U. S. Saturn Rips Space As Russia Blows Big Bomb

West's Largest Rocket Has Perfect Trip; Red Blast Raises Fall-Out Levels

The maiden flight of the free world's largest rocket, the Saturn, was accomplished "perfectly" only days before this week's test explosion, by Russia, of the largest explosive device ever detonated—equivalent to much more than 50,000,000 tons of TNT.

The Saturn—barged past Lauderdale County early in August—was fired from Cape Canaveral, Fla., with eight engines functioning perfectly to hurl 920,000 pounds into outer space and back again. The rocket landed, eight minutes later, within seven miles of predicted target, 225 miles away.

After nine more test launchings, the Saturn is slated to take three men into space. Eventually, it's expected to fulfill President Kennedy's pledge of Americans on the moon by 1970.

The Russian bomb sent deadly rays into the sky, part of which will come down as "fall-out" all over the world within the next few days, but not in amounts large enough for alarm. Most will come down next spring, but, again, the free world's concern is more with a gradual build-up of the radioactivity in the atmosphere than with the effects from any single nuclear test. Exposure to fall out is believed to be dangerous on the same principle as exposure to X-rays—small amounts create no danger but prolonged exposure to larger amounts may imperil health.

Halls Man Cut As Cadillac Collides

DYERSBURG, Nov. 2.—Thelbert Almond, 53, of Tigrett, entered Parkway Hospital here, cut and bruised, after a head-on collision with J. W. Perry, of Halls.

Mr. Perry had less severe cuts and did not enter the hospital. His 1956 Cadillac was badly damaged in the accident on Highway 51 south of Dyersburg, 50 feet south of Airport Road, and Almond's 1954 Plymouth was a total loss, the Highway Patrol said.

Almond was going south, the patrol said, when the collision occurred, about 6:30 p. m. Monday of last week.

Mrs. Stalnecker To Sing In Halls

Former Bette Paschal Will Present Religious Music; Second Album Appearing

Mrs. Bette Stalnecker, of Memphis, daughter of Extension agent and Mrs. Farmer Paschal, of Ripley, is to present a program of religious music at First Baptist Church in Halls at 7:45 p. m. next Thursday, Nov. 9th, under sponsorship of the church choir.

A graduate of Louisiana State University College of Music, Mrs. Stalnecker is soloist for Bellevue Baptist Church in Memphis and a recording artist. Her first album, "He Reached Down His Hand To Me," was widely praised, and another, "You'll Never Walk Alone," is scheduled for release this week.

Accompanying her to Halls will be her husband, Ed Stalnecker, musician and composer active with the Layman's Evangelistic and Educational Association; an organist, David Tyson; and a pianist.

Mr. Tyson is organist for Lamar Heights Baptist Church and a recording artist. He and Mr. Stalnecker collaborated on the arrangements for the new album.

The Stalneckers have two young sons, Ricky and Loren.

The public is cordially invited to hear Mrs. Stalnecker.

Going Away Party Fetes The Sneads

John Snead, minister of music at First Baptist Church in Halls the past 18 months, and Mrs. Snead were honored with a going-away party by choir members of the church on Wednesday evening of last week, following his resignation to go to Malessus Baptist Church.

Before the refreshments were served, gifts were presented the couple from the church.

END OF STOLEN CAR CHASE

S. N. Anthony, Jr. Has Best Bid For School Insurance

Awarded All Fire Policies As Mutual Firms' Agent; Woodard Covers Busses

S. N. Anthony, Jr., Monday night captured all fire insurance on the schools of the county on low bid of $7,890.14 premium per year over a three-year period.

He bid as agent for two mutual companies—Abington Mutual Fire Insurance Co., of Abington, Mass., and the Mutual Fire Underwriters Association of New England.

Milton Woodard, representing another mutual company, M. F. A. Insurance, was second low bidder on the fire insurance but captured the vehicle insurance for nine months at $1,167.30 premium.

The mutual bids on fire insurance ranged about $1,500 per year below the group bid of nine full-time stock company agents in the county.

One of them, Ed Samrow, of Halls, warned the board that should any unusual loss through a mutual company into receivership, the county could be assessed for additional premiums to satisfy any claims against the company.

Another, R. T. Pollard, Jr., said he or any other of the group "could have gone out and gotten some small mutual company to place the insurance with, and will next time if the county is going to buy cheap insurance, considering only the price and not the quality of the coverage."

The board will cancel present insurance, paying cancellation penalties, to take much of the coverage it has awarded on low bid, effecting cash savings despite the penalties.

The fire insurance on all schools is for $2,729,970.

Slash Bus Service Five Days Weekly

Southern Greyhound Lines has received permission from the state Public Service Commission—after seven postponements ordered over a three-year period—to eliminate two daily bus runs through Lauderdale County, Mondays through Fridays.

Discontinued, effective immediately, are the northbound bus through the county about noon and the southbound bus through the county about 8:30 p. m. Greyhound claimed revenues didn't meet expenses.

Former Countian To Talk Of Africa

Miss Josephine Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Reed, who formerly operated a hardware store in Halls, will tell the Women's Missionary Union of First Baptist Church in Halls Monday night of her experiences as missionary with the Africa Inland Mission.

Miss Reed, home in Memphis on her third furlough since entering mission work in 1944, will describe her work in Kenya. The public is invited to hear her during the meeting, to begin at 7:30.

J2X, Racing Sunday, Said To Hit 120 Miles Per Hour

Due in Halls for air base racing Sunday is a J2X Allard which Phil Cohen, of Memphis, purchased last year from Clarence Camp after the 1953 model, used by Camp to pace Lehi, Ark., stock-car races, had been in storage since 1955. With a 1957 Chevrolet V-8 engine under the hood, the English machine is reputed to hit 120 m. p. h. Allard swept many European races in the early 1950s.

NEW FACES DO COUNTY TEAMS' CLASH

CAMPBELL'S DUCK SOUP—The end around, as practiced by Halls' Billy Campbell (42), here pursued by Ripley's Lucian Herron (88) and Jim Coffman (85), yielded Halls' third and final TD last Friday night in 60 yards on six plays, of which this, the fourth, picked up seven yards. Campbell finished off the drive from the eight for his second tally of the game as Halls, though losing 40-20, posted more points than against any previous victorious opponent of the year, in eight starts.

Livestock Tips To Five From County At Ames Field Day

By F. H. Paschal

C. S. Carney, W. L. Partain, R. G. Evans, Charles Peal, and F. H. Paschal attended a field day at Ames Plantation Wednesday of last week to study methods of feeding cattle and hogs for increased profits, to get an explanation of the most effective methods of feeding out young purebred bulls, and to hear an explanation of the effects of radioactive fall-out on cattle and hogs.

More than 200 livestock producers and Extension agents attended the field day, sponsored by county livestock associations and the Experiment Station.

Seeing the actual animals used in feeding tests seems to add dramatic impact to the facts learned in livestock tests. Farmers somehow are more nearly convinced that practices will work on their farms when they see the animals and the men who work with them.

183 Bushel Corn Yield

Russell Evans has a good herd of high quality Hereford beef cattle and believes in growing plenty of feed to keep them pert and growing.

P. M. Parker, sales manager for Columbiana Seed Co., and Russell were pleased last week to find that one field of corn yielded 183.6 bushels per acre of corn containing 15.5% moisture. This was Funk C711AA corn planted May 25th over 225 pounds of 6-12-12 and side dressed with 100 pounds of actual nitrogen from anhydrous ammonia when it was a foot tall.

The corn was spaced 11 inches apart in 40-inch rows. It was cultivated once and had a pint of 2-4-D per acre applied in water solution about the time it was side dressed.

Russell was also pleased with a field of silage planted May 6th, where crimson clover was turned. He put 200 pounds of 6-12-12 under the rows and side dressed with 100 pounds of actual nitrogen from anhydrous ammonia. This corn spaced 11 inches apart in 40-inch rows yielded 20 tons of silage per acre. The variety was Funk G730.

These excellent yields show what Lauderdale County soils will do when farmers use the best practices they know about.

Keep Seeding Winter Cover

Dry weather has discouraged the planting of vetch and small grains, crimson clover, and rye grass for winter cover. It is still not too late to plant mixtures of vetch with oats, barley, rye, or wheat if a reasonably good seedbed is prepared.

Rye and wheat will do more growing in cold weather than oats or barley. Some tests indicate that oats and barley planted in early November will make more growth than spring oats planted in February.

It may not be too late to plant crimson clover in Bermuda sod, or even permanent pasture mixtures.

The weather has been so dry that in some cases farmers will need to decide whether it is better to plant now than to wait till spring.

If a real good seedbed can be prepared, fescue and ladino will probably do better now than planted in March.

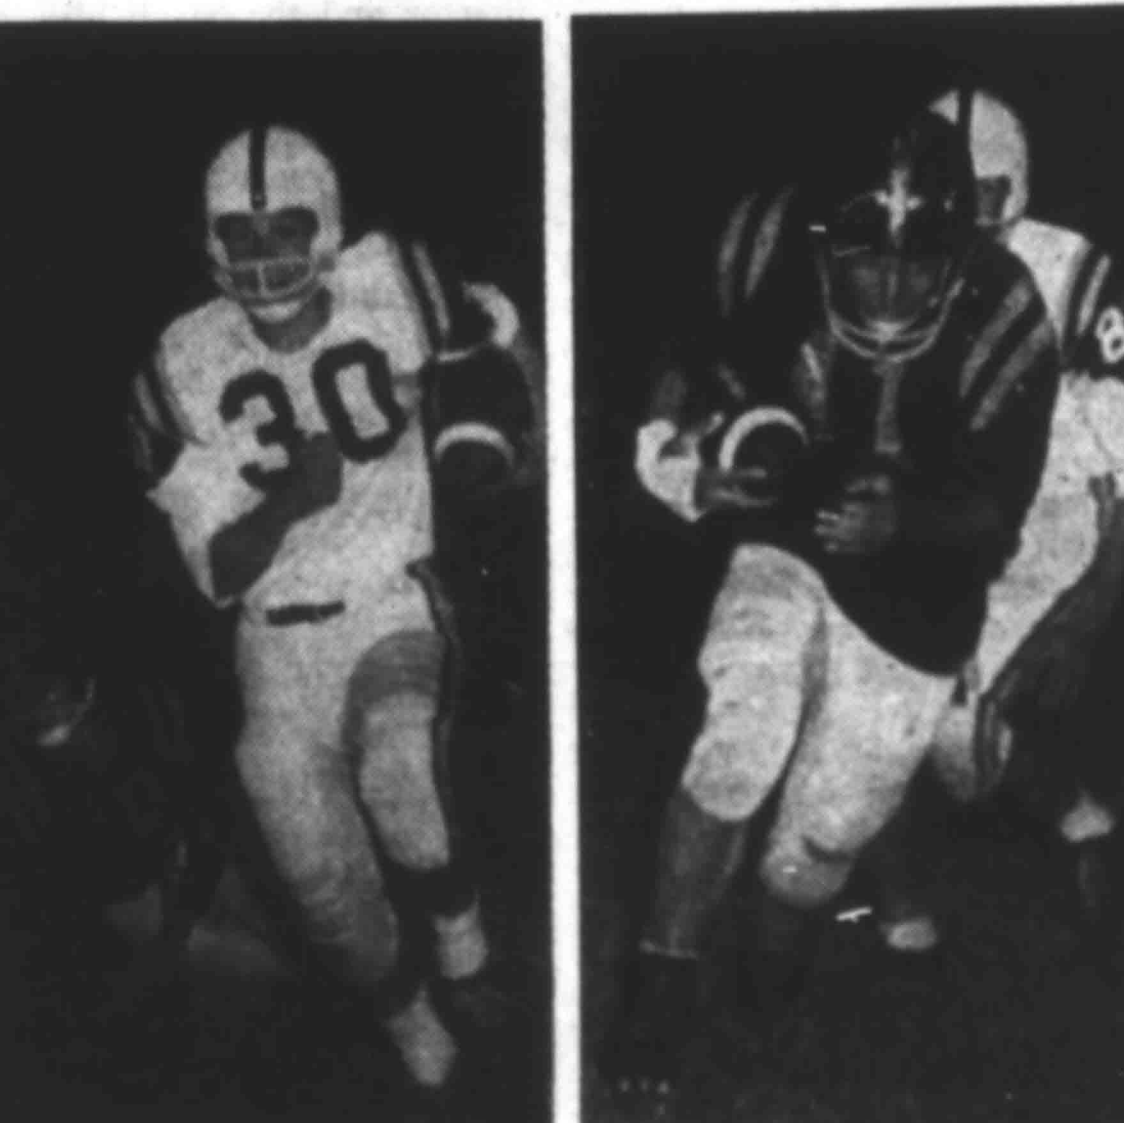

Rot Time Is Coming Here

As colder weather comes, rats move in closer to buildings and can be attracted to the new dry baits. These bring them under control slowly but steadily till there are no rats left on the farm, when the control program is followed through carefully.

Normally, rats will eat a lot of the bait for the first three to five days and then will eat less and 20-20 VISION guided Ripley's No. 20, Ronald Turner, to Halls' No. 20, Larry Carter, as Carter picked up five yards to Ripley's 31 during Halls' second, 75-yard scoring march. Except for a 15-yard penalty, all the other yardage came from Bubba Cannon, who literally reeled off 21 yards to crown the drive.

IN THE FOOTSTEPS of his father, Bud Jennings, and older brothers Lealand and David, the Jennings dynasty in Ripley High football, quarterback Louis Jennings (30) picked up 14 yards on this play during the first quarter as Halls' Johnny Pickard (30) looked for help downhill.

ON THE DOORSTEP of the Ripley end zone for Halls' final point, Johnny Kerby (41) barreled across the stripe untouched as Ripley's Herron (88) found himself too far behind for any intervention. Halls' Raynard Bratcher had opened the hole Kerby exploited.

Halls Point Mark In Loss At Ripley Taken To Tipton

Year's Best Tiger Scoring In Defeat Is Noted As Covington Clash Looms

Halls' Tigers, who fell before Ripley 40-20 last week but scored more points in losing than against any of the five other teams they have lost to this season, journey Friday night to Covington to engage another eleven with only two wins this year, both extremely thin.

Covington squeezed through its first game, over Humboldt, 15-14, and won last week from Union City 26-24. It's bowed to Dyersburg 41-26, Ripley 27-20, Trenton 28-7, and Munford 20-14.

Ripley's Tigers, having topped Halls last week for their fourth victory against four losses, travel Friday night, reluctantly, to Brownsville.

There they face current conference champions who, undefeated, have already nailed down this fall's playoff berth against Jackson in knifing Somerville 46-7, Halls 61-0, Paris 40-6, Humboldt 27-12, Milan and Union City 40-0, Trenton 25-7, and Dyersburg 27-0.

Halls caught fire now and then during last week's struggle with Ripley, and from such moments flared three quick scoring drives—one in only six plays and two in nine; but the moments were too few and far between. Ripley had a 19-0 lead by the half and held it while cleaning the bench for most of the final quarter.

Halls was twice denied a first down, forcing punts, before Ripley, starting on Halls' 45, drew first blood in eight plays. Louis Jennings picked up 14 yards to start things off (see cut), but Larry McMahan got all but four of the other yards and went over from the nine with 30 seconds left in the quarter.

Halls held onto the ball when it got it again to move from its 42 to Ripley's two, with two downs left to play. Billy Campbell had found the route around end, which he was to use often during the evening, for 13 yards to post one first; then Bubba Cannon plucked an aerial from the blue for equal yardage and another first before Campbell gained 14 for the third first down, on Ripley's ten, then went three and added five.

Third down brought Halls a five yard penalty and the next play Cannon was dropped back on the 16. Campbell's fourth down run fell short, ending the threat.

Ripley took over then with the night's swiftest score, a first down touchdown jaunt by Gregory Hathcock, 93 yards up the sidelines to register.

After Halls again had to punt without a first, the hosts worked methodically toward their third first half touchdown, in eleven series for three firsts, the best Ray Whitley's 26 yards to Halls' 14. Hathcock took it in from there, 59 seconds before the half expired.

The second half opened with an exchange of haymakers. From his 40, McMahan went ten, Hathcock 40 and then ten more, and the hosts were ahead 26-0.

This time Halls was ready for the ball and from its 18, Campbell hit Cannon with passes for two first downs, ran eleven, hit Cannon for nine, ran six, hurried to Larry Moore for eleven, found a climactic 21 in which he lurches from a clutch of friends and foes, seemed astonished to discover himself vertical, and half ran, half stumbled across the goal line to bring the count to 33-13.

Moving from midfield, with five plays, to Halls' 15, Ripley scored again through the ozone, Jennings to Gerald Bridges, 15 yards; and Halls, with time growing short, blitzed Ripley's subs with that final 60 yard push in six plays. Campbell was again the big gun (see cut), going eight to tally, and Johnny Kerby added the point (see cut) to give Halls an exact third of the scoring.

Grow In Concern

The molting season, or one who goes to Sunday school and looks over the topics of the whole quarter's lessons, will have observed that the study this quarter (Oct. 1-Dec. 31) is all about Christ's growth. First we had a study about how Jesus grew, then one about how Christians grow, then a general study in general, then a study of the life of Jesus (this being the same question as the previous study), then a study of the life of Jesus (this being the same question as the previous study), then a study of the life of Jesus (this being the same question as the previous study).

Rotated Bolls And Weevil Traces In New Cotton Crop

Bottom fields of late cotton are showing rotted bolls and other signs of reduced yields which were not apparent before the frosts of late October.

These losses would not be very large but very important in normal years, but this year they will hurt. In most cases, cotton is largely defoliated already and there is little the farmer can do now to help the situation except to use their best judgment as to whether cotton can be harvested to best advantage.

Normally, farmers are justified in continuing to wait for cotton to open and to keep picking it for another month, if the weather is at all favorable.

Bright, warm days for the next two weeks can really help a fairly good cotton crop here, considering the circumstances under which it is being raised.

Next Curing Time Arrives

Crisp November days provide the best time of year for killing hogs and curing pork on farms.

Rapidly grown, most-day hogs weighing 175 to 225 pounds make the most satisfactory hams, bacon, and sausage.

Hog meat is usually allowed to cool for 24 hours before salt or other curing mixture is applied.

Some of the best meat in the world is cured with a mixture of salt and sugar. It takes about 8 pounds of salt mixed with 2 pounds of sugar to cure out 100 pounds of trimmed meat.

Apply about a third of the curing mixture to hams and shoulders, rubbing well into the meat. Spread the rest on a flat surface and spread the hams and shoulders on one side.

On the third day take up the meat and apply another third of the mixture. On the eighth day take up the meat and apply the remainder.

Leave hams and shoulders in cure 14 days for each pound of weight in the individual piece, with a minimum time of 25 days.

Bacon is cured by the same method, but it can be cured in one time and then the bacon should be taken out of cure after four or five days.

Good sausage is most easily made by mixing three parts of lean to one part fat, cutting the pieces of meat small enough to go into the grinder, and then mixing the sausage before the meat is ground.

A Misunderstanding
During the past several days, several of our subscribers have called wanting to know if The Graphic is to be continued. The Graphic was discontinued for a year, stating that they had been told that this is planned.

Worship of Causes
The annual Boy Scout Fund Drive will be gotten under way Monday of next week and you may expect someone to call on you for a donation in the near future.

Civic Drive Needed
We have been told that the Town of Halls is to receive a firm answer some time the latter part of this week concerning the location of an Ely & Walker plant in Halls.

New Gutters Fixed
Work on blacktopping the gutters on the southern portion of College Street was completed last week. Residents along the street are happy but we heard one citizen stating because now he doesn't have any place to burn his leaves.

Construction Begins
There is nothing to see as yet but construction is actually under way on the housing project. Should be long now before progress can be seen.

Guttman's
WHO ALWAYS SELLS THE BEST FOR LESS

MY FELLOW TENNESSEANS:

The opening of the school year prompts considerable activity in our state Department of Education, just as it does in the homes of Tennessee's approximately 800,000 public school children.

Most of the activity in the state department this early in the school year is centered around the process of disbursing state aid funds to the 124 school systems in the state.

For example, the state will pay approximately $60 million for operation and maintenance of the 194 systems, through the State Minimum Foundation Program. This is an estimated 7.7 per cent increase over the $56,377,833 distributed for the 1950-51 school year.

About $5 million of the additional cost to the state will be for higher salaries for teachers. About $20,000 of the estimated $68 million increase will be for the Oak Ridge system, which will pay the first state aid this year for the first time. The remainder of the increase will be for services to an estimated 14,000 more pupils this year than last.

For capital expenditures, a total of $8,600,000 of state funds will be distributed this year. One-fourth of the appropriations for 1961-62 was distributed last month; another one-fourth will be distributed about the middle of January and the remainder in April.

This amount is $270,000 greater than last year's appropriation for this purpose, according to Commissioner Joe Morgan.

About half of the classroom teachers in the state will receive at least $150-$180 more salary this year than last, according to Morgan, who has informed me.

These are the teachers who last year were below the maximum salaries provided by the state's minimum salary schedule. Their salary increases include the maximum percentage raise in the salary schedule plus an annual increment for training and experience.

The other half of this year's teaching force has reached the maximum provided in the salary schedule. Although they will receive an increment for an additional year's teaching experience, they will receive the $100 increase.

Salary increases provided by local boards of education will be in addition to the $100 increase and annual increments provided by the state's minimum schedule.

As I am sure you are aware, this is the week of Nashville's White House Regional Conference, one of twelve being held throughout the country.

This is the only one of these conferences being held in the South, which I consider quite an honor to Tennessee. I hope that anyone who could do so has taken advantage of the opportunity presented to inform himself on the topics to be discussed at the conference.

As the risk of telling you matters you are already familiar with I want to give you a little background on the conference with particular emphasis on the topics to be discussed.

There will be panel presentations by top-ranking Federal officials in four areas: opportunities for youth; full employment and economic development; opportunities for our cities; and opportunities for our citizens.

Each of these topics will be divided into smaller topics for panel presentations to be followed by full floor discussion of the material presented.

A highlight of the conference will be the address of the Honorable Luther Hodges, Secretary of Commerce. He will have just returned to this country from Japan, and I'm sure his address in the War Memorial Auditorium on the evening of November 9th, will be most interesting and informative.

I am informed by the group from Washington which has been in Nashville for several weeks to make all the arrangements for this conference that one of its aims is to determine the thoughts and desires of the people of America on these programs.

If this goal is to be attained it will be necessary for all those interested in these subjects to participate. I am sure this participation will be forthcoming.

I wish it were possible for me to thank individually all those who have assisted in the preparations for this conference; they have cooperated wonderfully with the Washington staff in the arrangements.

I especially appreciate the efforts of Mrs. Felix Cobb, president of the Future Farmers of America in Nashville, who has served as president of the host committee. He and his entire staff at Peabody have been most helpful in many ways.

With 4-H Club

By Charles T. Post
Roland Henderson, former 4-H Club boy who now farms in Goldust community, recently purchased a meat-type Duroc boar from the herd of a breeder near Covington.

He realized that the boar represents one-half of the swine herd, making careful selection very important. The boar will affect performance of all his descendants, which will be put back in the herd, and the growing ability and performance of all his piglets.

The selection of an animal with deep, full hams, well developed loins, smooth sides, strong, straight legs, with good bone, and a rugged, masculine appearance is advised. A record of the number of pigs in the litter and other background information on the animal are desirable in making a decision. Most purebred breeders keep such records.

Purchase Best Halfer
Tucker Woodard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Woodard, of Luckett, has purchased a best halfer which will be used as a 4-H Club project in the coming years.

He plans to show the animal while it helps him earn money for his future.

Gardening Work Widens
The gardening program in 4-H Club work has increased in scope until the 1961 club year had a total of 160 enrolled with this as their major project. Although gardeners were late this year, most are reporting excellent yields of a large variety of good quality vegetables.

Records Books Needed Soon
The time is near for all 4-H members in Lauderdale County to turn in record books.

Most projects are completed, with the exception of field crops. Club members should know the results of their project work, having recorded the expenses and gross income of their 1961 club projects.

The achievement program, which all awards, ribbons, materials, and recognitions will be presented to club members who have earned them during 1961, will be held later this year.

In order to be eligible for these awards, record books must be turned in completely filled out. Records are very important to 4-H work as it shows what club members have done and how much they have earned.

Sale Results Excellent
1350 pigs were sold for $20,200 at the Southwest Tennessee Feeder Pig Association Sale at Brownsville, Oct. 18th.

The average price for pigs was $14.91 and the average price per pound was 28.78c. The average size pig selling was 58 pounds.

This cooperative sale is proving to be an excellent one for the producers of feeder pigs in our area. The next sale is Jan. 17th.

Any farmer or club member desiring to enter pigs in this sale should start planning now.

Self-Control

Lesson for November 19, 1961

A YOUNG man was about to be dismissed from college, not for any particular rule that he had broken, but for going with wildness. His mother could not understand it. She wrote letters, sent telegrams, she did the clean up in her telephone monologues. So finally she invited her up for a conference with all concerned. There they all sat, the boy himself, his mother, several of his teachers.
Dr. Foreman was the cream of his fraternity brothers, the athletic coach, even the president of the college. Everybody told about what they had done for the boy, how they had tried to urge him on, stimulate his ambition, see that he studied, and so forth.
Everybody seemed to be steamed up over the case except the boy himself, who sat through it all like a lump of putty. Finally the president had to ask him: "Well, you have heard what every one else has done. Isn't it about time you did something for yourself?"

That is a true story, but it is also a parable of the Christian life. God will not do everything for you. He does a great deal, He has gone to infinite pains for your benefit. His Spirit comes to make a home in you. Yet the Holy Spirit will never do for you what you might do for yourself—the Holy Spirit is not a substitute for your own willpower. The New Testament is filled with joyful testimony to what God has done for us, but it also very often gives us commands. The Holy Spirit will not more take our tests for us than that poor indulgent mother could pass her shiftless son's examinations for him. "Make every effort," Peter says (2 Peter 1:5) to build up all the elements of a strong Christian character.

Self-Control Needed
No part of the New Testament suffers more from awkward expressions in the King James version than the "King James" than this great passage in 2 Peter. Among other things, one of the key words is tucked out by a wrong translation. In verse six it is not "temperance" Peter means "self-control," a stronger word by far than temperance. It means holding yourself in, not living like a child that says and does whatever suits him at the moment. It means not getting angry when you feel anger (if you forget to control it means keeping on with a job if it has to be done, no matter whether you like it or not. It means, in short, not letting yourself get away from yourself. A car that goes "out of control" cannot be steered. A life out of control is not going to reason, there is no steering it.
A life of faith, virtue and knowledge would be a good life, would it not? Yes, but Saint Peter sees something else needed. Faith, virtue and knowledge need to be supplemented by self-control. A life without this is like a fine car without a driver.

Self-control
On the other hand, in this description of the ideal Christian life, the last word is not self-control. We may have met people who were long on self-control but short on influence, because they were so intent (so to speak) on holding themselves in, holding themselves down, they forget to stand. Standfastness (dogged perseverance), gentleness (Peter's word means reverence, a sense of the presence of God), brotherly affection and love, all are needed to complete self-control.
The good life, you see, is not one single good quality off by itself.
People will pick out some one's virtue and they will rate other people as "good" or "bad" depending on how they stack up against this one single yardstick of comparison. Well, history is filled with warnings at this point.
Don't rate somebody high just because he has one outstanding good trait. The computer hero was generous with his friends and he loved music. George East, who led his world wide, was a man who loved to hear. Adolf Hitler was a man who loved money (think of a patriotic man. He had very particular. He loved to see particular worker. One virtue alone is like a lone candle in a big

During The Holidays, Remember--

WHAT PRICE SPEED?

Speed—excessive, reckless speed is the greatest killer stalking the Nation's highways today.

In one out of every two driver accidents resulting in deaths and injuries, speed is directly responsible for this carnage on the highways. Other lethal causes, such as cutting in and out, passing on curves and hills, driving off the roadway, are indirectly the result of quick bursts of speed.

And the speed death toll is climbing! Faster roads, super-powered cars urge drivers beyond their human limitations to a quicker and more frequent rendezvous with Death.

Rural highway fatalities due mainly to speed soared from 22,000 in 1949 to 28,200 in 1952 and over 31,000 in 1953. Those are the dead—and for every death count fifty injured, maimed, crippled for life.

Is this the price you and others are ready to pay for the momentary thrill and the ever-present danger of death from speed? It takes only a split second to change speed exhilaration into speed tragedy.

The decision is in your hands—be sane, be sensible, slow down and live!

SLOW DOWN—LIVES ARE IN YOUR HANDS!

Year Not Enough?

Probably a good thing that the new Dyer County sheriff doesn't take office for another ten months, judging from the amount of trouble they're having over these de-seminating just who is sheriff. Heard rumors today that they may just forget the whole thing and let another election next August. Seems to us that another Tennessee county had similar troubles and had to swap sheriffs in the middle of a term after the courts decided that the loser was the winner.

Compliments

We have had a good many compliments on the improvement in the appearance of the Graphic and, of course, a few gripes. We feel that we are giving you a better paper but there is still much to be done including selling (?) some more business. Only through the columns of the Halls Graphic can local merchants reach the people of Halls; so why don't you wake up and start after the business that you need and want?

At Least He Scored

We have the almost sympathy for the Halls basketball player who dumped in two points for the visiting team last Friday night but we can also say that at least he was trying to score. Actually, making a mistake of this sort is not too unusual and we can remember seeing it happen at least a couple of times before. We asked Coach Kelley and Jimmy Walpole spent the week-end in Memphis and attended a football game Saturday afternoon.

PTA Member Plec Signs 331, Only 47 From High School

The third grade won the $5 prize and the fourth grade the $2.50 prize. Enrollment totaled 331. Only 47 high school parents enrolled. The membership committee, with a goal of 400, is still in search of additional members.

KNOW TENNESSEE'S COUNTIES Hickman County Founded 1807 County Seat Centerville

STANDING TALL IN TURKEYS Hickman County was established December 3, 1807, and was named in honor of Edwin Hickman, a pioneer settler who was established and lived by Indians near the present site of Centerville. While Hickman County is wealthy in such natural resources as timber, phosphate, and iron ore, it is perhaps more famous for its turkeys. Hickman is one of Tennessee's top five counties in the production of the celebrated gobble.

As the birds are raised by the Hickmans were here and there in the county and were raised in all other parts of the county. They are raised in the county and are raised in the county and are raised in the county.

Keep Growing

Lesson for November 26, 1961.

THE word "grow" is used three times in the New Testament as a command. Each time it is so used, it is written to "grow" people. You do not grow taller and stronger all your life. You do not keep growing more intelligent with advancing years. But you can grow in knowledge, you can grow in wisdom, and you can grow as a person, as long as you live. And if you take the Bible as God's message to you, you will feel not only that you can, but that you ought to grow. If you are not growing you are neglecting something God wants you to do.

"Stir to Flame the Gift . . ."

The word translated in the 1611 translation "Stir up" the gift, has nothing to do with anything stirred with a spoon. The Greek word means to stir to a flame, to re-ignite, as more recent translation correctly express it. The gift of God (Paul means in general the gift of being a Christian, and specially the gift of being a Christian minister) in Timothy is like a spark, glowing but without a flame. Paul wants to see that gift burning brightly, sending light farther than it was doing. The spirit God sends to those who ask Him is indeed a gift. It is nothing we can create or imitate. But the Christian is expected to do more than merely receive it. It is possible to neglect the gift of God that in time we might almost as well never have had it. There is a kind of law of co-operation between men and God; we neglect it at our peril. God sends the spark, we have to stir it to a flame. No one else, not even God, will do that for us. There is nothing automatic, nothing instantaneous, about Christian life and development. We have to stir the flame, to tend the fire. It takes more than wishing!

But what is this fire, this spirit, this gift of God? Some claim to have it who have never known it. Some pray for it, but would not recognize the answer to their prayer. Let us pass by an argument which commentators can always have over Paul's meaning here. When he speaks of the spirit God gave us, does he mean the Holy Spirit or does he mean the spirit as the Psalmist did who cried: Renew a right spirit within me? Is it, in short, the Spirit of God or the spirit of man which is on Paul's mind at this point? Either way, Paul may be speaking of the Holy Spirit or of the "new heart," but the first produces the second, you cannot have the second without the first.

The marks of the genuine Spirit which Paul gives at this point are three. We don't know why he said so strongly that this spirit is NOT one of fear; perhaps Timothy himself was still a timid man. At any rate, the Spirit-gift of God is one of power, and love, and self-control. Are any of these lacking? Then it is not God's spirit-gift. To be sure, all men know something of power, love and self-control; but at the divine level they go beyond anything human beings can do by their own strength.

Model to Grow By

There is another important fact about God's spirit-gift. It is this: It will not save us from the necessity of thinking and working. Again and again the New Testament makes it clear that what God intends for each of us is to grow into the likeness of the Master. But again, this is far from automatic. A Christian cannot relax and say to himself, "God will make me what He wants me to be. I will wait and see how I turn out, and then I'll know." By no means. Paul gives Timothy something to do. "Rekindle the gift . . . do not be ashamed of testifying to our Lord . . . God has called us to a dedicated life . . . take your share of suffering . . . Follow the pattern . . . Guard the truth." The Christian life calls for study; this is a world filled with difficult problems, and we cannot solve them just by being sweet. The best of Christians need some pattern, some model, to go by, he needs a human teacher to look up to and trust. The Christian life is not easy. Twice on the same page Paul has to tell Timothy to take his share of suffering. The way of life is sure, but it is steep and ungraded—and there are no detours!

'What A Friend We Have In Jesus' In Need Of Friends Here, Poll Reveals

Lauderdale County balloting in the National Newspaper Hymn Poll showed a single sharp divergence from national results, compiled from 61,445 votes.

"What A Friend We Have In Jesus," third nationally, didn't make the top four here.

Four other hymns leading both lists in the same order enjoyed stronger leads in the county than nationally. Here's how the final tabulations compare:

	% Of Votes Nationally	% Of Votes In the County
1. "The Old Rugged Cross"	17.2%	31.4%
2. "How Great Thou Art"	13.9%	27.5%
3. "What A Friend . . ."	6.8%	0.0%
4. "In The Garden"	6.3%	3.9%
5. "Amazing Grace"	3.0%	3.9%

TOTALS 47.2% 66.7%

The fastest gainer was "Whispering Hope," shooting from 27th place into tenth.

"What A Friend" and "In The Garden," the second and third national choices last year, slipped below "How Great Thou Art," rising from fourth. "Amazing Grace" rose more sharply, from ninth to fifth.

Eliminated were "Great Is Thy Faithfulness," 35th last year, 51st this year; "He Leadeth Me," 47th last year; and "Love Divine, All Love Excelling," 48th last year.

"Beautiful Isle Of Somewhere" broke into the top 50 for the first time and emphatically, in 31st place. Two other new choices were numbers 47 and 50.

The poll, co-sponsored by Christian Herald, the nation's largest interdenominational Protestant magazine, and newspapers in every state except Hawaii and Vermont, drew more than 1,900 hymn and gospel song titles. Last year, readers voted for 1,666.

Bill McVey, the "Christian Herald" singer, said the most important point disclosed by this first definitive survey to determine the hymns America loves best was that American churchgoers don't prefer one type of religious song strongly over another type.

McVey noted that "recent years have seen constant controversy between hymn editors—who downgrade hymns they feel are too sentimental and poorly composed and sometimes eliminate those religious songs from hymn books—and churchgoers who prefer hymns that have been the most inspiring for them and easiest to understand."

"Even though many of these hymns and gospel songs have been torn out of the hymn books, they can't be torn out of the hearts of people who love them."

"A silent faith is not as strong as a singing faith."

AMERICA IS STILL GROWING! There are many reasons for us to have confidence in our country, and not the least of these is the remarkable record our industries have achieved. Since 1900, our gross national product has increased at the average rate of 3% per year, from $79 billion at the start of the century, to $200 billion in 1960. This growth record will be rapidly approaching $300 billion in 1965. This is a good reason for confidence in growing America.
