Bay Phantom Wins Again
C. O. Viar's crack colt, Bay Phantom, outran an outstanding field Saturday in the King Cotton Handicap at Oaklawn Park, Hot Springs, Ark., to maintain his record of never finishing out of the money since Mr. Viar acquired him. As we remember it, Bay Phantom now has seventeen races in the money, including eight wins, six seconds, and three third places.

Two other Viar horses also finished in the money Saturday. Miss Sungrass placed second in the second race and Politeness came in third in the seventh race.

An Improvement On Speeds
The state legislature has passed and Gov. Frank Clement is expected to sign a law providing maximum speed limit of 75 miles per hour on interstate highways and providing a minimum speed of 55 miles per hour in the passing or left lane.

As many of you know, we have always doubted that a maximum speed law accomplishes what it is set up for, but we have contended for some years that a minimum speed law is needed on the highways. We are happy to see the legislature take the first step in this direction.

We Say Please Don't

Certainly, not everyone, perhaps no one, will be happy with whatever solution is found to re-apportioning the Tennessee congressional districts, but certainly we hope that Lauderdale County is not in any district which includes any portion of Shelby County and Memphis.

Re-apportionment is supposed to give more representation to the voter by population, but uniting rural counties with Memphis and Shelby County would simply mean that the rural areas would lose all votes in Congress, because the voting power would be in the urban areas.

Without enough knowledge to form an absolute opinion, it would seem that some combination of the Seventh Congressional District would be the best solution for Lauderdale County.

Also Brooks Snowbound

Charles and Mary Alsobrook had spent more than a week in sunny Florida but returned to Tennessee just in time to be snowbound in Covington last Wednesday night, unable to make it home.

Seems to us they went to a lot of trouble to spend the night in Covington.

Good News For Scouts

We are happy to learn that Jamie Brown has accepted the job of Scoutmaster and that Troop 67 will again become active.

We know of no organization which does more for boys than the Scout program, and we're happy that Halls boys will once again have the opportunity to participate in scouting.

With Our Neighbors

Aldermen of Newbern are expected to vote this month on a project to make a recreational area out of the Lewis-Hunnicutt Watershed District lake to be built between Newbern and Dyersburg.

The planned 30-acre lake would be expanded to 124 acres if Newbern officials approve sharing the cost. Estimated cost for developing the area is $200,000.

Haywood County has made application to the Office of Economic Opportunity for funds available through the project, created by President Lyndon B. Johnson to combat poverty in the United States.

Berry Producers Meet Wednesday To Plan For Crop

Cotton Growers Considering Advantages Of Conversion To Skip-Row Techniques

By F. H. Paschal
Strawberry growers are invited to meet at the Farm Bureau building in Ripley at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday to hear John C. Clark, Extension horticulturist, of Jackson, lead a discussion of strawberry insects, diseases, and weed control.

Strawberry weevils may begin attacking strawberries as early as March 10th, and producers may apply 20% Zophane dust at that time; but as picking time approaches, it is necessary to change to other insecticides which are less likely to leave illegal residues on strawberries to be marketed.

Strawberries to be set this year must be protected against fungus diseases and crown borers. Bearing berries must be protected by dipping this month against strawberry weevils and fungus diseases, when these are present.

Weed control on new berries can save production costs and make it easier to provide thrifty plants for high yields next year.

Skip-Row Cotton Gains Favor

Skip-row cotton has made some phenomenal yields on several farms in this county in the last few years, but farmers have not considered that the loss of the extra land involved was sufficient to justify planting a high proportion of their cotton land by the skip-row pattern.

Research done at the U. S. Department of Agriculture Experiment Station at Stoneville, Miss., has shown that skip-row, on the 2x2 pattern or 2x1, can increase profits on cotton land that will normally produce 1 1/2 bales per acre or more.

Jack Crutcher and Charles Anthony, of Henning; Roy Carrington and W. S. Thomas, of Durhamville; Roy Brandon, Woodrow Godwin, and Leonard Alton, of Halls; J. C. Smith, of Gates; and thirteen other farmers in the county grew a total of 486 acres of cotton on the 2x2 and 2x1 patterns.

Yields of 2 1/2 to three bales per acre were reported on much of this land, but some of the cotton grew too much stalk, matured too late, and for other reasons did not make more than one bale per acre.

Most of the 21 growers, however, believe that they made additional profits by skip-rowing the cotton.

Feed Grain Program Benefits
Under the 1965 feed grain program, if cotton is grown on a 4x4 pattern, the four skipped rows can be counted as diverted acreage or conserving acreage.

This may be somewhat tempting to farmers whose land does not make high yields of soy beans.

Stoneville tests indicated that yield increases of 25% may be expected from planting four rows and skipping four; that 40% yield increases may be expected from 2x2 plantings, and that 30% will result from 2x1 plantings.

On good cotton land, which will make 790 pounds of lint per acre with solid planting, 4x4 should yield 1,055 pounds; 2x2 1,200 pounds; and 2x1 1,055 pounds.

With these yields, the 2x2 planting is most profitable until soy bean yields reach 40 bushels per acre. Then the 2x1 pattern is most profitable.

It would appear that there are a good many additional farmers in Lauderdale County who can profitably practice some skip-row planting for additional profits from cotton.

Large Potatoes Prove Best
Oscar Griggs, of Ashport, this week requested information on chemical weed control in Irish potatoes.

Diphenamid is recommended for this purpose and keeps potatoes clean for several weeks after it is applied.

Irish potatoes are still being grown on many farms to provide one of the most dependable and universally enjoyed fresh vegetable for use in family food supplies.

$350 Thefts From Hospital Laid To 14 Yr. Employee

Willie Sue Henning, negro nurse at Lauderdale County Hospital for 14 years, has been bound over to Circuit Court, under $250 bond on each count, on charges of the theft of hospital property worth $387.52 and of possession of moonshine liquor.

Officers recovered 25 sheets, 67 pillow cases, 58 towels, 34 receiving blankets, 57 diapers, ten bedspreads, six baby shirts, alcohol, soap, drugs, and an oscillating floor fan from the nurse's home near Orysa.

Jamie Brown Will Lead Boy Scouts

Jamie Brown, Halls High agriculture instructor, has been named Scoutmaster for Halls Troop 67, Boy Scouts of America.

The troop has been inactive for months, for lack of a Scoutmaster. Scoutmaster Brown has called a meeting of all members of the troop and other boys who are interested for 7 p. m. Monday, in the Halls Youth Center.

W. P. Blalock, of Dyersburg, Scout field worker, will attend the meeting and aid in re-activating the Halls troop. He will also show films of the Scouting program.

The Halls troop is making plans to host the Spring Campore, with some 600 scouts expected to attend.

VIAR HORSES RUN WELL

Bay Phantom, Apache King, Miss Sungrass In Money

While it hasn't posted as outstanding a record as that of 1964, the racing stable of C. O. Viar, of Halls, is still winning at Oaklawn Park in Hot Springs, Ark.

Bay Phantom, only 3-year-old in a field of eight, added to his status as an Arkansas Derby prospect Saturday by easily defeating other rivals in the $10,000 King Cotton Handicap.

Ronnie Campbell ushered the bay son of Gray Phantom and Mighty Rock to the front before reaching the half mile post and finished the six furlongs with a two-length margin over Gomer Evans' Gay Revue.

Between horses while holding third position down the backstretch, Bay Phantom drew clear rapidly after taking the lead.

Second and third in two previous outings this year, Bay Phantom won seven and was never out of the money in his 15 starts as a 2-year-old.

Saturday before last, Bay Phantom finished one and one-half lengths behind Swift Ruler, a Kentucky Derby hopeful, with both horses well out front of the rest of the field.

Two other Viar horses were in the money Saturday—Miss Sungrass second and Politeness third, in the first and seventh races.

Since the season opened Feb. 13th, the Viar stables had sent Miss Sungrass to the post twice with a win and a second place. Apache King placed first last week in a six furlong race, Tuesday.

One Dot, last year's sensation, was injured in training early this season and has yet to be sent to the post.

Personal cleanliness, good community sanitation and gamma globulin are the three factors to remember in the prevention of infectious hepatitis.

Cobbler and Triumph are the earliest varieties, maturing in 90 days, but a new red variety, called Oatsoot, makes high yields and matures in about 100 days.

Potatoes can use the equivalent of 600 pounds of 10-20-20 fertilizer per acre. This can all be applied in a deep furrow and then mixed with the soil before the potatoes are planted.

Potatoes are dropped about nine inches apart and covered three inches deep in a deep furrow, which is gradually filled as the potatoes grow.

Weed control is easily carried out by cultivation, but chemicals may be applied on top of the ground two to three weeks after planting.

Halls Tops Ripley To Rank Third In Region Nine Meet

Consolation Game Climaxes Best Girls' Cage Season County Has Ever Logged

The best girls' basketball season in the county's history closed Tuesday evening with Halls topping Ripley 54-35 in the consolation game of Region Nine's tournament in Bolivar.

Halls led 13-5 after one period, 20-17 at the half, and 34-26 after three quarters.

Somerville, which had bested Halls 56-30 Monday, won the championship from Bolivar, which had topped Ripley 49-40 Monday. The champs' win margin was 51-34.

Halls took its first round victory over Michie, 37-31, holding a 6-point lead intact during the final period, after having trailed the first half.

Connie Elmore scored 23 points for Halls, while Judy Elmore had twelve. Linda Randolph's thirteen points paced Michie.

The Halls girls held powerful Somerville to a 9-9 tie at the end of the first period but fell behind afterward. Elmore led Halls with 18 points.

Ripley Debut Suspenseful
Ripley squeaked into its first round win over Ramer, 36-34, in four overtimes as penalty tosses proved crucial.

Ramer, ahead 22-19 at the half, was down 26-25 after three periods and ahead 34-32 with eight seconds left to play, when Ripley's Barbara Mitchell was fouled. Mitchell missed the free shot but when the ball was tipped back to her she hit the nets to knot it 34-34.

In the third scoreless overtime, Ramer hit one field goal just as split second late, tourney officials ruled.

Joan Peyton sank two charity shots for the Riplians' two winning points.

Mitchell had paced Ripley with fourteen points; Brenda Jackson had ten.

Ripley led Bolivar one point after the first period and was behind by two points at the half, but after that, Bolivar pulled away to move into the meet finals.

Mitchell starred again, with 23 points. Nita Graves ranked second, with eight.

Halls Leads Grade Girls' Meet; Ripley Boys Run Second

Halls' girls edged Lake County 18-17 and Brownsville's boys led Ripley 44-26 in finals of an elementary school basketball tournament in Halls Wednesday evening.

The games, originally set last Wednesday, were postponed by bad weather and again by the Region Nine tournament.

Lake County had won its berth in the finals with a 47-7 defeat of Ripley's girls in an unusual "shut-out" game in which Ripley was not allowed a field goal.

Brownsville defeated Lake County's boys 35-22.

Rites Friday Cap Mrs. Wagster's 93 Years In Westate

Mrs. Lizzie Wagster, 93—widow of Robert Wesley Wagster, of Unionville, and step-grandmother of Harold Hart, of Halls, and Mrs. Clayton Hurt, of Dyersburg, formerly of Halls—died at 9 a. m. last Thursday in St. Mary's Hospital in Humboldt.

Services were at 2:30 p. m. last Friday in Curry Funeral Home in Dyersburg, with nephews and step-grandsons serving as pallbearers. The Rev. William Bates, pastor of Mount Vernon Baptist Church at Unionville, and the Rev. Eugene Sutherland, of Jackson, officiated. Burial was in Mount Vernon Cemetery.

Born in Bowling Green, S. C., Mrs. Wagster moved to West Tennessee when five months old and spent the rest of her life in this area.

Her first husband, John Edward Slaughter, died many years ago. Mr. Wagster died April 22, 1929. Mrs. Wagster had since spent much of her time in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Roy Hall, in Jackson.

A devoted member of Mount Vernon Baptist Church, Mrs. Wagster later attended First Baptist Church in Jackson and was active in its Hundley Sunday School Class.

She also leaves a step-son, Holford W. Wagster, of Clarksville, a former hardware merchant in Halls; a sister, Mrs. Henderson Baker, of Dyersburg; two grandchildren, Mrs. Robert Tiller and Tommy Hall, both of Jackson; and a great-granddaughter, Cornelia Slaughter Tiller, of Jackson.

Ripley High Hosts Three Big Track Meets Next Month

Suit was filed in federal court in Nashville Monday demanding the reapportionment of the Rutherford County School Commission on the basis of voter populations of school districts.

As an alternative, the suit demands election of school commissioners at large, with all county citizens voting on each school commissioner.

The suit contends that present apportionment, with voter populations of school districts varying from 455 in one district to 10,110 in the Murfreesboro area, violates the Constitution's Fourteenth Amendment, which guarantees equal protection of the laws. It is called "invidious geographic discrimination."

An injunction is asked to halt the present commission from acting as the governing body for Rutherford schools until a fair apportionment is obtained.

This reapportionment suit is believed to be the first in the state to involve a county school board, though most counties have similar misapportionments. Many other suits of this kind will probably follow.

The suit was filed by Nashville attorney Thomas Wardlaw Steele, former Riparian, who ruled on state reapportionment cases while serving as a Chancery judge. He's the son of Mrs. Wardlaw Steele, of Ripley.

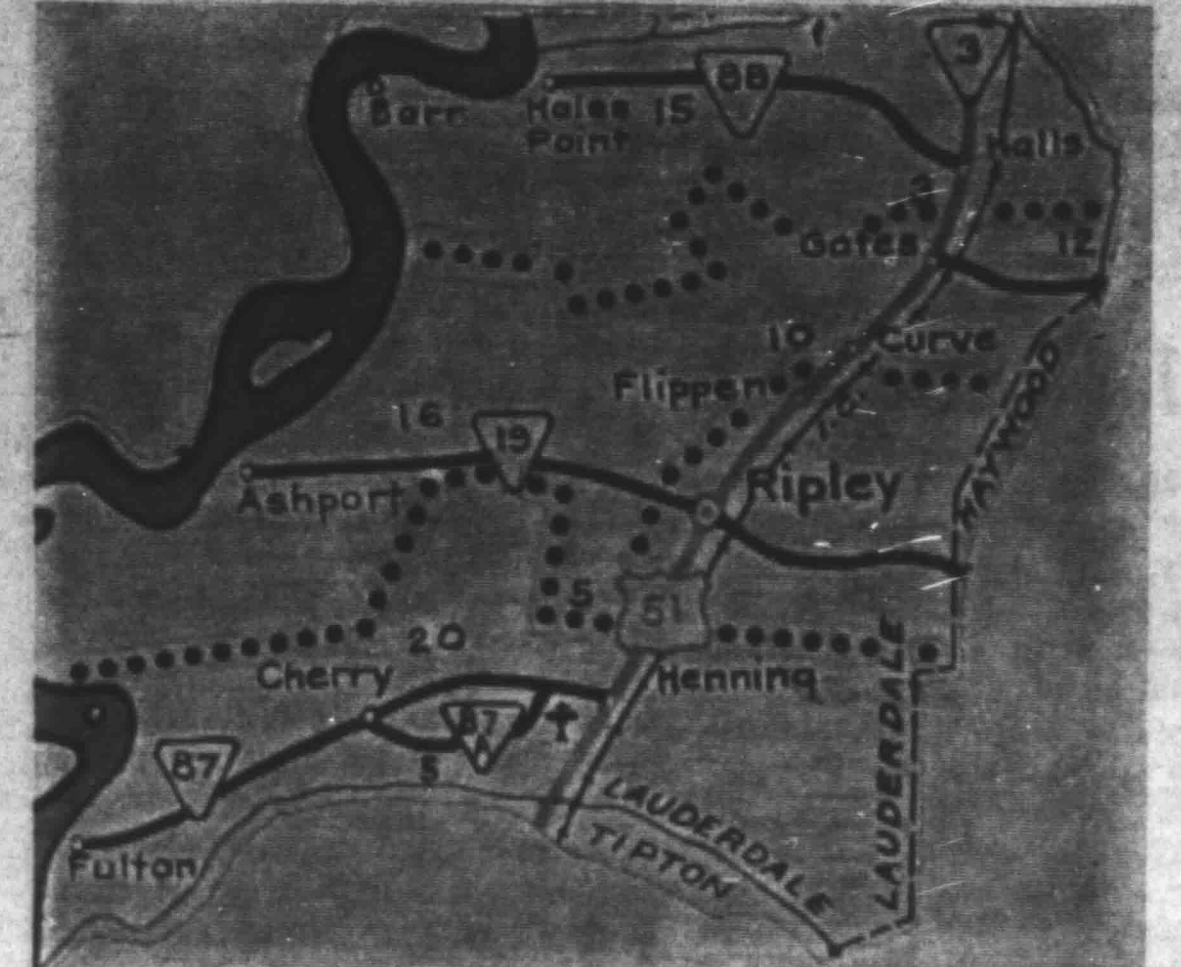

VETS HEAR STATE HEAD World War I Group Meeting In Ripley This Friday

Veterans of World War One, with wives invited, will meet in the Lauderdale County courthouse in Ripley at 2:30 p. m. this Friday to meet I. M. Vaughn, state commander, just back from a national meeting in Washington, D. C., of all state department commanders.

High jump, long jump, and discus finals will be held Thursday afternoon and track event preliminaries Thursday evening.

Pole vault and shot put finals come Friday afternoon, with the track finals beginning at 7 p. m. Friday.

County Vote Set On A New School Board

PROPOSED SCHOOL DISTRICTS are divided by the dotted lines—a northern district, the 8th, 9th, 12th and 16th Civil Districts; a southern district, the 1st, 3rd, 4th, 10th, 11th, 13th; and two districts for the middle of the county—one for the 2nd Civil District and one for all other districts. The two middle districts would share one flatorial seat.

Remapping Bid Hits Rutherford

Spread Of Highly Infectious Liver Complaint In County

Noting three cases of infectious hepatitis in Henning and another in Ripley, Lauderdale County's public health department this week said that because the liver disease is highly "catching," the public needs to know more about it.

Infectious hepatitis is an infection of the liver which disrupts the work of this important organ. Although not usually a severe illness, hepatitis often disables its victims for a month or more. Since it is most often found in children and young adults, time lost from school and work can make it a costly disease.

The infectious type of hepatitis is caused by a virus and is spread from person to person. The virus is present in the stools of the infected person, and when he does not wash his hands thoroughly after using the toilet, he contaminates anything he touches. When someone else handles an article which has been infected and then puts his hands to his mouth, he may swallow the hepatitis virus.

Occasionally, hepatitis is spread through food or water which has been contaminated by someone who has the disease.

Symptoms of infectious hepatitis may include fever, chills, nausea, vomiting, joint and muscle pain, fatigue and loss of appetite. There may be some soreness in the region of the liver. Some victims become yellow or jaundiced, but this symptom is not usually seen in children. On appearance of any of these signs, you should see your doctor immediately.

Thorough hand washing after using the toilet and before eating is probably the most important single factor in preventing the spread of hepatitis. Since the disease can be spread through water, public and private water supplies should be free from all sources of contamination.

Gamma globulin, a preparation which contains antibodies which prevent or modify the disease, can be helpful in controlling hepatitis if administered soon enough after contact with a hepatitis patient. All household contacts should receive gamma globulin. It is well advised for the general public to cause an injection protects for only a few weeks.

P-TA Council Acts Unanimously, Has Rep. Garner's Aid

Legislative Act Will Open Way To Remap Districts Before U. S. Court Does

A proposal to adjust Lauderdale County Board of Education districts to populations, for the first time since 1930, will go before voters this spring.

The County Council of Parent-Teachers Associations, composed of officers of all of the Parent-Teachers Associations in the county, has unanimously requested the public vote.

The Council's executive committee, meeting Saturday with State Rep. Frank Garner, was assured by Mr. Garner that he and Sen. John Chiselm, of Brighton, will secure a local bill from the current General Assembly session which will set up the county referendum.

The bill has already been introduced, and passage is only a formality, since it will not be effective until a majority of the voters of the county approve the measure.

Mrs. Dorris Irvin, County Council president, said the group felt that the school board reapportionment was "long overdue."

Present school district populations, estimated on the basis of general election balloting, range from a low of 1,684 to 6,908, or nearly one third of the population of the county. Each school district elects one member of the county Board of Education. There are now seven school districts, comprising the 1st and 3rd Civil Districts; the 2nd, the 4th, 9th, and 12th; the 5th, 11th, and 15th; the 6th, 8th, and 14th; the 7th, 10th, 16th, and 17th; and the 12th.

Five Member Board 'Fits'
In order to equalize school districts, while recognizing areas of special interest in the north and south ends of the county, the P-TA plan would reduce the seven school board seats to five.

A northern district, sharing interest in two high schools in Halls, would include the 8th, 9th, 12th, and 16th Civil Districts, with 4,216 residents.

A southern district, with common interests in Henning and Durhamville elementary schools—the only ones likely to survive in this area—would include the 1st, 3rd, 4th, 10th, 11th, and 13th Civil Districts, with 4,176 residents.

Although the Second Civil District, with 6,908 residents, is almost eligible for two school seats, the P-TA plan gives the Second District a single seat, with a flatorial district share.

The rest of the central part of the county is one district, which includes the 5th, 6th, 7th, 14th, 15th, and 17th Civil Districts, with 5,540 residents.

The populations of the Second and central school districts exceed the average of the northern and southern districts by 2,712 and 1,308 residents, respectively. These two districts would share one flatorial seat, to represent 4,020 residents.

The central district has been kept large to assure it an almost equal voice with the Second District in the election of the flatorial school board member. This area casts about 1,385 votes, and the Second District—always divided—about 1,727 votes.

School district populations would compare closely:

Northern	4,216
Southern	4,176
Second, Direct	(4,196)
Central, Direct	(4,196)
Flatorial	4,020

These figures account for 30,804 residents as the total in the county at four residents in each voter—a close approximation to 21,964 residents which the 1960 federal census tallied. The reason for longer counts residents on the basis of civil districts, making voter figures in a heavily contested race the best available guide.

No Scheme Is Flawless
This plan provides the closest possible equalization, mathematically, of many plans considered; no plan will work out perfectly.

The chief discrepancy in the south is the 11th Civil District, around Lightfoot, going into the southern district, though it doesn't utilize southern schools.

But it has no schools of its own and little common interest with the Ashport and Goldsboro schools—the only ones which are now in the district. And its students go to Ripley High School, the southern district school.

Its addition makes northern districts more equitable.

County's Retail Sales Grow Third More Than Statewide

During the last five years, Lauderdale County's retail sales have grown more than a third faster than retail sales for Tennessee as a whole.

This fact emerges from results of the 1963 U. S. Census of Business, just announced, which show that 280 retail establishments here had $19.7 million dollars in sales in 1963, up 34 per cent from 1958's level.

Statewide, 33,226 establishments reported sales totaling $4,009.1 million—up 25 per cent.

In this county, auto dealers and related retail establishments rolled up sales of $2.7 million.

Farm equipment, building materials, and hardware dealers also reported $2.7 million in sales.

BETH AND PAULA DUNAWAY, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dunaway, of Route 2, Halls, were presented with a trophy last Friday night for winning the championship of the West Tennessee Saddle Club Association in the pony and 2-wheel cart division. The presentation was made at the annual banquet of the group in the Buford Ellington 94-H Club Center in Milan. Accompanying Beth and Paula to Milan were their parents.

The girls participated in thirteen horse shows last year, eight of them sponsored by WTSCA, and finished with six first places and four second places, netting enough points to finish first in overall competition for the year. In WTSCA approved shows, they won first places in Jackson, Humboldt, G. Milan, and McKenzie.

Beth (left) is six and a first grader in Halls Elementary School. Paula is nine and a fourth grader. This is their first year of competition.

Skills contests will be held from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m., with a beauty contest after lunch served to all participants and visitors. The public is invited to attend.

The council emphasizes it has no political purpose in advancing its proposal. The plan proposed would not alter any present Board of Education member from seeking office again, from his home city district, nor would it create any conflict between two present Board of Education members should they both wish to seek office again.

If the new plan was approved, present school board members would continue in office through Aug. 31, 1968. There are two Joe Walker and Howard Holmes—whose terms expire then, in any case. But under the new plan, the August, 1968, elections would choose five board members to take over from the seven-member board.

The southern district member would represent School District One; the second district member District Two; the floral district member District Three; the central district member District Four; the northern district member District Five.

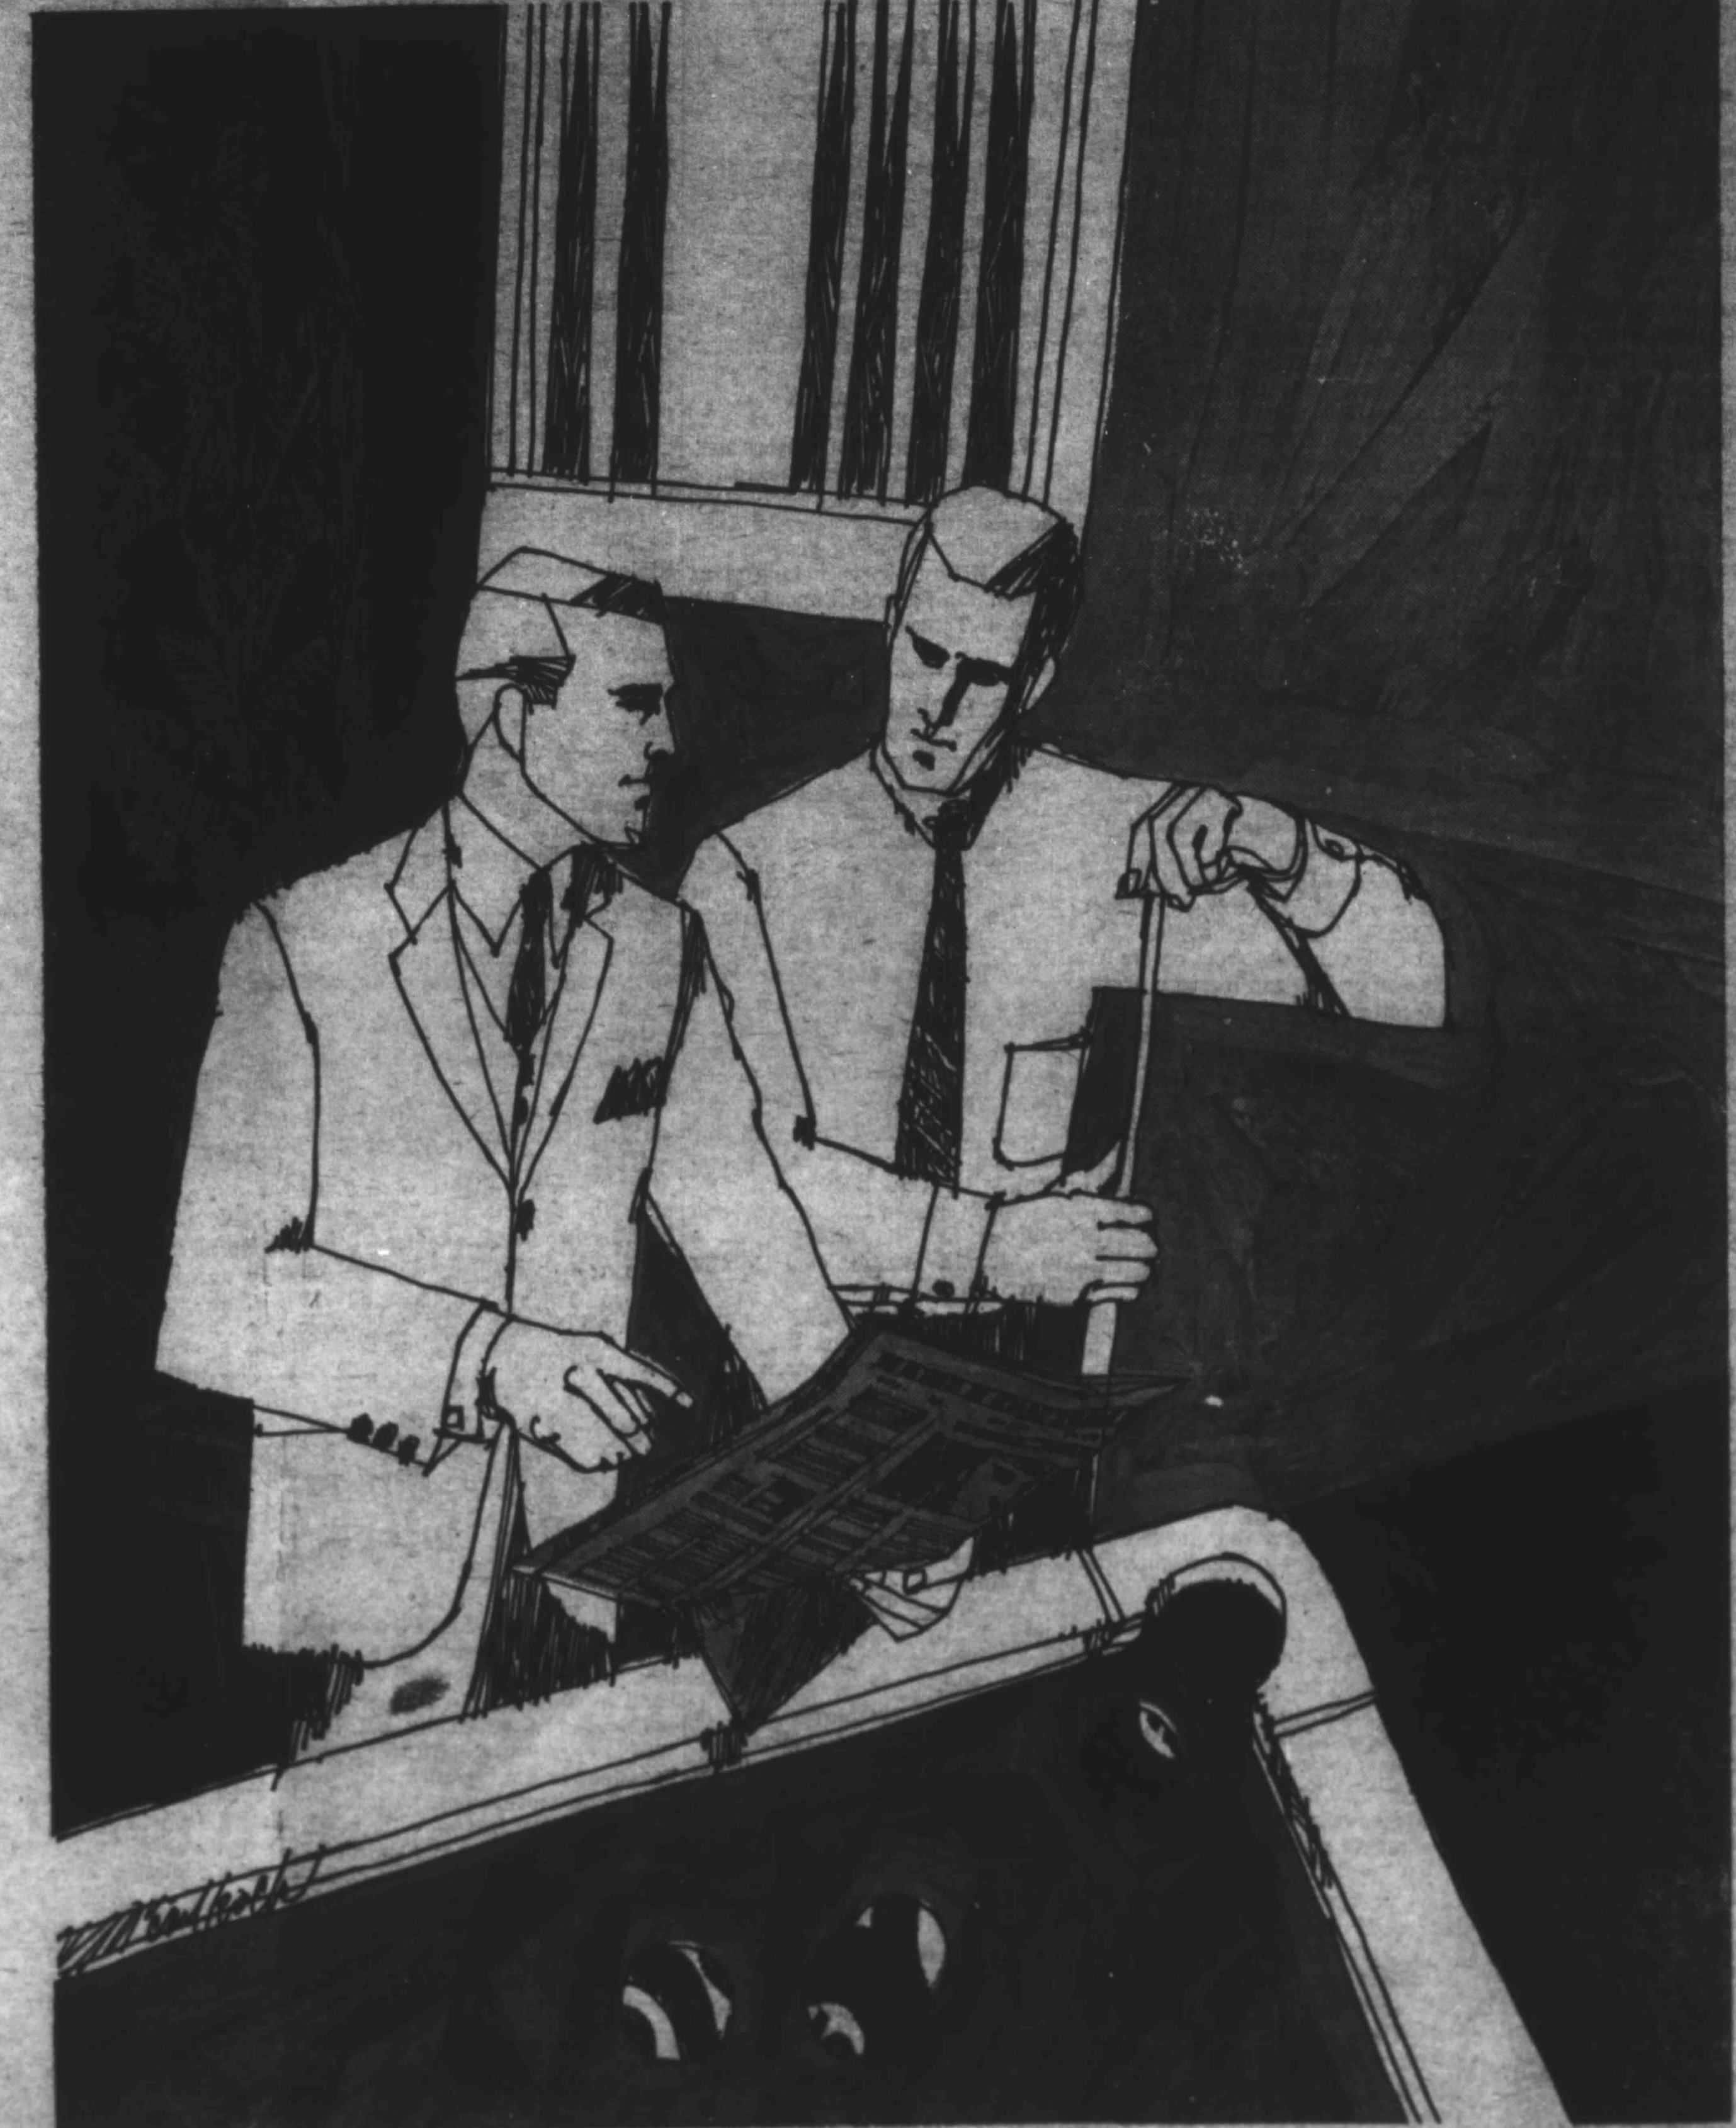

Term expirations are prescribed in separate legislation which is now in effect. Here's how they would work out: The southern district member would have an initial term of two years, the second district member four years, the floral district member six years, the central district member four years, the northern district member four years.

After the initial staggering of expirations, all terms would run six years. Hopefully, the system also staggers the expirations of three school board members involved in the central county area—the fiscal, central, and floral members. Thus no voter would be voting on more than one school board election, in spite of the fiscal split.

The bill introduced in the General Assembly gives the county election commission 90 days after the governor's signature to decide on the referendum date. The vote must come within 60 days after the referendum is called.

"We have to do it or it will be done for us." "We know there will be many questions voters will want to ask, and we welcome all of them." "We plan to use every available channel of information to fully explain the plan before the public vote."

"It is really a simple matter of getting ourselves up to date in order to obtain the school district plan. That's what we are all after."

DON'T YOU READ BEFORE YOU BUY?

Because, no matter what the purchase, don't you want to get the facts? What does it cost? Where's it made? What's the best brand? How much will I need? How long will it last? And whom should I see? Like yourself, most of your customers look to print advertising for answers, when they're really ready to buy. They look to newspapers and magazines, to booklets and brochures. Because print advertising lets people read and re-read, study and clip, save and show, linger and compare—as much and as many times as they wish. That's the beauty of print. When people look for your product in print, will it be there? Your computer's will. Print makes sense, because print makes sense.

All you have to do is catch a plane to Kenya, lead a safari into the bush, wade a hippopotamus, and roast the remains. I'll guarantee it will make your honeymoon disappear.

But I wouldn't recommend that you order one for honeymoon, because of the left-over problem. A man can get mighty tired of hippopotamus hash. —Dick West, UPI

Worth Repeating

KIDS NEED to thrive on plain old milk, but not in this much era age. Now they've got to have Super Modified Homogenized Sterilized Purified Aseptic Sterilized Dehydrated Concentrated Nectar which resembles milk vaguely in appearance, somewhat in chemical composition, rather closely in effect on the baby and not at all in price.

It hasn't been so long since basic wearing apparel for a beaver consisted of a pair of three-cornered pants held on with something like an old horse blanket pin and a deer possibly being used for buttons. Now baby's got to have knitted, filled, manufactured, deodorized, waterproof, disposable diapers complete with a set of engraved sterling silver diaper pins, checkers, ruffled, silk-cut, reversible, waterproof party pants, felt shoes and a pair of corduroy overalls that cost so much they put a brook through your suit to shame.

Then there's the matter of toys. Time was when you could give a little tyke a couple of wooden blocks, an old cracker box and a bunch of marbles that cost 18 cents and the little fellow was happy for three months at the end of which time he merrily dragged out a new cracker box and replaced nine cents worth of lost marbles.

Now a three-year-old must have a scale model of Cape Canaveral complete with engineers, astronauts, rockets and a tank of liquid oxygen which sells for $68.00 at the local toy discount store.

That's what you get them for their birthday. For Christmas, you get them something nice. Progress is wonderful if you can stand it. —John Wheeler, in The Covington Leader

To aid in rushing a soldier home from Vietnam to be at the side of his critically ill mother.

To share in reversing a violent anti-vaccination reaction from everything they had.

To aid a discharged mental patient in adjustment to normal life.

To help bring smiles and laughter into the long hours of life in a nursing home.

Observe these SAFETY rules!

FOR KITE FLYING!

Brisk March winds mean it's kite flying time again! To make it safe, follow these three simple rules.

1.—Fly kites in open fields, away from electric power lines.

2.—Use dry string, never wire or metallic string.

3.—If a kite catches in a power line, let it go AT ONCE. Don't pull!

Remind your children to observe these simple rules, and their kite flying will be fun . . . and safe.

IT'S A SMALL WORLD, AND GETTING SMALLER!
The time's coming when you'll be able to dial your own Long Distance calls to just about any part of the world. That's right, world-wide dialing is on the way . . . tomorrow, of course, but some time in the not too distant future. It's true that at the moment it's not making overseas calls often. But American business does need this important communications service. More and more American companies are dealing with markets in other countries, and trade with foreign companies is a very important part of our economy. So you see, even those of us who may never call anybody further away than the next block will indirectly be affected by the coming of world-wide Long Distance dialing.

Are You Ready? Lesson for March 26, 1965

Background Scripture: Matthew 23. Devotional Reading: Matthew 23:1-14.

AFTER a person has died, obituaries are written. People who know the dead man (or woman) will recall the circumstances and achievements, if any, of the man who is now gone. His life and character will be judged by many, if he is a prominent person known all over the nation; or by few if his life was obscure. But judged he will be, more than Dr. Foreman ever in his lifetime, for good or ill. The story is closed, the evidence is all in... But no, it is not all in. There is much about every human being which others can never know. Only God has all the evidence, only God knows what the man was really like, inside. So God and only God can be the final judge. Only he can say 'Well done!' at last.

The door can be shut. Our Lord told a number of parables about the last judgment. It is true that many of his judgments do not wait for some Last Day; injustice and other sins are often punished almost soon as committed.

One of these parables is the familiar one about the ten maidens, five wise and five foolish. There are three points that most people would say are very clear here. One is that there is going to be a closed door, and not everybody will be on the same side. As has been said by a famous man, we should not feel too sure about the furnishings of heaven nor the temperature of hell; but we can shut our eyes to that closed door. There comes a time when it is no longer possible to hope. There comes a time when choice is no longer possible, a time when the very One who invited you must say to you, "I never knew you."

It is not true (though we may wish it were) that every soul on earth is heavenward bound. Some sin themselves—or sleep themselves—into the outer darkness.

What you don't do. These foolish virgins who found themselves shut out from the wedding feast could say truthfully that they had done nothing wrong. Maybe not; the trouble with them was not what they did but what they forgot to do. They were not malicious nor selfish; they had simply not been thinking, they were not ready for a simple emergency such as the bridegroom's coming late. It is pretty easy to think of the bad things we never did, and take credit to ourselves for not doing them. It is easy to take credit for the good things we have done. It's a sorry sort of person who has never done something good! But these foolish girls were not shut out because of anything they had done; it was what they didn't do.

Fatal as sin. There is no parable of Five Wicked Virgins. Only of Five Foolish Virgins. You can just hear them saying, "I didn't think..." Not thinking was silly. But foolishness can be as fatal as sin. How often we hear the story, how often we have taken a part in it ourselves! "I might have known that remark would hurt her, but I didn't think..." "It never occurred to me how badly I had been treating Negroes..." "I had a chance at an education, but I was only a high school kid, and I didn't think..." "I wish I had let her know while she was living how much I appreciated her, but I never thought..." "The stuff had been in the refrigerator quite a while, but I didn't think..." So it goes, and it will go, to the end of time perhaps. But it is not Judgment Day yet. Your list of "I didn't think" may be a long one; but you can stop adding to it today. Think! Are you ready?

Telephone Talk By ROGER GANIER Your Telephone Manager

ACCORDING TO LATEST FIGURES, THE BELL SYSTEM IS IN A RACE WITH THE STORK, AND THE PHONE COMPANY'S WINNING! That's right! Life insurance statistics tell us the U. S. gains one person every 12 seconds... The Bell System installs a telephone every three seconds! NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK this year runs from April 25 through May 1. Citizen volunteers throughout Tennessee, headed by former Memphis Mayor Henry Loeb, Chairman of the State Committee, will promote through their activities a greater public interest in reading, in libraries and in library services. This year's theme will be: "Know What You're Talking About—Read." That slogan is a worthy challenge for us all, for reading is a pressing debt we owe ourselves. Mr. Henry Loeb Henry David Thoreau once wrote: "Books are the treasured wealth of the world, the fit inheritance of generations and nations." Thanks to our free libraries and the volunteers and librarians who work to improve them, the wealth of good books is brought within easy range of everyone. DON'T FORGET...
