Confidential Corner

By Henry Murchison

Wandering Thoughts

Sen. Barry Goldwater certainly damaged his presidential hopes with the announcement that he favors the sale of TVA. While we think there was little chance of his election, certainly Tennessee was a possibility for him. We can think of nothing that would have lowered his chances any more.

Unless it rains fairly soon, fire danger is going to be greater than any time within our memory.

While we have no figures, it seems to us that this is the longest drought without any sizeable rain within our lifetime. Not since early August has Halls had a rain of any consequence, although there was a small shower Sept. 4th.

Speaking of the drought, we dread Halloween Thursday night unless it differs from those of the past. At any time we have little use for firecrackers, but they will be a definite menace with everything as dry as it is.

One of the most important Big Ten football games of recent years will be played Friday night when Brownsville and Ripley meet in Brownsville. Some think Ripley will prevail, but this is one time we are going to straddle the fence. We can't see enough difference between the two ball clubs to make a choice. Sorry that we won't be able to see the game, but guess we had better follow the Tigers to Lake County and hope they can rack up their first win of the season.

There are times when we definitely enjoy writing the Corner, other times when we have little to say. This is one of those times when we wish we had never started it.

L. E. Cribfield, Jr. Injured in Mishap

L. E. Cribfield, Jr., local landowner, was severely injured late Wednesday afternoon when his foot was caught in a soy bean unloading auger.

Mr. Cribfield suffered the loss of his big toe and the first toe on his left foot, and the foot was severely mangled. He is in Parkview Hospital at Dyersburg.

Mr. Cribfield is the representative in the Tennessee General Assembly from Lauderdale County and was chairman of the House Agriculture Committee during the 1963 session.

James O. Alley

James Osby Alley, farmer and landowner—brother of Jasper Alley, of Halls—died of a heart attack at his home in Alamo last Thursday evening. He was 74.

Services were at 2 p. m. Saturday at Crossroad Church of Christ. Burial was in Robertson Cemetery. Born in Gibson County, he had lived in Crockett County most of his life.

He also leaves his wife, Mrs. Alice Baker Alley; and two sisters, Mrs. A. C. Madison, of Joplin, Mo., and Mrs. Robert Davis, of Cleveland, Ohio.

County Agent

Anthony Fisher, of Durhamville, recently expressed the opinion that he was losing substantial corn yield this year on land which was just as good as the land from which he was getting much higher yields, but which had been limed recently.

Other farmers now using higher amounts of fertilizers than ever before are seeing the real benefits that come from applications of ground limestone at rates of two to three tons per acre every five to six years. They say, "It does not cost, it pays."

Dry weather conditions are favorable to the taking of soil samples to find out how much lime is needed and also to the spreading of that lime on the land while crops are not growing.

Lime has many effects. It corrects soil acidity which affects both soil structure and plant growth. It supplies calcium which is required for the growth of plants.

Lime makes it possible for plants to use a higher proportion of phosphate fertilizer. It prevents the harmful effects which aluminum, iron, and manganese can have in acid soil. It provides conditions favorable to the growth of desirable soil organisms. It makes cottonseed treatments more effective and reduces the severity of plant diseases.

Lauderdale County farmers have used more than 200,000 tons of lime on cropland in the last 34 years when farm programs have paid part of the cost of using it. More than 10,000 tons per year are now being applied, but this rate could probably be doubled or tripled.

Ripley-Halls Date Was Goliath-David Bout: Goliath Won

But Halls, Outclassed And Outpassed in 60-0 Loss, Never Threw In Sponge

It was David vs. Goliath on Kees Field last Thursday night, as undefeated Ripley hosted winless Halls; and Goliath stomped David, 60-0, but they made a ball game of it.

Substituting freely and expertly for their victims a sporting chance, and they took it. Fifteen men wearing black and gold, outclassed in weight, talent, and experience, battled 31 Riplians and unlike some teams RHS has met this year, never caved in.

The Halls squad held Ripley scoreless for fourteen minutes of the third quarter and resisted the next to last Ripley tally, at 2:37 left in the game, more tenaciously than they had fought any before it.

Louis Jennings, Halls' nemesis all night, abandoned his halfback position for quarterback in the final minute, for 33 yards in two plays to score his third touchdown in the fray, and that would have discouraged anybody.

Jennings got loose for long runs several times during the game, but Halls did a respectable job of containing the other Ripley ball carriers. It was through the air that Ripley knifed Halls with four TDs. Offensively, Dwight Agee was Halls' workhorse, but the vital support wasn't there. High water marks came in the second quarter, when Halls, recovering its own punt, pushed to Ripley's 31, and just before halftime, when the best Halls drive of the night backed the Riplians to their 22. Scoring Pace Slowed

Ripley, receiving, scored in seven plays covering 50 yards, with Johnny Hemby taking Larry Tillman's TD pass 24.

After Halls punted without a first, Ripley's first play saw Tillman hit Billy Howard for 59 scoring yards, and after the Halls punt repeated, Howard returned to the Halls 28. Jennings capped a four-play drive as he went over from one out.

The second quarter saw stiffening resistance until relief quarterback Art Thompson streaked the last 30 of 76 yards the Tigers covered in ten plays.

Then came the Halls punt recovery and the failure of that threat, and Ripley scored in five plays covering 80 yards as Jennings ran the last 40 into pay dirt.

Agee, quarterback Paul Brown, and Paul Henderson alternated during Halls' drive from its own 34 to Ripley's 22 before the half. Brown passed to Agee for nine yards just before time ran out.

Receiving the second half kickoff, Halls had to punt without a first, but eight plays later, Ripley punted after several passes failed to click. Halls yielded the ball on downs on its 34 and Ripley moved to the score in nine plays, Thompson running the last eight yards.

The fourth quarter began with Ripley's Bob Meadows intercepting a Halls aerial. After one pass fell incomplete, Thompson hit Robert Stafford for the TD, with the play covering 29 yards.

At this point, Jim Coffman kicked his fifth extra point from placement. After Ripley ground out that next to last score, requiring eleven plays—topped by Tillman's pass to Coffman for 36 yards—Robert Tibbs drove kicked a point, a rarity in postwar Tennessee football.

Tibbs tried it again, unsuccessfully, after the fast final score by Jennings.

The only two undefeated teams in the Big Ten Conference's western division collide at 8 p. m. in Brownsville, and something will have to give.

ON THE HOT SEAT A tackle by Bob Meadows (34) whirls Halls quarterback Paul Brown (10) across Ripley quarterback Art Thompson (10) as Jimmy Smith (61) joins mele. The ball flew, but Halls recovered in fourth quarter of 60-0 loss.

A SIT DOWN STRIKE Louis Jennings (30) is getting up from the one after setting up Ripley's third score (his, next play), while Halls' Lynn Patton (72), having found a softer spot to land, is trying bronc busting tactics to stay atop a rapidly shifting situation.

J. O. McLaughlin Tiger Cubs Close Season With Win

James Oscar McLaughlin, Bruceville farmer, died at 8:45 a. m. Monday in Parkview Hospital in Dyersburg, which he had entered three weeks earlier, with uremia. He was 67.

Services were at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at Halls Church of Christ. Mr. Leonard Leggett officiated. Burial was in Friendship Cemetery, Halls Funeral Home in charge.

Born in Lauderdale County, Ala., he moved to Dyer County in 1937. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Pokie Stuts McLaughlin; four sons, B. W. McLaughlin, of Halls, Ozsie McLaughlin, of Bogota, Charles McLaughlin, of Dyersburg, and Billy McLaughlin, of Chattanooga; four daughters, Mrs. Mae Beasley, of Dyersburg, Mrs. Marie Cotham, of Humboldt, Mrs. Bessie Ruth Reynolds, of Finley, and Mrs. Emma Gean Williams, of Ridgely; three brothers, Turner McLaughlin, Shelton McLaughlin, and Virgil McLaughlin, and one sister, Mrs. Cleve James, all of Florence, Ala.; and 23 grandchildren.

Mrs. Phillips

Mrs. Pearl Buttram Phillips, of Greenville, Miss.—aunt of Mrs. A. D. McBroom, of Ripley—died last Thursday in Greenville Hospital of a heart attack. She was 62.

Services were at 9 a. m. Saturday in Greenville, with graveside services at 3 p. m. Saturday in Hollywood Cemetery in Blytheville, Ark.

Mrs. Phillips lived at Hales Point for several years as a young woman. She was a Baptist.

Farms Blaze At Dry Hill

DODGE THAT DIDN'T Silius Bailey, 37, a Tazewell farmer, was admitted to Dyersburg's Parkview Hospital with a broken ankle and other injuries after his 1959 Dodge, southbound on new Highway 51, ran into a bridge abutment a mile south of the Lauderdale-Dyer County line, according to Highway Patrolman Joe Jacobs. The patrolman said Bailey was alone in the car when it struck the bridge about 1:30 p. m. Saturday.

Larry Moore Has Champ F.F.A. Hog

By Donna Roberts, Beta Club

The Halls Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, under the leadership of Jamie Brown, agriculture teacher, sponsored its annual hog show last Friday. The judge for the event was Vocational Agriculture teacher from Ripley, James McGarrity.

Two of the three top honors went to Larry Moore, junior FFA member. The distinction of Grand Champion was won for him by his sow, and he received Reserve Champion on his 80-pound gilt. Showmanship award was presented to James Thurmond, senior member, for the display of his 80-pound gilt.

FFA members had a choice of entering any of the following four divisions: Sows, barrows, 50-pound gilts, and 80-pound gilts.

In the sow division, Larry Moore placed first; George Bentley, second; and Larry Bentley, third.

Winners in the barrow division were Larry Bentley, first; Rodester Wiggins, second; Jimmy Cates, third; and tying for fourth place were George Bentley and Carl Newman.

Fifty-pound gilt division winners were Dale Robbins with first place, and Carl Newman second, third, and fourth place.

Larry Moore took first, second, third, and shared fourth-place ribbons with James Thurmond and Gary Jackson in the 80-pound gilt division.

Prize money for the event was donated by merchants of Halls and the surrounding community.

Joyce Ann Hartsfield, a freshman, transferred this week from Dell High School, Blytheville, Ark. Shirley Cates, a junior who withdrew after the first two weeks of the school year because of illness, enrolled as a regular student this week.

A Halloween Carnival, sponsored by the Halls Parent-Teachers Association, was held in the elementary school Halloween night. The proceeds helped finance the school band. Each class in the high school had a part in the carnival, directed by the class mothers. The senior class was in charge of a grab bag; juniors sold merchandise at a "Country Store," the sophomores served a spaghetti dinner, and the freshmen sponsored a bazaar.

The new members were not allowed to speak to a boy all day.

Mrs. John Woodard, Halls High School librarian, attended a meeting of the librarians of West Tennessee, Saturday, at Memphis State University. They met in groups and discussed phases of library work; and also heard Miss Eugenia Mauldin, professor of the Department of Library Service, University of Tennessee, who spoke on "New Techniques For Library Instruction."

Tuesday evening, Oct. 22nd, the Distributive Education Club sponsored a "Beauty-less Revue." Twenty-six "beauty-less" contestants entered the stiff competition. Phillip Jackson was crowned queen by resigning "Queen" Louis Vaden. Bonnie Kerby and Dale Fitzhugh were first and second "maids."

The revue was directed entirely by students taking D. E. under the guidance of Mrs. Hallman. Louis Levy served as Master of Ceremonies, and Mrs. Wymond Hurt was pianist.

Proceeds for the event will pay for the employer-employee banquet, help pay D. E. pins for the members, and buy expenses for the

Cub Activities For Month Of October

Members of the Distributive Education Club are making plans for their two candidates for offices in West Tennessee. The candidates for potential offices are Lana Jacobs, vice-president; and James Vaden, parliamentarian. The election will take place Nov. 10th, at the convention in Nashville.

Mrs. Follis, of Follis Studio, Lake Village, Ark., was at school all day Tuesday of this week to take pictures of clubs, football players, class officers, and faculty members. On the same day, seniors selected proofs for their personal orders. A copy of each senior will be used for the large picture of the Class of 1964 to be placed in the corridor.

Requirements for the honor roll have been raised this year. A student making the honor roll must have all A grades. Heretofore, a student could have three A's and one B and make the honor roll.

Students who made no grade lower than A the first six-week term are listed by classes: Senior class—Judy Cates, Kathy Dawe, Lana Jacobs, Donna Roberts, and Allen Ellis; junior class—Patsy Atkinson; sophomore class—Linda Galloway, Connie Lazure, Ricky Cook, Ronnie Kerby, and Jerry Peters; freshman class—Charlotte Garrett, Diane Hayes, Patricia Meeks, Janet O'Dell, Mary Jo Parrish, Raybon Chambers, Tommy Martin, and Morris Stallings.

The annual initiation of new members into the Future Homemakers of America was held last Friday, Oct. 25th, under the supervision of Mrs. W. H. Freeman, Home Economics teacher. Girls enrolled in the first year home economics were required to wear red skirts, white blouses, and red ribbon bows in their hair. FFA colors are red and white; red for courage and the firm determination to succeed, white for the purity and integrity of youth. They also wore a cardboard replica of a house, which all FFA upperclassmen autographed.

Flames Held Back In All Night Effort Break Out Again

Landowners Renew Struggle Against Orange Holocaust Sweeping Parched Acres

A fire which all night efforts were thought to have brought under control broke out again Thursday afternoon in drought parched Dry Hill community.

Orange flames licked across 15 farms and were threatening others at presstime. Winds jumped the fire as far as 300 feet at the time.

Farmers were disking with tractors and setting back fires before the flames.

Ripley's fire equipment, which would have lacked water anyway, was tied up with another fire inside the city. So was the equipment in Covington.

Fire fighters from the Naval Air Station at Millington were en route to help landowners battle the fire but their orders were changed and they turned back after reaching Ripley, presumably for fire duty nearer home.

About 3:45 p. m., the fire jumped a road along a wide front and was threatening a corn crop and getting near some wooded areas which would make a real blaze.

Another fire raged Thursday afternoon between Friendship and Tigrert, halting a train.

Thoughts on a City Without Newspapers

We can now see, more clearly than ever before, how much we depend on the newspapers for mental sustenance, peace of mind and conversation, in addition to news.

The experience of New York City during the long weeks of the strike shows that it wasn't merely the inconvenience that hurt; it went much deeper than that.

Something had been taken from the established pattern of life and left pieces of frustration and darkness in its stead.

For years the newspaper had been right there when it was wanted, as welcome as a cup of coffee and as faithful as the rising and setting of the sun. Somehow you always expected it would be like that, no matter what the problems of news gathering or the weather.

Then suddenly one day it wasn't there.

No paper on the step

You opened the door at home and it wasn't on the step. Nor at your favorite stand on the corner or at the station. Nor waiting on a handy pile for a quick grab on the way home.

"Oh, well," you said, "the strike will be over in a day or two. I'll make out by getting the news somehow."

But it wasn't over in a day or two.

Then you began to realize that the news did not seem quite the same over TV and radio, helpful as they tried to be. And you just couldn't get interested in that out-of-town paper. What you missed was the kinship of your own.

A stranger to the news

More and more you had the feeling of being out of touch and alone. Things were going on, lots of things, big and little things, but you had so little part in them.

Where once the whole world was right there in a bundle in your hand, there was now a void.

Carry that far enough and psychologists will tell you that you could wind up biting the dog.

It was bad enough to be shut off from the news and the financial pages and the columnists. But how could the many loyal addicts live a full and happy life, and maintain good humor, without the comics!

All of this emphasizes the importance of the newspaper in the lives of the people.

There is something much more. A city without newspapers is an uninformed city without the means to combat those, from within and without, who might do us harm. We need a free, constant and unmanipulated press for a free America.

Figures on the cost of the strike show what happens when the newspapers are shut down and there is a blackout of purchasing power as well as news.

The cost to newspapers in lost revenues and to employees in lost wages was over $100,000,000.

Losses to retail stores were so staggering that they defy any exact figure. Estimates on the total over-all economic loss, which extended to almost every type of activity in the city, range from $200,000,000 to as much as $400,000,000.

The shopper feels the pinch

The loss through the absence of advertising is not only to the merchants—and the manufacturers—but to the public.

For the newspaper is the buying guide that points the way to the best values and where they can be had. Countless readers look to it and depend on it regularly for their shopping information.

Each day the most desirable items in the stores are placed before you on the printed pages: the well-known and the just-out, the standard and the unique, the glamorous and that new pan for the kitchen, and the bargains to be had.

Something important is lost when they are not there to see.

No Item in Paper?
Cust Father Time
There's always more news than space to print. The dust-covered time sent in too late for its proper publication date means the first one after the event can't be used, stale, without robbing space from another week's news. . . . Fresh news which must appear promptly, or perish.

Even during the proper publication week, a flood of last minute items exceeds the physical capacity of equipment to set in this type before the press rolls. Items are then cut, or set out, to fit the type setting time still available. . . . and this applies to staff-produced items as well as to material submitted to us. The clock leaves us no alternative.

We try hard to avoid disappointing anyone who submits material, but we must ask that you submit it just as early as you possibly can. Monday is excellent, Tuesday is satisfactory, Wednesday is difficult, Thursday is doubtful (unless the news has just developed or unless it holds major importance), and a week later is hopeless. . . . In order to meet deadlines and deal fairly with all those who desire news coverage.

We request your co-operation. It will result in better presentation of your material.

Confidential Corner

By Henry Marchison

Needs Courtesy Lesson

Quite a number of supporters of Hills High School and football fans were disturbed by some of the remarks made by the announcer of Radio Station WDSB, Dyersburg, while announcing the football game last Friday night.

According to a number of persons who listened to the broadcast, and also some of those who were in the booth, the remarks of the announcer were in very bad taste and showed a lack of common courtesy to the host school.

"We, of course, expect an announcer to favor his home team, but there is still no call to make insulting remarks or otherwise show a bias in the field.

Perhaps Hills should do as Ripley does and no longer permit the Dyersburg station to broadcast the game when it is played in Hills.

We Enjoyed It

We are not and never have pretended to be a television program critic but we certainly enjoyed the TV show which Henry Marchison emceed the other night, "That Was The Week That Was."

Most of the time, we find that the shows that the critics rant and rave about are the ones that we like best. In this case there seems to be a certain amount of agreement.

"We're certain that some politicians would prefer that the show never be repeated.

Remember To Give

Don't forget to make your contribution to the Boy Scout Fund drive which is now in progress. Any contribution that you make will be most appreciated.

Bovens Of Fire

Following the rains last week, some people seemed to think that the danger of fire was ended, but the danger still remains, since the rains were far from adequate.

"If you must burn leaves, etc., notify the fire department ahead of time.

Disastrous Season Ends

The just ended football season proved a disastrous one for the Hills Tigers, but the fine junior team, along with a number returning from this year's team, gives promise of better things to come.

"It is this case, just wait until next year should be true of Hills, although it perhaps will take several years to completely rebuild the team.

We're Sorry

We deeply regretted Ripley's loss to Humboldt last Friday night in the Ten playoff, but we are happy to say that the "Tiny Bowl" is being revived. Ripley and Kingsbury will play next Thursday night, Nov. 21st.

DEATH

Mrs. Rosa Hunt

Mrs. Rosa Hunt, of Hills, widow of Lafayette Hunt, a farmer, died at 8:40 p. m. Monday in Parkview Hospital in Dyersburg, which she had entered the day before, after a brief illness. She was 61.

Services were at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Hills Pentecostal Church, in Dyersburg. Burial will be in Lauderdale County Memorial Gardens. Mrs. Hunt had been ill for several years.

Her husband died in 1927. She leaves 1 daughter, Mrs. W. Hogue, of Hills; eight grand-children; and 16 great-grandchildren.

County's Certified Brucellosis-Free Under Conditions

By F. H. Fushel

Lauderdale County has been declared a Modified Certified Brucellosis Free Area by the U. S. Department of Agriculture until Jan. 30, 1964.

This certificate was the result of much work by many producers and employees of the state and U. S. Departments of Agriculture, beginning in 1959 and continuing to the present time.

In order for the county to remain a brucellosis-free area, it is necessary for all 61,172 header calves to be vaccinated between the ages of four and eight months and for beef heifer calves to be vaccinated between the ages of four and twelve months.

Vaccination is done by a graduate veterinarian and paid for by the Department of Agriculture, provided producers follow a definite procedure.

According to this procedure, cattle producers must be on a mailing list of the State Department of Agriculture by December 15. Those on the list will be mailed a double postcard in January. Within ten days after receipt, a postcard must be mailed back to the Department of Agriculture, stating the number of calves to be vaccinated in February.

Producers who have been getting these cards and returning them will get a card in January, but new producers need to get their names on the list before December 15.

County agent offices will see that names get on the list by telephone requests, or producers may write a request to Dr. C. E. Kerk, Box 1620, Memphis Station, Nashville 4, Tenn., requesting that their names be added to the list.

Producers planning wheat

Producers who have never grown any wheat and who do not plan to be under the feed-grain program in 1964 have no limitation whatever on the acreage of wheat they would plant this month and save for grain next May or June.

Kerk and Henson are the earliest wheat and wheat-seed inspectors.

"They can be harvested in time for soy beans to follow and make good yields on good land. Wheat to be harvested in the spring could be seeded at the rate of two bushels per acre, but if no pasturing is expected, 1½ bushels per acre will make the maximum yield of grain.

"Wheat on most land outside the use of 200 pounds of 6-12-15 at planting time. Wheat grown anywhere in the county should have 200 pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre and its equivalent in late February.

Many farm operators who signed the plan for agricultural conservation to be under the feed-grain program will be done before Oct. 15th under the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) program have not been able to carry out these practices. Payment for all seedling practices will expire Nov. 15th.

Producers can come to the county ASCS office now and sign up for other practices that can be done any time before Dec. 31st. Payment for these practices will be made from the money which will otherwise be lost to the county and to these individual producers.

Services are being furnished by the Hills Pentecostal Church, of Dyersburg, at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Burial will be in Lauderdale County Memorial Gardens. Mrs. Hunt had been ill for several years.

Her husband died in 1927. She leaves 1 daughter, Mrs. W. Hogue, of Hills; eight grand-children; and 16 great-grandchildren.

Giving the visitors a 6-4 win, the team led Hills' season winless.

The Tigers scored only five touchdowns in three of their ten games—two easy against West Memphis and one against Newbern, which took the Tigers to Hills was accurate in other losses.

Woodley, Policeman Buddy Moore, and Aldermen Grover Smith, Lynn Vaden, Bill Vair, and E. O. Thoughts on a City Without Newspapers

We can now see, more clearly than ever before, how much we depend on the newspapers for mental sustenance, peace of mind and conversation, in addition to news.

The experience of New York City during the long weeks of the strike shows that it wasn't merely the inconvenience that hurt; it went much deeper than that.

Something had been taken from the established pattern of life and left pieces of frustration and darkness in its stead.

For years the newspaper had been right there when it was wanted, as welcome as a cup of coffee and as faithful as the rising and setting of the sun. Somehow you always expected it would be like that, no matter what the problems of news gathering or the weather.

Then suddenly one day it wasn't there.

No paper on the step

You opened the door at home and it wasn't on the step. Nor at your favorite stand on the corner or at the station. Nor waiting on a handy pile for a quick grab on the way home.

"Oh, well," you said, "the strike will be over in a day or two. I'll make out by getting the news somehow."

But it wasn't over in a day or two.

Then you began to realize that the news did not seem quite the same over TV and radio, helpful as they tried to be. And you just couldn't get interested in that out-of-town paper. What you missed was the kinship of your own.

A stranger to the news

More and more you had the feeling of being out of touch and alone. Things were going on, lots of things, big and little things, but you had so little part in them.

Where once the whole world was right there in a bundle in your hand, there was now a void.

Carry that far enough and psychologists will tell you that you could wind up biting the dog.

It was bad enough to be shut off from the news and the financial pages and the columnists. But how could the many loyal addicts live a full and happy life, and maintain good humor, without the comics!

All of this emphasizes the importance of the newspaper in the lives of the people.

There is something much more. A city without newspapers is an uninformed city without the means to combat those, from within and without, who might do us harm. We need a free, constant and unmanaged press for a free America.

Figures on the cost of the strike show what happens when the newspapers are shut down and there is a blackout of purchasing power as well as news.

The cost to newspapers in lost revenues and to employees in lost wages was over $100,000,000.

Losses to retail stores were so staggering that they defy any exact figure. Estimates on the total over-all economic loss, which extended to almost every type of activity in the city, range from $200,000,000 to as much as $400,000,000.

The shopper feels the pinch

The loss through the absence of advertising is not only to the merchants—and the manufacturers—but to the public.

For the newspaper is the buying guide that points the way to the best values and where they can be had. Countless readers look to it and depend on it regularly for their shopping information.

Each day the most desirable items in the stores are placed before you on the printed pages: the well-known and the just-out, the standard and the unique, the glamorous and that new pan for the kitchen, and the bargains to be had.

Something important is lost when they are not there to see.

Inner Power

Lecture for November 24, 1963

White Materials: Acts 20: 11 Cor. 13: 1-10
 Through 1. Devotional Reading: II Cor. 13: 1-10

EVERY ONE who observes people with even a little penetration of insight, knows the difference between lives that have inner power and lives that crumble and may even shatter like a mistletoe, for lack of some inner power which more effective lives possess. To put it in railroad language, some people are like locomotives, running on their own power, power generated on board, so to speak. Other people are like freight cars—they will move, but only if pushed.

What is the secret of inner power?

First-level motives

The time-honored name for what drives men, gently or stormily as it may be, into action, is Motive. Some persons are without motive entirely. They see no reason for their existence, they do not march, they dawdle, they drift. They are suggestible, they have no inner consistency. They follow the crowd, they never lead it. Other persons are strong in a wrong-headed way, wrong-headed because they are set into action by wrong motives, such as pride, the desire for pleasure, fame or history. Above such men in the scale of character are others moved by what we can call Christian motives at the first level, a level not too difficult to reach. Putting several factors together, we can see that some good people, Christians, are motivated by the simple wish to be thought well of. "How'm I doing?" is a fair question, one that ought to be asked. Only let's make sure we ask it of the right people. Saint Paul, who holds high place on the roster of world-Christians, certainly wanted both God and men to think well of him. "What we are (he meant what I am) is known to God, and I hope also to your consciences." The judgment of God and the judgment of the Christian conscience—these were both important to Paul. He mentions them in the same breath in II Cor. 5:11. Not that he thought as much of the approval of men as he did of the approval of God; but he was eager to have both. What people think of you is important, and above all it is God's approval that comes first.

For Him

Good as this is, it is not top-flight Christian living. The desire to keep one's record clean will go a long way; but it will not take us as far as some other motives. For the pattern of the Christian life, the dedicated life, is not mainly a pattern of orders-and-obedience. For some people this is all there is to Christianity. "God tells me what to do and I do it." But there is a higher motive than simple blind obedience to the word of command. It is the motive of love. Paul does not use the word "love" in his letters very often, yet it comes out at crucial points. Paul says "the love of Christ controls us."

Paul puts this another way without using the word "love" at all. He speaks of Christian believers as living no longer for themselves "but for him who for their sakes died." We go a long way farther for one we admire and love, than we will for orders, no matter what penalty may be attached. Christian life, in short, is not at its best when the driving motive is that of passing the inspection of the all-seeing God. It is at its best when it is not lived by rote or by rule, but when the rule and the rule, when they must be, come from one who has loved us long. The Christian life, in short, is at its best when it is motivated by gratitude to the One who died for all.

The ministry of reconciliation

God is not man's enemy. God is for us. (This does not mean He smiles on every bit of foolishness or sin we can think of) If that sounds familiar to the Christian reader, it was not familiar when Paul discovered it. Many outside the church and inside too need to discover it afresh. The feeling, the conviction, that God is for me, that "He will not let me go nor let me down or let me off," the discovery that His intentions for me go beyond my own imaginings—this can be the most powerful inner drive known to man. Every person who accepts the forgiving mercy of God has a right to confidence in the support of God. In this assurance is unshakable power.
