on all 1968 city taxes during the month of September

Did you ever think of ads as guardians of your individuality? They are, you know. In a time when the edges are being eaten off our personalities and we're all being reduced to card-index numbers, we need to hang on to some things.

Like our freedom of choice. And that choice is yours only so long as competition and free enterprise and advertising are working for you. Guard them. For they stand between you and a dull and standardized life.

Nightfall brings a cloak of darkness that invites crime, vandalism and mischief to your home. Good outdoor lighting gives inexpensive protection.

Just turning on a porch light helps, but the best answer is to surround your home with a "chain" of light. There are many functional, decorative fixtures on the market, such as the new mercuryvapor post lanterns, garden lighting and flood lighting. Or, perhaps renting one of our "Light Watchman" units would do the job best.

No matter what type of outside lighting you install, good lighting will help protect against vandals, thieves and prowlers. Call us today for a free lighting survey and planning help. There's no

COMPACT STANDARD TYPEWRITER

Standard keyboard, standard large platen, every big-machine feature including half-spacing, tabulationnow even automatic yet missile age techniques have reduced bulk and weight so that this heavy duty machine is easily carried. This all-purpose typewriter shames flimsy lightweights costing far more . . . outperforms expensive giants. It's writing sales history for Underwood. Fully guaranteed, naturally!

$98.50 Carrying Case Included Portables From $48.50

They perform far beyond simple addition-subtract. give credit balance, multiply, calculate discounts and percentages, total capacity 99.999.999.999! Just 5½ inches high, desk space 8½x14½—yet with big machines' high efficiency and rugged denlability! Choose onend-operated Prima 2 $99.50, the electric Quanta at $159.95, or the automatic multiplicatio heavy-duty Multisumma, Nothing peps up any office machine's performance-and actually prolongs its life-like a first quality NYLON ribbon . . the only ribbon we handle because it's the only one we can sell with pride. . . Yet some folks persist in using cheaper quality ribbons which date from the pre-nylon era-and actually pay more for them than our $1.25 price for nylon. By handling one grade in volume, we're hold ing the price line on the best ribbon you can buy. At that price, you can't afford any other ribbon for your machine.

Significant break-throughs in design and production of familiar products are revolutionizing the office supply field.

Good businessmen are improving efficiency and earning credit on income tax returns.

Before you invest unwisely in office tools of obsolete design, don't fail to see the newest and best.

Acquiring the Tupperware Industry during our administration was a big step toward the progress and development of Halls. This plant will employ around 800 people and create many other jobs. Custom Craft Manufacturing Company has made a major expansion this past year, and will employ approximately 75 more people. We have moved to a larger City Hall. The town has received bids on the much needed Water and Sewer Improvement Program and we hope to begin construction soon. We think the vote cast for the Street Improvement Program shows an interest of the public in the progress of Halls. We will assure you again that this Street Bond will not cause your taxes to be raised but will be paid from the State Street Aid Fund, which is received from the state each month. These are some of the major things we have accomplished during the first half of our administration and still have about $7,000.00 more in the treasury than we had when I took office. The following is a Progress Report from the Mayor's Office of our first year in office. Please look this over carefully and if there are any questions we will be glad to discuss them with you. ### THE SIN OF SILENCE Lesson for September 15, 196/

Background Scripture: Esther 1 through 8. Devotional Reading: Psalms 46.

* For the Christian there are few books in the Bible more troubling than Esther. It is an teresting story, but the follower Christ can hardly help but e appalled at the bloody con-usion in which 75,000 of the Jews' enemies are slain in a single day's vengeance. Still, Maimonides, the medieval Jewish ph" osopher, said that if all the rest of the scriptures Rev. Althouse passed away, the Torah and Esther would remain. Today it re-mains one of the favorite books in the synagogue and is read at every celebration of the Feast of Purim. Even an important Jewish women's society is named in honor of Esther (Hadassah).

An epic of survival To the non-Jew it may r seem at all a religious bookthe name of God is not even mentioned in it. Martin Luther was quite outspoken in his derogatory opinion: "I am so hos-tile to this book that I wish it did not exist. . ." Why, then, is it so important to our Jew-

The answer should be of is a stirring story of deliverance rom the evil of anti-Semitism. Its story helps to remind the Jew atically exterminated by the Nazis, they have nevertheless survived and it is a celebration of that triumphant survival!

It is also appeal for self-sacrificing courage and persever-ance. Esther's uncle, Mordecai, does not assure her that everything will come out all right as often it does not-but instead "And who knows whether you have not come to the kingom for such a time as this? er response is still an inspiraon for the Jew today: perish, I perish". Did you ever think of ads as guardians of your individuality? They are, you know. In a time when the edges are being eaten off our personalities and we're all being reduced to card-index numbers, we need to hang on to some things. Like our freedom of choice. And that choice is yours only so long as competition and free enterprise and advertising are working for you. Guard them. For they stand between you and a dull and standardized life.

God's mistake

Third. Jonah found it impossible to believe that God would have any concern for these people. Israel was his chosen nation. If he was going to love anyone it would be the Jews. Besides, how could God love or be concerned about people who were so evil and pagan? It was almost an insult to think that God would show some of the same concern for Nineveh that he demonstrated for Jerusalem.

We can almost hear Jonah protesting, "It's all wrong, I tell you, it's all wrong!" Yet the persistance of God made something else evident too: "But evidently it is the will of God." Pursued by God until at last he gave in, Jonah accepted the task and went to the Assyrian city. It was not to the Assyrian city. It was not something he desired to do, but evidently it is the will of God and he has no choice, though he is quite sure that God is making a big mistake. It is then that, from Jonah's point of view, the very worst thing happens: the people of Nineveh, these hopeless, god-less Assyrians, take seriously his reluctant warning and repent! And how does he respond to this marvelous turn of events? Is he overjoyed at his unexpected suc-cess? HE IS NOT! It may be the will of God for these heathens to share with Israel the mercy of God, but it is still all wrong! Angry, the petulant prophet sulks under a vine that God has graciously provided to protect him from the Sun.

Not just one man

What was the writer of Jonah trying to say to his people with about all men, not just a few. He is attempting to help his readers to see that, though Jonah was a Jew and a prophet, the sailors on the ship, though heathens, were more humane and compassionate. The people of Nineveh, Assyrians though they were, nevertheless were more responsive to the word of God and more obedient to his will than Onan. Thus, Jonah is not just one PICNICS man. He is all Israelites who man. He is all israelites who would rather defeat their enemies than live with them in peace. He is all men who find it imposs-ible to fit the will of God into their little minds and lives. He is all of us who are convinced that God's plan for universal brotherhood in one world must be "all wrong". Thus, he who laughs disdain-fully at Jonah may, in reality.
