County Agent Notes

with F. H. PASCHAL
County and Home Agents and office secretaries from the ten counties nearest Lauderdale met in Ripley Monday and Tuesday of this week to study the filing system which can be installed in the County Extension Office in Ripley as a pilot operation, beginning last May.

Dr. D. M. Thorpe, Asst. Extension Director, Knoxville, and H. T. Short and Miss Estelle Vines; District Agents, Jackson, conducted the meetings.

This new filing system to be installed in all County Extension Offices is another step in trying to make Extension work serve farm people better. Lauderdale County people are fortunate in having a County Extension Office under the Post Office in Ripley which has enough space and equipment that it can serve the people of the county effectively.

Farm Machinery Studied
Charles Alsbrook and Roy M. Cook, Jr. of Halls, Herbert Latam of Ripley, and John Emerson of Gates were new attendants at the Farm Management School held Tuesday of this week at the Farm Bureau Bldg. at Ripley. Eugene DeBusk, Extension Engineer, Knoxville, gave the 35 farm managers in attendance some really good information on which to base decisions on the purchases of new or different farm machinery.

Farmers are human beings and they all have pride in accomplishment and want to keep up with their neighbors in the possession of equipment as well as automobiles and home conveniences. This can cause us to buy expensive equipment before we have enough volume of certain jobs to justify the expense. The hiring of custom operators to do some jobs on some farms can cost much less than the purchase and ownership of an extra machine.

At the same time, when there is sufficient volume to justify the purchase of a machine and when the machine will be cared for and operated efficiently, it can greatly increase the net income of the farm operator.

The class session at the Farm Management School next week will be led by Mr. Goddard of Ames Plantation, and Joe Burns, Extension Agronomist, on Leasing and Rental Arrangements and pasture and hay production. Farmers are urged to visit this school at 1:30 on Tuesday.

Plan Cotton Weed Control
Many cotton producers over the county are giving serious consideration to the use of chemicals which will be sprayed in a band about 12 inches wide on top of cotton rows just behind planting to control annual weeds and grass for four to six weeks at a cost of less than $2.50 per acre.

This is not too early to decide to do this and to go ahead and get equipment that will be needed to carry out this operation and get that equipment on tractors and planters and try it out just as soon as the weather is a little warmer, so that it will actually be ready to operate at planting time.

This new equipment cannot be decided on, bought, installed, and put into operation so that the right amount of chemical is being applied per acre just in a few minutes time.

In many cases, it will take two men from one to two days to get this equipment in operation after it appears that it is ready to go. This time should be allowed now and these jobs should be started now rather than waiting till April 15.

Types of Equipment
The cheapest chemical we have which will do a good job on pre-emergence control of weeds in (Continued On Page Four)

Sunday School Lesson

By Walter C. Dachs, B. D., Tennessee School of Religion, Oakwood, Tenn.

Lesson for Sunday, February 12 John 9:24-38

"Christ Opens Blind Eyes" This man's world had always been dark, even from birth. He had never seen his mother's face.

He was in no mood to discuss purely dialectical questions of theology. "Whether he is a sinner," he said, "I do not know, but I know he opened my eyes."

One of the big questions was who sinned—this man or his parents—that he was born blind. We cannot always give a reason for our afflictions.

They give this railroad its spirit!
Every year we spend a lot of money buying better tools of transportation. Our shopping list is long: diesel locomotives with more muscle... welded rail that takes the thump and click out of rolling wheels... centralized traffic control that makes one track do the work of two... damage-free freight cars that cushion shipments against harm... piggy-back cars that deliver freight door-to-door... electronic computers that come up with answers faster than questions can be asked.

CLAY'S FUNERAL HOME
"YOUR COLORED FUNERAL DIRECTOR"
The Resident of this and surrounding areas are offered 24 hour ambulance service by Clay's Funeral Home located at 168 College, in Ripley, phone 671. It is a comfort to know that they are always on hand with trained attendants and the most modern equipment.
Their years of successful experience combined with the most comprehensive knowledge of the proper manner in conducting funerals has made the name Clay's Funeral Home outstanding in this area. The memory of reverence and dignity, which is a prominent part of their service, has comforted many people in their time of grief.
Every service is conducted with an air of quietness and restfulness by those in attendance. From the moment they are called until the final duties are performed, not the least semblance of confusion serves to mar the thoughtful, professional service.
In this Review of Ripley we are pleased to recommend Clay's Funeral Home to all our colored citizens.

cotton requires constant attention in the task. This means there must be some change made in the regular spray system in order for it to do a good job applying chemicals on the ground.
We have new equipment which puts down granulated forms of some chemicals for corn or soybeans, but so far, we have no granular chemical that will do a satisfactory job on cotton. The equipment is lighter in weight and can be operated directly off the tractor without being connected to the tractor.
These chemicals which we apply on top of the ground when we plant will not control Johnson grass, cockspur, or proso millet, nor Bermuda grass.

IN MEMORIAM
In memory of our loving husband, father and grandfather, Joe Frank Steyer.
He is smiling way ahead and peace.
Are a pleasure to recall: He had a kindly word for each. And lived beloved by all. Some day we hope to meet him. Some day we know not when. To clasp his hand in the better land. Never to part again.
There is no doubt in my mind but that the new Administration will make a concerted effort to increase farm income in 1961. It will be difficult to get around all commodities and all problems but every effort is now being made to try and get to the root of the farm problem. As an illustration, it now looks as though the price we will receive for our 1961 crop of cotton will be raised to at least 30 percent of parity. In 1960, the figure was approximately 75 percent. This will give an increase in price

Sunday School Lesson By Walter C. Davis, D. D., Tennessee School of Religion, University of Tennessee Lesson For Sunday, Feb. 19 John 11: 17-27, 38-44

"Lord of Life and Death" Plymouth Colony did not begin on the granite boulder in Cape Cod Bay. It was organized in the old country, a "patent" secured from the London company. After carefully gathering supplies of seed and tools and other necessities, the colony set sail on the Mayflower. That is exactly what St. Paul calls the church: "Now we are a colony of heaven, and we wait for the Savior who came from heaven (Philippians 3:20, Moffatt).

The writer of Hebrews, who has been understanding, said that Christ is made a priest forever, not by bodily descent but by "the power of an endless life" (Hebrews 7:16). John looked upon Christ's power over death as a "sign" of what He would do for His people forever and ever. Dr. James Stewart wisely says that every worshiping congregation "is a community of the resurrection."

The Gospel would not be complete if it did not tell of the raising of Lazarus. That is what Jesus came into the world for - to give life. Jesus did not go to any man when they sent for Him. He was never in a hurry. All things were in His hand. "For your sake I am glad if I was not here." A greater miracle than healing was in store.

Matha, bearing up under the strain went out to meet Him, even to the limits of the village. Mary lingered with her sorrow. Martha voiced the sentiment of both hearts, "If you had been here, my brother would not have died." It was not a rebuke. There surged in her heart a hope: "Even now I know that whatever you ask of God, God will give you."

"If a man die..." There is no "if" about that. We all must die. The question is, "Shall we live again?" If you tell me that we must all die and that is the end, I would answer, "That is your word." It is not mine. It was not John's word. He pre-

Those of you who are engaged in farming are identified with the nation's biggest industry. Today, farming employs 7.4 million workers. This is more than is employed by either the steel or automobile industry. Today, four out of ten jobs in private employment are related to agriculture. We have ten million people who are busy storing, transporting, processing and merchandising agricultural products. Six million people have jobs that provide supplies that farmers use. The farmer spends from $25 to $35 billion a year for goods and services to produce crops and livestock; and $15 billion a year for the same things that city people buy, such as food, clothing, drugs, furniture, appliances and many other products and services.

The story goes on and on about how much we farmers and our families, contribute to the nation's economy, yet many times we hear about how farmers are "labeled off" the government. Seriously, we need a much better understanding today among city and farm people about how the success of one depends upon the success of the other. We need to realize that when one prospers, he does not and should not do it at the expense of the other. We can all enjoy prosperity at the same time and still be good neighbors. There should be no fight between the two groups, but simply a better understanding of each other's problems.

Keeping accurate and complete records of all income and expenses in just good business all the time, but it is particularly important when it is time to file income tax returns. Farmers May Seek Early Measuring of Cotton Acreage

By W. B. Hall

Cotton farmers who desire to have their 1961 cotton acreage allotment measured prior to planting time must file a written request with the county ASG office not later than February 28, 1961, and pay the cost of this service.

The rate to be charged for the service has been established at $4.00 per farm, plus 50 cents per acre, or fraction thereof, in the farm acreage allotment.

This service is optional and offered only if a person desires an official measurement to use in planting cotton acreage this year.

We will measure all the acreage of cotton in the county as soon as possible after the crop is planted in the field to determine compliance with the acreage allotment marketing quota and sell program. When performance is checked, the farm will be considered to be within the farm acreage allotment. If the crop is planted within the prescribed area.

Members of her court will be Betty Booth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Booth of Tulsa; Susan Garner, daughter of the Rev. L. M. Garner of Monroe, Mo.; Jody Kay Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Rogers of Parsons, and Vicki Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Cole of Milan.

this season at the Farm Bureau Bldg. at 1300. New Cotton Gains Julius Hunt of Edith Community last year made 30 bales of cotton on 21 acres on which he grew mostly the new Dixie King variety, which he likes very much.

He also planted some Deltapine Smooth Leaf, which is another one of the newer varieties being grown by more farmers each year. The new bulletin listing the 1960 performance trials of varieties of corn, cotton, soybeans, grain sorghum, and other crops is now available free on request to the County Agents Office. With so many new varieties being developed by Experiment Stations and seed companies, this report on relative yielding ability provides farmers important information.

Changes Made in SS Requirements

"One question we hear a lot," says N. Farris Vaden, district manager of the Dyersburg Social Security Office, "is how much social security credit is needed for people to qualify for old-age or survivors' benefits?" Today, this newspaper offered Mr. Vaden the opportunity to give the answer.

The new law, however, specifies that this worker now needs social security credit equal to only one year for each three years after 1950 and up to the year he reaches retirement age or dies. Under both the old and the new law, the social security credit needed can be earned any time after 1936 — no one needs credit for more than 10 years' work, and a minimum of a year and a half of work under social security is always required.

Because of the new law, many people who have had their claims for old-age or survivors' benefits rejected because of lack of sufficient work credit, may now be eligible. For instance, all workers who reached retirement age (65 for men, 62 for women) before 1957 need credit for only 1 1/2 years of work under social security to be eligible. Under the old law, only people who reached retirement age before July 1954 could qualify with credit for only 1 1/2 years of work.

Mr. Vaden urged people who have had an application for benefits turned down, or who have failed to apply or report because of insufficient social security credit, to get in touch again with the Dyersburg Social Security Office. They may now be eligible for benefits. The address of the Dyersburg Office is First Citizens National Bank Building, Dyersburg, Tennessee.

Down on the Farm

With ED JONES, Agricultural Agent, State Control District USELESS DESTRUCTION This season of the year brings many useless and destructive fires. Many of them are deliberate at the first sign of spring.

They not only get out of control and destroy much property, but they are also dangerous when they are intended to do good. No matter how much good one might expect of setting grass on fire to the land is another and that when grass emerges that it can be seen sooner. This in itself is a poor farm practice.

Instead of setting fires, let's fertilize, lime and plow these areas. You will be surprised at the extra growth that can be obtained when you try these well known and recommended practices. Did you know? If you want to be successful, it isn't enough to keep your feet

Good programs of farming, yard keeping and gardening will put an end to such destruction and it would at the same time call for a more beautiful countryside. Although the first sign of grass appears where fire has been set, this does not imply that it is a good practice, nor does it mean that more grass grows here. All it means is that the surface of on the ground get to keep them moving. Don't forget that early gardening always pays — and it costs little if all is lost.
