HALLS, TENNESSEE, FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 6, 1958

NUMBER 23

Must Comply With Soil Bank Rules

by W. B. Hall

Farmers who have an Acreage Reserve agreement for 1958 and also have an interest in the operation of more than one farm are reminded of certain requirements they must meet to qualify for Acreage Reserve payments.

Landlords, owner-operators and tenants who are in doubt about Acreage Reserve requirements for multiple farm operations are urged to get complete information at the ASC office.

The operator who has an interest in more than one farm must comply fully with the regular Soil Bank rules on the farm covered by his Acreage Reserve agreement. In addition, on any other farm or farms in which he has an interest either as landlord or tenant, he must not exceed by more than 10 percent the "normal acreage in effect on the other farms for the commodity designated in his Acreage Reserve agreement.

The "normal acreage" is the highest acreage of the designated Acreage Reserve commodity grown on the farm in 1956 or 1957 or allotted to the farm for 1958.

Any farmer who fails to comply with the "normal acreage" limitation will forfeit his right to an Acreage Reserve payment on the participating farm for the commodity named in the agreement.

The normal acreage rule applies separately to each Acreage Reserve commodity. For example, a farmer having both a corn agreement and a wheat agreement can qualify for a corn acreage reserve payment by meeting all requirements relating to the acreage of that commodity and still be ineligible for a wheat Acreage Reserve payment for failure to observe the normal acreage limitations for that grain.

In cases where two persons, such as landlord and tenant, are interested in an "agreement farm," the normal acreage restriction applies only to the person having an interest in another farm.

Meeting in Nashville Monday, the State Democratic Executive Committee has approved members of boards to conduct primary elections in the state's 95 counties.

Named for Lauderdale County were: Jack L. Burns of Henning; H. H. Caldwell of Ripley, T. C. Meeks of Halls, Reid Dunavant of Henning, and Hunt Morris of Ripley. All were members of the previous board.

In Crockett county: Eli Strange of Friendship, A. D. Edwards of Bells, Lester Buford of Maury City and J. B. Avery, Jr. and Claude Conley, both of Alamo, were named.

The new board will set up and call the August 7 Democratic primary when nominees for governor, United States Senator, state senator, congressman, and state representatives are to be voted upon.

YOUNGSTERS CHOSE CAREERS; FIRST SALE MADE WEDNESDAY

Two youngsters of this community apparently launched themselves on a salesmanship career Wednesday morning when they made their first sale—a cabbage—to Robert Baker, Halls barger.

Stanley Cavness, 4-year-old son of Rev. and Mrs. Ray Cavness of Halls, Route 2, and Travis Smith, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Glover Smith of Halls, chose Mr. Baker as their first customer when he stopped to chat with them. A little high pressure salesmanship on the part of the two boys and the Bakers were destined to have cabbage for dinner.

So far the only hitch seems to be that Stanley's grandmother, Mrs. H. C. Cavness, had to give them all the proceeds from the sale so she's not quite certain where she will come out if their sales career continues.

Leadership Needed, Aden Tells Grads

Halls High School Principal James C. Peery last Friday night presented sixty-six students with their high school diplomas at the annual Graduation Exercises of the school.

Dr. Robert C. Aden, head of the Department of Education at Bethel College, told the graduating class what they may expect in the future as they work toward a higher education and also of the desperate need for leadership. He predicted that within the near future a college degree will be virtually a necessity to find a job because more and more technical knowledge is needed. Other speakers included Carolyn Ozment, class salutatorian, and Buddy Murchison, class valedictorian. Both spoke of the future of the class members and the need to prepare themselves for leadership.

H. G. Conley, member of the Halls High faculty for 34 years, presented the various awards included awards to the Valedictorian and Salutatorian from Mr. and Mrs. Warren R. Tanner, medals to the two, the coveted Balfour Award which went to Kay McGarity. Also honored were Bobby Jones who received the DeKaib Award for four years of outstanding work in Agriculture; and Calvin Fitznugh for outstanding work in Ag during the past year. Miss Betty Griffin's Home Economics medal went to Robbie Dean Davis.

Cooper Changes To Senatorial Race

Former Governor Prentice Cooper Thursday morning announced his candidacy for the United States Senate and his withdrawal from the Governor's race. He will oppose Senator Albert Gore in the Democratic Primary on August 7.

Mr. Cooper in announcing his decision at a press conference in Nashville Thursday morning said that urging of numerous friends and supporters to seek the Senate seat had caused him to decide to make the race.

Senator Gore, who defeated Senator K. D. McKellar in 1952, had announced that he will seek re-election earlier this week.

Urges Landowners To Sign Petition

F. H. Paschal
County Agent

More than 80 landowners attended the watershed development meetings at the Courthouse last week to hear James Robinson, Extension Conservationist, explain the plan by which landowners in a certain watershed can organize themselves to become eligible for Federal assistance in the development of all the land in the watershed.

As the first step in this process, 20 percent or more of the owners of the land in the area, who own at least 25 percent of the land, must sign a petition to the Secretary of State for the organization of a Watershed District. These petitions have been prepared and are being circulated by various interested landowners. However, since there are more than a thousand landowners in this District, including all the owners of city lots in Ripley, it will be quite a job to get enough signatures on a petition unless interested landowners cooperate by coming to the County Agent's Office and signing this petition when they are in town.

The County Agent's Office is open Monday through Saturday except for Wednesday afternoon. It does close at 3:00 P.M. Saturday.

Next Step Is Referendum

When sufficient owners sign petitions and the Secretary of State approves the holding of a referendum, landowners will have opportunity to vote whether a District is formed, and a majority vote is required in order that a Watershed District be chartered.

If a Watershed District is set up, the Federal government will pay the cost of all engineering work to survey the whole area and will pay the full cost of building the water retaining dams necessary to hold much of the rain water back and release it over a period of several days to prevent flooding in the lowlands. The Federal government will also pay for channel improvement and will pay 80 percent of the cost of improving waste land in the area which should be planted to trees or on which gully blocks and erosion control measures are needed.

Down on the Farm

The month of June is known as "Dairy Month" all over the country. Every small community, town and city is observing the month of June as Dairy Month. All phases of the dairy industry including producers, processors, distributors and allied food interests are cooperating with the American Dairy Association to promote the sale and consumption of dairy products of all kinds. Results have always been very successful and this time no doubt will be just as successful as all past efforts have been. Surpluses of dairy products have been great. The south has made great strides in the production and consumption of dairy products in past years. Production today is greater than ever before in history. Our soils and climates are ideal for the dairy industry and with our ever increasing population more consumption of all kinds of dairy products has been on the increase.

Tennessee has over 600,000 dairy cows and production per cow has been on the increase during the past several years. It has become a major source of agricultural income. More and more interest is being shown by farmers each year.

in order that we may encourage one of the major agricultural industries in the south today, let us all join hands during this month to make it one of the most successful of all years in the total consumption of milk, ice cream, butter, cheese and all other dairy products. Aside from the fact that they are "nature's most perfect food," it will also serve as a worthy cause in promoting one of America's safest farm businesses.

If you need additional income on your own farm, it might be a very good idea to consider adding some dairy cows. The price of milk is favorable and the demand for good breeding stock is always at a premium. It also affords year around income.

One Minute Until Midnight

At the time I wrote my first article on this subject ( U. S. AT WAR) I did not understand that it was the fulfillment of divine prophecy.

Now, after much Bible study, I find beyond doubt that this is the beginning of the Sorrows or the Abomination of Desolation. Mark 13:14, Luke 21:20. The signs of this disaster include armies about Jerusalem. Luke 21:20. Signs in the heavens. Joel 2:2. Army in our gates. Joel 2:7-9. People will be made sick. Micah 6:13. Poison wine. Deu. 32:33.

These signs and many others are with us now. God chose man to carry out most of this destruction and it is now proceeding according to divine plan. Everything is affected including sickness, weather, fish and seed.

Electronic equipment is installed so that we have no secrets.

The true Christian should be glad of the opportunity to prove his faith before God, but remember the road is straight and hard. The trial will be most difficult and will last 1290 days from the time this regime is set up. Christ shortens the days lest no flesh shall survive. The Christians must forget property, money and all other worldly things and serve God to the fullest. Be sure that you do not permit any mark to be put in your hand or on your forehead.

The following scriptures — with the rest of the Bible — must get your close attention. Rev. 6:15; Matt. Chapter 24; Mark Chapter 13; Luke 21:6-35; Acts 2:20; Deu. 32:20-37; Dan. 4:10; Dan. 7:7-27; Dan. 12:4-11; Isaiah 29:9; Joel, all 3 chapters; Micah 6:10-16; Micah 7:5, read all the 7th chapter; Zephaniah 3:9-20; Haccai 2:6-9; Job 5:21, 26:5, 29:23, 30:3-6, 30:14-16, 40:15-24; Job 41, all the chapter; Job 42:3; Acts 2:38.

Study to show thyself approved before God and remember he that endures to the end shall be saved.

It is now one second before midnight !

It's your nickel!

Maybe it won't buy a phone call, but it still has real value. Give it to us, and we'll haul a ton of freight an average of nearly four miles.

You don't buy freight? Indirectly, you buy a great deal. The cost of transportation is in the price of almost everything. So every day, in hundreds of ways, the Illinois Central saves you money.

How much do we save you? No man can say. Without railroads, there would be no America as it exists today. If there were no railroads, somebody would have to invent them, and they would be hailed as the greatest thing that ever happened.

Why, then, have you been reading so much about railroad troubles? Simply because Federal regulations have hampered our operations and pampered other kinds of transportation, spoon-feeding them with billions of taxes, while holding us on a leash.

Millions of you people are beginning to understand how much this has cost you. So Congress, right now, is setting in motion changes that will permit you to cash in on the full savings that mass rail transportation can render.

Yes, it's your nickel. And only steel wheels rolling on steel rails can move so much, so far, so fast when you spend it.

Rail oddities

A local archaeologist in Massachusetts recently found a buried section of the original Granite Railroad that was opened in 1826 for hauling blocks of granite with which to build Bunker Hill monument.

Last year 48 cents out of every dollar of operating revenue taken in by the railroads went to meet their payroll.

A railroad man's watch must meet high standards of design and precision. He is required to check at frequent intervals to make sure that its accuracy doesn't vary more than 30 seconds in 168 hours.

"The People Must Choose"

William Jennings Bryan used to tell the story of how the preacher explained the doctrine of election, freedom of choice. He said, "The Lord is voting one way and the devil is voting another way, and it depends on how you vote which way the election goes."

When the Hyksos, or "Shepherd Kings" who knew Joseph, ceased to reign over Egypt, the Hebrews were reduced to bondage. At this time Egypt also lost interest in Canaan except for tribute. The civilization developed in Palestine under these kings began to weaken, unity in government ceased and each little "king" did about as he pleased. Archaeology shows that homes and walled cities built after that were inferior types. The land contained a motley population, remnants of earlier cave-dwellers, Hittites who had come down from the north, "Canaanites" with walled cities, and "Perizzites" living in unwalled cities. Joshua proved himself a wise leader. Following the line of least resistance, he went around stronger fortresses like Jerusalem and Gezer, and kept to the mountain country where fortified cities were more easily taken. After the invasion of the land, the fertile plains and valleys were still in the hands of the Canaanites, and would remain so for generations. The hill country on both sides of the Jordan was in Israel's hands.

The situation was very complex. There was intermarriage and corrupting contacts with native religions. The Hebrews were not accustomed to agricultural life and had to learn it from a people who worshipped Baal. Some leaders of Israel were uneasy about the future. They built the altar in Gilead, avowing it was not for sacrifice but was a testimony to the Lord God who had been their leader. They said, "We did it from fear that in time to come your children might say to our children, 'What have you to do with the Lord,' and your children might make our children cease to worship the Lord" (Joshua 22:13-29).

It was very important, therefore, that Joshua should make his call for decision. "Choose you this day whom you will serve . . . As for me and my house we will serve the Lord."

The service Joshua called for was not a mere ceremonial arrangement, nor like signing an agreement. It meant a way of life, downright hard work, genuine obedience and upspiring devotion. The Bible associates this service with concentration of purpose. It was exclusive, driving out all other interests. "You cannot serve God and mammon."

It was not a choice between two acceptable ways of life. "I set before you life and death." Their choice could not change the basic truth of God. He is God and Lord whether they serve Him or not. Robert E. Speer said, "We may deny our Master, but we cannot un-Master Him." We may postpone the fullness of life by rejecting Him, but He is Lord and will have His way. There is no need to plead, "Let God be God," for He is always God. Make no cowardly plea, "It would be best if you served the Lord." Face the bold fact, "You must serve Him if you live."

What is it to have a God? Luther said it is to have one we can love and trust. Along with that let us say it is to have one who is sovereign who rules over all. Some things connected with Joshua's story are stern, but all life is stern. The facts of history are stern. Right is right, and wrong is wrong, and the wages of sin is death. But around the stern realities of life God has thrown a blanket of grace, His loving purposes, and our life is found in living in harmony with His purpose. Somebody has said that history is His-story.

Boll Weevil Situation

Boll weevils coming out of hibernation in North Mississippi are only one-third of normal. In McNairy County the count was about the same as usual, and in a recent check, no hibernating weevils were found in Lake County.

These facts indicate that we might not have too many weevils to come through the winter in Lauderdale County except for the fact that we had such a large number go into hibernation at fall. It is reasonable to expect that we will have more boll weevils than usual to show up in our fields about the middle of June when the cotton has six to eight leaves on it.

Our insect experts are advising us to make strict search for grown black boll weevils on cotton plants beginning about June 15. It is suggested that you count the number of adult weevils on 50 ft. of row at five different locations over the field. If a total of four or more weevils are found, it is recommended that you make three applications of poison dust or spray to the cotton at seven-day intervals. Boll weevils are very easy to kill at this stage. They are weak and have not had much food for a long time. The cotton plants are small and it is easy to give them a thorough coverage so that any weevils will be killed as they start to feed.

After cotton is fruiting freely, base the need for boll weevil control on square infestation counts. Whether boll weevils are found in June or not, it seems advisable to

4-H Bread Baking
Winners Named

Charles T. Peal
Asst. County Agent

Patsy Walsh, Ripley Fifth Club and Ruth Alice Gammon, Ripley Senior Club, were the championship winners in the county bread baking and fruit pie contests last Saturday. These girls will bake at the district demonstration day in July in competition with representatives from each of the other 20 counties.

Betty Smith, Central, placed second in the Junior girls' bread contest and Betty Burks, Gates, third. In the Senior girls' contest, Susan Smith placed first, Delaine Hamby, second, and Betty Pegg, third.

In the fruit pie contest Betty Aitken placed second and Delaine Hamby, third. Only Senior club members were eligible for this program. The Junior girls also baked corn muffins and in this division Joyce Allen, Ashport 5 and 6 club, placed first, Pamela Meeks, Halls, placed second, and Patsy Walsh, Ripley, third.

This program is open to all 4-H girls who have food preparation as a project and the county contest is a culmination of contests in each of the local clubs throughout the county. One purpose of the food preparation program is to teach girls how to properly prepare and serve quality foods to the farm family. There are many examples throughout the county where 4-H girls are taking over the food preparation duties which not only helps out in family living, but also prepares them for the day when they must meet those responsibilities alone.

4-H Girl Making Excellent Poultry Record

Betty Aitken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ely Aitken, Ripley, is providing an excellent example of what modern feeds plus good management will do in the production of quality poultry.

Betty purchased 100 New Hampshire Reds on April 11 which made them seven weeks old this past Friday. The 90 head she now has, consumed 300 lbs. of feed in the seven-week period which figures 3.33 lbs. of feed per bird. Inasmuch as they averaged 1 3-4 lbs. each, it has taken 1.9 lbs. of feed to put on one pound of weight.

Fryers are usually grown for about nine weeks and weigh 3 pounds. When L. B. Marshall, Jr., was raising poultry in 1953, the best he could attain in feed consumption at nine weeks was 7 1-2 lbs. of feed per bird. In Betty's project we believe it will be done with between five and six pounds per bird which attest to the superior quality of present day livestock feeds.

Betty plans to put the roosters in the family freezer and keep the pullets for egg production. She already has 40 hens which are producing well and on which she keeps a daily record of egg production.

Several girls and boys are taking poultry projects this year and most are making successful records just as Betty Aitken.

Junior 4-H Camp Dates Set

The annual camp for 4-H Club boys and girls of Lauderdale County will be held at the University of Tenn., Martin Branch, Martin, Tenn. June 16-21. Every club member who is 13 years-old and under, doing creditable 4-H Club work is invited to attend the camp. It will be a week of interesting demonstrations, outdoor lessons, swimming, games, and general recreation. The cost will be $9.50 and buses will leave from Ripley and stop in Halls to pick up club members there.

Letters will be mailed to all club boys and girls explaining about camp. After you receive your letter, you may call 234, the County Agent's Office, and state that you are going and where you will catch the bus. We are looking forward to having a good representation from Lauderdale County this year.

If marketing quotas are in effect for the 1959 crop, the farmer who is within his farm's allotment may market his entire wheat production without penalty. The farmer who is over his allotment will ordinarily be subject to a penalty on the normal production of his excess acreage. However, any farmer may harvest up to 15 acres of wheat without penalty. Also, a farmer with an allotment of less than 30 acres may apply for a feed wheat exemption and, if it is approved, may produce up to 30 acres of wheat to be used on the farm where grown.

Brucellosis Drive Getting Started

F. H. Paschal
County Agent

With Drs. Spaulding, Cockran, McCrory, and Riggins checking cattle and with Sam Johnston, Robert Meeks, and others acting as appraisers and lining up the cattle to be tested, the work of making Lauderdale County Brucellosis free is going forward at top speed.

Every owner of one or more cows and of heifer calves four to eight months of age is called on to cooperate fully in this strenuous effort to test every cow and vaccinate every heifer calf in order to get rid of this costly disease in this whole area.

Agents To Camp

All Extension Agents will go to Martin with the more than 80 4-H Club members expected to attend the camp June 16-21.

Check For Weevils

Boll weevils do not normally come out of hibernation in this area much before June 1, but from now until July 1 we should make definite search for adult black boll weevils on cotton plants. Step off 50 feet of row at five different locations over a field, for a total of 250 ft. of row. Search for weevils. If four or more are found, make three applications of poison at weekly intervals.

If none are found at first check, repeat the search a week later. We have not found any weevils yet, but they do not come out of hibernation very fast in dry weather and we did not have a rain from May 10 to June 10. The rain this week could bring them out in large numbers. If they are here and alive, we need to kill them this month, but there is no need to poison cotton unless we find weevils.

If four or more weevils are found in 250 ft. of row, apply 10 lbs. of dust per acre of aldrin, dieldrin, BHC, heptachlor, toxaphene, calcium arsenate, or other recommended dusts or the required amount of liquid of any of these poisons except calcium arsenate. We have an excellent new bulletin which lists all the recommended poisons and rates and provides a practical insect program for cotton. Please call our office and get a copy mailed to you.

From all indications, we are in for a dry spell. We had more rain than was needed for weeks and weeks last winter and spring. Farmers were forced to work much of their land much too wet. Now, rain is badly needed to get cotton, corn, milo, soybeans, silage and many other crops off to a good start.

True—there have been some spotted showers and they have done some good but a general rain is now needed as we are late already. (Maybe by the time this goes to press we will have had that rain and we certainly hope so). Pastures are going tack and temporary pastures such as sudan and millet in most fields has come up in spots only. Without moisture very little, if any, grazing can be gotten off of such crops.

There are some farmers who have excess pasture who have silos. They should take advantage of the "extra growth" and put it in the silo. If the drouth continues, it will be badly needed to keep up milk production and if it does not continue, it can still be used to good advantage in the early fall when grazing is short.

There is much good information available on putting grass silage in the silo and recently several good articles have appeared in

DISABILITY FREEZE RULES OUTLINED

Since January 1, 1957, over 1450 disabled persons in this area have inquired about disability protection under the Social Security Law, Joe P. Tipton, district manager of the Dyersburg Social Security Office, said yesterday.

Approximately 400 claims have been filed by disabled workers and handicapped children to take advantage of the disability freeze and cash benefit provisions in the law.

Mr. Tipton stressed the fact that an application must be filed before July 1, 1958, in order to freeze a worker's Social Security record as of the time the disability started. Applications filed in July 1958 and later can freeze your Social Security account for a period beginning no earlier than 1 year before the date of your application.

If you are disabled, call at the Dyersburg Social Security District Office, or see one of the Field Representatives when he visits your county seat. Ask your local postmaster for the date of the Field Representatives visit.

Sunday School Lesson

By Walter C. Davis, D. D., Tennessee School of Religion, University of Tennessee

Lesson for Sunday, June 15

(Judges 2:16-19; 4:4-9; 5:6-9)

"The Time of the Judges"

The period of the Judges lasted about 175 years—a time when there was no central government. The "Judges" were local leaders who arose in time of crisis to assume command in their own tribe and sometimes in other tribes.

They were not judges in our sense of the word, but leaders who gathered armies to save themselves from oppressors.

The tribes were not under one ruler during all this time. They were separated by geographic barriers and had intense clan loyalties. Among the leaders were Deborah and Barak, Gideon, Jephthah, Samson, and Samuel.

Look at the map. The land was not large. The native Canaanites were an advanced people, agriculturists living in villages—each village with its own king. A people of considerable culture, their war chariots, coats of mail, and weapons put them in a class with the Egyptians and Babylonians. They far outranked the Hebrews in warfare.

The land had been devastated by a long war with the Hittites. The Philistines were also pressing in from the north. The Canaanites could offer no effective resistance to the determined Hebrew invaders. "General" Joshua used tactics similar to those of Bedford Forrest, refusing to fight except in rough, broken country where ambush and sudden raids made the Canaanite war chariots of little worth.

We must not think of the "possession" of the land as one short, single campaign. A gradual process lasting two centuries, it is described in Deuteronomy 7:22: "The Lord will clear away these nations before you little by little; you may not make an end of them at once."

It was in this period of the slow mastering of the land that the "Judges" arose from time to time. First established in the hill country where they could defend themselves from the Canaanites, they gradually moved down into the fertile valleys. The Philistines (from our modern Turkey) were trying to take the land too, and not until David's mastery of that warlike people was the occupation of the land complete.

Look at their daily lives. These desert wanderers were beginning a new life. They left their tents, built houses, and cleared and established farms. Seed was scattered by hand and plowed under. Their crops were subject to many dangers such as strong east winds, drought, hail-storms, and the destructive cankerworm and locust. Harvest began in mid-April and lasted seven weeks. The corners of the fields were not reaped, but were left for the poor. There was little hired help, and harvesting was done by the owners and their families. The story of Ruth presents a lovely picture of a harvest experience. The people were not always good. There was no central government. "Every man did that which was right in his own eyes." It was a lawless age, affected by the natural human traits of greed and depravity. How telling is the remark, "They turned back and corrupted themselves more than their fathers . . . They did not drop any of their practices or their stubborn ways."

It is a lesson for us today. Lawlessness always produces fear and peril. We boast that ours is a government of law and not of men. It must be so if a people are to be happy and blessed. We want no dictators. We do not want our central government to be too strong and take away personal freedoms. But we cannot do what "seems right in our own eyes." There must be conformity to law from the highest in authority down to the humblest citizen. It was their religion which steadied the Israelite people during these two centuries when no central government gave unity and protection. The lesson makes clear the influence of religion on a people's affairs. "Happy is that people whose God is the Lord."

Dinner was spread on tables in the yard under nice shade trees.

Ten of the eleven children were present. They were: L. E. Olds, Mrs. T. M. Belton, Mrs. R. E. Clement, Mrs. Talmadge Belton and Pat Olds of Nankipoo; Mrs. T. J. Clay of Ripley, Dr. J. G. Olds of Halls, Mrs. Wallace Williams of Porters Gap, Mrs. Thelma Hall and Mrs. Lofton Hutcherson of Memphis.

Mrs. Olds has 40 grandchildren, 73 great grandchildren and 2 great-great grandchildren. 94 were present for the dinner. The honoree received several nice gifts. Pictures were taken and everyone enjoyed the day wishing her many more happy birthdays.

DIAMONDS ARE A girl's best friend, they say. Oddly enough they're also good friends of the telephone company. Industrial diamonds—black and greasy—are used as dies to reduce copper wires all to exactly the same size. Last year more than $200,000 worth of diamonds were used to streamline 48,000,000 miles of copper wire to uniform size. You don't ordinarily think of diamonds when you think of everyday telephone service, but it takes many products and many people to keep the calls going through.

REMEMBER THIS ONE? A lot of our young people may be humming it as June brings their wedding day closer. If you'd like to "ring a bell" with a gift that's really different, send the happy couple an extension phone in color to match their new apartment or home! We have nine decorator shades to choose from. It's the ideal gift because it's inexpensive as well as good-looking and practical.

OPERATORS NOW dial direct about 61 percent of all long distance calls placed.

SOUTHERN BELL operates 1089 exchanges in nine states. Over 400 other telephone companies operate within the same nine states.

HERE IN OUR OWN COUNTRY Long Distance calling increased 7.5%. Looks like folks realize more and more just how nice it is to keep in touch with out-of-town friends and relatives.

1937 Class To Have Re-Union Tonight

Members of the 1937 Class of Halls High School will have a Class Dinner and Re-Union tonight at 7:30 at the high school building.

Plans for the re-union of the twenty-four graduates and other class members who attended Halls High during the four-year period, 1933-1937, have been in the making for some time under the direction of Class Salutatorian, Mrs. Jane Escue Hines, Marshall Pierce, Gilreath Dyer, James C. Dodds of Columbus, Ga., Homer McKnight of Newbern, Mrs. Pauline Thomas of Ripley and other teachers will be able to attend.

With ED JONES
Agricultural Agent, Illinois Central Railroad

June is graduation month and many of our young men and women with farm backgrounds who have graduated from high school and then attended college have found themselves working in the vocation of their choice, that being some phase of agriculture. The situation this year will be no different with many who are finishing high school and want to continue their education in their chosen field. You may be one of those and if you are, the first thing that you should consider is job opportunities and the promise that the future in the field will offer you. It is a big decision to make and one that should require much thought.

Very few people outside the field of agriculture realize that approximately 40 percent of all jobs in this country are in some way related to agriculture. Many jobs, of course, deal with the real business of farming, yet many have something to do with it in an indirect way. There are many fields in which agriculture is dealt with, but space here will not permit us to deal with all of them, but only a few.

To get into the farming business today is a rather difficult (Please Turn To Page 2)

Board Votes For Same Tax Rate; Pays Gas Bonds

The Mayor and Board of Aldermen met on Monday, June 8, 1958 with all members being present. Minutes taken in May were approved. The bills were read, discussed and paid.

New business taken up and acted upon is as follows: It was agreed by all members to install a sanitary sewer system throughout the Keltner addition providing a sufficient number of property owners signed a front foot assessment contract. There are approximately eighteen homes to be served.

The Board passed the first reading of an ordinance pertaining to the Town's annual tax rate. The rate will continue to be $1.75 per hundred dollars on the basis of approximately one fourth the appraised value.

It was decided to postpone further curb and asphalt work pending a special meeting of the Board. The Town used its contract agreement to call $14,000.00 in gas bonds. These bonds are of $1,000.00 denominations. This payment of principal will justify a sizable reduction of interest. A discussion concerning one of the Municipal water wells was advanced. The old Fairbanks well had been pulled and examined. The pipe and mechanism need replacement. It was decided to repair the well after a fair price is obtained. The Town Board was notified by the Mayor that its annual statement would be ready for publication during the month of June.

Respectfully submitted,
JERRE JORDAN, Mayor

Kills Weeds Cheaply

E. L. Queen of Durhamville was this week spraying corn with 2,4-D to kill broad leaf weeds such as morning glories, cockleburrs, nettles, and smart weeds without hurting the corn.

Since 2,4-D is the plant growth hormone, it must be carefully used to prevent injury to crops that are sensitive to it. It should always be applied through nozzles which put out a fan pattern rather than a cone pattern.

Nozzle tips with numbers 8001 or 80.1 with two nozzles per row and 30 lbs. pressure will put out about 6 1-2 gals. per acre at four miles per hour. At five miles per hour it will put out five gallons per acre. Put one pint of amine 2,4-D in an amount of water required to cover an acre or put enough low volatile ester 2,4-D to get one-half pound of actual 2,4-D per acre. The nozzle tips should be set about 19 inches above the tops of the weeds.

Higher spray pressures tend to break the spray into finer drops and cone pattern nozzles do the same thing. Finer drops are more likely to drift in the wind to other crops such as cotton and tomatoes which can be seriously injured by 2,4-D when they are young and tender.

It is difficult to clean 2,4-D out of a sprayer so that the machine can be safely used for spraying cotton, but it can be done by the use of lots of water under pressure or by using a steam cleaner (Please Turn To Page 6)

Forked Deer Co-op Will Receive Loan

The Rural Electrification Administration Wednesday granted a $512,000 loan to the Forked Deer Electric Co-operative of Halls.

The co-op will use the loan to construct 21 miles of new lines and convert 160 miles to larger conductors, H. E. Pentecost, co-op manager, said.

The work probably will be done by Irby Construction Co. of Jackson, Miss., which is just finishing the conversion of 30 mile of lines for the system, Mr. Pentecost said.

The new lines will be added at various points throughout the co-op's service area, aggregating 21 miles in all. The co-op, which began operations in 1941, now has 1,006 miles of lines.

job due to the fact that changing agriculture has made it a most expensive business. There was a time when it was said that anyone could farm, who "could own a mule and forty acres." But that is no longer true. Much capital and credit are now required to do a successful job of farming.

For that reason, many young people who desire to be engaged in this field, quite naturally choose some other phase to get started in, and there are many to choose from. In the field of Research today, there are many bright and alert minds being about better things for farm people. It is estimated that by 1960 there will be needed more than 12,000 more trained scientists to be employed in this field by our state and Federal Departments of Agriculture. This one field alone, is a real challenge for the person desiring to better himself and at the same time make himself proud of his profession.

Agricultural Industry is another important phase of farming today. More farmers are dependent upon mechanization to do the hard jobs than ever before. Such things as more efficient farm equipment, more satisfactory insecticides and fungicides, better and more efficient feeds and fertilizers and many other items present a challenge to many in this field. Agricultural Industry needs engineers, advertising and promotional experts, salesmen, managers and skilled workers. There is no limit to the needs in this field.

There are also many more phases of agriculture that are just as challenging as these mentioned. The only limit to a man's success in the field of agriculture today, is measured by his own desires to become successful and to make a real contribution to better farming and better farm living.

Sunday School Lesson

By Walter C. Davis, D. D., Tennessee School of Religion, University of Tennessee

Lesson for Sunday, June 22, 1958

Judges 15:11-15; 16:15-21

"Wasting God-Given Strength"

We sometimes read the intriguing wall motto, "Enjoy yourself;

it is later than you think." Of course it is a perversion to think of life as merely an opportunity for self-enjoyment. And if happiness is the objective of life, it is a mistake to think the goal will be reached by self-indulgence.

Both these false views of life are graphically illustrated in the story of Samson. For adolescents, it is a favorite Bible story. It portrays great strength, a rough-and-tumble career, the forcing of one's will upon others by brute strength. To an adolescent Samson was, in modern parlance, a "big shot". Probably the chief lesson to be learned from his life is in his mistakes.

His was a mismanaged life. He was given great power and was a potential hero. Human imagination is captured by the story of a hero who might have succeeded but did not. Maybe the odds were too great; maybe he failed at the crucial moment. The supreme lesson here is that when we fail to make the most of our talents and opportunities, something is permanently lost.

Samson was another one of those babes given by special favor of God. No age, no people, no religion has been without asceticism. The Nazirite vow was a commonly accepted, idea and the purpose of Moses was to refine it (Numbers 6). The mother of Samson was under the vow and a son was given. The child was brought under the vow and to this was attributed his great strength.

The Bible is always amazingly frank. It does not hide the wrongs in even its greatest characters. It records the faults of its heroes as faithfully as their virtues. Though given great strength, Samson was morally and religiously one of the weakest men. "The firmness of his muscle was not matched by firmness of character."

The first weakness we meet is his unrestrained desire for revenge. His every great struggle was a matter of revenge. Nothing could move him like the desire to get even with his enemies. He was not willing to leave vengeance in the hands of God.

Another weakness was lack of self-control. He was emotionally unstable. He acted upon impulse and that was often bad. Evil women were his undoing. When 3,000 men of Judah bound him to deliver him to the Philistines, the new hopes became "as flax that had caught fire" and melted off his hands. Then he slew 1,000 men. He could have used his strength for noble ends but he was impetuous, childish and selfish.

This was a temperance lesson. It is a perfect example of how we ruin our lives when we adopt the policy of following our every whim. One evil thing leads to another. The misuse of alcohol and drugs, and the licentious way of life only multiply our cravings and make life less and less satisfactory. We must come back to the basic problem of what we take life to be. If life has no purpose and is to be spent in riotous living, then we are led step by step to a disastrous end. If life is thought of as a trust from God, then we have a source of strength that will enable us to overcome our hardest temptations and make life good to ourselves and to those who love us.

Tennessee Topics

Town of Many Names!

Kingsport, the model Sullivan County industrial center, has probably had more names than any other Tennessee city. Settled in 1761, it was known as Island Flats, Fort Robinson, Fort Patrick Henry, The Boat Yard, and Christianville before it was called King's Port in 1774.

Before King's Port, the generally accepted name was The Boat Yard, because it was used as a boat landing or port for shipping commodities down the Holston and Tennessee Rivers.

Just as Kingsport has grown in stature since the days it was known as The Boat Yard, so has beer. To modern Tennesseans, beer is now known as the light, bright beverage of modern life — just as much a part of home life as a cup of coffee. At home or dining out, its good taste is always in good taste.

Beer belongs... Enjoy it

Plant Soybeans Deep

L. E. Cribfield, Sr. of Halls this week planted 100 acres of soybeans to a depth of two inches in a firm seedbed in the hope that when rains came they would come right up and grow up rapidly, even if there was not sufficient moisture to bring them up otherwise.

Our Experiment Station recommends that we plant Lee and Ogden beans from here on. They say beans can be planted as much as 2 1-2 inches deep with a good prospect of them germinating if they are planted against firm, moist soil. Some of our soil now just seems to have no moisture in it at any reasonable depth.

Cultivation with a rotary hoe should start soon after the soybean seedlings appear—certainly before any grass gets started. It is very essential to keep grass out of soybeans. The rotary hoe should not be used early in the morning while seedlings are brittle.

Take Soil Samples

W. O. Sugg of Halls this week sent samples of soil to the laboratory for testing to determine the fertilizers and lime needed for alfalfa to be seeded on land in September.

more every year. They are still highly profitable production expenses, but we can make them lower and make our profits higher by getting our soil tested in order to know where to invest our money to best advantage.

These soil tests are valuable for a period of three to five years after they are made. Their use does not expire in one year's time. We have the most accurate equipment that money can buy in our state laboratory and the state pays a large part of the expenses of operating the laboratory in order to guarantee that the personnel is well trained and carefully supervised. We need to make more use of these facilities.

Farmers were not able to take soil samples last year nor this spring because the ground was too wet so much of the time, but these samples should be taken and thousands of fields will produce more at less cost, if we get samples taken and tested this year.

If your subscription is due, please come in and renew now. If you do not, we will be forced to stop your Halls Graphic. If you are not already a subscriber, come in today and start it coming to you. Only $2.00 a year.

Experts Discuss Cotton's Future

An adequate supply, a reasonable farm income, a competitive one-price system, plus more research and promotion are essential if cotton is to remain competitive. Bill Perkins, Newbern, and Bob Price, Memphis, told a group of local landowners last Friday night.

The two men, representatives of the National Cotton Council, used color slides to analyze the cotton situation under three headings: (1) where we are; (2) what's being done; and (3) where we are going.

David R. Nunn, president of Bank of Halls, presided over the meeting which was held at the bank last Friday night in an effort to acquaint cotton producers with the general situation and to offer some suggestions that possibly would improve the future of cotton. The Halls Agricultural Advisory Council sponsored the meeting.

The Cotton Council representatives declared that if the objectives can be realized a total market of from 18 to 20 million bales may be achieved by 1960. Otherwise, they said, the market can slump to a total of 6 to 8 million bales.

The Cotton Council representatives pointed out that cotton is but a part of a vast world industry involving production and consumption of 70 million bales of some 40 different fibers. These go into more than 500 different major products for two and three-quarter billion customers. Of the total 70 million bales consumed in 1956, the U. S. cotton industry (Please Turn to Page 4)

'37 Class Honors HHS Principals

Tall tales of high school days, "Do you remember?" and reminiscing were the chief items of business as members of the 1937 graduating class of Halls High School got together for a re-union Friday night of last week.

Headed by C. R. Mullins of Newbern, principal in 1937, and James Smith, of Charleston, S. C., class president, more than fifty persons attended the dinner at the school cafeteria and the get-together in the high school building following dinner.

In a brief program in the high school assembly hall oil paintings of Mr. C. R. Mullins, and of James C. Peery, present HHS principal and member of the 1937 class, were presented to the school. Mr. Peery accepted the picture of Mr. Mullins for the school and Miss Hazel Griffin, HHS teacher, accepted the picture of Mr. Peery.

Those attending with class members listed first were: Fletcher and Mary Palmore Smith, of Nashville, both class members; Mrs. Blondell Pipkins Pearson and husband, Lem Pearson, of Bells; Mrs. Burnette Pipkins Liles and husband, William D. Liles, of Holly Springs, Miss.; Miss Maereba Gamble, of Memphis; Elton Cloud and Mrs. Cloud, of Memphis; Paul Lee Archibald and Mrs. Archibald, of Memphis; (Please Turn To Page 4)

Teen-Agers Charged With Car Theft

Two teen-age Dyersburg boys were turned over to Dyer County authorities Sunday morning charged with stealing a car after a wild chase through Gates, ending when the boys crashed the car they were driving into a utility pole near the Hollis Johnson home in Gates.

Capture of the two boys was made by Sheriff Willard Norvell after he received a call from Halls when the two boys acted suspiciously. Driven away here, they went to Gates where they attempted to start the car of Sonny Avery, which was parked in front of the home of his aunt, Miss Mattie Lee. Young Avery followed the boys when they attempted to drive away and Sheriff Norvell reached Gates just in time to turn them from the highway and finally capture them when the driver lost control of the car and crashed into the pole.

The car they were driving, a 1955 Ford station wagon, was badly damaged in the crash. A checkup showed the car to have been stolen from the driveway of the Drennan Albrecht home in Dyersburg earlier in the morning. The vehicle was the property of J. K. Waller of Morganville, Ky.

Insect Invasion Plagues Farmers

F. H. Paschal
County Agent

From lice and webworms on cotton to biting fleas in lawns and and termites in houses, insects and plant diseases are really giving farmers and gardeners and householders something to work at this week.

Webworms normally attack alfalfa and weeds and sometimes attack other crops in spots, but in the last two weeks they have been found over whole fields of corn, cotton and soybeans so that the application of poisons were necessary in order to save the crops.

Many cotton producers who have not found any boll weevils have gone ahead and sprayed the cotton in order to control these webworms and aphids in some cases and boll weevils and any other insects that might be present. No boll weevils have yet been found and reported anywhere in the county, but this is the week when every cotton producer should take time off and go search diligently for grown black boll weevils in the top of cotton plants. If four or more are found in 250 ft. of row, we are advised to apply poison three times at weekly intervals.

Aphids on cotton are largely being controlled by the larvae of the lady beetle. These larvae look like tiny alligators and they are very effective in cleaning the cotton of lice without themselves hurting the cotton in any way.

Grain Insects
Corn budworms which gave us fits on late corn last year are now thought by entomologists to have been a special kind of army worm which has not yet been caught in our insect traps. For that reason it is not expected that we will have the same trouble with late corn this year that we had last year, although it is certainly advisable to watch the corn and not let any type of insects get too much of a start before poison is applied.

Corn provides a special problem because we need to get spray solution to run down in the tops (Please Turn To Page 10) derdale County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Until the end of July, a farmer may either sell his "equity" in his loan cotton or redeem the cotton from the loan and then sell it in the open market. After that date, the Commodity Credit Corporation will purchase all 1957 crop cotton which is unredeemed.

Mr. Chambers said that at present prices farmers should be able to dispose of some qualities of cotton at prices that will net them a profit above the loan and charges against the cotton. According to a report received on the national cotton price-support program, this is leading to considerable redemption of loans. The Chairman cited a recent two-week period in which 100,000 bales were redeemed by farmers throughout the cotton-growing area.

By keeping in touch with trade sources, Mr. Chambers said, the individual farmer can be sure about the local price for the particular quality of cotton he has under loan and can determine what is best for him to do.

DISCUSS COTTON'S FUTURE

(Continued from Page 1) supplied 13 million; foreign cotton, 25 million; and man-made fibers, the equivalent of 17 million. Any program to make cotton more competitive in price, the Council representatives said, must be geared to lowered cost of producing, handling and processing cotton. They explained that research development and education aimed at lowering costs are receiving intensive attention in two of the Council's program divisions. Since 1946, it is estimated that without the tremendous gains that have been realized through efficiency, production costs would have increased 7 1-2 cents per pound. During this period the cost of rayon has gone up 5.2 cents per pound, while cotton has held its own. Actually, there is an opportunity to reduce cotton production costs by at least another 10 cents a pound through further efficiencies.

HOW MUCH DOES IT COST? You know, when you stop to figure how much your phone service actually costs, it's pretty cheap... only a few cents a day. Add on the taxes, though, and look what happens. Last year you paid (on the average) about $35.17 in telephone taxes. Of this, $9.96 was federal excise tax. This 10 per cent so-called luxury tax, levied as a wartime emergency measure, is a direct tax on the telephone user, and telephone service is the only household utility so taxed. We feel sure you will agree that this tax is discriminatory and should be abolished.

DADDY ALWAYS CALLS when he's out of town! When you're knee-high to a grasshopper, it's a mighty big thrill to hear daddy's big, happy voice tell his baby-lamb all the things that make her feel protected, cherished, loved. Keeping families close is just one of the nice things about Long Distance. Other nice things: it's fast, easy to use, low in cost. And remember, on all Long Distance calls: it's faster when you call by number; it's cheaper when you call station-to-station; and you get special bargain rates after 6 P.M. and all day Sunday.

MORE VOICES UNDER THE SEA. The transatlantic telephone cable completed last year between North America and Great Britain is about to have a mate. Because this first cable has been so busy and its use increased so much, another is planned for completion in 1960. The second cable, though, will bypass England and link us directly with Europe. It will be 2,400 miles long, and after it is completed will mean 36 more people can talk to Europe at the same time. Just as easy as making a long distance call right here at home. It's this kind of planning for progress that keeps telephone service growing to meet your needs—to call across the street or across the ocean.

Social Security . .

Joe P. Tipton, manager of the social security district office, located at Dyersburg, pointed out today that under certain circumstances, cash disability benefits payable under the Social Security Act must be reduced by the amount paid a disabled person by a State or Federal agency. Mr. Tipton stated that a person receiving workmen's compensation payments or other disability benefits paid by the Federal Government, (except compensation for service-connected disability) must have his cash disability benefits from the Social Security Administration reduced by the amount he receives from such an agency. "Let me," he said, "illustrate by an example. Suppose a disabled person is entitled to receive $100 a month from the Social Security Administration. His disability was covered by an industrial accident. He was awarded $60 a month workmen's compensation. He would, therefore, receive $40 a month from social security, the difference between $100 he was entitled to from social security and the $60 paid him by the Workmen's Compensation Commission."

"Veterans," Mr. Tipton continued, "are treated differently. Two types of payments are made by the Veterans Administration; either a flat pension amount because the veteran has a non-service connected disability, or a compensation payment because of a service-connected or service-aggravated condition. The veteran receiving a pension for non-service-connected disability must have social security disability checks reduced by the amount of his pension from the Veterans Administration. In some cases," Mr. Tipton stated, "a veteran may elect to take either a Veterans Administration pension or compensation. A veteran electing to take a smaller compensation check might be financially better off."

"Again," Mr. Tipton said, "this can best be illustrated by an example. John Doe as a veteran is entitled to a pension of $66.15 a month. He has a service-connected disability which would pay him $40 a month. As a disabled person, let's assume he could get $80 a month from social security. Since, however, he is getting a pension from the Veterans Administration of $66.15, he will have his social security disability check reduced to $13.90 a month.

Suppose, however, instead of taking the $66.15 from the Veterans Administration, he elects to take the $40 based on his service-connected disability. He would, therefore, receive the $40 from the Veterans Administration and the full $80 social security disability check, making a total of $120.00."

Sunday School Lesson

By Walter C. Davis, D. D., Tennessee School of Religion, University of Tennessee

Lesson for Sunday, June 29

1 Samuel 3:10-20

"Called to Speak for God"

God has a plan for every life, and obedience to His will in early years is vital to its fulfillment. For this reason it is said in Proverbs, "My son, hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother." Eli's sons defeated life's purpose by their wilful, profligate lives. This rebellion against all control and a desire to take things in their own hands lead many young people into juvenile delinquency today.

The story is that when Martin Luther was a student in the University of Erfurt, he discovered a Bible in the library and read from it for the first time in his life. It fell open at the story of the birth and call of Samuel. This simple story, so filled with sentiment and devotion, remained one of the favorite Bible passages of the great Reformer, to which he returned for comfort time and again throughout his turbulent life.

Eli stands as an example of parents who are too lenient with their children. A child's destiny rests largely in the hands of its parents. Rather than be harsh, Eli let his sons lead a wicked life, unchecked and unrestrained.

The power of example is a major aid in rearing children, but it sometimes proves inadequate. There are many good men who are not good fathers. From many good homes come delinquents who bring shame upon their parents. The home and the church working together will generally succeed. Parents living apart from the church are robbing their children of a heritage that is rightly theirs.

Evil ways do not prevail for very long. When leaders become corrupt, God has someone in training to supplant them. Eli, the high priest, was old and unable to direct the affairs of the tribes. His heart was right and he meant good. His sons, Hophni and Phinehas, were scoundrels and cared nothing for the welfare of the people. They corrupted the religious ceremonies for their own financial profit.

When Hannah prayed for a son, she dedicated him to the Lord. After his birth, to fulfill her promise, she took him to the temple to be brought up under the instruction of Eli. Many a ministry begins while the babe is yet unborn.

The call to become a minister of God, ever a divine mystery, comes to men in various ways. Amos was a farmer when the call came to him. Isaiah was a prince in the royal household when he said, "Here am I, send me." Jeremiah declared that in his mother's womb God set him apart to be His prophet. Moses' call came at the burning bush, and Luther's when his traveling companion was struck down by lightning. Most generally it is the still small voice of God in a man's soul that will not let him rest.

HALLS HIGH COACH EMPLOYED AS CONSERVATION COUNSELLOR

HHS basketball coach and teacher, Richard E. Anderson, has been employed for the summer as a conservation counsellor. He is working with State Park group camps. The duties of a conservation counsellor are many, but mainly he will be concerned with teaching youngsters phases of conservation that usually aren't included in the school curriculum. The teaching of the wise use of man's natural resources, such as soil, water, minerals and the forests will occupy most of the time devoted to conservation. The great outdoors will be the classroom used by Anderson and the other conservation counsellors employed by the State Game and Fish Commission.

 of the corn in order to kill the insects and bugs. This requires 25 to 100 gals. of poison solution per acre which adds to the cost of the poison. We found last year that 80.4 nozzles are the smallest that can be used and it is possible that two of these per row is better than one.

Brucellosis Work Progressing
 Cattle owners are doing everything possible to carry forward the testing of every cow and the vaccinating of all heifer calves in the county to get the area free of Brucellosis just as soon as possible.

The real test will come as animals are shown to have the disease and producers are requested to have their whole herds tested again and perhaps again until every reactor is eliminated from the herd.

Many cattle producers know too well just how much Brucellosis can cost them. A Dyer County farmer recently stated that his wife was in the hospital with Undulant Fever and had been repeatedly over a period of several months and that he had lost three herds of cattle, all from Brucellosis. He was glad that our whole area is to be cleared of this expensive disease.

Woody Plants Killer
 Poison ivy, "cow itch" vines and many woody plants can be easily and cheaply killed by a watery solution of 2,4,5-T or mixture of 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T which is usually called "brush killer" in stores. Use three tablespoons of liquid to a gallon of water and spray the whole plant. This material has the advantage that it kills all the roots of the plant as well as the part above ground so that it will not come back again. The same material can be used to prevent resprouting by making an oil solution and spraying on stumps where brush or trees are cut. This solution will vaporize and travel for several hundred feet and injure highly susceptible plants such as tomatoes and cotton; so it should not be used close to these plants. It is also very difficult to wash out of a sprayer. It is safer just to not use the same sprayer for killing insects in a garden or otherwise spraying tender plants after it has once been used for this material.
