Hope For The Future

The dismal outlook for the future of football in Halls High School was somewhat brightened as freshman football aspirants reported for practice this week.

A fine group of boys, numbering more than 25, have already been outfitted with others reporting each day.

After a few days of practice and as the season progresses, some of the freshmen will find that they do not like football, and others will drop out for various reasons; but twelve to 15 boys will likely survive the season and be ready to play football for Halls High for the next three years.

One of the problems facing Coaches Ralph Mays and Dale Overton is that only three sophomore boys, two of whom reported this week, are on the varsity squad, thus making prospects for the next two years exceedingly blue unless this fine group of freshmen can be kept on the squad.

Four additional boys, two sophomores, one junior and one senior, asked for varsity uniforms this week, bringing the total of squad members to 18.

Bisbee's Is Coming

Under the direction of Billy Choate, Bisbee's Comedians will show in Halls the first three days of next week. This is the 36th annual tour for this group, with Halls having been included on the schedule for most of these years.

We are always happy to welcome Choate and his group to Halls, since they offer clean entertainment which many look forward to year after year.

Some "Squirrely" Antics

Opening of the squirrel hunting season last week brought reports of some "squirrely" antics on the part of hunters.

One local hunter told Saturday afternoon of finding a squirrel up a tree. Just as he was ready to shoot, a noise somewhat like a bulldozer coming through the woods frightened the animal away.

Anxious to learn just what was causing the disturbance, the hunter remained still and was treated to this exhibition: two hunters coming through the woods, one leading the other by the arm and the second trailing a roll of bathroom tissue as a marker. Our hunter doubts that either could have hit a squirrel even if one backed against the gun.

Another hunter reports that he stepped into a yellowjacket nest as he got out of his car.

He maintains that he isn't nearly as old as he thought he was, since he made good time across a field, trying to outrun the "jackets"—which, incidentally, he couldn't do, being stung numerous times. A trip to the doctor was required.

One of the things that upset the "stung" hunter was that a hunting companion wasn't stung even once.

HOME IMPROVEMENT TIPS

By Alice Fern Parrish

So you're going to decorate? What better place to start than the bare walls? Decorating begins with background areas—giving new life to walls and ceilings. Whether you select a dramatic wallcovering and plan the furnishings around it or use the walls as a neutral setting for dramatic furnishings, a successful decorating theme depends on a well coordinated background. Select either paint or wallcovering.

Paint is one of the most popular materials used for decorating walls. It gives new life and color to tired walls quickly with a minimum of fuss and bother. Interior paints are classified according to three basic types of finishes: high-gloss, semi-gloss and flat.

A high-gloss finish paint, available in both wall paint and enamel, is extremely washable and easy to keep clean, highly resistant to grease and stains. Sometimes the colors tend to appear brighter and lighter than they really are because of the glossy surface. This type paint is best for rooms that receive hard wear such as the kitchen or bathroom.

The semi-gloss finish has a more pleasing, softer tone but does not wash as well, therefore this type is good for areas such as the children's bedroom or family room.

The flat wall finish is the most popular wall finish, being used in living rooms, dining rooms, bedrooms, and nearly all other areas. This type does not have the washability of the other two.

A second method of decorating walls is with the use of wallcoverings. While paint is very effective in many areas and offers the advantage of quick easy drying, an appropriate wallcovering can give character to a dull, ordinary room. Wallcovering can do more to establish an unmistakable modern, traditional or provincial period. Some of the wallpaper types from which to choose are: all-over pattern, small pattern, large pattern, texture, geometric design, stripes, novelty prints, abstract design, "conversation pieces," and scenic prints. Regardless of your style or choice there is a pattern to fit your room. Another advantage of wallcovering is that most types may be washed with plain soap and water to keep them sparkling and fresh looking for years to come.

New Wage Report Forms Mailed State Employers

Approximately 24,000 Tennessee employers are being mailed new wage reporting forms made necessary by recent amendments to the Tennessee Employment Security Act.

The amendments changed the eligibility period during which a worker might draw unemployment insurance benefits from a term of uniform duration to a period of variable duration.

Previously, all unemployed claimants were potentially eligible for unemployment insurance benefits for a period of 22 weeks if they remained unemployed, according to State Unemployment Insurance Director Emmett L. Conner.

As a result of the 1963 amendments to the law, a claimant may be eligible for 12 weeks to a maximum of 26 weeks of benefits, depending on the amount of wages paid to the worker and the duration of his employment, Conner reported.

For that reason, it will be necessary for employers to report total wages as well as taxable wages paid to all employees covered under the provisions of the State Employment Security Act, he said.

"Taxable wages are the first $3,300 paid by an employer to an employee during a calendar year, while total wages constitute all remunerations paid to an employee during a calendar quarter," he explained.

Mr. Conner emphasized that the new reporting forms are not intended for quarterly wage reports which were due July 31st, but are to be used for the quarter ending Sept. 30, 1963, with the reports due in the State Employment Security Department's administrative offices on Oct. 31st.

Correct social security numbers as well as accurate wage information will expedite the processing of the reports for an estimated 700,000 employees covered under the law, he added.

Reservist Sweeps Marksmen's Meet; Countian Included

The first dual sweep of major small bore rifle championships in National Match history has been posted at Camp Perry Ohio, by First Lt. Lones W. Wigger, Montana Army Reservist.

Airman 1st Class Jerry O. Smith, Halls High graduate, was on the Air Force team during the matches. He is a small arms instructor at Otis Air Force Base, Mass.

Chinese Military Strength Hurt By Russian Quarrel

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 4—Secret intelligence reports assert that Chinese Communist military strength has been declining since Russia shut off military aid.

The Chinese haven't been able to get enough spare parts, for instance, to keep all their jet fighters flying. They have been forced to dismantle dozens of planes in order to get parts for the others.

They have also cut down drastically on flying time, which is affecting the efficiency of their pilots.

The Red Chinese have been able to produce enough small arms to keep their army supplied, but they are desperately short of heavy artillery, missiles, and communications equipment.

The situation is so serious that their latest military manuals teach Chinese soldiers to fight with whatever weapons they can scrounge. They also stress the importance of saving ammunition.

As yet, Russia hasn't shut off oil to Red China, but if this should happen, the Chinese military machine would be virtually immobilized.

Will Russia Reduce Arms?

In an exclusive interview with Drew Pearson last month, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev claimed he would cut back Soviet arms whether the United States did so or not.

Some Congressmen called this pure propaganda, but the State Department's Kremlinologists are taking Khrushchev seriously.

They have noticed that his long-term arms production chief, Dmitry Ustinov, appears to have been crowded out of the Kremlin picture. This is an indication that Khrushchev may be sincere about his desire to disarm.

The experts believe that Khrushchev is willing to risk an arms cut in order to buy fertilizer and machinery for Russia's lagging farms. The best guess is that he will reduce the size of the great Red Army and cut down on conventional weapons, since Russia is far ahead of the United States in both manpower and conventional arms.

However, he is not expected to slow down production of sophisticated weapons, such as missiles and satellites.

Taxers Eyeing Gambling

Many a tax collector has been bothered at nights by a recurring dream—a dream of extracting money painlessly from the taxpayers through legalized gambling.

The way it turns out in the dream, the ill-gotten gains of gamblers and gangsters go instead to the government for the public good.

This dream is so appealing that New Hampshire last May could no longer resist the temptation to set up the Nation's first legal lottery since the gay nineties.

Now, New York authorities are also searching their consciences, trying to decide whether to legalize off-track betting. Across the country, tax collectors are watching anxiously to see what New

Capt. Carl Holley Bound To Hawaii

Capt. Carl W. Holley, whose wife, Shirley, is the daughter of Mrs. Oakley B. Pickard, of Route 2, Gates, is being assigned to Hickam Air Force Base, Hawaii after having completed a course for C-124 pilots at Tinker Air Force Base, Okla.

Holley, of Senath, Mo., attended Union University in Jackson before being commissioned in 1957 through the cadet program.

Cattle Producers Eager To Utilize Additional Feed

Cut From Reserve Acquired After Country's Inclusion In Dry "Disaster Area"

By F. H. Paschal

Cattle producers are taking advantage of the extra feed available to them from acreage retired from feed grains on their farms and those of their neighbors.

Uncut and unpartured sericea, fescue, Bermuda, lespedeza, and other cultivated clovers and grasses are being cut for hay and for grinding into roughage which can be mixed with silage or molasses.

Farmers do not have blanket permission to use these retired acres, but can get permission to do so by making requests to the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Services (ASCS) Office.

Some payments are given up when feed is harvested from this land, but in many cases the feed is so desperately needed because of the extended drought that it is profitable to "buy" this feed from the retired acres.

This has been made possible by Lauderdale County having been declared a disaster area by the Secretary of Agriculture.

County Court Ups Bonds For Plants To Total $595,000

$175,000 Proposal Expanded And $395,000 One Added; Two Squires In Dissent

A called session of County Court agreed Tuesday to allow voters of the county to consider a total of $595,000 in industrial bond issues.

G. G. Manufacturing Co., which has a pilot sportswear manufacturing operation in Ripley, in the former Boydstun Laundry building, was approved for $395,000 to construct a building to employ chiefly women. Magistrates Anthony Fisher and L. R. Viar were the only magistrates voting "No."

No Item In Paper? Cuss Father Time

There's always more news than space to print it. The dust-covered item sent in too late for its proper publication date—and that means the first one after the event—can't be used, stale, without robbing space from another week's new news—its fresh news which must itself appear promptly, or perish.

Even during the proper publication week, a flood of last minute items exceeds the physical capacity of equipment to set it into type before the press rolls. Items are then cut, or cut out, to fit the type setting time still available... and this applies to staff-produced items as well as to material submitted to us. The clock leaves us no alternative.

We try hard to avoid disappointing anyone who submits material, but we must ask that you submit it just as early as you possibly can. Monday is excellent, Tuesday is satisfactory, Wednesday is difficult, Thursday is doubtful (unless the news has just developed or unless it holds major importance), and a week later is hopeless... in order to meet deadlines and deal fairly with all those who deserve news coverage.

We request your co-operation. It will result in better presentation of your material.

Thoughts on a City Without Newspapers

We can now see, more clearly than ever before, how much we depend on the newspapers for mental sustenance, peace of mind and conversation, in addition to news.

The experience of New York City during the long weeks of the strike shows that it wasn't merely the inconvenience that hurt; it went much deeper than that.

Something had been taken from the established pattern of life and left pieces of frustration and darkness in its stead.

For years the newspaper had been right there when it was wanted, as welcome as a cup of coffee and as faithful as the rising and setting of the sun. Somehow you always expected it would be like that, no matter what the problems of news gathering or the weather.

Then suddenly one day it wasn't there.

No paper on the step

You opened the door at home and it wasn't on the step. Nor at your favorite stand on the corner or at the station. Nor waiting on a handy pile for a quick grab on the way home.

"Oh, well," you said, "the strike will be over in a day or two. I'll make out by getting the news somehow."

But it wasn't over in a day or two.

Then you began to realize that the news did not seem quite the same over TV and radio, helpful as they tried to be. And you just couldn't get interested in that out-of-town paper. What you missed was the kinship of your own.

A stranger to the news

More and more you had the feeling of being out of touch and alone. Things were going on, lots of things, big and little things, but you had so little part in them.

Where once the whole world was right there in a bundle in your hand, there was now a void.

Carry that far enough and psychologists will tell you that you could wind up biting the dog.

It was bad enough to be shut off from the news and the financial pages and the columnists. But how could the many loyal addicts live a full and happy life, and maintain good humor, without the comics!

All of this emphasizes the importance of the newspaper in the lives of the people.

There is something much more. A city without newspapers is an uninformed city without the means to combat those, from within and without, who might do us harm. We need a free, constant and unmanaged press for a free America.

Figures on the cost of the strike show what happens when the newspapers are shut down and there is a blackout of purchasing power as well as news.

The cost to newspapers in lost revenues and to employees in lost wages was over $100,000,000.

Losses to retail stores were so staggering that they defy any exact figure. Estimates on the total over-all economic loss, which extended to almost every type of activity in the city, range from $200,000,000 to as much as $400,000,000.

The shopper feels the pinch

The loss through the absence of advertising is not only to the merchants—and the manufacturers—but to the public.

For the newspaper is the buying guide that points the way to the best values and where they can be had. Countless readers look to it and depend on it regularly for their shopping information.

Each day the most desirable items in the stores are placed before you on the printed pages: the well-known and the just-out, the standard and the unique, the glamorous and that new pan for the kitchen, and the bargains to be had.

Something important is lost when they are not there to see.

The Presidential soundings on Capitol Hill met with a prompt, sharp reaction from House Speaker John McConnaughy, who warned the President flatly that he will use all his power in the House to block an appropriation by Title.

McConnaughy also opposed Krushchov's 1963 visit to Washington and refused to join the other disbelievers greeting him.

President Kennedy has agreed to meet with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko next month to discuss stationing ground observers on both sides of the Iron Curtain to prevent surprise attack.

This would follow the test ban treaty as the second step in improving East-West relations.

Our NATO allies, however, are putting up surprising resistance to the ground observer plan. Several protests have been received from Greece, Greece, Holland, Portugal, Turkey, and West Germany, all expressing varying degrees of disapproval.

The loudest squawks have come from Germany, Greece, and Turkey, which don't like the idea of having Russian inspectors on their soil. Kennedy wants to make sure Title will get a warm welcome.

'BYE NOW,' says Alamo's Larry Griffin, score bound, with Chipman giving pursuit.

TO THE TURF goes Alamo, before Corky Trooper (72) can lend assistance.

By Drew Pearson: (Continued From Page 1) He went on to explain that American inspectors could be in the Kremlin for some years to come. He is now 69. Khrushchev leaned over backward to be reasonable as far as the United States was concerned. He took no dips at President Kennedy as he did to me once before. He let it be known that he understood Kennedy had his problems, and he almost indicated that he, Khrushchev, had problems of his own. He talked quite frankly about everything except Red China. On this he said, "let the responsibility for China rest on our shoulders, not yours." Perhaps Khrushchev's most interesting proposal for easing the tension was in Chicago, New York, and perhaps St. Louis and Kansas City, together with San Francisco, Seattle and Los Angeles. Since U. S. military plans and operations are pretty well publicized by Congress, and even the location of our missiles is well known to the Soviet through our military reports, the United States too could not lose by such an arrangement. On the contrary, our knowledge of the Soviet would be considerably increased. Khrushchev's proposal is a long way from Russian suspicions of the U. S. The President's back has also been troubling him and doctors are reported to have increased his dosage of cortisone. The side effects of this drug are to increase the appetite and cause puffiness of the face. The President is also reported to be worried over his legislative program and the do-or-die pace of the current Congress.

Before you invest unwisely in office tools of obsolete design, don't fail to see the newest and best.

NEW COMPACT STANDARD TYPEWRITER underwood Standard keyboard, standard large platen, every big-machine feature including half-spacing, tabulation—now even automatic indentation—yet miniature age techniques have reduced bulk and weight so that this heavy duty machine is easily carried. This all-purpose typewriter shines dimly lightweight coating far more... outperforms expensive giants. It's writing like history for Underwood. Fully guaranteed, aurally! Widely Sold At $119.50 $98.00 Carrying Case Included

NEW PLASTISOL REPLACES MESSY CARBON PAPER Fresh from Columbia Ribbon & Carbon's pace-setting research laboratories, this newest wrinkle for perfect copies is LIQUID carbon, sandwiched between thin, tough plastic which just won't wrinkle and which keeps your fingers and your typewriter clean, yielding its contents only when struck. Liquid carbon dries into paper fast—you can rub the copy over a white shirt without a smudge! It comes to refill one point, giving longer, even wear all over. Thus, though Plastisol costs more initially, it's economical because it outlasts ordinary carbon several times, stays flat and clean, speeds work. Ordinary carbon's thrown away half used because it's dog-eared and the coating has become spotty. End that waste, end carbon struggles with Plastisol—ask for a few sheets on trial. You'll never use carbon paper again. NEW EVERY OFFICE MACHINE DESERVES AN A-1 RIBBON Nothing pops up any office machine's performance—and actually prolongs its life—like a first quality NYLON ribbon... the only ribbon we handle because it's the only one we can sell with pride... Yet some folks persist in using cheaper quality ribbons which date from the pre-nylon era—and actually pay more for them than our $1.25 price for nylon. By handling one grade in volume, we're holding the price line on the best ribbon you can buy. At that price, you can't afford any other ribbon for your machine.

Just as his tractors helped free farmers from the drudgery of walking behind a plow, Henry Ford's Model T car opened up the countryside and brought rural people to town in style. Mr. Ford, the Centennial of whose birth is being celebrated this year, built his first tractor (top photo) in 1905 and his first Model T in 1908. Nineteen years and 15,000,000 Model T's later, he posed with his son Edward and Charles E. Sorenson in one of the last of the "Tin Lizzies" to come off the assembly line in Highland Park.

For Better Service By Rabies Officer:
Put the dog up, if possible. Phone 45, Ripley, and report him.
The rabies officer, in order to cover the county, must visit one general area daily, except in emergencies:
Mondays—Highway 51 South to Highway 19 West.
Tuesdays—Highway 19 East to Highway 51 South.
Wednesdays—Highway 19 East to Highway 51 North.
Fridays—Highway 19 West to Highway 51 North.
The public is requested to cooperate in keeping the officer on schedule, as this is the only way he can cover this large county and service the numerous dog complaints which are called in every day.
It is suggested that this schedule be clipped and phone number saved. Oscar Grimes, county trustee, takes the dog complaint calls at phone 45.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS BY DR. NANNETH FOREMAN God in History Lessons for September 22, 1963

While materials of Joseph are strikingly modern. It is an updated history of this strange history—the success story to not themselves, for no two lives are as different as Joseph's.

The Christian doctrine of Providence, which is believed to everlastingly be in the hands of God, is a name that stands for the fact that God is in control and guides the course of the universe so far as His purposes do not pass.

There's A New Frontier In Office Efficiency

Significant break-throughs in design and production of familiar products are revolutionizing the office supply field.

Good businessmen are improving efficiency for the New Year... and earning tax credit on their income tax returns.

Before you invest unwisely in office tools of obsolete design, don't fail to see the newest and best.

As is customary, one day last week, the elementary school staged a fire drill to instruct teachers and students how to clear the building in the least possible time.

One youngster, all excited, told that there was a fire and that the school would have a fire drill one in a while.

"That," he said, "if there ain't no fire, how come you play like it?" Seems to be a reasonable question.

Deserves Support James Jones, of Jones Supermarket, has announced that the Pure Milk Co., of Fulton, Ky., will sell hamburgers, hot dogs, milk, ice cream, etc. from its mobile unit next Friday and Saturday, Oct. 4th and 5th.

All proceeds from the sale will be donated to a fund for the proposed lighting of a Little League baseball diamond.

Mr. Jones says that the unit will be on his parking lot from 10 a. m. until 5 p. m. both Friday and Saturday. Various firms have donated the meat, bread, and other food items so that all meats required will go into the fund.

The Halls Civic Club has recently selected the lighting of the baseball field as one of its projects. Why not drop by and eat some ice cream a hamburger, or whatever you choose and help this worthy cause?

Comment Overboard As is customary, one day last week, the elementary school staged a fire drill to instruct teachers and students how to clear the building in the least possible time.

One youngster, all excited, told that there was a fire and that the school would have a fire drill one in a while.

"That," he said, "if there ain't no fire, how come you play like it?" Seems to be a reasonable question.

Golden Anniversary

Shirley Reynolds, Bill Stanfill Wed
In a pretty early fall wedding at the home of the bridegroom, Miss Shirley Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Reynolds, of Jackson, formerly of Halls, became the bride of William Wilson Stanfill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stanfill, of Henderson. The vows were exchanged Sunday afternoon, September 22nd, at 2 o'clock in the morning at the home of the bridegroom, officiating at the wedding ceremony.

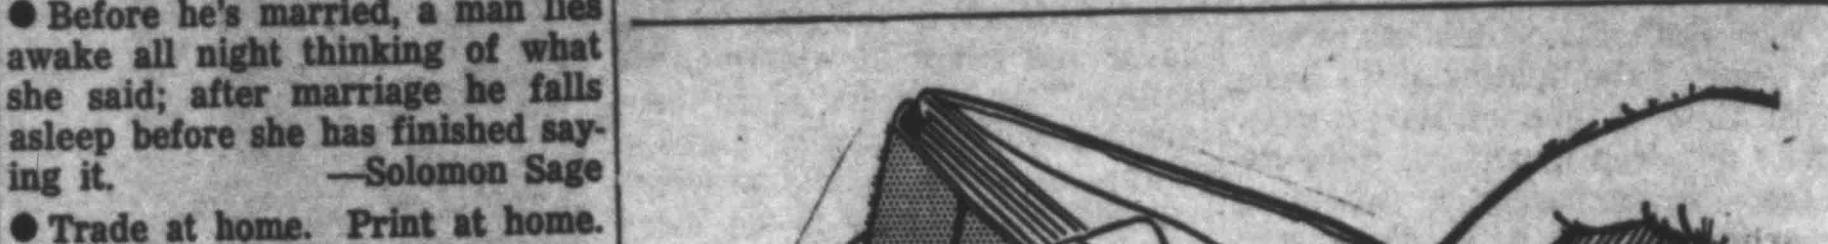

The guest company was composed of the immediate families. An improvised altar in front of the mantel featured a background of arched candelabra with white tapers, white mums and potted palms. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a model of white laceon lace over taffeta. The fitted bodice was styled with a satinet neckline and 10½ sleeves ending in points over the hands. The bell-shaped skirt was white lace. The bride's hair was styled in a model of white lace-covered ribbon. The bride's bouquet was a white orchid and a white lily-of-the-valley. The bride's veil fell from a pearl tiara and her bouquet was a white orchid and a white lily-of-the-valley. Alfalfa is the queen of hay crops. It makes four tons per acre of hay that is so well balanced and high in feed value that animals can live and gain weight, or produce milk, eating alfalfa alone. It costs $20 per acre to seed alfalfa, but since the stand usually lasts for four years without additional expense, except for fertilizer, it is one of our most valuable feed crops. The alfalfa weevil appears during the latter half of October and lays its eggs in alfalfa fields. These eggs hatch in the spring and the weevils attack the first cutting of alfalfa, eating all the leaves and part of the stems and greatly reducing the value of the crop. It is not practical to poison the alfalfa in the spring in order to kill these weevils, because that would poison the livestock. It is therefore necessary to kill the alfalfa weevils in October. This is done by applying 40 pounds of 2½% Heptachlor granules per acre between Oct. 15th and 21st on top of the ground in alfalfa fields. In established stands of alfalfa, which are normally fertilized some time in the fall or spring, it is

Telephone Talk

By ROGER GANIER Your Telephone Manager

THE QUIETEST PLACE ON EARTH is probably a room at Bell Telephone Laboratories where engineers do research in the science of acoustics. The walls and ceiling are lined with wedges of fiberglass to a depth of five feet. The "floor" consists of high strength steel cables strung under high tension mesh suspended from the walls. This unique floor is capable of supporting tons of heavy equipment. The work done in this strange room will continue to answer many of the questions of acoustical scientists and result in further improvements in telephone service.

The '64s from Ford are here: The Year of the Test Drive starts today!

Ford cars have changed. Only a test drive can tell you how much. Races and rallies, economy runs, braking and acceleration tests have bred into our 1964 models the kind of total performance you just can't create on the test track alone. They are hard-muscled, fast-moving, sure-footed. Open competition helped make them that way. They offer you substantially more car than anything at their price. You don't have to take our word for it. We're willing to rest our case on our cars.

1964 SUPER TORQUE FORD Mustang, smooth, sleek, sleek car in its field—by hundreds of pounds... More steel in frame and suspensions... Unique suspension lets wheels work as well as up and down to fasten bumps... Dismantle new roadies.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Life of Faith
Lesson for September 23, 1963

Bible Material: Genesis; Psalm 108: 1-5; Galatians 2; Hebrews 11: 1-4. Devotional Reading: Psalm 108: 1-11.

"FAITH" is despised by people who don't have it and don't understand it. Faith is characterized as an attitude of ignorance. It is compared to taking a chance or going on an errand that is bound to fail. Faith is said (by people who have none) to be like a man buying medicines and swallowing them with out looking at the labels or reading the directions. Faith has been compared to a blind man going down into the cellar at midnight, without a light, looking for a black cat that isn't there.

Faith's uncertainties
Nobody who has long lived the life of faith is bothered by such misunderstandings. For one thing, he knows very well that the man who tells you he believes only what he can test with his own five senses does not really mean it, because if you believe only what you can personally test, you will have an unhappy time of it. Suppose you try eating breakfast without faith some morning. The label on the cereal box says it has riboflavin and vitamin B and a lot of other things. Do you know that none of these is poisonous? Do you know where all these? You know nothing of the sort; you believe it. You go to the hospital for an operation; do you know the surgeon's hand won't slip? No, but you trust yourself to him all the same. There can't be any more certainty than the certainty of faith, in most circumstances of life.

The man whose lives have been briefly before us in these past few weeks, Abraham, Jacob and Joseph, knew what the uncertainties of faith can be. Abraham was "not knowing whether he went." Jacob had no assurance that his God would prosper him. He hoped so, to be sure; but to the end of his days there were question marks in his future. So with Joseph; for long years, though the word is not written large in the stories of him, the fact of his faith is there. If Joseph had yielded to the tyranny of the obvious, he would have stayed a slave. He lived by what he did not see.

The certainties of faith
Did you ever fly, as a passenger, in a little plane just big enough for two? Just for a joke, while you were fastening your seat belt, you may have sung a verse or two of "Dig my grave with a silver spade." But you buckled that belt and up you rose into the seamy sky. Now you believed in a lot of things. You believed the engine would not "conk out," you believed the wings were fastened with something stronger than glue, you believed the tail assembly would hang together, that the direction-finder and the altimeter and the dozen or so other gadgets on the instrument board were accurate, you believed in all the radio control towers and beacons you overflew; but when you came right down to it, what you really put faith in was not a what, it was a who. You trusted the pilot. You (not being a pilot, and not used to flying perhaps) could not predict what he would do next. If you never studied aerodynamics, the chances are that you didn't even know exactly how the plane stays aloft. You certainly could not read the inside of the pilot's mind. But you trusted him all the same.

God is the pilot
You see there are a lot of things to trust in even a small airplane. But you don't really trust the things, but the pilot, a person. You trust him (among other things) to check everything about the plane, you put your faith in his knowledge and in his skills. If you couldn't trust him, you couldn't very well trust the plane. The life of faith in God is like that. There are many things we have to believe in, on our flight through this life. But essentially, religious faith is faith in a person, our Father in heaven. We can't see what He is doing, we can't understand all He does even when we see Him do it, we don't know why this or that happens. There's a great deal that we don't know that we do know. But we trust Him. The great difference between God and any airline pilot is that even the boldest and most skillful pilots know there are kinds of clouds they dare not enter, weather conditions they cannot control. The best of them can be grounded. But the true God is never grounded, for no cloud is too dark and storm-swept for Him.
