THE GOOD NEWS

Lesson for December 5, 1971

Background Scriptures Luke 11-4, Acts 1:1-5

The writers and editors of the various books of our Bible made very few personal references. Often they do not even identify who they are. Usually they do not tell us what purpose motivated, although sometimes this is quite evident. An exception to the rule is the writer of the books of Luke and Acts (whom we will call Luke). Fortunately for those of us who are curious about such things, he gives us at least a glimpse into his own purpose.

"Many have undertaken..."

For one thing, he tells us that there have been "many" who have attempted to tell the story of Jesus and the early church. He was referring, not only to the books we know as Matthew, Mark, and John, but a number of other "gospels" and books of "acts." It may come as a surprise to Christians today to learn that there were many writings to choose from when the New Testament was assembled. Those who decided what would be included in the New Testament believe that they were preserving for the church the best, most authoritative accounts—though not the only ones.

Secondly, it is obvious that Luke did not personally observe all that he wrote about, but collected his information from different sources. This he did, not simply so he could write a biography of Jesus, but so that he might put together an account of that which he believed was essential to convey the "good news" of Jesus Christ. Often, Christians forget that the gospels were not intended to be biographies—the gospel writers were not interested in biographies—but evangelistic tracts to challenge and win converts to Jesus Christ.

"He presented himself alive..."

Thus the gospels are unlike biographies in that biographies are concerned primarily with history. But Luke is not writing about a "great man" who lived and died some time ago, but about a living Lord whose story has not ended but is continuing in the life of the Church. Luke's book is a story that is opened; it is still going on, new chapters are still being written.

Luke also had another purpose in writing his account of the life and ministry of Jesus and his Church: he wanted people to see the reality of Christ in relation to their own lives and situations. Luke does not tell us everything Jesus did, but he tells us many of the acts and words of Jesus that had meaning, not only for the people of his own day, but ours as well.

Luke experienced the glory of the "good news" of Jesus Christ, but that experience was so compelling that he had to pass it on. However we do it, that is the challenge that comes to each of us.

Hog, Cattle Prices Offered By Phone

Farmers Can Dial Memphis Number, Hear Recording With Latest Information

By F. H. Freshal

The Federal-State Market News Agency is now prepared to give interested hog and cattle producers price reports by long-distance telephone.

Producers can call Memphis by dialing 1-774-6460 and getting a recording three minutes in length quoting prices as follows: 8:30 a.m., report on auction markets covered the previous day; 9:30-11 a.m., hog market report for Tennessee and major and mid-western markets; and 11 a.m.-3:15 p.m., cattle market report for Tennessee and major area markets.

Bull Standards High

Of 75 Angus "college bulls" completing their final exams, only 49 will be graduating in the sale Dec. 10th at Ames Plantation, according to Haley M. Jamison, "professor" of the program, and J. M. Bryan, station manager.

The large number of failures was due to high standards the class had to meet to enter the "elite of bulldom."

The average of these bulls is 21 months. They have a composite life-time weight gain per day of age of 1.92 pounds.

Angus breeders want long, rangy type bulls which will sire finery type calves. This sale will provide a good selection of breeding animals for cattle producers from this whole area.

Americans are eating more beef nowadays, and farmers are producing the cattle for the demand. Recent figures showed that the number of beef cows in Tennessee increased from 80,000 head in 1935 to 954,000 in 1970. One- to two-year-old heifers had increased from 65,000 head in 1935 to 214,000 in 1970.

Numbers have not increased to this extent in Lauderdale County, but quality of cattle has been steadily improved.

Seed Corn Labeling

Committees from the University of Tennessee and the State Department of Agriculture are requiring that seed corn be labeled in 1972 as to the type of cytoplasm the seed contains, as in 1971.

Most of the corn to be offered for sale in 1972 is expected to contain normal cytoplasm, which can produce good yields even in the presence of corn leaf blight.

The "T" cytoplasm seed corn will still be susceptible to the blight and should not be planted.

Improvement Course Set

Fred Faulk will again teach a self-improvement course under the sponsorship of the Durhamville-Orysa Community Club at the Durhamville Academy on Tuesday evenings, beginning Jan 11th.

This course in previous years has won high praise from those who attended.

Frank Thompson, president, may still be able to accept enrollees in the course, which continues for several weeks and which is free.

Business Analysis Helpful

Johnny and Norma Roberts, of Poplar Grove, have participated during the last two years in a new service sponsored by Tennessee Farm Bureau which can help those who participate to keep up more closely with the business side of their farming.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts are enthusiastic about the possibilities in this program. They believe it can help them know which crops and livestock enterprises pay them best and least, and that this can be of great help to them year after year as they try to improve.

Grass Tetany Threatens

Cattle producers are being warned by veterinarians and livestock specialists of the possibility of grass tetany killing cows during January to May, with a possibility that it may start in December.

Tetany is defined as a lack of balance of minerals which results in a low blood level of magnesium. It usually hits cows that have young calves.

Preventive measures include providing some protection from cold rain and winds. Provide supplemental energy feed when cows are turned on new pastures.

Begin including magnesium oxide in the ration of cows at the rate of two ounces per day by Dec. 1st, and continue until youngest calves are six weeks old.

Drug Problem Is Threat To All

The menace of drug abuse remains although much has been done to try to halt it. Some experts estimate over 50% of our teenagers have an urge to try drug experimentation.

People don't like to be told that teenagers pose the most critical drug abuse problem in this country. We like to think of drug abusers as hardened criminals, veterans of the underworld who are beyond assistance. This view makes inaction more justifiable, but facts don't lie, and the truth is that at least half of the nation's drug abusers are too young to vote!

Studies have shown that the most likely type of person to use drugs are the immature or childlike! They usually have a dependent personality, probably unsure, and afraid to meet life squarely. They are reluctant to grow up and assume an adult role.

Marihuana, besides alcohol, is probably the most popular drug of teenage abusers. Marihuana has no recognized medicinal use. It is generally smoked in cigarette form. The marihuana habit can change environment to the extent that companionship becomes limited to other users and outlets to "harder" drugs open as a result. Marihuana doesn't necessarily lead to heroin and other narcotics—but it is interesting to note that almost all heroin and other hard narcotic users began with marihuana. From the standpoint of criminal interests, marihuana is a good "starter" for recruiting youth.

Other drugs which are widely abused besides narcotics are LSD (acid), amphetamines (pep pills), and barbiturates (goof balls). It would be easy to skip alcohol in writing about drug abuse because it has been legalized and we can't blame it on the teenagers. However, the truth is alcohol is unmatched by any drug in destroying lives and bringing misery to a large percent of our population. Approximately 40% of the beds in veterans hospitals and asylums are taken up by alcoholics. Besides killing themselves, alcohol users are responsible for a large percent of the deaths on our highways.

It is too bad that people who use drugs want others to use them also. They form groups in schools and colleges and try to make it sound interesting and exciting to others so they might become hooked also. There is no doubt that it does sound exciting at first but it isn't worth the price.

Throughout history drugs have had two functions. On one hand they have been screened and developed to help us guard our health and use our abilities to the fullest. On the other hand they have been misused to make segments of our population incapable of performing fully as human beings.

Drugs can help or harm. Before you try drugs take time to get the facts, take time to weigh them, and then convey the facts to others. If you do this, I don't believe you will misuse drugs.

I am very proud of our teenagers in Halls. While in many places there has been a lot of drug users and law violators we have been very fortunate here in that teenagers have acted with maturity and judgement. All of us, as adults, should be appreciative of OUR teenagers.

Bride-Elect Of Mr. Rooks

MISS DANA JANE COLLIER, daughter of Mrs. James Leslie Collier, of Oklahoma City, Okla., and the late Mr. Collier, of Tulsa, Okla., is engaged to Charles Wendell Rooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elkins Rooks of Halls. A late December wedding is planned.

Mr. Rooks is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Rooks and the late Mr. and Mrs. John Hargett, all of Halls.

Miss Collier attended public schools in Tulsa and received her bachelor of arts and master of science degrees in library science from Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge. She also studied at the Universite de Potiers in Tours, France.

In LSU, she was president of her social sorority, Gamma Phi Beta, and was a member of Alpha Beta Alpha and Beta Phi Mu honorary societies and on the dean's list. She is on the faculty of the University of Oklahoma in Norman, directing the undergraduate library and completing work on her master of arts degree.

Mr. Rooks attended Halls schools and Memphis University School. He was graduated from Ripley High School with the English award for the highest average of any boy in Lauderdale County. He was a member of the Beta Club and the annual staff.

He attended The University of Tennessee in Martin and received his bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering from the University of Mississippi in Oxford, where he was selected as outstanding chemical engineering student in his senior year, served as an officer of the student chapters of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers and the American Chemical Association, and was president of Tau Beta Pi, honorary society.

He is attending graduate school in the University of Oklahoma in Norman, where he is a candidate for his doctorate in chemical engineering.

He is a member of the Tucson, Ariz., chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution.

CARD OF THANKS
I am pleased to commend them. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cook, Jr. Adv.P.

CARD OF THANKS
To the Sophomore class of 1974 and my 4th period World History class: I want to say thank you. The flowers, gifts, and the visits really cheered me up while I was in the hospital. A special thanks to Mike Lewis. I am confident most of the damage to proceed to say I go to Halls High School. Joyce Stafford Adv.P.

What's Tennessee Doing This Weekend?
 On the average, every man, woman and child will use three gallons of oil on Saturday, another three on Sunday. So will every other American. The United States uses 600 million gallons of oil every day. Oil and natural gas supply 75 percent of all our energy needs. A country that runs on oil can't afford to run short.
 Actions and statements of A.P.C.O. President George Meny during recent weeks seems to indicate that labor unions will attempt to defy the wage-price freeze and become a law unto themselves. While we do not approve of the wage-price freeze as such, particularly with regard to the nation over to labor unions. Perhaps the wage-price is an error in judgement, or maybe it is the only way to slow inflation, but certainly, no one group should be allowed to defy the remainder of the nation for its own selfish reasons.
 Now would seem to be the time to stop the tail wagging dog!

Cotton Producers Sold On Spraying
 Believe Insecticides Proved Profitable in Controlling Boll Weevil This Year
 By F. H. Paschal
 Vernon McBride, Fred Gause, Lawson Elder, and other farmers agree that insecticide applications they made this summer to control boll weevils paid good dividends.
 Some growers who made five or six applications at the right time are reporting yields above 1/4 bales per acre. One man who made 1 1/4 bales per acre said that some nearby cotton which was not sprayed turned out less than 1/4 bale per acre.
 Producers are hoping for a severe winter to kill the majority of weevils, and most growers are shredding cotton stalks to help in this process.
 Cotton growers are also planning to guard against allowing boll weevils to get a start this year before they begin ovipositing.
Balanced Rations Fed
 T. G. Langley is feeding most of his brood cows just good alfalfa hay, with a mineral mixture of two parts steamed bone meal and one part salt before them at all times.
 Prices of feeder pigs and top hogs have been encouraging for the last two weeks, and cheaper corn can help producers make profits.
Pet Protection Provided
 Ruth Hartsfield, of Halls, expressed concern this week about her cat getting hold of dry mouse bait. This bait will kill any animal which eats it three times or more, and it should be made available to rats and mice in such a way that pets cannot get to it.
 Mrs. Dutch Arthur, of Barr, says she uses 1/4 gallon fruit jars laid on their sides to hold dry mouse bait. This lets mice and rats in without allowing pets to be hurt.
 Halls, Gates, Henning, and Ripley are all now supplied with mouse rat cadaverics and plenty of dry bait to control rats and mice within their boundaries, and these feeders are urged to keep their pets away from the rodents.
 With full cooperation of the towns people, a continuing control program will be carried out on a year-round basis.

Central-Nankipoo Road Work Slated
 The Tennessee Department of Highways is planning to reconstruct the bridge and approaches at six points on the Central-Nankipoo Road from Central to State Route 88.
 The work will provide two 21-foot-wide traffic lanes with two six-foot-wide shoulders.
 No date for the start of construction, nor any estimate of the cost, have been announced.
 Any citizen who would be affected may request a corridor and design public hearing be held by writing to Milton Wainwright, Tennessee Department of Highways, 703 Highway Building, Nashville, 37219. Such a request must be received by Jan. 7.
 Preliminary plans, location study report, and negative environmental statement are available for public inspection in the office of J. W. Bennet, regional highway engineer, on State St. in Jackson.

Garden Club Has Christmas Party

Dyersburg Country Club was the setting Thursday of last week for the annual Halls Garden Club Christmas luncheon.

Mrs. John Porter and Mrs. David L. Nunn presented selections on the piano in keeping with the season as the guests arrived and after the meal.

Arrangements of poinsettias and greenery in silver bowls, joined by a runner of holly and other greenery, decorated a table on the sun-porch where 52 members and guests were seated.

Hostesses were Mrs. Clyde Younger, Mrs. R. J. Nunn, Mrs. William G. Spencer, and Mrs. Charles Alsbrook.

Mrs. James H. Orment, Jr., of Dyersburg, a guest, gave a blessing before the meal, which included turkey and trimmings, boiled custard, and cake.

Other guests were Mrs. Leroy Ward and Mrs. James R. Horner, both of Dyersburg; Mrs. Carmen Belton, Jr., Mrs. H. G. Conley, Mrs. J. W. Warren, Sr., Mrs. Paul Crittendon, Mrs. Charles Rooks, and Mrs. Marion Cole.

The meeting was closed by Mrs. Alsbrook, who gave these thoughts by Paul Flowers: "In your garden, plant five rows of peas: preparedness, promptness, perseverance, politeness, and prayer. Plant three rows of squash: squash gossip, squash criticism, squash indifference. Then plant five rows of lettuce: let us be faithful, let us be loyal, let us be unselfish, let us love one another, let us be truthful. No garden is complete without turnips: turn up for church, turn up with a smile, turn up with a new idea, turn up with a real determination."

Mrs. N. A. Sloan spent several days last week with the Ralph Puckett family in Fulton, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Beard and daughter, Deborah, of Memphis, were dinner guests last Friday of Mr. Beard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Beard.

POWER OF CHRISTMAS
Lesson for December 19, 1971
Background Scriptures Luke 1:26-38; 2:1-20

Perhaps one of the reasons that the mystery of the Christmas power often eludes us is that we have forgotten just how unsuitable and unlikely a birthplace a stable is.

Rev. Althouse smiling.

The "earthly vessels"
If that is the way the Christmas stable has been "puffed-up" in your mind, then maybe the Christmas story and the manger scene in this season would be to the closest stable — equipped with a can of air spray and a pair of hip boots, for there is nothing quaint and romantic about a real stable.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Conner are visiting Sgt. Conner's sister, Mrs. Tommy McDearman, and family. Sgt. Conner has recently returned to the States after a year with the Air Force in Thailand. He will report to an air base in Austin, Tex., after Jan. 1st. Mrs. Conner has been employed in Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Craig returned home Saturday after having spent a week in St. Louis, Mo.

Dwight Agee has been discharged from the Navy and is a guest of his mother, Mrs. R. V. Agee, Jr.

Mrs. Marie Brandon has returned home after having visited relatives in Little Rock, Ark.

A FULL SCHOLARSHIP to Dyersburg State Community College is awarded by James Fitzhugh (right), executive vice-president of Bank of Ripley, to freshman Stan Paige (center) son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Paige, of Sarah's Circle, Ripley, as Dr. Robin L. Pierce, dean of students, offers congratulations. The scholarship to be awarded annually, pays fees for the academic year.

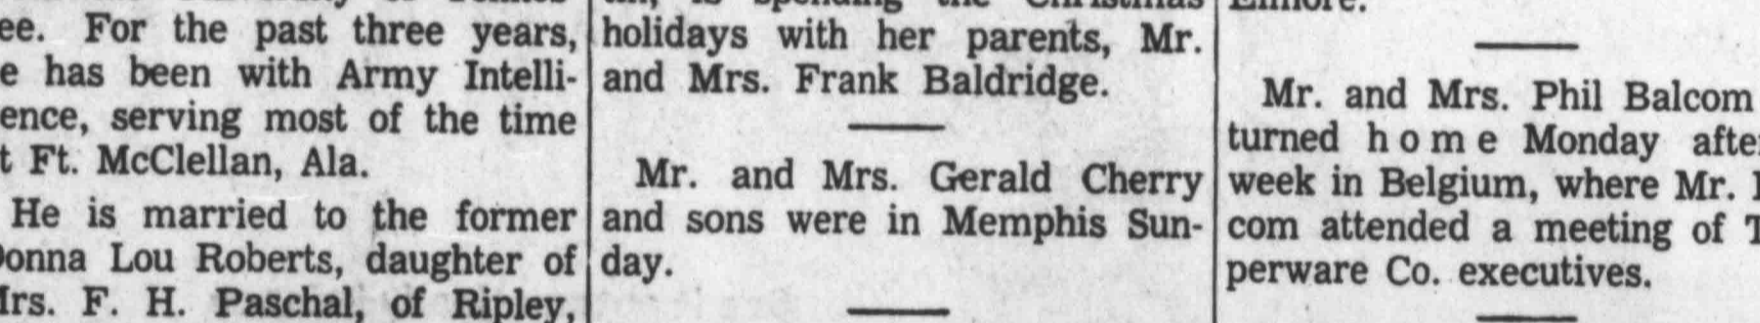

JERRY RILEY HOME, within 24 hours of external completion in the Town and Country Sub-Division at Gates, was strewn by the winds, lodging partly against the Earl Scott home seen here.

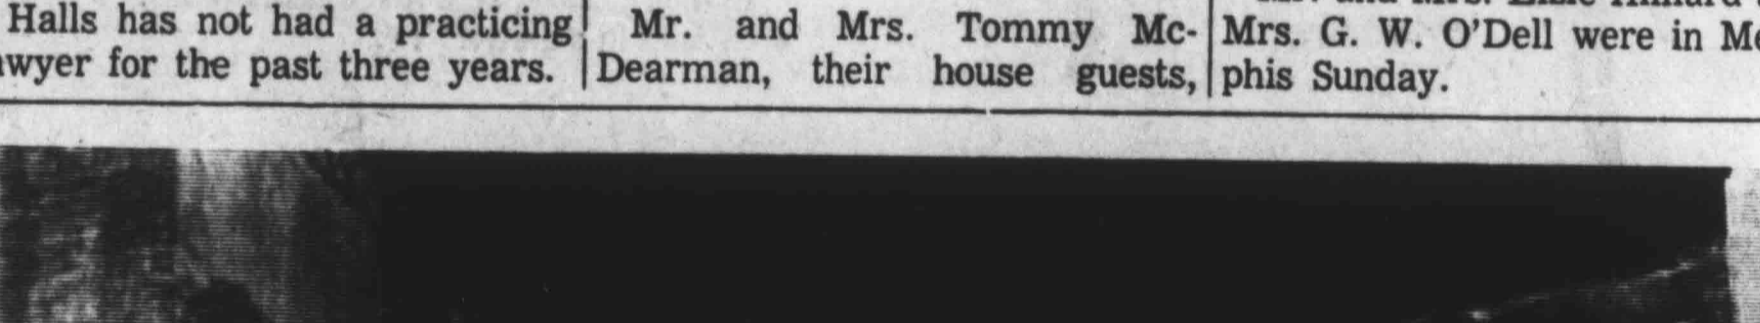

MRS. BILLY CHERRY at Gates lost part of her roof, as did a number of other homes in the County. County civil defense and Red Cross crews, led by Casey Murphree, of Ripley, and Ripley's Explorer Post Rescue Squad worked most of the night checking damage and clearing debris.

AROUND $9,000 DAMAGE resulted from roofing loss off the administration building of the Paperware plant in Halls—much of it from water damage to offices underneath.

Riplians Eke Win From Halls Five

Jarrett's Free Throw Ends Game, 64-61; Halls Girls Are Doubled By Visitors

Ripley's boys squeaked past Halls' cagers 64-61 Tuesday after the Ripley girls had buried the host six, 73-38.

Both boys' teams had 28 points in the half. With 4 minutes remaining in the game, Ripley began stalling. Neither team lost momentum, and the scoreboard edged 63-61 at the one minute mark. Winston Jarrett sank a free throw with 6 seconds left to clinch the victory.

Halls' Jerry Crockett led all scoring with 27 points. Jarrett's 22 points and Frank Morgan's 18, with outstanding defense, paced the Tigers. Mike Newman had 19 for the Ripley. James Bond, Larry Morgan 4, and Terry Dier on Ronnie Cooper 6 each.

The Ripley girls had no trouble at all with Halls, winning by 37 points. Martha Jackson and Sheila Simpson led the Lady Tigers with 21 and 20 respectively, and injured Maggie Peat managed 14. Mamie Taylor added 8, Cathy Ezman 6, and Teresa Jackson 4. Louann Camp had 15 for Halls.

Lake County's sextet led Halls, 58-30, last weekend. Camp paced Halls' scoring with 17. Lake County's boys edged out a one-point, 84-83, victory. Lewis Crockett hit 22 for Halls.

Looking Around

Fireman Arthur Bryant was guest of honor at a retirement party when a chimney fire broke out in the house where the party was being held in Beechey, England. Fireman Bryant systematically cleared the house of guests, put out the flames, then called everybody back to the festivities.

J. A. Balzer, 84, of Euber, Kansas, has been riding motorcycles for 29 years without an accident, but he figured he shouldn't press his luck any more and in view of his age, switched to a bicycle.

A jet plane of the U.S. Air Force 20th wing, crashed into John Pledger's field in Stoke-by-Clare, England and narrowly missed him. Mr. Pledger was plowing, looked up to see that the pilot had safely bailed out and then complained to the first persons who rushed to the scene. "This is going to scare my chickens and they don't lay eggs when they get scared."

Someone hauled the 400-pound safe away from the Golf Club at Edgartown, Mass. C. Stuart Avery, club treasurer, was told when he inquired about his burglary insurance, to bring in the policy. "The policy," he replied, "is in the safe."

The Beautiful Blue Danube is mostly brown. It rises in the Black Forest and flows to the Black Sea.

Mrs. Mary Dyer told police that her hair was stolen right off her head in a Kansas City Restaurant. She said a woman snatched her wig that was worth $165.

If Manuel Caschi wants to keep his job with the City of Detroit he must live in that city. The Caschi home is mostly in Grosse Pointe Park, a suburb, but the city line runs through the building and the back porch is in Detroit. Mr. Caschi sleeps on the back porch, lists it as his address.

London subways went on the honor system when ticket collectors went on strike. Trains ran and on each station platform there was a wash bucket with a sign on it: "Please put your face in here."

Perhaps Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Clark didn't get a volume discount but when two or three of their children were found to have infected tonsils, they decided to get the problem over, once and for all. They took their eight children to a Kansas City hospital and had all of their tonsils out.

In Johannesburg, South Africa, William Thwait won a $14 bet by eating 48 hard-boiled eggs at one sitting.

It cost Albert Keller and Donald Chesbro $1,809 to replace windows in 27 homes, businesses and automobiles that they broke in Salamanca, New York with stones hurled from airplanes. In addition the judge fined them $20 each on charges of malicious mischief.

William T. Moore had his ear bitten off in a London street fight. But he got it away from his antagonist, took it to the hospital with him and had it stitched back on.

A Sincere Christmas

Let us pray that strength and courage abundant be given to all who work for a world of reason and understanding that the good that lies in every man's heart may day by day be magnified; that men will come to see more clearly not that which divides them, but that which unites them; that each hour may bring us closer to a final victory, not of nation over nation, but of man over his own evils and weaknesses; that the true spirit of this Christmas Season, its joy, its beauty, its hope, and above all its abiding faith—may live among us; that the blessings of peace be ours—the peace to build and grow, to live in harmony and sympathy with others, and to plan for the future with confidence.

Well, What Do You Know? fun, games and knowledge

by MARTHA GLAUBER SHAPP, Editor, The New Book of Knowledge

What is the international date line?

The international date line is an irregular north-south line that runs along or close to the 180th meridian. It extends from the North Pole to the South Pole. This line separates the regions of earliest and latest standard time on the earth's surface.

How old is the game of chess?

Since its origin in India and Persia more than 13 centuries ago, chess, the "royal game," has provided many exciting hours of play for both children and adults. The word "chess" is derived from the Persian word shah, which means "king." The term "checkmate," signifying that the enemy king is threatened and cannot be saved, can be traced to an Arabic phrase, shah mat, which means "the king is dead."

Is there really an Abominable Snowman?

The Abominable Snowman is a mysterious creature who is said to roam the rocky heights of the Himalayas. He is pictured as an apelike man, covered completely with blood or reddish hair except on his hands, his face, and the soles of his feet. He walks upright and wears no clothes. The Sherpas tell many stories about yeti and claim to have seen him many times. Some people believe yeti is a primitive form of man. Others believe yeti is the creation of vivid imagination. But no one has been able to prove whether or not the Abominable Snowman really exists.

How do bats find their way in the dark?

For centuries men who studied bats wondered how they found their way in the dark. How could a bat with no light to see find a flying insect and catch it in flight? Many people used to think that bats had unusually keen eyesight and could see by night.

CALLS OF THANKS

I would like to use the columns of this issue to express to my friends and neighbors how grateful I am for your kind consideration during my stay in the hospital and such a great relief as none. My sincere thanks for the cards, visits, the delicious food, and kind deeds. May God bless all of you.

Mrs. J. L. Spencer Adv.

CARD OF THANKS

Words are inadequate to express my feeling of sincere gratitude for the consideration shown to me during my recent illness. I appreciated each card, your visits, every sympathetic word, and each thoughtful act. May God bless each of you.

Trailer And Barn Damage By Winds

WOODVILLE, Dec. 20—The trailer home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gilmore, Sr., was completely demolished by high winds early Wednesday of last week.

The roof of a new barn owned by Junior Thurmond was blown off and scattered over a wide area.

Damage here occurred as the high velocity winds dipped to earth for the second time in the county, having first struck several homes at Hurricane Hill and later causing widespread damage around Gates and Halls.

BELTON FAMILY DINNER

The Monroe Belton family met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Belton in Memphis Sunday for its annual Christmas dinner.
