Voting Next Tuesday

Citizens of Lauderdale County will vote Tuesday on a bond issue to bring a metal working industry to the county.

Several Halls citizens have differed with your editor on the bond issue and have expressed their opposition to approving the bonds.

Just why is something of a mystery to us, since we feel and everyone should feel, that additional industry in the county will mean more jobs for Halls people.

We urge you to go to the polls and vote FOR the bonds.

Pet Peeves

Business firms using red and green flashing signals along major highways to attract attention and business. We believe they are a definite traffic hazard.

Double parking on the streets of Halls—or any other town—when parking space is available at the curb, or merely to carry on a conversation.

Persons who wait two or three weeks to report events they want published in the paper. Also requests for front page for advertising or items which properly belong with society items or elsewhere in the paper. Sometimes we think it is a shame that all pages of The Graphic are not front pages.

Miserable Luck

Halls High football team seem to be having an unusual streak of extremely bad luck this year.

Not only has the varsity had its troubles, but the junior high group has had its share of bad luck. It has lost two of its first five backfield men with injuries, both for the season.

Douglas Baker is sidelined for the season following injuries which required a knee operation, and Freddie Williams has been lost with a compound fracture of his right wrist.

Maybe we won't have any more bad luck.

Incidentally, most Halls fans were highly pleased with the ninth graders Tuesday night, although they lost to Ripley, 12-0.

As we predicted, this is going to be an outstanding group of football players and will represent Halls High well during forthcoming years.

Accidents On Increase

Tennessee's traffic toll this year threatens to be one of the highest in the history of the state, as 638 deaths, 76 more than in 1962, have been recorded; injuries have increased by some 400; and total accidents have also shown an increase.

Lauderdale County at first glance seems to have something to crow about, with three fatalities this year, as compared to six last year, but injuries have increased from 68 during 1962 to 83 this year, so the picture isn't quite as good as it looks.

We notice that Safety Commissioner Hilton Butler has called for the arrest of anyone exceeding the speed limit by even one mile per hour.

We are aware that speed is a factor in highway fatalities, but we factor in the opinion that a complete lack of courtesy and judgment are the major factor in traffic accidents.

Watch drivers try to beat each other to intersections, pass on curves, hills, etc., and one of the greatest hazards of all, the motorist who drives along at a sedate 30 to 35 miles per hour on major highways, finally annoying following motorists to the point where they take unnecessary chances to get around the slow vehicle and go ahead.

Perhaps speed laws are needed but reckless driving laws are an absolute necessity if the traffic toll halloo is to be deflated.

Pair, 12, Nabbed In Stolen U. S. Truck

Two twelve year old boys who were charged with stealing a federal vehicle in Dyersburg were chased and caught by Sheriff Edwin Matthews shortly after noon Wednesday on Highway 51, headed for Henning and Tupelo, Miss.

The U. S. Agriculture Research Service pickup was taken from the Baird-Brewer Bldg.

IT'S OVER THERE but officials signaled Newbern's first TD. Paul Henderson and Mike Chipman (22) hold a mass of tangled players back while a Newbern back fakes and Danny Simpson (45), Dean Plew (17), and Steve Pendergrast (72) spectate.

Sweats 'Master Farm Family'

By F. H. Paschal

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sweat, of Ashport, with their children, Linda, Judy, Clifford, Jr., and Susan, have been named one of the six Tennessee "Master Farm Families" by "The Progressive Farmer" magazine.

They are the only West Tennessee family named as meeting the unusual standards for this recognition.

"Master Farm Families" are named by "The Progressive Farmer" every five years for leadership activities of family members, efficient farm production and marketing, and living standards being provided on the farm for all the families there.

Clifford is a Sunday School teacher and deacon in his church, a director of the county Farm Bureau, a member of the County Court, and a member of several important committees of the court.

Mrs. Sweat has been president of her Parent-Teachers Association for two years, and has been community chairman of Farm Bureau Women.

Linda and Judy belong to the 4-H Club and young people's organizations in the church.

Judy had an acre of corn in 1962 which made 163 bushels to win the county contest.

Judy and Linda have cotton projects this year.

The Sweats will be recognized at an awards luncheon in Nashville Oct. 24th. Brief articles on various phases of their farming activities will appear in the magazine from time to time over the next few months.

Notable Cattle Gains
In recent months, some new breeds of cattle have been considered unusual because some of them made gains of four pounds per day, but Walter Partain has two Hereford bulls on test which did better than that for the first 31 days.

One of them gained 4.2 pounds per day and the other 4.84 pounds per day. Over 8 period of 62 days, one has averaged 3.55 and the other 4.06.

The number of cattle on Lauderdale County farms has doubled since 1940, and the quality has also been constantly improved.

Twenty-three producers have signed up 487 Angus and Hereford calves from high quality breeding stock for sales in Haywood County next week.

Seed Keeping Methods
Home gardeners are interested at this time of year in a practical method of keeping beans and other seeds for use as food or to plant in the spring.

One of the most practical methods is to put the seeds in an airtight container and pour in carbon tetrachloride at the rate of one teaspoonful per quart of volume.

This material is available at drug stores or seed stores. It makes a gas heavier than air which goes down through the container to kill all the weevils and other insects.

After 48 hours, open the containers and let the air out. Then replace some type of cover so that moths cannot gain entrance to re-infest seeds.

Trees Need Assistance
Mrs. Dave Walker, of Halls, is interested in saving a beautiful old tree which has an injury in its base.

Foresters recommend the shaping of such cavities in such trees so that the flow of sap can most rapidly add new bark around them. They recommend the cleaning out of decayed material from the cavities and the sterilization and painting of the inside surfaces.

Fertilization is also helpful in rejuvenating old trees. Holes are made about 18 inches deep in a pattern as far out from the tree trunks as the limbs extend. A total of two pounds of 15-15-15 fertilizer is applied for each inch in the diameter of the tree.

This fertilizer can be put down at any time, because it takes effect slowly over a period of two years. In alternate years, about half this amount of ammonium nitrate can be applied on top of the ground under the trees.

Arp, Three Points Cotton Gins Sold; Doctor Buys Lot

J. D. Morris Firm Goes To Jim Fullin; Group Taking Over Plant On Hwy. 87

Two cotton gins in the county have been sold to new owners, and a Ripley doctor has purchased a lot adjacent to his clinic.

The J. D. Morris & Co. gin at Arp has been sold to Jim Fullin and wife, of Ashport. It is anticipated that others will be associated in the new management. Tom Morris is operating the plant.

A group headed by Frank Portis, Charlie Shoat, and Jack Wakefield negotiated purchase of Three Points Gin, on Highway 87 west of Henning.

Hatchie River Gin, at Pleasant Hill, was recently sold to W. C. Howell.

Diane Scott Wins In Talent Search

Diane Scott, 13, of Memphis, was named winner of the 1963 Mid-South Fair talent contest last week.

Miss Scott is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Scott, both natives of Halls, and she is also the great niece of Mrs. A. G. Hargett, of Halls.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Scott, Jr., reside at 3698 Vernon in Memphis.

Miss Scott did an acrobatic dance. She won an expense-paid trip to New York City for audition for a network-television show.

HUNTERS HANDED FINES

A dozen guests shooting doves on a field owned by Allen Chambers, 54, of Ripley, Sept. 2nd, were fined $100 each last Friday after pleading nolo contendere (no contest) before U. S. Commissioner Leslie Nicholson's court in Memphis.

William Neil McKinney, Ripley attorney, told the court that the defendants had had no idea that the field had been baited with rock salt, as charged by three game warden—Jerry Hall and Joe Beard, state Game and Fish agents, and John Perkins, federal agent.

Memphis Commercial Appeal game and fish columnist Henry Reynolds, who with Hall has been feuding with Lauderdale County General Sessions Court Judge Odean Craig over alleged "leniency" to game violators, quoted Hall as saying federal charges were brought because the "conditions" in Judge Craig's court hadn't been "right."

Shortly after the Bells Baptist minister, a Ripley alderman, a prominent banker, and nine other persons were charged, Hall left the state post to join the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service and Beard assumed his position.

Paying fines were The Rev. J. O. Smother, pastor of Bells Baptist Church; E. L. Emison, 64, and William Robert Greer, 75, both of Bells; Mr. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Buford Chambers, and their daughter, Joyce, and Leon Hargett, W. T. Savage, Jimmy Hayes, Douglas Brooks Herron, and William Henry Wright, all of Ripley.

Mrs. Fredonia Alston, of Hwy. 19 east of Ripley, widow of G. V. Alston, cotton buyer, died at 7:30 a. m. Thursday in Lauderdale County Hospital, which she entered Saturday, after nine months' illness. She was 70.

Services will be at 10 a. m. Friday at First Methodist Church, of which she was a member. The Rev. Marcus Gurley will officiate. Burial will be in Maplewood Cemetery, Garner's Ripley Funeral Home in charge.

A lifelong resident of Lauderdale County, she was a daughter of the late Robert J. and Anna Abernathy.

Her husband died in 1950. She leaves one foster daughter, Mrs. Scott Dunaway, of Ripley; two brothers, W. E. Abernathy, of Halls, and Roy Abernathy, of Memphis; a sister, Mrs. Annie Chapman, of Memphis; and two grandchildren.

Services were at 2 p. m. Sunday at Highland Heights Cumberland Presbyterian Church, in Memphis, of which she was a member. Burial was in Old Cemetery in Halls, Memphis Funeral Home in charge.

Halls Points For Rebs After Visit From Black Cats

After favored Munford's visit Thursday night, Halls, topped last week by Newbern, 27-7, looks next Friday toward the call it pays next Friday night on the Rebs of new Obion Central.

The Rebs lost their pivotal player against Bartlett, two weeks ago, when quarterback James White fractured a collarbone. With less than two dozen on his squad, coach Clint Edmiston started his second team the second half. Bartlett, reciprocating, beat Obion Central 52-0.

Edmiston attempted to cancel Mayfield last Friday, but Mayfield had homecoming set. The hosts fielded a "B" team. The Rebs were only 13-0 behind at halftime, but went down 34-0.

Both Halls and Munford are seeking their first win of the year. Last Friday night, Newbern racked up its first victory of the year in defeating the Tigers by 27-7. Newbern previously tied Obion Central and Munford, losing to Ripley and Huntingdon.

Scoring by quarters:
Halls 0 7 0 0—7
Newbern 0 14 7 6—27
Newbern Scoring: Berry 1; Simpson 5; Simpson 1; Oliver 8; PAT: Plew (7); Simpson (7); Berry (7).
Halls Scoring: Agee 1. PAT: Patton (6).

Cub Pack Enjoys Its First Session

Halls Cub Scout Pack 67 held its first regular meeting Monday night at the Community Center with 36 present. Neil Dyer, assistant cubmaster, opened the meeting and introduced The Rev. Clyde Leeds as the new cubmaster.

Mrs. Neil Dyer led the group in the flag ceremony and the singing of the National Anthem with Mrs. Marvin Hansford at the piano. Steve Williams and David Dyer were flag bearers.

The serious denbs presented a science exhibit which had been prepared by the boys.

A preview of the year's work was given by Mrs. James McKee and Mrs. Wymond Stallings, assisted by the boys in their dens.

The cubmaster appointed the following committees: James McKee, institutional representative; Neil Dyer, chairman of pack committee, assistant cubmaster, membership and registration chairman; Mrs. T. N. Martin, secretary-treasurer; Tony Troiano, Hollie Gilliland, advancement and training; Milton Williams and W. H. Woodley, ratings.

Big Vote Asked To Nab Jobs For 135, Most Of Them Men

Top Plating Firm Repaying All Costs; Second Plant Proposal Has Blown Up

Lauderdale Countians go to the polls Tuesday to formally welcome a leading metal plating industry to the county by approving $200,000 in industrial bonds.

It will be the first industry secured through efforts of County Court. Employment, white and negro, will grow to 135 to 150—mostly men.

No opposition has materialized and overwhelming approval is certain, but leaders seek a heavy vote to impress future prospects with county interest in industrialization.

The blue ribbon plating firm, Siegel-Robert, is based in St. Louis, Mo., where its plant has been visited by a committee of the court, which came back with glowing reports.

Its customers include a long list of leading companies in American industry.

The plant here will directly complement Tennessee Diecasting Corp.'s new Ripley operation, now operating two casters two shifts. Both firms, together with Universal Electric, were introduced here through Memphis' National Factory Locating Service.

The county will grade and Ripley will pave part of the site, as customary in locating new industry. The firm asked no additional inducements.

It will repay the full cost of the bonds and all associated expense, including expense of the election.

Ripley Chamber of Commerce's industrial committee and the state industrial development board have investigated the firm's financial affairs and assured themselves of its ability to retire the bonds without cost to the taxpayers of the county.

The firm does not expect its plant to cost the full $200,000 for which bonds are being authorized, and the county will issue only the amount necessary for plant construction.

A manufacturer of men's sportswear, now operating a pilot plant in Ripley, proposed a bond issue for $395,000 to be voted on later than the one for the metal firm, but negotiations have been broken off after the firm asked $50,000 in cash as an employee training fund.

The Chamber industrial committee, which has never countenanced cash inducements to industries, rejected the demand last Friday and has marked the prospect's file "closed."

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 9—Why Crime Continues

There are probably three general reasons why the underworld continues to flourish:

Reason No. 1 is jurisdiction. The federal government cannot step in to close states to make arrests except in certain types of crimes, such as income tax evasion, narcotics, violation of the Lindbergh Act for kidnaping, and violation of the Mann Act.

This is why the infamous Al Capone, once lord of the Chicago gangland during the bootleg era, remained unmolested by Chicago police until the federal government finally caught up with his income taxes. Today, in order to escape this risk most gangsters overpay their taxes.

Reason No. 2 is the fact that little pay-offs at the bottom roll up into big crimes at the top.

Perhaps the most lucrative source of income for the overlords of the underworld are the numbers racket, slot machines, and other types of gambling. Revenue from this rolls up into hundreds of thousands of dollars a week when it gets to the top.

Most people see nothing wrong with a slot machine in a club or tavern. But when a cop will take $30 a week to protect slot machines, he will take $1,000 to fix them.

DON'T YOU READ BEFORE YOU BUY?

And don't you sometimes read, study, compare, figure, measure, clip, save, and show to friends? When you're on the brink of buying, aren't you hungry for facts, features, dimensions, styles, colors, capacities, and prices? Print advertising puts people who are close to a purchase close to the kind of information they demand. Magazines, newspapers and brochures let them linger with your message for as long as they like. Print makes sense because print makes sales.

No Item in Paper?
Cuss Father Time

There's always more news than space to print it. The dust-covered item sent in too late for its proper publication date—and that means the first one after the event—can't be used, stale, without robbing space from another week's new news... fresh news which must itself appear promptly, or perish.

Even during the proper publication week, a flood of late news items exceeds the physical capacity of equipment to set it into type before the press rolls. Items are then cut, or cut out, to fit the type setting time still available... and this applies to staff-produced items as well as to material submitted to us. The clock leaves us no alternative.

We try hard to avoid disappointing anyone who submits material, but we must ask that you submit it just as early as you possibly can. Monday is excellent, Tuesday is satisfactory, Wednesday is difficult, Thursday is doubtful (unless the news has just developed or unless it holds major importance), and a week later is hopeless... in order to meet deadlines and deal fairly with all those who depend on news coverage.

We request your cooperation. It will result in better presentation of your material.

2. Jumbo covered hopper cars—There's new economy in moving 100-ton bulk loads in these cars.

3. Cushion underframe insulated box cars—Extra protection for freight that needs it.

Some years ago we ran a picture of a box car. We labeled it "Housewife's friend" because it brought women so many of their daily needs. This year there are many new friends. Better friends, we believe. They not only deliver many daily needs, they do it more economically, and often more quickly.

The three friends pictured above are only a few of our 1963 contributions to better transportation for you. All told, we will spend $32 million on these and other improvements before year's end. We like to believe these improvements make life better for everyone who lives along the Main Line of Mid-America.

Too Many Clocks. We notice that the new federal building in Memphis is somewhat over-supplied with clocks. Seems that in one or two instances there are even more clocks than there are employees in some departments.

Perhaps that explains why at times the government is unable to get anything accomplished. The reason is fully explained by trying to watch all the clocks. Might be a pretty good job at that.

Thursday Games Vexing. Seems to us that the Tigers are playing too many football games on Thursday night, the latest being with Ripley and bringing the Halls total to three for the season.

We have always felt that Thursday night or any school night game is inadvisable. The reason is that players are so tired that they feel like doing anything in class during the following day.

In the future let's try to avoid games on school nights.

Religious Census Postponed. Your editor has been requested to announce that the religious census originally set for Sunday, Oct. 20, has been postponed. Announcement of the date for the census will be made next week.

President Thelma Dyer presided at the ceremony at which Mrs. William Carter, Donna Roberts, Linda Perry and Jimmy Handford gave short talks concerning the objectives of the Beta Club.

After making the Beta pledge, administered by the president, the new members received their certificates and membership cards.

Special guests at the program were Mrs. Winston Davis and Mrs. Bob Polinder.

The club elected new officers, since a school policy states that no student may hold two major offices.

Newly elected officers are Paul Brown, president; Linda Jacobs, vice-president; Paty Atkinson, secretary; Elizabeth Hart, treasurer; and Betty Polinder, reporter.

Two new members have been enrolled in the high school this week. Bobby Thompson registered in the sixth grade, transferring from Pearl River Indian School, Philadelphia, Miss.

Two Kinds of Love

Lesson for October 27, 1963

Bible Materials: I Corinthians 13:1-13

WHEN THE religion of Christ began to spread through the world, it was so new and totally different from everything that had been called by the name of religion before that Christians almost had to find new words to express it.

One example is the familiar English word "love." We all know the 13th chapter of I Corinthians by heart (or if we don't, now is the time to learn it!) and we have said all our lives that Dr. Foreman love is the greatest thing in the world. What's new about that? Unfortunately, the newness of the idea of "love" cannot be expressed in our English language, but it can in Greek, which is the language of all the New Testament books. For the Greeks often had several words for (almost) the same thing, and they used these words to express the different varieties of whatever it was they were talking about. For example, there were four different words in Greek which can all be translated "love," and two in particular, "eros" (rhymes with "eros") and "agape" (pronounced a-GAH-pay).

Selfish love is selfish love. By far the more familiar one of these two words was eros; the other one is hardly ever found before the Christians got hold of it and began using it. Eros is something everybody knows about; and no pagan Greek could have seen the point if Saint Paul had told him eros is the greatest thing in the world. But it isn't, and Paul didn't say it was. Eros can be a kind of mental sickness, it can be frustrating, it can injure the one who has it, for it is what is often called "possessive" love. It is the love a domineering mother has for a child she keeps tied to her apron-strings. It is the love of a jealous lover who can't bear to see his sweetheart smile at another man. The song of eros is "I want you all for mine." This can be very sweet, and there is room for it in the varied experiences of life. But it can be frustrating and painful, for it is never fulfilled. The eros-lover is never satisfied, always anxious lest his sweet possession be swept from him. And at the worst, eros-love destroys personality, for the tendency of eros to seize and to hold is like the action of a clam caring not a minnow's worth for any creature around it, opening its shell only to take in, never to give. (Who ever heard of a generous clam?)

Self-love The love of which Paul so eloquently and beautifully writes, is not eros, it is agape. Wherever in the New Testament the love of God for his children is spoken of, it is always agape, not eros. Now the special glory of agape is that its desire is not to be served but to serve. Eros is love that stops being love when it finds its affection is not returned. Eros is fastidious; it loves only what is lovable and noble. Eros demands that what is loved come up to a certain standard. Agape loves others as they are, where they are. But agape is never content to leave the loved ones where they are. Agape love is transforming love. If God's love were eros, he would be waiting yet—and he might wait forever!—ill man was good enough to deserve to be loved. But God loved us "while we were yet sinners." Agape transforms the unworthy. Eros vanishes when the loved object fades; Agape, itself unfading, creates a never-fading beauty in the object of love.

Where love is needed Now it needs no argument to persuade us that agape-love is needed in this distraught world. Persons and nations perish for the lack of it. Is there any place where we can find enough agape-love to go around? Is there any company of pilgrims on this earth who have fed on this bread of heaven till they want no more? One answer comes straight to mind: The church, of course! It is no doubt indeed the one company out of all mankind which makes love its aim; it is the one company which has no excuse for its existence if it does not make love its aim. But the church has never achieved this love, or has never achieved it in such measure that it can say, we need no more. Paul speaks of the need for love, to men and women who had many gifts of the spirit; he speaks of it to those who worshipped with joyful hearts. But even at the very throne of grace, who can say that he has loved enough?
