful of people, and a great nation dwelling in a strange land. In famine and in plenty, in bondage and in wanderings, God did the right thing for His people.

In Psalms 106 the poet makes confession for his people. The one word characterizing their conduct was "failure." He says, "Our fathers remembered not. They forgot God their Saviour."

In the statesman like farewell of Moses he warns, "Beware lest thou forget God." When you have come into the good land, have eaten and art full, do not forget God, the giver of all. (Deut. 8:12-17).

Man forgets the hand that feeds him. He boasts of his own achievements, with pride. He takes credit for being able to get wealth. And when he forgets the benefactions, he does not trust God.

It was for this reason that the festivals of Israel were ordained—that man should not forget God. The festival of the first fruits, the festival of harvest, festival of the passover (deliverance from bondage) reminded them of the goodness of God. For the same reason we keep Christian festivals—Christmas, the birth of Jesus; Easter, the Resurrection; Pentecost, the outpouring of the Holy Spirit.

A great Christian leader declares that "the next 10 years will decide the future of our generation, and the generation of our children after us." We must somehow stem the tide of godlessness and the cooling of religious devotion among Christians. It is no time for a leisurely pace in meeting our responsibilities. A very earnest pastor said to me yesterday, "It seems like Christian work gets harder and harder all the time."

America needs a new consciousness of God, a real religious awakening. In Czechoslovakia this summer all professional men must go to school. Physicians, engineers, teachers, ministers must study Marxist communism. Communists are setting us an example of wholehearted devotion. They have discovered a breathtaking line of thought and have a passion for it.

America needs a new passion for teaching the things of Christ. We take too much for granted. Lord God of hosts, be with us yet. Lest we forget, lest we forget.

'HOME MADE LOOK' EASILY AVOIDED IN HOME SEWING

It's easy to have home-made clothes that do not have "that home-made look," homemakers are advised by specialists of the U-T Agricultural Extension Service. Among suggestions for avoiding the "home-made look" are these guides:

Have the right tools—sharp shears, well-oiled sewing machine, and a well-lighted and comfortable place to sew.

Select a pattern of the right size, with as few pieces as possible; know the pattern before cutting out the garment.

Know your material—is it easy to sew? Is it color-fast? Will it be hard to match stripes? Would a plain material be easier to work? Cut on the true grain of the cloth. Stay line all curved seams before any basting is done; stitch about one-fourth inch from the edge; try on the garment and fit carefully.

Press as you sew—press hems, seams, and darts. Use the right kind of seams and finishes according to the material used.

When matching stripes or plaids see that designs match at notches, and at seam stitching line, pin on right side and slip baste before stitching.

If a skirt has bias seams or is likely to sag, baste on the skirt leaving the knot in the basting thread about two inches below the bottom of the skirt to allow for any stretch. Pay particular attention to get the hem-line right. For full information, get the help of the home agent.

The 1928 Olympic games were the first to include women's athletics.

PASTURES TAKE HIGH PLACE IN FEEDING VALUE

The value of fall seeded pastures in a balanced farm plan is easily shown by comparing pastures with other feeds, say specialists of the U-T Agricultural Extension Service.

The value of any feed depends upon what percentage of it can be digested by livestock, and used to maintain and put pounds on the animal. This is largely determined by the amount of protein in the feed.

On this basis, specialists point out, that one acre of good pasture often contains more feed value than an acre of corn. That is to say, an acre of good pasture will provide total digestible nutrients equal to 44 bushels of corn. To continue the comparison: an acre of good pasture equals 90 bushels of oats, or 42 bushels of wheat, or two tons of excellent hay. It has been shown that oats, for example, give more feed when seeded in the fall by the simple fact that yields are greater. In fact, U-T Experiment Station tests show that fall oats yield about twice as much as spring oats.

Fall-seeded legumes and grasses contain a high percentage of protein which will reduce feeding costs in production of meat and milk, specialists point out. County agents can recommend small grains, grasses, and legumes, or combinations, which will "Keep Tennessee Green" and give a maximum feeding value.

GEESSE AID IN CARE OF STRAWBERRY FIELDS

Many strawberry growers are finding geese effective in the control of crabgrass; successful control is obtained with five to eight geese per acre.

Last Tuesday, outside the Rialto Theatre there was a sign that read: "Notice to Parents: This movie is meant for adults only. Children will not understand it."

Saw Smiley Roberts, the manager, standing by the ticket-window, so I asked him, "What's the idea? This movie's got big stars in it—didn't Hollywood pass it through its 'national board'?"

"Sure," said Smiley, "it's a good show—for adults. Might win an 'Oscar.' But I'm advising parents not to let their kids go—they wouldn't know what it's all about."

From where I sit, Smiley knows his business. Nation-wide standards generally need a little extra backing-up on the "local level." A good example of this is the Breweries working with tavern keepers in their Self-Regulation program. Andy does his part and then some—to make his Garden Tavern especially clean and orderly. And he keeps out grownups who just don't "understand."

J. M. MORRIS, Secretary

OUTDOORS IN TENNESSEE

Louis S. Clapper
State Game and Fish Commission

Gamy trout likes cold water, usually found in high altitudes, and for that reason, trout fishing in Tennessee is generally limited to East Tennessee. Two Middle Tennessee streams, however, are reported to be supporting good numbers of trout. Pine Creek, located primarily in DeKalb County and Crumpton's Creek, in Coffee, are supplying fly fishermen with excellent sport. The Game and Fish Commission has stocked these streams with 1-4 pound rainbows in the last few weeks after earlier tests proved successful. These creeks are somewhat remote from the normal beaten path, however, and this may have an influence on many anglers who do not care for walking.

Reports continue to come in of cases of dogs running deer to exhaustion, a feat not too difficult in this hot weather. Since it costs about $35 to stock a deer, not even considering the humane angle, this fact alone should enlist the aid of sportsmen in curtailing such activity by dogs. The deer is one of our best wild animals—one most everyone would like to see returned to the State in sizeable numbers.

Take your indoor habits outdoors—don't be destructive when afield!

A new Beaver colony has been discovered in the Tuscumba River in West Tennessee. Maybe this interesting animal is gradually coming back!

The squirrel population over most of the State is reported to be up, thus insuring good hunting for many folks when the season opens on September 1. While the squirrel is a prolific breeder, officials of the State Game and Fish Commission hope that opening the season on September 1, instead of October 1, as originally scheduled, will not leave too many babies stranded in the nests.

Wildlife specialists are at a loss to explain why the several species of pheasant have not been successful in Tennessee whereas many other States, notably the Dakotas, have so many that sportsmen are invited in to help with the kill. The beautiful pheasant, imported to this country, just doesn't last in Tennessee and predators and poachers aren't entirely to blame. The latest theory to be advanced is that the angle of the sun's rays in this particular latitude has a peculiar and destructive effect upon the fertility of pheasants eggs.

Anglers catching fish with a small numbered tag on their jaws are asked to send the tag plus all available information to the TVA Fish and Game Division, Norris, Tenn.

What other States are doing: the Conservation Federation of Missouri is spearheading a campaign to gain some control over the pollution of public waters and the Show-Me legislators were expected to be besieged with requests when they convene in October . . . The Corps of Army Engineers is considering a dam on the Green River which would flood out part of Kentucky's famed Mammoth Cave . . . Potential outdoor writers can now take a course in technical wildlife in connection with the Journalism course at Iowa State College.

educators, and civic leaders are becoming interested in juvenile delinquency. A number of theories have been advanced as to means for combating this rise in childhood crime yet we wonder why so few people, particularly those in smaller towns and cities, have considered using the great out-of-doors.

With fewer and fewer "chores" to perform around the home, due in part at least to labor-saving devices, the kids of today admittedly have more free time from their elders. The big problem, then, in juvenile delinquency control is to keep them occupied with constructive rather than destructive pursuits. And what is more healthful, plentiful, or cheaper than the out-of-doors?

Scouting organizations—the Boy and Girl Scouts—have pointed the way with their wildlife studies, hikes, and camps. But there are many communities and youngsters who are not reached by Scouting who could benefit by some sort of an organization. The Junior Sportsmen of America are providing an excellent leadership in this direction but any sort of an organization to get the young folks out-of-doors would be good. There just isn't much chance of doing wrong when you are close to Nature and its laws!

Such a program can well be constructive as well as interesting. The youngster would love to learn to handle a rod-and-reel or a gun safely and well. They would easily learn the courtesy of field and stream. They could be taught to respect the farmer and his property. By learning to prevent forest fires and to control predators they would also learn to be good citizens in a few years.

There is no reason why we couldn't start such a program right here. We might even learn something ourselves.

PASCHAL

(Continued from Page 1) Sterling Marshall of Ripley had infestations this week of the garden web worm on alfalfa, soy beans, cotton, and corn. This insect looks somewhat like a small army worm, but it is not as likely to cover large areas quickly. It can be killed with Calcium or lead arsenate, cryolite, or 5 percent DDT.

ologists in Tennessee and Arkansas have not made up their minds as to the seriousness of the damage done to soybeans by this bean leaf beetle other than the cutting of holes in the leaves, which in itself is not usually serious, especially on large beans.

BLAME IT ON

(continued from front page) some sort of discourtesy, it stands to reason that there's a lot of 'other guy' Puckett said. The Tennessee Safety Council and the National Safety Council, during August, are stressing the coiteness of selfish driving practices and have as their slogan "Mind Your Motor Manners."

- 1. Use hand signals to keep the driver behind you aware of your intentions.
2. Remember that your share of the road is on the right-hand side — not fifty-fifty down the middle stripe.
3. Yield the right of way when the other fellow has it, and don't insist on fighting it when someone tries to usurp it from you.
4. Give the pedestrians a break a human body is no match for 3000 pounds of steel.
5. Don't try to use your horn as a battering ram.
6. Tennessee law and rules of courtesy require you to dim your lights when meeting another car.

4-H ENROLLMENT HITS ALL-TIME HIGH OF 119,170

Tennessee 4-H Club membership has set another record, with 119,170 boys and girls enrolled for 1949.

Enrollment has been increasing almost 5,000 per year for the past several years. Final enrollment last year was 114,978. The new record for this year is based on figures through May, when regular club organization drives were completed. The new figures put Tennessee among the top three in the United States, say U-T Extension 4-H specialists.

Methods Suggested For Treating Lice Second Application is Generally Necessary

The poultry grower has a choice of several effective methods for treating lice. Which one he uses will depend on his preference or the availability of remedies, according to Washington State college. Whatever method is used, birds should be examined 10 days to two weeks after treatment to see if any lice still are present.

Louse eggs are not always destroyed by the treatment used, and these will hatch later. A second treatment usually is necessary and should be applied about two weeks after the first treatment.

One method is to fumigate with a 40 per cent nicotine sulfate solution. In this case directions of the manufacturer should be followed.

Lice powder also is effective. These may be DDT, nicotine sulfate or commercial sodium fluoride or sodium fluosulfate. These may be applied by the pinch method. It consists of placing on the skin of each fowl about 10 pinches, rubbing into the breast, each thigh, below the vent, on each side of the back, on the neck and head and on the underside of each outspread wing. The fowls also may be dusted, sprayed with dusting material or dipped in a solution. In some parts of the country louse ointments are widely used.

Corn Production

Many things are required to produce 100 bushels of corn per acre. The growing crop must have plenty of nitrogen, phosphate, potash and other plant nutrients. A shortage of any will hold down yields and lower the quality and feeding value of the crop. So the use of fertilizer is vital. For high corn yields, the soil must store water for drought periods. The accompanying chart shows how much of these it takes to produce 100 bushels of corn. Organic matter is especially important. While not a plant food, it is essential to crop production. Organic matter improves tilth and keeps the soil loose and open. It is a sponge that soaks up water readily for crops to "drink" in dry spells. It allows air to reach roots and soil bacteria. Organic matter can be built up by growing deep-rooted legumes and grasses frequently in the rotation. To get good stands, liming based on soil tests and a generous feeding of phosphate and potash are needed. Organic matter can be replenished, too, by returning barnyard manure, straw and corn stalks to the land. When plant food, good tilth, organic matter and other soil conservation measures are combined into a team, maximum corn production per acre is assured.

Nitrogen, phosphate and potash are the most important plant nutrients for growing corn.

Rice as Poultry Feed Proves Satisfactory

Whole and ground rice, rice bran and rice polish are excellent feeds for egg production and growth in chickens when they are adequately supplemented with vitamin A and reasonably free from rancidity. Whole rough rice proves to be a satisfactory substitute for whole yellow corn when included to the extent of 75 per cent of the grain feed and ground rough rice replaces ground yellow corn.

OPERAT...AY CHECK

national situation as it affects soybeans.

Paul C. Hughes, the Association's field service director, also of Hudson, Iowa, will be present. These men will be prepared to answer questions concerning the operation of government support and storage problems on the 1949-crop soybeans, according to Fisher.

The Association experts also will discuss price prospects for soybeans. Fisher said, "They will explain the Association's program directed toward securing a price for soybeans more in line with their true worth."

"The Association officials point out that soybean prices are below comparative prices for other commodities," said Fisher. Prices of soybean and other oils remain well below the wartime ceilings of OPA. They believe this is bound to have a depressing effect on the whole structure of farm prices if not corrected.

"Soybean growers are financing the Association's program through voluntary payment of 20 cents per 100 bushels when they deliver their beans at local elevators."

The Port of New York is unique in that it is within the boundaries of two states, New York and New Jersey.

Soybean Growers To Meet In Ripley

RIPLEY — Nationally known soybean experts will be present to discuss the grower's problems at a soybean meeting here next Friday, August 19, said Anthony Fisher, local farmer who will be chairman. All soybean producers in the area is urged to attend. The meeting is sponsored by the American Soybean Association and will be held in the county court house at 8 p. m.

Present will be: Geo. M. Strayer, secretary-treasurer of the American Soybean Association, Hudson, Iowa. "Strayer has had a lifetime of experience in growing soybeans so he is well acquainted with them from the practical side," said Fisher. "As secretary of the Association he spends much of his time in Washington so is close to the national and inter-

The School Bond Question

Next Thursday the people of Lauderdale County will be given an opportunity to say what they want done about schools in the county. A school bond referendum for $800,000 with which to construct, remodel, and equip schools will be brought to the people for a vote. Should these bonds be voted it will mean that every school community in the county will have either already gotten a new or a remodeled building or the funds will be included to give them a suitable building. Arp, Curve, Ashport and the negro Palmer-Turner school at Henning already are completed or funds have been appropriated and the other schools have been included with the exception of a few very small schools which will be aided under the regular budget or consolidated with larger schools. We are quite aware that $800,000 is an immense amount of money but the need is also immense. Many of the school children of Lauderdale County have been going to school buildings that are unfit in every respect. It is impossible to heat them satisfactorily. They are dirty from years of use. There are more pupils than there is space provided for them and many other faults, most of which you are already aware of including unsanitary toilet facilities. We beseech you to consider carefully the dire need for the buildings and our obligations to our children when you go to the polls to vote. A vote for the school bonds will be a vote for the welfare of your child and mine.

No Registration

Mr. George M. Voltz, chairman of the Lauderdale County Election Commission, has announced that at his request the State Attorney General has issued an opinion that a voter need not be registered to be eligible to vote in the coming school bond referendum. According to our information, the attorney general has ruled that since this is not a regularly constituted election the registration laws do not apply. This of course applies only to voters in the 2nd and 12th District (Ripley and Halls). As we understand it, all who are twenty-one years of age or over on the date of the election are eligible to vote without poll tax receipts and without registration.

Appreciation For Road

With the release of a statement from Governor Browning to Hon. W. C. Patton that the Halls to Chestnut Bluff road will be blacktopped and placed on the state system, many folks in Halls will be highly pleased. We feel that the attention of the public should be called to the diligence which Mr. Patton has used in seeking this road and the continued interest he has shown. Halls will be benefitted greatly by this road and our appreciation should be expressed to Mr. Patton for his efforts.

We Wonder

This is strictly not our idea but Oliver Nunn, cashier of Bank of Halls, is wondering just what David, president of the bank, and Roy Patton did in St. Louis during the past weekend that David couldn't take. You see Oliver and family were to leave on their vacation this (Thursday) morning but David was taken to the hospital for an appendectomy Wednesday thus cancelling Oliver's plans. Since cotton season is so near Oliver may not get any vacation and may put David back in the hospital when he gets home.

Last year Squadron 111 took the Navy "E" pennant, awarded to the most efficient unit on the west coast.

Mid-South Fair To Open Sept. 22

"It'll be a barrel of fun for everyone."
"It'll provide a liberal education in the arts and sciences of agriculture, industry and commerce."
"It'll reflect all the progress a whole section of America has made during the past year."
"It'll be the biggest, brightest, gayest, most fantastic and original spectacle of its kind ever staged in Memphis."
That's the way in 1949 — the 38th — Mid-South Fair and Livestock Show, Sept. 22-Oct. 1, is being described by officials as they go about the gigantic task of putting the $190,000 show together so it'll tick like a fine watch during its entire 10-day run.
Plans for the event, whose budget exceeds by $10,000 its immediate predecessor, already are far advanced. Lavishly designed new exhibits will hold the boards, new amusement devices and acts have been booked and considerable new equipment will be installed.
Fair emphasis this year will again be on agriculture, particularly livestock, but commerce and industry definitely will be a part of the show.

Highlighting the Livestock Show will be the All-American Jersey Cattle Show, Junior Exposition and Sale of Stars, which will bring to Memphis between 700 and 1,000 head of topnotch Jersey breeding stock.

While Jerseys will be the stellar attraction of the Livestock Department, other breeds of dairy and beef cattle also will have their place in the sun, as will swine.

Beef cattle breeds holding the spotlight will be Herefords, Aberdeen-Angus and Shorthorns, while Holsteins and Guernseys will vie for favor with Jerseys in the show ring. Swine exhibits will include Dueroes, Hampshires, Poland Chinas, OICs, Berkshires and Fat Barrows.

On the lighter side, the Fair will feature a World's Championship Rodeo, in which some 150 daredevils will vie for several thousand dollars in cash prizes. Events each day will include calf-roping, bare-back bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, steer riding and bull-dogging. The Rodeo will be held twice daily at 2 and 8 p. m.

Tennessee Outdoors

Louis S. Clapper
Game and Fish Commission
We've always liked the idea of killing two birds with one stone — particularly if they're crows — and this chain of thought leads us to applaud when outdoor organizations and individual sportsmen take forays against predators. Every sportsman likes to get afield and use his equipment. There are more and more sportsmen each year while the amount of game decreases. The hunting season and bag limits get smaller and smaller. So, when sportsmen go out after crows, hawks, wildcats, etc., they have a lot of fun afield and, at the same time, help get rid of a few predators. Some people even eat crow and like it! Too, "Skish" tournaments are lots of fun.

Buffalo, once numerous in West Tennessee, were completely gone by 1823.

Bond Election Next Thursday

Next Thursday, August 25th, the voters of Lauderdale County will go to the polls and state whether or not they want the county court to issue $800,000 in bonds to construct and equip the schools throughout the county.

On the ballots will be two simple statements "For School Bonds" and "Against School Bonds" with the voters expected to place an X by one of the statements denoting their willingness or unwillingness to issue the bonds.

At the request of the Lauderdale County Election Commissioner, State Attorney General Nat Tipton has issued an opinion that the registration law does not apply in this election and the county court in their resolution designated that a poll tax would not be required.
The County Court resolution called for the issuance of a total of $800,000 with the money to be used for new construction, repairs and equipment in the following designated amounts and locations:

Nankipoo Elementary School	$ 50,000
Gates Elementary School	50,000
Halls Elementary School	240,000
Henning Elementary School	65,000
Edith Elementary School	50,000
Ripley High School	130,000
Lauderdale County Training School at Ripley	115,000
Central Elementary School	50,000
Dry Hill Elementary School	50,000

Field Day At Fort Pillow Wednesday

Lauderdale County's on-the-farm trainees will go to Fort Pillow Farm for another Field Day on Wednesday, August 24th, with Governor Gordon Browning as guest of honor.

Governor Browning has accepted an invitation to attend the day-long inspection of the model penal institution. Another early acceptance came from State Education Commissioner J. M. Smith.

Among other high state officials who have been invited are Edward Jones, commissioner of agriculture; W. E. Eggleston, commissioner of highways; G. E. Freeman, vocational education director; J. W. Carney, assistant to Freeman; H. C. Colvett, vocational agriculture supervisor for West Tennessee; and H. T. Sandefur and Ernest Huffstutter of the Veterans' Administration's Jackson office.

The field day's planning committee—W. S. Cloy, H. G. Conley, Farmer Paschal, Edric Owen, Kyle Davis, Charles Rooks, Lyndwood Grammar and Allen Thomas—perfected plans with Warden Bennett Wright on Wednesday of last week.

Legion To Aid On Insurance Refunds

The American Legion will assist all local veterans in applying for their National Service Life Insurance Dividends.

This was announced today by Joe Hamilton, commander of the Halls Post No 161 of the American Legion of Halls, Tenn.

"Our post will have the necessary applications which veterans will have to make to the VA to get their NSLI dividends," Commander Hamilton said. "Every veteran who held NSLI policy for 90 days or more will have a refund coming to him. The VA expects to pay out approximately $2,800,000,000 in these refunds. Payments per veterans are expected to average about $175 according to the VA. Applications should be filed as quickly as possible because it will take weeks and months for a veteran to get his refund check."

"Actually," Commander Hamilton explained, "The American Legion will put on the biggest manhunt in history in trying to locate veterans who are eligible for the NSLI refunds."

"The VA estimates that some 16,000,000 veterans are entitled to NSLI refunds," Commander Hamilton said. "Actually today the VA has the home address of only six million of the eligible veterans. The American Legion will help it locate 10,000,000 others."

These forms will be available August 29, 1949. Immediately thereafter, Halls Post 161 will have an office open with personnel on duty to complete these forms for ALL VETERANS OF THIS AREA.

The location of this office will be announced as soon as all arrangements are completed, so watch the Halls Graphic for further announcements.

All veterans should bring the following information with them: Service Serial Number, Branch of Service, Claim Number (if you have one), and insurance policy number if possible. Also you should have the date you entered Service and the date of discharge.

Coming Of Natural Gas Is Delayed

In a statement to the Halls Graphic Wednesday night, Mayor P. W. Crittendon said that he has recently been to Jackson and contacted representatives of the West Tennessee Gas Company concerning the bringing of natural gas to Halls.

Mayor Crittendon stated that he was informed that certain difficulties had arisen which has delayed the bringing of gas here but that the gas utility representatives assured him that they are interested in a franchise here and they hope to have gas available to Halls customers by late winter.

This statement will be of special interest at this time since a number of local people had hoped that gas would be available for use during the colder months.

The West Tennessee Gas Company expects to supply gas to Halls from the pipe line which is being laid through here by the Texas Gas Transmission Co. about one mile east of here.

Set Shooting Hours For Migratory Birds

Nashville — The State Game and Fish Commission has set the shooting hours on migratory waterfowl as the same as prevailed last year. Shooting will begin at sunrise, a half-hour later than federal regulations require, and will continue to an hour before sunset. Shooting on Reelfoot Lake coincides with that of the rest of the State. Shooting on opening day begins at noon. The migratory waterfowl season runs from November 18 to December 27.

NEED A KITTEN?

Governor Promises To Blacktop Road

Judge W. C. Patton, local attorney, Monday received a letter from Governor Browning confirming the promise to black top and place on the state system for maintenance the road running east from Halls to Chestnut Bluff.

Judge Patton was promised that this would be done while in Nashville some six weeks ago and this letter was in confirmation of the conversation with the Governor at that time. Governor Browning in the letter assured Mr. Patton that the road would be put on the highway department calendar at the earliest possible date.

Following receipt of the letter Mr. Patton wrote a letter to Highway Commissioner Eggleston calling his attention to the letter from Governor Browning and asking that he be informed about the approximate date that engineers would be here and when the section of road would be advertised for bids.

As we understand it, the road would connect with East Main street at the corner of Main and Hall streets and continue on the present Chestnut Bluff road to the Crockett County line which is just beyond Espey's Store and possibly through Chestnut Bluff to the Cross Roads highway which we are informed has already been placed on the state system and is being graded and graveled at the present.

The proposed black top highway will replace the half concrete slab which was built through contributions of local people some thirty years ago and which has been in bad repair for several years.

Labor Survey Planned For Lauderdale

Grady Cook of the Ripley office of the Tennessee State Employment Department has announced that in cooperation with the Ripley Development Corporation and the Chamber of Commerce a county-wide survey of potential factory labor will be held during the week of September 6th-10th.

Registration offices will be set up in Ripley, Halls and Henning. The Ripley office will be located at the Employment office in the Wiley Daniels Motor Co. building. At Halls the registration will be held at the Hilliard Radio and Appliance Co.

The Halls post will operate on Tuesday, September 6, with Henning operating on Wednesday, September 7th. The Ripley office will be open during the entire week. Men and women, aged 18 to 45, are urged to participate in the labor registration.

The survey will be countywide and will also cover certain contiguous areas which might conveniently supply labor here. Everyone who is interested in factory employment has everything to gain, and nothing to lose, by taking the few seconds necessary to register his name on the roster of this survey.

It should be understood, however, that registration in the survey in no way constitutes a promise of employment.

It is believed by those sponsoring the survey that such a survey will play a definite part in the locating of additional industries in Lauderdale County, both at Ripley and Halls. Results of the survey will be available to anyone interested.

Draft Board Open On Wednesday

The Selective Service office, Tennessee Local Board No. 53, will be open only on Wednesday of each week beginning the week of August 21, 1949. All youths are required to register upon reaching eighteen years of age.

SPEED LIMIT IS IMPOSED

DYERSBURG — The Tennessee Safety Department has imposed a 30-miles-an-hour speed limit on a two-mile stretch of Highway 51 immediately south of the Dyersburg city limits.

Safety Commissioner Sam Neal notified the Dyer County sheriff and local state highway patrolmen of the new statute last Wednesday. The statute was passed after a Safety Department survey showed congested traffic in the area warranted such action.

Need for such a limit was first suggested to Commissioner Neal by the Dyersburg Junior Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee.

Potters, Legion Play For Championship

With two men out and one run behind the American Legion got two men on base when the Poplar Grove second baseman made two successive errors and then a pop fly which fell safe just behind shortstop brought in two runs and gave Legion a 7 to 6 victory over Poplar Grove and a place in the finals of the softball playoff.

Poplar Grove with two hits opened the game with six runs in the first inning with Noel Sherrod going on the mound to end the rally. Three scoreless innings followed and then Legion pushed across two in the fourth and three in the fifth to trail by one run going into the seventh. Sherrod shut out Poplar Grove for the last six innings of the game without a run and only two men reached third base.

In games last Friday night, Legion had evened the series with Poplar Grove by a 12 to 10 margin and Potters barely defeated High School by a 10 to 9 score. Potters scored 1 run in the first inning, 8 in the second and 1 in the fourth for their 10 runs. High School was hitting Cleve Hill freely but were unable to push across the winning run with men on the bases in the seventh as Hill tightened down.

Tonight (Thursday) Potters and American Legion will meet in the first of a three game series to decide the championship. Potters is favored to win the series but Legion has given them a rough time all during the season.

Hedgepeth Sells His Share Of Enterprise

RIPLEY — Col. J. W. Hedgepeth, Lauderdale County Enterprise editor and dean of Tennessee newsmen, Tuesday conveyed to William A. Klutts, the weekly's managing editor, his half interest in the newspaper's physical plant. Colonel Hedgepeth retains his position as editor and advertising manager of the Enterprise, and he will continue to be associated with the paper the remainder of his life. He also plans to continue to represent The Commercial Appeal in Lauderdale County.

The option was delivered Tuesday morning in the office of Judge W. C. Patton, Halls, Tenn., attorney and lifelong friend of Colonel Hedgepeth, who advised and counseled him in the negotiation. Though still peppy and active at 76, Colonel Hedgepeth plans "to take life easier," and turn many responsibilities over to Mr. Klutts. The two have been close associates on the Enterprise for several years.

Colonel Hedgepeth has been Enterprise co-owner for 56 years, having purchased the 8-year-old weekly at the age of 19 with his partner, Charles Campbell, then 21.

Following Mr. Campbell's death, Colonel Hedgepeth has since 1944 shared the ownership of the paper with B. C. Durham, Jr., Ripley attorney and banker.

DAVID NUNN HAS APPENDECTOMY

David R. Nunn, president of Bank of Halls, underwent an operation for acute appendicitis at the Baptist Hospital in Memphis Wednesday and is reported as doing nicely. Mr. Nunn began suffering Tuesday night and was taken to the hospital Wednesday morning. Mrs. Nunn and their son, Warren, Mrs. Nunn's mother, Mrs. D. C. Warren, and his sister, Mrs. Ruth Hallman, are in Memphis with him.

UNDERGOING TREATMENT

Mrs. G. N. Jordan returned to Memphis the latter part of last week where she is undergoing treatment at St. Joseph Hospital.

Loans On Cotton, Seed Available

F. H. Paschal
County Agent

More than half the cotton gins in the county have already completed the making of bonds for Samplers who will be authorized to cut official samples from the bales of any producer who wants to make full use of the cotton classing service offered by the Government of the United States through its office in Memphis, under the provisions of the Smith-Doxey Act.

All other gins are urged to complete these bonds and mail them to P. O. Box 363, Memphis, just as soon as possible.

This "green card" classing service is provided by the government in order that every grower may absolutely know the staple length and grade of the cotton he has produced and ginned in order that he may know what his cotton is worth.

Every green card represents the agreement of two government cotton classers working under close supervision. No farmer has cause to doubt the correctness of the information given on these green cards. This wonderful service should be used for every bale of cotton grown this year and no bale should be sold until the green card report has been received on it.

Cotton And Seed Loans Available

The government believes in the correctness of these green cards to the extent that loans will be made based on the facts on them. Middling 1-16 inch cotton has a loan value of 30.47 cents per pound on the full weight of the bales. Loans can be made on cotton as short as 13-16 and with a grade as low as tinged, low middling.

Cotton seed having a moisture content of 10% or less will have a loan value of $49.50 per ton when stored in acceptable places. Farmers who want to build storage places or make repairs on existing buildings may borrow up to 85% of the cost through the County ACA Committee on five years time at 4% interest.

Soybean Growers To Meet

Soybean growers from all over Tennessee are invited to meet at Ripley Courthouse on Friday night, August 19, (tonight) at 8:00 o'clock to hear George M. Strayer, Secretary of the American Soybean Association, and others explain soybean support prices and the situation in general which affects the market price of soybeans. We hope a large number of Lauderdale soybean growers will come to this meeting Friday night, August 19.

Seed Crimson Pasture Now

Many farmers are asking the question, "What can I sow now that will give me the best winter pasture?"

Crimson clover seeded in the next few days on a well pulverized and firm seed bed, inoculated, and with 20 pounds of seed planted per acre, should make some fall pasture in November and December and a lot of winter and spring pasture. The sooner it is sowed the better chances we have for fall and winter pastures.

Land that has grown a crop of soybeans or Sudan grass, or even lespedeza, and which can be cleared of vegetation and then disked and harrowed to make a shallow, well pulverized seed bed and which can then be made firm with a culti-packer or some similar implement is the best type of seed bed for crimson clover or any other small seed to be sown right away. If the land must be broken, it should be disked repeatedly and harrowed and packed to fill in all air spaces and get it really firm for any small seed.

If lime or phosphate or mixed fertilizer is to be added, it should be disked into the soil before seeding.

The period August 15 to September 15 is the ideal time for seeding alfalfa or red clover or permanent pasture mixtures. Vetch may be seeded any time from August 15 to September 30.

Farmers who have land that is not capable of producing crimson clover but who want fall and winter pasture should sow immediately three or four bushels of oats or barley per acre. The application of 300 pounds of 10-6-4 or some similar fertilizer before seeding the oats will prove to be a good investment. More nitrogen can be added in late fall and early spring.

MRS. DOSS OBSERVES 93RD BIRTHDAY

Last Friday marked the ninety-third birthday of one of Halls' oldest citizens, Mrs. S. A. Doss. During the weekend Mrs. Doss and her daughter, Mrs. R. S. Bell, entertained quite a number of relatives who came especially at this time to help Mrs. Doss celebrate the occasion. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Meaham entertained at their home in Ripley with a dinner honoring Mrs. Doss. A Lady Baltimore cake baked for the occasion added a delightful attraction to the dinner. Guests during the weekend and at the Meaham dinner were Mr. and Mrs. John Talley and Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Johnson of Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. James Lacey and son, Roger Lee, of Bragg City, Mo.; Mr. S. F. Melton of St. Louis; Mrs. P. A. Meaham, Sr., of Trenton; Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Bell and Mrs. S. A. Doss. From Ripley Mrs. Doss went to Memphis with Mr. and Mrs. Johnson; for a few days and has returned to Ripley to spend the remainder of the week with Mrs. Meaham.

MRS. PAUL GRIFFIN HONORS VISITORS

Mrs. Paul Griffin entertained at her home on South College Street last Thursday afternoon honoring her sister, Mrs. Maude R. Fite, of Memphis who was her house guest Wednesday and Thursday.

Guests arrived at four o'clock and spent a delightful hour in conversation.

Mrs. Griffin served delicious refreshments to Mrs. D. C. Warren, Mrs. A. G. Hargett, Mrs. Fred R. Hurt, Mrs. T. G. Avery, Mrs. J. H. Murchison, Mrs. R. H. Jordan, Mrs. J. P. Chaney and Mrs. W. C. Patton.

HOG CHOLERA CAN FOOL YOU, FARMERS TOLD

A mistaken idea among owners that hog cholera strikes a large percentage of a herd at one time is blamed by veterinarians for many needless swine losses. When a farmer sees only one or two pigs sick, he often fails to suspect that cholera may be the cause, it was reported at a recent conference of veterinarians at The Ohio State University.

The real fact is that many outbreaks, one or only a few pigs become ill at first, and it may be as long as a week before other members of the herd show signs of the disease, veterinarians said. Drs. R. Fenstermacher and H. C. H. Kernkamp of the Minnesota agricultural experiment station told the conference that by the time some owners realize a deadly infection is spreading and decide to call a veterinarian, many pigs already have died of cholera and many others are in advanced stages of the disease.

In addition, farmers often are so deceived by the spaced appearance of cases that they refuse to believe cholera has been in the herd as long as it actually has.

The advice passed along by the speakers was that cholera should always be suspected when deaths occur in a swine herd and that a diagnosis should be obtained immediately to learn the exact cause of trouble. Once the diagnosis is made, the veterinarian can start appropriate treatment.

Owners were urged to suspect cholera when these symptoms appear in one or more animals: fever, general weakness, loss of appetite, twitching and quivering, diarrhea and vomiting.

COMBINE CHECK MAY SAVE MUCH VALUABLE GRAIN

Inefficient operation of a combine can easily cause as much as six bushels of grain per acre to "go with the wind," say UT Extension engineering specialists.

It's easy to check the efficiency of the operation, the specialists point out. Just make several grain counts behind the combine. If 16 or 18 grains are found in one square foot behind the combine, the loss is likely to run more than two bushels per acre; and it's time to check the machinery and the way it is handled.

Certain adjustments are important in conserving grain. For example, such things should be checked as reel speed and conveying mechanism; cylinder and concaves; separating racks, sieves, etc.; air flow and other cleaning elements.

Other big grain wasters are poor hitching and turning practice; dull cutting parts and poor sickle adjustment; failure to adjust reel and cutter bar as heavy or light or green growth is encountered; insufficient tractor power to pull combine and drive threshing mechanism through power take-off; driving too fast. If grain losses continue after poor adjustments and practices have been corrected, the operator is advised to check further into the instruction book furnished with the combine.

Revise Standards On Soybean Grades

Hudon, Iowa—All 1949 crop soybeans will be sold under revised standards that will change the grading to some extent, Geo. M. Strayer, secretary-treasurer of the American Soybean Association reminded growers and elevator men here today.

The revised standards go into effect September 1. After Sept. 1 "dockage" will be eliminated as a factor and will be included under "Foreign material," says Strayer.

As a result of combining these factors, the new maximum limits for foreign materials are increased by 1 percent in each grade of soybeans, Strayer points out. Under the present system, dockage is assessed in terms of whole percent, and the fractions are disregarded. Under the new requirements all fractions of percent will be included under foreign material. Moisture limits are unchanged in the new standards, but the percentage of splits allowed in grades 2, 3, and 4 are increased.

Also changed is the defining of yellow soybeans. Beans with yellow or green seed coats which when split are yellow or have a yellow tinge are included as "yellow soybeans."

HOW TO GET HELP FROM THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS - WHEN POLIO STRIKES

1. At the first sign of illness, call your own doctor. If he suspects polio he will report the case to the local Health Department and arrange for hospitalization or home care, as indicated. The National Foundation does not select physicians or hospitals. This is a family matter. If you have no family physician, call your City or County Medical Society, your Board of Health or the nearest Hospital.

2. If your doctor says it is polio and requires hospitalization, the local Chapter of the National Foundation will arrange for transportation to a treatment center. As soon as the patient goes to the hospital - or if your doctor advises the patient can be treated at home - get in touch with your Chapter of the National Foundation to arrange for any needed assistance.

a. Most Chapters are listed in the telephone book under N for National Foundation, I for Infantile Paralysis and the letter starting the name of the county you live in, i. e., Washington County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. If you can't find it - check with your doctor, hospital or Health Department.

b. Your Chapter will get in touch with you as soon as it learns of the case through your physician, the hospital or the Health Department. However, late reporting or a heavy hospital load may delay this Chapter contact. If you do not hear promptly, telephone or visit your Chapter representative. You can ease your own worries sooner by making the approach yourself.

3. The Chapter representative will notify the hospital that it is arranging with you for full or partial payment of expenses for medical care. Adults are as eligible for help as are children. Discuss with your Chapter how much of the full bill the Chapter will pay.

a. March of Dimes funds are used to help the medical indigent - but this is not the same as "indigent"; it includes families of moderate income, who cannot meet the high costs of modern care of this expensive disease. The help is a gift - not a loan. While families that can pay are expected to do so, no family is expected to impoverish itself to meet medical expenses for polio. b. Even if you can assume full costs for initial hospitalization, it is a good idea to see your Chapter. If yours should be a patient who is severely affected - and this cannot be determined in the first few days - you may need help later on. Bills incurred in the weeks before your Chapter assumes financial responsibility cannot be paid months afterward, but the Chapter will step in at whatever time you really need help. Have a frank, friendly talk with your Chapter representative at the beginning.

4. Chapters pay for hospitalization, professional services including nursing and physical therapy, transportation to and from hospitals, convalescent centers and clinics, treatment after hospitalization and appliances such as wheelchairs, braces, etc., as needed. There are no hard and fast rules. Each case is decided upon individual medical and financial needs. Assistance is given regardless of age, race, creed or color. More than 110,000 polio patients were directly assisted in full or in part up to the end of 1948.

5. In addition, your Chapter can put you in touch with proper sources for nursing and physical therapy at home, can refer you to rehabilitation and vocational training agencies, will provide literature designed to foster better understanding of infantile paralysis - so you will know what to expect and how to help your polio patient back to a useful life.

NOT WEATHER SETS SUMMER FOOD NEED

How much energy you spend, rather than the hot weather, determines whether you need more or less food in summertime, say U-T Extension food specialists.

The widely-held view that the body needs less food during warm weather applies if the person slows down or is less active. But summertime brings increased activity for many persons doing outdoor work. For these, more instead of fewer calories may be required.

Balanced meals, which include milk, fruit, and green vegetables each day, are just as important in hot weather as any other time of year. Fruits and vegetables are especially appealing in hot weather; and their high water content helps replace water lost in perspiration. Cold drinks, such as iced tea and coffee, and fruit drinks, are all to the good in summer, specialists say, as long as they do not replace milk in the diet. Actually, summer offers a chance to increase the milk consumption of children who may not get as much milk as they should at other times of the year. Like adults, children are thirstier in hot weather.

ities insist that a person should eat one-third of the day's food requirement at breakfast time. There are several good reasons for this opinion.

Usually, the body goes without food for a longer period between the evening meal and the next breakfast.

During sleep, food is required for rebuilding and repairing body tissue as well as for energy consumed during sleep.

The average person can do his best work during morning hours provided he has the mental and physical energy which his job requires.

There is no doubt but that a scant breakfast, or none at all, seriously affects a person's ability to work.

What is a good breakfast? Like any other meal, it is adequate in amount and well balanced in the basic foods. It should provide one-third of the day's calories.

A glass of fruit juice, bacon and eggs, buttered toast, preserves and milk is a favorite breakfast. Coffee, too, if you like.

"Is breakfast ready, dear?"

Said bonds shall be exempt from taxation for State, County and Municipal purposes.

Upon the issuance of said bonds, they shall be binding obligations and debts upon said Lauderdale County, Tennessee, and the Quarterly County Court of said county shall levy annually a tax on all the taxable property of said county for the purpose of paying interest on said bonds as it becomes due and create a sinking fund with which to retire and pay off said bonds when they mature.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the County Judge and County Court Clerk of Lauderdale County, Tennessee, are hereby empowered to do any other lawful act that may be necessary to make valid the issuance and sale of said bonds for Lauderdale County, Tennessee, and to receive the funds therefor and to issue all necessary vouchers and receipts therefor.

Further, as provided by said Resolution as Amended, if a majority of the legal voters of said County of Lauderdale voting in said election vote the issuance of said bonds, then the bonds shall be advertised, sold and issued as provided in said Resolution as Amended. After Miss Reed had in her charming manner expressed her surprise and appreciation the ladies joined hands and sang "Blest Be The Tie That Binds."

The Ruth Walden circle was among the first of the many organizations to have Miss Reed as a guest speaker since she came last spring, and wanted to have this opportunity to show her in a slight way their love for her, before she leaves to go to college before resuming her missionary work in Africa.

Sunday School Lesson

By Walter C. Davis, D. D., Tennessee School of Religion, University of Tennessee

(Psalm: 19:1-6; 65:1-13; 104:24)

"Praise for the Works of God"

Let the memory selection be the text: "O Lord, Our Lord, how excellent is Thy name in all the earth; Who has set Thy glory above the heavens."

Psalms 19 begins with a declaration of fact: "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament showeth His handiwork."

The purpose of the Bible is the same. It is to reveal God. The Bible is not supposed to decide who is right in a dispute, or suggest whose side God is on in the war, or to hold out personal favors.

alities, or a treatise on how to win friends and influence people. It is primarily a revealer of God. Man's greatest need is to know God.

We have done well in moving away from "Natural Theology" in which it is contended we may know God through nature. We could never know God as a gracious Heavenly Father through nature. It is by revelation of Christ our Lord that we know Him.

Psalms 65 makes plain the fact that God has a part in the provisions of life for mankind. It is reasonable to pray, "Give us this day our daily bread."

When a father on Thanksgiving Day thanked God for a good crop, a son, rebellious because of hard labor on the farm, held up his rough hands.

Patience the father said, "I am thankful for these hands. They have planted many seeds. They have cultivated the soil. They have harvested good crops. But they did not place the secret of life in any of these seeds, and without the blessings of God they could not nourish that mystery of life."

In heathen lands men worshipped the sun. It was the giver of life and health. But the Psalmist thought of the sun as being created, and back of the sun was God.

In our day it is evolution. Some people seem unable to look further than the process of creation. Whatever method was employed, the true Christian looks back of that method to the God and Father who used it. The theory of evolution has not been established. It is still a hypothesis and nothing more.

We Cut Down The Hedges — And Accidents!

Hedges have been shooting up like weeds, lately, along Main Street. They've turned into real traffic hazards. Drivers at the corners couldn't see stop lights or the approaching cars.

After one accident and a couple of near-misses, the Town Council decided to have a hedge-trimming bee — cut them all to size at once.

We held the bee on Saturday. No one had to come, but it seemed like every man in town was out with shears and clippers. Women kept passing out sandwiches and cool glasses of ice-water and beer.

From where I sit (on my front porch) — looking out over neat, trim hedgerows — it just shows what folks can accomplish for their own good when they work together. The Brewers work with tavern owners in the same way in their Self-Regulation program. They cooperate in keeping their places neat and spruced up — cutting out "dead wood" and making sure they stay "in the clear."

Tennessee Outdoors

(continued from front page) Despite skepticism of experts, many pole and trot-line fishermen continue to use anise oil as a fish lure and nearly every community can claim devotees of this practice. They claim the oil attracts the fish in large quantities and some even report catches on bare hooks treated with anise. This, apparently, is a slight deviation from the old-timer who amply covered his bait with tobacco juice. Most druggists will tell you they sell considerable anise oil, primarily for use as a fish lure.

School Bonds

It has been brought to our attention that a number of people who have been crying for a new school building in Halls have expressed their opposition to the bond issue. There is nothing consistent about this attitude. Certainly any person has a perfect right to oppose the bond issue if they see fit but we don't believe that they have the right to yell about the present school building if they are unwilling to do the things necessary to secure the new building. There isn't any such thing as something for nothing. If we get a new building we must pay for it. Prices are high and the cost will be high but nevertheless if we are to get a new building we will have to pay the price. We would have no right to ask the county court to build us a new building if we are unwilling to pay the cost. All of the school buildings in Halls were built and paid for by the taxpayers of the 12th Civil District, not the county, not the 8th and the 12th, nor the 12th. This is perhaps the only opportunity we will have to secure a new building with county funds and it seems that we are due but must be willing to pay the cost. Personally, we have always believed in consolidated schools with better equipment, better teachers, etc. but that was a question for the county court to decide. Most of you will have already voted when you read this but at the same time it seems that inconsistency should not have a place in the election.

No More Closing

There will be wailing and gnashing of teeth next Thursday when employees of firms uptown suddenly realize that their Thursday holiday has come to an end. This Thursday marks the end of the closing period and employees of merchants must return to the six days a week pattern. Too Bad!

Envious

We are not much on envy being occupied too much with our own affairs and troubles to have much time to worry what the other fellow has or is getting but nevertheless we are on this occasion. Recently we took a tour through the new home of Stuart and Margaret Crichton which they will move into within the next few days. Frankly, we think that Stuart and Margaret have a home nearer what we want than anything we have ever seen. Taint no harm in wishing, is there?

Election Results

If the results are not too slow in coming in it is our intention to distribute an extra tonight (Thursday) giving the results of the bond election. However, other work will make this impossible if the counting is delayed to any great extent.

Mildew

A great many of the people in Halls have recently discovered that their clothing which they had stored away is covered with mildew. The local cleaners have made an effort to bring this to the attention of the public and also to secure information on how to prevent it. Mildew already present if not too bad can be brushed off or cleaned with remove it. So far definite information hasn't been secured but every effort possible is being made. It is believed that the extremely hot, humid weather is responsible for this condition.

Potters Wins Softball Playoff

Using one big inning in both games, Potters defeated American Legion for the Halls softball championship in two straight games.

Thursday night Potters was ahead 7 to 2 with 5 runs pushed across in the second inning proving the big difference. Errors, wild throws and generally poor ball presented Potters with most of their runs.

Tuesday night Potters jumped on the Legion team for three runs in the first inning and that was the ball game, final score being 3 to 0. Once again wild throws and errors gave Potters their edge as only one hit was recorded.

Cleve Hill had the Legion hitters under control most of the way with Legion getting a total of three hits during the game. The play of Ike Childress at third base for Potters was a big factor with Ike handling nine chances without an error and twice coming up with outstanding plays.

The two final games of the playoff played Thursday night and Tuesday night of this week brought the 1949 softball season to a close with Potters winning both the league championship and the playoff.

VISIT OZARKS

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Henderson and son, Jack, and Mrs. N. A. Sloan and daughter, Shirley, of Gates left Sunday to spend this week in the Ozark Mts.

Halls. It is not our observation that this is true but even if partially true much consideration should be given to buying at home in preference to spending money elsewhere. We wonder if most of you have realized that in most cases you ask the local merchant to credit you and pay cash elsewhere. Do you realize that when you want help or a donation for some cause you are supporting you ask the local merchant for help, not the out-of-town merchant? Do you realize that money spent out of town is completely gone but a portion of the money spent here will remain in Halls and be spent in Halls? Let's think about what it means for Halls people to go elsewhere to do most of their buying.

Old Age Pension Law Outlined

NASHVILLE — Aged persons who have an equity in real property of not more than $3,000 and are still not able to acquire the essentials of life are eligible for old-age assistance under the provisions of the law as amended by the 1949 legislature, provided they give the state a lien on the property, it was pointed out today by Welfare Commissioner J. O. McMahan.

Before the law was amended, persons who owned more than $2,000 worth of real property were declared ineligible for assistance. The provision which requires the aged to give the state a lien on their property has been erroneously interpreted by some, Commissioner McMahan said, as "deeding their property to the state."

Many aged persons, it has been found, have children who are able to provide the necessities of life for their parents but are unwilling to do so even though they will inherit the property.

Gov. Gordon Browning said he felt it was only "just" when the taxpayers of Tennessee should have some guarantee of repayment when they have taken care of the aged who have children capable of "footing the bill."

A lien on the property guarantees the aged they will have a home as long as they live.

For example, if an aged person owns $2,500 worth of real property and gives the state a lien on it in exchange for financial assistance for the necessities of life which will average about $500 a year, and that person dies after two years, then the state's claim against the property would be $1,000 and the heirs would inherit the balance.

In other cases the person who has given a lien on their property may live for 20 years and draw $10,000 in old-age assistance funds, but the state taxpayers would still have only the $2,500 worth of property, but the aged had a home that no one could touch because of the state's prior claim.

Commissioner McMahan summed up the situation this week in a letter to county judges over the state by declaring that "no person deeds his property to the state, he retains the ownership of it as long as he lives and after his death the claim will be made for only the amount of assistance he has received after he or his wife no longer have need of the property."

Other requirements of the present law include: A person must be 65 years of age; must be a resident of Tennessee; and, must not have transferred property within the past two years.

Insurance Refund Blanks Ready Mon.

Completion of forms for the recovery of Government Service Insurance refunds for veterans will be made easy for the many veterans in this territory through the cooperation of the Halls Post No. 161 of the American Legion according to an announcement by Post Commander Joe Hamilton.

Trained personnel have been employed by the post to complete these forms for veterans. These trained workers will be in the Mayor's Office in Halls beginning Monday, August 29, and throughout next week. The forms to be filled out will be available at the Mayor's Office along with the people to complete the forms so that the veteran need spend but little time in filing his claim.

Here's Eligibility Rule: Every veteran who carried a National Service Life Insurance policy for 90 days or longer is entitled to a refund.

Applications are printed on a three-section card, on which are listed necessary questions for quick servicing. While full information is desired, the VA said the full name, service rank, service number, and present address will be sufficient if the veteran does not know his insurance policy number. Processing the incomplete application will take longer than the application on which full information is given, the VA said.

Checks Due Early In '50: Payment checks will be put in the mail in January at the rate of about 200,000 daily.

One section of the card will be mailed to the veteran as soon as the Veterans Administration at Washington receives the application. This is to notify him that the VA has the application and, it is hoped, will prevent unnecessary correspondence. It especially urged that veterans do not enter into correspondence with the VA concerning this refund since all information will be available through the Legion Post.

Bigger, Better Fair Is Forecast

A bigger, brighter, better, gay, more fantastic and original spectacle is the promise the 1949 Mid-South Fair and Livestock Show, Sept. 22 - Oct. 1, holds for visitors, Perry Pipkin, fair president, declared yesterday.

Commercial exhibits such as foods, agricultural machinery and farm implements and products manufactured in Memphis will feature more interesting displays than at any previous time. This is attributable, Mr. Pipkin said, to new market conditions and increased competition for public interest.

This year's fair has the largest budget in history—some $190,000 and $56,000 in premiums and prize money is offered.

Heading the livestock exhibits will be the All-American Jersey Cattle Show and Sale, which will bring to Memphis some 1,000 head of the finest cattle of the breed. Herds from all representative Jersey-breeding states and from Canada have been entered.

Other dairy cattle to be shown include Guernseys and Holstein-Friesians. Beef breeds to be on exhibit include Herefords, Polled Herefords, Aberdeen-Angus and Shorthorns. More breeds will be included in the swine show than ever before.

One of the greatest entertainment attractions will be the Worlds Championship Rodeo, in which some $11,000 in prizes is being offered to rough riders, bulldozers, and ropers. Two shows will be held daily.

An entirely new type of Agricultural Show is being built to provide "a harvest of ideas for farmers who wish to increase crop yields and incomes." Featured will be all major crops grown in the South.

In the Women's Division, there will be more exhibits than ever before due to the fact that this division now has been given much larger quarters. It will occupy the huge Casino Ballroom. Daily features will be a flower show and talent show.

And the youngsters haven't been overlooked, either. Thousands of 4-H Club and Future Farmers and Homemakers of America will show cattle and hogs and agricultural exhibits.

Call 6311 or 3421 and tell us the news.

TO AWARD TROPHIES IN SOFTBALL

Trophies will be awarded to the Potters team for winning the softball playoff and Legion as runners-up it has been announced. The winners of these trophies were determined in the final playoff game Tuesday night.

County Receives School Funds

Lauderdale County School Supt. E. C. Owen this week received $130,300.00 in state funds to be used for teacher's salaries, general operation, and transportation.

The amount is approximately one-third of the total this county will receive during the 1949-50 school year, according to State Education Commissioner J. M. Smith.

This instalment is $47,700.00 more than the corresponding instalment for the last school year of $82,600.00 according to Commissioner Smith.

The current instalment does not include any part of the state's capital outlay payments which will be made available next January.

Payments to all counties in the August allotment amounted to $12,525,093 as compared with $8,443,057 in August of 1948, and all counties will receive considerable more this year. Two million dollars of the first instalment goes to general school operations, $1,600,000 to transportation, and the balance to teachers.

The part going to teachers includes raises in pay of $495 annually for certified degree teachers with five years experience, and increases for all other teachers.

Other payments of the equalizing funds will be made in November and February, and the final settlement for the school year will be made in June.

Former Halls Residents Get Together

Some former residents of Halls got together recently when Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Carter of Bardonia, Ky., visited with Rev. Lloyd Cloud and family at Hodgenville, Ky. Lloyd was a member of the Halls Baptist Church when Rev. Carter was pastor here some years ago, and later moved to Covington with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sewell Cloud. He married Maxine Turner, a sister of the late Rev. Guy Turner, who succeeded Rev. Carter as pastor of the local Baptist Church. The Clouds have four fine children.

Brother Carter, who is now regional worker with the Rural Church Program of Kentucky Baptists, supplied Rev. Cloud's pulpit, and states that Lloyd is doing a most outstanding work at Hodgenville, which is near the site of the Lincoln Memorial.

Both the Carters and the Clouds send best wishes to the Graphic, and to friends here who remember them.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Sallie Lovelace

Services for Mrs. Sallie Lovelace, Texas resident, were held Sunday at 3:30 p. m. at the Sudbury Chapel in Friendship. T. O. Slaughter, Christian minister of Memphis, officiated. Burial was in Bell Vernon cemetery there with Sudbury Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Lovelace, a former resident, died Friday night in Wichita Falls, Texas, where she had made her home with her daughters, Mrs. Lela Harwell and Mrs. Lottie Young, for the past two years. She was 80.

She leaves one other daughter, Mrs. Ora Eddy of Memphis, two brothers, William Sidney Ing of Blytheville, Ark. and Charlie Ing of Friendship, and a sister, Mrs. Eliza Greer of Flint, Mich.

ANELLA STEELMAN ATENDS 4-H ROUNDUP

Anella Steelman is one of the four from Lauderdale County chosen to attend the annual 4-H Club Roundup at Knoxville this week. The delegates are staying on the University of Tennessee Campus and making daily tours of places of interest. Anella will attend U. T. graduating exercises Friday evening at which time her uncle, John Wiley, will receive his degree in business administration.

Using Vetch To Protect Land

F. H. Paschal County Agent

R. P. Thompson of Central Community is seeding vetch this week in cotton middles to protect his land this winter and to increase yields next year.

Jim Meeks of Double Bridges Community, Joe Sumrow, Halls, D. M. Garrett of Curve, and many other of our most successful farmers have followed this practice for several years and have found it to be a very profitable investment of time and money.

Anthony Fisher of Durhamville purchased vetch seed this week for planting in cotton middles. Many other good farmers are buying seed now in order that they can be sure of getting them in the ground sometime within the next month.

Joe C. Davis has limed and phosphated some land which he plans this month to seed in a permanent pasture mixture consisting of 15 pounds orchard grass, 6 pounds of alfalfa, and 2 pounds of Louisiana White clover seed per acre. This mixture of permanent legumes with orchard grass has proven to be the most satisfactory mixture for upland pastures in this area. Mr. Davis plans to use this pasture for his dairy herd.

Soybean Growers Meet

More than 100 soybean growers met Friday night to hear Geo. M. Strayer, secretary of the American Soybean Association, deliver a most informative and interesting address on the uses being made of soybeans around the world and the outlook for the crop in the next few years. Growers asked a number of questions with regard to whether soybean acreage would be limited under allotment practices and the price outlook after the present law expires on December 31, 1949.

The growers present at the meeting stated that they are this year producing more than 4000 acres of beans and it is estimated that more than 10,000 acres are being grown in Lauderdale County. The probable support price on soybeans this year will be about $2.10 per bushel.

New Course In Agriculture Announced

Dr. N. D. Ptacok, vice-dean of the College of Agriculture of the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, recently announced a two-year course in agriculture which is being offered by the University beginning in September.

This two-year program in agriculture is offered to farm boys who plan for definite employment in agriculture, but who do not want to spend the time and money necessary for a four-year course leading to a Bachelor's Degree. Opportunity will be provided for students to prepare themselves for specialized farming such as dairy, animal, poultry, truck crop, and fruit production. High school graduates are eligible for this course.

Congress Passes Cotton Allotment Plan

Congress passed cotton allotment legislation on August 16 which virtually makes cotton allotments sure for 1950. According to the bill, the Secretary of Agriculture must proclaim marketing quotas not later than October 15 and a referendum must be held not later than December 15. The national acreage allotments for 1950 is to be not less than 21 million acres. Cotton farmers are to receive allotments to their individual farms primarily on the basis of crop land, although details must be worked out by State Committees which will be announced through County Committees.

According to our last report, the President has not yet signed this bill and it is possible that it will be several weeks before details can be made known to farmers in final form. Farmers will be kept fully informed of the provisions of the law as they are made available.

MISS GRIFFIN WANTS HAND LOOM

Anyone know where there is an old hand loom? Should be in working condition. Miss Hazel Griffin, librarian for Halls High School, is anxious to borrow, rent or buy a loom. She says she isn't looking for an antique but wants to use it. Seems she learned rug weaving while in North Carolina this summer. Miss Griffin may be reached at her home in Gates.

Trainees Attend Fort Pillow Field Day

RIPLEY — More than 500 guests — ranging from Tennessee's Chief Executive to the least experienced veteran farm trainee — Wednesday explored Fort Pillow State Farm in the up-to-date penal's institutions second annual on-the-farm Trainee Field Day. A motorized hayride took Gov. Browning, Commissioner of Institutions Houston Brown, dozens of toher official guests and virtually the complete enrollment of Lauderdale County's on-the-farm training program across the highly diversified acres and through the modern machine installations which make the vast level plantation a showplace of scientific agriculture.

Warden T. B. Wright welcomed the visitors from the steps of the train administration building before the caravan of big trucks got under way.

Fort Pillow also grows in addition to staples, tomatoes, sweet potatoes, field peas, cabbage, lima beans, snap beans, turnip greens, strawberries, carrots, english peas, eggplant, watermelons, cantaloupe, squash, okra, beets, hot peppers and cauliflower.

Speaking Program Held After lunch, a brief speaking program was held in the prison's modernistic auditorium with H. G. Conley of Halls, agriculture teacher, as master of ceremonies.

Speakers were W. S. Cloys, Lauderdale County on-the-farm training director; H. C. Colvett, West Tennessee vocational agriculture supervisor; C. E. Freeman, state vocational agriculture head; Edric Owen, Lauderdale County superintendent of schools; Commissioner of Education J. M. Smith, and Governor Browning, who was introduced by Warden Wright.

Fort Pillow's busy day concluded with an hour's demonstration of beef cattle grading by Ray Drennon of the Memphis Stock Yards, and demonstration of an aluminum tube spray irrigator by Mr. Hooker of the Shelby County Penal Farm, who brought the device to Fort Pillow Wednesday especially for the benefit of the veteran trainees.

Frozen Orange Juice Concentrate Takes Chore From Breakfast Menu Planning

Courtesy "Birds Eye"

It's no chore to give the family fresh-tasting orange juice every morning if you take advantage of the new quick-frozen concentrated sort. This orange juice comes in six-ounce cans that can be easily stored in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator. When it's time for orange juice, just turn the contents of one of the small cans into a shaker or a pitcher, and add three cans of cold water. That is 18 ounces or 2 1/4 cups of water. Then shake or stir vigorously and pour. Without any of the mess of squeezing and straining, you will have six 4-ounce glasses full of juice that can't be distinguished from the fresh-squeezed kind.

It's not only at breakfast that the new quick-frozen concentrated juice is a convenience. When the children come dashing in from play with the cry, "I'm thirsty!" you can give them this wholesome drink in a jiffy. It's a delicious between-meal or bedtime pick-up for grown-ups, too. And it's an easy and flavorful addition to fruit juice and cold tea punches, and the basis of many tempting desserts.

Here's another point that makes quick-frozen concentrated orange juice easy to use: You will be spared that early morning worry about how many oranges are needed for the breakfast setup. Each little can, reconstituted with water, always gives just so much — six full 4-ounce glasses.

ORANGE JUICE FROSTING

1/2 cup butter 1 cup sifted confectioner's sugar (about) 1/2 cup quick-frozen orange juice, thawed

Cream butter. Add sugar and orange juice alternately, beating until of right consistency to spread. Makes 2 cups, or enough frosting to cover tops and sides of two 8-inch layers generally.

Fluorescent lamps have their places, but the place for burned out tubes is not on the backyard ashpile where children might break or play with them. M. T. Gowder, U-T Extension farm engineer, calls attention to the fact that fluorescent tubes are coated with poisonous beryllium powder. If the powder from a broken tube gets into a cut or wound it can cause a cancerous type of growth which might have to be removed by surgery. Breathing the dust also can cause serious trouble. Burned out tubes therefore, should be disposed of promptly to prevent injuries. New ways of getting hurt with farm machinery pop up almost every day; the best guard against accidents is never to take a chance, say specialists of the U-T Extension Service.

Bruises on Livestock Reduce Meat Values High Number of Injuries Result of Carelessness

One of the less spectacular but nevertheless important factors contributing to the reduction of meat and livestock values is the waste of meat and lower grading of pork cuts because of bruising. In view of this it is important to the welfare of the livestock industry and consumer alike that more care and patience be used in handling hogs.

Bruise tests conducted recently by the Live Stock Sanitary Committee at Sioux City, Iowa, on 5,708 hogs

Tests made on 5,708 hogs indicate that the hams receive more bruises than any other part of the animal.

indicate that there are more bruises on hams than on all other major parts of market hogs.

When the animals are driven they tend to turn away from the driver, which often results in their getting hit or kicked on the hams.

The bruise tests on the hogs turned up a total of 902 bruised hams, 207 bruised bellies, 146 bruised shoulders and 134 bruised backs.

Hams are much more often bruised on the lower part of the cushion and shank, or collar, according to the tests which showed 511 and 653 bruises respectively. This indicates that hogs probably are bruised when being driven or sorted.

Most of the injuries are surface bruises, and many are caused by the driver kicking the hog or punching the animal with a cane, sorting pole, club, end gate rod or some other handy instrument.

Some of the ham bruises are caused by protruding nails, broken boards, bolt heads or ends of gate hinges in yards, alleys and loading chutes.

Others occur when trucks are not flush with loading or unloading chutes and platforms and the legs of the hogs slip into the space between the truck and the chutes, scraping the sides of the shanks up to the cushion of the ham.

NEW COMPRESSOR STATIONS GOING UP ON TEXAS GAS LINE

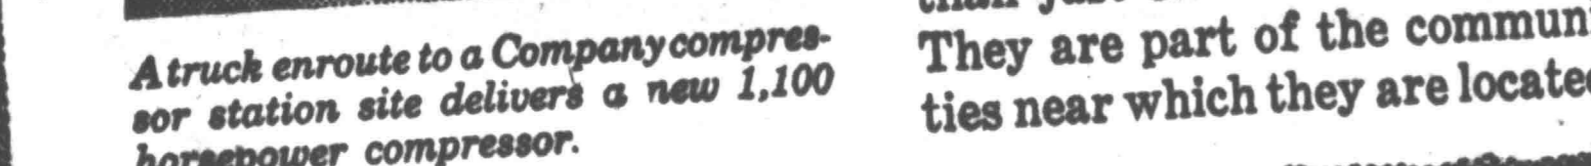

When new compressor stations on the Texas Gas pipe line are completed and landscaped they will look like this one on the Company's existing system.

Compressor stations, like the one above, are the heart of a natural gas pipe line system. Along the route of Texas Gas Transmission Corporation's new 800-mile pipe line which passes through here several stations are now being built. Compressor units will range up to 2,200 horsepower each. Cooling towers three stories high will process the millions of gallons of water needed for cooling gas and compressor engines.

It is these compressor stations and the engineering which goes into them that makes the difference between just a long line of pipe and a working natural gas pipe line system. When completed this winter, they will enable Texas Gas to do an even more useful job as a long-distance carrier of natural gas.

BROKEN BONES

Fractures, or broken bones, demand proper emergency treatment, splinting, and careful transportation to the doctor's office or hospital.

When any one of these important services to accident victims is omitted, or poorly done, the life and limb of the patient are threatened. Through rough handling simple fractures are easily converted into compound ones.

In view of the large number of fracture cases being first handled by non-medical people, the following suggestions will result in better care for the patient.

If possible, a person suffering broken bones should be seen by a physician at the site of the accident. If he has to be transported to the doctor's office or hospital, there are two essential requirements for his safety.

First, the broken bone, particularly a limb bone, should be splinted. Splinting will prevent additional damage to the fractured bone, and will prevent the sharp end of the bone from injuring adjacent tissue such as blood vessels, nerve, muscle, and fascia.

Following splinting, the patient must be carefully placed in an automobile or ambulance. Too often a patient is deprived of his only chance of recovery by being thrown into a car and rushed to the hospital.

During the splinting and transportation, the patient should be kept warm but not sweated.

Sunday School Lesson

By Walter C. Davis, D. D., Tennessee School of Religion, University of Tennessee

(Psalms 19:7-14; 119:1-8)

"Exalting The Word Of God"

Protestant churches in their articles of faith and their teaching lay great stress upon the word of God. With them, it is "thus saith the Lord." We are bound by it. We stress this word so much that it has been said by critics that Protestants rule out the Pope and set another in his stead, that we make the Bible our pope. At any rate its teachings are supreme, and all doctrine and all ethics are to be judged by it.

When we turn to these Psalms we find they too exalt the word of God. Many figures of speech are employed to praise this word. It is a light, a fountain of refreshing waters, a hammer, dew and rain.

"The soul can do without everything except the word of God." And what is this word? Luther goes on to say, "I answer that the Apostle Paul explains what it is, namely the Gospel of God concerning his Son, incarnate, suffering, risen, glorified."

The Psalmist says the effect of this law of God is that it converts the soul, makes wise the simple, rejoices the heart of man, enlightens the eyes, and gives wisdom. In general this word affects him who ponders it: 1. It saves. It is the chief means of grace, for the Holy Spirit calls us through the Gospel. 2. It fortifies man against sin. Through God, man is securely anchored. 3. It lifts man up to God. He rises above sin, selfishness, and the material things of life which pass away. 4. It unfolds the meaning of life, showing man that he does not live on bread alone, but that he is caught up into the great purposes of God. It enriches life by cultivating the eyes to see God, and by widening man's sympathies, interests and compassions of life. 6. It gives freedom from sin, worry, and fear. It causes the Christian to rest in the love of God.

America's greatest problem is the 18 million children and youth who are growing up and know nothing about the Bible. We can expect juvenile delinquency to continue and increase unless we find some way to reach this large mass of youth. They ask for life, and we give them stone instead.

The home is the basic institution the Lord founded. If we fail there, society cannot be redeemed. Too many homes fail to "train a child in the way he should go." The shirkers in religion say they do not have time or that they believe in letting the child grow up and choose for himself.

God said to the fathers in Israel, "And thou shalt teach this law to thy children."

The tests showed that when all the nitrogen was applied to seeding, grazing reduced grain yield by 33 to 50 percent. But yield was reduced only 4 to 20 percent when the nitrogen application was made in "installments." That is, approximately one-third was applied at seeding time; one-third after cattle were removed in the fall; and the final one-third at the end of grazing in the spring. Pasture production was about the same by both methods.

A deficiency of nitrogen holds down yields more than lack of any other plant food, the specialists point out. Thus, ample nitrogen fertilizer in two or three applications is recommended for best results with small grains for pasture, for grain, or for both.

Tall-Tale Department

J. C. Jacobs tells this one on his Franklin crony, Alfred Fivesash. The two Williamson County sportsmen were wetting lines in Arrow Lake when Fivesash felt a long and heavy pull on his line. Sure that he had landed a "big-un," Fivesash began grinning at his companion. The smirk faded, however, when the catch proved to be a live, half-grown rabbit. All we can say is that Alf had best be sure there aren't any pole-cats around when he begins casting.

Around The State

The 13-acre Pioneer Lake, near Dyersburg, has been opened to the public. Privately owned, the lake is stocked with crappie and bream. Deer have been seen frequently in the Trace Creek section along the Clay-Macon County line. The TVA is reportedly preparing to move out house-boat dwellers along the Fort Loudoun Lake waterfront.

APPLY NITROGEN IN SPLIT DOSES FOR TOP YIELDS

Farmer: who do their part of keeping Tennessee green with small grains can increase both pasture and grain yields by putting their nitrogen fertilizer "in one basket" — but not all at once.

In other words, any given amount of nitrogen applied to small grains will give best results if applied in more than one dose.

The wisdom of this practice has been shown in tests conducted by O. H. Long and J. A. Ewing of the U-T Agricultural Experiment Station staff.

Fair Telephone Rates Essential to Good Service

Fair and reasonable rates are required if we are to be able to render good telephone service in Tennessee. But today's rates are too low for the needs of good service because they have not kept pace with the increased costs of supplying service.

Telephone Rates Lag Far Behind Costs

During all the years of rising costs which started back before the war — while prices of most other items were increased time and time again — there has been only one general increase in our rates in Tennessee and that was the emergency increase requested back in June, 1947. This increase, which did not become effective until September, 1948, was designed to overcome operating losses and was not sufficient to meet the full needs for good service.

Earnings Too Low for Good Service

Earnings under today's inadequate rates are less than 2 1/2 cents on each dollar invested in telephone facilities in Tennessee. This is far too low to enable us to provide good service, and to improve and expand it.

If we are to furnish dependable service, and improve and expand it to meet the full needs of our present as well as prospective customers in the state, we must be able to raise large sums of new capital to pay for the additional facilities required. New capital needed to meet these requirements can only come from people who have savings to invest and it can be attracted only by reasonable earnings. It cannot be expected that people with money to invest will put it into a business where earnings are inadequate.

Only Fair Rates Requested

Rates that are less than fair can result only in poor telephone service which would be the most expensive kind of all. We are asking the Railroad and Public Utilities Commission to revise the present emergency rates only to the extent required for good service — to establish fair and reasonable rates.

We feel the people of this state want good telephone service and that is what we want to furnish.

Everyone concerned with the welfare of Wildlife will be gratified to know that great progress is being made in controlling forest fires in Tennessee. In the last few weeks, the number of Counties co-operating with the State and Federal Forestry Divisions has doubled and now numbers 34. The County Courts have appropriated from $800 to $4000 to assist in this fire control program. The funds are spent in furnishing men and equipment to detect and fight forest fires in those areas. There are now 6,500,000 acres of land under this co-operative protection. The seriousness of the fire problem is great even though Tennessee doesn't experience the spectacular conifer fires typical of the West. Not only does fire destroy wildlife habitat and forage, it ruins the land for years. And even fish depend upon the productivity of the land around the streams.

Fish tagging by TVA specialists is beginning to show interesting result. While the study is by no means complete, it will undoubtedly bring out many previously unknown facts about our finny friends. For example, a sauger was released on January 6 near Shanghai Dock on the Powell Arm of Norris Lake. Some 171 days later it was landed by an angler in Pennington Gap, Virginia — some 1144.5 miles away. So, not even considering a few pleasure jaunts in promising streams or an occasional night out with the boys, that sauger did some fine and fancy traveling.

Central Peninsula, between the Powell and Clinch Rivers in Norris Reservoir, will be opened to limited hunting this fall. The regulations include the following points: 1—open season coinciding with the State laws will be allowed only on squirrels, quail, doves and rabbits; 2—Firing shall be limited to shotguns with shells shot not being larger than number 5; 3—Hunters must have valid State

Automotive Industry Moves Ahead

Automotive production at record levels; more automotive jobs than ever before, motor vehicle travel sets new record! This is the story of progress just revealed in the automotive industry by the Automobile Manufacturers Association.

DETROIT—In the first six months of 1949, the automotive industry produced nearly 3,000,000 new cars, trucks and buses—almost as many units as were turned out in the full year of 1946.

Industry jobs jumped from 6,700,000 in 1941 to 9,020,000 in 1948. This means one out of every seven job holders in the nation earns his wages in the highway transportation industry.

Main street is dotted with more businesses keyed to highway transportation, and over 90% of them are small enterprises, employing less than 20 employees each.

Governmental agencies are collecting an all-time high in automotive dollars. Special taxes alone now exceed $3 billion annually, with motor trucks accounting for more than a third of the total.

It has been increased twice since, instead of being repealed.

GREEN FIELDS BOOST RETURNS FROM POULTRY

It takes an ample supply of green feed to make a livestock or poultry enterprise to pay the most possible returns, say specialists of the U-T Agricultural Extension Service.

Green feeds are particularly profitable for the poultryman, says A. J. Chadwell, U-T Extension poultryman.

Green grasses and legumes if picked by birds on range will meet the needs of chickens and turkeys for all of the known vitamins except vitamin D, which, since it comes from sunshine, is also free on the pasture.

Lower feed costs, higher production, faster gains, improved quality, better hatchability of eggs, healthier flocks, and larger profits are some of the advantages of keeping poultry lots green, specialists say.

County agents can recommend grasses and legumes or combinations for good poultry pasture.

FIRE PREVENTION PROJECT URGED FOR COMMUNITIES

Farm Fire Prevention Week, held every year in the interest of greater farm safety and less loss of life and property, will be observed October 9 to 15, say specialists of the U-T Agricultural Extension Service.

While prevention of fires is ordinarily considered a matter of individual family attention, such a project fits well into organized community work, specialists point out. County and home agents can furnish fire hazard check lists, and suggestions toward cutting the annual fire loss.
