Soybeans Supported at $2.30 Per Bushel

Price support for soybeans produced in 1961 will be available to farmers who maintain their normal acreage of conservation use and idle land. This requirement for soybean price support eligibility is in addition to the longstanding items of storage, moisture content, and grade.

If farmers expect to be eligible for soybean price support this year they need to take the necessary steps to be sure that they have a total acreage of conservation and idle land equal to: (1) The average number of acres in land devoted to conservation use on the farm for 1959 and 1960, plus (2) the average number of acres of idle land on the farm for 1959 and 1960.

For the purpose of this special requirement "conserving land" is farm land normally devoted to generally accepted conservation use and "idle land" is all other farm land not normally devoted to crop production or to conservation use. It is to be noted that all land on the farm to be considered in this determination rather than crop land only.

The national average price support for soybeans produced in 1961 is $2.30 a bushel, which is 45¢ per bushel higher than for 1960. Soybeans must grade No. 4 or better and contain not more than 14 percent moisture. The beans must also be in adequate storage. Loans and purchase agreements will be available from time of harvest to January 31, 1962.

Driver Education Needed Is Claim

More effective driver education and real enforcement of laws governing vehicle stops at railroad crossings are essential if needless loss of life and destruction of property are to be avoided, in opinion of Wayne A. Johnson, of Chicago, president of the Illinois Central Railroad.

Mr. Johnson's comment followed the release of a report of the Interstate Commerce Commission into its investigation of the tragic accident at Magnolia, Miss., on January 27, 1961, which claimed eight lives. On that date a passenger train carrying 500 passengers and one truck carelessly drove into the path of the Chicago-bound passenger train. The train's engineer and fireman were killed as were the driver of the truck and five workmen. (Please Turn to Page 4)

Horse Lovers to Ride Mondays, Thursdays

The Riding Season for the Halls Bit and Spur Club was opened last Thursday night with 75 riders and horses forming a parade led by Miss Connie Elmore, attractively attired in a very stylish riding habit and riding her favorite mount, Trouble, saddled with side saddle representing the middle 19th century. Following were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lewis of Gates riding in a late model buggy equipped with convertible top and rubber tires, so very popular in the middle 19th century. Next in line were the flag bearing mounts and out modern-day riders. Bringing up the rear was a 1961 model pony cart driven by Don Patton with Paula and Beth Dunaway as passengers.

Members of the parade returned to the riding ring on the Old Air Base north of Halls where they were met at the entrance gate by the Club President, N. G. Parrish. He escorted the group to the riding ring in single file where they were asked to stand attention during the playing of our National Anthem. After a short welcome address by the club president, the next command was "all at ease and ride at will."

All present reported a very enjoyable evening of riding. Regular riding nights will be Monday and Thursday of each week.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

Vacation Bible Schools have been in session this week at the Methodist and Baptist Churches in Halls. Both have reported as having good attendances.

I am happy to be able to discuss with you briefly this week the plan developed by Mrs. C. Frank Scott and our Department of Public Welfare to begin operation of the program of medical care for the aging.

This is the program which was made possible by the Kerr-Mills Act which passed Congress last year, and for which the 1961 General Assembly laid the groundwork.

The program is, of course, rather complicated, but since the department figures showed there are more than 300,000 Tennesseans above the age of 65, and that about 110,000 of these persons will be eligible to participate, I feel this information will be of widespread interest.

Briefly, here are the requirements. If you have any questions, I am sure your local office of the Welfare Department will be happy to answer them for you. You must be 65 or over, and not a patient in any state institution or suffering from tuberculosis, leprosy or psychosis. You must not be receiving assistance under any existing program, or eligible to receive it. A physician must will pay 75 per cent of the cost of this program, the state will pay 20 per cent and you must be unable to meet the state's share for the cost of your hospital care, and your hospital expenses for the year must not exceed $100.

If you meet these standards, you may receive up to 10 days at no cost to you, or up to 30 days at 50 percent. In determining whether you are

County Agent Notes

with F. R. PANKHURST
Douglas Hurt of Halls, E. B. Wilson and Surt Morris of Ripley, and a lot of other farmers this week found armyworms and cutworms in cover crops, perennial pastures, and small grains.

Some cut the infested pastures or cover crops for hay and sprayed the remaining growth in order to prevent the worms going into cotton, corn, soybeans, or other crops. Some applied a half gallon of toxaphene or a quart of dieldrin liquid per acre to kill the worms far enough ahead of harvest that the grain can be used for food and feed.

Dieldrin and toxaphene may be applied to small grain within seven days of harvest. Pastures cannot be grazed nor straw fed or shipped within 30 days of application of dieldrin. Forage or straw sprayed with toxaphene cannot be fed to milking dairy animals or fattening slaughter cattle, nor can the hay be shipped inter-state or sold. This problem of killing insects and protecting our health at the same time is making it necessary that farmers and insecticide companies study the restrictions that are placed on the use of the many wonderful materials recently developed.

For instance, DDT kills cutworms, but it cannot be applied to wheat after heads form, according to Federal regulation, because it is likely to get into the products made from the wheat.

Rotary Hoes Running
At least 200 farm operators in Lauderdale County are this year using pre-emergence chemicals to control weeds in cotton, corn and soybeans. Fully 500 will apply 2,4-D to corn for the control of cocklebur and other broadleaf weeds when the corn is from one to three feet tall.

The cost of hoeing these various crops brought about the use of these pre-emergence chemicals. But rotary hoes were being used to reduce the cost of hoeing over the last 15 years by more and more farmers. This year they are really being used as much as possible.

William Douglas and Hunt Morris of Ripley set the pace this week for hundreds of other farmers all over the county who were running their rotary hoes over everything on the place — cotton, corn and soybeans.

These rotary hoes run at 40 to 50 acres per day and save more hoeing than any machine ever invented.

Rotary hoes can be run over corn, cotton and soybeans three or four times, till the crops are six inches tall. Shallow cultivation in the middles can make it possible for crops to grow more rapidly, because roots are not cut.

Actually, chemical weed control methods have shown us that the only reason we need to cultivate crops at all is to control weeds and grass. If we never allowed our cultivators to go more than one inch deep, we would probably make higher yields than we are making, because most farmers still feel like it is "trifling" to do shallow cultivation.

Kill Soybean Weeds
Alanap 3 and Naplor are the two chemicals recommended for pre-emergence weed control in soybeans.

Both of these will kill the cocklebur seeds in the upper quarter inch of soil, but will not kill those which come up from below. They will not kill Johnson grass nor "cow itch" vines.

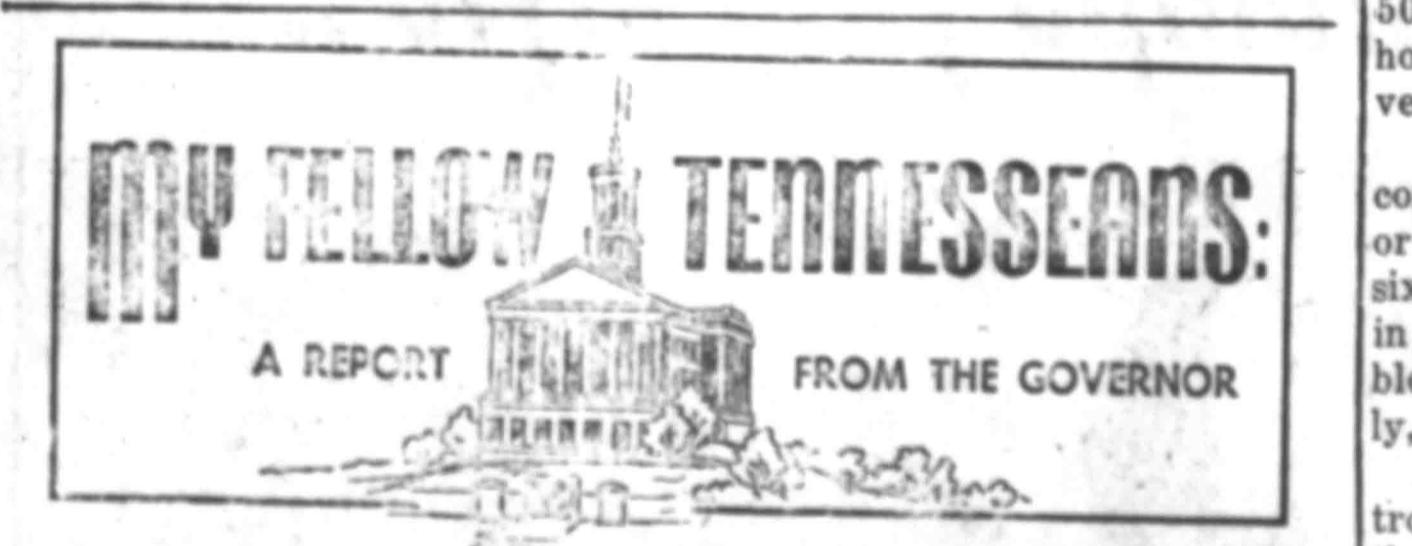

They will control crab grass, morning glories, and all the other common annual weeds. They will not injure soybeans if they are planted an inch deep and covered. Naplor is a new material which was just approved by the Federal government in January, 1961, but it has been tested at Experiment Stations for the last five years and is recommended on a trial basis. Alanap 3 is recommended by the Experiment Station on the same basis.

Three Injured In Weekend Wrecks

Three men were injured in two separate automobile accidents during the weekend according to Highway Patrolman Joe Jacobs. Friday evening about 5:30 James Lowrey, of Halls, suffered a dislocated left hip and broken ribs when the 1961 Ford convertible he was driving went off the east side of Highway 51, swerved across the road, struck a concrete post and wound up in a plowed field. Lowrey was carried to Campbell's Clinic in Memphis. He was enroute home from Dyersburg where he is employed as a truck driver. Trooper Jacobs said the accident is still under investigation.

Saturday night about 10:30 William Bates and Arthur Dupree were injured when the 1959 Chevrolet driven by Bates struck the bridge abutment over Cold Creek on the Edith-Central road, and wound up in the lawn of a nearby house. Bates and Dupree suffered cuts and bruises about the face and head. Trooper Jacobs said Bates has been charged with drunken driving.

Trouble that looks like a mountain from a distance, usually is only a hill when you get to it.

I am happy to be able to discuss with you briefly this week the plan developed by Mrs. C. Frank Scott and our Department of Public Welfare to begin operation of the program of medical care for the aging.

This is the program which was made possible by the Kerr-Mills Act which passed Congress last year, and for which the 1961 General Assembly laid the groundwork.

TOP PERFORMANCE: Shell test crew reveals five ways to test your car for top performance—and how the 9 ingredients in today's Super Shell can help you get it

1. Did your car accelerate smoothly—with no faltering, no bogging down?
2. Do you have plenty of power to pass?
3. Finally, fill your tank to the brim again. Add up all the gallons you've bought (not counting the initial fill-up in step 1). Divide this amount into your total miles driven. This gives you your miles per gallon.
4. Accelerate up a long, steep hill and listen carefully. If you hear a sound like marbles falling into an empty oil drum, you've got knock. It could cause engine trouble.
5. Start your test by filling your tank. Make sure the gasoline comes up to the brim. Write down your mileage reading.

Super Shell now contains 2 octane boosters; 1 mileage booster; 1 quick-start component; 1 anti-knock aid; 1 gear protector; 1 anti-stall ingredient; and new improved TCP. These nine ingredients all work together to give you car top performance.

 St. Walter C. Davis, D. D., Tennessee School of Religion, University of Tennessee
 Lesson for Sunday, June 11
 Ecclesiastes 12:1-8; 2 Timothy 4:1-8

"Two Views of Life"
 The advice given by "The Preacher" in Ecclesiastes is "Get all the good you can out of what remains of life." In contrast, the Christian ideal is, "Do all the good you can while you have opportunity, before the night cometh when no man can work."

seems, coming back again to the starting place. He looked at life with a tired smile of resignation.

"Vanity of vanity. Life has no goal and no meaning. Futility above these were the words of a young man strayed by pessimism but were the result of much thinking and investigation. So the old man says to youth, "remember thy creator in the days of your youth." You will get old too. You must not make God an afterthought.

Great attention is given nowadays to making the "sunset years" of older ones happy. The church does well to build rest homes, offer fellowship, see that all necessities are met. But the lesson shouts the call: Remember your creator in your youth; begin serving Him while young; serve Him all through your days for nothing can bring sweetness to the fading years like the consciousness of a life unstained by sin and disloyalty; a life "hid with Christ in God."

Teamsters (and others) want Congress to stop it Do you?

This is a picture of a great new money-saver for hauling automobiles from factory to you. Who says so? James Hoffa, president of the Teamsters. His own teamster magazine quotes him as saying railroad rates for hauling automobiles "in many instances are more than 50% below the rates charged by truck-hauling companies."

This is transportation you pay for when you buy a new car. Yet the teamsters want such money-saving rates stopped. Why? Because the truckers' higher rates are losing them business. As though that were more important than saving money for the public.

The teamsters, truckers and barge operators don't say what's best for you, only what's best for them. We say that for your benefit, whoever can do the more economical, better job should get the business. Any law that prevents either trucks, rails or barges from doing their best for the public is a bad law, bad for you, bad for America.

The teamsters, truckers and barge operators are flooding Congress with messages urging the passage of bill S.1197 to curtail our rights to make rates that save the public money. How do you feel about this? Let your Congressmen and Senators know. A four-cent stamp can save you a lot of money.

$260 million invested to save you money

We can save you money on freight rates largely because we've invested $260 million in improvements to the Illinois Central in the past 10 years. We believe in earning the friendship and patronage of those we serve.

INDUSTRY NEED

The immediate goals included: 1. A service plant to employ women. This is a requirement unique among small Tennessee towns...

2. A furniture factory to use lumber from a large region-wide lumber distribution center established four years ago in the industrial subdivision.

3. A small electric appliance or electric equipment manufacturing plant to employ approximately 125 men.

4. A quick freeze or other type of freezing or canning plant for quick freezing now in for sale in the community whose rural

Refinishing furniture has long been considered a tedious step-by-step job that only an expert can do properly.

While this still holds true for the fastidious, most of us will find the new low-luster varnish high satisfactory. The Fast sets in five minutes, because built into it is the magic of drying in a soft, hand-curved finish. No skill at all is required to produce the effort heretofore achieved only by lots of effort and considerable know-how.

Simply take off the old finish with one of the new paint and varnish removers that wash off with water. If the varnish washes off, take out too much of the stain it will remove. Then apply Fast Set varnish with a clean brush.

Your neighbors will be sure your furniture was expensively refinished by a professional.

They'll be sure you did it yourself.

Mayor Jordan, Henderson and Puckett, all expressed pride in Halls' industry recruiting achievements to date.

These four plants and one lumber distribution center now in operation provide employment for from 200 to 250 workers. The plants and their present employment include: a fertilizer plant and seed packaging and grading plant operated by Tennessee Farmers' Cooperative, 40 workers, a private seed packaging distribution center, 25 jobs; a plant that manufactures wooden cabinets for electric sewing machines, 125 jobs.

HEALTHY EVENTS HONOR MISS NANCY CONNELL. A task at the lovely brick home of Mrs. Wynona Hull last Thursday afternoon honored Miss Nancy Connell, bride-elect of Thomas Martin...

Continuing the series of events for Miss Nancy Connell, popular bride-elect, was the kitchen show given Friday at three p. m. at the home of Mrs. E. S. Crichfield. Co-hostesses were Mrs. David Nunn and Mrs. Stuart Crichfield of Memphis...

Compliment Bride-Elect Blue and white denoted the color theme when Miss Carolyn McCordie and Mrs. E. S. Crichfield complimented Miss Connell at her home Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock. For the affair Miss Connell wore a smartly tailored yellow suit dress with black patent accessories. Dark blue corset measuring cups were attached to the white carnation corsage which was the gift of her hostesses. Informality was the keynote of the afternoon as the guests chatted together and enjoyed two contests, one of which the honor guest won. Ice cream balls rolled in nuts and soaked coconut and individual cakes were served. Blue coffee measuring cups containing nuts served as favors. The napkins as well as the cakes further carried out the color theme. The honoree was presented a dessert plate in her every day china by the hostesses. Guest included the honoree, Mrs. Connell, Mrs. Mac Pritchett of Martin, Mrs. James Cannon of Meridian, Miss. Mrs. John McBaum of New Orleans, La., and Mrs. Wynona Hull of Halls. At the close of the luncheon Miss Connell presented gifts to her bridesmaids.

Each guest had brought her favorite recipe and read it aloud to the group. Recipes were exchanged among the guests before giving them to the honoree with the gift each had brought for her kitchen. Orange juice with pineapple sherbet, delicious cookies and salted nuts were served the following guests: Mrs. Ross Dyer, Mrs. Billy Spence, Mrs. Marvin Hamford, Mrs. Robert Craddock, Mrs. Jerry Horner, Mrs. Neil Dyer, Miss Carolyn McCordie, Miss Blanche Nunn, all of Halls; Mrs. Mac Pritchett of Martin and Mrs. Richard Roland of Tampa, Fla. Arrangements of pasties and magnolias were used to decorate for the party. A centerpiece of pink roses and larkspur in a milk glass epergne was used on the dining room table for the kind things you did or will forever be for God's rible blessing on each and everyone of our guests. The spot was of plentiful and delicious and the flowers were gorgeous. Again I thank you sincerely and my prayers for you. MRS. R. D. VAUGHN - Driv. Slower, Live Longer -

If the church substitutes social service for its God-given mission of preaching the gospel it will die.

Here's the design for
COOL COOKING

Heat from an electric cooking unit radiates into the pot and pan... not into your kitchen. That's why modern kitchens stay up to 16 degrees cooler than kitchens using an old-fashioned fuel-type stove. Coolness while cooking is another reason eight out of ten homemakers in the Tennessee Valley use an electric range. Your appliance dealer has the design for cool cooking. See him today!

Lesson for Sunday, June 25
James 2:8-17; 5:7-11
"The Fruits of Faith"

Not long ago, Americans were shocked when a group of unorthodox practices in price fixing and it was shown that many of them were active members of the church and even on the official board. This conflict between Christian profession and actual conduct raises the question of whether we can live the Christian life in our present-day competitive life.

It raises the old question of faith and works. Some claim that there is a conflict between James and Paul in this teaching. If studied carefully it is evident there is no conflict. Paul plainly teaches that we do not work by grace through faith, and practically all churches have that doctrine in their statement of faith.

James does not teach a "different gospel." He does emphasize to take over monthly payments on a spinet piano. Can be seen to intellectual agent to the gospel. Write Credit Manager, P. and Co., Box 128, Shelbyville, Tenn. For as 6-23 Luther put it, "Faith is a living, active thing, and he who has faith does not ask if he is to do good works but he is already busy doing them." education, refinement and income. The church ought to override such distinctions, break down cultural walls, and attract rich and poor. It was said of a great preacher that his strength was the fact he could appeal to the laborer and housemaid as well as to the lawyer, physician and professor.

While the church is a community of believers, we cannot shut our eyes to moral conditions about us. We have a duty to state to our confused world what the Christian life should be and set standards of morality for our day. But that must not be our primary activity, to the neglect of evangelism and winning of souls.

The leaders in one of our major denominations have warned that there is a growing danger if we become a church of "the middle class" to the neglect of both the uneducated and the top echelon of society. The church must strive to reach people of all classes and cultures.

A church editor analyzes the statistics figures of his own denomination. For the year 1960 enough new members were gained to make a city of 232,000 people. Just also during that year, enough members were lost to make a city of 212,000. The net growth was less than one percent. Some moved to the suburbs, but nearly half the losses were due to being "dropped" from the rolls—moved or disappeared, address unknown, or faith without works is dead."

It is inevitable that some will slip away. We have active concerns for them. The seed of the word does not always fall on good ground. "The forces of evil are always ready to kidnap the souls of the children of light." James here counsels patience and keeping evangelizing at it.

A triple row of nuptial mass of imported English lilies was secured in place by a pearl crown. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of phloxes and gerberas and lilies of the valley.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Cooper wore a blue dress and blue and white accessories. Her coronet consisted of white cymbidium orchids.

Immediately following the wedding the bride's parents entertained with a reception at the home on West Tipton Street. The receiving line was formed on the porch of the lovely home with tall baskets of white gladioli as a background. In the living room there was a fan shaped bouquet of gladioli and stock in front of the fireplace.

COOL COOKING

Heat from an electric cooking unit radiates into the pot and pan . . . not into your kitchen. That's why modern kitchens stay up to 16 degrees cooler than kitchens using an old-fashioned fuel-type stove. Coolness while cooking is another reason eight out of ten homemakers in the Tennessee Valley use an electric range. Your appliance dealer has the design for cool cooking. See him today!
