Confidential Corner

Completely Unreasonable

We don't know just what State Senator Joe Pipkin, of Memphis, has against newspapers, radio, and television newsmen; but he, along with a number of other legislators, has come up with one of the silliest pieces of legislation that has ever been suggested.

Working toward a code of ethics for state legislators, the group wants to add an amendment which would make it unlawful to even mention that a legislator has been accused of misconduct. The amendment carried penalties of a huge fine and imprisonment if charges of misconduct of a legislator are publicized in any manner.

Also, recently, the American Bar Association approved a resolution limiting information given the news media concerning criminal charges against any person.

We can't think of any greater threat to the liberty of the American people than a threat to freedom of information, as these two can very well prove to be.

Incidentally, we seriously doubt that the threat of a fine and imprisonment would deter any newsman from reporting facts as he learned them.

Change Needed

Both District 28 boys' basketball teams were eliminated in quarter-final games in Region 7 tournament this week, and we believe one great factor in this was the manner in which District 28 tournaments were held.

All teams, except Lauderdale High and Halls, had at least a week of rest before starting Region 7 play and it seemed apparent to us that both teams representing District 28 were tired.

The District 28 girls' and boys' tournaments should be played separately and arranged so that teams have a week of rest prior to region play.

On Way To Trade Car—It Burns Up

A 1962 Pontiac Tempest, owned by Tommy Hanksbrough, of Halls, was destroyed by fire about 5 p. m. Tuesday at the intersection of old Highway 51 and Highway 20, at Four Points.

Hanksbrough said the car caught on fire under the hood and got such a start that he was unable to extinguish the flames.

He was en route to Dyersburg to trade the car when the fire occurred.

State's First Rank In Infant Anemia Given To County

State health authorities report more anemic infants in Lauderdale County than in any other in the state.

The county health department says that of 673 children under 2 tested, 36%, or 237, were anemic.

With proper diet guidance, this number was reduced over a year's time to 108, or 16%.

The department says babies should begin eating a normal, well balanced diet at about a year of age, whereas many mothers find it more convenient to keep them on a bottle or to feed them such foods as rice, lacking in many minerals and vitamins.

The department recommends more liver, greens, whole boiled potatoes, and other highly nutritious foods to correct the shortage of red cells in the blood which is known as anemia.

Mothers can obtain free guidance in how to feed their children from the county health department or from Mrs. Don Connell, home economist with the Economic Opportunity Corporation.

District Fives Go Down In Regional

Both District 28 basketball teams lost quarter-final games in Region 7 play this week in the University of Tennessee Martin gymnasium.

A tired and lifeless Halls quintet was outshot and out-rebounded by Milan Tuesday evening, with the Tigers never leading. Final score was Milan 62, Halls 47.

Wednesday evening, Lauderdale High came up with a fine effort but was beaten by Parsons Riverside, 55-53.

Lauderdale won from Ripley High and Obion Central to get into the district finals, and then winning with an upset 56-50 score over Halls High. Halls had defeated Dyersburg and then Yorkville, 55-45, to reach the finals.

Monday evening, the Tigers, playing a listless game, easily beat Dresden, 57-40, in the opening round of Region 7 play.

Milan played Union City and Parsons Riverside faced Atwood Thursday evening, with the winners to represent Region 7 in the state tournament, March 11-16th, in the Mid-South Coliseum in Memphis.

County Court That Killed Remap Gets A Death Sentence

A federal judge has ordered the Rutherford County Court, which refused to accept a private act of the legislature to reapportion itself, replaced within 90 days by a court elected under the act.

Judge William E. Miller, sitting in Nashville, "mandatorily enjoined" the county's election commission to get a new court elected within 90 days, based on the act creating 21 districts of approximately equal population, instead of the 25 districts in the county at present, whose populations vary as much as 50 to 1.

[Lauderdale County has district populations varying 43 to 1.]

A 3-judge court has ruled that reapportionment requirements apply to County Courts, but Rutherford, whose school board was the first in Tennessee reapportioned under court order, is also the first county in which a court's failure to act on the reapportionment problem has drawn federal intervention in the details of the reapportionment, with the court ordering a specific plan to be put into effect.

There may be appeals from the court rulings, and a Texas case is already before the Supreme Court. Meanwhile, the legislature is considering a bill which would force all County Courts in Tennessee to reapportion themselves, with many legislators proposing a deadline two years hence.

Judge Miller's ruling indicates the federal courts, if upheld, will not wait nearly that long to institute reapportionment by court order if it is not accomplished otherwise.

Tags Up—And Fouled Up

Private automobile license plates which go on sale this Friday will cost $18.50, or $4.50 more than last year, and all farm truck licenses will increase sharply—but not as much as some license plate renewal applications are demanding.

Last year's legislature session killed the farm license discount under which pickup truck licenses had cost only $12.25. State officials said restrictions provided for such vehicles—that the truck be used only to haul farm products and not appear on public roads on Sundays—were widely violated and impossible to enforce.

This year's pickup licenses are $18.50, and other farm licenses were increased.

However, the Tennessee Department of Revenue listed incorrect fees in mailing some farmers' renewal applications, billing old Class F-3 license holders, who had paid $23.25, the new Class J-3 rate of $30.75. Class F-3 has now become Class J-2, at $30.75.

The correct rates:

Old
F-1 $12.25
F-2 (1 ton) $18.75
F-3 (8-14M) $23.25
F-4 (14-18M) $30.75
F-5 (18-22M) $30.75
24-30M, now
30-36M, now

New
J-1 $18.50
J-2 $30.75
J-3 $30.75
J-4 $116.75
J-5 $155.75
J-6 $180.75

In the senior division, Ann Hardy, of Halls High School, was named first alternate for the girls and Wayne Weaver, of Central for the boys. Jackie Jackson, of Halls 8 (Lewis) placed in the red group.

Charolais Bought By Countians As Price Mark Falls

Record Of $77,500 Paid For Cow And Calf In Houston As Cannons Buy 3 Bulls

By F. H. Paschal

Val Cannon and son, Steve, attended the Houston, Tex., Livestock Show and Rodeo last Friday and Saturday, at which Nelson Bunker Hunt, wealthy Dallas oil man, paid a record price of $77,500 for a Charolais cow and her calf.

From Parker Ranch, near Beville, Tex., the Cannons bought three Charolais bulls, 14 to 16 months old, to add to their breeding herd of 18 cows, two bulls, and four calves, now being kept on their farm in the southern city limits of Ripley.

Lewis Walker, Robert Scates, and a few other cattle producers in the county are growing some of these Charolais cattle to see whether they live up to their reputation for making higher gains per day and more gain per pound of feed than other breeds of cattle.

Brucellosis Being Controlled

Dr. C. E. Kord, State Veterinarian, has sent to the County Extension office a certificate declaring Lauderdale County to be a modified certified brucellosis area by virtue of the fact that brucellosis has been reduced to not more than 1% of the cattle in not more than 5% of the herds, as indicated by official testing conducted under the cooperative state-federal program.

The certificate is valid through January, 1971.

Lauderdale County cattle producers have been working with the state and federal government for more than eight years toward eradicating this disease, which lowers profits from cattle production and endangers the health of people.

Soy Bean Meetings Planned

More than 80,000 acres of soy beans were grown in Lauderdale County in 1967, with yields averaging more than 25 bushels, to provide income to help offset the disastrous cotton season.

H. W. Luck and Dr. Pete Gossett, Extension agronomists, will be principal speakers in soy bean production meetings to be held in the courthouse in Ripley at 1:30 p. m. and in Halls Theatre at 7 p. m. Tuesday.

Soy bean weed control, varieties, fertilizers, and cultivation will be fully covered in these discussion meetings.

Soy bean growers have not been satisfied with results achieved by chemical weed control in past years. They want to get the very newest information available on this subject so important to them.

Corn Yields Encouraging

Robert Hobson and Paul A. Grossman, state agricultural statisticians, report that Lauderdale County farmers harvested 17,800 acres of corn for grain last year and made an average yield of 63 bushels per acre, the highest ever.

Average yield in 1966 was 41 bushels, with the previous highest being 54 bushels in 1965.

Corn is still the basic feed for livestock. With high fertilization and good management, it can be a profitable crop on some land in this area which will not make good yields of soy beans.

Cotton Seed Scarcities

All cotton farmers this year face difficulties in getting all the good seed they will need of recommended varieties, because much of the Dixie King seed has tested to be too low in germination percentage to be used.

Joe Sunrow, of Halls, Jim Fullen, of Ashport, and other ginners and seed dealers over the county have reported to cotton farmers that they cannot find sufficient seed of Dixie King II, Rex Smoothleaf, and other popular varieties of cotton which have a satisfactory germination for planting in 1968.

Good seed of Stoneville 213 variety seems to be in best supply, and there is some seed of other recommended varieties, but farmers are being urged to get their seed tested and to purchase seed with satisfactory germination before planting time.

Cotton varieties recommended for planting this year by the staffs of the Tennessee Experiment Station and the Extension Service include Auburn M, Dixie King II, Hancock, Rex Smoothleaf, Starbel, Auburn 56, Carolina Queen, Deltapine 45A, and Stoneville 213.

All these varieties are close together in yielding ability and all are suitable for machine picking.

Time Ticks Toward End Of 1/2 Million School Aid

With only a week left before scheduled cut-off of federal aid to Lauderdale County schools totaling $530,221.08 for the current school year, time ticked away Thursday without any word from Washington as to the acceptability of the school board's latest integration timetable.

The board has appealed to Washington for permission to delay final elimination of the county's dual school system until the school year of 1970-71.

The national standard is for elimination of dual systems for 1969-70 classes.

At stake is nearly one fourth of all Lauderdale County school financing, which this year comes to $2,118,715. The state pays $1,278,494, the federal government $530,221.08, and the county $310,000 ($2.50 of the $5.66 tax rate). Replacing lost federal funds would require increasing the tax rate to $9.94.

Federal funds include $18,000 a year for salaries of vocational agriculture, home economics, and trade and industrial teachers, and $2,170 per year to provide materials for counseling. There are some Title II funds for instructional materials, but the big chunk of money is Title I.

From these funds are financed the salaries of 17 teachers and 53 aides; hot lunches for 1,567 school children; and such other expenditures as 200 pairs of glasses, last year, and two portable buildings—one for Ripley Grammar School and one for Halls Elementary School—this year.

Some desirable but not essential items could be cut from the schools' budget, of course, but the state required "minimum program" costs $1,212,478 annually. School authorities aren't even sure that the state would continue sending its $1,111,369 toward this program if federal funds are stopped, as the two aid programs are now closely interwoven and not easy to separate completely. They are watching the case of Tipton County, which is making no effort to retain its federal funds, to see what the state does with its aid funds in Tipton.

They have longer range worries, too. The next five years will see 20% of all present county teachers retiring, and the next 15 years will see half of them gone. Obtaining replacements is becoming increasingly difficult, with the county's present salary schedules.

Church Vows Pledged

The sanctuary of the Baptist Church in Curv was the scene of a beautiful ceremony when Miss Virginia Irene Campbell became the bride of Carl Michial Newman at three o'clock in the afternoon of February 18th.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Odell Campbell, of Ripley. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Dew, Sr., of Halls, and Mrs. S. H. Campbell, of Haywood County, and the late Mr. Campbell.

Mr. Newman's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Newman, of Gates. He is the grandson of Theophilus Yancey and the late Mrs. Yancey and the late Mr. and Mrs. William George Newman, of Curv.

A large heart shaped arrangement of white roses was arranged with white hyacinths and streamers of white satin ribbon.

Miss Margaret Garrett, of Halls, served as maid-of-honor. She wore an empire dress of blue satin. Her head dress was a blue net veil and she carried white daisies.

Douglas Nelson served as best man. Mrs. Campbell chose a long sleeved navy dress for the occasion. Mrs. Newman wore a blue frock with brief sleeves.

When the couple left for a short wedding trip, the bride was wearing a gray suit.

The bride is a student and the groom a graduate of Halls High School.

The Rev. W. J. Clayton, pastor of the church, was the officiating minister. The bride is a picture of loveliness as she entered the church on the arm of her father. Her gown was fashioned of silk tulle and Chantilly lace. The bodice of lace featured a bateau neckline finished with soft natural scallops of the lace and long tapered sleeves fastened at the hands with tiny covered buttons matching the ones down the back of the dress. A graceful Watteau train was attached to the back of the bell shaped satin skirt by a bow of satin. Soft French illusion fell to the bride's waist from a single cabbage rose, lace and pearl encrusted, upon her head. Her cascade bouquet of white roses was arranged with white hyacinths and streamers of white satin ribbon.

THE PRESENCE

Lesson for March 17, 1968

Assigned Scripture John 12

BIRD-IN-HAND is the name of a quaint little Pennsylvania town (German) town not far from where this writer lives. The name of the town is a reminder of the old proverb: "A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush."

It is a kind of common-sense philosophy and a quiet description of the dynamics of a small human nature a person will rarely give up anything good for the sake of something better. This is why the settlers always outnumbered the explorers. "Bird in the hand is worth two in the bush" is the theme of the majority of people.

Sometime we can imagine, then, the feelings of Jesus' disciples on what proved to be his last night before Calvary. They had taken a long season, a tremendous risk in leaving behind their homes, their families, their vocations, and their friends. They had followed his call to "Follow me!" And now he was saying that he would soon leave them! Some of the disciples were going to be sent to his place.

In these three exciting years together, they had become dependent upon him. Even that Friday the correct dates are Friday evening for the senior revue and Monday evening for the junior revue.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

THE SOURCE Lesson for March 24, 1968

A young man idolized Abraham Lincoln. He bought and avidly read every book on Lincoln he could find.

President was systematically hated down. Some of Lincoln's memorabilia were committed to memory.

One day, after the completion of the project had been begun, someone said to him: "Do you know what you resemble?"

Rev. Albion... "Do you know what you resemble?"

To Resemble Him It is sometimes said that when we live with someone long enough, whether in a home or in a business, we may very well become like them.

It is in this same way that a person may grow in his fellowship with Christ, until, at last, he begins to take on characteristics that reflect the influence of the Master.

Confidential Corner By Henry Murchison Beyond Belief After all these years, we know now just what is meant by the expression, "snowstorm."

The unexpected and out-of-season snow storm last Thursday, Friday, and even a little early Saturday morning brought everything to a complete halt.

Friday, and a portion of Saturday, the fore-cast streets and highways were cleared. We think it is probably the prettiest snow that we can remember, although we hesitate to use the word "pretty" in describing anything which did as much damage to trees, shrubs, flowers as this did.

We don't have any accurate record of the depth of the snow, although Memphis reported more than 17 inches and Dyersburg claimed 19 1/2 inches. We measured several places on Saturday morning and found an average of about one foot of snow.

March 21st and 22nd will be long remembered by residents of West Tennessee.

Action Advisable It seems to us that city officials should do whatever is possible to rush plans for annexation of proposed sub-divisions and the new Tupperware plant.

We don't predict any sudden huge jump in population with the coming of the Tupperware plant and the increased floor space of Custom-Craft, but it seems probable that many of the people employed by the two plants would be interested in moving to Halls if building lots, etc., were available.

If these sub-divisions do develop, Halls will be expected to furnish water, gas, sewers and possibly electricity, unless the Ripley Power & Light Co. franchise is renewed.

All information possible should be turned over to the Planning Commission, so that it can make recommendations.

Congratulations Our congratulations to the winners in the junior and senior revues held this week. Those selected will represent Halls well in various activities.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

FOR US!
Lesson for March 31, 1968

Background Scripture: John 17.
Devotional Readings: 1 Timothy 2:14.

One summer while on college vacation, I was working as a door-to-door salesman of miscellaneous household items and had an experience that made a deep impression upon me. It was a broiling July afternoon; sidewalks were hot, air thick, and not the slightest hint of a breeze. I hadn't sold anything all day and I was both hot and discouraged as I dragged myself up the front steps of the next house.

As I rang the doorbell, I noticed an elderly man on the steps of the house two doors away. He smiled and nodded. I nodded back but was probably unsuccessful with the smile. The door in front of me was opened and I was invited in. Not only was the woman interested in my wares, but she made a substantial purchase.

I Prayed For You

Minutes later as I left the house, I noticed the elderly man once again. "Sold something, didn't you?" he said in a voice that indicated that he wasn't really asking a question. "Yes," I replied, "but how did you know?" His eyes twinkled as he said: "I prayed for you; you looked so discouraged when you went in."

For a moment I was speechless. The words, "I prayed for you," kept sounding again and again in my mind. The best reply I could manage was: "Well, thanks very much; I appreciate it." His smile seemed to rest upon me all the way down the street.

Though I would not claim that the man's prayer produced my sale that day, neither would I discount it. The important thing, however, is that a perfect stranger had compassion and prayed for me. While I had been in the midst of making that "one more try," the old gentleman outside was holding me in prayer!

Unknown Intercessors

The words, "I am praying for you," may sound trite to us, but when we are in deep need of spiritual strength and power, they may sound wonderful to our ears. For some reason, our own efforts at prayer may be fruitless. Perhaps we are too emotionally involved to be able to pray as we might. It is then that the prayer of someone else on our behalf can mean so much to us.

Those close to us may pray out of their specific knowledge of our need. Others whom we do not know may be of help to us as they pray more generally for "the sick," "the lame," and "the infirm." A friend may place our name on a prayer list. It is amazing how swiftly a request for prayer can "get around" among people who believe in the power of intercessory prayer.

Yet, even if it seems that no one is praying for us, there is, in reality, someone who may be sure does intercede on our behalf: Jesus Christ. The seventeenth chapter of John records that first prayer of intercession for us: "I do not pray for these only, but also for those who are to believe in me through their (the disciples) word, that they may all be one" (17:20).

An Advocate

Nor is this the only evidence of his intercession for us. Hebrews 7:25 tells us: "... He always lives to make intercession for them (who draw near to God through him)". In 1 John 2:1, we read: "... we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous..." And the Apostle Paul assures us in Romans 8:26 (RSV): "for we do not know how to pray as we ought, but the Spirit himself intercedes for us with sighs too deep for words."

Though there are times when we feel that nobody cares, that we are utterly alone in our concern, it is not so. We are never abandoned by Christ. Thus, whenever we feel utterly alone, let us remember that Christ at least is praying for us and, very likely, though we do not know it, there are others praying with him... for us!
