Violence Unnecessary

The mess in Oxford, Miss., during the past weekend has been one of the most sickening in the history of the United States.

As a native Southerner, we have no difficulty in understanding the feelings of the people of Mississippi toward the integration of their great university, and especially toward the means by which it was accomplished.

However, like it or not, as the situation now stands, the law says that Meredith must be admitted to the university; and it seems to us that both federal and state governments have been guilty of gross misconduct in the handling of the situation.

Despite claims of federal authorities, it would seem to be reasonably certain that actions of United States marshals provoked the riots which occurred Sunday night, bringing death to two persons, injuries to numerous others, and the arrest of more than 150. Obedience to law and order is the natural inclination of young men and women such as are to be found in colleges and universities, and only under extreme provocation would they be likely to be turned into an unreasoning mob.

Federal authorities are pointing to state authorities and state authorities are seeking to shift the blame to federal authorities, but the guilt must be borne by all. Certainly, despite the desires of Gov. Ross Barnett and the people of Mississippi, James Meredith was going to be, and was, admitted to the university, according to the ruling of federal judges. Whether or not the decision of the United States Supreme Court is constitutional is a different matter entirely, and not one to be decided by force and violence.

As we have studied our history through the years, we have been taught that the government of the United States is divided into three branches: the executive, the judicial and the third, the Congress of the United States, which makes the laws. The duties of the Supreme Court—the judicial branch—are to interpret the laws as passed by the Congress—neither to make the laws nor to enforce them; and the duties of the executive branch of the government are to administer the laws.

Just when and under what dispensation it became the prerogative of the Supreme Court to make the laws has not been made clear to this writer; but, as conditions now stand, we must accept their rulings as law and abide by them.

We believe that the South has brought much of this upon itself through its unreasoning loyalty to the Democratic party and the instances of the one-party system in most of the Southern states.

We hold no sympathy for such men as Gen. Walker, who could have had but one reason for being in Oxford, and such as John Kasper, who made such an effort to create violence in Tennessee just a few years ago; but we do believe that we need leadership, and the only means we have of securing leadership is through our vote.

Whether Democratic, Republican or independent, it behooves us to vote our convictions; to abide by the law of the land; and to face the future with a better way of life than has been his lot in the past.

No longer must we be disfranchised and ignored because we are unwilling to vote differently from our fathers. The Democratic Party and the American Way of Life as they knew them no longer exist and probably have no place in this changing world, but we can protect our rights, and the rights of future generations, by a vigorous support of those people who can offer us the kind of leadership we want.

Personally, we have no desire to fight the Civil War again, nor do we want to rob any people of their rights, but neither do we want to be robbed of the right to choose our own way of life. All of us can live in harmony if we wish to do so.

800 Pheasants To Roam Near Halls

By Joe P. Beard

The State Game and Fish Commission has released 800 pheasants near Halls and Nankipoo and will free 400 more, pen raised to adult size. The pheasants are hybrids, crossed between the Talisker pheasant, an Asian species, and the Ringneck, Tennessee's native bird.

Co-operation is requested in preventing hunting of these birds until they have reproduced to permit establishing a season. Control of freely roaming dogs will also be vital in getting the pheasant population established.

The first dove season closed Sunday with good results, because of early grain harvests here. The second season opens Oct. 20th and will run through Nov. 15th.

The pheasant season opens at sunset on Oct. 15th. The wildlife area will be open on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday nights. Hunters must clear checking stations and obtain hunt permits.

Troops Calm Riot At Ole Miss After Negro Wins Entry

Most Students From County Attempt Continued Study; 2 Killed, 229 Arrested

With more than 15,000 troops ringing Oxford, Miss., the University of Mississippi campus was unusually quiet this week after rioting late Sunday and early Monday in which two were killed, unknown numbers hurt, and 229 arrested, including retired Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker, who was sent to a hospital for psychiatric examination.

Rioting broke out late Sunday after James H. Meredith, negro, was lodged on the campus by Federal marshals as Gov. Ross Barnett gave way to superior forces. It began in earnest after marshals used tear gas. Mississippi highway patrolmen, whose 1917 style masks were ineffective against this, withdrew and the situation grew ugly before troops could be deployed to restore order.

Of eight countants at Ole Miss, two girls—Becky Carson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Montelle Carson, of Halls, and Marcia Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Hughes, of Lightfoot—were at home, away from classes, early this week.

David Hurt, Jr., of Halls; Diane Conner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dunaway Conner, Alice Garner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Garner, Bill Rochelle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rochelle, and Willard Yar, Jr., all Ripplians; and David Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Jennings, of Pleasant Hill, remained in Mississippi, though some had been home to spend the weekend. Jennings is preparing for Ole Miss' homecoming game with Houston this Saturday—presently scheduled for the Oxford stadium.

The students agreed with university spokesmen that federal marshals used tear gas against a crowd which appeared to be under control until that time. They said this provoked the rioting.

Marshals retort that one had been struck by a piece of pipe which had dented his steel helmet. No one said he was hurt.

Around West Tennessee
Sugar beets will be tested in Dyer County this fall in hopes northwest Tennessee can get 25,000 acres allotted to the crop to produce sugar no longer imported from Cuba. Four Dyer Countians, including Dyersburg Mayor F. E. Pitts and attorney Ray Ashley, were at the Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C., last week with Sen. Estes Kefauver, to apply. Experts think the area's soil and growing season will produce quality beets. . . Covington Chamber of Commerce secretary W. H. Rose is to join one of the city's new firms, the Shufibre operation of Colonial Board, as production manager. . . Millington has declined to use the 1948 Public Buildings Act to get $950,000 for aluminum plant (employing 200) which couldn't pass state clearance requirements for financing under industrial bond acts; Mayor Tom Hall and city attorney James Watson declined to take part in "unethical" subterfuge. . . Philip Roseman has agreed to double his Ripley Manufacturing Co. plant to 50,000 square feet, jobs to 350. . . Lexington group plans a 42-unit motel, with swimming pool, on West Church. . . Alumnus Charlie Meese succeeds Milton Mayo, Milan High coach 14 years (with 348-148 record); Milton remains principal. . . Humboldt is painting fire hydrants red, yellow, and green, denoting size of main feeding each one.

Choctaws Scalped 39-14, Halls Rests For Rebs Of Troy

Obion Central Hasn't Lost But It Defeated Newbern By Only One Touchdown

Halls' Tigers rest this weekend, after a 39-14 triumph over Newbern's Choctaws last Friday and before a home date next Thursday with Obion Central.

The Obion Central game originally scheduled next Friday was moved to Thursday because of the meeting of the West Tenn. Education Assn. in Memphis.

Coach Clint Edmiston's Rebels from Troy, now in their second football season after a 1-5-1 record last year, have been undefeated in four outings, with a 7-7 tie with Alamo. Obion Central topped Newbern 6-0, Ridgely 26-13, and Tiptonville 20-0. It meets Union City this Friday.

Halls has tied with Alamo, 12-12, but the heavy win from Newbern compares favorably with Obion Central's score, discounted somewhat by the fact that Obion Central's game was its opener.

Brownsville defeated Halls 34-7 before the Tigers got onto the win trail, over Somerville 6-0, then over Newbern.

Halls scored twice in each of the first two quarters last Friday to lead at the half, 25-0, before the eleven scored single scores in each of the last two.

Newbern kicked off to Halls and the Tigers showed little as they mishandled the ball and generally failed to muster any offense on the first series of plays. However, Jimmy Hansford—making his first appearance of the season—boomed a punt far down field and the Tiger defense went to work holding Newbern to two yards and forcing them to kick.

Then the touchdown parade began. Johnny Pickard scored the first TD from ten yards out, with 4:07 on the clock; Donny Davis whirled out the arms of two would-be tacklers and traveled 25 yards for another TD as the quarter ended.

In the second period, Johnny Pickard gathered in a Newbern punt and traveled 70 yards for the third Halls score. With 3:36 left on the scoreboard, Robbie Voss took a Johnny Kerby pass for ten yards and a touchdown. At the half, Halls led 25-0 with Newbern yet to rack up a first down.

In the third and fourth quarters the Tigers picked up two additional TDs, with Billy Davis going seven yards on a rollout and Johnny Kerby diving for four yards and the final score. Kerby kicked both extra points to bring the score to 39 for the Tigers.

Coach Ralph Mays cleaned his bench with all Tigers seeing considerable action.

Newbern picked up touchdowns in the third quarter with Danny Simpson, Choctaw fullback, doing all of the scoring. Each time he went over from two yards out.

Squires Vote 25-3 To Build Nursing Home Next Year

And Get Boilers Relocated; Next Three Budgets Will Retire $87,000 Expense

Lauderdale County Quarterly Court voted 25-3 Monday to build a nursing home next year at Lauderdale County Hospital, to be financed from the next three county budgets.

The only votes against the proposal came from Magistrates Talmadge Belton, of Nankipoo, Anthony Fisher, of Durhamville, and G. W. O'Dell, of Poplar Grove and Double Bridges.

The county thus claimed a federal grant of $104,000 in Hill-Burton Act aid toward the nursing home's estimated cost—above $200,000. Of the $96,000 of local investment, the county will provide $65,000 from the three budgets, and the rest will come from funds on hand, which totaled $32,735.83 as reported in this year's budget.

These funds were from the county poor farm sale and just under $10,000 from the estate of Rufus Campbell, Chancery clerk and master here. Interest on these funds from now until the time they are spent will swell the available construction fund to around $202,000.

Nursing home planners, of whom William A. Klutts served as chairman, are hopeful this will permit a 32-bed home. If bids when received exceed the estimates, some adjustments will be made to keep total cost within the building funds available.

Boilers To Be Shifted
The court also agreed to provide, under the same plan of financing, $22,000 to remove the boilers now under the south end of the hospital's first floor, where they heat the rooms overhead and are criticized by safety inspectors, and put them into a new boiler house outside the main building.

It is anticipated they will heat the hospital and the nursing home from that location.

The boiler move will also make possible a covered passageway from the hospital's ground floor to 150 feet south from the main hospital building.

This will facilitate many hospital services for the patients of the home, including meals from the hospital kitchens. The kitchens will require some expansion. Avoidance of duplicating features will minimize nursing home building and operation costs.

Expansion Avenues Open
The 150 feet is being left between the buildings to permit the hospital to extend, if necessary, its south wing. The west wing cannot be extended without filling in a deep ravine, and the north wing's extension, limited by the location of the driveways, would require ripping out operating rooms which are among the building's most expensively constructed features.

The nursing home, V-shaped, will provide for future expansion, if needed, into a third wing, to run southwest along a ridge, to permit unobstructed view down all the halls from the nurses' station at the center of the building.

Sanford and Ellis, architects, of Memphis, are planning the building to conform with minimum Hill-Burton Act space standards, which the committee considers fully adequate.

April 1, 1963 is the deadline for letting the construction contract under the federal aid.

Enterprise Coverage Praised
Magistrate Paul Avery, of Gates, said "excellent" Enterprise reporting answered all questions he had about the project, provided it would be financed without strain.

He was satisfied on that score by B. C. Durham, Jr., who acted as court spokesman of the committee, and by Oscar Grimes, county trustee. Magistrate Avery then offered the successful motion to accept the committee's plans.

The three year financing setup involves no bonds or raise in taxes. The money will be borrowed on three year notes, from county banks. There is already in the tax books for 1962 48 cents to retire short-term notes (the last third of $150,000 borrowed to build Lauderdale High School's gymnasium). Slightly over half of the 48 cents will be kept in the tax rate for the next three years to retire the new notes.

If the court does not use the rest elsewhere, the tax rate could be reduced for next year.

Magistrate Fisher objected Monday that the county will have bonded indebtedness due in 1972. The 48 cents for notes has no effect on bonded indebtedness, however, as the court set up its debt service item, for bonded indebtedness, at $1.75 in 1959 and the 48 cents has not cut into the debt retirement funds but been added on the top.

Excluding debt service and school items which total $4.75, the present $5.96 tax rate yields only 76 cents per $100 assessment to operate all county government agencies except the schools.

Court OKs Spans, More Free Food; Settles Tax Split

Other matters than the nursing home occupied County Court's October session Monday.

County highway commissioner Oscar Griggs reported the Cane Creek Watershed will make it necessary to rebuild six bridges—two because the channel will change and four because present bridges will be inadequate to carry the channel. The only alternative, he said, would be to close the roads, because the water would wash them out.

Another highway commissioner, H. B. Moore, Jr., said the bridges should be rebuilt to carry 30-ton loads and to give 20 foot clearances. He estimated the cost at about $25,000 per bridge if the commission does the work with its own men rather than through a contractor; but he said the commission can handle only one bridge per year.

Watershed chairman Lynwood Grammer said the watershed would benefit the entire county, and would stop much water damage to the roads of the county. He said creek flood plain landowners were bearing all costs except the $3,254,000 federal grant and could not be assessed to rebuild the bridges.

The court discussed ordering the highway commission to rebuild one bridge yearly, but for the moment only accepted the bridge obligation as the county's, with ways and means to be worked out later.

Food Gift Fees Gain
A motion to extend for three months the surplus commodities distribution scheduled to expire on Dec. 31, 1962, met with more opposition—seven votes—than at any time since July, 1959, when the court voted 17-16 to extend it. The program has been in effect since January, 1958.

"Nay" votes came from Magistrates Paul Avery, of Gates, Dr. A. J. Butler and Hobson Wakefield, of the Second District, Anthony Fisher, of Durhamville, Carey Saines, of Glimp, L. A. Keller, of Henning, and G. W. O'Dell, of Poplar Grove and Double Bridges.

Five "nays" have been the rule on the extensions since the close vote in 1959.

The gift food now goes to 9,562 persons—more than 43 per cent of the county's total population of 21,848 in the 1960 census.

City Sharing TVA Income
The court settled with the City of Ripley litigation which Tennessee counties filed against cities collecting tax equivalents from Tennessee Valley Authority power distributors, when county tax rates are applied.

Municipally owned Ripley Power and Light Co., as city property, is tax exempt; but the city can collect tax equivalent, if desired, on both city and county rates. Counties have contended for shares of the county rates.

The city offer was to give to the county tax equivalent paid at county rates on utility property effectively assessed at 22 1/2 per cent of real value, which would make the tax value higher than most private property owners pay. The county will get $6,000 to $7,000 per year.

Technically, the property is assessed at 100 per cent, with the county to get 22 1/2 per cent of the tax paid.

Mayor James Fitzhugh, of Ripley, said the city is planning similar deals with other cities of the county.

These payments are tax windfalls because, if it chose, the city could simply stop collecting any tax equivalents, except its own, and leave the county and other cities without payments.

Ripley collects about $36,000 per year, paying about $12,000 back to the utility for power, Mayor Fitzhugh reported.

The court suggested the utility payments be earmarked for the nursing home, but dropped this from its motion before the vote in order to study it later.

Feeder Calf Sales Draw 483 Animals From This County

Angus And Hereford Breeds On Block; Total Cumpane With 307 Last Autumn

By F. H. Paschal

Angus and Hereford beef cattle producers will have a good opportunity to buy replacement heifers at the Feeder Calf Demonstration Sale at the Mid-South Livestock Center next Friday afternoon.

Special pens will hold excellent heifers weighing 350 to 500 pounds which grade high good. The heifers will be further divided into 50 pound weight groups, which may have the effect of making it possible for one or more producers to bid together on whole pens of heifers.

Feeders will have opportunity to buy Hereford steers Oct. 8th and Angus steers Oct. 10th, weighing 300 to 750 pounds and heifers Oct. 12th weighing 300 to 600 pounds.

All producers are guaranteed open, all producers having signed agreements to refund 20% of the purchase price for calves which prove otherwise by March 1st.

Producers Selling Calves
Producers in Lauderdale County entering calves in the sales include E. R. Anthony, E. T. Anthony, Joe Barfield, W. D. Barfield, Elvis Cannon, and C. S. Carney, Jr.

One of the state livestock inspectors who checked these calves on the various farms was highly complimentary of the quality of the cattle. "Some of the Lauderdale herds are as good as any in West Tennessee," he said.

Other producers who will have calves in these sales include Talmadge Criffield, Reid Dunavant, Lawson Elder, R. G. Evans, Jr., Jenkins & Ballinger, Anthony Fisher, S. C. Forsythe, and J. W. Koonce.

Richard Lanure, Mrs. John McBride, Pat Parker, Jr., J. N. Roberts, W. L. Partain, Taylor Rice, Archie Sanford, W. M. Scott, Tom M. Scott, F. L. Thompson, Lewis Walker, and William F. Walker will also have calves in the sale.

There will be, in all, 483 calves from this county, which compares with 307 in the 1961 sales.

All calves will be delivered to the sale barn before 11 a. m. on sales days, but actual sales will begin at 3 p. m.

R. G. Evans, Jr., Pat Parker, Jr., and Taylor Rice are the feeder calf sale committee for Lauderdale County. They with W. L. Partain, James Koonce, and F. H. Paschal will assist in carrying on these demonstration sales.

Blount Oats Prove Hardy
E. R. Anthony got some of the new Blount variety of oat seed last fall with the intention of planting it in September. The weather kept him from planting it till late in October, and he was concerned about the ability of the oats to take the winter weather with such a late start.

He found that he need not have bothered. The oats came through to make excellent yields of high quality grain which stood up in the field to wait for combines.

This new variety of oat was developed by the Tennessee Experiment Station. The five-year average yields at Jackson Station were 104.5 bushels compared to 82.3 for Forked Deer oats, 90.4 bushels for LeConte, and 117.4 bushels for Victorgrain 49-93. Over the whole state, averaged, Victorgrain did not equal Blount in yields, but it was equal to Blount at Springfield and Jackson.

Knotty Bolts Cut Yields
Dude Koonce, of Arp, fertilized his cotton this year with 400 pounds of 15-15-15 under the rows and then side dressed with 100 pounds of ammonium nitrate and 150 pounds of soda.

Cotton was planted May 8th and came up to a perfect stand. It seemed to withstand the drought and to come through to make big, healthy bolls about the right time.

Something happened to keep the bolls from getting to normal size and to keep them from opening big locks of fluffy cotton. Many bolls barely opened, to expose half rotted cotton. Yields and quality will be lowered by this condition, which is apparently a disease that seems to be connected with plant food deficiencies in drought periods.

Mr. Koonce is taking soil samples for testing by the state laboratory in Nashville, to determine whether lime deficiencies keep plants from being able to use fertilizers, and to find out what he should do for better yields next year.

Do Beliefs Matter?

Lesson for October 7, 1962

Some believe matter, some don't. What two historians say about an obscure Egyptian general about 2000 years ago. Christ, makes mighty things happen, even if they thought a little different, and over it. No body likes to be disagreed with; but that's what family quarrels will testify that the quarrel is often over the matter of belief. The one who is "right" could be better kept in his mouth shut and let the other one think what he or she pleases; the truth is in this argument as it could be proved over and still make no difference.

Some beliefs do matter.

All the same, some beliefs do matter. By "matter" we mean the moment) believing that something or other is true. By "matter" we mean the moment) believing that something or other is true. By "matter" we mean the moment) believing that something or other is true.

Slight error in this Hall is likely to be a little more careful the next time she writes several checks, following a slight mistake.

Seems that the lady in question wrote checks for her church contribution, the grocery bill and several other bills, and that's where confusion began.

Results were that the check for the grocery bill was placed in the church contribution envelope and subsequently in the collection plate at the Baptist Church.

For some reason, Paul Henderson refused to endorse the check for church treasurer W. M. O. Hart.

Mr. Paul Griffin is likely to check her church contribution very carefully for the next few weeks.

Eads Long Career

In this week's Hall Graphic, H. A. Townsend is announcing that he has sold the fire and automobile insurance agency which he has operated in Halls since 1908.

Mr. and Mrs. Werten Tanner have purchased the agency for the same amount of money and will continue to serve Mr. Townsend's customers.

While Mr. Townsend plans to continue to sell life and accident insurance and carry on as a realtor, he will not be active as during the past 50 years.

Years coming to Halls in 1908, Mr. Townsend has been active in a number of organizations and has been active in church and civic affairs.

He told us that he might write his "obit," following his semi-retirement, but he told him we preferred to wait until he could read it, many years from now.

Short Shrifts

We have been quite pleased with the reaction to our comments on the "Old Miss" article. Comments have been quite complimentary; a few have disagreed with our opinion.

In reference to the "Old Miss" article, Fred Hunt called to ask us to quote him concerning the "Old Miss" article. The boys are foraging inland, and to paraphrase Winston Churchill (with a little added), he said, "The South will rise again and there will always be a Miss."

See by a national wire service release that a note was sent to the American Automobile Association that the many more accidents than the verbal violation, high speed driver generally is a more dangerous driver. We have been contending this for a number of years, advocating a minimum speed limit on open highways and a general improvement of this situation.

The sad part of this is that most of these drivers think they are driving safely and are the best drivers on the highway.

It is doubtful that a certain local rural mail carrier will be so anxious to be so bold, Wednesday of this week he picked up a parcel on his route and thought needed wrapping before if it was to reach its destination.

In retying the parcel (7) which consisted of a red spring, a black shooting, and a fishing line with snake and hook still attached. Postmaster Jack Shannon says he believes the address label was stuck on with argemum solution. (He didn't apply the tape test.)

Hard To Please

James Meredith, whose efforts to enter the University of Mississippi caused all the furor, was driven from the town, where Meredith was in Army of segregationists in the Army of segregationists at Oxford.

Seems Meredith is a little hard to please. The Federal government is guaranteeing him 18 months of education at the Mississippi State College. Meredith is a member of the NAACP and has received money from other sources in order on the railroad.

Legal Blackmail

We have recently read an interesting article by Attorney General Robert Kennedy to Henry Brant, London, new correspondent for the London Times. He stated that it appears to us that Mr. Kennedy is describing his use of legal blackmail in the case of the NAACP against the State of Mississippi.

To begin with, the new release stated that Mr. Kennedy had been "available" for the interview by Southern newspapermen.

Among other statements, the attorney general said that he had contacted the NAACP and had been told by some lawyer named M. J. Simpson, but had not had any further investment.

LEGAL WEIGHTS

Some Lauderdale County farmers have recently sold green beans, peas and other vegetables at Memphis markets and have found varying requirements for legal weights.

The State Commissioner of Agriculture recently provided a list of products, some of which are quick to rot, dried beans, peas, and other vegetables. The list includes: 60 pounds per bushel of 60 pounds; green beans in pods have a legal weight of 30 pounds per bushel.

Legal weights do not always seem to quite measure out in terms of dry measure bushels, but they simply provide a legal basis with which the buyer and seller understand each other.

For instance, cabbage weighs 30 pounds per bushel and chestnuts weigh 18 pounds per bushel. Peaches weigh 56 corn in the ear with shucks removed has a legal weight of 70 pounds per bushel. Peaches with shucks has a legal weight of 74 pounds per bushel, and corn in the ear with shucks removed has a legal weight of 70 pounds per bushel.

For instance, chestnuts weigh 18 pounds per bushel, and chestnuts with shucks have a legal weight of 24 pounds per bushel. Peaches with shucks have a legal weight of 74 pounds per bushel, and corn in the ear with shucks removed has a legal weight of 70 pounds per bushel.

The sad part of this is that most of these drivers think they are driving safely and are the best drivers on the highway.

It is doubtful that a certain local rural mail carrier will be so anxious to be so bold, Wednesday of this week he picked up a parcel on his route and thought needed wrapping before if it was to reach its destination.

In retying the parcel (7) which consisted of a red spring, a black shooting, and a fishing line with snake and hook still attached. Postmaster Jack Shannon says he believes the address label was stuck on with argemum solution. (He didn't apply the tape test.)

There's A NEW FRONTIER In Office Efficiency

Significant break-throughs in design and production of familiar products are revolutionizing the office supply field.

Good businessmen are improving efficiency for the New Year . . . and earning tax credit on their income tax returns.

Before you invest unwisely in office tools of obsolete design, don't fail to see the newest and best.

NEW PLASTISOL REPLACES MESSY CARBON PAPER

Fresh from Columbia Ribbon & Carbon's peace-setting research laboratories, this newest wrinkle for perfect copies is LIQUID carbon, sandwiched between thin, tough plastic which just won't wrinkle and which keeps your fingers and your typewriter clean, yielding its contents only when struck. Liquid carbon dries into paper fast—you can rub the copy over a white shirt without a smudge! It comes to refill use points, giving longer, ever wear all over. Thus, though Plastisol costs more initially, it's economical because it outlasts ordinary carbon several times, stays flat and clean, speeds work. Ordinary carbon's throw away half used because it's sugar-sand and the coating has become spotty. End that waste, and carbon struggles with Plastisol—ask for a few sheets on trial. You'll never use carbon paper again.

NEW EVERY OFFICE MACHINE DESERVES AN A-1 RIBBON

Nothing pops up any office machine's performance—and actually prolongs its life—like a first quality NYLON ribbon . . . the only ribbon we handle because it's the only one we can sell with pride. . . . Yet some folks persist in using cheaper quality ribbons which date from the pre-war era—and actually pay more for them than our $1.25 price for nylon. By handling one grade in volume, we're holding the price line on the best ribbon you can buy. At that price, you can't afford any other ribbon for your machine.

ANNOUNCEMENT

To My Friends and Policy Holders

I am retiring from my Agency writing Fire and Auto Insurance as of October 1, 1962.

I will continue to write Life and Accident Insurance and lend money when I have available funds.

I have transferred my Agency to HALLS INSURANCE AGENCY (Warren R. Tanner and Mrs. Mabel S. Tanner)

The Halls Insurance Agency is well known to you, and the business I have written for years will be in good hands. I recommend this Agency to you to keep your insurance in safe hands.

It is with regret that I give up this business. Many of you have been with me for 50 years.

SINCERELY,

H. A. TOWNSEND, Agent

I WONDER IF THEY HAD INSURANCE

That's what most people wonder when they see an accident or a fire. And if they didn't, it's too late.

How about you? Are you ready for an accident or a fire? Of course no one is ready for such things, but if they happen, it's good to have insurance.

MFA Insurance offers you protection and service at a savings. There are many lines and types to choose from... auto, fire, homeowners, health, liability and others.

Remember, you have to have it BEFORE you need it.

Another HIDDEN TAX

The toll of the highways may reach 40,000 killed and 2,000,000 injured. These are stark statistics in themselves. But there's another toll, too!

Every American family of four, whether they have had an accident or not—or even if they don't own an automobile—will pay an average of $100 a year in hidden costs as the result of speeding, reckless driving. This is the nation's highway accident bill, to be paid through increased taxes, wage losses, mounting insurance costs, medical and hospital bills, property damage and other charges. The total will run to nearly $4,000,000,000—enough to build a city of 200,000 homes costing $20,000 each. Believe it or not, there is an average economic loss of about $95,000 for every person killed.

This stupendous waste can be curbed only when the American public becomes sufficiently aroused to demand concerted, nation-wide action—more law enforcement, more highway patrols, and more teeth in penalties—to rid the highways of devil-may-care drivers and moronic accident repeaters. Get back of any safety movement in your community. Think and talk safety.

When death, maiming and destruction take over the highways, someone pays—and that someone is you—it's all of us.

Telephone Talk

By ROGER GANIER
Your Telephone Manager

RECENT RESEARCH shows that during his lifetime, the average man spends 8760 hours on the telephone, the equivalent of one year. 8760 hours seems like a lot of time to spend talking, but think how much longer it would take to do those errands, make those contacts, handle that business . . . without your telephone!

NOW DON'T FORGET that next month, starting November 24, Lauderdale County telephone subscribers will stop using the prefixes Adams for Halls and Republic for Henning and refer to digits only. This does not actually mean these telephone numbers are changing, merely using the numbers at the place on your dial which formerly has been the letter positions.

This new numbering is "All Number Calling" or A. N. C. The letters could be for "A Necessary Change" because of growth in the number of telephones throughout the county.

At Halls the telephone number AD 4-9011 will look like this, 234-9011.

At Henning the telephone number RE 8-2211 will look like this, 718-2211.

If you have any questions about this change, please call us at Ripley 9099. We will be happy to discuss the change with you in detail.

DAYTIME . . . NIGHTTIME . . . ANYTIME's a good time to call out-of-town family and friends. And your calls go through faster when you give the operator the Area Code instead of the name of the city you wish to reach.

When you call a city whose code number is different from yours, give the operator the Area Code number and the phone number like this: "Area Code 808, 255-2368", then give her the number of your phone when she asks for it. It's as simple as that.

We would like to suggest that you keep a list of Area Codes for cities you call frequently and use them to speed your out-of-town calls. Your calls go through faster when you use the Area Code number.

GREAT PLACE FOR GROWING

What a wonderful place Mid-America is for fast-growing children.

Wonderful, because it's also fruitful for growing industries that will provide children with good jobs when they grow up.

That's a good reason why we spend time and money helping industry to grow. We advertise to attract new industries, and our alert, hard-working Industrial Development Department sells them on communities we serve.

Each year about a hundred new industries locate along this railroad. They like Mid-America and the kind of up-and-coming, low-cost transport the Illinois Central provides.

Helping Mid-America grow is part of our job. We believe this benefits everyone, including youngsters growing up all over Mid-America.

MFA Insurance
HOW MUCH CAN I SAVE?

What you pay for insurance can depend on a number of things: the amount and type of insurance you buy, the area where you live, the place you work, your age and other considerations.

No one can tell you in a newspaper as how much actual cash you can save on insurance, including MFA Insurance Companies. The only way you can find out is to compare your present policy with an MFA Insurance policy. Many people find they can save amounts varying from a few cents to several dollars.

MY FELLOW TENNESSEANS: A REPORT FROM THE GOVERNOR

I had the pleasure of spending the week of Oct. 14th in Chicago, Ill., and Detroit, Mich., with a group of Tennessee businessmen on an industrial trip, and you may be interested in an account of our trip.

We left on Sunday, Oct. 14th, and arrived in Chicago the following morning, and remained there until about midnight Friday, when our train left for Detroit. We left Detroit Thursday, arriving in Nashville early Friday.

The group made a total of 82 visits in Chicago and 74 in Detroit. This was an excellent record, especially for the length of the trip.

Two days were especially successful, one each in Chicago and Detroit. We think we came away with some very promising prospects, as well as several which have indicated interest in call before they are ready to make a de-

While in Chicago I had an opportunity to speak to a group of Sears, Roebuck and Company officials concerned with manufacturing. These gentlemen gave us an extremely warm reception, and I believe Tennessee gained some interest with them.

It was a pleasure again to be associated with this fine group of men, all of them giving up their time and money to help plug Tennessee's industrial advantage.

As you know, the state pays the expenses only of the state employees who make the trip—were George Benedict and three members of his staff. Everyone else either paid his own expense or was sent by his firm.

As you can tell by the number of visits made, these trips certainly don't fall under the heading of vacation trips!

Here are the names of those who made the trip, other than Benedict, his staff, and I. LA. Governor William D. Baird, Lehmann; Representative Robert A. Everette, Union City; Herman Giles, Bristol; Representative Sterling Robert, Kingston; Tracy Prater, Jr., Morristown; Porter Grace, Memphis; Charles Coggins, Nashville; Louis Allen, Nashville; Harold Sims, Sparta; John Dubois, Nashville; W. Exactly 250 cc (about half a pint) of a fuel blended without Platform was fed into the test car's engine. The car was started, accelerated to 30 miles per
