Linda Travels Fast

Well, despite the snow and ice, the Tatums finally got away to their new home in Johnsonville, Ill., early last Friday and immediately made their presence felt in the community.

Friday, Mrs. Tatum took their 12-year-old daughter, Linda, to school to meet her teachers and to make preparations for entering school Monday.

Linda was told that the school was holding a spelling contest at 1 p. m. to select the school representative and that she could participate if she would come back.

Linda did go back and proceeded to win the contest.

While in the fifth grade, Linda represented Halls Elementary School in the county spelling contest, won in the county and represented Lauderdale County in the Mid-South Spelling Bee.

Nice going, Linda, and good luck to you in future contests.

Extremely Fortunate

Despite the snow and ice, we are happy to find that very few falls or accidents of any kind have been reported and none that resulted in any serious injuries.

Students Are Happy

We suppose there is a silver lining to every cloud, even the inclement weather of the past few days.

The school children have been very happy with their unscheduled vacation, but, oh, boy, what some of the parents have said after having the kids at home for several days!

Basketball Postponed

The independent basketball games originally set for last Monday night were sidetracked by the bad weather. Another date for the event will be announced next week.

Check To Farmer Asked To Cushion Cotton Price Drop

Supports Down 2 1/2 Cents Under Kennedy Proposal; Small Grower Gets Aid

President John F. Kennedy asked Congress Thursday for a new cotton plan which would drop support prices about 2 1/2 cents per pound and give small producers direct payments from federal funds to make up the income lost.

The plan would permit exceeding allotments, probably up to 20 per cent, for sale at the world price, about 6 1/2 cents under the domestic price. Also, the plan would pay U. S. mills this difference, equalizing foreign competition.

Kennedy urged Congress to act in February to apply provisions during 1963.

Gore Cools Bridge Hopes

Sen. Albert Gore calls "practically nil" northwest Tennessee's chances of financing a Mississippi River bridge by getting it into the federal interstate highway program. He doubts Uncle Sam would finance half the cost, under the federal primary roads program, should the state finance half with toll bridge bonds. Gore thinks the toll bridge would be half of what the state couldn't raise with toll bridge bonding.

Cold Shoulder For Gore

Predicting Sen. Herman Talmadge, of Georgia, will succeed Oklahoma's late Robert Kerr as the Senate Finance Committee's wheelhorse, The Chicago Tribune's Willard Edwards says of two senior committee members—Douglas, of Illinois, and Gore—that "neither can influence any vote except his own."

Super Ready Reserve Pool

Some 50,000 veterans of six months' active duty training in the Army who have not found a Reserve unit "home" are being dropped into a new, 100,000-man "super ready" pool to fill units during any recall. All will go to summer camp and those earmarked for Guard units will muster one day each year for physical examinations and record checks. Army Reserve men need not muster.

Summer Training Set Up

West Tennessee Guardsmen, who trained at Ft. Campbell, Ky., last summer, return to Ft. Stewart, Ga., July 7-21st, where the rest of the 30th Armored Division has trained for years.

Ripley's Army Reserve unit will spend its fourth summer camp with Campbell's 101st Airborne Division, July 28th-Aug. 11th. The Reserve unit drills this Sunday. Its cancelled last Sunday's drill because Reservists attend from a 50-mile radius.

Buildings Lure Industries

Kenton is raising $50,000, Trenton $130,000 to erect buildings to attract industry. Kenton, whose first basic structure, ready for completion to fit user's needs, quickly sold to United Shoe Machinery, says it has recently lost two payrolls such readiness could have secured. Trenton is working with National Factory Locating Service, of Memphis, which brought Universal Electric Co. and Tennessee Discasting into Ripley.

Johnnie Lee, a motor inspector of hoists and locomotives at Acme Steel Company in Chicago, Ill., is the first employee at Acme to achieve membership in the $1,500 Class of the Acme Steel Suggesters Club. He was presented $150 worth of company common stock for this achievement.

In 1956 he qualified for initial membership in the Suggesters Club. In 1957 he joined the $200 Class and received a desk clock. Later the same year he achieved membership in the $500 Class and was presented with a set of dinette furniture. In 1960, he was taken into the $1,000 Class, at which time he was presented with $150 worth of stock. In November of last year, he qualified for membership in the $1,500 Class.

Tax Targets Rap Clement Program Asking 30 Million

Scattergun Approach Nicks Many Interests, Lightly; Utilities Taking Brunt

Gov. Clement's proposals to raise another 30 million dollars in state revenue annually from nine widely varied sources—avoiding an across-the-board sales tax increase—will be most keenly felt, if adopted, by utilities in the state, whose bills would add sales tax.

Sales tax would also be applied to laundry and dry cleaning and personal property repairs, under Clement's plans. Eight other sources: Cigarette tax, up 2c per pack. Excise tax, up 1/4 per cent. Liquor tax, up 50c per gallon. Driver's license fee, up by $2. Automobile tag cost, up by $2. Diesel fuel tax, up 1c per gallon. Soft-drink bottlers, 1 1/2% gross receipts tax. Realty and mortgage transfer tax, up 10 to 15 cents per $100.

Opponents of Clement's program centered fire on its adverse effect on industrialization until Clement, only hours after laying his proposals before the General Assembly, said he would exclude from sales tax utilities used directly in manufacturing.

Utilities' reactions generally echoed the words of Paul Evans, Tennessee Valley Authority director of information, who voiced regret that the state must consider taxing electricity, a "basic tool" of progress. "Electricity generally should be kept at the lowest possible cost," he said, to continue "enhancing the region's progress." Some industries involved in taxation proposals seemed relieved when they actually materialized. A one cent soft drink tax would have produced $8,000,000; the gross receipts tax will bring in only a sixteenth of that. Insurance lobbyists completely eliminated the threatened premium tax increase.

Other industries can't protest too much because they have other bills pending. Liquor interests believe their tax has reached a point of diminishing returns, but they want a local option bill for all cities over 7,000. Truckers are seeking an increase in maximum weights from 61,580 to 73,280 and won't say too much about the increase in diesel fuel taxes while some legislators are still toying with an axle-mile tax which now yields Ohio about $17 million annually. The fuel tax rise will bring in an estimated $575,000 per year.

With the governor's tax program unveiled, bills began hitting the Assembly's hoppers. Bills introduced would: Double legislator's compensation, to $30 daily.

Retract absentee ballots to persons disabled or serving in the armed forces.

Seal copies of Highway Patrol accident reports, but prohibit use in court.

Require lobbyists register.

County Livestock Group To Hear Purina Executive

Jim Branch, Sales Manager, Addressing Annual Event; Membership Largest Ever

By F. H. Paschal

Jim Branch, Ralston Purina sales manager for Tennessee, Arkansas, and Missouri, will be the principal speaker at the steak dinner and annual meeting of the Lauderdale County Livestock Association at the Farm Bureau building in Ripley Friday night, Feb. 1st.

W. N. Davidson, of Ralston Purina, will also be on the program, under the direction of Russell Evans, president.

The county livestock association has the largest membership it has ever had, and producers feel that the feeder pig sales, feeder calf sales, and other activities of the association have been most helpful to the economy of the county and to livestock producers in particular.

All interested livestock producers are invited to come to this Dutch dinner Friday night at the Farm Bureau building and to become members of the county livestock association to help increase profits from livestock.

Credit Needs Important

Bankers and economists will talk about credit at the Farm Management School at the Farm Bureau building in Ripley at 1:30 p. m. next Tuesday.

Farmers must have more operating capital now than ever before, and they must make greater investments of capital for each man on the farm than ever before. In fact, farmers are now investing more than $20,000 for each full-time worker on their farms.

The cost of this credit, and whether the type of credit is suited to the needs of farmers, becomes more important year after year.

E. H. Hudson, agricultural economist of the University of Tennessee, will teach principles in using credit and money management, and W. C. Viar, Ripley manager for Memphis Production Credit Association; W. R. McIntosh, of the Farmers Home Administration; J. D. McClanahan, of the Federal Land Bank; and W. T. Savage, president of the Farmers Union Bank in Ripley, will discuss types of credit available through their organizations.

Cotton Equities Selling

Farmers are selling loan equities at $2 to $4.50 per bale this week in Memphis, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service. Spot cotton of middling 1/16 inch sold for 35.25 with strict low middling bringing 33.50.

Skip Row Cotton Yields High

A five-year study of skip-row planting of cotton at the Tennessee Valley Sub-station in Alabama showed 30% to 50% higher yields than solid plantings. Plant two, skip two gave the highest yield.

Production from a ten acre allotment with three systems made these yields: plant two, skip two, 24 bales; plant four, skip four, 20.4 bales; solid, 15.4 bales.

Similar results were reported in Mississippi, but producers who have tried the various methods say that skip rows pay best on soil rich enough to grow stalks that lap out into the middle and take advantage of the extra sunlight and moisture.

The increase in skip row cotton in 1961 was 1,417,893, and this increased to 2,120,944 acres in 1962. Of this, 87% was in skips of less than four rows, the most popular patterns being two and two or two and one—two rows in cotton and one row out.

Smaller allotments this year may make skip row planting of interest to more farmers in Lauderdale County.

Fertilize Pastures, Grains

The Tennessee Experiment Station recommends the application of 30 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre to wheat, oats, and rye about the last week of February or first week of March. This application will make for earlier grazing and higher production of pasture and grain.

For permanent pastures which are mostly grass, fertilizer by soil test starting about the first week in March. For most of the upland part of the county, 200 pounds of 15-15-15 fertilizer will be profitable on these pastures.

For permanent pastures which have more than 30% clover, the application of 200 pounds of 0-20-20 per acre is advisable in the absence of a soil test.

All fields should be fertilized according to the maintenance recommendations from the soil test laboratory.

Inside SPORT

YIP YAG B FOOTBALL
YEAR COILING leaders are predicting a new year of popularity for college football next season. The reason: The amazing number of skilled 1962 sophomores and juniors who will reach college football near maturity in 1963. Pro football coaches, especially, can hardly wait for the class of 1963 to graduate. That year they'll have a cluster of excellent quarterback prospects to choose from. The best, now sophomores, are Tom Myers of Northwestern, Craig Morton of California, Roger Stanback of Navy, Archie Roberts of Columbia, Bob Berry of Oregon.

There are several top line quarterbacks, too, including George Mims of Miami and Billy Edwards of Georgia Tech. And sophomores and juniors who will start next year in other positions include Hal Beddoe of Southern California, Paul Hackett of Northwestern, tackle Carl Miller of Mississippi, center Sherman Lewis of Mississippi State and Joe Don Looney of Oklahoma.

PRICE OF FAME Both Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees and Bobby Layne of the Pittsburgh Steelers — super stars in different professions — have the same, somewhat hardened outlook towards life in Memphis. They are in the January issue of SPORT, both speak out on how they feel about the city.

Mickey Mantle talks about how a car rental company gave him an auto to drive. He said, "I don't see any of the guys in Memphis. They're in the money. They're making money. I've made the most money I've had. It's nice having them, but I know I had a few bad years a lot of those things would disappear. I'd like to see them go."

SCHOOL SCOOPS

From Halls High

By The Halls Beta Club

Students returned to regular classes Monday after a three-day absence because of hazardous road conditions due to ice and snow. All students were glad to see each other, and a few were pleased to be in classes again. Several boys reported they enjoyed going hunting during these three days.

Report cards were issued Monday morning. Both the six-weeks and first-semester grades were on the cards this time. It is the first-semester grade that is recorded on students' permanent school records.

It is reported that one Halls High student took home a report card which was anything but good. When his mother saw it, she cried out, "What happened to this report?" "Nothing unusual," "You ought to know things are always marked down right after Christmas."

Standardized tests for freshmen were started Tuesday afternoon and were planned to be completed Wednesday morning. There was an school Wednesday because of icy roads, so the tests will be completed another day.

The Metropolitan Achievement Tests were given to eighty-two freshmen Tuesday afternoon in the high school study hall. The county school program provides these tests through the Title V Federal Government program. The results of this testing program help toward student guidance.

The tests are administered by Mrs. A. D. Hallman, assisted by Mrs. Roy Patton.

The February meeting of the Halls P. T. A. will observe Founder's Day. The Halls chapter of the Beta Club is planning the program, and some of the Beta members will take part in the program. The meeting will be at 7:30 p. m. Thursday night, February 21st, in the high school study hall.

Dates for the basketball tournaments have been set, but it will be another week before the schedule is made to show when the Halls teams will play. The boys' tournament will be held in Ripley, February 21, 22 and 23rd. The girls' tournament will be in Ripley, February 14, 15 and 16th.

The weekly assembly-period program was planned by Mrs. E. C. McCorkle, Bill Kelly, son of the McCorkles, and his music instructor, Mrs. Wymond Hurt, presented several piano selections. Off of the highlights of the program was the rendition of Bill's own composition, "An American Fantasy," which he dedicated to Mrs. Hurt.

It is not often that a high school has a member to compose and play for his school a selection of this kind. The students seemed to appreciate this exceptional ability. Other numbers on the program were "Autumn Leaves," by Roger Williams; "The Saint Louis Blues," by W. C. Handy, and the classical arrangement of "Onward Christian Soldiers," by Sullivan.

"The Old Piano Roll Blues" and "The Ballad of Jed Clampett" were played by request.

Mrs. Hurt joined Bill to play a duet, "Mood Indigo," by Duke Ellington.

To complete the program, the entire student body joined in singing "The Alma Mater."

"I think every student should take at least one year of typing. To me, typing is fun. This subject also helps one to find out if he can control his temper in times of discussion—the 'off' days when nothing seems to go correctly, especially the boys of a typewriter."

Typewriting has been very helpful to me because I am able to type my notes when I have to make a speech. Many more type-written words can be put on paper than words that are handwritten.

Recently I read in the Beta Journal that knowing how to type is one of the essentials of preparing for college. Papers that are typewritten look so much neater than other papers."

The Lauderdale County Teachers Association will have its regular February meeting on Saturday, February 2nd. This will be at noon at the Ripley Grammar School. The meeting will be headed by most of the high school faculty members.

There will be a program of special music, and the guest speaker, Mr. Cavitt Cheahin, from the Tennessee Education Association of five in Nashville, will speak on the subject "Professional Ethics."

March of Dimes Makes Gains in Birth Defects, Arthritis

People say everyone talks about the weather but no one does anything about it. Until just recently, a similar observation could have been made about birth defects. Not only had no one done anything much about the problem but, in truth, people have always been reluctant or afraid even to talk about the subject.

The tragedy of this affliction has been magnified since the dawn of recorded history. Yet no organized attack on birth defects was launched until 1955 when The National Foundation-March of Dimes entered this medical area.

The reason for this historic decision was that birth defects constitute the world's greatest unmet childhood medical problem today. Meeting the problem, moreover, entailed fundraising on the same multimillion dollar scale as was required by the later, costly but successful fight of the same health organization against polio.

March 25th Year
 The March of Dimes, now marking its 25th anniversary, has in the last year appropriated more than $4,000,000 for research in birth defects, arthritis—another baffling disease which the nation's No. 1 cripple—and on certain aspects of polio. In addition, the organization has reported that about 250,000 cases of birth defects are reported each year in the United States. Directly financed by the March of Dimes chapters, these "grass roots" centers today number 31 and are located across the nation.

The need of funds for these centers, particularly in the area of birth defects, is the basic story of the University of Cincinnati. Dimes medical advisers reported that about 250,000 cases of birth defects are reported each year in the United States. Directly financed by the March of Dimes chapters, these "grass roots" centers today number 31 and are located across the nation.

The discovery that there is a similar ground plan of chemical in the connective tissue of many animals ranging from the protozoan cell to man was reported during the year by Dr. Albert Dorfman and his associates at the University of Chicago. This means that research in the connective tissue of animals can be related to the human condition. The ultimate significance of these and numerous other findings in the connective tissue research studies may not be fully apparent now, but these findings are valuable clues to future progress. If no one does anything about the weather at least something important is being done today about diseases that cripple children.

Experiments with pregnant mice have shown that certain hormones (such as hydrocortisone) can provoke birth defects in offspring. This was demonstrated by Dr. Richard H. Fox of the University of Cincinnati. Further evidence on hormones obtained by dipping unhatched eggs in a hormone solution, led Dr. Gregory Pincus of the Worcester Foundation for Experimental Biology to conclude that the problem of what causes some infants to be born handicapped may be a matter of hormones rather than heredity alone.

Key evidence was uncovered by Dr. Robert A. Good at the University of Minnesota that the mysterious thymus gland, situated behind the trachea, is responsible for the functioning of the body's immunity defense mechanism. Abnormal working of the thymus mechanism is believed involved in rheumatoid arthritis.

Confidential Corner De Gaulle's Stall on Common Market To Hurl-Guess Who?—U. S. Farmer

By Drew Pearson Copyright, 1963, by The Bell Syndicate

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 6.—The American farmer doesn't know it yet, but he will probably get the heaviest backlash from De Gaulle's veto of Britain for the Common Market.

It will probably mean cutting close to $1,000,000,000 of farm products to Western Europe, though the cut won't all come at once.

The reason is two-fold: 1. Continental Europe is hell bent to develop its own food self-sufficiency.

2. Britain's veto was a test case which was to pave the way for subsequent entry by the United States. The chief economic stumbling block to Britain's entry was the fact that Commonwealth partners—Australia, Canada, New Zealand—would get their wheat, butter, wool into the Common Market at low tariff rates, too.

This had the vigorous opposition of French farmers; and the French farm bloc is just as strong in the Chamber of Deputies as the American farm bloc is in the U. S. Congress.

France has the support prices on wheat of $2.20 a bushel, which is a healthy margin over the $1.82 price support on American wheat.

However, the Common wheat price in France is $3.15 a bushel. And many seem to understand that the tangible personal property tax means additional tax on driver's and car license.

What they don't understand is that the tax means additional tax on driver's and car license. It is not easy for the farmer to get a high German support price, and he can't get wheat at a $2.20 price in France and sell it to Germany for $3.15.

So De Gaulle was not about to open French doors to cheap Australian and Latin American wheat. De Gaulle, of course, had several reasons for his attitude. He was a French farmer, and he was a French farmer, and he was a French farmer.

What will now happen is that the Common Market will be a complete ignoring of the poor victim—the taxpayer. Apparently the administration means to back the legislature but simply elect a governor and let the governor make the laws.

Your editor supported the candidacy of Governor Clement in the election of 1960. It is not easy for the farmer to get a high German support price, and he can't get wheat at a $2.20 price in France and sell it to Germany for $3.15.

Local business men will do well to look into the business training program which is being sponsored here by the HHS Distributive Education class.

College students who visited Halls High School during their trip to the States will find it interesting to see the school which is being sponsored here by the HHS Distributive Education class.

There was a called meeting of the H Club in the study hall Monday night. During the meeting, the club decided to sponsor a spaghetti supper.

Manager for the girls' team is Mrs. Roy Parrish, Kathy Davis, and Pat Jacobs.

Mrs. Browning Is Claimed By Death

Mrs. Betty Carr Browning, 61, died at 10:45 p.m. Monday morning, Feb. 5th, in Baptist Hospital in Memphis, following a long illness.

She was born in Greenfield, Tenn., daughter of William Clayton Carr and Mary Martin Carr.

She lived there until after the death of her father, when, with her mother and sisters, she moved to Henderson, Tenn. She received her early education there and was graduated from Georgia Institute of Technology, now Freed-Hardeman College, now Freed-Hardeman University.

She took post graduate work at Peabody College in Nashville, and the University of Mexico. She taught in the public schools of West Tennessee.

In her youth she became a member of the Church of Christ and throughout life was a graduate student of the Bible, a faithful church worker and Sunday School teacher.

In 1910 she was married to the late Edmund Marvin Browning, who had farming interests in Lauderdale County, where they made their home in the Nankipoo community. To this union was born three children: Mrs. W. E. Paschal, Mrs. M. C. McElde, teacher of mathematics at Memphis State University, Dr. Alfred C. Browning, a doctor who lives in Union City where he practices veterinary medicine.

Mrs. Browning resumed her teaching career, taking charge of a small school in Henderson, Tenn. She was in a very short time she had built this into the growing and prosperous Nankipoo High School, which is the best in the county. She was principal and teacher of languages and also coached the girls' basketball team.

She opened her home to less fortunate girls and boys, who often found refuge there. She was a member of the church and a member of the Nankipoo community. To this union was born three children: Mrs. W. E. Paschal, Mrs. M. C. McElde, teacher of mathematics at Memphis State University, Dr. Alfred C. Browning, a doctor who lives in Union City where he practices veterinary medicine.

TO EVERY COMMUNIST

This page has been sent for insertion to the editors of Isvestia, Pravda and the principal newspapers of other Communist countries, as well as to leading newspapers throughout the non-Communist world.

PEACE OR WAR? That is the question each man asks his neighbor. Every woman awaits the answer. In a divided world, with both camps armed with weapons capable of total devastation, the theory of the class struggle as well as the theory of capitalism, the welfare state, of the affluent society will prove too small, too slow and too selfish to achieve anything except disaster. Many honest Communists know it. Too few in the non-Communist world will face it.

Our appeal is to every sincere Communist and Marxist in Russia, in China and throughout the world to join with us in the greatest revolutionary adventure of all time, whereby the root problem—human nature—is dealt with thoroughly, drastically and on a colossal scale, and nations are halted in their mad, historic march to violence and destruction. It will mean change for all. Changed economic conditions, though essential, do not change men. Decadence in some of every generation among the richer societies of the non-Communist world, decadence among the third generation of Communists in the Communist world prove it.

Too many Communists, as Mr. Khrushchev has pointed out, are too selfish to make their Communism work in their homes, on the farm, in the factory, or in the nation. Too many non-Communists are too selfish to live for anything except their own comfort, their own corner, their own concerns.

Years ago Frank Buchman, initiator of Moral Re-Armament, in a speech broadcast to the world said, "Is change for all the one basis of unity for all? Can Marxists be changed? Can they have this new thinking? Can Marxists pave the way for a greater ideology? Why not? They have always been open to new things. They have been reformers. They will go to prison for their belief. They will die for their belief. Why should they not be the ones to live for this superior thinking?"

Many people say that capitalism or Communism, class or color are the problems.

The problem is not Communism. It is character. The problem is not capitalism. It is character. The problem is not color. It is character. The problem is not class. It is character. New men with new motives will build a new world. No concept short of this touches the root of the modern malaise.

Hans Boeckler, the great president of the German Trade Union Federation, put it this way, "When men change, the structure of society changes. And when the structure of society changes, men change. Both go together and both are necessary."

This revolution of Moral Re-Armament already has bridgeheads in every nation. As Moscow Radio said, "It is in its final phase of total expansion throughout the world."

IN AFRICA, at a time when many Africans want all white men to leave, 17 nations have invited Moral Re-Armament to their countries. In Nigeria, Tunisia, the Camerons, Morocco and the Congo responsible leaders say that it has many times averted bloodshed. In Kenya, hard-core Mau Mau revolutionaries were changed when they heard their white prison commandant apologize for the arrogance and greed in men like himself, which had helped to cause Mau Mau. They gave up their hate, for they saw that where black hates white today, black will kill black tomorrow. They took the all-African film Freedom, which dramatizes the answer to bitterness and corruption, to their leader, Jomo Kenyatta. He said, "Get this film into Swahili. It is what our people need."

CURE FOR HATRED AND SELFISHNESS
Dedan Mugo, the first man arrested in the emergency, saw the film in Swahili. He had returned from twelve years in prison to find that his two wives and four children had been killed, his home demolished and his land confiscated. He says, "Some power in that film touched my heart and took away my bitterness. I decided to forgive the white man, for I saw that only thus could Africans, Asians, Europeans live in peace." Together with Kenyatta's only brother, he took Freedom to 400,000 people in Kenya in six months. "Moral Re-Armament is an intelligent medicine to cure the diseases of hate, selfishness and bitterness, which confuse nations everywhere," he says.

THE TOTAL REVOLUTION
In South America, revolutionary students of San Marcos University, Peru, where Vice-President Nixon was stoned, have changed. "To change the system is only half a revolution," said the editor of the left-wing student paper. "Moral Re-Armament is the total revolution because it changes the system and produces the incorruptible men to run it. The most reactionary man is the one who wants to change the world, but refuses to change himself."

These students wrote a play, El Condor, portraying this total fight for social justice. Capitalists and generals changed, quit their sterile anti-Communism, and took up the fight with them. They were received with tumultuous enthusiasm by the land workers in the Peasant League country. In the port of Recife so many dockers found hope and purpose that the Port Superintendent was able to tell the press that alcoholism had decreased in a marked degree. The Director of the Port Cooperative reports, "Looting and pilfering are going out of fashion. Honesty has come in, so that prices of staple foods in our cooperative have been able to be cut by 35%."
In recent months Moral Re-Armament plays have been seen in football stadiums by more than a million and a half people in Peru, Chile, Bolivia and Brazil. Millions more see Moral Re-Armament programs regularly on television.

FOR WORLD PEACE AND ASIAN UNITY
In Japan on October 22nd, 1962, the Prime Minister spoke at the opening of an Asian training center for Moral Re-Armament at Odawara.
Prime Minister Ikeda told the 2,131 delegates from 41 countries: "We are honored that Japan should be chosen as the center for the Moral Re-Armament of Asia. Since I took office I have striven to double the national income. Now I realize that the foundation for this should be men who are right and true. MRA is working to create new men, new nations, and a new world. May its philosophy take root and spread. I am determined to help in whatever way I can to further this purpose."
The invitation committee for the first assembly there includes two former Prime Ministers and senior industrial leaders, who say: "In order to lay a foundation for world peace, and especially to create unity in Asia, individuals and nations must now give priority to Moral Re-Armament." Takasumi Mitsui, the President of the Mitsui Foundation, sold his last family property to provide money for the center. The aim is to make real for every Asian the words of Frank Buchman to the rice workers of Ceylon: "Empty hands will be filled with work, empty stomachs with food and empty hearts with an idea that really satisfies."

THE THIRD GENERATION
One of those leading the Assembly is Rajmohan Gandhi. He is the third generation of his family to stand with Moral Re-Armament. His grandfather, Mahatma Gandhi, who achieved India's independence, first met Buchman in 1915, and twenty-five years later said, "Moral Re-Armament is the greatest thing that has come out of the West." His father, Devadas Gandhi, said, "If Moral Re-Armament fails, the world fails." Pressed by leaders of India to take a prominent position in his country, Rajmohan replied, "Where would India be today if my grandfather had accepted the advice to return to his law practice instead of fighting for his country? Today, not just one law office is in jeopardy, but the whole world."
The grandchildren of the men and women changed when Buchman moved through Scandinavia in the thirties have written a play which gives an answer to impurity and hate. It offers youth of every nation something great to live for. It will go through Europe this winter.

In Europe, Asia, and throughout the world, the third generation of Moral Re-Armament are working day and night, without salary, to make the work and wealth of the world available for all, and for the exploitation of none.

which do not vary with personal, party or national interest. Here lies the secret of successful statesmanship, sound citizenship and lasting unity. The logical next step for the Communist and for the non-Communist world is Moral Re-Armament.

Honest leaders in both worlds admit it. The 22nd Congress of the Russian Communist Party called upon every Party Member to observe himself and cultivate in others honesty, moral purity, unselfish labor for society and love of his fellows. Emboldened leaders in East and West will bring these standards to their peoples by living them themselves. William Penn said, "Men must choose to be governed by God or they condemn themselves to be ruled by tyrants."

When the men of the Kremlin listen to God, He will speak to them as clearly as He would to the leaders of the non-Communist world if they were humble enough to listen—and sane enough to obey—instead of continuing to do inefficiently and proudly what is not the way.

From the Mind of God adequate, accurate, definite information can come to the mind of man. Here is a revolutionary experiment that any true revolutionary will dare to make.

The paradox of history may be that this century which discovered the power of the divided atom will learn the secret of uniting man. The Communists, governed by God, could be peacemakers for the world in the greatest revolution of all time, where all men are needed, no man is exploited, and where leaders and led pay the price of a new society by paying the price of change in their own lives.

Your Telephone Manager

ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL was a teacher of deaf children. . . deeply moved and concerned as he listened to the strange, awkward noises they made as they tried to speak. From this teaching experience came his interest in the mechanics of speech, and ultimately his invention of the telephone. Today, we communicate quickly and easily with all parts of the world because of the vision of this man of compassion and courage.

YOUR TELEPHONE IS PROBABLY THE BEST PERSONAL ASSISTANT—SECRETARY—SERVANT—ERRAND runner you ever had! Millions of people think so. And it all begins in a Western Electric Factory where plastic handsets are patterned from a die mold like this one. Over 11,000,000 of them will be produced this year!

ENGLISHMEN IMPRESSED BY TELSTAR! That's the result of a survey conducted by a British organization similar to our Gallup Poll. According to a recent study, the public of Great Britain was most impressed by Telstar when by the launching of Russia's first Sputnik. Of the people polled, 55% rated Telstar as a "very great" achievement and the British "opinion of scientific development in the U. S." has risen as a result of Telstar.

Seems Inevitable

The Tennessee Upper House Wednesday passed the general education tax bill and other major administration measures almost without a dissenting vote.

While there is more opposition to some of the tax measures in the Lower House, there doesn't seem to be much doubt that all bills will pass virtually as written.

It is difficult for your editor to understand how any measure could be introduced that would be so perfect that there would be absolutely no opposition. In fact, it is hard to believe that the administration is so much in control that virtually no one "dares" raise a voice of protest.

As we have written before, it seems probable that at least some of the additional taxes are needed but the small segment of the public with which we have been in contact do not definitely oppose some of the new taxes—particularly the utilities tax—but it seems inevitable that the sales tax will be placed on utilities.

Within itself the utilities tax will not add a great deal to the individual consumer bill but it does mean—in our opinion—a step in the wrong direction.

Dr. McCall Speaks At Meeting Of TB Assn. On Monday

By Henry Marchison

Dr. Charles McCall, who spoke Monday evening at a meeting of the District Tuberculosis Association in Covington, said that respiratory disease are causing more time lost from work than any other disease, and that the case rates of tuberculosis are rising faster than the rate of cancer.

He is also a member of the American Tuberculosis Association, and is a member of the Tennessee Tuberculosis Association, and is a member of the Tennessee Tuberculosis Association.

Dr. McCall said that tuberculosis is not a thing of the past, and efforts to stamp it out must not be relaxed. However, we must shift our emphasis on raising rates of the lungs.

Social Security

Self-employed people with 1962 profits of $400 or more must make a self-employment Social Security report no later than April 15, 1963.

N. Farris Vaden, Social Security district manager in Dyersburg, says this report should be made along with the individual's income tax report. Both go to the District Director of Internal Revenue.

After the report is checked for accuracy, it is sent to the Social Security Administration. The earnings then credited to the individual's social security account.

Mr. Vaden said it is very important to include his correct name and social security number. This assures him proper credit for his earnings. His monthly Social Security payments at retirement will be based on his past earnings.

Failure to report properly would definitely affect the amount of future benefits to the businessman and his family.

Under the Social Security law, monthly payments to an individual worker range between $40 and $127 a month. Family payments can go as high as $254 a month.

The key to the whole matter, according to Vaden, is to report correctly and on time. He suggests that before making income tax and self-employment returns, a businessman should check the name and Social Security number on the report against his Social Security card.

Social Security cards or duplicate cards are available from the social security office in Dyersburg.

N. Farris Vaden, Social Security manager in Dyersburg, reminds farmers who operate farms on a calendar year basis that their Social Security self-employment returns must be filed and the tax paid by April 15th.

However, he points out that self-employed farmers who are required to file estimated tax returns and have not done so by Jan. 15, 1963, must file the final returns and pay the social security tax by Feb. 15, 1963.

Partners and farm operators file their returns on Form 1040 and Form 1040-F. Form 1040 is the general tax report form for city and farm people alike. Form 1040-F, the second form, is especially for farmers. But both must be completed and filed by self-employed farmers.

Unlike other self-employed persons, self-employed farmers have certain options in reporting their earnings. These options are:

(1) If gross farm income is more than $1000 and the net earnings are $1200 or more, then the actual amount of net earnings must be reported.

(2) If gross farm income is more than $1000 or less, then the actual net farm earnings or two-thirds of the gross farm income may be counted as net farm income.

(3) If gross farm income is more than $1800 and the net is less than $1800, a farmer may elect to report net earnings either the actual earnings or $1800.

The optional method, based on gross farm income, is used only in figuring self-employment tax and applies only to farm income. Where the optional method of reporting applies, individuals who prefer to report actual net income will receive credit for social security purposes if the net amount is $400 or more.

Tea Given Sunday By Beta Members

The parents of the Halls Beta Club members were invited to a tea in the high school study hall Sunday afternoon, February 17th.

Guests were greeted at the door by Jimmy Hunsford and Bobby Voss, and received in the party room by Joe Kelly, president, and Gloria Meek, social chairman.

Julia Peters and Linda Meek invited everyone to register in the club scrapbook. Kathy Daws presided as music as guests arrived, and as they were being served refreshments.

Joe Kelly, as president, welcomed the guests, then Principal James E. McKee addressed the parents and members.

Special recognition was given to Mrs. E. C. Owen, of Ripley, who organized the Halls Chapter of the Beta Club in January, 1947, when she was teaching English in Halls High School.

Pieces of valentines were matched for partners who then answered questions found on the back of the valentines—such as, Why were you sent to the principal's office? What was the most mischievous thing you did in school? What was your transportation to school? Many answers by parents beamed.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Christian Creed
Lesson for February 24, 1963

Bible Material: Mark 8:27 through 9:13
Devotional Reading: Philippians 1:12-21

The word "Creed" comes from the Latin and it means "I believe." Most Christian churches repeat the "Creed" during the Sunday worship. But a person might know the Creed by heart and still not really believe it. Some Christians fly on the wings of enthusiasm, so to speak. They expect to "go to heaven as their grandmother's ticket." They expect to get credit for what Grandmother believed. It can't be done.

Dr. Foreman Some churches have no creed but the Bible. They feel that nobody understands a creed anyhow, and that creeds are the language of men not of God. As a matter of fact, all Christian creeds are based on the Bible, and it is a striking fact that they are all much alike, and often in the exact words of the Bible. If a man believes just one single thing, he has that much of a creed.

Believing what we cannot see

Let us look at another word: Science. That comes from another Latin word, meaning "I know." What is the difference between a Creed and science? What is the difference between a Creed and knowledge? One difference is this: If I say "I know" something, and I do know it, then I can prove it to anybody who is not blind or crazy. But if I say "I believe" something, I can be just as sure about it as if I "knew" it, and it can be just as true. Only, what I believe is not public knowledge, shared by everybody. It is private and personal. It goes beyond what any fool can plainly see.

The most important truths in life are precisely those that cannot be proved, but must be believed. When a girl promises to love and to cherish a young man, how does he, how does any one know she is telling the truth? It is the most important thing in his life; but he must live by it, not prove it. We believe that God is love; but not every one knows that, though everybody knows the sky is blue. You can know that God is love not by having some one prove it to you; you have to live by faith that it is true.

The first Christian creed

The first Christian creed was probably the shortest. Jesus asked His closest friends: Who do men say that I am? Peter's answer is reported by Mark as a very short one: You are the Christ! With that single sentence Peter registered his belief about Jesus and his belief in Jesus. From that day to this, Christ has held the central place. There may be all kinds of churches, but one kind you will never see in one where the people won't say whether they believe in Christ or not. Any "Christian" who hasn't made up his mind about Jesus is hardly ready to be called a Christian.

Mind you, Peter did not say all the things, he did not use all the words, about Jesus that the church would use day after day. But in that simple declaration, Yes are the Christ, was packed something vitally important. For one thing, Peter places Jesus in a class by Himself. No Jew in those days thought there could be more than one Christ (or Messiah—the two titles mean the same). Further, Peter meant to say that Jesus was the Number One Authority over men. To be Christ means to share the sovereignty of God Himself. How could Peter know this was true? He never tried to prove it, but he dared to live by it.

Call to all, call for all

There is a very important feature of Christian faith, at its center and heart. That is, genuine Christian faith is much more than reciting a list of what you believe. More important than belief about is belief-in. There is a poem called "Not What but Whom I do Believe"; it speaks for Christians everywhere, it declares faith in a Person not in a Proposition. There are millions of things one can know or believe, without being changed at all. A man who believes that the world is round is just about the same man if he changes his mind and concludes that instead it is flat for him. But if a man believes that God is good, if he goes on and is not changed by that belief, he doesn't really believe it. Christian belief challenges all men, calls to all; and true Christian belief calls on a man for all that is within him.
