THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE
TO BE A NEIGHBOR
Lesson for March 7, 1971

Don't Do It
Gov. Winfield Dunn let the other shoe fall Monday afternoon when he bought his budget message to a joint session of the Tennessee legislature.

As was expected, he called for an increase in spending and proposed an increase of one-half cent to 3 1/2¢, in the state sales tax and expansion of coverage to many services not presently included.

Reaction of the legislature was understandably mixed, but one proposal is a mistake. Some Democratic leaders are seeking a two or three weeks' legislative recess purportedly to study the budget.

This would be a mistake, and an evasion of duty by the legislature. Certainly we are not proposing an automatic approval of the new budget, but it is the duty of the legislators to remain at work to carry out all legislative duties, including the budget.

Incidentally, we hope that a little more thought will reveal the need to remove any consideration of placing gasoline under the sales tax.

Approximately one-third of the cost of gasoline at the present time is tax, and the adding of the sales tax would mean another 1 1/2 to 2¢ per gallon. Enough is enough, and any additional gasoline tax is too much.

Why Plan In Halls?
By Suzanne Carson
(Second of a Series)

One of the major things that the Halls Planning Commission does for the city is to advise the City Board on enforcement of Ordinance. In other words, the Planning Commission is the appropriate review agency for all zoning questions.

In conjunction with the zoning ordinance, the City Building Inspector, Joe Escue, issues building permits and enforces day-to-day regulations provided in the Halls Zoning Ordinance.

This ordinance is very important to Halls because it provides for the orderly development and expansion of the town.

The major functions of zoning are set up to use districts or zones. In each district—residence, business, or industry—only certain of these three uses are permitted; and in each district certain conditions are required.

Halls has adopted five districts: low density residential, high density residential, specialized business, central business, and industrial. In this way, the different uses are protected from each other, and uses that perform the same function are grouped together.

Yards and open space regulations, which prevent overcrowding and assure adequate light, air, and open space are also included in the zoning ordinance. The ordinance establishes minimum front, side, and rear yard requirements.

Mr. Escue, as building inspector, has the power to inspect all buildings and premises necessary to carry out his duties to enforce the zoning ordinance.

Citizens of Halls should realize that it is a misdemeanor to build or alter any structure without a building permit. This includes everything from building a front porch or a garage to building a whole new house or putting a trailer on a lot.

Any person or contractor has to submit a dimensional sketch or a scale plan of what he plans to build, the size and location of the lot, before Mr. Escue can issue a building permit.

It is also pointed out by Mr. Escue that no one should ever cut on his own gas meter by himself. Only a licensed plumber can install gas, and he must have a permit from the city which is provided at no charge.

Sick & Ailing

Billy Reed Cherry, of Gates, had emergency surgery Sunday in Baptist Hospital in Memphis and is now in intensive care. Mrs. Cherry and their daughter, Janie, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cherry, are in Memphis with him. His sister, Mrs. Wayne Alley, and Mr. Alley returned home Monday.

Dismissed From Lauderdale County Hospital Halls—Annie P. McAllister. Gates—Mrs. Ben Grimes; Rt. 1, Sue Ann Tucker; Rt. 2, Mrs. Ella Spencer, Mrs. J. H. Newman.

Was 'Ball Of Fire' Northern Lights?

William Tucker IV, of Ripley, believes the "ball of fire" reported by Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Jennings, en route from Fort Pillow to Henning about 9 p.m. Feb. "northern lights."

"Bill Pete," an Air Force Reserve major, says fellow pilots in his 164th Military Airlift Command have frequently reported seeing these lights as reddish-orange balls, visible for several minutes before seeming to explode. They are effects produced by frontal systems of weather and are common in areas where large masses of cold air occur.

Vernon Roberts

Vernon Roberts, 84, retired farmer and landowner, of Halls, died at 10 a.m. Wednesday in Methodist Hospital in Memphis. Services will be at 2 p.m. Friday in Cumberland Presbyterian Church near Halls. Burial will be in Halls Cemetery, Halls Funeral Home in charge.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Minnie Wiley Roberts; a half-brother, Kidd Hardy, of Ripley; and two sisters, Mrs. Bertha Munson, of Memphis, and Mrs. Eunice Bray, of Henry.

Nelle Covington

Miss Nelle Covington, 52, of Halls, a teacher for 25 years, died at 1 a.m. Wednesday in Baptist Hospital in Memphis. Services will be at 2 p.m. Friday in Halls Funeral Home. Burial will be in Maplewood Cemetery in Ripley.

She leaves her mother, Mrs. Addie Covington, of Halls; a brother, Paul Covington, of Martin; and a sister, Mrs. Charles Hayslett, of Fairfax, Va.

RHS Cagesters Gain Sub-State

Ripley High School's Region 14 champions meet Lexington's lads at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in a sub-state basketball tournament in the Jackson Coliseum.

With a sell-out crowd in prospect, fans are warned that there will be no tickets for sale at the Coliseum itself. Tickets must be obtained from Ripley High School not later than Friday, when all unsold tickets will be returned to Jackson.

Fans who can't make the game can hear it via WKBJ-FM, 92.3.

Four players scored in double figures as the Ripley five edged Humboldt, 67-64, in the regional final in Humboldt. Brownsville topped Milan, 58-44, for third.

Larry Trosper led Ripley scoring with 15 points. Sammy Green had 13, Frank Morgan 12, and Charley Peat 11. Humboldt's Arthur Boykin poured in 25 points, but the hosts lacked Ripley's balanced scoring thrust.

Trenton widened a 24-23 halftime margin to edge Ripley's girls, 46-42, in quarter finals of the regional tournament in Milan Wednesday. Maggie Peat led Ripley's effort with 17 points.

Five From County Census Finalizes County Populace; Housing Figures

Says 20,271 Are Residents, Off 7.2% During Decade; About Two-Thirds White

Lauderdale County's official population in the 1970 Census has been fixed at 20,271, down 7.2% from the 1960 figure of 21,944.

The official population of the state was 3,924,164, up 10% from the 1960 count of 3,567,089.

The 1970 Census counted 13,276 white persons in Lauderdale County, 65.5% of the total; 6,872 Negroes; and 123 persons of other races. In 1960, 61.6% of the population was white.

The Census showed 1,728 children under 5 years old; 5,519 in ages 5 through 17; 10,418 people 18 through 64; and 2,617 who were 65 and older. The population 14 years and over included 9,049 married people; 1,015 widowed, 808 divorced, and 3,211 never married.

Lauderdale County's 1970 population was classified as 23.6% urban and 76.4% rural.

There were 6,145 households, with 19,654 persons, including 1,067 one-person households. In addition, 617 persons were living in group quarters.

The 1970 Census counted 6,944 housing units in Lauderdale County—3,642 of them occupied by owners, 2,503 occupied by tenants, and 699 vacant. These included vacant units for seasonal use. The proportion occupied by owners in 1970 was 53.2%, compared with 43% in 1960.

Among year-round dwelling units there were 6,103 single family houses, 475 housing units in multi-unit buildings, and 149 mobile homes or trailers. The percentage of occupied units with more than one person per room was 14.9, compared with 25% in 1960. Of all the occupied housing units, 4,064 had piped water, toilet, and bath, while 2,081 lacked some or all plumbing.

The median value of owner-occupied houses in Lauderdale County was $9,500, compared with $5,200 in 1960. The median rent paid by tenants in 1970 was less than $30 per month; compared with $31 in 1960. Half were over and half below the median figures.

Landowners Vote Friday

All landowners in Lauderdale County are urged to vote in the supervisors' election of the Soil Conservation District this Friday, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Voters who happen to be in Ripley or Halls or at any other voting center can vote just the same as if they were in their home area.

Beef Producers Meet

Farmers who sold feeder calves through the Brownsville co-operative sales last year will meet at Brownsville Bank at 7 p.m. this Friday to get a full report on the sales held last year and to make decisions about 1971 sales.

Pastures Are Studied

Bates Sullivan, of Fort Pillow, this week began renovating a fescue pasture to add clover back into the mixture and double the feed value of each acre.

Joe Burns, Extension agronomist, will be with Extension Leader, F. H. Paschal in meetings Tuesday in the Farm Bureau Building in Ripley at 1:30 p.m. and in Halls High School at 7 p.m. to discuss pastures and provide additional information on corn production.

Beef producers can grow feed for cattle at the least cost in the form of good pastures. These must provide the maximum amount of feed per acre whether they are grown in summer, winter, or spring.

Pasture management is a continuous learning process, and beef producers are urged to attend one of the meetings Tuesday.

Tested Boar Sale

Lynn Ammons, of Ripley, and other producers who are participating in the Performance Tested Program will sell 37 tested boars at the West Tennessee Experiment Station in Jackson at 1 p.m. next Friday.

This is the first sale from the boar testing station at Jackson. Cattle producers are requesting that a bull testing station be established in West Tennessee.

'Shorty' Flatt

Stanley F. (Shorty) Flatt, 71, an electrician, of Curve, died at 7:45 a.m. Thursday in Lauderdale County Hospital.

Services were incomplete at press time.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Edna Estelle McKee Flatt; a step-son, Marvin Potter, of Covington; and a niece, Janet Anderson, of Dyersburg.

Who is my neighbor?

This family was deeply impressed by this incident because they received help in time of need from two persons whom ordinarily they would not have thought of as the "neighborly type." This is the same factor which we find in Jesus' parable of "the Good Samaritan." What made that story so remarkable to his listeners is that "good" and "Samaritan" were two words no Jew would have thought of putting together. As you are probably aware, there was a deep, long-standing animosity between the Jews and the Samaritans and the latter were regarded almost as "untouchables." Jesus could not have picked a more despised person to serve as his illustration of the true neighbor.

The story comes into being because a lawyer (actually a scribe or specialist in the religious law; a theologian) asked a philosophical question: "And who is my neighbor?" What are the limits of this love I am supposed to bestow upon others? The Pharisees, it is said, believed that the obligation of loving one's neighbor went no further than one's fellow Pharisees. Others believed that neighborliness was intended only for fellow Jews.

It appears that the man wanted to engage Jesus in a theological debate. Jesus, however, makes it clear that he too is concerned about theory and not enough about deeds. The Jews assumed that their teachings were theologically or doctrinally correct. The Samaritans, by comparison, were people who the Jews held to be theologically incorrect. Yet Jesus shows in his story that what is really important is not a man's religious theories or doctrines, but his actions.

"Good Guys" and "Bad Guys"

Compare the three people in the story. Two of these are religious professionals, the ones who would be expected to do the "right" thing. The other, a Samaritan, not only was not a professional but, as a Samaritan, a "wrong" believer. Yet, he did the loving thing, while the other two refused to get involved. The moral is clear: the loving heretic is more pleasing to God than the unloving person who is doctrinally or theologically sound. It is what we do, not what we say we believe that is of greatest importance.

Secondly, Jesus is saying that any man, whether he is sinner or Samaritan, who needs our help is our neighbor. In other words, there are no limits to this love that God calls from us, there is no one to be excluded, no matter how unworthy they may seem. Jesus finishes this story with a twist. He indicates that the real question is not "Who is my neighbor?" but "...To whom am I called to be a neighbor?"

MASSENGILL SELECTED
Patrol Sergeant For Tipton And Lauderdale

Tennessee Highway Patrolman William Massengill, of Ripley, has been named sergeant in charge of troopers Joe Jacobs and Billy Wayne Williams, in Lauderdale County, and three troopers in Tipton County.

New Grandson

It has always been a mystery for your editor how any person can suddenly become an expert with so little experience.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Nunn, of Memphis, are the parents of a new son, born Monday.

By Tuesday, David Nunn, a proud grandparent, was calling your editor, extolling over the advantages of a grandson over granddaughters.

How would a 18-hour grandfather have enough experience to try to tell your editor, who has three granddaughters and more than four years of experience, that grandsons are better? Some grandparents are really peculiar!

Taxes Get One-Third

Approximately one-third of each working day is spent in working to pay your taxes, according to recent figures released by Tax Foundation, Inc.

They say that two hours, and 37 minutes of each 8-hour working day is needed to pay your taxes. Approximately two-thirds of this time goes to the federal government, and the remainder to state and local governments.

On the other hand, they estimate that it takes one hour and three minutes each day to pay for food. At first glance, those figures wouldn't seem to jibe with our grocery bill.

Students Helping Tornado Victims

Members of the Halls High School sociology class, disturbed by the recent tornadoes in Mississippi and desiring to help, in co-operation with their teacher, Roger Harris, sought donations of food and clothing for the tornado victims.

Mr. and Mrs. Holford Swanner and daughter, Linda, spent the weekend with Mrs. John Swanner in Trenton.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Jones and son, Todd, of Union City, visited Mrs. Robbie Sasser over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wallace, of Nankipoo, and Mr. and Mrs. Travis Hughes, of Lavina, spent Sunday with Mrs. Thomas Smith.

Accompanying the group were The Rev. Keith Wooster, Fred Jackson, and Mr. Harris.

Trio Nabbed For Dickson Robbery

Two Gates youths, Bobby Parish, 17, and Ricky Davis, 17, and a Halls man, Junior Fain, 28, of 216 W. Main, have been jailed in Dickson, charged with armed robbery.

The trio are alleged to have held up a Dickson service station about 10 p.m. Wednesday, locking the attendant in the trunk of a car. The attendant managed to get the license plate number, and the suspects were apprehended Thursday.

Reports said that the robbery netted the trio about $50.

Dystrophy Drive Planned Sunday

Mrs. Jerry Puckett will lead the Muscular Dystrophy fund drive in Halls with a house-to-house canvass slated for Sunday afternoon.

A group of youths from the various churches in Halls will make the solicitations.

Workers are asked to meet at 1:30 p.m. Sunday in the Youth Fellowship Hall of First Methodist Church for final instructions for the drive.

To Dog Owners
 Of Lauderdale County

This is another year 1971, and it is time again to start having your dogs vaccinated and registered. This must be done before May 31, 1971. There will be no free day notices sent. After this date you will receive a summons to appear in Lauderdale County Court and be fined instead.
 State and County rabies control law requires that all dogs wear tags. The owner, of any dog not wearing tags, will have to appear in court and be fined.
 All female dogs must be confined, while in heat, for a period of 24 days, or the owner will be fined.
 Yours very truly,
 R. E. Goad
 Rabies Control Officer

One nice advantage of a Lovin' Phone Call is you don't have to lick the stamp.

Making a long distance Lovin' Phone Call is faster and easier than writing a letter—plus there's no bitter aftertaste. In fact, you don't even have to look for a stamp.
 And there's no better way to surprise someone that you care about. So why stay out of touch, when staying in touch is so easy?
 Remember, rates are low every night and all weekend long. So go ahead—address yourself to a Lovin' Phone Call. After all, what else that costs so little puts you in touch so fast?

Rev. Althaus apostolic... wants to tell you he's sorry

"Sorry" Karl explained, "he's always sorry afterwards. He was sorry after he lost my homework paper before Christmas and I got 79 on that project. He was sorry last week after he passed me a note in history class and I did detention. But today he has torn my transistor radio and threw it on the bus and now he's sorry again." Karl's wife now was led but he didn't care: "I'm sorry, Mother, but I've had it all, he's sorry!"

How many times? There was silence for a few moments until his mother said: "Karl, how many times have you said 'I'm sorry' to your father or to me? How many times have you asked us to accept your apology? What did you say on Saturday night when you got home an hour late for supper? And what would you do you two weeks ago when you put that long scratch in the fender? Are we supposed to count your apologies and call it half when we reach a certain number?"

He stared at her and she stared back. There was no need for him to make the obvious answer. Noting his head dipping, Karl got up and started downstairs.

How many times are we supposed to forgive someone? Once again, Jesus was being questioned about the limits of Peter's keys. We are asked to quote the rabbi's answer that three times seemed agreed that three times was enough to make God's requirement. Turning back to Amos, they had noted that the prophet seemed to use a certain recurrent formula:

"This says the Lord: 'For three transgressions of Damascus, and for four, I will not revoke the punishment;...' (Amos 1, 6, 9, 12)

The rabbi thus reasoned that this meant God would forgive three transgressions but not four. Thus they deviated their rule: A man shall be forgiven three times in what Peter offers to forgive his brother seven times (better than twice what the rabbi required), he is a God-fearer thought he was making a more generous offer.

Seven times seven... and beyond!

How surprised he must have been when Jesus answered, "I do not say to you seven times, but seventy times seven" (Mat. 18:22). Even if Peter was not able to quickly multiply these two numbers in his head, he realized the magnitude of the answer.

Earlier in Matthew Jesus had said: "I would like to see you merciful" (6:7). In the giving of the Lord's Prayer he had said: "Forgive us our debts as we also have forgiven our debtors" (6:12). In the "parable he is saying the same thing: God will forgive our sins, but his forgiveness is dependent upon our own willingness to forgive the relatively smaller transgression against us by others. A Christian ought never to have "let it" when it comes to forgiveness.

Rev. Althaus apostolic... wants to tell you he's sorry

"Sorry" Karl explained, "he's always sorry afterwards. He was sorry after he lost my homework paper before Christmas and I got 79 on that project. He was sorry last week after he passed me a note in history class and I did detention. But today he has torn my transistor radio and threw it on the bus and now he's sorry again." Karl's wife now was led but he didn't care: "I'm sorry, Mother, but I've had it all, he's sorry!"

How many times? There was silence for a few moments until his mother said: "Karl, how many times have you said 'I'm sorry' to your father or to me? How many times have you asked us to accept your apology? What did you say on Saturday night when you got home an hour late for supper? And what would you do you two weeks ago when you put that long scratch in the fender? Are we supposed to count your apologies and call it half when we reach a certain number?"

He stared at her and she stared back. There was no need for him to make the obvious answer. Noting his head dipping, Karl got up and started downstairs.

How many times are we supposed to forgive someone? Once again, Jesus was being questioned about the limits of Peter's keys. We are asked to quote the rabbi's answer that three times seemed agreed that three times was enough to make God's requirement. Turning back to Amos, they had noted that the prophet seemed to use a certain recurrent formula:

"This says the Lord: 'For three transgressions of Damascus, and for four, I will not revoke the punishment;...' (Amos 1, 6, 9, 12)

The rabbi thus reasoned that this meant God would forgive three transgressions but not four. Thus they deviated their rule: A man shall be forgiven three times in what Peter offers to forgive his brother seven times (better than twice what the rabbi required), he is a God-fearer thought he was making a more generous offer.

Seven times seven... and beyond!

How surprised he must have been when Jesus answered, "I do not say to you seven times, but seventy times seven" (Mat. 18:22). Even if Peter was not able to quickly multiply these two numbers in his head, he realized the magnitude of the answer.

Earlier in Matthew Jesus had said: "I would like to see you merciful" (6:7). In the giving of the Lord's Prayer he had said: "Forgive us our debts as we also have forgiven our debtors" (6:12). In the "parable he is saying the same thing: God will forgive our sins, but his forgiveness is dependent upon our own willingness to forgive the relatively smaller transgression against us by others. A Christian ought never to have "let it" when it comes to forgiveness.

Mrs. Hogue Given A Stork Shower

Mrs. Dennis Hogue, attractive in a brown knit jumper with beige blouse and brown accessories, was honored Saturday evening in a stork shower in the home of Mrs. Rodney C. Hines on Jaynes Drive. She was presented a corsage of baby boys tied with yellow ribbon, a gift of the hostesses.

The gift table was centered by a baby doll holding an umbrella, surrounded with yellow flowers and greenery.

Lime sherbet, punch, and individual cakes, decorated with storks, were served.

Mrs. Gilreath Dyer, mother of the honoree, was a special guest. Hostesses were Mrs. Danny Ark, Miss Janet O'Dell, Miss Di-McCulloch, of Dyersburg, Miss Anne Erwin, & Mrs. Johnny Free.

Garden Club Told About Flowers

Mrs. Leonard Andrews discussed geraniums, Mrs. Roy Patton African violets, and Mrs. Hal Pennington roses when the Halls Garden Club met Wednesday in First Baptist Church. Mrs. Carmen Belton brought a meditation.

Mrs. Farnsworth Pugh's arrangement placed first, and Mrs. Will Neely's second. Mrs. Neely had the top daffodil specimen and Mrs. Jim Jaynes the next best.

Mrs. Pugh, Mrs. Kenneth Randall, Mrs. M. H. Stallings, and Mrs. Roger Harris, hostesses, served brownies and iced tea.

Becky Young, of Blytheville, Ark., Miss Janet O'Dell, Miss Di-McCulloch, of Dyersburg, Miss Anne Erwin, & Mrs. Johnny Free.

Put your Lazy Money to work!

If you have more money in your checking account than you need, that's lazy money. And it's costing you money. Every extra $100 could earn you $5 a year at First Federal.

If you have money in a bank savings account, that's lazy money too. The same amount will earn higher interest at First Federal. And we compound that interest quarterly.

If you have your savings in more than one passbook, there's a good chance you could earn a higher rate by combining them at First Federal.

If you have government securities that have matured and stopped earning interest, that's very lazy money. Put it to work in a First Federal investment certificate.

If you have any money "piggy-banked" around the house, it could be earning interest at First Federal. That jar of dimes might be worth more than you think. Especially when it starts earning interest every day.

So take a good look at your financial situation. If you find any lazy money, bring it to First Federal. You'll have your money operating at peak efficiency. And without the worry and risk that come with so many other types of investment.

We'll pay you interest from the first day of any month on money deposited by the 10th in passbook and investment certificate accounts. We put lazy money to work in one of these savings plans:

	Min. Deposit	Annual Rate	Annual Yield	Term
PASSBOOK	$10	5%	5.12%	None
PASSBOOK	$5	5.25%	5.39%	3 mo. min.
INVESTMENT CERTIFICATES (automatically renewable at expiration date)	$1,000	5.25%	5.39%	6 mo. min.
	$1,000	5.5%	5.65%	1 year
	$5,000	5.75%	5.92%	2-5 years

Replanting takes the profit out of cotton. Use Terraclor Super-X.

ONCE IS ENOUGH.

It's amazing how something as simple as fungus control can be so difficult to get across to cotton growers. We've been working at it for six years now. We've had great success. But we haven't reached all the growers who are paying for poor stands... and replanting.

What makes it all so complicated is that we can't see the cause of the problem. If we could get our head into the soil at seed level and watch the fungi attack the seed and seedling, it would be a different story: See the fungi? Enter Terraclor Super-X. Pow! The fungi are eliminated. But you can't see them without a microscope. And plenty of training. Our people who developed and tested Terraclor Super-X have seen them. And how they were controlled by Terraclor Super-X.

Take their word for it. Apply Terraclor Super-X when you plant this spring. Chances are you, like most growers, will prefer the form with DiSyston Systemic Insecticide impregnated on the granules. It saves time and work.

You'll see the proof of our words in your tall, healthy, uniform stand. And the savings when you don't have to replant. The man with the details is your Olin distributor. He has all the information you should need to decide that once is enough. Which is another good reason why we say...

Olin

The new bird means business.

Put your Lazy Money to work!

If you have more money in your checking account than you need, that's lazy money. And it's costing you money. Every extra $100 could earn you $5 a year at First Federal.

If you have money in a bank savings account, that's lazy money too. The same amount will earn higher interest at First Federal. And we compound that interest quarterly.

If you have your savings in more than one passbook, there's a good chance you could earn a higher rate by combining them at First Federal.

If you have government securities that have matured and stopped earning interest, that's very lazy money. Put it to work in a First Federal investment certificate.

If you have any money "piggy-banked" around the house, it could be earning interest at First Federal. That jar of dimes might be worth more than you think. Especially when it starts earning interest every day.

So take a good look at your financial situation. If you find any lazy money, bring it to First Federal. You'll have your money operating at peak efficiency. And without the worry and risk that come with so many other types of investment.

We'll pay you interest from the first day of any month on money deposited by the 10th in passbook and investment certificate accounts. We put lazy money to work in one of these savings plans:

	Min. Deposit	Annual Rate	Annual Yield	Term
PASSBOOK	$10	5%	5.12%	None
PASSBOOK	$5	5.25%	5.39%	3 mo. min.
INVESTMENT CERTIFICATES (automatically renewable at expiration date)	$1,000	5.25%	5.39%	6 mo. min.
	$1,000	5.5%	5.65%	1 year
	$5,000	5.75%	5.92%	2-5 years

One nice advantage of a Lovin' Phone Call is you don't have to lick the stamp.

Making a long distance Lovin' Phone Call is faster and easier than writing a letter—plus there's no bitter aftertaste. In fact, you don't even have to look for a stamp. And there's no better way to surprise someone that you care about. So why stay out of touch, when staying in touch is so easy?

Remember, rates are low every night and all weekend long. So go ahead—address yourself to a Lovin' Phone Call. After all, what else that costs so little puts you in touch so fast?

Looking Around

To reduce the high birth rate, the Asian Race government in India has decided to levy a special tax on all parents having more than four children.

Mrs. Elva Orphee of Montrose, Colorado, covered her pet dog from head to tail with a red sheet to protect it from trigger-happy hunters. But during hunting season she was still shot at twice, mistaking her for a deer.

Three nervous niggers robbed the Mercantile National Bank in Tulsa, Oklahoma, of $9,576. During the robbery, one of them whipped out a pistol. He went off accidentally. He almost dropped it out and exclaimed, "Oh, my gosh!" The trio did manage to scoop up the money and get away.

Duncan Bettle told the judge in Lehigh, Canada, when brought in for being intoxicated, "I wasn't drunk, I was inebriated." Testimony showed that Bettle had been drinking vanilla extract and shaving lotion. The judge said "I should say you were more embriated than inebriated."

Dr. Kenneth Halpin and other researchers at the University of Oregon Medical School say they have found the level of enzymes that cause skin coloring and that some day science will be able to make black skin white or people can choose the color they want to be.

Congress recently voted a world studies program costing $160 million and the same bill tackled a brief authorization that allowed small boys to play football on a vacant lot on Capitol Hill.

Mrs. Louise Mercer reports that someone stole the concrete steps from a home she owns in Jacksonville, Florida.

Henry Galdis was held up in Detroit, Mich., and robbed of $30. He is an F.B.I. agent.

Light except red, which it reflects. (A dye that does not absorb any of the visible wavelengths of light looks white.) The particular wavelengths a dye can absorb depend on the way the atoms in the dye's molecules are arranged. A change in position of even one can cause the dye to stop absorbing light, and so we say it fades.

Beal buffalo, on the other hand, live in Asia and Africa. They range from the small pygmy buffalo to the water buffalo that is used to pull plows, carts, and to do other heavy work in India and Southeast Asia.

Do you know what makes dyes fade? Dyes fade because they lose their power to absorb light. Every color has its own particular wavelength of light. A dye has color because it absorbs some wavelengths and reflects the rest. A red molecule looks red because its dye absorbs all wavelengths of light except red.

Beal buffalo, on the other hand, live in Asia and Africa. They range from the small pygmy buffalo to the water buffalo that is used to pull plows, carts, and to do other heavy work in India and Southeast Asia.

Do you know what makes dyes fade? Dyes fade because they lose their power to absorb light. Every color has its own particular wavelength of light. A dye has color because it absorbs some wavelengths and reflects the rest. A red molecule looks red because its dye absorbs all wavelengths of light except red.

How to visit Grandma without going over the river and through the woods.
Simple. Make a Lovin' Phone Call. It's as inviting as homemade apple pie.
Calling long distance is faster and easier than going over the river and through the woods. In fact, it's even faster and easier than writing a letter.
And best of all, the rates are low every night and all weekend long.
So go ahead. Enjoy your visit. What else that costs so little gives you so much pleasure?
