

THE HALLS GRAPHIC

Confidential Corner

Hallows on Leftovers
Have you lost any white lawn chairs? Postmaster Jack Shannon says that he has a couple of unclaimed chairs on the coal house at the post office. They are made of wooden slats and painted white. Mr. Shannon will be glad for the owner to claim them.

Minstrel
On Tuesday, November 15, the Parent Teachers Association will sponsor a minstrel to be presented in the grammar school auditorium. It has been a great many years since a home talent minstrel has been presented here but we will remember one that was a great success. Many of those who took part in the minstrel long ago will also take part in the forthcoming show. Proceeds of the show will be used by the PTA for the school.

Still Fuzzing
We still have a number of our subscribers complaining about the subscription advertisement we have been running the past few weeks but they are still paying up so it will be there a while longer. We have been greatly pleased at the response of our patrons but there still remains a number of others whose paper is about to expire. Better come in and pay up and not miss a single issue.

Very Orderly
We wish to extend our compliments to the young people of Halls for the orderly manner in which they observed Hallows' Eve. Of course there were any number of "trick or treat" calls, sweeping of windows and other pranks but so far as we can learn there were very few or none of a malicious nature or that damaged property to any great extent. We have been told that the neighboring town of Gates was not so fortunate in this respect.

Constitutional Election
Next Tuesday, November 8, has been set for the election to determine whether or not the people of Tennessee want their constitution amended. No one seems to be completely clear on just what can be accomplished after the election if it is voted but there does seem to be a definite need for some changes in the state constitution. If we are correctly informed, we believe that Tennessee's constitution is now the oldest from the standpoint of change of any in the United States. Main object of the constitutional election is to revise the method necessary to amend the constitution so that any necessary changes can be made without a minimum of delay. Whether you believe that the constitution should be changed or not, it is your definite duty to go to the polls and vote either for or against the constitutional convention which will be authorized by the election.

We Wonder
As you know, the school bond issue was voted some time ago and on October 14th the bonds were sold. Now we wonder just when the actual call for bids and construction of the badly needed buildings will begin. It seems to us that if the new buildings are to be gotten into use for the 1950-51 school year there can be little delay. How about some action?

Legion Drive
The Halls Post of the American Legion are now in the midst of a drive for membership and its already well over its quota with 150 members. Their quota was 128 members and they are expecting to exceed that by at least 35 members. All veterans should consider what this organization can do for them and their families and do their part by joining and aiding in their projects.

READER COMMENTS
Dear Sir:
See where they are building a nice new concrete street in Halls. Sure would be nice to see a nice new concrete sidewalk on the east side of Church St. Would help the looks of Halls a lot.

Legion To Observe Victory Day

On Thursday night, November 10, Halls Post No. 161 of the American Legion will hold its third annual Victory Day Banquet because for Legion members with only legionaries attending. The celebration is being held on the evening prior to Victory Day because of the Halls - Ripley football game set for the night of November 11th. Included on the menu will be plenty of free barbecue, cold drinks and all that goes to make up a good celebration.

Admittance to the celebration will be by 1950 Membership Card only but membership dues may be paid at the door by those who wish to attend and have not already paid their dues.

The celebration will bring to a climax the annual membership drive of the Post with Commander Joe Hamilton announcing that the post already has 150 members, exceeding their past year's membership by 23. Quota for the drive was 128.

Lions Club Hears Pipe Line Man

The Halls Lions Club held their regular first Tuesday meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 1, with 14 members and a visitor attending.

Vice-President O. J. Nunn took charge of the program in the absence of the President, F. W. Hurt.

Guest of the club and making a short talk was Gene Gehring, of the Horrigan Construction Co., which is laying the gas pipe line through this section for the Texas Gas Transmission Co. Mr. Gehring told of their enjoyment in being in Halls and also of some of the difficulties encountered in laying the line.

Next meeting will be held on Tuesday, November 15.

Miss Lillie Montgomery

Services for Miss Lillie Montgomery were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at Floyd's Chapel with Rev. W. F. Maxedon, Methodist minister of Halls, officiating. Burial was in the Church Cemetery with Sudbury Funeral Home in charge.

Miss Montgomery died Monday afternoon at the home of her sister, Mrs. Jeff Agee, after an illness of five years. She was 83 years of age and a member of the Methodist Church.

She is survived by two half-sisters; Mrs. Jeff Agee of Halls and Mrs. W. J. Agee of Memphis. Also one half-brother, Molton Montgomery of Friendship.

Call 8311 or 3421 and tell us the news.

Tigers To Play Tiptonville Here

Trying for their fourth victory of the season, the Halls Tigers will play the Tiptonville High School Earthquakes on the Halls Athletic Field Friday night at 8 o'clock. The "Quakes" are said to have a fine offensive team and have a good record for the season.

Friday night of last week the Tigers traveled to Millington and took a 15-0 licking as they played their most disappointing game of the season. The Millington club proved to be better than their record indicated but at the same time the Tigers failed entirely to live up to the ability which they had demonstrated earlier in the season.

Fumbling the opening kickoff, the Tigers started the game with their backs to the wall, then recovered a Millington fumble, made a first down, fumbled again and then led Millington for down and then a bad pass from Jarre Frost at center went wide and high back of the goal line for an automatic safety for Millington.

The Tigers were able to mark up only three first downs during the entire game as Millington men repeatedly broke through to stop the backs, or the backfield fumbled or were otherwise unable to get going. For the first time this year the Tigers were unable to complete a single pass.

Several changes have been made in the lineup in an effort to improve the morale and spirit of the team and bring it back to the early season form. The Tiger record this season is three victories and three defeats. In addition to Tiptonville, they are yet to play Ripley, Ridgely and Union City.

Corn Loans Are Explained

Edward Hudson
Sometime ago Commodity Credit Corporation announced a loan on corn of $1.48 per bushel. We have just been advised that corn which is invested with weevils will not be eligible for the loan. For this reason farmers are advised to fumigate their corn as soon as it is cribbed so that when a sample is drawn and a grade determination made there will not be any live weevils in the corn.

By fumigating the corn before applying for the loan, it will not only make the corn eligible for the loan but will protect it against moths and weevils for some time. This is important since farmers under the loan agreement are obligated to keep the corn in good condition until maturity of the loan.

Vetch Seed and Lime
There is still time to sow vetch and get a good stand and a good growth to turn under as green manure before next year's crop. The county office will issue vetch orders on any farm that is signed up under the 1949 program through November 10.

Lime can be delivered in a short time and many farms in the county which have not used their ACP allowance should consider ordering and using lime on the farm during this year's program. This lime must be spread before Dec. 31.

Mrs. Della Swain Jones

Services for Mrs. Della Swain Jones, who died at the home of her daughter, Miss Wilma Jones near Halls Thursday were held at 2 p. m. on Friday at the South Fork Baptist Church. The Rev. W. F. Maxedon and Brother J. B. Fresno officiated. Burial was in South Fork Cemetery with Garner's Ripley Funeral Home in charge. She was 72.

She leaves two sons, Roosevelt Jones of Bruceville, Tenn., and McKinley Jones of Halls, and two other daughters, Mrs. Eler Davey of Bruceville, and Mrs. Bertha Duncan of St. Louis.

TO ATTEND TENN.—TECH GAME

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Henderson, Jr. and son, Paul III, will leave Friday morning for Knoxville, where they will attend the Annual Barnwarming at U. T. on Friday night and the Tennessee - Georgia Tech football game Saturday.

VISITS IN UNION CITY

Mrs. Mil'o Hurt spent Wednesday in Union City with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Atker.

SUE TOMLINSON LEADS MAGAZINE DRIVE

Sue Tomlinson, high school senior, led all high school students in total sales to win first place in the annual magazine drive. Second place was won by Beverly Cribfield, also a senior, with Donald Corlew finishing in third place. Donald is a sophomore.

A total of $1520.60 was sold by the school with the seniors selling $8.10 more than the remainder of the classes combined. As a result the seniors were granted a holiday Friday of last week. Proceeds from the sale are used to publish the high school annual, Tiger Tales.

To Publish Photos Of Youngsters

Children's Pictures Taken Free And Published in The Graphic

"The best investment is in children," says Wm. J. Cameron. "You had better take a good look at them as they pass you on the street, for they are the ones who are going to make a new world for you, and you can catch some glimmer of the dawn in their fresh young faces."

That is a bit of philosophy in which the publishers of this newspaper firmly believe. And because we think our readers should "catch" some glimmer of the dawn we intend to help them do it. That is, of course, with the cooperation of the fathers and mothers of the children of this and surrounding communities.

Nationally Known Studio To Take Pictures

The only way we can give all our readers a good look at these future "world builders" is by publishing them in a feature series titled "Citizens of Tomorrow." To assure the latest and best reproduction of these pictures, we have made arrangements with the Woltz Studios, nationally known children's photographers, to take these special pictures for us.

Expert children's photographers for the studios, with all the necessary equipment for this specialized work, will be here Thursday, November 17th. The special studio will be set up at Perry's Hotel and will be open from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

There Will Be No Charge To The Parents

There is no charge to the parents! There are absolutely no strings to this invitation. There is no age limit. It is bonafide in every sense of the word. Parents do not have to be a subscriber, nor even readers of this newspaper to take advantage of this feature. Neither are they obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those who want some additional prints may obtain a limited number by arrangement with the studio representative when they select the pose they want printed in the paper.

It's entirely up to them!

The More Pictures The Better

The Graphic simply wants pictures of all the youngsters and the more the better. Mothers and Fathers of the community in which this paper circulates should remember the day and place—Thursday, November 17 at Perry's Hotel—and not fail to bring their children to the photographer.

You'll be mighty glad, afterwards, if you did and very, very sorry if you fail to allow your children to participate in this event. The kiddoes will have much fun and both Mother and Dad—and the youngsters, too—will be very proud to see their pictures in print later. Many will clip them out and preserve them until Junior grows up.

Mrs. Martha Jane Leggett

Services for Mrs. Martha Jane Leggett were held at 2:00 p. m. Sunday at the Pastime Methodist Church with Mr. R. E. Black, Church of Christ minister of Maury City, officiating. Burial was in Sudbury Cemetery at Friendship with Sudbury Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Leggett died at the home of her daughter, Mr. A. D. Hamill, near Friendship. She had been in bad health for the past 1-2 years and seriously ill for the past two weeks. She was 89 years of age and a member of the Church of Christ.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. A. D. Hamill of Friendship and two grandsons.

ALEXANDER TRIO

The Alexander Neve Trio has been a feature on School Assemblies for many years. They have given their program in every state in the United States, through the Provinces of Canada from Coast to Coast and in Mexico. Their program sparkles with novelties, humor and originality. Each member of the Trio is an artist on several different instruments.

Miss Anna Blair Miller, School Assemblies' most versatile artist is featured in the program. Besides playing several musical instruments, doing character impersonations and comedy monologues, Miss Miller has a beautiful voice. She does three numbers in costumes; presenting each one with a song and appropriate folk or tap dance.

During the program a demonstration of ventriloquism is given, using a figure that is different and unusually human-like as he raises his upper lip and smiles, rolls his eyes, winks and raises his eyebrows. All this, with a number of musical oddities such as tunes played on a Tire Pump, Toy Balloons and a Hand Saw, rounds out a program that appeals to the ear and eye alike and of unbelievable variety.

They are soloists on the Saxophone, Hawaiian and Spanish Guitars, Ukulele, Violin and Piano. They also play several unusual instruments including the Chromonia and Ocarina.

People of all ages and taste have acclaimed the showmanship of this talented group. If the number is not funny, it is novel, but whatever it is—a dance, a pantomime, or a musical selection, it entertains and delights. There is never a dull moment in the Alexander program and it is usually referred to as THE FASTEST MOVING PROGRAM OF THE SEASON.

They will perform at Halls Elementary School Auditorium on Monday, November 7, at 8:30 a. m. and the performance will be open to the public.

Peel Returns From Europe

Charles Peel, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Peel, of Dyersburg, Route 1, is expected to arrive in New York City today (Friday). He sailed from Le Havre, France, on Saturday of last week.

Mr. Peel has spent the last four and one-half months in Great Britain as a member of the International Farm Youth Exchange from Dyer County. During that time he has been in all of the countries of the British Isles and has visited several European countries.

Upon docking he, along with other, will be the guest of the Grocery Manufacturers of America at a Welcome Home Breakfast at the Wagon-Astoria Hotel. He is expected to arrive home early next week.

Miss Camp Elected Football Queen

Miss Era Sue Camp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Camp, and a member of the Senior Class of Halls High School, was selected a 1949 Football Queen in an election held by the football squad on Tuesday of this week.

Named as her Maids for the year are Virginia Duggan, member of the Senior Class; Billie McGarrity, of the Freshman Class; and Martha Wood, of the Junior Class.

Miss Camp will reign over the game with Tiptonville Friday night and will also be presented at the game with Ripley on the following Friday night.

Negro Charged In Mail Theft

Postmaster E. J. Shannon wishes to call to the attention of the public a news story in Tuesday night's Press-Courier telling of the arrest of a negro postal employee by postal authorities. The negro is said to have been opening mail addressed to Sears-Roebuck & Co. and other mail order houses and taking out the money.

Since a number of complaints have been registered here concerning lost payments and remittances, Postmaster Shannon wishes to call attention to the information that this information would be of interest here. The negro is said to have opened some 15,000 letters since August 6th and to have taken some $1,300.

Community Club Winners Chosen

F. H. Paschal
County Agent

Durhamville-Orysa Community Club headed by P. M. Parker won the community improvement contest of Lauderdale County which was judged last Thursday. The Durhamville-Orysa Club was formed in May of last year and the community made great progress last year, but some projects could not be brought to completion. Outstanding accomplishments this year include a $7800 addition to the Methodist Church which is paid for, re-decoration and the purchase of new equipment by the Baptist Church, improvement of the recreation grounds at the Orysa tennis courts, and the straightening up of all tomb stones, filling in of graves, cleaning up and mowing of St. Paul's Cemetery. Mrs. A. M. Estes headed the Community Activities Committee which included Mrs. P. M. Parker, A. W. Thompson, Warner Estes and Mrs. Alan Fisher.

A Home Beautification and Improvement Committee was headed by Mrs. A. W. Thompson assisted by Mrs. Shad Rice, Mrs. Roy Thompson, and Mrs. E. H. Walker. The work of this Committee was evident by the houses painted and improved, yards graded and seeded, the driveways gravelled, the rooms papered and floored, and all the wonderful new electrical equipment installed in the various homes.

Roy Thompson headed the Farm Improvement Committee which included also Arthur Thompson, Lynas Garrett, T. W. Fisher, and E. E. Faust. Beautiful green fields of cover crops and permanent pastures, bredred Poland China hogs and beef cattle, and new fences showed that this committee had the cooperation of the people of the community.

Mrs. Byron Esque was Chairman of the Food Supply Committee with Howard Littlejohn and Mrs. T. W. Fisher as the other members. In each home to which the judges went was an ample supply of canned, frozen and cured foods to keep the families living abundantly with little extra supplies from grocery stores. The Durhamville-Orysa Community will be Lauderdale County's entry in the West Tennessee contest to be judged the latter part of this month.

Hurricane Hill Makes Excellent Record

The Hurricane Hill Club headed by Mrs. L. R. Wadsworth showed wonderful progress this year and scored right up close to the Durhamville-Orysa Club. The Hurricane Hill Club has held monthly meetings at their community center in the basement of the church where they have enjoyed wonderful dinners and fellowship together after which they had educational programs and made plans for improving their individual homes and farms and making the community a better place in which to live.

They have worked together to get their roads improved and they further improved their community center by adding a wonderful kitchen and equipping it with dishes and necessary accessories.

Homes in the community have been made more convenient and attractive. Fields have been seeded to winter cover crops, terraces have been built, lime has been applied, and more farmers are working toward the production of purebred hogs and beef cattle. Every home has ample food supplies and the people are proud of their community.

More Communities Should Be Organized

The wonderful progress made by the people of these two fine communities in the last two years has convinced many that more of our communities should organize in order that the people can work together more effectively to improve their homes and farms and their communities in general. Every family living in these two organized communities is proud of the progress that has been made and is happier to live where they have such pride in their community.

Pure Bred Hereford Purchased

T. M. Harrell of Nankippo Community this week purchased a registered Polled Hereford bull. Mr. Harrell had formerly bought two registered Polled Hereford heifers and he has several grade Hereford cows.

Mr. Harrell is planning toward the production of something else on his farm next year besides cotton. He has built a terrace outlet. (Continued on Page 6)

FORGED RED CROSS CHECKS IN STATE

Mrs. P. W. Crittendon has received a letter from the headquarters at Atlanta of the American Red Cross stating that a number of forged checks on the Red Cross have been cashed in Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama. Red Cross wishes to warn merchants and banks against these checks. In most cases they are issued supposedly to veterans for emergency funds or in lieu of disability pay. All checks of this nature should be examined carefully before cashing.

Olds and Flynn — The hush and the lonely silence of the chill November night, Some wizard has worked his magic With fairy fingers light.

So open your eyes, little ones, And open your hearts as well Till the charm of the chill November Gets you in its spell.

First Grade

First graders had a merry time at the Hallowe'en carnival Monday night. We want to thank all first grade mothers who made this Hallowe'en a pleasant one.

Second Grade

Hallowe'en! Hallowe'en! The second graders were very excited over the Hallowe'en Party Monday night. We made pumpkins, cats, witches, and such for this occasion. The weather man was kind to us for the party.

"Miss" Kathryn's room is very sorry to lose Carolyn Bell. She has moved to California. Several of "Miss" Jane's pupils are out with whooping cough. We'll be glad to have them back. James Lynch and Barbara Nearn celebrated their 7th and 8th birthdays last week. We sang "Happy Birthday" to them.

Third Grade

"Miss" Electra taught for us last Wednesday while our teacher attended a Speech Clinic and workshop conference at the Art School. We wish to thank Mrs. T. J. Yarbrough and Mrs. David Nunn for attending the clinic.

We have gotten our science books and are we proud of them! We were so thrilled to ride the bus to the auditorium last Friday and attend the fifth grade Hallowe'en program. Thanks for the invitation, we enjoyed it!

The selected best Hallowe'en drawings were done by Mary E. Karnazes, Bobby F. Mosley, David Hurt and Warren Nunn. We really had lots of good ones.

Those who went to see Ringling Bros. Circus in Memphis were Anne Younger and Thomas Yarbrough. They gave a good report on what they saw.

Sharon Moore went to Reelfoot Lake and Farris Archibald went to Michie, Tenn. These were our weekend happenings.

We have a new pupil — Dudley Akin—from Central School. All of us had a good time at the Carnival, did you? Such good response and cooperation, thus we had a lot of fun!!

Fourth Grade

On the sick list this week are Bobby Lou Rose, Joyce Cannon, and Ray Garrison. We are happy to have Kay back with us.

Those making the room cheerful this week with flowers are Alice Faye Jennings, Kay McGarity and Eva Sue Beasley.

We are very proud of our new balls and supplies Mrs. McCorkle gave us this week.

The fourth grade was happy when notified they had won the prize (a new pencil trimmer) in "The Fire Prevention Week" Contest.

We appreciate Mrs. Electra teaching us Friday. We enjoyed the Hallowe'en program given by the fifth grade Friday.

Most of us attended the Hallowe'en Carnival Monday night and had a wonderful time.

We enjoyed all the nice refreshments served on Hallowe'en by Mrs. McGarity, Mrs. Joe Hurt, and Mrs. Harry Wright.

Fifth Grade

The day we had been looking forward to for three weeks has finally arrived — last Friday. The big day had come — and we gave our play "Hallowe'en in the Cornfield!" We were honored to have some of our mothers present and even the first, second and third grades came to see our "sports". We wish to thank Larry Steeman and his father for the corn stalks and pumpkins for our stage decorations and Hutson McCorkle and Harold Osborne for their piano selections.

We are enjoying our two new balls — one for the girls and one for the boys.

Our room looks somewhat deserted since our witches, hats and owls have disappeared. We thoroughly enjoyed the PTA Carnival Hallowe'en night. Thanks to the PTA mothers!

We have three new pupils — Frances Bellew, Ralph Bellew and Billy Wayne Lindsay.

Sixth Grade

In our health contest this week Group I made 204 points with Carolyn McCorkle, Jimmie Alley, Wilhela Hardy, Donald Smith, and Sonny Higdon with perfect records. Group II had 175 points with Mariys Cihfield, Jimmy Campbell, Philip Dunaway, Tommy McDearman, Mona Faye Patton and Roger Reece with perfect scores.

In our literary work Group I had Jimmie Alley, Carolyn McCorkle, Wilhela Hardy, Buna Smith and Peggy Lowrey to say "Little Boy Blue". Group II had Roger Reece, Blanche Nunn, Loueva Baker and Mona Faye Patton to say "Little Boy Blue" and "Village Blacksmith" which we have recently put in our literature notebooks.

Our monthly report on those attending Sunday School is as follows: Carolyn McCorkle, Gwila Ozment, Buna Smith, Mark Cribfield, Tilford Woodard, and Bobby Perry. Also Mariys Cihfield, Peggy Dew, and Arthur Currie.

Special Election TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1949.

Notice of a Special Election to be held throughout the State of Tennessee on Tuesday, November 8, 1949, within legal hours for the purpose of determining the question as to whether or not a limited Constitutional Convention shall be called and held for the purpose of altering, reforming or abolishing the present Tennessee Constitution with respect to certain sections and subject matter.

By virtue of the authority conferred by Chapter 49, Public Acts of 1949, and the general election laws of Tennessee, notice is hereby given that a special election will be held within legal hours in all civil districts, wards and voting precincts in Tennessee on Tuesday, November 8, 1949, in order to ascertain the will of the people with respect to the question as to whether a Limited Constitutional Convention shall be called and held for the purpose of altering, reforming or abolishing the present Tennessee Constitution with respect to certain sections and subject matter.

At said election there shall be submitted to the people of Tennessee the following question, which shall be printed in full on each ballot or voting machine, in the following words and figures:

Shall a Convention be held to alter, reform or abolish the following provisions and subject matter of the Constitution of Tennessee, to-wit:

Article II, Sections 5 and 6 (relating to the apportionment of representatives and senators); Article I, Section 11 (relating to the legislative quorum); Article II, Section 23 (relating to the compensation and expenses of members of the Legislature); Article II, Sections 28 and 29 (relating to taxation, so as to empower the Legislature to classify property for taxation and to fix a different rate, value, or method of taxation for different classes of property); Article III, Section 4 (relating to the Governor's term of office); Article III, Section 18 (relating to the Governor's power); Article IV, Section 1 (relating to the right of suffrage); Article XI, Section 3 (relating to amendments and conventions); Article XI, Section 9, amend this Section, either altering, reforming or abolishing it, so as to provide: (a) for home rule for municipalities and counties, (b) for uniform systems of city charters to be prescribed by the General Assembly, (c) for the consolidation in whole or in part of governmental and corporate functions of municipalities and counties insofar as may be authorized by the General Assembly, which Convention shall be limited to consideration of and action upon those Sections and the subject matter hereinabove set forth, the action of such Convention to become effective as to each amendment adopted by the Convention only after being separately submitted to and ratified by the voters of the State?

FOR THE CONVENTION AGAINST THE CONVENTION

Voters will indicate their vote by placing a cross-mark opposite one or the other of the above expressions.

Those persons entitled to vote for the General Assembly on November 8, 1949, shall be entitled to vote in said election. All persons voting in this election and subject to poll tax shall furnish to the Judges of election satisfactory evidence that they have paid their poll taxes for 1948 at least sixty (60) days prior to November 8, 1949, otherwise they will not be entitled to vote.

The election officers holding said election in the various voting precincts throughout the State shall canvass and certify the returns in their respective precincts to their respective County Election Commissions, whereupon the respective County Election Commissions shall canvass the returns submitted to them and certify the result of said canvass to the undersigned Secretary of State at Nashville, Tennessee.

The following persons are hereby notified that they have been appointed by the County Commissioners of Elections to hold said election for Lauderdale County at the places and time hereinbelow designated, and fail not under penalty.

Saucy Apple Dumplings.

A new way with apple dumplings is to serve them warm with a cinnamon candy sauce.

It's apple time, and time to revive a popular dessert—apple dumplings. Those that mother used to make had whole apples baked in a pastry wrap. Here's a new treatment using flaky biscuit to create apple roll dumplings.

Spread chopped apple and brown sugar over rolled-out biscuit dough, then roll up like a jelly roll, cut in slices and stand them in a baking dish. Pour over them a spicy and colorful sirup made with those "red hot" cinnamon candies, and then bake. This bakes the sauce and dumplings all together and gives them a candied effect. Besides that "apple a day," these dumplings contribute a goodly quota of B-vitamins and iron in the enriched biscuit base.

With their apple richness and spicy sauce, apple roll dumplings are sure to be in demand as long as apples are in season and that's most of the year.

SAUCY APPLE DUMPLINGS

- 2 cups sifted enriched flour, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 to 3/4 cup milk, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 4 medium apples, 6 tablespoons shortening, 1/2 to 3/4 cup milk, 1/2 cup brown sugar.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut or rub in shortening. Add milk to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead gently one-half minute. Roll into rectangular sheet about eight inches wide and one-eighth inch thick. Pare and core apples and chop coarsely.

Mix together cornstarch and brown sugar. Add candies and water. Cook until clear and thickened, stirring constantly. Serve Spread evenly over dough. Sprinkle with brown sugar. Roll up like jelly-roll and seal edge. Cut in two inch slices. Place in greased baking pan. Pour one-cup cinnamon sauce over slices in pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 40 minutes. Makes eight dumplings.

CINNAMON CANDY SAUCE

1/2 cup red cinnamon candies (red hot), 1/2 cup water, 1/2 cup cornstarch, 1/2 cup brown sugar. Mix together cornstarch and brown sugar. Add candies and water. Cook until clear and thickened, stirring constantly. Serve

CHECK ON FARM MOTORS URGED TO SAVE FUEL

Tennessee farm families could save approximately one million gallons of gasoline and other petroleum products, or about 10% of the annual use, by keeping motors and other equipment in efficient operating condition, say

U-T Extension agricultural engineers.

The 40,000 farm tractors in the State average burning more than 500 gallons each per year, it is pointed out; and 33,000 farm trucks burn nearly as much. Then there are auxiliary motors, the family car, heaters, brooders, etc. It all adds up to about 100 million gallons of fuel burned on farms each year.

Big savings can be made, specialists point out, in operation of the tractor. For example, don't let motors idle unnecessarily; check ignition regularly; lay out fields for the most efficient use of power.

On farm trucks, tune up motors; make each trip carry a reasonable load; drive at moderate speeds; avoid getting stuck in mud, and keep out of low gear as much as possible. When storing the auxiliary motor, cover the exhaust outlet and put lubricating oil in the top of each cylinder to prevent rust and insure efficient operation next year.

With winter at hand, a motor tune-up is in order for cars, trucks and tractors. Check valve clearance, spark plug gap and ignition points.

pain, vomiting and slight fever must be considered appendicitis until proven otherwise. Physicians say that persistent abdominal pain which localizes (settles) in the right lower portion of the abdomen is acute appendicitis in 99 out of 100 cases.

Acute appendicitis is a surgical "must," especially in children. The child's defensive reactions are not developed; neither does the inflamed appendix become walled off as often happens in adults.

A gangrenous appendix usually ruptures, spilling a virtual test tube of virulent bacteria into the peritoneal cavity. Peritonitis results.

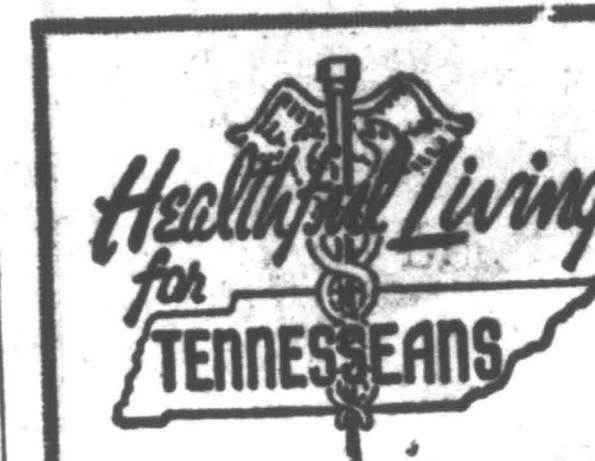

It is imperative that surgery be performed before the appendix ruptures. Although penicillin and other new antibiotic drugs may overcome the dreaded peritonitis, prompt surgery will avoid it in the first place.

Even today, many lives are lost through too much delay in removing an acute appendix. There's only one place for a "hot" appendix — and that's out!

CLEAN PASTURE HELPS CURB TOP SWINE DISEASE

Clean pastures with good legumes, and a balanced diet, are the top factors in prevention of infectious enteritis of swine, Tennessee veterinarians were told in a Short Course at the University of Tennessee. The statement was made by Dr. C. H. Kernkamp, professor of veterinary medicine at the University of Minnesota.

Fifty pig pens and hog lots go hand in hand with infectious enteritis, which is one of the leading causes of swine deaths, it was pointed out. Enteritis is essentially a fifth-born disease of the pig which is frequently brought about by a combination of two circumstances: The accumulation of body waste harboring the germs; and a poor, unbalanced diet of corn alone.

ACUTE APPENDICITIS

Of the several appendices of the human body, the vermiform appendix is the plaguy one. It has a way of becoming inflamed, making a trip to the hospital necessary.

The appendix is a blind gut projecting from the cecum, or lower part of the large intestine in the lower right hand side of the abdomen. It is a vestigial organ, with no essential function to perform.

We can do without the vermiform appendix. Its surgical removal is now a relatively simple and safe operation. The combination of abdominal

COMMUNITY WAR ON COTTON BOLL WEEVILS URGED

Destruction of cotton stalks as soon as possible will help protect next year's crop from the boll weevil, says Dr. J. O. Andes, Extension Service specialist.

Andes points out. The weevils have been most destructive in southwest border counties; but to curtail future outbreaks, it is a sound practice to destroy cotton stalks everywhere.

To Relieve Misery of COLDS take 666 LIQUID OR TABLETS - SAME FAST RELIEF

The fight on weevils is not just an individual matter, Andes says. To be effective, it must be on a community or county basis; better still, on an area basis.

Sunday School Lesson

By Walter C. Davis, D. D., Tennessee School of Religion, University of Tennessee

Isaiah 40:27-31; 41:10-13; 61:1-3

"God Comforts His People"

Jesus stood up in the Synagogue to read and to teach. He had done this before, but now the baptism and the wilderness temptation were past. He was launching His public ministry. He read from Isaiah words which form part of our lesson today.

This sort of Messiah the people had not expected. Yet, how glad we are that He was that kind of Messiah. The Sabbath morning in Galilee He proclaimed His divine mission. He declared the prophecies of Isaiah applied to Himself and His ministry.

The writer of the second half of Isaiah begins with that word. "Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God." Isaiah had used words that cut and burned. The Almighty God was sick and tired of their hypocrisies. The end of the road on which Judah traveled would be destruction and captivity. And now that had come.

And now God had mercy. They were so discouraged they said, "Blessed is he who shall seize your little ones and dash them against the stones." But the prophet the Lord sent among them had another word. "Hast thou not known that the everlasting God fainteth not, neither is He weary?"

This message is sadly needed for our day. Historic situations are not always clear. The half-gotten hopes of our generation need reviving. We need a return to the "Eternal God," a vision of His majesty, His power and purpose; we need to know that human destiny is bound up in His will.

Testing during the "off season" results in better utilization of laboratory facilities. In the long run, it is likely that this will reduce testing costs, since the laboratory is operated as a service at

Elementary News

Seventh Grade We gave Mr. McClure a surprise birthday party Thursday and was he surprised! We had "candy on top of candy". The girls fixed the candy and boys brought the drinks. We ate candy till we just knew we would be dead by night (and what do you think - Mrs. McCorkle wouldn't call a doctor!)

We enjoyed the Halloween Play the fifth grade gave for chapel. Our tests are over and thank you for wishing us "luck". We had a 4-H Club meeting on Friday and we enjoyed it. It seems everyone had a good time at the Halloween party Monday night. We had everything we could name and more too. Mrs. Albrook won our cake. We are proud of Eva Le Lynch for winning a box of candy for one of the best costumes at the carnival.

Eighth Grade This Halloween it seemed that the main attraction was our School Carnival in which just about everyone took part. Every grade had a booth or an attraction. The eighth graders sold candied apples which were delicious (if you don't believe us go ask Everette Agee - he'll tell you.) We are going to have our pictures taken Friday, November 4. The parents are invited to come and have their pictures made also if they would like. Another of our events that we don't want you to miss is the "Alexander Novelty Trio" which will be held Monday, November 7, at 8:30 a. m. in the Elementary School Auditorium. It will be composed of Saxophone, Harp and Spanish guitars and many other instruments which you will have to see to believe. The school children have to pay only 10c and 15c to see this great show. Of course you adults have to pay 25c but you'll get your money's worth!

See you again next week! Library News

The librarians have been rearranging and repairing our old books. We are very proud of our "new" library.

We have ordered a lot of new books and we're anxious to receive them.

Also we have some narcotics books that are going to add to the attractiveness of our library room when they bloom.

We believe that we have one of the best selections of reading material in the county and we really do appreciate our privilege to read good books. Our acquisition

Had RHEUMATISM' So BAD That He Had To Quit Working

Mr. Jerry Watkins, chief of detectives of the city of Hot Springs, Arkansas, suffered with rheumatism so much and the aches and pains were so terrible that he had to quit working in an effort to regain his health after he had tried everything which his friends recommended.

Detective Watkins is well known and his countless number of friends throughout the country will rejoice to know that he is now healthy, free of rheumatic aches and pains and now working hard.

Mr. Jerry Watkins

"For several years," Mr. Watkins says, "I suffered from a rheumatic condition in the hip and leg. I was very nervous and finally developed migraine headaches. I tried all kinds of medicines but nothing seemed to do me any good. I seemed to be growing worse and worse and was finally advised to take a leave of absence from my work on the police force in an effort to recover my health."

"The pains in my head sometimes were unbearable. I suffered tortures and I was miserable. At night particularly I lay awake and could not sleep."

Mr. Watkins said that someone finally persuaded him to try HADACOL, and after taking the first bottle he said he could see an improvement in his general condition.

"On January 14th of this year," he said, "I felt so much better I decided to go back on the job. The examining doctor told me I was in perfect health. Now I am working from 8 to 12 hours daily and I am able to sleep as any normal person. I have taken six large size bottles of HADACOL, and all my friends know I owe my good health to HADACOL."

Mr. Watkins is one of the many thousands of people who suffered from a deficiency of the B vitamins and the minerals that HADACOL contains and who, therefore, found relief in HADACOL.

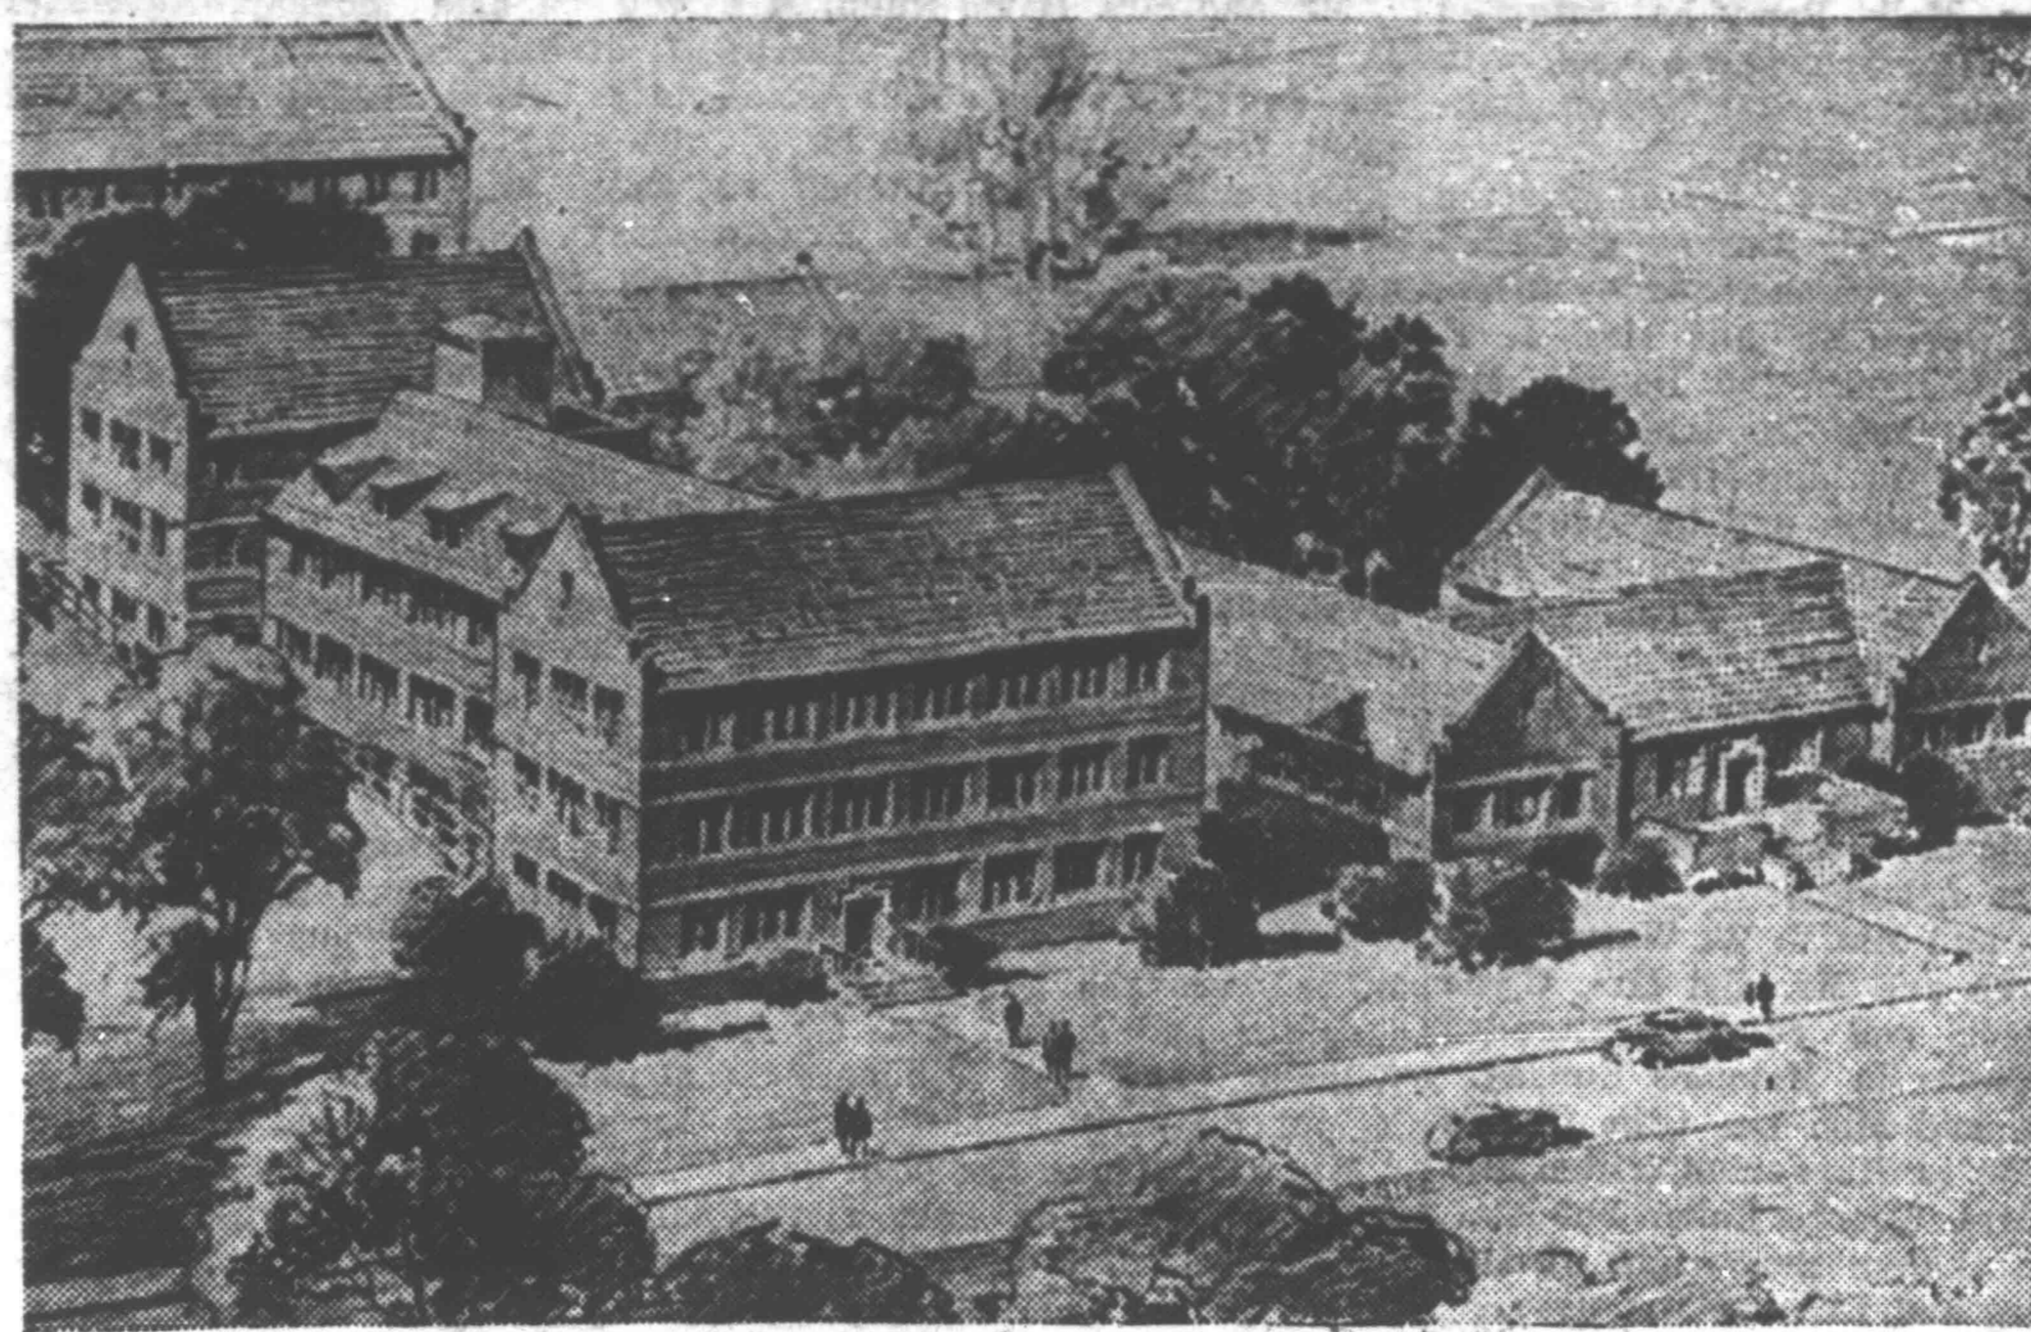

It is a well-known scientific fact that the lack of only a small amount of the B vitamins and certain minerals in your system will cause certain bodily disorders such as nutritional neuritis, which causes the aches and pains commonly known as rheumatism, and there is no known cure for the ailment except the administration of the needed vitamins and minerals. This is why people who suffer for years and years never were able to obtain any relief until they took the vitamins and minerals the lack of which was causing the disorders.

HADACOL does not contain only one but has five of the B vitamins and four necessary minerals. It comes to you in liquid form so that it will be easily absorbed by the blood and, therefore, carried to the parts of the body which need them most.

So, it matters not where you live—no matter who you are—if you have tried all the medicines under the sun, you should be fair to yourself and give this wonderful preparation, HADACOL, a trial. And if your disease is caused by a lack of the B vitamins and minerals which HADACOL contains, then don't go on suffering—don't continue to make your life so miserable. Temporary relief for you is not enough. Take HADACOL.

Sold at all leading drugstores. Trial size only $1.25, but save money: buy the large family economy size, only $3.50. If your druggist does not handle HADACOL, order direct from The Le Blanc Corporation, Lafayette, La., and when the postman brings your package, just pay the amount plus the c.o.d. and postage. If you remit with the order we will pay the postage.

Then, if you don't feel perfectly satisfied after using HADACOL as directed, just return the empty carton and your money will be cheerfully refunded. Nothing could be fairer.—Adv.

B. F. Escue of Orysa Community had a beautiful scene near his house this week with registered Poland China hogs and Hereford and Brahma cattle contentedly grazing on a beautiful green pasture of Fescue and Ladino clover. Mr. Escue was working in another field to get his cotton out but everything seemed to be perfectly peaceful in this pasture which through the years may pay more profit than cotton.

Jim Meeks of Double Bridges this week had 30 head of Hereford cattle grazing on crimson clover. He has a new permanent pasture seeded in Fescue, Ladino, and orchard grass which he can begin using by next May. It is encouraging to see some of our best cotton farmers beginning already the making of necessary adjustments to make use of all our land in a different system of farming which we must begin next year.

The University of Tennessee's new million-dollar dairy unit, which will serve the state's hundred-million-dollar dairy industry, is sketched above. Scheduled for dedication at Knoxville Nov. 4, the unit will be used for teaching, research and extension work in further development of dairying in Tennessee. The four-story building at the left—housing classrooms, laboratories, and offices—will be named "McCord Hall" in honor of former Governor Jim Nance McCord. The companion two-story building at the right is a model dairy manufacturing plant to be used for teaching and research.

Registrants Must Report Addresses

The Selective Service Boards again call the attention of all to the fact that the Selective Service Act requires all men becoming eighteen years of age to register within five days after their eighteenth birthday, and further that all registrants must keep their local boards informed at all times of their addresses.

If you are a registrant nineteen years of age or over and have not received your questionnaire by now, the chances are that your board does not have your correct address and you are listed as delinquent. If you have any reason to believe that your board might not have your correct address, check at once with the clerk. Any registrant who does this will have no difficulty but a registrant who fails or neglects to be sure that the board knows where to reach him may very well find himself listed as a delinquent and sought by the Federal Court.

Veterans of World War II who are not yet twenty-six years of age should realize that while the present law exempts all who have served a year between September 16, 1940, and June 24, 1948, or ninety days between December 7, 1941, and September 2, 1945, from induction, nevertheless, they too must be registered, must keep their boards advised of their addresses, and must complete their questionnaires and obey all lawful orders of the boards.

In some cases local boards are not open full-time and therefore, registrants should obtain information as to when the board will be open before making a long trip for registration purposes.

Louis S. Clappert, State Game & Fish Commission

Prospects for the busy November hunting season, considering the State as a whole, seem somewhat better than last year, according to Al Marsh, Chief of Game Management for the State Game and Fish Commission.

Indications from all sources point to more waterfowl and crisp weather in the North will probably have the ducks and geese in good numbers in Tennessee by opening day. Rabbits, too, seem on the grade upward although the population jumps are spotty in the State. Raccoons are more plentiful and have made a healthy comeback. The possum is around in numbers.

Quail hunting seems destined for another lean year such as the last. "People see and hear quail in the Spring and Summer and expect a big year," Marsh said, "but they're generally harder to find in the Fall. It may be that the Bobwhite is changing his mode of living and habitat and we don't know where to find him."

If you're one of the many folks who've had a pond or lake mysteriously stocked with fish, attributes it to a "helpful" friend or a nearby stream of water—not a miracle.

Biologists, studying fish for years, concede that under special conditions a bird might carry fish eggs or even small fish to a new pond or lake. And, winds of cyclonic velocity have been known to scoop a pond dry of everything to deposit the contents elsewhere.

But these possibilities are most remote.

Fingerlings will climb incredible slopes and if your body of water has unaccounted for fish it is a good bet they came in over the spillway at flood time. A screen will help keep undesirable species out of your pond as well as keep the good fish in.

According to the State Game & Fish Commission it is illegal to attempt to take or kill wildlife by pitfalls, deadfalls, snares, nets, saltlicks, gas, poison or explosives.

Helpful Hints On How To Handle Guns With Safety

- 1. Before taking the field clean and oil barrel and mechanism; be sure they are free of obstructions. 2. Be sure ammunition is of correct size. 3. Break gun when carrying in auto—"unloaded" guns often kill. 4. Never load until on actual firing terrain; unload before setting gun down. 5. Unload gun when traversing fences, brush or obstacles. 6. Carry gun on safety except when near game. 7. Walk with gun pointed in air. 8. Never point a gun at anything you don't intend to shoot. 9. Don't allow muzzle to become clogged with mud or debris. 10. Always stow ammunition in a safe place.

Careless Driving

A couple of times recently we have narrowly avoided collisions because one car was passing another at the crest of a hill and several local men told us of a wreck they saw in which a car and two trucks were involved because of this, it seems to us that a reckless driving charge should carry an extreme penalty and that the motorists should think of the lives they are endangering when they try to pass on a curve, or hill or any place where they are unable to see a good distance ahead. Passing in the intersections in Halls has also become very prevalent and is extremely dangerous. Why not a little more care and a little less speed. All of us could profit by it.

New Road

Wonder how many have noticed the white limestone rock that is being placed on the road around the Halls High Athletic Field? Early this year the county court voted $5,000 to be used in improving the field and this is the first of a series of steps which will include a better road, a concrete double entrance and other needed improvements including seats on the east side of the field. Two carloads of white limestone rock was spread last week and others will be spread. The grading was done some time ago and culverts have been placed in low spots so that the water can be carried off, etc.

Low Vote

We were not surprised but nevertheless were disappointed in the very small vote in the constitution referendum Tuesday of this week. We had heard quite a number express some opposition to the convention and proposed constitutional changes and quite a number that favored them but it seems that neither were interested enough to vote.

Teamwork And Spirit

Halls football fans were quite agreeably surprised with the performance of the Halls Tigers Friday night of last week after the dreary performance for the past several games. We wish to express our compliments to the members of the squad for their spirit and their willingness to go all out after playing so listlessly for most of the year. Of course, fans would have preferred to have won rather than tied the ball game but few had anything but compliments for the team. Keep the good work up and there will be no need of being ashamed of the season's record.

Quarterbacking

We wonder if many have ever thought just how much depended on leadership (quarterbacking) in a football game and in life. Friday night of last week we happen to know that Joe Scallions, Halls quarterback, called for a punt on the fourth down at the fifty yard line with three yards to go and a 13 to 6 lead. Members of the team insisted that they try to make the errand by them. As a consequence Tiptonville got the ball on downs and scored their second touchdown. It seems probable both in football and in life that it is wise to permit the quarterback or leader to call the plays and the team try to carry them out. We admire the spirit of the team in wanting to make the attempt but not the judgement under the particular circumstances. It is oftentimes quite confusing to a quarterback to have several members of the team attempting to call plays at the same time. We were highly pleased with the team as a whole and hope they will continue to improve.

Children's Photos

As many of you will recall, early in 1947 we published the pictures of a large number of children of the town. We have again made this arrangement with Wolz Studios to make these pictures and furnish the cuts. There will be absolutely no obligation on the part of a parent and we will publish the pictures of all children who are photographed. Of course the Wolz Studios will be glad— even anxious—to sell additional

Tiptonville, Tigers Play Tie Game

In one of the most interesting football games played on the Halls field in several years the Halls Tigers and Tiptonville Earthquakes Friday night played a 20 to 20 tie with action throughout the game.

The Tigers got off to an early lead in the first quarter when Scallions hit Moore with a pass on the thirty-five yard line and Moore went the rest of the way. The extra point failed and the Tigers were ahead 6 to 0.

Not satisfied the Tigers went to work and scored a second touchdown in the first quarter with Joe Scallions scoring and Stuart Crichtfield diving across for the extra point thus taking a 13 to 0 lead. Tiptonville then began to roll and outplayed the Tigers but were unable to score until Beatty, 190 pound fullback, snatched a Halls pass and raced across for a touchdown just before the half. Beatty again thrilled the crowd on the final play at the end of the half when he took a short pass over the line of scrimmage, cut to his left, then reversed his field and was almost away for a score. Score at the half Halls 13, Tiptonville 6.

Tiptonville came back fast in the third quarter and Beatty once more scored when on a spinner reverse he kept the ball, shot out to his right and was in the clear for thirty yards and the tying points. In the fourth quarter Corkran, Tiptonville, quarterback, on a full spinner went through the Halls line for 17 yards and a touchdown. Beatty kicked the extra point and Tiptonville was leading 20 to 13.

Not to be outdone the Tigers took the ball deep in their own territory and with McCord now at left half drove for a touchdown with Crichtfield picking up the final yardage. McCordle kicked up the extra point on a reverse and that ended the scoring for the night although both teams were still fighting for a win when the final whistle blew.

There were few outstanding players for the Tigers with the entire team showing a spirit and drive that they haven't shown since early in the season. For Tiptonville Beatty and Makin were a thorn in the flesh of the Tigers all night.

pictures; but there is no obligation if you do not want them. All you have to do is carry your child to Perry's Hotel on next Thursday and then come back later and select the negative when notified to do so, we will do the rest. We are anxious that as many children as possible be included so why not plan to have your child photographed so that we can publish his or her picture.

Ripley - Halls To Play Tonight

Playing for the Lauderdale County championship the Halls Tigers will play the Ripley Tigers on the Ripley Field Friday night at eight o'clock. Although having suffered defeat three times this year the Ripley team will be given an edge but not too much so as a rejuvenated Halls team takes the field.

The Halls team will be thirsting for a victory and must have one to stay above the .500 mark in games won and lost.

Starting lineup for the Halls team will probably be: Sumrow and F. Moore, ends; Rodgers and J. Moore, tackles; Newman and Connell, guards; Corlew, center; Garrett, McCorkle, Scallions and Crichtfield in the backfield.

Certain to see action early in the game will be Tommy Roberts, A. Ort Welch and Billy Rodgers with several others expected to get in the game.

Beef Cattle To Replace Cotton

F. H. Paschal, County Agent, Walter L. Partain of Glimp Community is another farmer who has already started toward the production of beef cattle as we get away from so much cotton.

Mr. Partain has 41 hereford brood cows, 20 of them registered, and a registered bull. He planted several acres this fall of Fescue and Ladino clover for permanent pasture and is seeding some alfalfa every year on land that he can lime and phosphate in order that he will have more and more alfalfa hay for the cattle in winter and for his walking horses which he likes to ride.

Mr. Partain is starting a good herd of Poland China hogs. He has two sows which farrowed a total of 21 pigs, 18 of which have reached six weeks of age with a lot of growth. Mr. Partain has a large farm, well suited to the production of cattle. He is working toward the seeding of more and more land to really good permanent pasture mixtures after the land is limed and fertilized so that it will carry more animals per acre.

More Green Cover Crops
J. W. Webb of Curve Community is really doing his part this fall to "Keep Tennessee Green" this winter. Mr. Webb is seeding vetch this year for the first time and he has a lot of it in cotton middles and is even sowing it broadcast after sweet potatoes. Mr. Webb has also seeded crimson clover and rye for pasture.

Many other people have remarked lately that more land in Lauderdale County is greener now than ever before at this time of year. Our farmers do not like terrace on hill land but we must either build far more terraces or grow thousands more acres of winter cover crops, or both, if we maintain the productivity of our wonderful soils.

November Is Hog Killing Time

The later part of November and the first part of December are the best times in the year in which to cure pork with salt or by the sugar curing method. More and more people are using a mixture of eight pounds of salt, two pounds of sugar, and two ounces of saltpetre to cure pork because it makes for better quality meat and because it is a safer method than the use of salt alone.

Complete bleeding of hogs is necessary for good meat. This is best accomplished by sticking the hogs without shooting or stunning them. Sticking without stunning insures that the heart will continue to beat until all the blood is drained from the meat.

Cool the meat 18 to 24 hours at 32 to 40 degree temperature before putting on any salt or other curing mixture. Cooling out will be greatly hastened if the carcass is split down the center of the back and the leaf fat taken out.

Curing is a race between the growth of spoilage germs in fresh pork and the penetration of preserving salt. To give salt time to penetrate the meat, bones and (Continued on Page 2)

FRANK THOMPSON IN HOSPITAL

Frank Thompson, former resident of Halls and presently operator of the Thompson Furniture Co. in Memphis, has recently undergone an operation at the Baptist Hospital in Memphis. He is reported as doing nicely and is expected to return to his home on Watson street some time this week.

CELEBRATE FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Ragland on Tuesday, November 1, quietly observed their fiftieth wedding anniversary at their home on Shannon street. Present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Ragland and their sons, Fred Ragland, Jr. of Halls, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Ragland and children of Milan, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Ragland of Jackson. Eugene Ragland of Nashville, another son, was unable to be present.

Nunn Is Acting City Recorder

Mayor P. W. Crittendon and all members were present at the meeting of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen Monday night of this week.

The Board named I. A. Nunn as Recorder during the absence of Mrs. Y. S. Brown who has been compelled to relinquish the job for the present to undergo an eye operation.

Since the completion and opening of the concrete street between Front street and Highway 51 the board has voted to forbid U turns at the intersection of Main and Front streets in order to cut down congestion in the business section.

The board also voted to turn 1947 and prior delinquent taxes over to the city attorney for collection.

Basketball Season Opens Nov. 22

As a prelude of the forthcoming basketball season of the Halls High girls basketball team has recently played practice games with Bells and Ripley, managing to win over both clubs and will play Ripley on the local floor this (Thursday) afternoon in another practice session.

The season will open officially for the Halls basketball team with games against Obion on the night of Tuesday, November 22. Obion is expected to have one of the strongest girls teams in West Tennessee and will be a real test for the ability of the local team. Since the football season will not end until the following night, the true strength of the Halls boys team will not be on the floor but a strong team will represent the Tigers just the same.

The girls have recently elected Carrie Lee Burdison, guard on the 1948-49 team, as captain with Martha Wood, also a guard, named as alternate captain.

Schedule for the forthcoming basketball season is:

Melville Church Has Homecoming Day

Sunday, November 6, was designated as "Home Coming Day" in celebration of the opening of the new Melville Methodist Church.

The Rev. H. L. Bartlett, Pastor, was in charge of the program of the day.

The morning sermon was delivered by the Rev. R. F. Wiley Professor of Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky. Short talks were given by former and visiting ministers W. F. Maxedon, R. H. Dodson, W. L. Drake, J. A. Kelley and E. B. Wiley.

Special music was rendered by Mr. Kemper and Mr. Nelson, students of Asbury College.

At the close of the morning service a bounteous basket lunch was served.

A special musical program comprised the afternoon service which was thoroughly enjoyed by the large congregation. (Continued on Page 6)

Mrs. Alvin Meacham Died Saturday

Services for Mrs. Ruby Jewell Thurmond Meacham, who died Saturday at her residence here, were held Sunday afternoon at the Curve Baptist Church. The Rev. McKay Phillips officiated assisted by the Rev. S. B. Morrison. Burial was in Crossroads cemetery with Garner Funeral Home in charge. Mrs. Meacham was 20.

She leaves her husband, James Alvin Meacham, an employee of Ripley Power & Light Co., a son, William H. Meacham, two daughters, Myrtle Juanita and Ruthie Jewell, all of Halls; her mother, Mrs. H. B. ## Photographer To Be Here Next Thurs.

The Camera And The Birdie Await Halls Kiddies At Parry's Hotel

Thursday, November 17th is the big day for the picture taking of your youngsters. The Graphic is having pictures taken of all children who are brought by their parents or other guardian to the Parry Hotel between 10 a. m. and 6 p. m. absolutely free of charge. The Wolz Studios, of Des Moines, Iowa, nationally known children's photographers, will be in charge of the photography. The Graphic wants a picture of your child to print in its forthcoming feature "Citizens of Tomorrow," a series of photographic studies of local children. The more we get the better the feature will be, so the cooperation of mothers and fathers is urged.

It often seems to parents that children are little one minute and are grown up the next, so fast does a child's growing stage pass. Here is a splendid opportunity to catch a likeness of your child or children at this present stage for the pleasure you will get out of it in future years; and for the pleasure you will enjoy seeing it in print. You will want to clip it from this, your home town newspaper, and preserve it for the youngster when he or she grows up.

There is absolutely no charge or obligation for taking the picture. Parents don't even have to be a subscriber to the Graphic nor even a reader. You do not have to purchase pictures either, though you may obtain a limited number of additional prints by arranging direct with the Studio if you want them. That is entirely up to you. There is no age limit.

Plant - To - Prosper Dinner Planned

With some 700 county winners, agricultural leaders, editors and business leaders expected to attend, the 16th annual Mid-South Farm Forum and Plant To Prosper Rally will be held in Memphis, Dec. 20, Walter Durham, contest director, announced today.

The forum program will be held at the Peabody Hotel at which 10 o'clock. Forum speakers will be Knox T. Hutchinson, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, and Dillard B. Lusseter, national administrator of the Farm Home Administration.

The forum program will be followed by the Plant To Prosper Luncheon at the King Cotton Hotel at 12:30. The luncheon will honor Mid-south newspaper editors who have co-operated in the Plant To Prosper program this year.

Climax of the day's activities will be the Award Dinner at 6:15 at the Peabody Hotel at which cash prizes, Certificates of Honor to county winners, and trophies to agricultural workers and newspaper editor will be awarded.

This year some 98,000 farm families of Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi and Missouri are participating in the Plant To Prosper and Live-At-Home Competitions, sponsored by The Halls Graphic and The Commercial Appeal.

The Live-At-Home Rally for negro farmers will be held at Booker T. Washington in Memphis Dec. 8, Mr. Durham said.

RETURNS TO HOME

Mrs. Gordon Griffin of Brownwood, Texas, left for her home Tuesday after spending the past two weeks with her sister, Mrs. Beas Jordan.

JACQUES FAMILY MOVES HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Jacques and daughter, Shirley, have moved here from Covington to make their home. The family has moved into the I. W. Simmons home on West Main Street.

Mr. Jacques is the owner and manager of the Halls Hardware & Supply Co. which is located at the corner of Main and Front Streets. Shirley has entered the eighth grade here. Mr. and Mrs. Jacques have a son, Jimmie, Jr., who is a freshman at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville.

Elementary News Notes

Hoffius and Sugg

Miss Walker's room has three new students — Jerry Neenon who enrolled last week and Juanita and Norma Jean Terry who enrolled this week. That makes the total enrollment for both first grades ninety-two!

Mrs. Cherry, the health nurse, will be in Miss Geneva's room on Monday, November 21 and in Miss Walker's room on the 22nd to give smallpox vaccinations unless mothers send notes requesting that the nurse not give them.

We are glad to welcome Alex and Alberto Major and Lucio Martinez in "Miss" Geneva's room.

Second Grade

The whooping cough still is on the rampage especially in the 1st and 2nd grades. We have had several pupils absent on account of this and will be glad when they can come back. Barbara Chipman is back after a long absence and we certainly welcome her. Freddie Lee Chipman is back too, after being absent a long time. All the second grade certainly enjoyed the Hallow'en Party last week. We'll be looking forward to Thanksgiving now. We'll soon be making turkeys galore!

"Miss" Kathryn's room has two new goldfish that Claude Maxwell brought. Thanks, Claude!

Third Grade

We have really missed Delaine Moore and Wayne Sanders. They have been absent three weeks with the whooping cough. Sharon Moore, Tommy Dyer, Warren Nunn and Henry Bishop have been on our sick list.

We all enjoyed the program at the Auditorium Monday morning. We heard some activity record during our music period last week, each of us enjoyed taking part.

We sang Happy Birthday to Mary E. Karnazes and Peggy Jordan recently.

Those who took trips over the weekend were Carolyn Gaines to Jackson and Lendelle Baker to Brownsville.

We are studying about trees and leaves in our science work. This is such a good time to study leaves, we think. Have you noticed the beautiful colors they are changing into?

We heard "Miss" Pat had a nice trip to Knoxville.

Fourth Grade

The fourth grade is very sorry to lose Elizabeth Crist. She has moved to Union City.

We welcome Ray Lindsey, our new pupil, to the fourth grade.

Donald Ray Cleek, Josh Nunn, Jo Ann Hurt, The Mrs. Burroughs and Joyce Cannon have been absent due to illness.

Harry Wright brought us a very pretty silver colored fish. We now have three in our aquarium.

We are very happy to have Teddy Cates' cousin, Howard E. Brown, Jr. from Michigan as our visitor Friday. Friday was a very exciting day for all the fourth graders. Mr. Atwell presented each boy and girl with a New Testament, then he gave a nice puzzle to those who sold pictures.

Later in the day Mrs. McCorkle gave us the books we have been wanting to read, Adventuring with Pioneers by Mary Browning.

We really did enjoy the Alexander Trio. We are still trying to make toys talk. You missed a good program if you were not here.

Fifth Grade

The musical program Monday morning was a treat and the whole class enjoyed it. We are glad to have the opportunity of hearing these excellent programs as they will be presented at intervals during the year.

Quite a number of our classmates have been absent because of illness. Celia Jane Wiley had Ruby Lumly are back after being sick for several days.

Farmers Elect County Committee

Edward Hudson
Election Returns
Monday, October 31, was election day for the Production & Marketing Administration. On that day farmers of Lauderdale County elected committeemen from their respective communities to represent them in the administration of the various programs as outlined by the Department of Agriculture and carried out in the county for the benefit of agriculture as a whole.

The county is made up of 15 communities which are identical with the civil districts except in the case of district 13 which is combined with No. 4 to make up community 4 and district 9 which is combined with No. 8 to make up community 8. On that same date a delegate from each community was elected for the purpose of helping elect a County Committee, which County Committee election was held on Nov. 4. The following is a list of duly elected farmer-committees in each community and also the County Committee.

Community No. 7
Chairman — J. O. Thompson
Vice-Chairman — J. T. Carmack
Regular Member — E. C. Owen, Sr.

Community 8

Community 18
Chairman — R. I. Garrett
Vice-Chairman — W. B. Hall
Regular Member — A. O. Chambers

1949 - 1950 Sign-Up

We are now signing up work sheets for 1950. Every farm operator should come by the county office as soon as he can and make out a farm plan for 1950, sign his farm work sheet and thus make the farm eligible for soil-building payments in 1950. This must be done by December 15 or there will not be any payment guaranteed the farm.

There is a change in the usual sign-up procedure this year. Heretofore it has been necessary to sign a work sheet every year but under the present set up when a work sheet is made out and signed this year the farm will automatically be in the program for the next 5 years and have an allowance set up on it each of those 5 years. Farmers of course will be given an opportunity each year to revise their farm plan for the succeeding year by adding more practices or by leaving off some that have already been listed.

At the same time farmers are signing up for 1950 they can report the practices that have been carried out on the farm in 1949 and sign an application for their payment on any farm which all practices for 1949 are complete. This report can be filed and it will be necessary for the person reporting to bring with him receipts of any seed, phosphate or other materials which were bought as they cannot be payment made on commercial practices without the claim being supported by a receipt.

Don't let the time pass without signing up.

Cotton Allotments

The county office is expecting from Nashville the county cotton allotment for 1950 in the near future. As soon as notice of the county acreage is available work will proceed in setting up individual farm allotments and the present plans are to have notices out to the farmers of their individual allotments around the first of December. We are very anxious to get these allotments out as we realize that plans for labor on the farm hinge to a great extent on the acreage allotted to the farm.

A referendum will be held on December 15 at which time farmers will vote either for or against acreage controls on cotton for 1950. The law as signed by the President on October 31 provides for a support price on cotton for 1950 at 90% of parity only if controls are in effect. More details will be given later as voting time draws nearer.

joins it is desirable to keep it below 40 degrees during the curing period.

You can cure meat with salt alone, or with salt and sugar, or with salt and saltpetre. Salt preserves the meat, sugar improves the flavor, and saltpetre sets the red color in the lean.

Most people who have tried it prefer a curing mixture of eight pounds salt, two pounds sugar and two ounces saltpetre for each 100 pounds of trimmed meat to the use of salt alone. Whether salt alone or the "sugar cure" is used, faster penetration of the meat by the salt will be accomplished if the meat is rubbed thoroughly on the skin side, on the flesh side, and salt rubbed into the joints and then the wet salt is removed from the pieces and new salt or sugar cure applied three days after the first. The dry curing mixture penetrates more rapidly than the wet. After five more days, put on the remainder of the curing mixture. This method has been proven over a long period of years to be safer than the old method of simply putting the meat down in salt and leaving it.

Time-Of Curing Important Leave middlings in cure 14 to 18 days, according to thickness, not counting days when weather is below freezing all day long. Leave shoulders and hams in cure 1 1/2 days per pound of meat in the individual pieces, but not less than 25 days.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has recently worked out a new method of keeping hog lard sweet and fresh for a longer period of time. This is done by adding three pounds of vegetable shortening (such as Humko, Crisco, Soco) to a kettle of lard just before it is ready to be taken up.

MRS. HORACE JORDAN HOSTESS TO WSCS

The WSCS of the Methodist Church met with Mrs. Horace Jordan on November 7th at 2:30 P. M. with 12 members present and Mrs. R. L. Siler presiding. Meeting opened with prayer and song. Following roll call, reading of minutes and collection of dues, Mrs. Hurt conducted the devotional period.

After a brief business session during which motion carried to send money rather than supplies to our Wesley House and Bethlehem Center in Memphis, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Wiley.

The third chapter in our Study Book was then given in a thorough and helpful way following which the hostess served a delicious plate and all enjoyed a pleasant social hour.

Our Week of Prayer was observed on the 24th with a splendid program, a good attendance, a wonderful lunch and rich fellowship with an offering of $75.00 sent to our Conference Treasurer.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS HONORS TEACHER

Mrs. D. C. Warren was greatly surprised Wednesday night when she entered Angelo's Barbecue Place to find about thirty-five members of the Euclidian Sunday School Class seated at tables and singing "Happy Birthday" as she entered the door. The surprise Barbecue Dinner had been planned as a surprise for Mrs. Warren, who is teacher of the class. A delicious barbecue plate and cake were enjoyed. The class presented their teacher a colorful scarf and a pair of hose.

TERRY - REECE

Miss Mildred Reece of Halls and Wymond Terry of the Double Bridges community were married Sunday morning. They are making their home at the present with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Reece.

Tennessee is advantageously situated for spring lamb production, ranking second in the United States.

HOME RENDERED LARD KEPT FRESH BY SHORTENING

Mixing home-rendered lard with vegetable shortening will make the lard keep fresh and sweet twice as long, say chemists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. They report that farmers who used this simple, effective means of preserving lard during the last two seasons found it highly satisfactory. With hog-butcher time just around the corner, the scientists recommend the method to all farmers interested in putting up lard.

Only two or three pounds of the usual hydrogenated (hardened) vegetable shortening are needed for each 50 pounds of lard. The Department's research men advise adding the shortening to the rendered lard in the kettle, just before settling and separating the cracklings.

Sunday School Lesson

By Walter C. Davis, D. D., Tennessee School of Religion, University of Tennessee

(Isaiah 53:1-12)

"VICTORY THROUGH SUFFERING"

In the book of Revelation is a statement of profound significance each other "was carved on altars, tombs, coins, wherever man has lived, toiled and died. On Chadean brick, among ruins of Troy, on Hittite remains, among cliff dwellers . . . everywhere we face the same . . .

Modern scholars contend that chapter 58 of Isaiah is only a poem on the "suffering servant." They say, it has reference primarily to the nation of Israel, suffering and yet conquering. Some will not allow its application to Christ.

However, to the Christian it speaks primarily of Christ. Jesus said that Isaiah 61:1 applied to Him when it says, "The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me . . . to preach good tidings to the meek." This description given here of the suffering servant seems clear as if the writer had stood by and witnessed the trial, the mocking, the scourging and the crucifixion of Jesus. The words play back and forth between God and man. It is as if man stood by the cross and was subdued by the wonder and shame of it. He feels himself involved. Scarcely knowing what he says, he mumbles, "He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities; and with His stripes we are healed. The Lord hath laid on Him the iniquity of us all."

CHILDREN...

We Want
Your

● Don't forget our invitation to have your pictures taken and published in this newspaper. Remind your parents it costs them nothing!

● The Woltz Studios, nationally known children's photographers for newspapers, will take your pictures expressly for publication in a new feature titled "CITIZENS OF TOMORROW."

● Remind your parents, too, that nothing need be subscribed to; they do not even have to be a reader of this paper. There is no obligation of any kind! Every youngster in this trading area is eligible. There is no age limit. Extra prints may be obtained by arranging with the studio representative when the pose for publication is selected; but this, too, is entirely up to you parents.

● Clippings of these pictures will become treasured mementos of childhood, so be sure to call on our photographer during the time mentioned below. We do not want a single local youngster to be disappointed. Appointments are NOT necessary, but one of your parents or another adult must accompany you.

With hunting interest to soon reach its height tall tales are sure to come out like popcorn in a skillet. Mankmanship is always a lively topic and an exhibition we once witnessed makes us prone to believe a lot of stories. Back several years ago we would take a certain farm boy of 16 or 17 - long on hunts as a bird guide since no dog was available. The youth always took his .22 rifle along and, believe it or not, we've seen him shoot quail on the wing! When we often have trouble hitting with our 20-gauge shotgun, his marksmanship always seemed the height of something or other.

Tennessee Outdoors

Louis S. Clapper
State Game & Fish Commissioner
Strange as it seems, virtually every major policy in the Country has its effects, usually bad, upon wildlife conservation. Wars, floods, and even elections leave their marks upon the wildlife.

Lates major policy influences are the coal and steel strikes. How would effect wildlife? Easy!

With plenty of time to spend workmen out on strike are going to the out-of-doors. They hunt and fish in squads all over the state partially for recreation, partially for food. The workmen cannot make a cent in Tennessee's fish population but the extra pressure on game, particularly squirrels, has been heavy. Another headache for the wildlife management experts.

It is encouraging to know that for the first time in 15 years, a TVA survey failed to find a malarial specimen in 4800 tests a previously positive reservoir areas. In 1934, positive cases were found in 35 percent of the cases with a high in two areas of 65%. While the TVA is eated over its mosquito control program, it admits the presence of a few Anopheles and is continuing corrective measures.

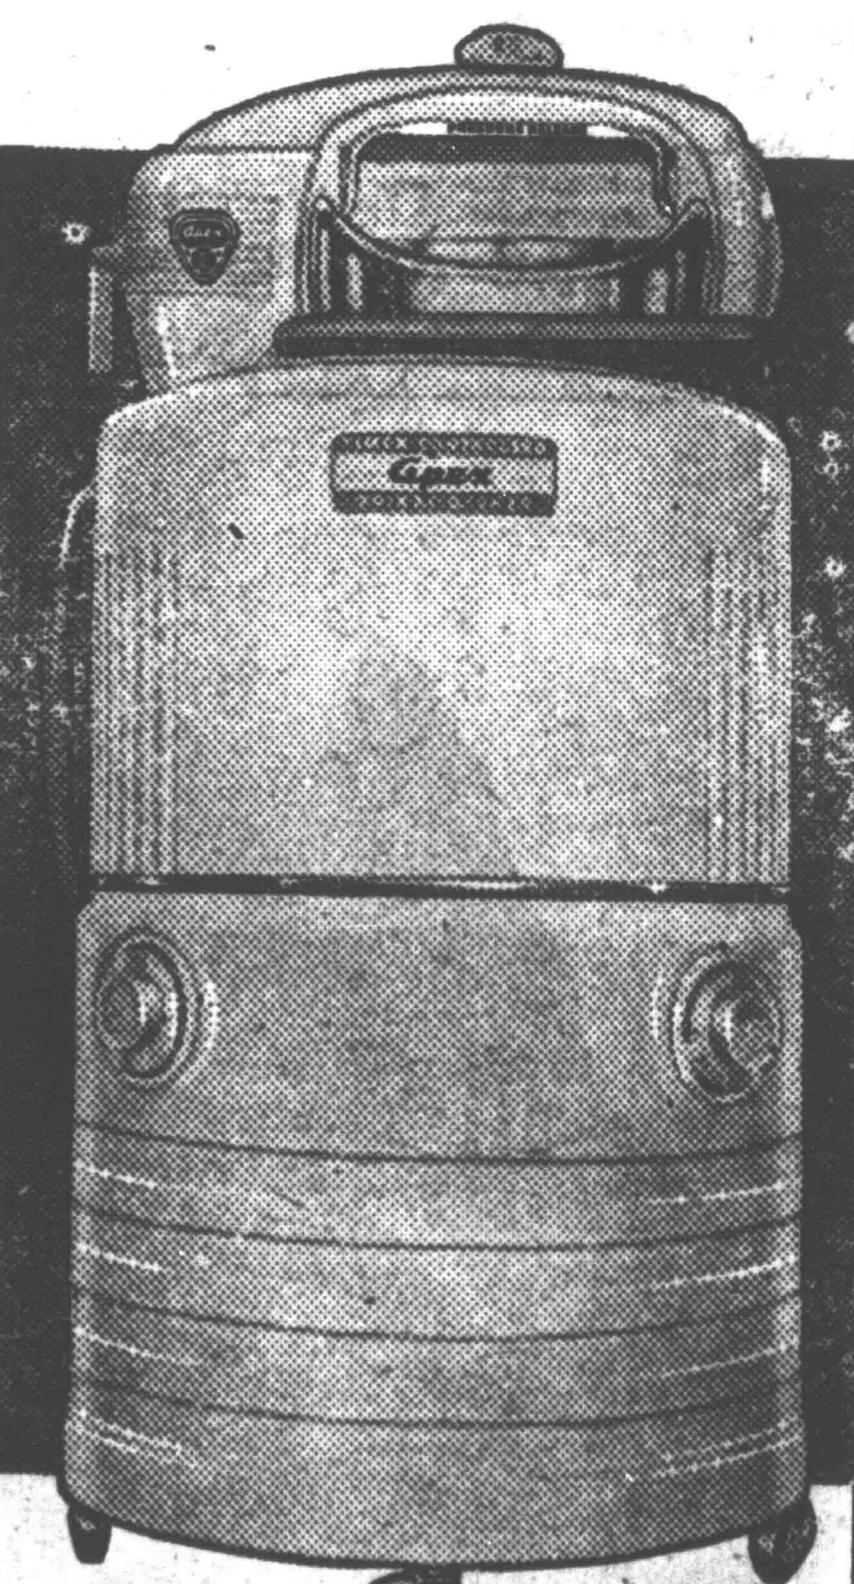

A new publication on forestry, "Forgotten Acres," is being distributed. Its theme is thought provoking. First consider these figures: 2,000,000 acres of eroded and worked-out land in need of reforestation; 4,000,000 acres of woodland on which no trees larger than cordwood size are found; 8,000,000 acres of non-commercial woodland; 1,800,000 acres in woodland pasture; and 500,000 acres burned each year—10,800,000 FORGOTTEN ACRES in Tennessee! Now read the booklet!

Cousin Tom Greene, who addresses us as "Wind Bag," advises that down Huntington way the crappie are coming out of the deep water and are really striking. Big Shad, some 14 inches long, provide a fine sport on light tackle as they "bust" streamer flies. All of which leads us to point out that this time of the year is ideal for fishing. Even in the rain, the angler will find luck good. Rain calms the water and the fish will expect food to be washed into the water. How about a story of ice fishing, Tom?

Sportsmen are concerned over the large number of hunters already killed in gun accidents this season. With figures indicating some 100 people having already died in mishaps over the nation, murmurs have been heard of legislation to curb carelessness. We

CATARACT

Surgery of the eye has kept pace with the rapid programs of surgery in other fields. Cataract removal is a frequent eye operation today. Modern techniques in eye surgery make it possible to remove cataract long before vision is all but lost. Only a few decades ago, a cataract was not removed until it was "ripe." This waiting period meant years of impaired vision and even blindness to many patients.

The operation itself, while not simple, is now done by ophthalmologists with satisfactory results in ninety-five percent of the cases. Since cataract is a clouded condition of the lens of the eye, surgical removal is about the only hope of cure. For children and young adults, however, "needling" of the cataract results in the cloudy liquid of the lens being absorbed by surrounding eye tissue.

Both the needling operation and surgical removal of the lens are done under local anesthesia with little discomfort to the patient. Eyeglasses, which take the place of the natural lens, are fitted soon after surgery.

Although many types of cataract are recognized by the eye physician, the three most common types are congenial, traumatic and senile cataracts; the congenial type being present at birth, the traumatic caused by injury, and the senile occurring frequently in aged persons.

Cataract surgery is successfully conserving and restoring sight to thousands otherwise condemned to years of impaired vision or blindness.

Careful Driving Is Urged

Winter driving calls for winter thinking!

Take a tip from the country's safest drivers, professional truck drivers, and drive carefully this winter.

The average over-the-road driver and even some city truck drivers cover more than three times as many miles as the average passenger car driver does so they are in a good position to offer winter driving advice.

Most truck drivers and other professional drivers know that winter driving calls for "winter thinking!" By that they mean the ability to be ready to cope with the unexpected hazards of winter driving.

Tests have shown that it takes from three to twelve times as long to stop on snow or ice covered streets as it does on dry surfaces. So for safe winter driving, certain precautions should be taken.

The professional truck driver is required winter and summer to see that his truck is in perfect mechanical condition, and such things as the heater, windshield wiper, defroster and brakes are given special attention in the winter months.

From years of driving the big rigs, these men know how they will perform on ice, so at the beginning of each trip they get the "feel" of the road before getting up any speed.

Another good point to remember is that a truck driver usually keeps his window at least partially open even in the worst weather. Such a precaution lessens the possibility of having the windshield and windows fog over on the inside, thus giving the driver better visibility and letting him hear other vehicles, train whistles and similar sounds that affect his driving.

"So take a tip from the professional driver, the American truck driver, and adjust your winter driving to winter thinking."

CARD OF THANKS

We want to express our deep appreciation to each and all that assisted us in any way during the illness and death of our sister and sister-in-law, Lillie Montgomery, who passed on to her reward on October 31, 1949. We feel so grateful to our many friends for the cards of sympathy, the nice dishes of food, the beautiful flowers for the funeral, Bro. Maxedon for the nice funeral talk, the choir for the sweet old songs they sang, the Sudbury Funeral Home for their efficient service. May God bless and care for all who had a part in any way in our humble prayer.

are glad to have Mrs. Hurt after a 2-day absence. We miss Barbara Andrews, she has been absent because of illness.

ATTENTION! ATTENTION!
The eighth grade is going to sponsor a "yo-yo" contest confined to the 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades. The public is invited.
There will be a first and second prize and the winners will be declared. More details next week.

testants.)
S'long!

Melville Church

In closing it was truly "The End of a Perfect Day."

Following is a brief history of
Melville Church:

Melville Methodist Church was organized in 1872 and the name of Melville was given the church
by Mr. R. H. Browning, a prominent citizen of the community and a member of the church at that time. He was of Scotch-Irish descent and he named the church in honor of Melville Abbey in Scotland.

The pastor in charge when the church was organized in 1872 was the Rev. J. M. Scott, and since that time the church has been served by the following ministers:
C. J. Maulden, 1873; W. H. Cook,
1874; J. S. Ren-haw, 1876; John
Randle, 1877; G. H. Martin, 1879;

It became necessary to move and rebuild the church on account of the flooded condition of the location and the old church being inadequate for service at the present time.

On August 15, 1949, work was started in dismantling the old church and the construction of the new church.

The lot on which the new church is located was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Viar.

The following building committee was appointed: T. O. Martin
Chairman and builder; Richard
Lazure, Treasurer; W. H. Hughes
S. H. Steelman, Edd Steelman and Harvey Viar. The Building Committee assisted in the actual construction of the church assisted by other members, non-members and members of other denominations in the community.

Trustees of Melville Church are as follows: S. H. Steelman, W. H.
Hughes, J. B. Covington, Sr.
Officers and teachers of the Sunday School are: S. H. Steel-

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Why Firemen's Houses
Don't Catch Fire

At the last meeting of the Town Council, Biff Simpson brought up the subject of our Volunteer Fire Department. Claimed that our town was getting big enough to have a regular paid Department.
Judge Cunningham objected!
"As long as we serve on the Volunteers, we'll keep thinking about fires and be careful about fire hazards at home. We might get careless if we just left the job up to someone else."

We figured that made good sense and decided to keep the volunteer system... banded together for our own protection... "putting fires out" before they start!

From where I sit, running a town is like running a business—and a successful businessman does his own checking up. That's why the Brewers and tavern owners cooperate in their Self-Regulation program. They know it's up to them to see that their places are clean and law-abiding. They don't leave the job to someone else because no one else can do it as well.

Confidential Corner

No Information

Announcement was made Tuesday of this week that the proposed constitutional amendment convention had been defeated in the election held November 8. It is our belief that the defeat of this convention was brought about simply because so much misinformation, and no information whatsoever was spread about it. We have read quite extensively concerning the constitutional convention and what it could do or at least what was said it could do and not do but were never clearly enough informed to know exactly what could and could not be changed under the limited convention. Some said a state income tax could be levied, others equally prominent and supposedly as well informed said it could not be. To the man on the fence there seemed to be little choice. We believe that there are portions of the Tennessee constitution that need amending. Just what should be done about them we can't say but certainly there are certain changes that need to be brought about. We regret that the proposed convention was defeated but since hardly any information was available and so little interest manifested.

A Good Job

We believe that congratulations are in order for the post of the American Legion for the high membership attained this year. A total of 177 members were enrolled during the membership drive with last year's membership being 121. This organization can be of great value to both the veteran himself and as a civic force in the welfare of the community.

You're Invited

Everyone has an invitation to visit Townsend-Daws Co., Inc. showroom Friday and Saturday of this week and see the 1950 Ford which is being shown to the public cooperation in this matter.

Your Cooperation Please

As has been our custom for many years the Graphic will be printed a day early next week so that members of the staff may observe Thanksgiving. (Know of any Turkey?) In order that we may be able to get out early it will be necessary that our advertisers and correspondents aid us by getting in their copy early so that we can get it ready. Please give us your cooperation for this matter.

Plenty Sports

For sports loving fans there should be plenty of action in Halls High School for the next few days. Tonight (Thursday) the Tigers will travel to Ridgely to meet the high scoring, undefeated Green Wave. Tuesday night the Obion basketball team will come here for the opening games of the season and Wednesday night the Tigers will play Union City in the final game of the football season. In addition to all this, local fans may see the Big Ten Conference championship game on Thanksgiving afternoon or the much heralded game between Ridgely and Tiptonville. All in all there will be plenty of choices for the sports loving fan.

Hunting Season

For those who do not care for football or basketball and like to hunt or who like all of them the hunting season is at hand. Today (Friday, November 18) the duck season will open at noon and Thanksgiving Day, November 24, the open season for quail and rabbits will begin. The season on raccoons, opossum, fox, etc. opened Tuesday thus affording a wide variety of game to be hunted. Incidentally, the squirrel season remains open until December 1.

We're Still Wondering

Numerous persons have asked us lately if we knew just when the contracts would be let for the school buildings authorized in the bonding election. We are still wondering ourselves but will try to get some information as soon as we can.

Mrs. Cora Nunn, Much Beloved Citizen, Died Thursday

Mrs. Cora S. Nunn, wife of the late Joel A. Nunn, passed from this life Thursday night, Nov. 10, at 10:30 after a brief illness. She was the daughter of the late S. A. and Mary Caruthers Jordan, pioneer citizen of Halls. She was 88.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from the Halls Baptist Church with the Rev. R. J. Cooper, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. R. J. Williams of Friends' Church. Burial was in Halls Cemetery with Garner Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

A member of a pioneer family of Halls Mrs. Nunn had resided in this community her entire life. She was a charter member of Halls Baptist Church and remained active until her age and ill health prevented some years.

Mrs. Nunn is survived by two children, Ewell Nunn of Baton Rouge, La. and Mrs. A. W. Williams of Halls; five granddaughters and seven great-grandchildren; also a number of nieces and nephews, several of whom reside in Halls.

Palbearers were K. T. Edens, Elbert Osmont and four nephews, Delmar Jordan of Sesser, Ill., Aubrey Mansfield of Memphis, Ervin Jordan of Dyersburg and Jerre Jordan of Halls.

Union City To Play Tigers Wed. Night

The Halls Tigers will bring their 1949 season to a close Wednesday night of next week when the Union City Golden Tornadoes come to Halls to play the game postponed by rain earlier in the season.

The Union City team will rule favorite over the Halls Tigers as the Tigers bring to a close their poorest season in recent years. Victories as of Wednesday were three with four losses and one tie game.

Tonight (Thursday) the Tigers will be Ridgely to play the undefeated Green Wave with Ridgely expected to win their ninth game in a row. Using a Split T formation the Ridgely club has bowed over every opponent with Ripley being the only club to hold them close, the score being 7 to 6 with Ridgely saving the game with a goal line stand in the final minutes of play.

Coach Jim Perry and Bill McClure have been working hard readying the club for the Split T formation and have worked out a defense which they hope will stem the tide of touchdowns which Ridgely has raised this season. However, only a top-notch game by the Tigers and a reverting to early season form can bring a defeat to the favored Lake County club.

Game time for both games is 8 o'clock with Union City to play on the Halls field.

Tigers Lose To Ripley Friday, 39 - 0

The Halls Tigers traveled to Ripley Friday night and the drought of victories over Ripley continued with Ripley winning in a trot by a score of 39 to 0.

The Tigers were never in the ball game as Ripley racked up three touchdowns in each half and kept control of the ball most of the time. Halls fans received two thrills, one on a pass from Sealtions to Moore with Moore being caught from behind and the other when Moore got into the clear on an end around just at the end of the half but had stepped out of bounds after a gain of some fifteen yards.

Main attraction of the Halls team was several kicks gotten off by McCorkle, the recovery of a fumbled punt and the recovery of a Ripley fumble deep in Ripley territory only to lose the ball on an intercepted pass.

The Tigers seemed to be trying but simply were not able to cope with the Ripley club as the Halls line fell by the wayside for the first time this year. Failure to carry out blocking assignments and poor tackling kept the Halls club in the hole all night and they were never able to get going at all.

Bennett Thurmond Buried Sunday

Services for Bennett Ernest Thurmond, who died at the Haywood County Hospital in Brownsville Friday night after a three-week illness, were held Sunday afternoon at 2 at the Woodville Methodist Church with the Rev. Howard L. Bartlett officiating. Burial was in Woodville Cemetery with Garner Funeral Home in charge.

A lifelong resident of Lauderdale County, he was 89, a member of the Methodist Church and resided in the Woodville community. He leaves his mother, Mrs. H. B. Thurmond; his wife, Mrs. Nanette Crowder Thurmond of Ripley; three sons, Ernest, Sammy and Johnny Thurmond of Ripley; five daughters, Eleanor, Thea, Shirley, Dorothy, and June Thurmond, all of Ripley; and three brothers, Rufus and George Thurmond of Gates and Carroll Thurmond of Memphis.

A sister, Mrs. Alvin Mescham, of Halls, died suddenly just a week prior to Mr. Thurmond's death.

HEAR YE! HEAR YE! BIG YO-YO CONTEST

The eighth grade is sponsoring a "Yo-Yo" contest. It will take place in the Elementary School Auditorium Friday, 9 a. m. Grades four, five, six, seven and eight are taking part. The admission is five cents for students and ten cents for adults.

We encourage everyone to come.

AT REELFOOT LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Abernathy spent Friday of last week at Reelfoot Lake, having as their dinner guests the Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Thurmond, former pastor of Halls Methodist Church and now stationed at Ridgely. They also visited in the new $15,000 parsonage at Ridgely.

Legion Observes Victory Day

Some 150 members of the Halls Post No. 161 of the American Legion took part in the Third Annual Victory Day Celebration held Thursday night of last week according to Post Commander Joe Hamilton. In connection with the celebration the annual membership drive was brought to a close with a total of 177 members being enlisted. Quota for the post was 128 with membership for the preceding year being 121.

Principal speaker at the celebration was West Tennessee Division Commander Cayce Pentecost of Dresden with Ninth District Commander M. T. Hansbrough of the Halls Post saying a few words.

Guests of the club included Post Commander Charles Shoaf of Ripley, Joe Bartlett of Henning, 1st vice-commander Rufus Smith, county service officer, N. C. Utley, Tick Bray and Willard Norvell, all of the Ripley Post; and Bill Holman, commander of the Guy H. Turner Veterans of Foreign Wars Post at Ripley.

There were a number of visitors from the Crockett County Post including Fred Craig, of Friends' Reason; B. B. Barnes, commander of the Bells Post; and Guy Musgraves.

On the menu for the evening was barbecue and cold drinks. One of the most successful celebrations ever held was the general opinion of the event.

Basketball Season To Open Tuesday

The Halls High School girls basketball team take on what will probably prove to be one of their toughest foes of the season as they open the basketball season on the local court next Tuesday night with Obion as their opponents.

Obion is said to be one of the stronger teams of West Tennessee and a win for the local set would get them off on the right foot for the season. In practice games during the past two weeks the girls have defeated Bells, Ripley twice and then Maury City giving them a hard fight during the local team had played Ripley during the afternoon.

Also coming here for the opening games will be the Obion boys team. Little is known about the Obion quintet and even less about the local boys since many would-be basketballers are still playing football and have yet to practice any basketball. However, the Tigers are expected to floor a creditable team with Joe Chapman, Tom Belton, Paul Bishop, Harold Osborne, Gene Olds and a number of others having been practicing for some time. For the first time in several years the Tigers are expected to be a rangy team with Paul Bishop, a six-foot, five-inch boy, Edd Sumrow and Tom Belton, both well over six feet, and Joe Jacobs, Hutson McCorkle, Joe Chapman and Franklin Moore and several other near six footers on the squad. Bright prospects on the floor for the first time are big Paul Bishop and Joe Chapman with most of the squad being carry-overs from last year's squad. On'y Edd Sumrow remains from the starters of the 1948-49 team but prospects are bright for the best team in many years.

Funeral Services For Frank Thurmond

Services for Miles Franklin Thurmond of Gates, a farmer, were held Monday afternoon at Gates Methodist Church by the Rev. C. C. Lewis, assisted by the Rev. D. A. Bishop. Garner's Funeral Home directed burial at Gates Cemetery.

Mr. Thurmond died suddenly at his Gates residence. He was 67. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Lorene; three brothers, Morr's Thurmond of Columbus, Ohio, Tony Thurmond of Manila, Ark., and Harry Thurmond of Gates, and a sister, Mrs. Anna Adcock of Gates.

Next meeting will be held on Tuesday, December 6.

Lions Club Has Regular Meeting

The Halls Lions Club held their regular meeting Tuesday at noon in the dining room of the Massengill Hotel with seventeen members attending.

No special program had been prepared but reports were received from various committees and from the President, F. W. Hurt. Lion W. C. Patton reported that the committee named to contact Senator Kefauver concerning the supersonic laboratory had done so but that Tusculum had been chosen as the location. President Hurt continued the committee since it has been reported that smaller installations will be established also.

President Hurt told of an answer he had received from a letter written concerning telephone service and stated better service is promised in the near future. He also read a letter inviting members of the club to attend a showing of the film of the International Convention as guests of the Jackson club on the night of November 28. The club secretary was instructed to inquire into cost of renting the film for the Halls club.

The 1950 Ford Deluxe Tudor Sedan combines the modern styling so widely acclaimed by the car-buying public with the comfort and economy demanded of a family automobile. Smart new treatment of the grille and parking lights and a colorful new crest—the first in Ford history—distinguish the front of the new models. Comfort features include non-sag front seat springs covered with a new foam rubber cushion, additional head room and smoother, quieter V-8 and 6-cylinder engines.

Elementary News Notes

—Suey and Hoffius—

First Grade

Both first grades have a new pupil. This makes the enrollment for each room 47. Leroy Moore and Katie Lou Hurt had birthdays this week. Most of our "whooping coughers" are back in school.

Second Grade

The second grade enjoyed their Victory Day holiday very much. We're back on the job again this Monday and looking forward to Thanksgiving. We're going to make turkeys and lots of other things too, for Thanksgiving.

"Miss" Kathryn was ill last Thursday and we really missed her. Thanks to "Miss" Electra for helping us. Marietta Griffin's mother is in the hospital. We're so sorry and wish for her a speedy recovery. "Miss" Kathryn found her goldfish dead today. Isn't that too bad!

Third Grade

We have a new pupil, Larry McBride, from Unionville School. We are 50 in number now. We enjoyed our holiday from school work. We read a story about why we had the holiday.

We wish to thank the PTA for the money given to the 3rd grade for having the largest percent of parents of any grade in school to join the PTA this year. We shall use this money to a good advantage. Thanks!

We, too, have started reading the new book "Adventuring with Pioneers." First we had to learn what pioneer meant, but now that we know we are enjoying the book.

We sang Happy Birthday Monday to Robert Meeks, Jr.

We had 28 to attend Sunday School last Sunday.

Those who made trips over the weekend were Warren Nunn to Nashville. He visited the capitol building and The Hermitage.

David Davis went to Pickwick Dam. Mary Pulkstenis went to Mico. (Continued on Page 8)

Constitutional Convention Loses

NASHVILLE — The proposal for a limited constitutional convention — Tennessee's 12th attempt at constitutional revision since 1870 — was defeated by more than 3100 votes in last Tuesday's referendum, a tabulation of official returns showed Monday night.

The actual result of the nip-and-tuck vote finally was conclusively revealed by official canvases of returns.

Twenty-five county election commissions had mailed, wired or telephoned their county returns to the secretary of state's office and others were obtained in the counties by on-the-scene correspondents.

Sullivan Last In
Last county to report was Sullivan in East Tennessee. An official tabulation of the official returns from the 95 counties — a total of 2289 precincts — gave this vote:

AGAINST . . . . . 65,603
FOR . . . . . 62,476

The defeat shattered the hopes of revisionists pending another session of the Legislature. The next regular session opens in January, 1951.

DID YOU LOSE IT?

Postmaster Jack Shannon says he has found some youngsters football in the lobby of the post office. Did you lose it? You may get it by going to the post office and claiming it from Mr. Shannon.

Urges Strawberry Growing in County

F. H. Paschal
County Agent

Jim Meeks of Double Bridges Community has a quarter of an acre of strawberries which should bear watching this next spring. This plot on a level spot of good soil has received mixed fertilizer this summer at the rate of 4000 pounds per acre. The berries are absolutely clean and they really look green, slick and vigorously new. We want to see how many berries this plot will make.

Lauderdale was once a leading strawberry county in the United States. We could now produce and sell a million dollars worth per year without effecting materially the production of any other crops or livestock. Interested strawberry and sweet potato growers and orchardists will have opportunity to get some really good information of a very practical nature at a meeting of the Tennessee Horticulture Society which will meet at Jackson on December 1 and 2.

On the program will appear Knox T. Hutchinson, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, Dr. Julian C. Miller, famous breeder of sweet potatoes of the University of Louisiana, and a number of research men and highly successful growers of fruits and vegetables from various parts over the Nation. Many Lauderdale growers should attend this meeting.

Community Organizations Effective

Miss Livingston and I judged four organized communities in Dyer County last week which are entered in the West Tennessee Community Improvement Contest. We were impressed and as we have been here that when the people of a community organize themselves and work together they can really improve their communities in a wonderful way.

One man in an organized community recently stated that he had decided to move away from his community until they organized and began making improvements and that he now believed he could not bring his family up in a better place.

Organized communities are better able to get electricity, telephone service, better roads, better schools and to build and improve community institutions such as churches, cemeteries, locker plants and other facilities which make the communities a better place in which to live.

We hope that Edith, Nankipoo, Asbury, Central and other rural communities will organize this winter and enter the West Tennessee Community Improvement contest, and that the people will work together to improve those communities in the same fine way Hurricane Hill and Durhamville-Orysa have done in the last two years.

More Rural Telephone

A greatly expanded rural telephone service is expected to become available to Tennessee farm families as a result of the rural telephone amendment to the Rural Electrification Act, recently passed by Congress.

Lauderdale County farm families want more and better telephones. Farmers need telephones more than city people, because they are further away from sources of supply and from each other. They are further away from doctors and county officials.

Farm Bureau Important

The State Farm Bureau Convention held in Nashville this week was important to all the business and professional people as well as the farmers of this whole area.

Representing 40,000 farm families over the state, the leaders in Nashville this week made decisions and plans which will effect the welfare of every person in Tennessee, because our economy here is absolutely geared to the spendable income which farm families are allowed to retain for goods they create and manufacture on the farms in this section.

The leadership of the Farm Bureau is selected by the most democratic method known, and it represents the best minds and character in the most progressive farm families of the state. This leadership, for the most part, is made up of the same fine stock which built this Nation. They are not radicals. Not a one has ever been suspected of subscribing to any Communistic philosophy. They believe in orderly process of government but they do want a fair share of the Nation's income for farm families.

GREEN FIELDS HELP POINT UP AUTUMN COLORS

The Sunday afternoon drive in the family automobile can afford extra pleasure this fall because of the greater number of green areas in the panorama, say U-T Extension specialists. More fields have been seeded to cover and pasture crops than ever before, which not only signify good farming plans, but which also beautify the landscape, it is pointed out.

For those who enjoy "games" as they ride along, specialists suggest that a count be made of green fields which formerly were brown at this time of year.

Locating the water heater near faucets that will be used most will save heating costs, say U-T Extension specialists.

First World School Is In Copenhagen, Honors Bernadotte

COPENHAGEN—Children lately began attending what is believed to be the first real "world school" which opened in Copenhagen recently. It is called the Bernadotte school, after the late Paestine mediator.

It aims at "training children to meet the needs of social life within their own country and qualify them to become active members of a world community."

Some 270 pupils attended the school on its opening day. They came from Britain, Bulgaria, Denmark, France, the Netherlands, China, Spain, Sweden, Czechoslovakia, the United States, Poland and South Africa.

Their parents are embassy officials, doctors, reporters and other professional and businessmen resident in Scandinavia. More than 200 other children were placed on a steadily growing waiting list.

The idea for starting such a school was born three years ago, in the fall of 1946, when G. J. Arvin, principal of the Danish Teachers College, wrote an article entitled "The Danish School of Tomorrow" in a Danish educational journal. It was read by Mrs. Mary Stewart, widow of a United States professor, and she was profoundly impressed by it.

On Sept. 18, 1947, 600 persons from countries all over the world attended a meeting to discuss the idea and 400 children were informally registered as prospective pupils if, and when, the school opened.

For the next two years, preparations went ahead to find funds and teachers for the school. Funds were the main problem. But money was found and progress was made.

He said in an interview that the school, which is co-educational, would aim above all at a broad international culture. He said he hoped that the students and teachers of the Bernadotte school would be able to collaborate with other similar schools now being founded in Britain and the United States.

The school is open to children of all nationalities, regardless of race, religion or economic level.

Pork Liver for Thrifty Dinner

"EAT liver at least once a week," advise nutritionists. That's a pleasure as well as purse-saving when liver comes to table baked in a savory pork liver loaf. Pork liver is the thriftest kind and it is very rich in nutrition. Ground and baked with savory seasonings, this loaf has extra appeal, presents liver in an intriguing new dish for your family.

Best of all, this loaf is equally good hot or cold, so that you have a second-day harvest of liver loaf slices for lunchbox or school lunch sandwiches once the liver has made its bow as dinner's main dish. Served as the loaf is in the picture with whole potatoes cream-sauged and carrots, a cool weather meal is complete. Since pork is in supply in the third largest quantity on record at your market, you will find economical pork liver widely available at this time.

|-------------------------------|--------------------------|
| 1 pound pork liver            | 2 cups soft bread crumbs |
| 3 slices of bacon             | 2 eggs, slightly beaten  |
| 1 medium onion                | 1 1/2 teaspoons salt     |
| 2 tablespoons chopped parsley | 1/2 teaspoon pepper      |
| 1 cup diced celery            | 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard |
| 1/2 cup chili sauce           |                          |

Place liver in hot water for 10 minutes; drain. Put liver, bacon and onion through food chopper, using coarse blade. Add parsley, celery, chili sauce, crumbs, eggs, salt, pepper and dry mustard. Pack firmly in loaf pan 8x4x2 1/2 inches. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 1 hour. Serve hot or cold. Yield: 6 servings.

HOME HEATING COSTS REDUCED BY INSULATION

One of the important considerations in reducing housing costs for farm families is insulation of new houses, and old ones where possible, say specialists of the U-T Agricultural Extension Service.

Full thick insulation between wall members and between overhead joists or rafters in the roof cuts cost in many ways. Among other advantages offered by insulation are:

- Makes it possible to install a smaller, less expensive heating unit.
- Maintains steadier, healthier indoor temperatures, reduces "cold spots" along walls and floors; keeps house cooler in summer.
- Furnishes fire protection, prevents between-wall drafts, gives vermin protection; and increases sound-proof qualities of the house.

'Music Hath Charms' Is Believed by One SPCA

LOS ANGELES—They never had it so good, the poor creatures that human beings are apt to treat cruelly. In this city they are being showered with luxury. Soft music greets the ears of the inmates of the new animal shelter of the Los Angeles Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

The shelter also includes bunk beds, a diet kitchen and germicidal lamps. And a drinking fountain which dispense fresh water to dogs on the street outside is labeled a "dog bar."

"Organ music is best suited for the dogs," said Alex Tilley, general manager of the society. "The selection must not hit high C or the dogs will begin howling. And Be-Bop—well, that's out, too."

Discovery of Ancient Chest Spurs Another Treasure Hunt

MANTOLOKING, N. J.—News of the finding of an ancient treasure chest containing 18th century English gold coin and jewelry sent amateur prospectors searching sands along the Atlantic coast recently.

The surf-battered chest, discovered by Joseph Dowling Jr., 12 years old, of Philadelphia, has released clusters of English guineas and half-guineas of 1789, covered over in crude mortar, as well as mortar-encrusted rings, gold buckles and cufflinks.

Police Chief J. Harrison Herbert is firmly convinced the coins represent a pirate hoard and says he is bolstered in the opinion by the fact that an English pirate ship, the Thistle was lost near Manasquan Inlet, near-by, in 1813. The chief also was convinced that the coins were quite legitimate after sending two of them to the Chase national bank in New York for analysis.

Young Dowling, finder of the chest, found it too heavy to handle and called for help from A. S. Bladgen of Easton, Pa., and his son. They pulled the chest ashore and lifted out its weather-soaked contents. Gold buckles, cuff links, rings and the ancient coins were exposed to the bright sun when the rough substance covering them was chipped away. The three divided the find, and on Sunday evening returned to their homes. A few of the coins were left with local authorities.

Chief Herbert donned rubber boots and joined a crowd of treasure hunters who waded into the ocean. He came ashore later with two bars of metal covered with mortar but without any other prize. Another searcher, Mrs. Elizabeth Earle, was more fortunate. She found a clump of mortar which, when broken up, revealed a dozen rings, which appeared to be gold.

Chief Herbert said the original find had been split three ways. Young Dowling went home with more than ninety coins, buckles and rings. Bladgen and his son also had their pockets stuffed.

MANY ADVANTAGES IN BUTTON CLOVER

Buttunclover has many uses on the farm, when it is managed according to its known habits, as shown by tests made of the U-T Agricultural Experiment Station.

Buttunclover is one of the most palatable winter pasture plants, it is pointed out. It has a longer grazing season than crimson clover, and on productive land it surpasses crimson clover in yield of dry matter.

Research Plan Opens New Fight On Schizophrenia

NEW YORK—A comprehensive research program and important new discoveries are helping mankind's conquest of schizophrenia. Details have been made public by Dr. Nolan D. C. Lewis, field director of the study of the mental ailment being made by the supreme council of the Scottish Rites Masons at a cost of $750,000.

This all-inclusive study, believed to be the first of its kind, was summed up by Dr. Lewis as offering "many of the missing pieces of the puzzle that is schizophrenia."

"This disorder known as schizophrenia is like a gigantic jigsaw puzzle with pieces missing," he said. "However, many of them have been found and fitted together and the missing ones are becoming fewer."

Study Infants

The researchers struck at schizophrenia from all possible directions. They studied the infant, the nursery school child, the adolescent and the aged. They looked at the parents, especially the mothers, of schizophrenics, and at the children of psychotic parents. They tried to find the answer to the question: "What type of person is likely to succumb to schizophrenia?"

They studied the effect of physical treatment, such as shock and insulin on patients, and of psychological treatment, such as group therapy. They analyzed what bodily changes took place during the illness.

These projects, plus the 226 articles, monographs and books that the money helped to finance, were described as representing a program that isolated the illness and "brought all the principal issues involved into a clear focus."

The seriousness of this illness is shown, by the fact that "in the civilian population each year thousands of unsuspecting souls are struck down suddenly by the living death known as schizophrenia, which is particularly cruel because its victims are often children and adolescents."

Terrifying Thought

The mentally ill now occupy more than 50 per cent of the nation's hospital beds and schizophrenia accounts for the largest percentage of those who are mentally ill, he pointed out.

"It is terrifying that we have been able to predict that next year so many thousands of persons will start their weary march to the mental hospitals and that we are powerless to halt them and in most cases to help them."

"We have not known why certain people break down in the struggle to survive in this uncertain world—why they must literally 'go out of their wits' to escape its pain."

The groundwork for the program was laid down fifteen years ago by Dr. Lewis, who visited more than 200 laboratories, hospitals and other scientific centers and read hundreds of scientific papers, after which he wrote a book called "Research in Dementia Praecox" (now known as schizophrenia).

Lost: Three Acres Land In Bridgewater Township

SOMERVILLE, N. J. — Three acres of land are lost on either First Mountain or Second Mountain of the Watchung range, officials of Bridgewater township believe. Taxes are paid on the plot every year, although no one knows where it is.

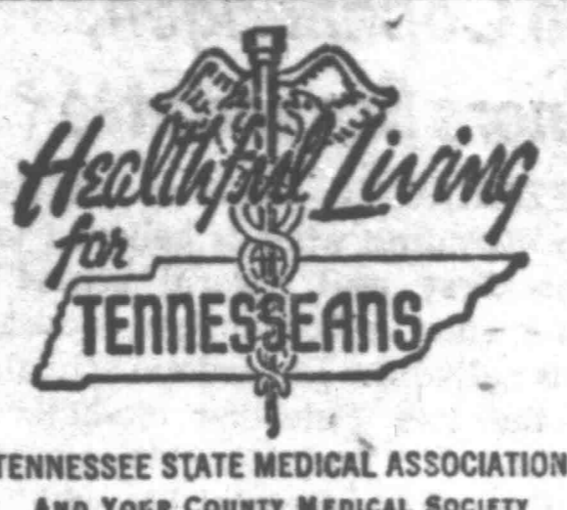

William H. Cunningham, township engineer, dug up an old description that seemed to indicate that the Shangri-La might be part of the old Teebles property.

"Trouble is," he said, "that the Teebles departed long ago, leaving no heirs, assigns or successors. The Teebles were one of the old first families around here and they had quite a large holding. This three acres was probably part of it, but we don't know which part. Can't seem to find out, either."

Nominal taxes have been paid on the three acres for the last forty-one years and the present owners are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mills of Astoria, L. I. They started the Bridgewater Township committee on a search for the land by saying that they would like to look at it after all these years.

James J. Cunningham, tax collector for the township, said his records showed that the property was owned by Walter Martini, care of Mrs. E. Mills, Astoria. Collector Cunningham, unrelated to Engineer Cunningham, said Mr. Martini was the first husband of the present Mrs. Mills. The tract measures 100 by 1,400 feet, but the deed gives no "place of beginning." The deed was executed in 1908.

For the last few years the township has been trying to get up a tax map, without making much headway. If the missing three acres is not located by the time the map is finished, it may turn up purely through the elimination of identified property. Collector Cunningham said that might take a long time, though. He expects to continue levying taxes on the land while he tries to find it.

INSULIN

Insulin is a life saver for countless diabetics. Despite its widespread use for the control of diabetes, many misconceptions exist about insulin and its effects.

It is estimated that 75 percent of all adult diabetics can have their diabetes controlled without insulin. For these people the physician can control the disease by weight reduction for the obese, exercise and strict diet control.

Insulin does not cure diabetes, neither does it make it more severe.

Neither is it true that patients who require insulin may discontinue the insulin after a temporary course of treatment.

The amount of insulin required in a given case depends largely on the severity of the disease, the food intake, the exercise and energy requirements of the patient.

The underweight adult diabetic and the diabetic child require insulin in order that enough food can be taken to increase weight and maintain normal health otherwise.

A fine balance between the insulin dosage and the food intake must be maintained at all times. The patient must not be given more insulin than he needs, yet life is endangered when the patient is given less insulin than he needs.

Until the discovery of insulin, the diabetic was condemned to an early death. Today, thousands of diabetics live otherwise normal lives with practicality as much life expectancy as others.

GOOD FEEDING OF COWS URGED AFTER CALVING

Keeping high-producing cows well fed after calving is believed to be one of the best preventatives of acetonemia, say U-T Extension Service dairy specialists.

Acetonemia, easily confused with milk fever may occur directly after calving, or at any time during the lactation period. It seems that cows from the third calving on are more subject to this ailment than others, but heifers with first calves occasionally are affected. The cause of the ailment is unknown, but it is generally believed to be rapid breakdown of fat in the body when the cow is getting sufficient feed.

Animals suffering from this condition may have a wild expression, become nervous, fall down and be unable to rise. It is important, specialists emphasize, to have an accurate diagnosis before treatment is administered.

HIGH ANALYSIS GOOD BARGAIN IN FERTILIZER

Tennessee farmers could save thousands of dollars in their fertilizer purchases next year by buying only high analysis fertilizer, say farm management specialists of the U-T Agricultural Extension Service.

High analysis mixed fertilizers are generally cheaper per pound of plant food than low analysis mixed goods, according to the 1948 farm records of 129 farmers in 26 counties of Tennessee. The study also showed that even low analysis straight goods, fertilizers containing only one element of plant food, are cheaper per pound of plant food than the highest analysis of mixed fertilizer.

The report showed that these 129 farmers used more than twice as much 3-6-9 fertilizer than any other analysis, prices of which ran higher when purchased in less than ton lots.

However, in addition to buying in lots of a ton or more, farmers could have saved money by buying 4-12-8 instead of 3-6-9 fertilizer. There was little difference in the cost per hundred pounds; but 1,500 pounds of 4-12-8 fertilizer gives as much actual plant food as a ton of 3-6-9.

By buying the higher grades of fertilizer, therefore, farmers can save considerable money, even on lots of a few tons. Another advantage is that there is less tonnage to handle when only high analysis goods are used.

Sunday School Lesson

By Walter C. Davis, D. D., Tennessee School of Religion, University of Tennessee
(Isaiah 55:1-11)

"THIRSTING FOR GOD"

Turn now to your Bible and read the lesson assigned before reading this article.

God's gifts lie all around us, and they are free. We must search to find the true life, and that costs everything we have. In this paradox lies the gem of truth taught in this lesson.

Before me is a picture and a story of a modern Moslem water carrier who packs his goatskin "tank" and sells water on the streets of the city. From the earliest times this has been followed for a livelihood in Bible lands. Then contrast this cry, "Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money, buy wine and milk without money and without price."

This chapter describes life as thirsty, hungry — not life in its truest sense. It closes with a picture of life in a garden of rest and fruitfulness. We find this true life in "the everlasting covenant."

Written in captivity, this shows the worth of the individual. It shows that even in captivity the soul may be free, may find God and peace.

"Seek ye the Lord while he may be found." Does God ever hide? No. He is always offering His love. As Luther said, "There is never a time when God withholds His love." If He does not seem near, it is because we have permitted things to come between us and Him. A Scottish friend took Dr. J. H. Jowett to his yard and pointed out the castle on the hill. He explained, "In summer when the growth is luxuriant the castle is hidden. Only in winter when the leaves have fallen can we see it." In lush days we may not be able to see that "home of the soul," but when winter comes and privations are endured it comes into view again.

"As the heavens are higher than the earth..." It is as if God would take us up on a mountain and show us the higher view of life. We need that far-away look on life. We need to follow its way as it winds over hill and valley, to know that the way is ever onward and upward, and that God is with us all the way.

Did you ever start to find the foot of the rainbow? I have. It seemed to rest right over there in the tangled underbrush along the creek. I would find there the pot of gold. So life is ever elusive. Someone asked Mr. J. P. Morgan how much wealth it would take to satisfy a man's cravings. He answered, "Just a little more." That is it. It is always just a little more. One of our government economists has looked into the future and pictured an era of great advancement and great wealth.

The great American orator and statesman, Daniel Webster, made it a habit to read Isaiah just before pleading his case to a jury or making a public address. It lifted up his soul, enabled his thought, gave right preparation. One of his favorite passages was this Chapter 55. It always helps us to weigh life right if we put ourselves in the presence of the eternal God.

CROP Food Reaches Orphans Overseas

These three orphans are part of a group of 41,000 children being fed in a sector of Western Germany with food contributed by America's farm people through the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP).

CROP is now shipping food to orphans, widows, the aged, and many others in great need, as fast as farm commodities are collected in America. A total of 35 states, including this one, are conducting campaigns to fill Friendship Food trains. Over 100,000 persons have volunteered their services to canvass for food from farm to farm.

A national goal of 3500 carloads of food has been set by CROP's sponsors: Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service (22 denominations), and Lutheran World Relief.

GREEN COVER GUARDS SOIL AGAINST RAIN

Green fields are appearing throughout Tennessee, covered with small grains, winter legumes, etc.; and the value of this cover in preventing erosion hardly can be over-emphasized, say U-T agronomists.

During even a moderate rain, the impact and splattering of drops on bare soil will beat a compact layer on the surface which becomes a hard crust on drying. Soils covered with growing crops, sod, or an abundance of dead crop residues are protected from this rain bombardment.

The blasting of soil particles by rain drops is usually the first step in erosion. Once the soil particles are detached from the surface by splattering, they can be carried away readily by run-off water. This is the reason that water coming from bare fields is usually muddy, while water from covered fields is usually clear. Thus, any kind of cover that will break up the force of rain drops is better than no cover.

Freezing and thawing during the winter tends to break up large clods and to make soils more porous. Unless the soil has some kind of cover, however, the next rain will again compact the soil. If it is a heavy rain, erosion is almost sure to follow.

Green cover not only affords this protection against erosion; it adds organic matter to the soil, and provides feed and storage.

HOG PURCHASE PLAN STRESSES HIGH QUALITY

Maybe it won't be long until farmers selling high quality hogs will get a premium price, says J. S. Robinson, U-T Extension livestock specialist. An experiment in such marketing has already started and is expected to spread throughout the state, Robinson says.

Heretofore, weight has been a major standard in the purchase of hogs. But it is quite possible—and frequently happens—that two hogs of similar weights differ greatly in the amount of good meat they yield. One may cut out a high percentage of lean meat, while the other may have a high percentage of fat or lard. Since there is a big difference in prices the packer gets for lard and lean meat, buying by weight standard alone does not give proper differential to farmers selling high-quality hogs.

Packers are willing to pay more for good hogs, the type that yield more good meat, Robinson points out. Accordingly, the move has started to buy on a live hog graded basis. First such purchase in Tennessee was made last week at Union City, where a packer paid 50 cents per hundred more for Choice No. 1 and 2 hogs. Other grades brought the current market price.

This program, specialists point out, will reward producers who pay sanitation, feeding, breeding, management, etc., to produce high quality meat animals

Sea Temperature May Affect Food Supplies of Man

LA JOLLA, CALIF.—Ocean temperatures are the present concern of oceanographers. The Scripps Institution of Oceanography here has begun a project of plotting undersea temperatures that may continue for generations. The ocean is no longer simply of academic interest to zoologists and biologists. Lately it has become interesting as a future source of chemicals and food substances. Oceanographers have done a lot of charting and studying of static features of oceans, such as depth, terrain and major currents. But they admit the vast lack of knowledge of detailed matters—for instance, the interaction of ocean waters and the air above and periodic changes in temperature at different locations, depths and times. These are probably critical factors in phenomena, such as marine life.

Large Scale Project To fill in the extensive void in knowledge about ocean temperatures, the Scripps Institution, a branch of the University of California at Los Angeles, has expanded rudimentary wartime observations made for the Navy into a large-scale project of plotting heat variations throughout the Pacific and Indian Oceans.

Since temperatures not only at the surface but at every level are significant, since the average depth of the earth's oceans is estimated at three miles, and since temperatures may change from hour to hour, very many observations might be taken at a single point. Since the area covered in the Scripps survey is about 100,000,000 square miles, it will be a long time before even superficial observations can be completed.

The bathythermograph Complicating the task is the fact that scientific temperature readings cannot be taken just by dunking a thermometer on a string. Oceanographers use a bathythermograph, a brass cylinder about a yard long weighing about thirty pounds. It contains apparatus that records temperature, as the cylinder is lowered on a cable, by a stylus scratch across a smoked-glass plate one inch by two inches. In the laboratory these plates, marked with the location, date and time, are photographed through a grid that measures the scratch. The result is a graph of the temperature variation at different depths at one point.

The areas on which studies are concentrated at present are in the Aleutian Islands region, the stretch between California and Hawaii, and between Hawaii and the South Pacific Islands—shipping and fishing zones where temperature data may help analysis of weather and marine life.

Tennessee Outdoors

Louis S. Clapper State Game & Fish Commission

The State Game & Fish Commission reminds that it is illegal to attempt to take or kill wildlife by pitfalls, deadfalls, snares, nets, salticks, gas, poisons or explosives.

Fishermen outnumber the hunters in Tennessee due in part to the "Great Lakes of the South," but the situation isn't typical of all parts of the nation. In fact, a study reveals that there are 17,000,000 people who use firearms for sport in the U. S. More than 60 percent of the nimrods started using firearms before they were 20 years old and another 20 percent began shortly after their 20th birthday. As expected, the percentage of hunters per population is greater in the small town-rural areas though there are nearly as many city folks in the field. With an emphasis on youth adding more hunters to the list, the game pressure will be even greater in the future.

A number of conclusions can be drawn from these figures, not the least important of which is the military value of young marksmen.

Squirrels are doing some unusual things these days. At Memphis in a park tree, a band of bees invaded a squirrel den. Things were lively at first but the strange bedfellows seem to be getting along well now, one group on one side of the tree and the other on the other side just like in a duplex. Wonder how acorns and honey taste? Then down at Columbia, W. D. Hastings has located a true albino squirrel. As far as anyone knows there isn't a breed of white squirrels but near Kenton in West Tennessee a group of albinos live in a colony.

It seems Tennessee's Kentucky Lake is becoming even more renowned, for hunting as well as fishing. Stan Musial and Red Schoendienst, outstanding baseballers with the St. Louis Cardinals, will hunt ducks on the lake as guests of Paul Daly, of Paris. They will stay at the Clyde Scarborough cabin on Cypress Creek in Tenn.

Farmers and hunters should think twice before drawing a bead on hawks and owls. The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service reports that mice have, in extreme cases, destroyed as much as 50 percent of the corn shocked in fields and 75 percent of the alfalfa. Often, the small damage hawks and owls cause to poultry flocks is outweighed by their usefulness in checking the spread of rodents. As a matter of fact, only the Cooper's Hawk, Sharp-shinned Hawk and Great-horned Owl are not protected by law.

ments to me this summer that they do not intend to buy and store any more fertilizer before they are ready to use it. I sympathize with their attitude, but the facts of the situation do not justify their depending on getting just the fertilizer they want, at the price they want it and when they want it. Fertilizer plants must operate around the clock and every month during the year. The ammonium nitrate that is being manufactured now and which cannot be sold will be put in storage and sold at higher prices next spring. Sulphate of ammonia which is a by-product of the manufacture of steel has been out of production for several weeks now. Farmers will use more than 2 1-2 times as much fertilizer as they used in 1942.

Don't Forget To Meet Your Friends at PERRY'S 10c STORE

Halls, Tennessee We're Always Glad To Have You

All these facts make it uncertain that we can get just what we want, when we want it, at the present prices, next spring. It seems advisable to buy nitrate fertilizers now. Fertilizers do not "cake" badly during cold weather and a plentiful supply of really good fertilizer can make the outlook for high yields next year much brighter.

Aged Resident Died Thursday

Services for Mrs. Lucy Spry, who died at her home here Thursday, were held at 2 Friday afternoon at Halls Methodist Church. The Rev. W. F. Maxedon officiated. Burial was in Sudbury Cemetery in Friendship, Tenn., with Sudbury Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Spry, who was 83, had been ill about a week. Born in Murfreesboro, she moved to Halls about 20 years ago. She was a member of the Halls Methodist Church.

She leaves three sons, Chester and Ollie Spry of Halls, and Stokely Spry of Brownsville, Tenn., and a sister, Mrs. Lyda Herron of Nashville.

County Receives School Money

County and city school systems throughout Tennessee today are receiving state aid school checks amounting to $12,525,093 as compared with $8,442,607 last November.

This installment is the second of approximately one-third of the amounts the county and city systems will receive this school year for teacher salaries, transportation, and general expense. The amounts for capital outlay will be sent out by the state in January.

Lauderdale County schools will receive $130,000 in the November installment as compared with $82,600.00 last year, according to figures released today by figures released today by State Commissioner of Education J. M. Smith.

We are hoping we will all get to see the show "The Wizard of Oz."

We were studying about chipmunks in our English last week, we learned a poem about "Charlie Chipmunk" and what do you know — on that very day there a real little chipmunk in our school. Mr. Axford Pickens sent one to the first grade in a cage by his son, Axford, Jr., and they shared it with us, and we're excited to see something real that we were studying about.

Fourth Grade We enjoyed our holiday Friday, Nov. 11th, in various ways. Harry Wright, Lorelle Rainey, and Joyce Cannon were in Dyersburg to see the Armistice Day Parade. Larry Cooper spent the day at his farm. Evelyn Smith and Sonny Woodley spent the day with their grandparents.

Those celebrating their ninth birthdays this week are Buddy Murchison, Betty Vaughn, Ray and Fay Garrison. We sang "Happy Birthday" to them.

We are looking forward to the "Yo-Yo" contest Friday morning.

Dr. J. G. Olds made the fourth graders very happy Monday when he told them about his hunting trip in Idaho. We all had to touch the deer head and ask many questions. Thanks, Dr. Olds, for an interesting and educational talk. We hope you will come to see us again soon.

We are observing this week as "Children's Book Week" by sharing our favorite books with each other and by making slogans to be placed near the books in our room library to remind readers how to use them properly.

Fifth Grade We are proud of our boys and girls who are entering the "Yo-Yo" contest and hope that some of us will win. Two of our boys, Johnny Griffith and George Castleman, won prizes in a "Yo-Yo" contest uptown last Thursday afternoon.

We want to thank Billy Wayne Lindsey and Dennis Davis for putting the November calendar on our blackboard and for coloring it so beautifully.

The class has bought four puzzles of the United States and as we put them together we learned more of the New England and Middle Atlantic States which we are studying.

Sixth Grade We enjoyed our holiday Friday. Happy Birthday, Wayne Forsythe! We had 30 to attend Sunday School Sunday.

In English we are studying the noun uses. In Literature we are learning "A Boy and His Stomach" by Edgar A. Guest.

Bobby Reece reported that he enjoyed his trip to New Orleans. He went to the cathedral and also to a museum.

Seventh Grade We're glad to have Ruth Ann Hudson back from Texas.

We are glad to know that we shall have a "Yo-Yo" contest. Several have entered from the grade. We are glad we have started diagraming in English.

We were glad to get out of school Friday on account of Victory Day.

We are happy to have a new pupil, Betty Jean Jacobs — this makes our enrollment 46.

We enjoyed the negro minstrel at the Grammar School Tuesday night. Sickness has kept many of our pupils out of school. Most of our pupils are back from cotton picking.

Happy Birthday to John Morris Hall!

Hello, folks, here we are again! We are sponsoring a "Yo-Yo" contest Friday morning. Be sure to come. The admission is only a dime for adults.

The eighth grade class received the PTA picture for this month.

We hope that all parents will come so that we will have a chance to win again! Thanks, parents!

We received our Christmas cards last Monday. They really are beautiful. We hope that all of you will be able to buy some.

We enjoyed our holiday Friday. We were proud of Everett Agee for winning the "Cheerio Yo-Yo Contest" sponsored by the makers of the Cheerio Yo-Yo. You'll be hearing from us again next week.

When You Are A Pedestrian, Remember —

Darkness greatly increases danger for pedestrians. Almost three-fourths of the pedestrians killed in accidents between 5 and 8 p. m., are killed during the season when these hours are dark.

Fifty-five percent of the pedestrians killed in cities were using the roadway between intersection. On the basis of weight and strength, the pedestrian is so outclassed by any car that strikes him that his chances of avoiding death is slim, and his chances of avoiding injury are practically non-existent.

The great majority of pedestrians injured are violating a definite regulation designed to save their lives.

When You Are A Motorist, Remember —

Don't confuse the pedestrian by blowing your horn impatiently or rushing at him with your car. SLOW DOWN. A large percentage of pedestrian accident victims are non-drivers. They do not realize the limitations of your car or the stopping distance required to avoid them.

Be prepared to give every pedestrian a break... and a brake. Children are often unpredictable when playing near, or crossing a street. Older people have slower reactions. They cannot move quickly and may not be able to see clearly. Always be courteous. Your drivers license is a privilege, not a right. The pedestrian is no match for your car. Right or wrong give the pedestrian the right of way. Observe all signs and signals and cross-walk markings. —Slow down at Sundown— Patronize our advertisers.

(Continued from Page 1) Usually the people in the community meet together in daytime for three or four hours during which time they eat dinner together or meet together at night when they all bring supper and enjoy a picnic lunch together. Still other communities have wonderful meetings without eating together. The general idea of a community organization is to bring together and co-ordinate the activities of all the organizations already working in the community, such as the P. T. A., the Farm Bureau, the Home Demonstration Clubs, the 4-H Club, and other organizations. Experience has shown that in this manner the community can best decide on the greatest needs and most effectively work toward meeting those needs. Obion County has about 21 organized communities, Henry has 26, Madison has 15, Crockett has 11, and Lauderdale has only 2. We believe Lauderdale can do anything any of these other counties can do and do it better. We hope community leaders will consider this idea and talk it over with others in their communities and that we will have more communities organized this winter for community improvement.

We had such an exciting time at the Yo-Yo Contest. Those taking part in the contest from our room were "Inky" Ferry, Buddy Murchison, Tommy McGarrity, Jerry Smith, Donald Ray Cleek and James Goodwin.

We are having our pictures made this week and there are Thanksgiving holidays too!

We have made our room cheerful with colorful drawings of turkeys, baskets of fruit, Thanksgiving posters, and a frieze depicting the Thanksgiving story.

Fifth Grade We have been busy as bees this week trying to get through our tests so that we can enjoy "Turkey Day".

Betty Jackson won a prize for our grade in the yo-yo contest Friday. Hurrah for Betty!

We thank Mrs. Green, Mrs. McCorkle's mother, for the interesting talk about her trip to Canada. We enjoyed her visit to our room so much.

Sixth Grade We are proud to have two new pupils, Marilyn and Carolyn Carter, from Brinkley, Arkansas.

We would like to thank Mrs. McCorkle for our new Bible which we appreciate very much and are enjoying using so much. Thanks, approximately 70,000 farm ten- in Tennessee will be consid- within the next month or two e and under what terms they farm next year.

SEVEN FACTS URGED FOR OWNERS, TENANTS

the same time, a similar num- of farm owners will be decid- who will operate or help work farms and under what agree- ts.

o both tenant and owner, U-T- ension farm management spec- ts offer this advice: Reach an- able agreement and "put it- riting" as soon as possible.

ritten agreements, with cop- available to both parties, tend- educe the number of misconstandings, specialists point out. From the profit standpoint, writ- ten agreements enable farmers to undertake improvement programs and keep the farm's operation system on a sound and continuing basis. Moving is expensive to both landowner and tenant in one way or another.

Draw up an agreement as soon as possible, specialists advise, so that plans for the coming year can be made and put into effect on time.

Any rental agreement should be clear regarding: description of property rented, including build- ings; length of lease; rental rates; or shares of crops and livestock; farm operation, as to labor, work- stock and equipment, crop production cost, livestock cost, re- cords to be kept, method of fam- ing, etc. If there is participation in governmental agricultural pro- grams, sharing of expenses and benefits should be clearly stated. County agents can supply bu- lets and other helps on good farm lease agreements.

HOME ECONOMICS STUDENTS URGED TO BOOST HOMES

Better homes week, scheduled in the spring, will afford an oppor- tunity for girls home from college to put to use some of their know- ledge of the science of homemak- ing, say home management spec- ialists of the U-T Agricultural Extension Service.

Family planning for improved living should include every mem- ber of the family, especially the college girl, specialists point out. In her study of the science of homemaking, she is learning a- bout improvements that can con- tribute most to better family liv- ing. It will help her if she can pass on the benefits of her train- ing to her family, and other fam- ilies of the community.

Better homes week for better living will be observed about the time girls are returning home from the summer. Thus the college girl can give talks and demonstrations on better homes in club and com- munity meetings. Sharing her ideas will demonstrate the kind of practical training the girls are getting in home economics work in college.

Home improvement is one of the most important phases of com- munity improvement centers in- throughout Tennessee. Both fam- ilies and communities are urged to take advantage of the help a- vailable from their young people.

LAKES NEED FERTILIZER FOR BETTER FISHING

Fish don't bite every day in a well fertilized lake, but they do bite better than ordinary, say U-T Extension agricultural engineers.

Furthermore, bream and bass grow larger in a well managed and properly stocked farm lakes. Us- ually 1,000 bream and 100 bass per acre of water surface is the maximum when stocking new lakes the engineers say. The lake should be fertilized when first filled. A- bout 100 pounds of 8-8-4 fertili- zer per acre should be added ev- ery week or 10 days for three or four applications, or until the water has a strong blue-green color. Weeds should be cleared from the shore line because they take up fertili- zer and are a nuisance to the fisherman.

Some 1,700 farm lakes and ponds have been stocked since 1945 by farmers making applica- tions through their county agents. Applications now run about 450 per year. Information on stocking fish can be obtained from county agents.

Drive Carefully, Live Longer

Statistics prove that three out of five fatal accidents happen at night, according to Mr. R. M. Crichton, President of the Tennes- see Motor Transport Association. During the holiday season, heavy traffic plus poor visibility and slippery road conditions cause a sharp increase in evening acci- dents, so it is because of that the trucking industry is placing such emphasis on caution during the coming holiday seasons.

The inclement weather, plus the increase in vehicular and pedestrian traffic makes for increased traffic hazards during the winter months and especially during the coming holidays. The streets will soon be crowded with busy and thoughtless shoppers so it is up to the average motorist as well as the professional truck driver to be constantly on the alert when driv- ing in the downtown sections, Mr. Crichton said.

According to recent statistics, three out of four pedestrians killed by a motor vehicle are either violating a traffic law or taking unnecessary chances. Cross- ing against the lights or in the middle of the block causes a high percentage of pedestrian deaths in the cities, and especially at this time of year.

While in the country, walking with the traffic flow and wearing dark clothes at night or in the early hours of the evening may result in many otherwise avoidable deaths. The professional over-the- road driver is constantly alert for these pedestrians as he is for the "holiday driver." A "holiday driver" is one who may have had a little too much holiday festivity or have a car full of frolicking pas- sengers and may not have his mind on his driving.

At best, the cards are stacked against you while driving in the winter. Why not take a tip from the professional truck driver and stay alert so that you will have a better chance to stay alive.

If Eve Could See It Now

The apple has come a long way since the day it caused such havoc in Eden. It is more tempting than ever, for it is much more versatile—countless ways to serve this delectable fruit have been dreamed up by modern Eve.

Deep-Dish Apple Tapioca

- 3 cups hot water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 1/2 cups sliced tart apples
1/2 cup quick-cooking tapioca
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
3 tablespoons butter

Add water and lemon juice to apples in greased baking dish. Bake, covered, in moderate oven (375° F.) 15 minutes, or until apples are partially cooked. Add remaining ingredients, mixing thoroughly. Continue baking 30 minutes. Stir well after 5 minutes, then stir every 10 minutes, and again when removing from oven. Serve warm or cold with Butterscotch Hard Sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Butterscotch Hard Sauce: Cream 1/2 cup butter or margarine thoroughly. Add 1/2 cup light brown sugar (firmly packed) gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add 1 tablespoon cream and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla and beat well. Makes 1 cup sauce.

Coconut Baked Apples

- 6 tart apples, cored
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup shredded coconut
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon orange extract or grated orange rind
1/2 cup cream, whipped
3 cups thinly sliced apples
2 to 4 tablespoons sugar or honey
1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour
1 1/2 cups raisin bran, 40% bran flakes, wheat flakes, or 1 cup corn flakes, crushed

Place apples in baking dish, add water, and sprinkle with 1/2 cup sugar. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 45 minutes, or until done. Cool.

Fold 1/2 cup of the coconut, 2 tablespoons sugar, and orange extract into whipped cream. Top apples with the mixture. Garnish with remaining coconut. Chill before serving. Makes 6 servings.

WANTED: BRAINS—NOT DEAD BUT ALIVE

Now, more than the past few months, the people who drive automobiles in our city need good level heads, because now our children are going to school. Drivers must use their brains to think for themselves and also for the child in the street.

As a driver, you hold the power of life and death. Wield it in favor of life by exercising extreme caution each time you take the wheel. Back up your knowledge of safe driving rules which you had to know to receive your drivers license.

Think of each child in your path as your own. Think of the mighty tug on the heartstrings of the mother who sent her child off to school. Don't be responsible for that mother's heartbreak because your careless driving has snuffed the life of her schoolboy or child.

Hundreds of little Johnnies and Marys are in your hands, Mr. Car Driver. Laughing and joking and playing games, they frequently make crossings with less care than they should—forgetting most of the pedestrian safety rules they have been taught. It's up to those of you at the wheel to watch out for them.

Today some child blithely skips rope with her comrades . . . if you make one false move at the wheel, she may be hopelessly crippled, even dead, tomorrow. Keep her safe by being a safe driver.

Yes, the youngsters will be along our roadsides for the next school term, so let caution be your watchword! See that your car is in smooth running order. Keep always on the alert! Drive slowly and carefully through all school

Sunday School Lesson

By Walter C. Davis, D. D., Tennessee School of Religion, University of Tennessee

(Jeremiah 1:9-10; 18-19; 22:1-3; 13-14; 37:15-17)

"THE PROPHET'S CALL"

Coming after Isaiah, and the last of the great prophets before the fall of the nation, Jeremiah was called "The Weeping Prophet." His life was not easy. The very people he sought to save persecuted him. He was scourged, cast into dungeons, thrown into an abandoned cistern and left to die.

He was very young when he came forward as a prophet, perhaps not more than 20. The statesmen were wrapped in a false security. Jeremiah had something to say because he saw the gathering storm. At first our prophet was not altogether a pessimist.

He began in Anathoth, his native town. He soon went to Jerusalem where the new prosperity had put a severe strain on the old morality. His accusations of the city was sharp: "Range through the streets of Jerusalem, look and see! Search her squares, if you can find a man, one who does justice, and aims at honesty." (5:1) Like Isaiah he condemned the formalities of religion. The Lord was not a tribal god to be cajoled by sacrifice. Prosperity that builds by unrighteousness cannot endure.

Our modern world needs that warning: "A prisoner who spent 26 years on Devils Island, a French penal colony off the coast of South America, was not satisfied when he was freed and went back into the world. He decided to return to the colony and help the prisoners. Asked what impressed him in the world he said, 'The spiritual collapse, and the death of conscience.'"

We speak of prophets and ministers today as being "called." The outward sign is not always given, but the inner conviction must be certain. Men may shrink from that call. Moses did. Jeremiah did. He said, "I am but a child." With God there is no youth or age.

"The princes were wrath." When a man preaches righteousness, he always has plenty of opposition. "Which of the prophets have they not slain?" That is one of the proofs of the depravity of man.

The way of the prophet is not easy. He has a superior vision of his time and is hurt by it. He has a God-given word and must speak it at all hazards. A "time server" is one who forms his policies by watching passing events. He observes circumstances and makes calculations. The passing of time reveals his errors. The prophet knows that he alone builds wisely who hears the word of God and obeys. A man is never wise enough to out-manuever God.

A prophet, then, is sent "to root out, to pull down, to destroy" . . . and "to build, and to plant."

zones, and stop at all crossings. Only by doing this can you avoid tragedy!

COTTON FORECAST

A Tennessee cotton crop of 650,000 bales, the third largest on record, is forecast for 1949 according to the Federal-State Co-operative Crop Reporting Service. This is only 3 percent below the all time record crop of 670,000 bales last year.

PASTURES BRING MORE EFFICIENT MILK PRODUCTION

Winter pasture, whether used continuously or in "split shifts," gives more efficient milk production than barn feeding, according to one test made last winter at the Middle Tennessee Agricultural Experiment Station.

The tests involved three lots of dairy cows; one barn fed, one lot kept on pasture three to five hours daily; and the other kept on pasture continuously except at milking time, with all lots receiving alfalfa hay, silage and grain.

The cows on pasture three to five hours daily produced 21.4% more milk, ate 37% less hay, and returned 81 cents more per day above feed costs than the barn-fed group.

Cows kept on pasture the full time produced 11.6 more milk, ate 31.6 percent less hay, and returned 22 cents more per day above feed costs than the barn-fed cows.

For the five months' test, November 1 to April 1, the average cow on pasture returned $34 more above feed costs, maintained better milk production and weight, stayed cleaner, and required far less labor and housing costs than the cows kept in the barn.

To insure an adequate feed supply for all kinds of winter weather, the tests showed that it is advisable to have an acre of productive winter pasture per cow, plus stored roughage, grain, and some improved perennial pasture.

TENNESSEE STATE MEDICAL ASSOCIATION AND YOUR COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

UNCONSCIOUSNESS A Medical Emergency

The physician is called frequently to see an unconscious person. If he has never seen the patient before, he is really starting from scratch.

Little or no information may be available, yet the situation must be sized up at once and proper treatment given.

The doctor now assumes the role of detective as well as physician. He uses his sense of smell, touch, sight and hearing to aid in judgment. Breathing, heart action, pulse, blood pressure and temperature are noted.

Signs of violence or accident are looked for, such as odors which might identify gas inhalation. The victim's breath is smelled for sign of alcoholic poisoning or other agents.

The color of the skin may be significant — cherry red for carbon monoxide poisoning, blue for pneumonia or heart failure, pallor for anemia or hemorrhage, yellow for liver disease. Whether the skin is flushed or dry, or moist and clammy is determined.

The body is examined for wounds. If narcotics are suspected, the skin is examined for tell-tale needle punctures.

Even the room is given a quick going over for empty bottles or boxes which may have contained barbiturates, other sedative drugs or poison. An STAS KIT is essential. Upon proper evaluation and diagnosis, may require artificial respiration, stomach washing, hypodermic injections or control of hemorrhage. Unconsciousness is a serious state and often taxes the ingenuity of the physician.

Here's "Mr. Courtesy"!

It's all over and Andy's the winner! He beat out Smiley Roberts, manager of the Riata, by just four votes. What an I talking about? Our "Mr. Courtesy" election!

The idea was for folks to vote for the most courteous person in town . . . the most polite man or woman who "meets the public" every day. The balloting went on all last week at the post office.

It's this kind of community spirit that has made our town grow so fast . . . has made it so attractive for so many people to come to and shop in.

From where I sit, Andy deserved the title most. All the people in our stores are pretty polite, but Andy always has a big smile on his face. He keeps his Garden Tavern clean and law-abiding—a good example of the kind of tavern owner that's making the Brewers' Self-Regulation program work so well. The Garden Tavern is one real "courteous" place to enjoy a sparkling glass of beer or ale!

SMALLER FARM INCOME SEEN FOR NEXT YEAR

Declining prices received by farmers and continuing high prices of goods they must buy, poses a situation reversing the past 10-year trend, say farm management specialists of the U-T Agricultural Extension Service. It is necessary, therefore, to consider this in planning farm operations for next year. Farm prices reached their peak in January, 1948, after climbing for nine years. Since then they have declined an average of 22%. Corn, wheat, hogs, and milk have dropped from a fourth to a half in price. On the other hand, average prices paid by farmers have dropped only 3 percent. If this drop continues, it is likely to drop more slowly than prices farmers receive.

To help adjust operations to this situation, Extension farm management specialists offer these suggestions:

A change in "money thinking" that is, less complacency about high debt and high expenditures. Farm families should spend less freely.

Farm finances should be put in order. Debts paid now will be a bargain; and arrangements should be made to pay all debts on the best terms available.

High yields, high production per animal, and efficient use of farm labor is essential.

Develop a marketing program as far as possible; give attention to seasonal price changes.

Produce feed and food needs. Keep informed on price changes, markets, government programs, etc. Keep informed on your own operations by accurate records. Support farm organizations.

Kansas Farm Rock Will Tell Earth's Size to Surveyors

LUCAS, KANS. — The United States coast and geodetic survey is using a rock in Frank Robinson's pasture near here to measure the size and shape of the earth.

The rock carries a small bronze plaque with a tiny triangle. Inside the triangle there is a dot. The tiny dot will tell the surveyors the size and shape of the entire world.

The current project is the second phase of the job. Last year, astronomical calculations were made by geodetic survey officials. This year they are making gravity checks, centering around the rock on Robinson's farm. The scientists will tie the two studies together and get a new determination of the earth's exact size.

Robinson's rock has been used before. For about 50 years, it has been the basis of ever triangle drawn by surveyors over the whole United States. All buildings surveyed, from the White House to the barn on Old MacDonald's farm, are down on charts as being a certain distance from the rock.

When the marker was first put in place, in 1891, it was just one of many points of reference established across the nation. But it soon became the principal one, when geodetic survey officials decided it was the most nearly accurate of them all.

A plumb line at this point, they found, more than any of the others, would show the earth's natural gravity. Its accuracy was attributed to its location—on a barren hilltop, without great mountain ranges or bodies of water or land masses near by to deflect the plumb line.

It became virtually the geodetic center of the nation. And, in 1913, the rock extended its importance beyond the borders of the United States. Canada and Mexico accorded it recognition as the basis of their surveys, too. So, for all intents and purposes, it became the geodetic center of the whole North American continent.

Gradually, it extended its sphere of geodetic influence around the world. More and more nations adopted it as the point of reference for surveys, until now a maze of triangles, linking most of the earth's surface, are based on the dot in the triangle on the plaque on the rock on the farm in Kansas.

TEXAS GAS SOIL EXPERTS OFFER FARMERS NEW SERVICE

RIGHT-OF-WAY LAND SEEDED AND TERRACED TO SPUR CONSERVATION

Farmers in the community who have sold right-of-way to Texas Gas Transmission Corporation for the new 800-mile natural gas pipe line that passes near here receive an entirely new and valuable soil conservation service from the pipe line Company.

On each farm where the pipe line passes through, a Texas Gas crew will seed, fertilize, and — where necessary — terrace the land disturbed by pipe line construction. They use carefully prepared seed mixtures to provide temporary or permanent cover crops according to the individual farmer's wishes.

Increasing the Yield

At the same time the Company Agriculturist offers the farmer advice on methods of increasing his yield and conserving soil. He usually explains to the landowner that Texas Gas shares with him a mutual interest in preventing soil erosion, and that his Company will continue to inspect and help him care for the soil above and adjacent to the pipe line right-of-way on his land.

Texas Gas is the first company in the industry to organize a Soil Conservation Department headed by trained and experienced Agriculturists who have the material, men and equipment to do a specialized job of aiding the farmer and protecting the pipe line route from harmful erosion. Texas Gas is spending about $225,000 on the program for crews, seed and fertilizer, and equipment.

This Fall the Soil Conservation men are trying to cover as much ground as possible before cold weather closes in. Eight crews are each seeding an average of a mile a day to reach as many farmers as possible along the 800-mile line before the end of the season.

Seeding on farms that cannot be reached will be resumed in the Spring as soon as weather and season permit. The plants chosen for seeding and the fertilizer are selected to suit each locality by the Chief Soil Conservationist, J. W. Carneal, after consultation with the important local and national agricultural authorities on the best methods of conservation.

Continuing Program

The initial important job of planting and terracing right-of-way for farmers is only the beginning of a continuing program to help promote soil conservation along Texas Gas' entire system of 2,300 miles of pipe.

The farmers' response to Texas Gas' progressive soil program has been enthusiastic. Houston C. Taub, of Hardinsburg, Kentucky, has this to say about it:

"Texas Gas has certainly done a fine job of restoring my land by terracing and seeding with a year-round cover crop to prevent erosion."

This Pigeon Was Giving His Rescuers the Bird

DANVILLE, Ill. — A pigeon perched on a ledge outside the window of Copyreader Ed Hutchison of the Danville Commercial - News tried to fly for two days. No luck. He just couldn't take off.

The pigeon would take several steps, flutter its wings, but never fly.

Finally, Hutchison called the humane society. Soon the fire department was on its way to rescue the pigeon.

When the hook and ladder crew got its ladder to the window, the pigeon flew away.

College Professor Adopts Carnival-Barking Vocation

TOPEKA, KANS. — Maybe he's looking for a new way to give classroom lectures, one that'll hold the students' attention. Whatever the reason, a college professor is now a sideshow barker and is delighted with the occupation.

He is Professor Alonzo Hauser, formerly head of the Macalester college art department at St. Paul, Minn. He broke in with a surrealist art show during its run at the Kansas free fair.

Hauser says he became a barker by accident.

An old friend of Gypsy Rose Lee — he once carved a portrait of her — Hauser went to see her revue when it hit Minneapolis on the state fair circuit.

There he met Gypsy's artist husband, Julio de Diego.

De Diego, making the circuit with Gypsy, had his own show, a gallery of surrealist dreamlike pictures using live models.

But with some painting and a couple of one man exhibitions awaiting him, de Diego wanted to return to his home in New York.

He asked Hauser to take over as barker and manager for the show's remaining two months on the road.

It travels with the Royal American shows, a carnival of revues, side shows and rides. As a result, Hauser is finding he has lots of help in learning his new role.

"I wasn't too sure what these carnival people were like when I left Minneapolis with them," Hauser admits. "Now I am finding most of them are really fine persons. They drop around, give me tips about my job and help in various other ways."

"Some are teaching me to talk from my stomach instead of my throat. That's so my voice won't give out during the 10 hour day I work."

"They help me with my 'bally' (sales talk) and give me pointers on 'turning a tip' (greeting a crowd in to see the show)."

Hauser is married and the father of two children. He says his wife finds it peculiar that his switch from college to side show should draw any attention.

Turkeys are better by the mile

Don't let fond memories of grandmother's day play you tricks. Your Thanksgiving turkey is broader and meatier across the breast, shorter and plumper of drumstick—gives you far more good eating per pound.

Raising such turkeys takes a big investment in proper shelter, skilled workers, special feed—a big bird may gobble up 60 or 80 pounds. Yet you probably pay less than if you raised it yourself.

We help make this true by providing low cost transportation for turkeys, their feed and all the good things that grace your Thanksgiving board. (We haul a ton of corn a mile for about 1 1/2 cents.)

We are thankful that we can do this job economically. Our average freight rate is only 17 percent above that of 20 years ago. Yet we pay our people twice what they earned in 1929.

Illinois Central people earn more because $700,000,000 of railroad "tools" enable them to produce more. With such tools and such workers we intend to earn your continued friendship and patronage.

Live 150 Years?— That Is Possible, Physicians State

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.—No body today expects to live 120 or 150 years, but the extension of man's life-expectancy to those ages has already been assumed theoretically by scientists.

This opinion was voiced by physicians at the 84th meeting of the Michigan state medical society here.

But they warned against "over-selling" the so-called miracle drugs derived from soil bacteria, dust cultures, wild plants and animal glands.

As the more conservative spokesmen for the medical profession view it, penicillin, the sulfonamides, streptomycin, chloromycetin, cortisone and other elements of the new armamentarium represent an end of an era—the conquest of infectious disease.

Many more persons who might have succumbed to illness in the early and middle years of life will be enabled to live into the sixties and seventies.

But there is nothing on the horizon of science which offers any present prospect for immediate and material increase in longevity.

Once past the half century mark, the human body appears to react more rapidly to degenerative processes. In later life, these generally manifest themselves in heart disease, hardening of the arteries and cancer. Thus far, medical science has exerted little control over them.

It was the consensus of those interviewed that "the best assurance of longevity is found in long lived ancestors."

Asked to compound a prescription for longevity, using ingredients of known value, the doctors came up with:

Regular physical examinations, early diagnosis and elimination of disease; maintenance of minimum weight through a well balanced diet; moderate but regular exercise; avoidance of worry; continuance of social contact and the cultivation of continually new interests, hobbies and intellectual activities.

COTTON SUPPLIES UP; UNCERTAINTY IN OUTLOOK

The outlook for cotton being what it is—not very promising—other profitable use should be sought for much of the state's cotton land, say U-T Extension Service economists.

A National cotton acreage allotment for 1950 has been set at 21 million acres, or 80% of the 1949 acreage.

More cotton has been produced in each of the last three years than has been used for American consumption and export, economists point out. The supply has been increasing each season. In the current season the supply is expected to be about 21 million bales, compared with 14 million bales in the 1947-48 season. Prices are now just about the same as the loan rate.

Mill consumption and exports for the coming season are uncertain. It appears likely, however, that mill use will increase, but that the increased use will be offset by decreased exports. Production of rayon, which competes with cotton in many uses, is increasing both in the United States and abroad.

The long-time outlook will be effected by these uncertainties:

How soon foreign production will get back to the pre-war mark; How fast rayon production will be increased; How much cotton can be exported if or when the United States aid to foreign countries is reduced or ended; and possible changes in price supports and acreage or marketing allotments.

LEGION CALLS ON MEMBERS FOR DAILY PRAYER FOR PEACE

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.—The American Legion has called on its 3,000,000 members to pause for one minute at noon each day to pray for enduring world peace. The National Executive Committee by a unanimous vote adopted the following resolution presented by National Chaplain Edward J. Carney, of Lawrence, Mass.:

"Whereas, At this moment of confusion, doubt and uncertainty in the affairs of our country and of the world, all free men lift up their hope for continued peace and prosperity; and

"Whereas, In times of travail and trouble free men turn to their faith in Almighty God for solace and strength; and

"Whereas, The American Legion, by its first declaration in its Constitution, has asserted its belief in God and constantly seeks Divine Aid in all its official act; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, by the National Executive Committee in regular meeting assembled in Indianapolis, having complete confidence in the ability of our fellowmen with the aid of God Almighty to establish a just and enduring peace in the world, does hereby recommend to all Legionaires everywhere that they pause for one minute in each day in their employments of whatever kind at noontime to raise their hearts and minds to God, asking that He help us to adjust our differences among men so as to enable the nations of this world to secure an equitable and abiding peace; and be it further

"Resolved, That all department of the American Legion, through their officers and agents, seek to have this Memento of Daily Prayer observed by the Legionaires as an example and an encouragement to all citizens in furtherance of a common aspiration."

The total United States meat production per capita in 1948 was 145 pounds.

Soft's Funeral Fizzes After Four Joyous Days

PITTSBURGH—There can be too much of a good thing—even a good funeral. Soft Marion wanted to make her exit last a full week, but her 500 friends and relatives had to give up after four days. Her funeral was a success, but the mourners' just couldn't take any more.

Soft, owner of a roadside inn and tourist cabins, left careful instructions that "everyone have a good time at my funeral. I don't want anyone to be sad."

She always gave big parties and she wanted her last one to be the biggest of all. She wanted it to last a week.

But her guests only lasted four days. They had eaten part of the eight lambs and three roasts.

Taffy Leads Search Party To Find His Lost Master

LAWTON, MICH.—A little spaniel led more than a thousand searchers to his little master who had been lost in the woods for almost five hours.

The child, Douglas Stofor, was found sleeping among moldy leaves a mile northwest of his home. He was unharmed.

Mrs. Harold Stofor said her son disappeared from a vineyard while she was picking grapes about 6 p.m. Neighbors helped the family hunt for an hour and a half, then officers were notified.

State police and the sheriff's office sent squad cars. At the same time townspeople turned out en masse. In the lead was Douglas' little cocker spaniel, Taffy.

About 10:30 Taffy found the trail. Frisking back and forth, wagging his tail frantically, he led a dozen men into a patch of woods. Five minutes later the child's jacket was found on the limb of a tree.

Taffy began circling a spot in the woods, barking. Roy Noble of Lawton dashed to the spot and picked up the child. Sleepy and hardly aware of what had happened, Douglas was rushed home to bed.

Canada Gets U.S. Bootleg As Hooh Traffic Reverses

SAULT STE. MARIE — Bottles liquor has changed its course between the United States and Canada. Once it was from Canada to the U. S., but now it's vice versa. And John Law, which once tried to deter it's journey from north to south, is just as strict on its traffic the other way.

A mother of six children, Mrs. Corella LeSage, was arraigned here on charges of selling beer without a license. She admitted selling beer to Canadians who crossed the St. Mary's River.

She said most of these were from the Garden River Indian Reserve, near Sault, Ont. The river is only a few hundred feet wide at the place where Mrs. LeSage is charged with selling the beer. Sheriff's officers raided her home and found six cases of beer on the premises. Mrs. LeSage said she bought beer for $4 a case and sold it for $6.

Symbolic Trains Dramatize CROP

A miniature railroad train is being used by approximately 2000 agricultural counties in the nation to dramatize their participation in the Christian Rural Overseas program (CROP), the overseas relief project of American churches.

After a county fills an actual railroad car with bulk commodities for the needy abroad, the county CROP chairman sends a miniature boxcar to state headquarters to be joined to the state train. Ultimately, the state trains will be joined into one long national train, symbolizing the expression of Christian brotherhood by Rural America. Rita Berger, of the Chicago CROP office, holds one of the symbolic Friendship Food Trains which are being distributed to counties.

The harvest season drive, to collect 3500 railroad carloads of commodities such as wheat, corn, milk and beans, now is in progress in this and 34 other top agricultural states. The program is sponsored by Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service (22 Protestant denominations) and Lutheran World Relief.

Cotton Allotments

Official notices of cotton allotments will be mailed out on or about December 2, according to present plans. On December 15 farmers of Lauderdale County as well as all over the cotton belt will go to the polls and vote on cotton marketing quotas. Every farmer, whether tenant, sharecropper, or landowner who shared in the production of cotton in 1948 is eligible to vote. If two-thirds of the votes cast favor marketing quotas, we will have a price support of 90% of parity on the 1950 cotton crop and a farm which does not overplant its acreage allotment will be entitled to that support price. If however, more than one-third of the voters are against the marketing quotas, the government will not support the price at this high level and we can expect to take whatever price we can get for our 1950 crop. The schedule of voting places in the county will be made public before the date for the referendum. Remember this date and the importance of voting. HYBRID INCREASE Forty-four percent of the corn crop in Tennessee this year was planted with hybrid seed, according to estimates. This is one of the factors in the approximately 10% increase in production over the average for the past 10 years. BEST RESULTS Best results from fruit trees, field crops, berries, etc., are obtained from varieties adapted to particular uses and conditions. County agents can tell what varieties are recommended in Tennessee. Tennessee's corn crop is estimated by the State Department of Agriculture to be 68,544,000 bushels, for an average of about 32 bushels per acre.

Pandora's Box Was No Match For Mail Boxes

PITTSBURGH—Every mail box is a potential "Pandora's Box." That is the opinion of Charles F. Musiol, general foreman of the post office claims-inquiry department here. Musiol bases his assertion upon the variety of items taken from the street boxes each day by mail collectors. Pittsburgh has 3,000 mail boxes within the city limits, and each gives up at least one mailed-by-accident article every day. Cigarettes to Cate The items range from lighted cigarettes tossed in by pranksters, to snoop cats or house-hunting turtles. Recently, a postman was challenged by an irate garter snake that evidently had decided that the dark, roomy confines of the mail box made an ideal maternity ward. Tipplers often mistake the letter drops for trash baskets and deposit their empty bottles for the mailman. Other folks toss half-eaten sandwiches, gum wrappers and garbage into the "convenient" boxes. Often, a cat lover will be blessed with a litter of kittens and simultaneously cursed with the job of giving them away. An easy method, some feel, is to drop the whole family into the mail box with a note instructing the postal authorities to "find them a good home."

Must Register Boilers In State

It is necessary for all owners or users of boilers now in use or installed ready for use in Tennessee to be registered with the State Department of Labor not later than January 1, 1950, it was pointed out today by Labor Commissioner Lee Case. Registration cards for this purpose are furnished by the state and may be obtained from state workshop and factory inspection offices in Memphis, Chattanooga, and Knoxville, and from the Division of Boiler Inspection, 903 Cotton States Building, Nashville. When registering the boilers the following should be listed: location, type, age, capacity, and date of installation, the commissioner said. Case pointed out that boilers under federal control, those located on farms and used solely for agricultural purposes, and steam and hot water heating boilers located in private residences or apartments of less than six families are exempted from complying with the provisions of the new boiler law. Boiler insurance companies are cooperating with the state in the initial registration of all boilers, the commissioner said as he urged all owners and users of boilers to register them as quickly as possible. The commissioner also announced that an examination for the National Board Commission will be held at his office at nine o'clock on the morning of December 7. Persons interested in taking the examination should get necessary application forms from the department of labor.

In most States of the South, less than 20% of the total farms having telephone service number of farms.

What is it worth...

When you want to: Contact customers in a hurry Close an important contract Follow up new prospects Speed up deliveries

It would be difficult to reckon the full value of the telephone to your business. A single call may close a deal worth hundreds of dollars—save an expensive trip—sign up a new account—or make a friend for your firm. Your telephone is a means of doing more business and doing it faster, better, more economically. When you consider the many different ways it serves you, in comparison to the price you pay, telephone service stands out as a real bargain in your Business.

And its value keeps increasing as service becomes faster and better and the number of customers and prospects you can call grows day by day. SOUTHERN BELL TELEPHONE & TELEGRAPH COMPANY so much value . . . so little cost

Rainbows in Living Room Not to Be Expected Soon

PASSAIC, N. J.—It will be at least a decade before you can have rainbows in your living room, Dr. Allen B. Du Mont, one of the "big three" television manufacturers says color television is between 10 and 20 years away. The federal communications commission is currently holding hearings on whether to authorize color telecasts. "I think the FCC will postpone the thing until they have something decent to go ahead with," said Du Mont. "There has been no real change in either the CBS or RCA systems in the last three years. We are experimenting with half a dozen methods ourselves. But you can't make a foolproof color system overnight. And there just isn't a system ready yet that is commercially feasible." The FCC announced in advance of its hearings that it wouldn't approve any color system that would make television sets now on the market obsolete. Du Mont believes that by 1953 there will be 13,500,000 video boxes in use, 1000 TV stations on the air, and some 950,000 persons in the mushrooming new industry. The stocky, 48 year old scientist turned businessman began at the bottom. In 1931 the young inventor made the biggest decision of his life—"to be my own boss." He began turning out cathode ray tubes in a remodeled garage. "Our sales for the first year totaled exactly $30," he recalled, "and we lost money for six straight years." But by 1941 the firm had an annual gross of $600,000. In 1948 it had grown to 27 million dollars, and this year Du Mont expects it will reach 45 to 50 million dollars. He has his own television network now and just this week dedicated a two million dollar plant at East Paterson, N. J., capable of turning out a TV set every 20 seconds. Du Mont has patented more than 60 inventions himself and still tinkers a couple of hours a day with some 90 TV sets he has set up in a laboratory near his home. "I used to keep them in the house, but my wife screamed so much I had to move them out to a lab," he said. He feels that radio will soon be secondary to television and believes this is already true in the larger cities. And he stubbornly contests the contention by some that radio will retain its dominance during daytime hours. "We already have a bigger audience on some of our daytime TV programs than competing radio stations," he said.

Occupational Hazard

Another occupational hazard faced by the postman is the possibility of being stuck by pins of costume jewelry that slip from the clothing of letter-mailing women. Secretaries, Musiol believes, are the greatest contributors to his "collection." In their last-minute haste to get rid of the mail and catch a trolley home, they dump lipsticks, false teeth, money, compacts, cor-pilasters, keys, spectacles and other items into the drops. No matter what the intruding article might be or how it got there, the postman delivers it to Musiol's department in the federal building. There it remains for 30 days, while the owner may claim it.
