First Cotton Blooms Reported Friday

Several cotton blooms were reported during the past week from several different sections for one of the latest seasons in a number of years.

First reported were from the J. T. Connell farm in Crockett County which is operated by Harold Jones. Both pink and white blooms were found and brought in Friday. Saturday Mrs. Jim Moore of Halls, Route 2, brought in blooms and Monday G. L. Eggleston, of the Knob Creek Farm reported blooms.

The cool nights for the past several days along with a shortage of moisture have held back the cotton crop and also has hindered getting stands of soybeans and late corn.

WESTERN TOUR

Mr. and Mrs. Sumrow Steelman returned last week from an extensive tour of the West. Their itinerary included the Carlsbad Caverns, Salt Lake City, Pike's Peak, Yellowstone Park and visits with relatives in Jackson, Miss., San Marcos, Texas, Portland, Oregon, and Spokane, Washington.

Coach Pete Anderson Resigned Saturday

Halls High School basketball coach Richard E. (Pete) Anderson Saturday night resigned his job here to accept a position as football coach and physical education teacher at Central High School at Savannah, Tenn. The Andersons will move to Savannah in the near future. Mrs. Anderson will be returning to her home town.

Mr. Anderson came to Halls in 1953 from Henry, Tenn. to become head basketball coach and assistant football coach. During his five years as boys' basketball coach the Halls quintet has grown to be one of the strongest teams in District 30, placing either first or second in District play in every year except his first season here. During the past season the Halls quintet won 24 games and lost 3 during the regular season, won 3 games and the championship in District 30 and was defeated by two points by Henderson in the Region 8 semi-finals to wind up third in the region and owning a 28-4 record. In 1956 he served as head football coach with the team building up one of the finest records in West Tennessee and winding up the season with a 33-13 victory over the highly-rated Brucceton eleven in the Little Cotton Bowl at Brownsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson have an 11-months old daughter, Mary Beth.

Riot At Fort Pillow Prison Farm Ends In Convict's Death

An attempted escape by several Negro inmates of Fort Pillow State Prison Farm Tuesday night resulted in the death of one and the wounding of another.

Warden Joe Barfield said guards fired in self-defense as the pair advanced upon them with crudely fashioned knives and other home-made weapons.

Killed was Roy Buxton, Jr., 21, of Newport, Tenn., serving a one to five year sentence for forgery. Thomas Townsend, 25, of Columbia, Tenn., serving a four-year sentence for larceny and other crimes, was slightly wounded.

The trouble started at 6:15 p.m. when two Negro prisoners entered the office of Deputy Warden W. S. Hunt, Jr. and attacked him with a knife fashioned from a 10-inch file. Mr. Hunt wrested the knife from the pair and overpowered them. Five other prisoners who had waited outside the office door then fled in the dormitory wing.

Warden Barfield and guards went to the wing and called for Townsend and Buxton, who had been recognized, to come out for questioning. When they refused, the dormitory was cleared of other prisoners by calling them out in small groups.

The Negroes were throwing glass bottles and were armed with stone-filled socks and jagged wood fragments torn from foot lockers. When they charged the guards, 8 or 10 warning shots were fired before the two were shot.

Guard G. C. McKnatt was clubbed over the head in Mr. Hunt's office. He was not seriously hurt.

CARS DAMAGED IN THREE-WAY WRECK

Miss Jessie Tucker, bookkeeper for Gates Banking & Trust Co., suffered a cut lip and was badly shaken up when she was involved in a three-way car wreck at the top of Moore hill shortly before 9 o'clock Saturday morning. Miss Tucker's car hit the rear of a car occupied by a Negro family from Illinois forcing the negro's car into a car occupied by a white family, also from Illinois. Officers said the accident was caused when a truck stopped suddenly on the highway while attempting to make a right turn from the highway to the Beech Bluff road. All three cars received some damage and traffic was blocked for several minutes.

Political Fireworks Expected From Candidates on 4th

Entertainment for a wide variety of tastes will be offered at the 33rd Annual Fourth of July Picnic at Espey's Park Friday including politics, good food and drinks of all kinds, an outstanding rock 'n roll band and rides and toys for the youngsters.

Political fireworks expected to fly with four of the leading candidates for governor scheduled to be on hand and address the crowd. Slated to visit the Park during the day are Andrew "Tip" Taylor, Edmund Orgill, Eddie Friar and Buford Ellington, all of whom have been swinging long and lustily at their opposition in the race for the gubernatorial nomination.

Expected to add zest to the political stew is former Governor Prentice Cooper who is going all out in his race to defeat Senator Albert Gore for the nomination for Junior Senator from Tennessee. Ex-Governor Cooper has been outspokenly critical of Senator (Please Turn To Page 8)

'POSTAGE DUE' PENALTY STARTED TUESDAY

Effective Tuesday the Post Office Department started collecting a 5-cent penalty charge for delivering mail on which postage is due.

At the same time, the department will change its regulations to greatly liberalize the weight and size of air parcel post addressed to overseas military post offices.

Under present practice, first class, air and special delivery mail which is short on postage is put thru promptly to the destination, where only the postage due is collected. On mail under first class, the items are held while the sender is notified of the postage due. Congress in April provided for a different system under which all "short paid" mail will go thru to the addressee without delay, and the addressee will be required to pay the shortage plus the 5-cent penalty. If he refuses to do this, the mail will be returned to the sender for the deficient postage and penalty.

The postal service effective July 1 accepted air parcel post for overseas military post offices, with some exceptions, weighing up to 70 pounds and measuring as much as 100 inches in length and girth combined.

Crop Prospects Seem Improved Past Few Days

F. H. Paschal
County Agent

Lady beetle larvae are this week killing the aphids or lice on cotton in many fields, rains have provided needed moisture, and our cotton crop which means so much to all of us is looking better.

However, many farmers have not fertilized their cotton nearly as well as in previous years and this is showing up now and will certainly make a difference in pick sacks this fall. Some farmers could make $5.00 in extra cotton for each $1.00 they would pay out now for nitrogen fertilizer put down beside rows of small cotton which has not had much nitrogen fertilizer applied up to now.

Our Experiment Station urges the use of 500 lbs. of nitrate of soda or 240 lbs. of ammonium nitrate or 100 lbs. of anhydrous ammonia on every acre of cotton for maximum profit. This is 80 lbs. of actual nitrogen per acre. Some of this may come from mixed fertilizers or some other source, but we need a total of 80 lbs. of actual nitrogen per acre.

Farmers who think they are getting maximum yields and profits on cotton with 100 to 200 lbs. of soda per acre should give themselves the benefit of the doubt by side dressing with another 300 lbs. of soda per acre on some land to see whether they get additional cotton this fall. They might also try half as many pounds of ammonium nitrate on some cotton to see how it compares. It is still not too late to use ammonium nitrate as a side dressing on small cotton.

No Weevils Yet

No boll weevils have yet been reported in the county and we have found very few bollworms or bollworm eggs. No boll weevils have been found in Shelby and McNairy and the other southern border counties and our state entomologist believes that we might (Please Turn to Page 8)

Sam Kemper, Aged Resident, Is Dead

Resolutions

In Memory of Mrs. A. R. Walker

Whereas, the Heavenly Father in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to remove from our midst the wife and beloved help-mate of a faithful and cherished member of the Lauderdale County T. B. Association, and

Whereas, our hearts are grieved because a sweet and lovely life has ended, although the influence of her charming personality, her devotion to Christian ideals, her courage in affliction, and her thoughtfulness of others will forever be an inspiration to those who knew her; therefore,

Be it resolved: That in the passing of Mrs. Sarah Jo Walker the communities of Ripley and Asbury have lost a most valued member, her church a faithful worker, and her large circle of friends a beautiful example of unselfish Christian character.

Resolved: That although we cannot see why one so young, so helpful, so kind, and so brave should be called from us, yet we bow in humble submission to the will of Him who loves us and does all things for our good.

Resolved: That we extend our deepest sympathy to her husband and to her family and commend them to that one great Friend who understands and shares all our sorrows.

Resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be included in the minutes of this Association; copies be sent to the Lauderdale County Enterprise and the Halls Graphic; and a copy be mailed to the bereaved family.

RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED,

Deuteronomy 10:12-15, 17; 11:1; Romans 8:1

"The Justice and Mercy of God"

In the quarter beginning today we will study the Biblical principles of social justice as they relate to our present-day problems. These problems arise in every area of life — in the home, in business, in community, national and international life. We will study temperance, freedoms, honest dealings, management labor tensions, the rights of minority groups. We are called by the gospel to work for justice for all men and in all human affairs.

"He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God." (Micah 6:8). The literal Hebrew is, "And to name thyself to walk with thy God." This is the summing up of the whole duty of man. It is in answer to the query, "where-with shall I come before the Lord?" All our offerings are in vain unless the soul itself is purified.

Our highest conception of the Divine being is that He is a just and merciful God. Early in the record Abraham craved a God of justice. "Will not the Lord of all the earth do right?" We want no other God than one who is essentially righteousness, both in His nature and in His dealings with men.

We have to use many adjectives to describe God. If He were only "just", we would be afraid and cower before Him. Only when justice is tempered by mercy do we come to understand His love. Isaiah called Him "a just God and Saviour."

We should fear, love and trust in God above all things. We dare not leave out the word "fear", for God is just. We are not afraid of Him, as we fear a wild beast. We fear so many things. We fear men, disease, the storm, poverty, and life itself. Fear without love would enslave and lead to despair. Jesus said, "fear him who can destroy both soul and body in hell." If we fear Him aright we need not be afraid of anything else.

The reason for social justice rests on two things: First, the past experience. "Remember that you were sojourners in the land of Egypt." We can better understand hardship and injustice if we have tasted them ourselves. The basis for social justice is in the very nature of God. He "is not partial, and takes no bribes." He cared for you and brought you out of slavery. For this reason, "love the sojourner, giving him food and clothing."

A second reason for social justice is in the gift of Christ. (Romans 5:6-11). "While we were helpless, at the right time Christ died for the ungodly." We were not worth it, if our worth is measured by our conduct. As God dealt mercifully with us in the gift of Christ, so we are to be merciful.

In this lesson is found the basis of right relations between all men, including race relations. We are all the children of God. We must respect the rights of all men and deal justly with them. It is both unwise and a sin against God to stir up bitterness between races of men so that their conduct toward one another is one of violence and hatred. Neither segregation nor integration is a magic formula that will bring about right race relations. It will be found in the fear and love of God and of all men because we are all the children of God. All people have a right to make the most of themselves and it is in love and quietness and good will, in helpfulness and justice and mercy that the bitterness of race prejudice will be allayed.

Social Security

Social security beneficiaries who have not already done so, should notify the Social Security Administration if they are under age 72 during any part of the taxable year and expect their earnings to exceed $1200, Joe P. Tipton, District Manager of the Dyersburg Social Security Office, said today.

"Do not wait until you have reached the $1200 mark if you expect to earn more," he advised, "since you may have to return some of the payments you have already received. Each year some people are overpaid because they fail to notify us in time for withholding benefit checks to which they are not entitled. Naturally the beneficiary has to refund the overpayment."

Mr. Tipton attributed most cases where claimants fail to file a timely report to these causes: "Some people, at the beginning of the year, plan to limit their earnings to $1200, and later on decide to earn more. A few do not keep a record of their earnings as the year progresses and suddenly they learn that they have already earned over $1200. Others do not realize that their earnings for the entire taxable year in which they reach age 72 must be included to determine if they have earned over $1200, he pointed out.

Mr. Tipton gave the following summary of the earnings rule. A beneficiary who limits his earnings to $1200 or less during the taxable year will receive all his checks. If he earns over $1200 in his taxable year, one month's check is not payable for every $80 (or fraction of $80) in earnings over $1200. For example—for earnings of $1200.01 to $1280.00, one check is not payable; for earnings of $1280.01 to $1360.00, two checks are not payable, etc.

"Those beneficiaries who need to report may do so by contacting their social security district office," advised Tipton.

Farm Safety Week

Farm accidents annually claim from 3500 to 4000 lives, more than any other major industry. Farm Safety Week has been designated from July 20th to 26th this year. From 12,000 to 15,000 farm residents lose their lives each year in all types of accidents and furthermore a million or more farm people suffer accidental injuries, miseries and other troubles resulting from accidents. Many accidents and deaths could be avoided on the farm, if only more precautionary safety measures were adopted by farm owners, managers and employees. There is a need for a program of work to avoid accidents and deaths on the farm, the same as is practiced in industry. Many cases of sadness by loss of loved ones, and also many court cases could be dissolved if such practices were adopted.

This year farm safety specialists from the Extension Service and private organizations have selected two areas on which to concentrate efforts on farm safety. These two are (1) farm fires and (2) harvest accidents. Planning guides have been prepared and distributed to help every one design a safety program for any organization interested in the National program to keep down accidents.

Fires alone on the farm cause a loss of $150,000,000 each year. In addition to the financial loss from 700 to 800 farm persons lose their lives each year as a result of fire. Harvest accidents account for more than 100,000 farm work mishaps and a very large number of people are disabled as a result of being careless with farm machinery during the harvest periods. Accidents resulting from the use of farm machinery were 27.4 percent of the total number of accidents that occurred on Tennessee farms in 1957. Many, or actually, most of these could have BEEN AVOIDED, IF ONLY MORE PRECAUTION had been practiced.

Let us all join in by observing the 15th National Farm Safety week by keeping down deaths and accidents resulting from carelessness practiced on the farm and in the farm house. Let us all resolve to "MAKE EVERY WEEK — FARM SAFETY WEEK."

Did You Know ? ?

That lamb feeding this past winter was at the lowest level since 1951? The number on feed last January was 8 percent smaller than a year earlier. Farmers in position to do so, should take a look at sheep as a "new source of income."

That back in 1910 farm population was 34.9 percent of our total population? Last year, 1957, it was down 12 percent.

Urges Safe Driving During Holidays

"Planning a motor trip for the Fourth? If you are, be sure you make it a pleasant experience for yourself and everyone you meet."

That advice was given to motorists today by Mrs. W. M. McCallum, president of the Tennessee Safety Council which is cooperating with the law enforcement officials and the National Safety Council in their vacation driving program.

This program is part of the nation-wide "Slow Down and Live" campaign. Mrs. McCallum told Tennessee motorists that, during the summer months, the best way to Back the Attack is to Slow Down and Live.

"It's a terrible indictment of our American civilization that every time we have a week-end holiday, we pay for it with hundreds of human lives," she said. "This year Independence Day falls on Friday. This means a three-day holiday for many and, if history repeats, a staggering traffic toll for the nation unless the extra dangers are met with extra caution."

However, President McCallum said that history need not repeat the gory statistics of other years. Whether it does or not depends on each one of us who drives, she said. We have it in our power to make this a safe and happy 4th.

"This is a grave responsibility, and the driver who does not live up to it, is not doing his part," Mrs. McCallum warned. "Anyone whose recklessness or carelessness results in death or injury to another will be haunted by guilt for the rest of his life."

She said the observance of the following common sense rules by drivers is all it would take to make this a safe and happy 4th.

1. Limit the number of miles you try to cover.
2. Be prepared for heavy holiday traffic.
3. Get an early start, and pause for rest occasionally.
4. Keep your speed down — but don't slow-poke.

Be courteous on the road.

PARRISH-JORDAN

One of the most largely attended weddings and most elaborate in its details occurred at the Baptist Church Wednesday evening, June 24th, the contracting parties being Mr. Grover Parrish and Miss Mary Jordan.

The ushers who seated the guests before the arrival of the bride and her attendants were Messrs. Horace Sanders and Sidney Stallings, and long before the appointed hour the church was filled with an interested assemblage.

The church was beautifully and artistically decorated with lovely flowers, palms and ferns.

At 6:15 o'clock Mendelssohn's wedding march pealed forth under the magic touch of Miss Laura Oliver, of Martin, which announced the arrival of the bridal party, which was led by the ushers, followed by Miss Mattie Jordan and Mr. Neil Dyer.

Next came the bride with her maid of honor, Miss Cecil Jordan. The bride carried a shower bouquet of Bride's roses and Lillies of the Valley. She was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. James Chaney. The ceremony was performed by Rev. I. N. Penick, of Martin, Tenn.

The bride is one of our town's fairest and purest young ladies, and has hosts of friends here.

The groom is a member of the Farmers Mercantile Co., of this city, and is one of our best and most promising young business men. He is an excellent gentleman of the truest type.

The out of town guests were Misses Georgia Foshee and Bertie Powell, of Newbern; Miss Laura Oliver, Messrs. Parrish, Bloodworth, Olive and others, of Martin, and Horace Sanders, of Gleason.

The popularity of these young people is shown by the large number of beautiful and useful gifts which they received.

The happy couple left on the evening train for Memphis, from there they go by boat to St. Louis on their wedding tour, after which they will be at home to friends.

They have the best wishes of their many friends for a happy and successful life.

Bollworms can be a threat, especially in cotton that has been sprayed several times for early insects. Bollworm moths lay eggs singly on the top side of cotton leaves at the top of the plant and the very first worms will be found in terminal buds. When a bollworm is found in one bud out of six, a quart of DDT per acre may prove to be a good investment. Bollworms are actually harder to kill than boll weevil and it is most important that they be killed while they are young, if there is a heavy infestation in a field.

Unless we find a substantial infestation of bollworms or boll weevils or some other harmful insect that can be definitely identified, the vast majority of farmers will not be justified in poisoning cotton any more after this week.

As cotton reaches the blooming stage, we need to make square counts each week for the presence of boll weevil. If we do not have weevils by August 20, we will probably be able to make a crop without dividing it with the weevils and the insecticide companies.

Our Situation Different

Cotton farmers in Lauderdale County, Tenn. are more fortunate in many respects than those in Mississippi and other places farther south. We can make wonderful cotton crops with very little cultivation, a reasonable amount of fertilizer, and without being forced to poison cotton against the boll weevil every five days through Sept. 20 as many Mississippi Delta farmers do.

High Praise

B. Balentine, owner of Balentine Motors, was very complimentary of the Halls Fire Department this week following the fire which damaged the Balentine building Monday. He asked the Graphic to express his appreciation.

BURGLARS ENTER WALKER'S LAST WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Burglars forced entry into Walker's Restaurant and Billiard Hall last Wednesday night and stole some $60 to $65 in bills and silver and some merchandise. The intruder gained entrance by cutting a hole in the back screen, knocking out a pane of glass in the door and reaching through and opening the lock. Sheriff Willard Norvell was notified and came to the scene early Thursday morning. The thieves overlooked one cash register and left considerable change in another.

County Court Votes Cut In Tax Rate

RIPLEY — Lauderdale County Quarterly Court Monday sliced 16 cents from the county tax rate, dropping it from $4.90 to $4.74.

It was the second consecutive annual reduction in the rate, following a sharp increase to meet a congestion of bond maturities.

The court was told the increase had avoided the refunding of sufficient bonds to restore the county's credit with bondsmen to good standing.

A motion to authorize the air conditioning of the offices of the Department of Public Welfare in the basement of the county courthouse was tabled.

Other business was routine.

Bank Of Halls Ups Interest On Savings

In a full page advertisement in this week's issue of the Halls Graphic, David R. Nunn, president of Bank of Halls, announces an increase to 3 percent of interest rates on savings accounts. Mr. Nunn states that this is the highest interest rate that can legally be paid by a financial institution whose deposits are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Mr. Nunn also announced a new service which the Bank of Halls is now offering. The bank has recently completed the installation of a night depository. The depository, which is located on the west wall of the bank building at the north corner, was placed in service last Thursday.

Dr. O. W. Taylor, Beloved Baptist Minister, Dies

Word was received here Wednesday of the death Tuesday night at 10:20 of Dr. O. W. Taylor, Baptist author and minister at the Baptist Hospital in Nashville after a long illness of cancer of the throat.

Funeral services were set for Thursday morning in Nashville with burial there.

Dr. Taylor served as pastor of Halls Baptist Church during the late 1920's and the early 1930's. After leaving here he became a member of the editorial staff of the Baptist & Reflector, Baptist publication, and later served as editor of the publication until ill health compelled his retirement several years ago. Despite his illness which eventually caused the loss of his voice Dr. Taylor had spent much of his last years in the compiling and writing of a History of the Southern Baptist Convention. He had also served in various offices among Tennessee Baptists.

Surviving is his wife, a son, Wilburn Taylor, and two grandchildren, all of Nashville. Another son, Charles Byron Taylor, was killed in the invasion of Normandy during World War II.

Huge Rain Breaks Drought Here

Farmers, who have been suffering for rain for the past several weeks, got more than they had bargained for during the past weekend as more than seven inches of rain descended within a 48-hour period, flooding highways, fields and covering crops.

Despite the huge rains and sudden floods however, most farmers reported little damage since creeks, drainage ditches, etc. were virtually empty and the excess water flowed off at a rapid rate.

Cloudy skies and occasional small showers continued through Thursday with a threat of more rain causing farmers some concern. Many farmers said that the rains came in time to help corn and soybeans and that cotton would also profit if the rains do not continue to greater excess.

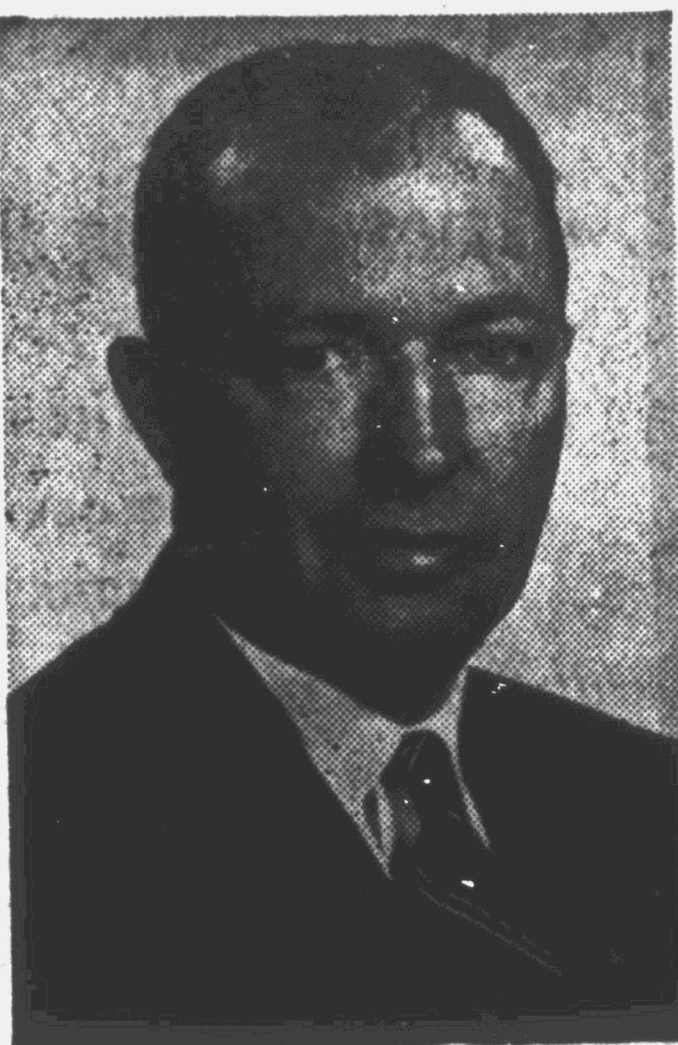

Reports say that the largest rains were centered around Halls, Gates and Curve with not much more than half as much rain in the Mississippi river bottomlands.

Bank Statements Reveal Strength

Published statements of Bank of Halls and Gates Banking & Trust Co. reveal a gain in deposits and assets over the corresponding period during 1957 and only slightly lower than the combined assets at the end of 1957.

Bank of Halls shows total deposits of $1,969,199.04 and Gates Bank shows $973,964.11 with the total deposits of the two banks almost reaching the $3 million mark. Combined assets of the two banks reaches a total of $8,435,980.16.

David R. Nunn is president of Bank of Halls and R. V. Lilley is president of Gates Banking & Trust Co.

BUFORD ELLINGTON

Candidate for Governor of Tennessee and former Commissioner of Agriculture, will speak in the Court House Yard at Ripley next Thursday night, July 17, at 6:30.

Fire Damages Auto Firm Monday Night

Balentine Motors, Desoto-Plymouth dealer, was badly damaged by fire about 8 o'clock Monday night. Interior of the building was burned, several used cars were damaged although two new cars were gotten from the building without damage.

The fire is said to have started when B. Balentine, owner of the firm, started to drive a car which he had been demonstrating, into the rear portion of the building and the car backfired, spreading flame throughout the building.

Mr. Balentine rushed to get a fire extinguisher but was unable to control the fire. He was badly affected by smoke and fumes but not severely injured. Two persons, Gene Cates and Curtis Webb, were cut on the hand by glass while assisting in fighting the fire.

The Balentine fire was the second call for the fire department during the weekend. The truck answered a call to the Neil Luton home Saturday when wiring to the cook stove caught fire. No damage was done.

BAKER'S NEW STATION OPENS NEXT WEEK

C. B. Baker, operator of C. J. Baker & Son service station and wholesale distributor of Conoco products, has announced the grand opening of the firm's new station on Highway 51 at Gates on next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The station is replacing the building destroyed by fire November 11 of last year.

Cross Plowing Used For Weed Control In Cotton

F. H. Paschal
County Agent

W. E. Harlan of Ripley has 45 acres of cotton which he has cross plowed to control weeds and bring the cotton down to a desirable stand at the lowest possible cost, and which he is just now chopping the first time when it is a foot tall. Mr. Harlan is enthusiastic about this method of lowering the cost of production and other farmers will no doubt take advantage of the opportunity to observe the cotton through the growing period and find out how it yields at picking time.

Jack Crutcher and Hunt Morris used chemical sprays on top of the rows of cotton as they were planting to keep the cotton clean in a 12-inch band along the rows for a period of five to six weeks. Both these methods of controlling weeds without much hoeing are highly profitable.

Kills Corn Weeds

W. A. Hill and Bernice Crain of Flippen area last year decided to kill cocklebur in corn with 2,4-D. They took an orchard sprayer which had a motor on it and a pump that would maintain constant pressure. They got 30.1 nozzles and arranged them to spray on two rows of corn so they could apply a uniform spray. They said they made better corn last year and it was entirely free of weeds when they gathered it. The cost of the spray—50c an acre.

Get Three-Cent Gas Refunds

Farm operators may get a refund of three cents a gallon on all gasoline used in tractors, combines, and trucks on the farm itself between July 1, 1957 and June 30, 1958. Farm operators who made a claim in 1957 will receive Form 2240 in the mail for use in making the application by (Please Turn To Page 10)

Fourth Picnic Draws Politicians, Crowd

Thousands of persons from Lauderdale, Crockett and Dyer counties and from distant points thronged Espey Park on the Fourth as the 33rd Annual Espey Park Fourth of July Picnic was held. Luther Allen, owner of the Park, reported the largest crowd in recent years as the weather reversed itself from 1957 when rain and high water forced cancellation of the picnic.

Three candidates for governor, Tip Taylor, Eddie Friar and Edmund Orgill, spoke to the crowd in behalf of their candidacy while a fourth, Buford Ellington, sent his musicians and singers to entertain the crowd while he went to Ridgely to pay his respects to the family of Damon Headen, Jr., state representative who died of spinal meningitis Thursday.

Former governor Prentice Cooper spoke in behalf of his candidacy for the U. S. Senate, opposing Senator Albert Gore, who is seeking a second term. Mr. Cooper accused his opponent of neglecting his state while he chased all over the globe and tried to get elected vice-president. Entertaining the crowd during the day and playing for the dance that night was Johnny Burdette and his band.

KNOWING POISON IVY SAVES SUFFERING

Every year countless numbers of people are victims of poison ivy. In practically every instance, this suffering could have been avoided had the person been able to identify on sight the treacherous plant.

Poison ivy may take the form of either vine or shrub, but in each form the leaf arrangement, always in threes, is the same, as are the greenish-white tiny flowers, followed by waxy white berries.

Persons who are susceptible can get the poison by brushing against plants, handling tools or animals that have been in contact with the plants, or by permitting smoke from burning plants to touch their skin. When flowering the poison may even be blown upon passersby.

When exposed, the worst effects of the poisoning can be prevented by immediately washing with soap and water.

Utilizing Forage in Swine Production

Recent work done by some of our experiment stations indicate that more good quality forage can be utilized in hog production than is commonly used. It has been found out by work done in some of the corn belt stations that hogs, when pastured on good legumes and grasses ate 20 percent less grain and concentrates, yet at the same time gained nearly as rapidly as those kept on full feed. It is a known fact that good pasture management will provide ample forage throughout the summer and in this way reduce total feed costs.

The term, "good pasture management" means just what the term implies, however. We find too many pastures that resemble a "dry lot" than we do those that will permit hogs to make gain on. Hogs do best on good clover and legume pastures and growth needs to be such that there is plenty to spare. Ladino, White Dutch, Red, and Crimson Clovers as well as alfalfa make wonderful pastures for hogs.

Adequate amounts of agricultural limestone, plus recommended amounts of fertilizer, proper plant bed preparation and seeding rates are all prerequisites of this type pasture. If you are considering one like this for next year, it is now time to begin making plans such as having the soil tested and getting ready for liming, fertilizing and finally seeding. Next year, you can boast of a job well done and profits from grazing such a pasture will be realized.

Did You Know?

That the number of farms in the U. S. was down 2.3 percent in 1956 and 17 percent under the 1948 figure.

Realized net income of farmers in 1957 is now estimated at 11.5 billion dollars — down 4 percent from 1956 — according to USDA figures.

Men and women of Mid-America:

It looks as though the Illinois Central, and other railroads, may at last get a real chance to provide you and your families with money-saving transportation.

For this, we have your common sense to thank.

You have raised your voices and told the folks in Washington that your homes, your farms, your mines, your factories and your businesses just can't prosper without railroads.

You have made it clear that you believe, as we do, that only railroads can transport everything you buy more economically, on the average, than anything else that floats, rolls or flies.

You have declared, with us, that it's time for a change, time to get rid of regulations that pamper other kinds of transportation, time to give us a chance to help you save every time you go to the store.

Two months ago we said we counted on your common sense. You have proved we were right. Again, thank you.

Rail oddities

A New York restaurant operates a miniature freight train that delivers hamburgers on flat cars to youngsters ranged along the counter.

When flood waters of the Arkansas River drove many families from their homes in North Little Rock, early this summer, a railroad quickly provided box cars as temporary living quarters.

Throughout their headquarters in St. Louis, officers of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers communicate with one another by telegraph - each happily tapping out his messages in Morse code... with pride and joy that only a confirmed "brass-pounder" understands.

FARM PONDS

by Earl R. West

Four Lauderdale County landowners constructed ponds of one acre or more last month. Landowners constructing ponds were Archie Sanford, Eugene R. Anthony, Wiley T. Daniels and Joe Sumrow.

Technicians of the Soil Conservation Service selected the sites and made the necessary surveys. The survey consists of figuring fills and yardage in the dam, setting center line stakes, slope stakes and waterline stakes. Surveys are free to any landowner wanting to build a pond or lake. A survey should be made by trained personnel before construction begins.

There are a number of steps to follow in constructing a pond or lake:

1. Clear all brush, trees, and other debris from the dam site and pond area.
2. Strip the dam site of all topsoil, stumps or other organic matter.
3. Stockpile topsoil at the lower edge of the dam.

4. Dig a core trench along centerline of dam and fill with soil having sufficient clay content to make it bind together. Pack the soil thoroughly in the core trench.

5. In constructing the body of the dam, spread the soil in layers about 12 inches thick and pack thoroughly.

6. Construct side slopes, top with, and spillway as staked.

Technicians of the Soil Conservation Service will make the necessary survey and supervise the construction of ponds upon request by the landowner. Requests should be made to one of the District Supervisors; they are Reid Dunavant, Francis Thompson, Joe Beard, W. C. Viar and Lynnwood Grammer. The Soil Conservation District office is located on the second floor of the Court House in Ripley, Telephone 347.

Order Pine Seedlings

Now is the time to place orders for pine seedlings and multiflora rose plants. The pine seedlings are furnished by the State Nursery at Pinson at a cost of $3.00 per thousand. Application blanks can be picked up at the County Agent's office or the Soil Conservation District office. The multiflora rose plants are furnished by the State Game and Fish Commission at no cost to the landowner.

Social Security

Came June, came brides, come headache for the biggest book-keeping organization in the country, the Social Security Administration.

Being proud of their new names, working brides almost invariably ask their boss to show their new names on the payroll — and, being human, most of them put off bringing their cards around to the Social Security Ad-social security name change, Joe P. Tipton, manager of the Dyersburg Office, reports.

So, last month's bride now appears on her employer's social security report as Mary Brown along with the number that the Social Security Administration records show for Mary Smith. The Social Security Administration suspects that a marriage might be the answer to the discrepancy but there is also the chance that Mary Brown is a new employee who was accidentally reported with Mary Smith's number.

Mr. Tipton explains that the Government can't afford to take chances, and correspondence with the employer is necessary before Mary Brown, nee Smith, can get credit for the wages she earned. "In most instances, the records are cleared and Mrs. Mary Brown gets credit for her wages," Mr. Tipton said, "But this happens only after the Government and the employer have spent considerable time and effort in untangling the mix-up."

"Now that June is over, I'm extending all June brides an invitation to come in and get their name officially changed on their social security account number card," Mr. Tipton concluded.

"Jesus Teaches Social Justice"

Rugged individualism is the natural product of an early, pioneering time. And rugged individualism is a good thing if it be accompanied by a Christian sense of justice and mercy. The Sermon on the Mount teaches both, and no one could read that sermon and rise with anything less than a feeling of personal failure.

In the ancient times of Isaac, when men grazed flocks from pasture to pasture and fought over wells of water, there was a sturdy independence. But the herder, Jacob, learned from bitter experience that personal relationships cannot be ignored. In crowded Palestine, in the days of Jesus, with all its religious sects and prejudices, its mixture of races and cultures, there was need for better human understanding and wider sympathies.

In the early days of America, travelers had to move through wilderness from one small settlement to another. The family produced its own food, and made its own clothing. There sprang up a natural independence and rugged individualism. Now, with lighted cities shining in every valley, with factories bordered by thousands of automobiles which had brought the workers to the plant, there are intricate human relations which affect thousands of homes and their daily need of bread and clothing and self-respect. Individualism has to give way to a social consciousness which says we "are bound up together in the bundle of life."

It is here we will find the true meaning of the Sermon on the Mount. "For if you love those who love you, what reward have you? And if you salute only your brethren, what more are you doing than others?"

Jesus did not come to destroy but to fulfill the law. He did not change its moral truth, but taught us how to see old things in a new light. Six times He quotes the provisions of the old law. Six times He gives it higher meaning for men of the Kingdom. The old law said, "No murder." I say "You must not hate." The old law said, "No adultery." I say unto you, "No lustful thought." The law said, "No false swearing." I say, "Do not swear at all." The law allows writing of divorce under certain circumstances. I say, "No divorce." The wife has her rights, too. The old law said, "An eye for an eye." I say, "No retaliation at all." The old law said, "Love your neighbor." I say you must love your enemies also.

We need this growth in social responsibility, and the church is giving leadership in trying to right some of the world's wrongs. But there is a danger in this emphasis on social responsibility as against the idea of personal salvation. The individual might consider himself free from responsibility because of human society. He could blame his wrongs and his sufferings on society. Society no doubt needs to be reformed, but personal righteousness is always in demand.

"The soul of all reformation is the reformation of the soul." A man polished in self-righteousness is like a whited sepulchre full of corruption if he lacks justice, mercy and truth. He like an unclean cup if inside him there is the spirit of extortion and injustice. Love is the fulfilling of the law.

'LITTLE GIANT' IS 10. I see by my calendar that just ten years ago, Bell scientists successfully developed a tiny electronic marvel that was destined to revolutionize communications. Called the transistor, this little substitute for the common vacuum tube has, indeed, played an important role in recent telephone and other electronic developments. Able to amplify signals a hundred thousand times, the transistor is one of the items that have helped Southern Bell bring more and better telephone service to you and your neighbors. A more dramatic use of transistors has been in America's space satellites where this very moment they are relaying to Earth the space-data sought by scientists. Who knows? Some day when you take that vacation trip to the Moon the transistor will be right there with you!

SAVE TIME, SAVE MONEY—Whenever you call someone on Long Distance, make it a point to call station-to-station, and give the Operator the out-of-town number if you know it. By calling station-to-station (instead of person-to-person) you always get the benefit of lower rates. They're even lower after 6 P.M. and all day Sunday. And calls go through twice as fast when you call by number. Why not give somebody a ring today?

Farmers' Institute Near Ripley
Miss Dorothy Barbee, formerly of Shelby County, will be the featured speaker at the afternoon session at the Farmers and Homemakers Institute in Jackson on Wednesday, July 23, when she tells of the work she did with the women of India.

Farmers will begin touring the farm at 8:30 A. M. to see cotton, corn, soybean, and forage crop experiments on varieties, fertilizers, insect and weed control, and irrigation, which will be explained as small groups make the tour of the experiments. The women's program begins at 9:45 A. M. We hope many farm people will plan to attend this Institute at the West Tenn. Experiment Station near Jackson on Wednesday, July 23.

Bagworms On Shrubs
Tiny bagworms one-fourth to one-half inch long which are very hard to see are eating cedary type shrubs and some other shrubs all over the county.

These insects cause the shrubs to look dead and brown. A liquid spray made by using six tablespoons of lead arsenate or 50 per cent DDT powder per gallon of water or the application of dust of lead arsenate or DDT will control these insects, if a thorough job of applying is done. We have an excellent new bulletin on care of ornamental shrubs and trees which is free on request. Sign Watershed Petition

Soil Conservation engineers completed a preliminary survey of Cane Creek watershed on June 19 and expressed the opinion that a Federal project for its development to reduce flood damage and increase the productivity of the whole area would be highly profitable to everybody concerned and a profitable investment of Federal funds.

Landowners in Ripley and all over this area are urged to sign a petition at the County Agent's Office, at the ASC Office, or at stores over the area in order to get permission from the Secretary of State to hold a referendum to consider setting up a watershed district in order that we can become eligible for Federal assistance on this project.

Everybody says we ought to have more industry and more income in this area. The development of this land can have the same effect. Let's make a move in that direction by signing this petition as soon as possible.

Watkins Resigns As Attorney General

RIPLEY—George C. Watkins of Ripley submitted his resignation Tuesday as attorney general for the 16th Judicial Circuit.

Mr. Watkins, who has held the office since 1926, also notified the circuit's Judicial Primary Committee chairman, John Tipton of Covington, of his withdrawal as Democratic nominee for reelection in the Aug. 7 general election.

Mr. Watkins, a patient in Lauderdale County Hospital here, said he is resigning on the advice of his physicians. He has been ill many months.

The circuit is composed of Lauderdale, Tipton, Fayette, Hardeman and McNairy Counties, with Judge Mark Walker of Covington presiding as judge.

The nominee's withdrawal leaves a single name on the ballot, that of Will Terry Abernathy of Selmer, who qualified as an Independent after having been defeated by Mr. Watkins in the primary last June.

Another candidate could qualify, not later than 10 days before the election, and election officials would be required to furnish his name to voters, if only by handing out supplemental slips with ballots.

Mr. Watkins' resignation was not generally expected, and possibly new candidates are still assessing the situation and consulting with their advisors.

He won the office from W. K. Abernathy, an uncle of Will Terry Abernathy, 32 years ago—when he became the youngest attorney general ever to win election in this county.

William D. Grugett of Covington, is assistant attorney general.

COBB CANCELS REVIVAL ENGAGEMENT HERE

The Rev. L. B. Cobb of Dallas, Texas, Wednesday cancelled his engagement to preach for the annual revival of the First Baptist Church. In a telephone conversation with the Rev. Plans are indefinite at the present but announcement will be made concerning the revival following a meeting of the revival committee.

People here will regret to learn of Mrs. Cobb's illness. The Rev. Cobb has previously conducted a revival here and also has been in Halls on other occasions. He is a native of Crockett Mills and a cousin to J. T. Connell of Halls.

Jordan Says County Financial Status Needs Publicity

Having formally announced to the people of Lauderdale County as a candidate for Lauderdale County Judge in the newspapers for the past six weeks, I feel that a statement is now due.

It is with full realization of the importance, and responsibilities that are a part of this high office that I ask you to support me and to elect me to represent you after this August 7, 1958.

There are numerous things that I want to find out about in this county of ours, things that are of utmost importance to you. To my knowledge a complete statement of accounts has not been made available to the citizens of this county nor has a complete annual statement been made in such a manner as to inform the public.

I want to know and you should know where your tax dollar is going, how your money is being spent. I would like to look into the tax books and to attempt to straighten out this outrage. I would like to know how much insurance the county has on its properties and on our schools and to find out why this tremendous business that involves untold thousands of dollars is being largely controlled by one or two groups. It seems to me that we should know the specific figures such as the amount of legal fees paid into the county from the Sheriff's Office. We should know the different accounts which receive State aid and Federal aid and where this money is being used. I would like to know our total liabilities, when our notes come due and how they are met.

I want to pull back the curtain that has surrounded the Court House and I want to make public in a business-like manner, the affairs that should belong to you. Every department or office in the Court House needs a slight airing and with your help we will accomplish this purpose.

There are many fine officials in our County and I am not pointing my finger at a single one of you, but I am saying that where you may know what is going on in your office no one else does.

Respectfully Submitted,

JERRE JORDAN

Lime Profitable Says Paschal

F. H. Paschal
County Agent

Farmers who arrive at the West Tenn. Experiment Station between 8:30 and 9:30 A. M. will be in time to complete a tour of the crop experiments on the Station by the noon period on next Wednesday, July 23. The afternoon program will include machinery exhibits and a study of dairy pastures and rations.

Farmers will have opportunity to get many questions answered on fertilization, varieties, irrigation, and insect control on all the crops we grow. Tom Hitch, Tenn. Farm Bureau President, and Miss Dorothy Barbee will be speakers on the women's program to begin at 9:45.

Lime Pays Dividends

Lime paid $6.42 extra profit for each dollar spent for lime when applied to soybeans on tests recently completed in North Carolina.

Land which needed lime paid very little returns on fertilizer when lime was not added, but when both were added on land which needed it, gross returns increased as much as $26 per acre.

Most of our cropland in Lauderdale County out of Mississippi bottom needs two tons of lime per acre every six years for highest yields and profits. Much of it needs phosphate or potash or both in greatly varying amounts. It will all pay good dividends on nitrogen used on cotton, corn, tomatoes, small grains and pasture crops.

Our Experiment Stations have worked out a method of testing soil samples and determining the needs of each field so that farmers may get the greatest possible benefit from the dollars they spend for lime and fertilizer.

Four things are essential for a good soil test. They are: (1) a good sample, (2) a good information sheet, (3) good chemical procedure (our Tenn. laboratory has the best), and (4) interpretation based on field research (your experiment station constantly checks laboratory findings with field trials). As we begin planting of fall seedings of permanent pastures, alfalfa, and small grains and begin thinking about our cash crops for next year, we need to take soil samples from thousands of fields and get reports on them now which can be used to good advantage over the next four years.

Cotton Insects Not Bad

Grover Dowell, Arkansas Extension Entomologist and a recognized authority on cotton insects, in reporting on cotton insects in Arkansas last week made two interesting statements. He said, "The mythical or imaginary flea-hopper is causing alarm in several areas of the state. Very few flea-hoppers have been found in the cotton fields although blasted squares are present. The damage to the squares can be attributed to the fast growth of the plant and not to bugs."

He further stated, "Bollworms and bollworm eggs are on the decline in most cotton fields. When bollworm eggs and larvae are present and where insecticides have not been used, beneficial insects are doing an excellent job of controlling them."

Tennessee's Entomologists of the Extension Service and Experiment Station are this year recommending a cotton insect control program based largely on the boll weevil. We have already had some thrips, plenty of aphids or lice, and some webworms and all these have been largely brought under control with insecticides or by beneficial insects.

Bollworms and boll weevils are always a threat to us but we rarely ever have to poison large areas of cotton to bring them under control.

Sign-up Progressing

Landowners in Cane Creek Watershed are getting interested in the proposed project which can provide several beautiful lakes for fishing and recreation purposes, reduce flood hazards on the fertile land near the channel, and in every way improve the productivity and value of all the land in this area from Eylau to Cherry.

The Federal Government will pay the cost of improving the channel, building the dams, and doing the engineering work. Owners of the land along the creek which is definitely improved can be called on for the cost of maintaining a clear channel and for providing rights of way for dams built at some distance from the creek.

The law provides that no land can be assessed over a period of 20 years more than half the value as shown on the tax books of the county. None of the land not directly protected by the project can be assessed for any part of the cost of maintenance.

Sunday School Lesson
 By Walter C. Davis, D. D., Tennessee School of Religion, University of Tennessee
 Lesson for Sunday, July 20, 1958
 Ephesians 2:1-31; 6:1-4;
 1 Timothy 5:8

"Justice in the Family"
 "The family was ordained of God that children might be trained up for Himself; it was before the church, or rather the first form of the church on earth". Family life is the most fundamental thing in human happiness, and in this lesson we find ourselves trying to crowd a book into a short lesson.

The title is a little shocking. If words we ordinarily use in connection with home — love, and kindness — had been used it would seem more natural. But JUSTICE! Justice in the family! Even where there is love, there must also be thoughtfulness, and cooperation and trust. Each one must do his or her share in this partnership of family life.

It begins with courtship and marriage. No other step in life is so important. It has such possibilities for happiness and well-being, and for unhappiness and life-long regret. The destinies in life are determined in marriage, for if a mistake is made and we seek to correct the error in divorce, we are still endowed with memory and life is never the same again.

Church wedding are increasing in our day and that is a good thing if they are not put on for show. In one sense of the word, marriage IS other folks' business for it declares the creation of a new home that is to take its place in society. For the happy couple it is life's greatest adventure and greatest test.

This lesson first presents the relation of husband and wife. Love is far more than sexual passion, and like any other virtue, it may be cultivated. Where justice and fairness are lacking, love withers and dies. Love must rest on respect if it is to endure, and respect grows in the soil of human worth and understanding. Saint Paul says, "The husband is head of the wife as Christ is head of the church." That place of honor cannot be held without personal worth. Some modern-day sociologists toy with the idea that marriage and family life are not the final solution of sex relationship, but in that they overlook the character-building influence of the home.

The sacred writer includes the whole family circle in setting forth the conditions for a happy home. Children, too, play a vital part in the life of the home. "Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right." This declares that by the very nature of things, because God has ordained it so, children are to grow up in a family and they must "honor" father and mother. "Honor" includes something higher than mere obedience. The conduct of children is important for a happy family life. A good child is the joy of the family, and a mean or stubborn child may disrupt the home. The fearful consequences of a child's disobedience is stated almost frightfully in Proverbs: "The eye that mocketh at his father, and despiseth to obey his mother, the ravens of the valley shall pick it out, and the young eagle shall eat it."

The most important unit in human society is the home. If home life breaks down, the nation cannot endure. And blessed is that family where there is love and happiness in home life. Shakespeare put it well: "Marriage is a matter of more worth than to be dealt in by attorneyship; for what is wedlock forced, but a hell?"

Little Pines Beginning Of Great Industry

As "great oaks from little acorns grow," so has the pulpwood industry grown throughout the South, with the result that modern paper mills today turn out 2,500 feet of paper a minute, supplying the increasing needs of an expanding economy. Much of this phenomenal growth is due to the increased use of paper packaging and food wrapping. Paper is the most used commercial product of the world and modern civilization would be crippled without it!

In 1900 each United States citizen used 58 pounds of paper, while in 1957 this per capita consumption had increased to 433 pounds; an 800 per cent increase since the turn of the century and the potential has not yet been reached. The average person would be astounded to know of the new uses of paper being developed in research laboratories for tomorrow's business, home and leisure needs.

China, the birthplace of paper, consumes annually only 1.6 pounds per person; Russia 26 pounds, Japan 52, France 94, Great Britain 187. From these figures, it would seem that paper might well be called the index to a nation's standard of living.

In the years ahead, our nation will need an increasing volume of paper; and the southern forestlands will be called upon to supply a great part of it. With the south's mild climate and long growing season, pulpwood is produced in much less time than in the northern states and Canada. The South has every reason to rejoice over the need for more trees. As demonstrated by Illinois Central forestry agents in the railroad's territory throughout the South, with sensible and systematic reforestation, control of fire and disease, and selective cutting of timber, cutting and planting can go on indefinitely. It is smart business to treat trees as a cash crop.

Farmers and workers in the pulp and paper plants, workers producing pulpwood, and transportation companies in the South, are receiving a total of over one billion dollars a year in cash payments, from the paper manufacturers located in the area.

In 1909 the first kraft paper mill came to the South; the second in 1912. Since then 63 of these important industrial plants have located throughout the southland.

Wayne A. Johnston, president of the Illinois Central Railroad, who maintains a keen interest in the forests of the South, says: "Through this program the South can add additional millions of dollars of wealth to the area, enlarge the growth of forest products industries, and increase employment of its people."

FARM SAFETY WEEK
by Earl R. West
Keep A Life Preserver Handy
At Every Farm Pond!

This is the suggestion of Reid Dunavant, chairman of the board of supervisors of the Lauderdale Soil Conservation District, as one means of preventing the increasing number of drownings on farms. There are now 706 farm ponds in Lauderdale County on district cooperators' farms.

Drowning is now next to the top of the list of fatal accidents on farms in Tennessee, Mr. Dunavant pointed out, in commenting on Farm Safety Week, officially proclaimed by President Eisenhower for July 20-26.

An excellent safety measure for farm ponds, Mr. Dunavant said, is to keep a "ring" life preserver, with a long rope attached, hanging on a post in plain view at the water's edge. This fairly heavy type of life preserver can be thrown to a person in distress at some distance from the shore. For a large body of water, several of these may be needed at intervals around the shoreline.

Drownings caused by boating accidents could be virtually eliminated by making it a rule never to allow anyone to go out in a boat unless he is wearing a jacket type or similar life preserver,

Mr. Dunavant said.

Children, of course, should not be permitted around ponds unless they are under the watchful eye of an adult. Even then it is well for them always to wear a life preserver. It is also important for them to learn to swim through Red Cross classes or at FFA or 4-H Camps, he emphasized.

Of course, drowning is only one of the many kinds of fatal farm accidents, Mr. Dunavant continued. It accounted for 14.6 percent of such accidents in Tennessee, latest available figures show. Machinery was first, causing 27.4 percent of the fatal accidents on farms in the state.

Other causes of fatal farm accidents in Tennessee, according to these figures, include falls, 11.5 percent; firearms, 10.8 percent; blows, 8.3 percent; lightning, 2.9 percent, and all other causes, 8.3 percent, Mr. Dunavant said.

The Hardest Year

Columbia, thriving seat of Maury County, was settled in 1807. Things went well the first four years. But in the next year, 1811-12, destructive Duck River floods ruined crops and set homes afloat; Indians threatened death; and to top it all, earthquakes rattled the ground every few days.

The bewildered pioneers considered abandoning Columbia because it seemed an accursed place. They stuck it out though, and today progressive Columbia stands as a monument to the courage and determination of its founders.

Just as courage and determination have built cities, so they have endowed modern Tennesseans with the right to choose the light, bright beverage of moderation as a refreshment. To modern Tennesseans, beer is just as much a part of homelife as a cup of coffee. At home or dining out, its good taste is always in good taste.

Beer belongs... Enjoy it

Attorney General Watkins Dies

RIPLEY — George Watkins of Ripley, who announced his resignation July 15 as district attorney general for the 16th Judicial Circuit, died at 1:15 Monday morning at Lauderdale County Hospital here after a long illness. He was 55.

Services were held at 10:30 Tuesday morning at First Baptist Church. The Rev. Bernard Scates and the Rev. W. L. Drake officiated. Burial was in Maplewood Cemetery with Garner Funeral Home in charge.

Mr. Watkins was graduated from Webb School at Bell Buckle, Tenn., attended the University of Tennessee and received his law degree from Cumberland University.

A year later, he defeated W. K. Abernathy of McNairy County for attorney general of the 16th Judicial Circuit, which includes Lauderdale, Tipton, Fayette, Hardeman and McNairy Counties. He held the office 32 years.

When not busy with his official duties, Mr. Watkins devoted his attention to his farming interests near Ripley. He was a deacon in First Baptist Church.

Mr. Watkins leaves his wife, Mrs. Lois Moriarty Watkins; a son, Clark Watkins of Fort Wayne, Ind.; and two daughters, Mrs. A. C. Rainey and Mrs. Billy Maxwell, both of Ripley.

EDITH METHODISTS PLAN REVIVAL

The Rev. R. B. Fleming, pastor, this week announced plans for revival services at Edith Methodist Church. Services will begin Sunday, July 27, and continue through Wednesday, Aug. 6, with the Rev. Edgar Siress, of Millington, bringing the messages. Services will be held twice daily at 10:45 a.m. and 8 p.m.

HOME FROM KOREA

T-Sgt. Kenneth Randall is spending a 30-day leave with his wife and daughter after arriving home Tuesday of last week from Osan, Korea, where he has been stationed for the past year. ## Rozelle Turner Dies Of Heart Attack

Benjamin Rozelle Turner, farmer of the Curve Community, died at 11:15 Monday night at Lauderdale County Hospital after a heart attack. He was 59.

Services were held at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon at Curve Methodist Church. The Rev. Philip Holtsford officiated. Burial was in Grace Cemetery near Ripley with Garner's Funeral Home in charge.

Mr. Turner was born near Flip-pin, Tenn.

The latest patron service installed by the Halls Post Office is demonstrated by Postmaster E. J. Shannon (left) and Mayor Jerre Jordan. It's a "Courtesy Chute", situated in front of the post office. The chute allows mail to be deposited in the box without getting out of the car. The chute was put into service last week and Mr. Shannon says that Halls is one of the smaller towns to have and have a need for such a service, although they are now being rapidly put into use all over the country. Mayor Jordan says that the town will paint yellow lines around the parking space in front of the chute and both he and Postmaster Shannon ask that citizens show courtesy in not parking their cars in the space so that post office patrons may drive up to the box and drop in mail without leaving their car.

Flood Waters Threat To Crops In River Bottom Lands

F. H. Paschal
County Agent

The threat of ruinous backwater from the Mississippi River was very real this week with a prospect of 43 feet river stage at Cairo by today. There was a frantic effort in several places to build some dams large enough to protect precious crops.

Farmers were desperately hoping that the low water stage of the lower part of the river would be of help in keeping the river from rising as high as it would otherwise. They were getting some comfort from the fact that the river has failed to rise as high as expected at two other times in recent months when the water was just lapping at our crops.

We have not had a "summer water" to ruin a high proportion of our crops in more than 20 years and we surely hope we will avoid this misfortune again this summer.

Watershed Sign-Up Successful

Petitions for the holding of a referendum to vote on a Watershed District for the Cane Creek watershed which includes 62,000 acres owned by more than 1,000 different people have been signed by 250 owners of more than 20,000 acres of land which means that the Secretary can now decide whether to allow a referendum to be held to consider whether a Watershed District will be organized.

It is necessary that we organize a District in order to be eligible for the Federal assistance provided under laws recently passed by Congress.

Mr. Berg, a son of Lee and Bertha Schafer Berg, was born Dec. 22, 1880. His father, with Herman Schafer, founded Berg and Schafer, a Ripley department store, in 1879.

Mr. Berg joined the business at the turn of the century and had been associated with it ever since. He also had farming interests near Ripley. He was a charter member of Ripley Rotary Club and was a Mason 55 years. He was a leader in support of youth organizations and civic undertakings.

To My Friends Of Lauderdale County

The race will soon be over and I hope you will understand that the duties of this office have not permitted me making a house-to-house campaign as I wished to do in this — my last race for County Court Clerk. I would like to see everybody but it is impossible. Numerous things come through this office every day. The sale on automobile tags has increased, more titles to process, more drivers' licenses, hunting and fishing licenses, divorces, weddings, wills to probate, estates to wind up, gas refunds to fill out, birth certificates, lost drivers' licenses, and Ad Valorem, Withholding and Social Security Taxes for the employees of Lauderdale County.

I, your County Court Clerk, have never—day or night—refused you the service you have asked for.

Yes, I am running for re-election—strictly on my record of which I am proud. It is a pleasure to look back on the years as your servant and know I have been true to your trust and true to you in the service I have given you—irrespective of position, color or creed.

In the month of March when you are reserving your same automobile tags, which hundreds do, there is no discrimination. The colored people are extended the same courtesy.

Drivers' Licenses have to be renewed every odd year, and I have always established an office in Halls to accommodate the people in your community by saving them from driving thirty miles. Last year Mrs. Mabel Tanner renewed 1542 drivers' licenses during the month of June. Next year will be the year to renew drivers' licenses and if I am re-elected and living the same procedure will be repeated.

Every year, during the month of March, I bring your automobile tags to your community for your convenience.

If you do not see fit to vote for me, and I am re-elected, you will never know the difference in the service I give you.

In this personal letter, I am appealing to you for your support and vote in the General Election, August 7th, 1958, and for that I will forever be grateful.

YOURS RESPECTFULLY,

Newton C. Utley

Feeder Pig Sale

An event of real importance to take place soon here in West Tennessee is a Feeder Pig Sale. The date is Wednesday, July 30th and the place is Trenton, Tennessee. The sale is to be held at the Gibson County Fairgrounds and will get underway at 1 p.m. The sale is under the direction of Mr. Walter Hunt, Trenton; Sam Reed, Dyersburg and Fred Colvett, Crockett Mills. All are Agricultural Instructors and have done much for the hog business in the south.

Feeder pigs are in great demand at present and the consignment to this sale consists of some of the best breeding in the country. There will be approximately eight hundred quality pigs that will have been vaccinated, castrated and ready to go to any state to be finished for the market. The weight of these pigs will range from 40 to 100 pounds. All are from purebred and purebred crosses.

There are those who are somewhat jittery about the hog outlook and here are some facts that need to be considered before actually deciding what you should do about feeding hogs in the next several months. The expected 6 percent increase in the 1958 spring pig crop did not materialize. The increase amounted to only 2 percent. For this reason, the hog price outlook for the next six months is not as bad as you might think.

The Tennessee spring pig crop was 5 percent below 1957 and the estimated fall crop is only 2 percent above the 1957 fall farrowings. This would place the total 1958 pig production in Tennessee 3 percent below that of 1957. The figures and estimates were provided by one of our agricultural economists in Tennessee.

Feeder pigs placed on feed at this time of year should reach the market at a time when profitable returns can be realized through proper management and good feeding and health practices. This sale no doubt, will offer you a real opportunity to buy the type pigs you need for your hog lot. With the ever increasing human population it stands to reason that more meat and food of all kinds will be in greater demand and here in the mid-south, we farmers should take advantage of our opportunities and reap some of the profits from this increase.

Did You Know?

Strip-grazing, green chopping or storage feeding can boost the carrying capacity of productive pastures from 15 to 30 percent?

Soybeans from a third of the acreage planted to this crop in the United States last year were sold in foreign countries.

Farmers needing bins for grain storage, can secure four percent loans through your county Agricultural and Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) office. Farmers can also obtain financing for drying equipment.

Sheep production is especially well adapted to family-sized farms. Increase farm income with sheep. Realize as much as 100 percent on your investment in one year and still have the original investment with sheep.

Control hornflies on horses with homemade back rubbers. Hornflies take a half pound gain a day from your cattle and calves and cut dairy production as much as 25 percent.

Social Security

Persons who apply for social security retirement benefits can help speed up the payment of these benefits if they bring certain records with them when they file application, according to Joe P. Tipton, of the Dyersburg Office, which serves this county.

The applicant should, of course, have his social security card with him, but, in addition the card of any other member of the family for whom claim will be filed.

Information about employment or self-employment in the last 12 months is always necessary. Considerable time can be saved in completing the claim if the applicant can furnish a statement of his earnings in the present year and, if employed, a copy of his W-2 form for last year. If self-employed, he should present a copy of last tax return and evidence of payment of the social security tax, in the form of a cancelled check or money order receipt.

Because it may take some applicants several weeks to obtain proof of age they should begin action on this well in advance, Mr. Tipton said. Generally, the rule here is that the older the record, the better the proof. An original record made at or soon after birth, preferably a public record, is best of all. Where that cannot be obtained, an old, unaltered family Bible record written in ink may be satisfactory. Other records which can be considered are an old census record, a World War I draft record (the social security representative can give information about obtaining these), a marriage or voting record or an insurance policy. Any one of these records, especially if it is more than ten or fifteen years old, may be sufficient, but sometimes a conflict in evidence makes it necessary to furnish two or more of these proofs. Some types of evidence, Mr. Tipton said, are usually not sufficient to establish the age of the applicant. Usually, for example, it is necessary for the social security office to see and judge the original evidence used in establishing the date of birth shown on a delayed birth certificate; and an affidavit of age is usually insufficient because it frequently has no more value than the applicant's own statement of his age.

In some cases, proof of marriage, divorce, adoption, contribution toward support or other factors of entitlement may have to be supported by evidence in order that payments may be made properly to the persons legally entitled to them.

PARK - STALLCUP

The Elizabeth Methodist Church near Friendship was the scene of a beautiful and sacred ceremony on Saturday afternoon, July 5th, uniting in marriage Miss Carolyn Park and Mr. Bobby Jack Stallcup.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Park of Friendship and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stallcup of Halls.

Vows were pledged at 5 o'clock with the Rev. English O'Banion of Halls officiating at the impressive double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white eyelet nylon organza over tulle and taffeta. The long waistline was accented in the back with ruffles of eyelet and lace cascading to the hemline. The bodice was designed with a bordered square neckline trimmed with lace and brief fitted sleeves. She wore elbow length gloves made of the embroidered organza.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of valley lillies and orchids on a white Bible.

Miss Felecia Darty, college roommate of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Bobby Lee McDaniel, cousin of the bride, Miss Evalyn Smith, niece of the groom. They wore identical gowns of aqua organza over tulle and taffeta. The long waistlines and square neckline copied from the bride's dress, were accented with brief sleeves. The ballerina length skirts designed with extravagant fullness were caught with wide ribbon sashes and wide bows extending to the hemline. Their caps were of tulle and lace in matching color. Their fan-shaped bouquets were of pink pom-pom chrysanthemums on white lace with long streamers. They

Her headpiece was of tulle caught with lillies of the valley. Her gloves were of white bordered organza and she dropped rose petals from a decorated white basket.

Jimmy Smith, cousin of the bride, wore an all white suit and carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Roy Rodgers served as best man. Groomsmen were Harold Park, cousin of the bride and Gerald Rodgers. Ushers were Ronnie White and B. H. Jones.

Sunday School Lesson

By Walter C. Davis, D. D., Tennessee School of Religion, University of Tennessee

Lesson for Sunday, July 27, 1958

Leviticus 19:15-18; James 2: 1-9

"Justice in Community Life"

Not so very long ago most town dwellers looked upon country people as "hicks" or "hayseeds". Perhaps some do yet. The phrase "poor white trash" expresses a lingering class consciousness that refuse to die. In other words, we in America are not yet free from prejudice, vanity and social distinctions.

No amount of laws and court decrees can set aside the different cultural levels of people. Right human relations spring only from the heart. The sin of selfishness is found in the disdainful way we regard those who thought to be beneath us. Snobbery is sinful. We must treat all others with respect, remembering that every personality is sacred.

There is such a thing as community life and this lesson sets forth its importance. There are good communities and bad communities. Communities are made up of individuals and of families. Every growing child is influenced by the life of the community. Every individual living in it makes community life a little better or a little worse. However much we may stress the social gospel, we can never get away from individual responsibility. "No man liveth unto himself."

If these laws of justice in Leviticus were being written today would there be any change? Not in principle. The application might be different but the honor and justice and charity would remain the same. In this chapter these principles are set forth: Harvest fields are not to be reaped to the border, but something must be left for the poor. "You shall do no injustice in judgement; you shall not be partial to the poor or defer to the great."

In the church, above all places, community life should prevail. No distinction should be shown here. The wealthiest industrialist and the poorest day-laborer are brothers in Christ. James, the brother of our Lord, gave a striking example of how not to favor those in fine apparel and snub the man in poor apparel.

There are certain things in life, such as sickness and suffering and death, which cannot be corrected. We cannot avoid them. But we can avoid injustice and snobbery. The solution of these hard problems are to be found in the Christian way of life.

The Church stands alone but not aloof. It alone proclaims man's need of grace and forgiveness, man's need of God. But it does not stand aloof. We are in the midst of the confused world-life. We must lift a banner. In the midst of controversy we must set forth the truth as it is in Christ; we must point out the Christian way of life.

A story is told of the funeral in Notre Dame Cathedral of a French monarch. The church was filled with the nobility in colorful robes. Slowly the priest found his way to the pulpit and, after a pause, said only this: "There is none great save God alone." A Chief Justice of the Supreme Court stood with one other man, a Chinese laundryman, to be received into the church. The minister paused to remark, "The ground is level at the foot of the cross."

Telephone Talk
by ROGER GANIER
Your Telephone Manager

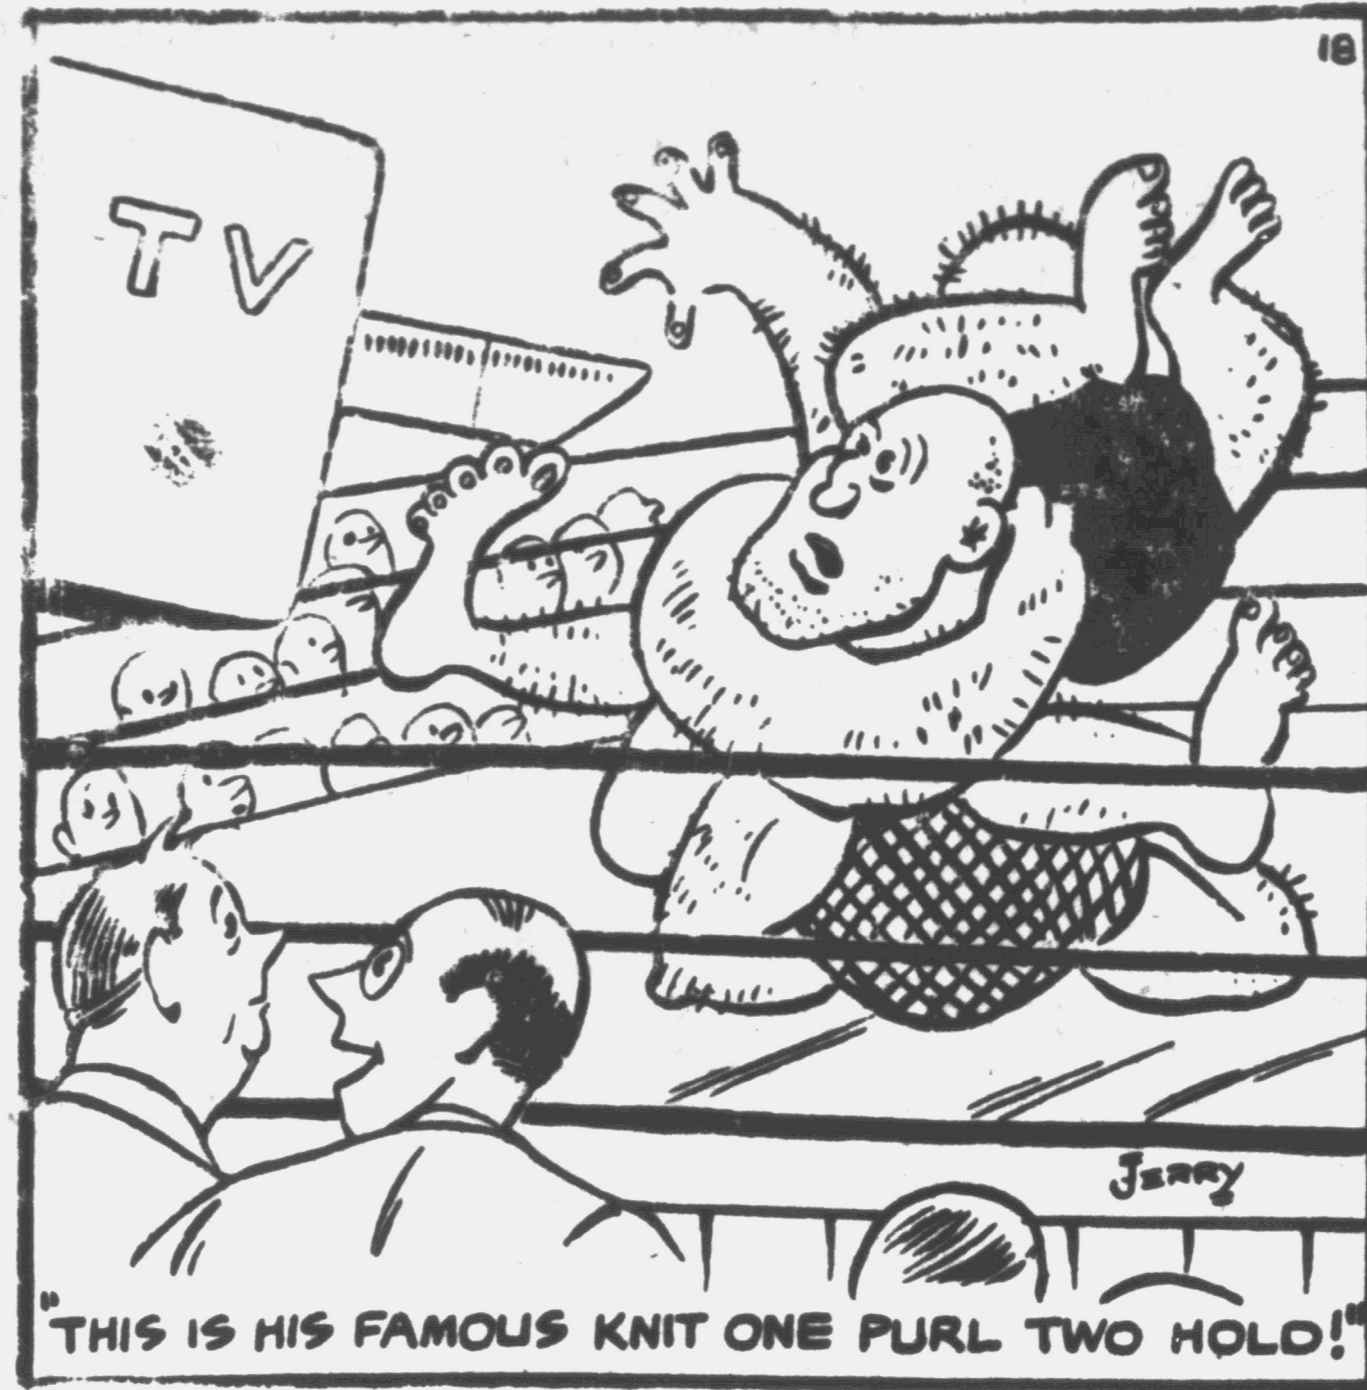

PLAN AHEAD! This is the time of year I like to get out and look over the summer's crop of new homes. They're all mighty nice—so pretty and modern. Of course, as a telephone man, I especially like to see the ones that are "telephone planned." This means telephone outlets are prearranged so a new home owner can have as many as he wants just where he wants them. Then, if there's only one phone to begin with, others can be installed later without any trouble. The wiring is concealed, and there's no need to run wires around doors and woodwork. Look for the Telephone Planned Home symbol when you go new house hunting. If you're building your own new home (or even just remodeling your old one), call us and we'll be happy to help you with your telephone planning.

PHONE AHEAD: Just as July is a heavy building month, it's also vacation month—probably the most popular of the summer. So, remember, when you're traveling on the highway, take it easy! No reason to hurry! If you're going to be late or if you're worried about reservations, just call ahead. You'll find convenient outdoor telephone booths ready to serve you 'most everywhere you go.

IS THIS TAX FAIR? Somewhere recently I came across this little view of the past. It seems that in ancient Egypt the life of a tax collector was no cinch. Many were often attacked by the taxpayers, smeared with honey, and left tied to ant-hills. I'm certainly glad times have changed because the phone company is a tax collector of sorts. The tax we are required to collect from you for the government is the excise tax—the extra 10% added monthly to everyone's telephone bills. Originally, this tax was a war-emergency measure, but you still pay it today. No other household utility is subject to such a tax, so in fairness to all it's high time the Federal excise tax was abolished.

WOOL PRODUCERS SEEK TO INCREASE MARKETS

W. B. Hall
Wool growers in Lauderdale County, through their participation in the national wool incentive program, are helping finance an advertising and sales promotion program to increase demand for lamb and wool. That is the purpose of deductions made from individual farmers' wool incentive payments, now being received.

The deductions, amounting to 1c per pound on shorn wool and 5c per hundredweight on unshorn lambs, were authorized by the wool growers of the county in a referendum in 1955. The American Sheep Producers Council was organized by wool growers to conduct the program.

Sheepmen from every State are represented on the Council by delegates who elect a board of directors to govern the organization. Representation is based on the amount of money paid into the promotion fund from each State.

According to a report made by the Council on its activities, there are three main features of the program: (1) advertising to create consumer interest in wool and lambs; (2) promotion and merchandising work to urge cooperation by all segments of related industries, such as packers, processors, retailers and manufacturers; and (3) a program of education for retailers and consumers through the use of booklets, educational films, and other promotional aids.

It is more necessary than ever that our heads go in front of our hands and feet, so to speak, in all our activities involving equipment of every kind.

A man near McKenzie was recently killed by a short in an electric saw as he stood on wet ground. A man died in this county last week from injuries obtained some months ago by a tractor turning over on him.

We read every day of other people's serious accidents with farm machinery. We always have the feeling that such an accident will never catch us, but we need to remember that accidents have very definite causes. They don't just happen. We need to continuously practice habits of using farm equipment which makes it possible for us to get the greatest possible service from our wonderful machines while keeping our fingers and arms and lives.

We don't need to take chances with animals either. A man in this county broke his leg and barely avoided losing his life when he was attacked by a sow with young pigs.

Safety is certainly a manner of

Boll Weevils Found

STAINLESS STEEL PANS BEST IN EXOTIC COOKERY

Although steak and potatoes have long ranked as the great American food favorites, there's also an unmistakable trend toward more sophisticated cooking in the average U.S. home today.

Housewives from new brides to grandmothers are finding that it brings more fun and interest to meals when even "basic" foods are given exotic additions in the form of wines or rare herbs. Book and department stores are featuring a great abundance of specialized cookbooks on foreign dishes and recipes of world-famous chefs and restaurants.

But subtle flavors can often be tricky.

Allow extra time for checking each detail when you're experimenting with a new recipe. Make sure you have ALL the required ingredients, and in adequate amounts. Equally important are the vessels you use in preparation. Use pans of stainless steel, preferably, since they cannot be affected by food chemicals and cannot change the "taste" of even the most delicate flavors. For surest cooking, in pans which combine stainless with aluminum or copper, only the stainless is in contact with the food being prepared. You can thus be sure that your culinary creation is flavored strictly by the ingredients called for in the recipe.

the boll weevil. When this percentage is 15 or more, we need to make three applications of poison five days apart.

Many farmers who seem perfectly willing to apply poisons weekly early in the season whether they see any insects or not seem entirely unwilling to apply poisons for boll weevils when they can see very clearly what they are doing. It is just barely possible that we will have to fight some boll weevils again this year. This can be effectively done with a number of different good poisons we have, provided we are willing to apply them on schedule and keep doing it until we make a cotton crop or until the infestation is reduced.
