

Halls Seeking Comeback In Reelfoot Debut

Confidential Corner

By Henry Murchison

Parents Are Upset

Quite a number of parents have called your editor during the past few days to complain about local motorists ignoring the stop and go light on West Tigrrett, at the entrance to the school campus.

The parents say that with their children starting to school, the habit of running the light has become doubly dangerous, and some have gone so far as to threaten to swear out warrants against those whom they see running the light.

It seems to us that there can be little excuse for local people ignoring the light, and city officials would be remiss in their duty if they failed to co-operate with parents and school officials in bringing this practice to an end.

Other Complaints

Residents of Circle Drive—including your editor—also have a legitimate gripe about the manner in which parents are parking when they come for their children at the close of school each day.

It is sometimes virtually impossible to turn in or out of Circle Drive, and also, persons living near the school have their driveways blocked off so that they can't get in or out. A little ordinary courtesy and consideration would eliminate this problem.

Another practice which seems to be getting out of hand is that of youngsters riding two and three on bicycles, motor scooters, etc. Some of the children are barely large enough to ride the bicycles alone, without the added load of another child.

Riding double is a very dangerous practice, and parents should end it at once.

Support The Tigers

Don't forget the opening football game Friday night, and also don't forget to join the Booster Club.

Members will be wearing bowties at the game to accept your membership.

Traffic Box Score

Despite Lauderdale County's climb in highway deaths, total deaths on Tennessee's highways in 1965 are seven less than over the same period last year—587 to 694.

The trend, of course, is in the right direction but one of the most dangerous periods of the year, Labor Day weekend, is just ahead of us. Drive carefully!

NUNN CHARGE DROPPED

Jack Crutcher found bollworms this week in large numbers in a field which he sprayed twice last year for the same insect.

He plans to spray the cotton twice with a five-day interval between sprayings.

W. C. Johnson, Extension entomologist, scouted cotton fields in several counties this week and found many fields heavily infested with bollworms.

In addition to the eggs found near the terminals of plants, he found them on dried blooms, the bracts of squares, and on bolls.

Control measures are urged when four worms are found per 100 plants.

Poison should be applied when the worms are one-fourth of an inch long.

OBION PRESBYTERY MEETS

The Obion Presbyterian Missionary Auxiliary will hold its fall meeting on Sept. 7th at Trimbles Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. and the meeting proper will begin at 9:30. There will be a discussion of the new mission manual, and The Rev. McAdams Gann, missionary to China, will bring the consecration message.

LANCH WILL BE ENTERED

Eighteen production tested bears of Duroc, Hampshire, Poland China, and Yorkshire breeds, with 20 gilts, will be sold at Waverly Fair-ground on Highway 70 at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

All animals have been tested at the University of Tennessee Testing Station in Knoxville.

West Tennessee State Fair

The West Tennessee Fair in Jackson will open Monday, Sept. 13th, with a new name—the West Tennessee State Fair—to celebrate its 110th anniversary.

During the week, the fair will offer more than $10,000 in premiums for livestock, agriculture, and club work.

Free grandstand shows will be presented at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. Many of the fair buildings have been remodeled and enlarged. Concrete walkways have been constructed around all the horse and livestock areas.

Halls Group Joins South County One In Cotton Support

Contributing 20c Per Bale For Research, Promotion Via The Cotton Council

Stuart Critchfield served as chairman of a meeting of 30 cotton producers and ginners at the Bank of Halls last week, which, after having heard a full discussion of the cotton situation presented by Bob Price and J. C. McDaniell, of the National Cotton Council, voted to support the Cotton Council program this year.

Cotton producers present voted unanimously to make contributions to the National Cotton Council, through their cotton ginners, of 20c a bale on all cotton they grow this year.

Cotton producers and ginners believe that cotton must be fed larger portions of research and promotion to prevent the loss of more markets to rayon and other synthetic fibers.

In deciding to provide financial support for this program, producers and ginners are joining with warehousemen, cotton buyers, cotton co-operatives, oil mills, and spinners to guarantee a more effective program of research and promotion, which should increase consumption of cotton.

A previous meeting of 68 cotton producers and ginners, held at the Farm Bureau Building in Ripley, also unanimously decided to support the Cotton Council program this year.

Robert Craddock planted Dixie King cotton in two-by-two strip-row pattern last April on land heavily infested with Johnson grass and decided to try a combination of chemicals to control weeds.

He gave the cotton a good chance at producing a high yield by applying 500 pounds of 6-15-15 under the strips and also spraying with 64 pounds of additional nitrogen, from Urea and other sources, by the first of June.

A band application of Karmex was made when the cotton was planted; and when it was six inches tall, a 16-inch band of MSMA was applied, using 27 gallons of water per acre.

The cotton was chopped one time, mainly to thin the stand.

The cotton was cultivated only one time. That was when it was 16 inches tall. After this, a lay-by application of Karmex and MSMA was applied on a 16-inch band.

The skipped middles were kept cultivated with a short disk harrow.

Jack Crutcher found bollworms this week in large numbers in a field which he sprayed twice last year for the same insect.

He plans to spray the cotton twice with a five-day interval between sprayings.

W. C. Johnson, Extension entomologist, scouted cotton fields in several counties this week and found many fields heavily infested with bollworms.

Schools Enroll 100 Under Last Year; Few Buck Trend

Five Negro Students Enter Halls High, Four Drop; Labor Day Holiday Set

Preliminary enrollment figures for county schools indicate total enrollment down about 100 from last year, but all the Halls schools and Ripley Grammar School report slight increases.

Halls High reports 101 freshmen, the largest class in recent years, 66 sophomores, 54 juniors, and 62 seniors to total 273, or 22 more than last year.

In contrast, Ripley High lists 650, or about 26 below last year.

Halls Elementary School reports 324 enrolled, up about 20 from last year. The first grade has 44 enrolled, second 39, third 42, fourth 42, fifth 36, sixth 45, seventh 38, and eighth 38.

Ripley Grammar School reports 635 enrolled, up about 20 from last year.

Other preliminary figures: Arp—233, Ashport—130, Central—137, Curva—140, Durhamville—255, El Canaan—120 (50 to be transferred to Palmer-Turner in Henning, Tuesday).

Edith—73, Gates—114, Goldust—127, Halls Consolidated—354, Johnson Consolidated—420, Lauderdale High School—455, Lillian Fountain—119, Nankipoo—147, Palmer-Turner—532.

The county was notified last weekend that its four-grade integration plan had received federal approval, and five negro students registered in Halls High School, but one withdrew on each of the first four days of school, leaving a single negro student in Halls High as of Thursday morning.

All county schools will observe Monday, Labor Day, as a school holiday.

Halls High Booster Club Takes Shape

A small but enthusiastic group of supporters of Halls High School Athletics Tuesday evening formed the first Booster Club in the history of the school.

Meeting at the invitation of Principal Dale Overton, about 30 men were entertained with a dinner in the school cafeteria.

Overton outlined the need for a booster club and told of such groups' activities in other towns.

In an informal organization, the club named Raybon Chambers, Paul Henderson, Jr., Robert Stallings, and Jerry Puckett as a steering committee to supervise a membership drive and other club activities. Membership fee was set at $10.

The steering committee will name a board of directors to assist it with regular elections planned when membership is larger.

The steering committee immediately announced plans for establishing booths at home football games to aid in the membership drive.

Members who have already paid their dues include J. W. Warren, Robert Craddock, Marvin Hansford, Billy Spence, James Jones, Herman Revere, Robert Stallings, Dale Overton, Odell Hilliard, Elvis Cannon, T. O. Martin, R. V. Agee, Gallon Smith, Talmadge Belton, Charles Harris, Axford Pickens, Paul Henderson, Jr., Jamie Brown, Charles Alsbrook, Raybon Chambers, The Rev. A son of the late Luther T. and Ophelia Voss Childress, he operated the "Jew Baby" barber shop in Dyersburg 28 years.

Winless Since '62, Hosts Alamo With Beefed Up Squad

Visitors Are Heftier, Too; Tiger Guard Replacement Forced By Broken Arm

The Halls Tigers, winless since defeating Obion Central, 21-13, Oct. 11, 1962, hope to hit the comeback trail this year as they open their season hosting Alamo this Friday evening.

The Tigers have a larger roster, of 22 players, for this year, including three seniors and six lettermen besides Thomas Littles, senior who lettered last year with the Humboldt Rams.

However, James French, scheduled to be a starting guard, will be out for at least half the season with a left arm broken during practice Wednesday afternoon of last week.

The Tigers also have Butch Baker, last year's quarterback, shifted to fullback as the result of his having nipped a finger before practice started.

Probable starting line-up: Ends—Raybon Chambers, Carl Newman.

Tackles—Tommy Martin, Andy Pugh.

Guards—Tommy Eaton, Freddie Williams.

Center—Johnny Vaden.

Quarterback—Bubba Stallings.

Halfbacks—Ronnie Ball, Ray Pickard.

Fullback—Butch Baker.

Alamo's Red Devils bring a 37-man squad to Halls, with an opening victory already pitched.

Two first half touchdowns stood up for a 14-6 win over Greenfield last Friday evening.

Bob Souder went 30 yards to draw first blood, and took Frank Raines' pass for the extra point. Raines scored during the second period with a plunge for six yards, and Eddie Bacigalupo was on the receiving end of the PAT pass.

Greenfield registered in the third period with Dickie Belew going five yards.

Outstanding Alamo line-man was Melvin Lewis, 200 pound tackle, who provides only part of the weight which has lifted the Alamo line average ten pounds over that for last year.

Bacigalupo, Raines, and Souder have taken up the slack in the backfield resulting from graduation of Jerry Eddlemann, with the fullback position in contention.

There's experienced protection for the flanks by Dick Randall, Dick Jerman, and Eddie McDonald, with Danny Perry making up for his lack of experience with a firm foundation—wearing a size thirteen shoe.

Conference, Coaches New

Friday's game will be Halls' baptism of fire in its new conference, the Reelfoot loop.

And it will be guided by a new head coach, Glyn Russell, who was chief mentor at McKenzie High last season.

A native of Monroe, La., he was All-State and Junior College All-American at Hinds Junior College, Raymond, Miss., from which he graduated in 1958. He was formerly Munford's assistant coach.

A new aide on the coaching staff is Larry Gene Myrick, also Halls' High math and science teacher. A native of Dresden, he attended the University of Tennessee in Knoxville and received his bachelor of science degree from U.T., Martin in 1962.

Other coaching assistants are Clennon Dailey, Halls basketball coach, Larry James, science teacher, also coaching freshmen, and Ralph Mays, principal of Halls Elementary School.

Halls left the Big Ten Conference early this year to become the eleventh member of the Reelfoot circuit—one of five Western Division teams.

It must play other Western Division members—Newbern, Lake County, Obion Central, and South Fulton.

The Eastern Division teams are Alamo, Dresden, Gleason, Greenfield, Martin, and Sharon.

Halls had been in the Big Ten five years. Before that, it had been in the Northwest circuit, which evolved into the Reelfoot loop.

ALMOST CLEAN MIDDLES are seen on Johnson grass land where Robert Craddock exhibits strip-row cotton grown with chemicals and minimum cultivation.

Ripley Eleven Going 'All-Out' For Jackson

Tigers Going To Flip-Flop Offense In Tough Opener

Kelly Sees Smaller Squad, Fitness Advantages Over State's Top Rated Club

The Ripley Tigers are going "all-out" against Jackson's Golden Bears as they open their season this Friday evening on Kees Field.

The Bears bring a formidable reputation—the state's top team, in some polls, for the past two years and Big Ten Conference Champions the last three years.

Most injuries occur during light contact," Kelly said, "and we are looking beyond the Jackson game—that's our season, right now."

While not minimizing Jackson's many assets, including another big line up front and three West Tennessee's finest running backs—Steve Dennison, Bill Calhoun and Phil Douglas, who will be on display again this season—Kelly cites plus factors for his side.

"First," he says, "We're fortunate in playing Jackson in the first game."

"We should be in better condition than the Bears, who had many boys working this summer who couldn't begin practice promptly."

"We're going into this season without a single player benched by injury, which is unusual."

"Jackson has lost a quarterback, 'Doc' Brockert."

Bear Coach Tom Fann has assigned Mike McManus to the quarterback slot.

One of the most widely read books of all time is "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire." Written in 1789 by Edward Gibbon, it sets forth five basic reasons why that civilization withered and died. These were:

1. The undermining of the dignity and sanctity of the laws, which is the basis for human society.

2. Higher and higher taxes, the spending of public money for free bread and games for the populace.

3. The bad case for plagues, sports becoming every year more exciting, more brutal, more inhuman.

4. The building of great monuments when the real money was within doors.

5. The decay of religion, the loss of the sense of God, the loss of the power of religion to guide the people.

BIBLE

Growing in Faith

THE WORD FAITH has various meanings, and each of them is important. It is used in the New Testament often, but it does not always mean the same thing. The foundation meaning is confidence. Having faith in Christ means having confidence in him. Faith in God is likewise confidence. A man really has faith in God when he believes in God's promises and his promises are true. Faith also (in the book of Hebrews especially) means confidence that what God commands me to do, I can do. Faith in the great Ith chapter of Hebrews is a faith which is based on the letter of James, faith is contrasted with action. But James discloses faith which is based on Hebrews admits it. This shows that they were talking about different things. The difference in faith: faith in God is a Christian's life-foundation. Faith does not stand alone. In reading the New Testament, especially the Gospels, you will understand that Paul and James usually mean confidence in God when they say "faith," the reader cannot go far wrong. Paul knows the words of faith, but Paul would be the last person to suppose that faith is a person's need to have to be a fulfilled Christian. Paul wrote to the Corinthians a letter with the famous chapter on love and he winds up that great promise on love by saying that love is the greatest of these three abiding things of faith, but he makes it clear that faith by itself, even if you could move a mountain with it, leaves you no better than you were. He says in so many words that love is greater than faith and hope. So when we think of the place of faith in a Christian life, we must think of faith-with-love, faith-with-hope, and not faith alone. Probably Paul would say, if asked, that faith without love and hope is just as dead as James says it is.

GRAPES TASTY TREASURES

With 1965 grape production estimated at nearly 3.8 million tons, fresh grapes of various varieties are now moving into the fruit spot-light. Thompson Seedless and Flame Tokays are the leading table varieties marketed in heavy volume through September. The U. S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service offers the following menu suggestion:

Blockhead or Garden? Stranger though he was to the city and church of Colosse, Paul was glad when he heard about the Colossians. The thing he mentions first of all was their faith. (Rejoicing readers of what Colossians letter will see how he brings love and hope into the picture too!) But there are two kinds of faith. One is like an item on a blackboard. The teacher can write and erase it at will. The other is like the title "Christian Believer." This is the faith that can be written in the heart and point to each item in turn and get the class to say of each one, "I believe that is true." It is a kind of faith, but it is not what interested Paul. You note that he was speaking of a "bearing fruit." That is the kind of faith you hear most about. It is faith with a harvest. The teacher walks serenely into the face of danger, faith like a helen fruit tree. Real faith is not an item on a blackboard; it is a garden seed, an orchard tree, pleasing the eye and sustaining life. You may be sure: No fruit, no faith!

Growing in Faith

Paul says one thing here which might be misunderstood. He holds out a beautiful picture of what Christ has done and does for us. "Provided that you continue in the faith." You might think he means staying put, standing firm, not going far growing. But if you study what he has just been saying about the Christian life, you can see he means something quite vital and vigorous. "Be filled with the knowledge of his will... bearing fruit in every good work... increasing in the knowledge of God... abounding in the love of one another... The Christian life is the garden in which these things come to pass."

Again, the average cost of electricity used in your homes has dropped to a new low, bringing it even further below the national average. When you count the ways that you use electricity for easier work, convenience, and just plain good living, this is pretty important. It means that your cost for cooking and refrigeration... for heating and cooling... for washing and drying clothes... for heating water... and for the many other comforts and conveniences that only electricity can give is one of the lowest anywhere. It means that electricity works for you—enriches your home life—every day at bargain rates. Can you think of anything else that you buy that gives you so much for your money?

Serving you... with LOW-COST electricity.

ORANGE JUICE VARIETAL Orange butter sauce, orange cake frosting, orange honey rolls—these are just a few of the many ways frozen concentrated orange juice may be used to enhance family menus.

Orange Butter Frosting Enough to cover two 8-inch cakes or 3 dozen buns or cupcakes—Melt 1/2 cup butter. Blend in 1/4 cup orange juice concentrate. Stir in about 3/4 cup sifted confectionery sugar, a cup at a time, beating until smooth.

Orange Honey Rolls Brush tops of 8 soft dinner rolls with 1/4 cup orange juice concentrate mixed with 2 tablespoons honey. Sprinkle with raisins. Bake in 375 degree oven 15 minutes, brushing frequently with orange mixture.

Orange Apple Sauce Add 1/4 cup orange juice concentrate to a cup of apple sauce. Chill well. Serve with pork or lamb.

Orange Peanut Butter Gradually add 1/4 cup orange juice concentrate to 1/2 cup peanut butter.

Orange French Dressing For 1 1/2 cups—Mix 8 ounce can of orange juice concentrate with 1/2 cup salad oil, 1/4 cup vinegar, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, and 1/4 teaspoon each salt and Tabasco. Stir over mixed greens or fruit salad.

Smooth Orange Glass For cakes—Blend 2 tablespoons orange juice concentrate with a cup of sifted confectionery sugar. Freeze on 10-inch tea ring or angel cake, or a 9-inch square of gingerbread.

Cream Cheese Smears Blend 2 tablespoons orange juice concentrate with 2 ounces cream cheese until smooth. Spread on 4 slices of date-out bread.

Trads at noon, fruit at home. Both pay off in the song run.

Your Better Sense We, of course, must admit that the setting up of a motorist's trap, but we're certainly glad to see that four motorists have paid fines during the past few days for running through the stop and go traffic light at the entrance to the school campus.

The fine—$12.50—was perhaps a little heavy, but maybe motorists will be conscious of the light means "stop."

Only objection that we might have is that local motorists were not involved, but officials tell us that no local person happened to run the light while it was being checked.

Just be patient—there will be local motorists, because they are less more guilty than through traffic.

There'll Be Complaints We are anticipating a lot of complaints when two additional stop and go traffic lights are erected on West Tipton, but motorists have around them on because of a complete disregard of the danger involved in high speeds on such a busy street, especially at the line of opening and closing of schools.

Planned for a temporary installation, it is hoped that the lights can be removed when Highway 51 traffic no longer travels the street.

COTTON GOING

producers, now is the time for action. The American cotton industry today is united through its central organization, the National Cotton Council, which is working to increase consumption of cotton and cotton-seed products at home and abroad.

GOING

to help? Cotton has a tremendous opportunity to share in this expansion; but to do this, it must be competitive in price, quality, and promotion.

GOING

to take a lot of promotion. The Council uses industry funds to operate programs of research and promotion and in the process stimulates and attracts additional dollars from groups outside the raw cotton industry.

GONE

all out to sell cotton products in the USA and abroad. The combined promotional efforts of the Council and the Cotton Producers Institute give cotton the finest over-all selling effort it has ever had.

Your 20c Per Bale Will Do The Job. It may be the most important 20c you ever spend. We are supporting this program and are asking our farmer friends to do likewise.

YOUR 20c PER BALE HELPS DO THIS JOB

The National Cotton Council is cotton's dominant force in developing and stimulating research funds, both public and private, to reduce the cost of growing and processing cotton to improve the quality of the fiber and finished products.

YOUR 20c PER BALE HELPS DO THIS JOB

Leading agencies in agriculture agree there is a realistic opportunity to cut costs an average of $55 a bale, or 11 cents a pound. Many of cotton's research projects aim to reduce high production costs in such areas as insects, weeds, and diseases, and to increase yields.

YOUR 20c PER BALE HELPS DO THIS JOB

Market investigations and consumer surveys have pointed up specific qualities which consumers want in textile products. The Council is directing its research effort toward making improvements in these qualities that can help expand many of cotton's markets.

YOUR 20c PER BALE HELPS DO THIS JOB

The combination of this industry sponsored research and the research of various public and private agencies gives cotton the strongest research program in history. The synthetic fiber industry is still out-researching cotton, however, ingesting more than $100 millions a year to cotton's total of $24 million.

YOUR 20c PER BALE HELPS DO THIS JOB

We don't need to remind you of the importance of the problems facing all of us with rising production costs, as well as the overhanging threat of acreage reduction. Neither do we need to remind you of the importance of cotton to our area.

We congratulate the Lauderdale County Ginnners for their fine cooperation in support of this program.

FOR SALE Red Delicious Apples Noel Cannon's Orchard P.O. Box 104 North of Dyerburg, Tenn. Phone 637-3911

Don't you read before you buy? Sure you do. Because, like most people, you're careful about what happens to your hard-earned money. So you look at products that appear in newspapers, magazines and brochures. Where the facts are captured for you, often in full color. Where you can study them for as long as you want. And even come back for more. If you have something to sell, shouldn't you consider giving it the power of print? When people see your print advertisement, you can be pretty sure they're not painting a room at the same time, or running in the kitchen for a snack, or carrying on a conversation. What you get when your printed message meets the eye is the kind of attention that makes cash registers ring. Print makes sense, because print makes sales.

Love the Link
Lesson for September 24, 1965

Background Scriptures: 1 John 4:21, 22. Devotional Hymns: Ephesians 3:14-21.

"Love," said St. Paul once, "is the link of the perfect life." (Colossians 3:14 Moffat.) In his time there were no buttons nor button-holes. Safety pins had not been invented, but few common people owned them. What held a man's flowing garments up and held them together was the girdle or sash. With this large "cummerbund" as we would call such a thing today, a man could be neatly dressed. Dr. Foreman ad. Without it, he rapidly became undressed, a mess of flapping robe and tunic and what not. We can put on all the virtues, but unless we put love on also, the virtues we have will be blown away. Love unites all the virtues, love fulfills all the commandments, Paul and our Lord alike emphasized the fact that the "great Commandment" is not any of the famous ten. They are each one a different way of expressing the great commandment of Love.

How can we love God?

"Thou shalt love thy God" is glibly said in Sunday school by children who are memorizing passages in the Bible. But when we grow old enough to think about such things, this seems like an impossible commandment to obey. For one thing, is love something that can be turned on or off at will? Can even God say to us, at the count of three, start loving — one, two, three, LOVE! Well, of course if we really thought that this is what God means, we should be thinking him a fool. What is meant by "Thou shalt" is more like "This is the way God wants us to think about him." But then another difficulty rises to the mind. Can we love God as we love a human being? The answer is No, it goes without saying. We have to use the same word for it whether we are thinking of loving God or men. Still it is not meaningless to speak of loving God. It is the opposite of hating him. To love is to draw closer; to hate is to withdraw, to avoid. To love is to unburden the heart; to hate is to bar the heart's door tight. To love is to share, to hate is refusing to share. A man in love with a girl — or the other way around — wants to do what the beloved wants done. So with the lover of God. One way to love Him is to become absorbed in His service, to love what he loves and hate what he hates. In today's jargon, by identifying with God's purposes we come to love Him.

If we love another . . .

Another way to arrive at the joyful state of love to God (which is more than believing or merely obeying or praising or "explaining") is to love our fellow-human beings. The "second great commandment" (not the second-greatest) is Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. The Apostle John speaks not of neighbor but of brother. Evidently he has learned (from God, we may believe) that neighbor means brother. Begin to think of your neighbor as your brother, and you are on the road to loving God. If we love one another, John says, God lives in us and his love (our love of him and his love of us) is made perfect in us. We are not good enough to love God, to tell the truth; that we can love at all — God or man — is made possible by God's grace. Our love does not weaken God; his love wakens us to love him and to love the "brother" whoever he may be.

Castling out fear

Man as he is, man-on-the-hoof, man as sinner, is more afraid of God than in love with him. Contracts sometimes make reference to "acts of God" meaning disasters of great magnitude. But sunshine and spring flowers and autumn colors are just as much acts of God as are fires and earthquakes. Loving God is not going to cast out respect and reverence and thanksgiving; loving God is not destructive of God's dignity. But it does cast out fear.

ELECTRICITY
LOWERS YOUR COST OF LIVING
With the cost of living rising higher and higher each year, we are pleased to report that your cost for electricity is getting lower and lower each year. Your cost is far under the national average.
This is due to three factors: (1) your increasingly high electrical use; (2) efficient management of your system; and, (3) a plentiful supply of wholesale electricity from TVA.
Since you pay significantly less for electricity, you are gaining significantly more money to increase your electrical conveniences and build a better way of life — or to spend elsewhere for more of the necessities of good living.
Although your cost for electricity is at the lowest point ever, we will strive for even lower costs. This is a pledge!
Serving you . . . with LOW-COST electricity.
