Support Bond Issues

Next Saturday, April 14th, the citizens of Halls will be asked to support a proposed bond issue with which to enlarge Custom-Craft Mfg. Co. operations.

Officials of the firm have told this newspaper that they expect to start construction within the next few days. The new floor space—approximately 22,000 feet—will increase production 30 to 35% and create 20 to 30 new jobs, with a possibility of still more jobs.

Monday, the County Court approved a referendum for the proposed sale of bonds for the erection of a building to house a new industry which will employ some 250 persons, with about 85% of them women.

There has been a constant demand for the bringing of industry to Halls and Lauderdale County, and it is our belief that both of these bond issues should be approved.

In the case of the Halls issue the taxpayer will have no responsibility since these are revenue bonds and cannot be collected in any other manner.

The bonds called for in the county referendum are well backed by a completely sound firm with assets far in excess of the money sought.

City and county officials are making a real effort to create additional employment for Lauderdale County people and deserve the support of the public.

Parking Doesn't Improve

The parking situation in Halls continues to be a snarled mess. While we are definitely limited in parking space, a great part of the trouble is a complete lack of courtesy and consideration on the part of many of the town's motorists. Local officers are fighting a losing battle, through no fault of their own, and the situation must be corrected.

The proposed blacktopping and marking off of railroad property along Front Street will go a long way towards remedying the situation, but work should be gotten under way immediately.

Good Job

We took time out last Wednesday evening to visit the Halls schools science fair and were really impressed with some of the projects. We think that congratulations are due Mr. Everett Kidd and other school officials for the work they are doing in science.

Wm. N. McKinney Enters Race For State Senate Seat

Browning Adviser Returning To Politics As Candidate In August 2nd Primary

William Neel McKinney is announcing his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for state senator from the 29th Senatorial District, which Lauderdale County voters will award Aug. 2nd.

Mr. McKinney, 50, of Open Lake, faces a race for the nomination with Ripley attorney Herman L. Reviere, incumbent direct representative from Lauderdale County.

A native of Ripley, Mr. McKinney is the son of the late Tennessee supreme Court Justice Colin McKinney.

He attended Ripley elementary schools and at Bingham Military School, Asheville, N. C., and took his Bachelor of Laws degree from Vanderbilt University in 1925.

He engaged in general civil practice for a few months in Memphis and then until 1941 in Nashville.

He was floor leader for the administration in the state House in 1937, served in the House in 1938, and in the Senate in 1941, resigning the Democratic nomination for the House in 1942 to enlist in the Army, from which he was honorably discharged in 1943.

After engaging in the timber business, he became, in 1948, confidential adviser and trouble-shooter for Governor Gordon Browning and became well known across Tennessee as Governor Browning's "man to see."

He retired in 1953, living since at Open Lake, in Memphis, and in Tulsa, Okla., where his daughter, Mrs. John Smith Zink, 29, resides.

For several years, Mr. McKinney has engaged in independent oil and gas production in Kentucky.

Porter's Gap Lad Places Second In Corn Yield Event

By Charles T. Peal

Benny Clement, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Clement, of Campground, produced the highest corn yield per acre among 4-11 boys in this county last year, with 156.9 bushels per acre the best yield of the last several years for which individual records have been checked.

This puts Benny in the class with Jerry Moore, of Ripley, who produced 151.5 bushels back in 1953.

Gerald Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stewart, of Porter's Gap, took third place with 138.3 bushels. Eddie Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Craig, of Chisholm Bluff, took third place with 129.4 bushels.

Larry Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jennings, of Edith, was fourth with 129, and John Bishop, Jr., of Ripley, was fifth with 123. John's corn was produced on a farm near Henning.

Benny selected second bottom land enclosed by hills, which held the humidity and caused rapid growth. He planted Funk's 770W May 19th, using 300 pounds of 15-15-15 underneath. On June 24th he applied 200 pounds of ammonium nitrate side dressing.

Using mules and a tractor, he hoed it once and cultivated twice. He estimated tractor labor at $2.50 per hour and hand labor at 40c per hour. The total cost came to $38.05. Figuring corn at $1 a bushel, which was about the price then, he showed net profit of $118.

He used part of the crop to help finance his beef heifer, he purchased last year.

Gerald Stewart planted Funk's 144 and used 400 pounds of 6-12-12 under it and 240 pounds of ammonium nitrate side dressing as indicated by a soil sample. He performed all the work himself. His corn was used to feed his hogs, which he has as another 4-H project.

Eddie Craig used Funk's 711AA. He planted his corn April 20th, causing him to perform more operations and run total cost to $43.15. He made an income of $98.25.

Larry Jennings used a yellow variety, Dixie 27, and applied 530 pounds of ammonium nitrate to the acre. His corn grew extra tall, but the nitrogen made it produce, nonetheless. His total cost was $35.50.

John Bishop, Jr., used Funk's 711 and G144. He used 500 pounds of 6-12-12 under the corn and 60 pounds of ammonium nitrate as side dress. His total cost was $39.

Other boys completing projects, and yields: Larry McCoy, 121.8; Phillip Brough, 118.2; Harold Tillman, 118.1; Steve Fuller, 115.5; Bobby Hinton, 112.6; Bobby Webb, 109.6; Elton Land, 106.2; Charles Vickers, 104.5; George Bentley, 97.5; Joe and Jackie Davis, 95.7; Harvey Gitchell, Jr., 94.3; Lanny Braden, 92.4; Larry Carter, 92.1; Ronald Hinton, 90.8; Kenneth Brogdon, 90.8; Joe Midkiff, 90; Carl Chipman, 84.7; Johnny Neal, 82.9; Tucker Woodard, 80; Robert and Howard Hopeland, 77.2; Phillip Lindsey, 73.7; Leonard Crowder, 67.5; Billy Smith, 62.8; Frank Carmack, 60.2; Richard Shaw, 58.6; Talmage Crowder, 57; Howard Natherson, 42.8.

County In Running For Million $ Industry

Grants Increased For 3 Of 4 Rural Service Programs

Court Aids Bookmobile And Extension Work, Surplus Food Through September

Lauderdale County Quarterly Court's session Monday granted moderate increases in support to three of four rural service programs, with little opposition.

The annual appropriation for library services was increased from $1,200 to $2,196.61 for future fiscal years, beginning July 1—the minimum required by the state to continue operation of the Bookmobile, which now serves Arp, Cherry, Edith, Flippin, Fort Pillow, Fulton, Graves Chapel, Halls, Henning, McBride's, Nankipoo, and Orysa. Any other community can obtain Bookmobile service on request. Voting against continuing Bookmobile service were magistrates Thompson Carmack and L. R. Viar.

The annual appropriation for Extension agents was increased from $6,500 to $7,500—about 20% of the office's cost, including four salaries, travel, and literature. The state, which pays the other 74%, requested this to bring the county back into line with others. Voting against were Thompson Carmack, Glen Chisholm, J. H. Newman, and L. R. Viar.

The Soil Conservation Service was voted its $1,800 appropriation without any change.

The court continued the surplus commodities distribution program, now aiding 9,892 individuals, for three more months, through September. Magistrate A. J. Butler alone voted "nay."

The school budget for next year was adopted unanimously, anticipating about the same county revenue, estimated at $288,850, with $958,440 from the state and $8,620 from the federal governments, respectively, as compared to $894,474 and $5,890 for this year. A $100 jump in teacher salaries represents most of the state increase.

Expenditure estimates include: Administration, $33,901; instruction, $907,400; attendance services, $5,278; transportation services, $125,628; plant operation, $79,000; plant maintenance, $38,000; fixed charges, $15,066; capital outlay, $36,496; debt service, $40,500; and clearing accounts, $30,000, totaling $1,301,240.

Elected notaries were Lawanna Walker, Cynthia Woodley, Doris Moore, Joe M. Tucker, Jr., Susie C. Caldwell, J. O. Paris, Maxine Forsythe, William Tucker III, and Myrtle Dalley.

Magistrates absent were Avery, Barfield, Buffalo, Collins, Elder, Graves, Hansford, Harrison, Howell, Kellar, Meeks, Roberts, Ray, Shoaf, and Charles Viar.

Gates Worm Farm Ships Hardy Bait Into Other States

J. A. Gilliland Has Brought New Industry To County, Agent Paschal Reports

By F. M. Paschal

J. A. Gilliland, of Gates, has established a worm ranch. He has twelve beds six feet wide and 40 feet long in which he grows Golden Hybrid Red Wigglers fishing worms.

Mr. Gilliland says these new, hybrid worms are tougher than regular fishing worms of the garden variety and that they live longer under water.

Mr. Gilliland is already selling worms to people in other states. Lauderdale County can welcome a new industry.

Crop Insurance Available

Lauderdale County farmers can now get federal crop insurance on cotton and soy beans. This crop insurance was first made available in this area in 1942 and has been tried in various plans at different times since then.

The new program has lower premium rates for a definite amount of coverage. An attempt is made to make this the actual cost of production of the crop up to the point at which damage occurs.

B. V. Hutcherson, of Central, is supervisor of this insurance program in several counties in West Tennessee.

Fertilizer Near Rows

Tennessee Experiment Station found last year that it took 800 pounds of 6-12-12 fertilizer applied broadcast to give the same yield of cotton as 400 pounds of 6-12-12 applied in bands under the rows.

Missouri Experiment Station found, in a three-year test, that 400 pounds of 6-12-12 applied under the rows made 150 pounds more lint per acre than 400 pounds broadcast.

These are wide differences, which give proof that fertilizers for cotton need to be applied under, or right beside, the rows, so that roots will reach it early in the growth period.

Chemicals Kill Weeds

Karmex and CIPC are effective in killing weeds for a period of four to six weeks when applied as a pre-emergence spray on cotton. Granular CIPC is also available and effective.

Several experiment stations have tried the idea of putting Tuxapene and various other insecticides in this pre-emergence spray to see how effective that would be in killing thrips and aphids which attack seedling cotton. A recent summary report stated that none of these practices were effective toward controlling insects.

There is a chemical, called Disyston, which can be applied to the soil in granular form. It is a systemic insecticide. It will go up into the cotton and protect it against thrips and other insects for a period of six weeks.

Since this chemical is rather expensive and since these seedling insects are not a problem on all our cotton, the Experiment Station is not yet recommending this chemical.

Calf Sale April 12th

More than 1,000 Angus and Hereford calves, weighing 300 to 750 pounds will be sold beginning at 3 next Thursday at Mid-South Livestock Center east of Brownsville.

More than 40 of these calves will be from Lauderdale County and more than 400 from Haywood.

Against 2 Rivals; People To Vote If Firm's Nod Given

Magistrates OK An Election On Bonds Should Offer Of 250 Jobs Come Through

Lauderdale County Quarterly Court voted unanimously Monday in a special referendum, an opportunity to secure a million dollar industry employing 250 men and women, to begin with, and possibly many more eventually.

The referendum will be held if the industry, which has been pursued by several states, selects Lauderdale County over two other locations which it is still considering—one in East Tennessee and one in another state.

Awaiting this decision, the industry was not identified to the court, but its impressive history and financial condition were reviewed for the magistrates by an official of First National Bank in Memphis.

The second largest bank in Chicago and tenth largest in the U. S., Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Co., has extended to the business as much as $2,000,000 credit, unsecured. Prudential Insurance Co. has made it a loan of $1,300,000, also without requiring any collateral. As a condition of the loan, the company must keep on hand $2,300,000 working capital—cash or assets that are quickly convertible into cash.

One magistrate commented the industry seemed to be in sounder financial health than Lauderdale County.

Firm To Pay Its Own Way

The industry has not asked the county to meet any of its expenses for locating its plant here. The county's costs in building an air-conditioned, jumbo-birth building of 60,000 to 80,000 square feet would be financed by a bond issue of not more than $600,000, and the industry would pay off the bonds over a 20-year period, without cost to the county's taxpayers. In addition, the building would stand behind the bonds, even if the strongly financed company encountered unforeseeable difficulties.

This is the normal financing method in use by counties to secure industry. The bond interest is tax-exempt and interest costs are thus less than if the industry financed expansion through bank loans, the interest on which is taxable. In effect, the county is loaning to the industrial firm nothing more than its name on the bonds. Should the industry fail to repay bonds when due, the county can take over the building and retire the remaining bonds from its value.

With inflation driving building costs up, plants tend to be worth more, some years after they are built, than the amount invested in them—providing an extra margin of safety for the bonds. The demand for vacant industrial buildings in the South has been strong for many years, and keeps increasing. National Factory Locating Service, in Memphis, says it has many requests for such buildings that it cannot meet in West Tennessee.

Before industrial bonds can be voted, the state must investigate the industry and give the county its assurance that the industrial venture is sound. After state approval has been given, the county sets the date for the bond referendum and voters are given full details on the industry and its plans for locating here, before they vote.

LOCAL GARMENT WORKER RECEIVES $700.00 IN BACKPAY FROM RIPLEY MANUFACTURING CO.

May Byrum, Ripley resident, has received payment for back wages due her from the Ripley Manufacturing Co., in an action sponsored by the International Ladies Garment Workers Union.

The union filed a complaint with the United States Department of Labor, Wage & Hours Division, last summer, on behalf of May Byrum, against the Ripley Manufacturing Co. The charges were based on a violation of the Wage & Hour Law by the Ripley Manufacturing Co.

This is the first decision in a series of charges that the Union has filed against the Ripley Manufacturing Co. with various government agencies.

Though Mrs. Byrum is not a member of the union we are glad to have been of service to her.

WINDSTORM BRINGS PROPERTY DAMAGE

No injuries were reported following a violent windstorm which struck this section shortly after 7 p. m. Tuesday, causing considerable property damage.

At Mt. Pleasant, west of Gates, the Assembly of God Church was badly damaged. The roof was blown away and the interior was virtually demolished.

East of Gates, Guy Lucas reported his garage blown down. The roof fell on his barn, and some damage to his home. At the Edinburg home, three windows were blown out, hurling glass into the house, and the well house was demolished.

Paul Avery, Aldo Robison and others reported damage, with power and telephone lines down across Highway 88 just south of the Wood house.

Highway Patrol Trooper William Massingill reported power lines and poles down across Highway 88 in Curves cut. One line fell across a car whose occupants remained in it until the line had been safely removed.

Damage in Halls was mostly confined to a few trees blown down and limbs blown off several others. Halls and rain accompanied the wind, which reported northward to miles per hour in velocity.

Must Be Corrected

Continued accidents at the rail road crossing at Gates have reached the point where a flashing light is a must in order to save lives.

The tragic accident last Sunday afternoon which cost the lives of a mother and her two young children was, of course, unavoidable with conditions as they are, but it is probable that a flashing light might have warned the victims.

The Gates crossing over the railroad was, of course, unavoidable with conditions as they are, but it is probable that a flashing light might have warned the victims.

Winner In Westale Yield Competition

993 Lbs. Of Cotton Per Acre From 37.7 Acres Bringing Bethesda Man $100 Bond

Cornelius M. Arwood, of Bethesda, placed first in West Tennessee in the 40.9 acre group of the total farm cotton production program sponsored last year by the Tennessee Agricultural Council and the Extension Service.

Mr. Arwood won with a yield of 993 pounds of lint per acre on 37.7 acres. He will be awarded a $100 U. S. Savings Bond from the T.A.C.

Mr. Arwood used some good practices in producing this excellent yield of cotton. He planted Dixie King, Fox 4, and Deltapine Smoothleaf cotton May 5th. He bulldozed the cotton and used chemical weed control on part of it, but cultivated part of it in the usual way.

He put the cotton on excellent hill land, which had been in pasture for several years. He applied two tons of lime per acre, broadcast 62 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre in the form of Urea, and then put 350 pounds of 6-12-12 fertilizer under the rows and bedded on it.

Pasture Tour Attracts

Johnny Roberts and Charles Gilliland came 17 miles by bus to see the farm on Tuesday. They were on a tour of the farm of Dr. T. B. Keltner at Walnut Grove. The tour was also attended by 21 other livestock producers from all over the county.

Halls Man Held In Post Office Theft

Joseph Bracken Burroughs, 39, of Halls, Robert J. Breat, 44, of Lafayette, Ind., and Joyce Ophelia Dixon, 24, of Memphis, arrested by Sheriff's office at Halls, Tennessee, about 10:30 p. m. last Thursday, are charged with entering the post office at Halls, Tennessee, about 10:30 p. m. last Thursday, and stealing $5,000 from the post office.

J. R. Sims, assistant postmaster in charge of the post office at Halls, Tenn., said he discovered the burglary at 10:30 p. m. last Thursday.

Sims said Burroughs had recently been released by a western station.

Windstorm Brings Property Damage

No injuries were reported following a violent windstorm which struck this section shortly after 7 p. m. Tuesday, causing considerable property damage.

At Mt. Pleasant, west of Gates, the Assembly of God Church was badly damaged. The roof was blown away and the interior was virtually demolished.

East of Gates, Guy Lucas reported his garage blown down. The roof fell on his barn, and some damage to his home. At the Edinburg home, three windows were blown out, hurling glass into the house, and the well house was demolished.

Paul Avery, Aldo Robison and others reported damage, with power and telephone lines down across Highway 88 just south of the Wood house.

Highway Patrol Trooper William Massingill reported power lines and poles down across Highway 88 in Curves cut. One line fell across a car whose occupants remained in it until the line had been safely removed.

Damage in Halls was mostly confined to a few trees blown down and limbs blown off several others. Halls and rain accompanied the wind, which reported northward to miles per hour in velocity.

Mayor Says Halls Should OK Bonds

Halls Mayor Jerre Jordan spoke Thursday in favor of the bond referendum to be held at the Halls Fire Station Saturday, whose purpose is to station the opinion of the qualified voters as to whether an industrial revenue bond issue should be used to build an addition to Custom Craft Manufacturing Company.

"The Mayor and Board of Aldermen have seriously considered this matter. We have talked to qualified bond houses and attorneys and now take a firm stand that it will be in the best interest of our town to have this issue passed in the affirmative."

"The bond issue will be of industrial revenue bonds. The Custom Craft Company will pay back the purchasers of these bonds over the next five years at an interest rate of six per cent. The collateral for the use of $60,000 will be the building, its contents, and the equipment of the parent company in New York.

"We have thoroughly checked this company and find them to be an excellent financial proposition. It is on the board of the county charter to have this issue passed in the affirmative. Their performance has been excellent."

He has been Sunday School superintendent of his church, Ashport Baptist; director of the county Farm Bureau from the Fifth District for ten years; and an active worker in Red Cross since 1946. He is on the board of the county chapter of the American Cancer Society.

"A veteran of 34 months in service during World War II, 20 of them overseas, he has taken active part in American Legion affairs. He is going to make a house-to-house canvass of the county, the candidate says, "but should I miss anyone, I will want to take this opportunity of asking the voters of this great county to help me in this race. Your vote and influence will not be wasted in any way, and job opportunities will be created that we haven't had in the past."

"As you know, all cities are competitively working for new industries for their area. We are fortunate indeed to have such a fine industry in Halls. We should encourage this company and help it to expand.

"An increase of 40 employees is like a new factory. The fine thing about this expansion is that it will not cost our taxpayers a dime, your property will not be affected in any way, and job opportunities will be created that we haven't had in the past."

"We are requesting every citizen who is interested in the welfare of Halls and who seeks to see Halls go forward come to the Fire Station voting box this Saturday and vote as you see fit."

Bonds Passed But Voting Very Light In an election Saturday Halls voters favored the issuing of $100,000 in industrial revenue bonds by a vote of 212 for the bonds and 84 against. City officials expressed themselves as pleased with the overwhelming majority for the bonds, but disappointed at the lack of general interest as revealed by the small number voting. Funds yielded by the bonds will be used to add some 22,000 feet of floor space to the Custom-Craft Manufacturing Co. building, creating about 30 new jobs. Howard Peters, Custom-Craft manager, said work on construction of the addition to the building will begin this week.

Doyle, Raymond Hatcock, Julius Kimple, Gene Sadler, and Clifford Sweet are other announced candidates. "I have thought this matter over deeply and sincerely," Pennington says, "and have been encouraged by many friends to strive to achieve this position as sheriff of Lauderdale County."

MFGS. HANOVER TRUST TAKES $941,000 HOUSING FINANCING WITH BID OF 1.47 PER CENT Competition For Temporary Funding Unusually Sharp; Dyersburg Housing Authority Reports Layout Crews Will Be Active On Halls Units Next Week The Dyersburg Housing Authority this week opened bids on $941,000 of temporary financing to aid in the development of its low-rent public housing projects in Halls, Ridgely, and Newbern. Joseph M. Boyd, Jr., executive director, said the bidding was some of the most competitive the Authority has had in several years of operations. The low bidder was Manufacturers Hanover Trust Company of New York, with an interest rate of 1.47 per cent, and a premium of $11. Other bidders were Chemical Bank New York Trust Co., with an interest rate of 1.47 per cent and no premium; Bankers Trust Company, 1.52 per cent with a $15 premium; Bank of America, 1.53 per cent with a $49 premium; Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, 1.54 per cent, $15 premium; and Solomon Brothers and Hutzler, 1.60 per cent, with a $14 premium. The Dyersburg Housing Authority, in addition to the 30 units of housing currently underway in Halls, has 24 units of low-rent public housing under construction in Newbern, which will be ready for occupancy in about six weeks, and 40 units of public housing underway in Ridgely, with a scheduled completion date of July 1st. The Halls units are scheduled for completion as of June 1st, although present indications are that the project will not be completed quite in time. Closing date for the sale of the notes will be May 1st, and the notes will be due Sept. 14, 1962. At that time, the Housing Authority will permanently finance the three projects with long-term bonds, says Mr. Boyd. Layout crews will commence constructing the walls for the Halls project next week. They will have about three or four days to get all of the brick and block work started at the base of the buildings, before the masonry crews arrive to actually start the construction of the walls and interior partitions. Already, large quantities of materials are arriving on the site, to be utilized in the construction of the projects. The door frames and the window frames have been arriving for several days, and it is anticipated that walls should be completed within five weeks after the masonry work is started. As soon as sufficient masonry work is completed, the roof crews will arrive on the scene to start forming and pouring concrete roofs. Considerable steel is utilized in the roof construction in order to make the roofs as sturdy and as durable as they can be designed, Mr. Boyd points out. The Dyersburg Housing Authority will commence taking applications for the low-rent housing projects during the month of May, says Mr. Boyd, and announcement will be made prior to the commencement of the applications. It is anticipated that applications will be taken one day each week in Halls until sufficient applications have been obtained to fill the projects.

Shell engineer uses stethoscope to help detect noise the car alone can't hear. Super Shell fights three different engine noises to give you top performance.

How 3 of Super Shell's 9 ingredients fight engine noise—including one hard-to-hear form of knock that could lead to real damage

Shell scientists tell you that any good gasoline should reduce engine noise. That's why they include no less than three noise-fighters in Super Shell's 9-ingredient blend. Here's how they work to help give you a soft-spoken engine—and top performance. This class is actually a series of growing explosions. They're caused by premature deposits that ignite the fuel too soon. Super Shell's famous TCP* additive tackles this problem. It acts to "fireproof" deposits that might glow. Result: change of wild ping is greatly reduced.

How Super Shell fights high-speed knock High-speed knock makes a sharp, high-pitched noise—like metal tapping against metal. Because it's most likely to occur in hot engines at turnpike speeds, high-speed knock is often difficult to hear. But even though you may not hear it, high-speed knock can pound away at pistons—even lead to costly damage. Fortunately, high-speed knock isn't too common. But Shell scientists have known about it for a long time. Ever since they pioneered the development of a substance called Alkylate to help control high-speed knock in aircraft engines. Today, Alkylate is an ingredient in Super Shell gasoline.

How Super Shell fights wild ping Wild ping doesn't last long. It sounds like the erratic beat of a nervous drummer. Gum preventive helps keep carburetors clean inside. Elastomate is for extra mileage. Pentane is for quick starts. Butane mix is for fast warm-ups. Anti-ice (added in cold weather) helps catch carburetor icing. Try a tankful of Super Shell today. Then, you'll know what top performance really is.

How Super Shell fights ordinary knock Most people have heard ordinary knock. It may sound to you like marbles dropping into an empty oil drum. Super Shell's anti-knock mix is so powerful that a teaspoon per gallon is enough to raise anti-knock rating a full five points. This anti-knock mix helps regulate the combustion of Super Shell. Thus, each piston gets a firm, even push. Not a sharp, jarring jolt. Now, read how the other six ingredients in Super Shell's 9-ingredient blend help you get top performance. How Super Shell's other ingredients help you get top performance Cat-cracked gasoline helps your engine deliver smooth, even power.

Steel Price Rise Melts In Ice Rise From White House... WASHINGTON, D. C. Statements, conferences, rumors, facts, and action concerning the steel industry have come so rapidly and in such abundance in Washington in the past few weeks that it is virtually impossible to fathom all of the events.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Statements, conferences, rumors, facts, and action concerning the steel industry have come so rapidly and in such abundance in Washington in the past few weeks that it is virtually impossible to fathom all of the events.

The entire chain of events started long ago, but the public action commenced on Tuesday, April 10, 1962, and will doubtless continue for a long time. Of major interest and "scene-setting" were the following:

United States Steel corporate approval was granted for a price increase, the first since 1957, and the steel industry has been so rapidly and in such abundance in Washington in the past few weeks that it is virtually impossible to fathom all of the events.

After the meeting, the President called a number of cabinet members for a late night meeting which was to map preliminary strategy for the government's fight of the increase.

Public announcement was made by United States Steel that its price (average) price increase for steel. This brought the average price to $156 per ton from the previous $150.

Bethlehem Steel along with other major producers hurriedly announced very similar price increases. At the end of the week, approximately 75% of all the steel produced in the country was subject to immediate price increase.

At a regularly scheduled press conference, President Kennedy's policy to the public interest by instigating another industrial system for the American lives lost in Viet Nam and other sacrifices made by citizens in his bid for sympathy for his cause.

The Justice Department started in the pursuit of all possible courses of action that might feasibly be used against the price increases. Embodied in the fight will be a federal grand jury, anti-trust investigation and the like.

Facets of Faith
Lesson for April 29, 1962

THE beauty of a jewel comes from the fact that it has many facets. The light is reflected from each of these facets, or surfaces, at a different angle. If a diamond were cut flat and square like a tiny window-pane it would not be nearly as beautiful as it is. Now faith is a jewel; and it likewise has many facets, or aspects, and all the more beautiful for this reason. Like all jewels, also, faith has many limitations.

Accept no substitute
What are some of the limitations which are being offered the public today? One variety of "faith" or imitation faith, is faith without an object, not faith in anything or any one, just "plain faith." This may even be a circular faith, faith in faith. This is not worth a dime, it is the most perishable of all the imitations. Another substitute is credulity—the habit of believing anything and everything, believing whatever any one asks you to believe. Of such faith suckers are made. Another much-advertised substitute is faith that goes against facts, faith that believes the obviously and undeniably impossible. This is a very deceptive imitation, because true faith does go beyond what average cautious people call "possible." This imitation variety prides itself on absurdity; the more absurd the faith, the more credit the believer claims! If I believe that with God's help I can eat aside more money than I ever have done, for His cause and service, that is real faith. But if I believe that after I have spent every cent of my weekly income I will have a ten-dollar bill left to offer God or to use myself, that is not true faith at all.

Now faith keeps warm
True Christian faith, as has been said before, is faith about Christ, faith in Christ and faith with Christ. Now there are certain features or facets of this, to which the Bible passages marked for this week direct our eyes. One is that it is easier to have faith when others all around us are men and women of faith, than when one is all alone. A certain missionary was in solitary confinement in China, with no communication permitted between him and any other persons except the police. Friends and relatives of his in America were praying for his release. He also was praying for it. There was true faith in his heart and in the hearts of his friends; but it was harder for him than for them, because they lived (comparatively) in a climate of faith, whereas he was in the midst of people who only decided his religion.

Looking to Jesus
The writer of the letter to the Hebrews says some strange and unexpected things. Once in the twelfth chapter he says "...looking to Jesus..." Now we should expect him to say, "looking to Jesus, the object of our faith;" but he does not. Instead, he says "looking to Jesus the pioneer and perfecter of our faith." In other words Jesus is the one who begins our faith and the one who completes it. He is, in short, the model for all men and women of faith. This means that Christians should study the gospel over and over again, to learn the qualities, the needs and the secrets of the faith which the Master held. With him, faith had a new beginning; with him, faith found its perfection.

Faith discipline
Great poetry and trashy doggerel are both made of words; but the great poems are not mere jumbles of words and noises. They are patterned; that is, the poet cannot put down anything that occurs to him. Some words fit, others don't. Some words ring like bells, others clatter like squeaky wheels. So it is with all art. The artist must exercise control. It is only very cheap "art" that can be produced by throwing words, or paint, on paper or canvas at random. How much more this is true of the most difficult art, of life itself! The writer to the Hebrews reminds us that without discipline we never attain to a God-like life. God's commands may sometimes not agree with our own wishes; but to obey him is the way of discipline, the way marked out by faith, that leads to the life that is life indeed.

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who were so kind to me during my stay in the hospital and after my return home.

I want to say thank you for all the lovely flowers, cards, phone calls and visits and such expressions of kindness shown me. May God's richest blessings be with each of you in my prayer.

Tragedy almost beyond bearing

Tragedy almost beyond bearing can be eased through the kindness of friends.
There is no means of telling our friends just how much their kindness and consideration meant at the time of the loss of our dear son and brother, Virgil Wright.
Our prayers will always be with you.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all my friends that were so thoughtful during my stay in the hospital and since I've returned home. The flowers are lovely, the cards, visits, phone calls and prayers have certainly made my days more pleasant.
