Meddling, Not Preaching

House Speaker Ned McWherter has quit preaching and gone to meddling with his announcement that he plans to take steps to end the practice of having legislative committee meetings in Nashville and Knoxville on football weekends.

Since the legislators make only $44 per day plus expenses, it seems that the "poor" legislators should be allowed to combine "business" with pleasure.

Despite a Democratic legislature, he just might not get re-elected as House Speaker if he continues to interfere with legislators' plans.

Wrong Again

One of the criticisms of President Richard Nixon after the 1972 election was that he did not get out and campaign for Republican Congressional candidates.

On the contrary, President Gerald Ford has campaigned vigorously, so James Reston, of The New York Times, has been very critical of the campaigning, maintaining that he should be non-partisan. There is just no way to be right.

Good Move

The people of Halls are happy to see employees and management of GG Mfg. Co. settle their difference and return to work. We hope that satisfactory relationships can be maintained.

Plans included beautifying the Farm Bureau Building grounds and helping every 18-year-old register to vote. Special interest was shown in getting highway patrolmen to speak on new traffic regulations. The ladies are working on favors to be presented nursing home patients during the holidays.

Halls Gridders, 5-3, Play At Middleton

The Halls Tigers, now 5-3 for the season, will make another long road trip Friday, to Middleton, whose record is 4-4.

The Tigers having played stronger opposition will be slightly favored to take their sixth win.

Last Friday, a combination of the long trip to Erin, several fumbles in scoring territory and a general letdown brought the third loss of the year to the Tigers as Erin won 8-0.

The Tiger defense continued to shine, but the offense sputtered, gaining 260 yards but unable to score.

Only Greenfield remains on the schedule after the game at Middleton.

Tiger chances for a playoff spot went down the drain with the loss to Erin.

4,198 Costly Bales Reach Compress

By Charles T. Paul

Oliver Voss, manager of Federal Compress in Ripley, says 4,198 bales of cotton have been compressed as the most expensive cotton crop ever produced is moving to market.

This compares to 7,918 bales received at the compress on the same date in 1973.

Another month will be needed to harvest the crop, even with the top of the plants, may not open until late.

Much of the cotton may not be harvested, as many bolls, near the top of the plants, may not open until late.

Some producers say a freeze will be needed for this to happen. There is a 50% chance of a freeze by Nov. 3rd, 75% chance by Nov. 9th, and 90% chance by Nov. 14th.

Bean harvesting was moving rapidly until rains Monday night. Many producers are reporting yields of 30-40 or more bushels per acre.

In many bean fields, as well as early cotton, producers are following behind the combine and picker, preparing the land to sow wheat.

The high price of wheat and the double cropping possibility makes this very attractive on good land.

New Winter-Spring Clover

Stelman Brothers and Grady Cook, of Nankipoo, planted Arrowleaf clover seed provided them by Earl West four years ago. It gave excellent cover and abundant growth early in the spring.

This clover has possibilities in cattle production.

These winter annuals have a growth period similar to crimson clover, except that they produce forage later in the spring.

Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi have each developed a variety from selections introduced from Italy in 1956.

This clover has been found to be hardy in Tennessee, and the University of Tennessee will probably put it on the recommended list for 1975.

Conservation Service Moves

Earl West's Soil Conservation Service office has moved to a building just north of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office on Randolph St. in Ripley.

This move puts all of the agricultural agencies — the Farmers Home Administration, SCS, ASCS, and the Agricultural Extension Service, within about a block of each other.

Seeding Cost Increases

Farmers and homeowners planning to order trees this fall and winter should be aware of price increases, at the nursery level.

Loblolly pine, shortleaf pine, Virginia pine, black locust, sycamore, cherry bark oak, and white oak will cost $3 per thousand, white pine $10, cottonwood cuttings $11, and yellow poplar $14.

Those desiring only 200 may obtain the pine for $2, except white pine, which would be $4.

Time To Plant Fruits

Chuck Hendren, of Ripley, has inquired about muscadines. He has some plants in his backyard, as do many home-owners here. Grapes seem to be very popular presently, as well as peach and apple trees.

Fall planted material roots better and gets a head start next spring. Variety lists and information on various kinds of fruits can be obtained at the Extension office.

Farm-Retail Price Spread

The farm - retail price spread widened in the second quarter of 1974 as retail food prices edged upward, while farm prices declined.

Farmers' share of the consumer's food dollar fell to 49%, down from 45% in each of the two previous quarters, but close to the 10-year average from 1963 to 1972.

The main factor behind farmers' shrinking share was a widening margin for assembly, processing, transportation and distribution caught up with increasing costs, primarily labor, packing, and energy.

WHY DO YOU WANT THIS JOB? For the same reason I drove 35 miles each week to Bolivar for three years to work with the sick and disabled at Western State Hospital.

HOW WILL A MAN WHOSE TERRITORY COVERS ALL OF WEST TENNESSEE AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI HAVE TIME TO SERVE THE 79TH DISTRICT? Answer—I do not know.

WHAT MAKES YOU THINK YOU WOULD MAKE A BETTER LEGISLATOR THAN YOUR OPPONENT? I would have time to devote to the job; I would not be obligated to any special interest...

WHY WILL A COMPANY ALLOW A SALESMAN UP TO THREE MONTHS OUT OF HIS TERRITORY TO SERVE IN NASHVILLE? WILL HE BE OBLIGATED? Answer—I do not know.

I AM NOT MAN!

Lesson for November 3, 1974

Background Scripture: Hosea 4:1-7
Devotional Reading: Hosea 14:1-7

Asked what he's going to be when he grows up, little Limas, one of the "pensive" curious characters, answers brightly: "I'm going to be a prophet of gloom!"

I can understand how the prophet's role might have a certain appeal. The essence of that role, it would appear, is to "go around telling them they're going to get it," as one boy put it. That's what it seems to be when we read some of the prophetic books in the Old Testament. It is not difficult to find two great themes running throughout: (1) you people are evil, and (2) you will be punished for it.

Yet, there is more to the prophet's role than to pronounce condemnation and gloom. The prophet of gloom is also a prophet of hope. When, at last, God persuaded him to go to Nineveh to prophesy, the people of that city surprisingly repented and God spared them. This only made Jonah angry for he had looked forward to the destruction of Nineveh. Obviously, he did not really understand the purpose of prophecy.

Hosea did, however, and along with the other two named above, we find still a third theme in his book: God desires repentance so that he may forgive, not destroy, his children!

To be sure, there is much gloomy prophecy in Hosea. Yet, along with the image of the Mighty Judge of the Universe, there is also a picture of a compassionate God who, although he abhors the sinfulness of his people, wants their repentance and their punishment. Hosea pictures God as crying out: "How can I give you up, O Ephraim! (another name for the nation of Israel). How can I have mercy over, O Israel!" (11:8). So great is his love for Israel that it surpasses the monstrous evil of his people: "My heart recoils within me; my compassion grows warm and tender" (11:8c).

The real purpose of the prophetic, then, are to call the people to acknowledge their rebellion and seek God's forgiveness. "Come, let us return to the Lord," for he has torn that he may heal us" (6:1), says the prophet in Hosea. The love and compassion of God are always difficult to understand for our responses are conditioned by the vindictiveness of man. When a man is wronged as God has been wronged by his people, punishment, not mercy, is called for. Yet, God's response is different: it is a way of redeeming love and mercy, for the Lord is God and not man.

Tennesseans have learned to depend on Ed Jones for representation that truly reflects the views of his constituents. Ed's honesty, hard work, and personal representation are just what we need in Washington.

LET'S GIVE HIM A BIG COMPLIMENTARY VOTE ON NOV. 9th

RE-ELECT CONGRESSMAN Ed Jones SEVENTH DISTRICT

Paid for by the Friends of Ed Jones, Glen Raines, Co-Chairman

Jane let the cat out of the bag.

It's been called the forgotten office. The Public Service Commission. The state-wide elected office that has more to do with your pocketbook than any other elected position in Tennessee.

But Jane Hardaway's candidacy has stirred people to ask questions about the PSC. Because Jane is asking her opponent questions... Why closed meetings to conduct the public's business? Why not bring meetings to the commission? Why not more advanced public notice on rate increase requests by the utilities regulated by the Commission? Why does the Commission represent industry or the consumer? Why not a Citizens Advisory Council to review actions of the PSC? Jane Hardaway has made it her business to shed new light on the Public Service Commission. Because she believes the PSC is the public's business.

Jane Hardaway is a businesswoman with the perspective of a housewife. And you can't beat the combination.

RAY GOVERNOR BLANTON

Having Been Reared On A Farm In Tennessee,

Recognizes

AGRICULTURE

As Tennessee's single largest industry, producing close to 800 million dollars worth of products each year. Realizing the cost-price squeeze in which farmers are caught, he proposes a

Six-Point Farm Program:

1. Provide continuing support for agriculture research.
2. Promote constructive programs to expand the markets for Tennessee farm products.
3. Appropriate additional funds for a school of veterinary medicine in Tennessee.
4. Relief for cost price squeeze now troubling Tennessee farmers.
5. Supply the programs to preserve the family farms.
6. Have a strong Department of Agriculture.

Lamar Alexander Cares... About the Problems of Inflation

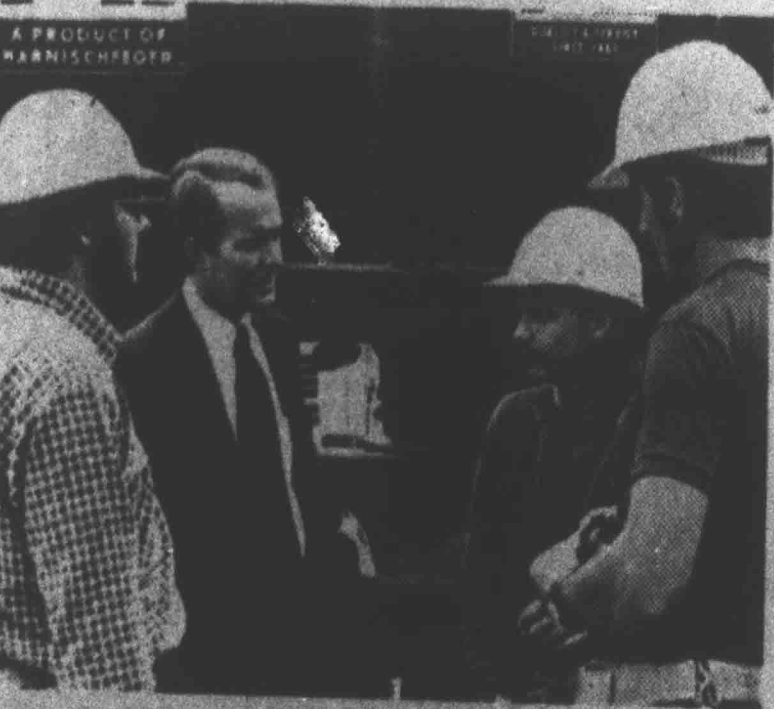

□ There are things, specific things, that a governor can do about inflation. If leaders of all states and all nations work together, constructive progress on the solution of this problem can be made.

One high-priority step needed now is immediate intensification of efforts to bring more industries with more high-paying jobs to Tennessee. This step, with increased emphasis on vocational training can move us toward raising the average income to the national average of $5,000.

Without penalizing progressive programs, we need to curtail wasteful government spending at both the state and federal level.

Tax relief for older Tennesseans and stabilization of the interest rates for younger families are all worthwhile goals for our next governor. Lamar Alexander cares about these problems.

□ In addition to soaring food costs that make the grocery cart our most expensive vehicle, inflation has hit younger working families with high interest rates that make it difficult for them to own their own homes or meet installment payments.

□ Inflationary interest rates have sharply reduced building and heavy construction starts and have depressed associated businesses and payrolls. We must stabilize interest rates and get building starts and construction jobs on the upswing again.

□ Our 600,000 Senior Tennesseans, many of whom are on fixed incomes, need immediate relief in the form of elimination of sales tax on their prescription drugs and an over-65 exemption from state tax on securities income.

WHO?

Will Not Accept The Taxpayers' Dollars As A Pay Increase.

WHO?

Voted Against An Increase In Pay To Members Of The State General Assembly.

WHO?

When The Bill Passed (Despite His Vote)

WHO?

Has Returned Over $4,000 Of This Increase In Salary And Expense Allowance To The State Treasury.

The Candidate For Re-Election To The State Senate.

Bill Jim Davis

Who said in a letter to the Comptroller of the Treasury of the State of Tennessee, dated Jan. 24, 1973:

"The 68 per cent pay raise to $8,000 annually is tempting, but I cannot in good conscience accept the increase I opposed when it was presented to the Legislature for passage."

"It seems unfair for Legislative pay. (For Part-time Service) to be more than that of one-third of all full time State Employees. I feel members of the Legislature should receive less than the lowest paid employee thereby serving as an incentive for us to upgrade State salary levels and a reminder that we are servants of the people."

Who also said on the Senate floor concerning compensation for elected and appointed officials: (As correctly quoted in the Knoxville News-Sentinel on April 16, 1973)

"I have a strong feeling that our pay scale should always leave room for sacrifice and service. It is an honor to serve this state and nation, and we cannot, nor should we attempt to, put a dollar value on our patriotic duty as Tennesseans or as Americans."

November 5th (Political Advertisement Paid for by "Frank" Pollard)

"Yes, I can help curb inflation in Tennessee."

Inflation is the most critical problem we face in America today. True, as Governor, I could not stop inflation, but there are many steps I will take to slow down inflation in Tennessee.

First, I would eliminate State Taxes on essentials like prescription drugs.

Second, I will repeal the Fair Trade Laws that are only "fair" to big business they are unfair to the people because they fix prices.

Third, through a bureau of Consumer Affairs, I will inform Tennesseans of lowest prices and best values, and protect them from unsafe products and fraudulent sales practices.

And through Industrial Development and Vocational Education, I can create new jobs and higher wages for many Tennesseans.

Most of all, I will stop the money-draining tactics of big business monopolies and return prosperity to the people... where it belongs.

Now, more than ever, we need Experienced Democratic leadership."

"It's time that we get Tennessee on the right track again by electing responsible, experienced Democratic leadership.

The spend-crazy, big business oriented Republican tide must be stopped.

The Democratic party has always stood by and worked for all the people... poor or rich, liberal or conservative, black or white, male or female.

Because the Democratic party is the people's party.

People have traditionally looked to the Democratic party for leadership to carry them through hard times.

And that time is now.

I will replace 'Republican promises' with dedicated Democratic performance in State Government and pledge fair and honest treatment to every citizen in the State of Tennessee."

If you agree that Tennessee needs experienced leadership and want Ray Blanton for your governor you MUST go vote for him November 5.

DAVID W. LANIER

It's Time For A Change - - Elect A Young Democrat For State Senator

WHY repeat four years of the same old thing when you have a choice?

WHY shouldn't the 27th Senatorial District have the same chance to get new State projects that other districts have?

WHY shouldn't our district have a choice in naming the next Lieutenant Governor? (Who knows this day and age, when the Lt. Governor will move into the Governor's chair?)

WHY shouldn't we have someone in the Senate who can be assured of help in getting major legislation passed? Why shouldn't we have a lawyer there who has studied and knows something about the laws he will be voting on and writing?

WHY shouldn't the farmers of West Tennessee have a farmer in the Senate to look after their interests?

WHY shouldn't the working class citizen of our district have a person in the Senate with a proven and successful record of bringing industry and jobs to the area?

WHY shouldn't all the citizens of our district have full and complete representation in the Senate just as all the other districts have? If you can think of any reason at all that we shouldn't have all these advantages, I would like to hear it.

We like to "Vote For The Man" for our elected officials, and I have always considered this to mean the man who can do the best job. The only man in this race that answers all the questions above in the affirmative is David W. Lanier, the Democratic Nominee for State Senator.

It is sometimes good to be independent, and to vote independent, and I am sometimes that way, but a State Senator serving you in Nashville must be dependent on you, the voters, and all the other officials in Nashville to get anything done. He can attend 100% of the Senate sessions and still not give you 100% representation. He may go to the party caucus, but he has no voice or vote. He may sponsor major legislation, but he may not get any help to get it passed.

You know our qualifications and background, and next Tuesday is your day to speak—only once for four years to come.

Make the decision you feel best for the citizens who live in the 27th Senatorial District.

Vote for David W. Lanier for State Senator. He is as near as your telephone and he asks that you call him collect when you have a suggestion or problem.

CARD OF THANKS
It is never my fun to be ill and in the hospital as I have been on several occasions during the past few months but actions of my friends and others have made time pass more pleasantly. I would like to thank the members of the Halls High Tigers for the autographed baseball from the Baltimore Orioles along with a card wishing me a speedy recovery. Time passes slowly but football which they brought to me I had hoped to be a part of the team but circumstances prevented. However, I mean to be there next year. Also I was surprised, amazed, and delighted to receive an autographed baseball from the friends certainly do help. Thanks everyone. Joe Mack Cherry

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO BELIEVE IN JESUS?
 Many religious people have the idea that all a person has to do in conversion is to accept Jesus as their Saviour. As one person said recently, "I think that all that's necessary is to believe in Jesus Christ as our Saviour." Another stated that a simple trust in Jesus is all that is needed.
 It is not my purpose in this article to question anyone's honesty or sincerity, but to study this important question by using the Bible as our only source. Paul declares that "Faith comes by hearing and hearing by the word of God." (Rom. 10:17). It follows that all we know about Jesus is revealed in the Word of God; thus our faith is based on the evidence that is revealed.
 The apostle Paul declares that there is "one Lord." (Eph. 4:5). One Lord means that Jesus Christ is the only Lord. (cf. Jno. 14:6; Acts 4:12). When one accepts Jesus as Lord, he must do so in the meaning of the word "Lord."

Farmers Want Loan Advantages

By Charles T. Peal

Although no significant movement has developed, due to current harvest conditions, cotton leaders feel that farmers will definitely move cotton into Commodity Credit Corporation loans in the weeks ahead, unless a dramatic change takes place in the market, but they must match the cost versus the gamble.

The approximate cost of placing cotton into the loan program this year, for a 6-month period, would be $10.67 per bale.

A break-even price improvement should be about 2¢ per pound. If cotton is held for a 6-month period, the value of that cotton would have to increase that much in order for holding to be worth-while over what the cotton might be sold for at the time it is placed in the loan.

Cotton markets were slightly more active in the South Central states last week. Market sales to domestic mills increased.

Most current ginnings reaching market consisted of cotton contracted earlier in the year.

Merchant demand was not strong enough to cause most farmers to sell. Farmers' asking prices for current ginnings exceeded merchants' offering price by 5¢ to 10¢.

Country merchants and ginners in Tennessee offered 4¢ to 4½¢ per pound for current ginnings but found few farmers willing to sell at these prices.

Feeding Soybean Residue
Soybean residue is being utilized by feed producers throughout the county to reduce feed costs this winter. Herman Reviere, Ed Sumrow, and Sammy and Roland Henderson are using hay stacks to compact this material.

Dry cows at mature weight can make very efficient use of this material, but protein supplements are needed if this residue is the primary feed.

The low level of digestible protein in these residues limit their usage. They become uneconomical when large amounts of protein supplements are required to balance the ration.

Jimmy and Steve Pullen successfully fed soybean residue during the winter of 1973 by using movable panels around the stacks. This allowed the cattle to get full benefit of the stack, yet waste was minimized.

In these times of low cattle prices, it is almost a necessity to use these residues to extend available pasture and reduce feed costs.

Save Fertilizer, Test Soil
Frank Thompson, of Durbanville, received four soil test results this week from fields in which he plans to grow soybeans in 1975. He had apparently been following a good liming program, as his pH level was 7.1 and above on three fields and 6.3 on another. This indicated that he needed to add no lime.

His phosphate level was such that he needed to add none of this element, and as for potash, two fields required 20 pounds per acre and two others 40 pounds per acre. For these tests, Frank spent $4. Farmers are not the only ones who can use the services of the soil testing laboratory. Larry Douglas, of North Alton in Ripley, had his rose bed tested. Ground limestone, 100 pounds, at 1,000 square feet, was recommended, plus nine pounds of 12-12-12 per 1,000 square feet monthly between May 1st and Aug. 1st. Home-owners may also get lawn recommendations.

Steinliss Tomato Soil
David Wells, of Forked Deer, is preparing now to sow and pot tomato seed and young seedlings, late in February, by sterilizing soil from his farm.

He has withdrawn earth 40 feet long, four feet wide, and ten inches deep, lying on plastic wide enough to lay over the top and be sealed by laying dirt on one side of it. Methyl bromide gas kills all diseases, weed seed, and insects, giving a sterile soil for planting and rooting. It comes in pint cans and is released by placing it in a coffee can and then pressing a small hole in the top. All this must take place underneath the plastic, as this is a deadly gas. Forty-eight hours later the cover is removed, and the soil may be used.

Many tomato producers have indicated that they plan to use soil sterilization to cut costs of the growing process. Some will mix soil and the purchased mix, while others will use a prepared mix entirely. To make producers interested in this method may call 635-9531 for further information.

Coal Strike Not Over
Coal mine owners and striking workers reached a tentative agreement Wednesday, but the miners will continue on strike until the contract can be voted upon. It is probable that by no means certain that the miners will accept the agreement.

It seems to us that miners exhibited a lack of responsibility in not pursuing the miners to wait for the results of the negotiations, rather than shutting down the mines and further damaging the economy.

TVA has said it has sufficient coal on hand for about two weeks but has asked for co-operation to conserve it.

Many people still doubt there are shortages of energy, but it seems to become more and more evident that we will continue to have problems.

Each individual should try to conserve energy and help his pocket-book at the same time.

cold enough to begin thinking about killing hogs to provide choice ham, sausage, bacon, and tenderloin for home use.

The best quality cured meat comes from hogs weighing about 250 pounds. When temperatures begin to stay around 40, the meat can be safely cured with salt or dry sugar cure.

After hogs are killed and dressed, the meat should be cooled for 24 hours before being trimmed and ground or cut.

One of the best curing mixtures is eight pounds of salt, three pounds of sugar, and three ounces of saltpeter to 100 pounds of meat.

Put the first application on as soon as the meat has been chilled, and a second application the fifth day, and a third application five days later.

Hams and shoulders should be kept in cure about two days per pound of individual pieces, except hams should not be kept more than 14 to 18 days, according to thickness.

cold enough to begin thinking about killing hogs to provide choice ham, sausage, bacon, and tenderloin for home use.

The best quality cured meat comes from hogs weighing about 250 pounds. When temperatures begin to stay around 40, the meat can be safely cured with salt or dry sugar cure.

After hogs are killed and dressed, the meat should be cooled for 24 hours before being trimmed and ground or cut.

One of the best curing mixtures is eight pounds of salt, three pounds of sugar, and three ounces of saltpeter to 100 pounds of meat.

Put the first application on as soon as the meat has been chilled, and a second application the fifth day, and a third application five days later.

Hams and shoulders should be kept in cure about two days per pound of individual pieces, except hams should not be kept more than 14 to 18 days, according to thickness.

Coal Strike Not Over
Coal mine owners and striking workers reached a tentative agreement Wednesday, but the miners will continue on strike until the contract can be voted upon. It is probable that by no means certain that the miners will accept the agreement.

It seems to us that miners exhibited a lack of responsibility in not pursuing the miners to wait for the results of the negotiations, rather than shutting down the mines and further damaging the economy.

TVA has said it has sufficient coal on hand for about two weeks but has asked for co-operation to conserve it.

Many people still doubt there are shortages of energy, but it seems to become more and more evident that we will continue to have problems.

Each individual should try to conserve energy and help his pocket-book at the same time.</

BIBLE

A NEW DAY

Lessons for November 27, 1974

Background scriptures: Ecclesiastes 1:2-11; Psalm 127:1-2; James 1:2-8.

Recently one of my sons came home from high school with the assignment to analyze the meaning of the popular saying: "Today is the first day of the rest of your life."

We decided that this saying is essentially a statement of hope. On any particular day we can be linked either with the defeats and frustrations of the past or the promises and opportunities of the future. We can concentrate on what has gone wrong or we can concentrate on a better tomorrow. Some people are so encumbered by yesterday that they ruin every today and tomorrow.

A new spirit

To say "Today is the first day of the rest of your life," however, is to affirm your belief that you can cut yourself off from the past and enjoy a better and different future. We can not do this until we have a new spirit.

Actually, we decided that the saying would be more accurate if we were to say instead of "Today is the first day of the rest of your life," "Today is the first day of the rest of your life." There is certainly nothing automatic about today and tomorrow. A new day is not delivered with the morning milk. The key is what we make of a new day. If we are to break with the past and begin a better tomorrow it is incumbent upon us to take some affirmative action. A better "rest of your life" doesn't "just happen."

This was essentially the message that the prophet Ezekiel brought to the Hebrew people in exile. He was a prophetic messenger of hope for the future. He saw a "new day" coming for these captives in exile. A beautiful promise was given them by God through the prophet: "I will take you from the nations, and gather you from all the countries, and bring you into your own land" (Ezekiel 36:24).

"I will deliver you..."

Yet, if the people of Israel were to enjoy this "new day," they could not simply wait for it. Something was required of them; they had to be willing to let God transform them. They had to be willing to let God renew them, but they had to be willing to let God give them a new heart. I will give you, and a new spirit I will put within you; and I will take out of your flesh the heart of stone, and give you a heart of flesh.

Sometimes there is nothing we need so much as a new beginning. This is when it is not enough to make some changes here and there, when what is required is a major overhauling. We are likely to have the same old today and tomorrow unless we are willing to let God make some radical changes in our lives. Jesus told his disciples that you can't put new wine into old wine skins. So it is in our lives. If we want a "new day," we have to be willing to let God make a new man.

What Does It Mean To Believe In Jesus? (No. 2)

Paul wrote, "Faith comes by hearing and hearing by the word of God" (Rom. 10:17). It follows that all we know about Jesus is revealed in the Word of God, thus our faith is based on the evidence that is revealed.

The same apostle said that there is "one Lord" (Eph. 4:5). To believe in Jesus as the Son of God means that one must accept Him as Lord (Ruler). We recall that in John 2:5, Mary told the servants, "Whatever He saith unto you, do it." Just as those servants were to do to whatever Jesus said, we are to do to the same, and this principle of truth illustrates the meaning of the word "Lord."

Now, let us apply this principle of doing what Jesus says. In the first place, we are to believe that Jesus is the Son of God. (Matt. 16:16; 17:5; John 8:28). But faith alone is not enough. Jesus also said, "Not everyone that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven." (Matt. 7:21). Also, the devils believe, yet they tremble. (James 2:19). Furthermore, we need of some of the chief rulers who "believed on him; but because of the Pharisees they did not." (John 12:42).

PEOPLE PROTECTORS

Did you ever think of ads as guardians of your individuality? They are, you know. In a time when the edges are being eaten off our personalities and we're all being reduced to card-index numbers, we need to hang on to some things. Like our freedom of choice. And that choice is yours only so long as competition and free enterprise and advertising are working for you. Guard them. For they stand between you and a dull and standardized life.

Millions of them show their pride by buying U.S. Savings Bonds. Through regular purchases when they work or bank, they've helped preserve our freedoms by investing in their country. At the same time, they've been storing up quite a nest egg for themselves. U.S. Savings Bonds pay a guaranteed return. And your investment is backed by the full faith and credit of the United States of America. Also, the interest on Series E Savings Bonds isn't subject to state or local income taxes. You can defer federal taxes on E Bond interest until you redeem the Bond. If your Bonds are lost, or stolen, or destroyed, we simply replace them without cost. They're safe. They're easy. They're automatic. And they're also a reminder. A reminder that we all have to work hard to keep what we have. Investing in your country will do just that. Think about U.S. Savings Bonds. It's a way to keep our country from getting folded, spindled or mutilated.

Except to fill out this Payroll Savings Card where you work. After that, just sit back and be lazy. Each payday part of your pay will be automatically set aside for U.S. Savings Bonds. And that can mean big money for you in the years to come. For a new home, for education, or for retirement. It means big money for your country, too. The kind it takes to put men on the moon, build highways, and keep the nation strong. And the government believes in safeguarding your investment in it. Bonds are guaranteed. And the U.S. Treasury will replace them—free—if they are lost, stolen, or destroyed. There's a bonus, too. Each Bond you buy entitles you to buy a Freedom Share of the same denomination. Freedom Shares pay a high or rate of interest than Bonds, and mature in just four and one-half years. Now doesn't that sound like easy handi-work?

BIBLE
SULKING PROPHECY
Lesson for November 24, 1974
Background Scriptures: Jonah 1 through 4
Devotional Reading: Acts 17:24-31

There are few more interesting nor more misunderstood stories in the Bible than the saga of Jonah. Most people know his name and associate him with a rather incredible "fish story." Unfortunately, many never realize that there is a great deal more to Jonah and his story than meets the eye. People think of Jonah as a reluctant prophet. They remember that when God called him to go and prophesy to Nineveh, he sought to run away from this challenge. Jonah is not a man who is afraid of God, but a man who is afraid of man.

But when Jonah agreed to be God's prophet, that wasn't the end of the story. He had learned that one cannot escape God; now he was to learn a lesson about what God wanted him to do. "But it displeased Jonah..."

Confidential Corner

Strike Goes On
As we suggested last week, the coal miner's strike is far from ended, and the possibility of electric cuts in electricity becomes more and more likely.

Delay for various reasons, including additional demands, has held up return of miners to the mine until at least some time in early December, with no certainty that it will come that soon.

It was now in the position that its coal surplus is being depleted, with no relief likely. It becomes every consumer, business firm, etc. to make a determined and informed effort to reduce the use of electricity in every possible way. That means today, not some time in the distant future.

Fort Pillow Park's Master Plan Told

Of $1,100,000 appropriated for Ft. Pillow State Park, planning costs will leave only about $20,000 for first phase development—superintendent's and ranger's residences, a visitors' welcome center, and a road to a large-group camp site with mess hall and picnic areas on a 25-acre lake, state planners estimated at a luncheon here Thursday, arranged by Sen. Bill Jim Davis, of Covington.

New appropriations will be needed for a planned fort museum and breastwork trails and markers, a separate river museum with observation tower, and boat ramps also in the state's master plan.

Memphis architects began design work last week. Contracts are expected to be let next June to beat a fiscal year deadline.

Lamar Abernathy, of Nantipoo, bagged this 6-point deer last Saturday while hunting at Bass Bay Resort near Big Sandy.

Don't Do It

Halls Fire Chief Joe Clyde Escue has asked your editor to appeal to the general public to please avoid interference with the fire department in their efforts to fight fires.

Escue says inexperienced and unauthorized persons have started attempting to drive the fire truck, take over the fire hose, and generally make a nuisance of themselves as well as hampering efforts of the fire department.

Halls has an unusually good and well trained fire volunteer fire department with twenty-one members. Regular training sessions are held where any problems are carried out, also liability insurance is carried but does not cover unauthorized personnel.

Chief Escue says that other means to stop interference with fire department is to get the department doesn't receive cooperation. Also he says that the general public is causing problems in coming to the fires.

Not Well Informed

On several occasions lately we have heard persons say that we need a major depression to get inflation, etc. under control.

Most of these persons were younger who had no real experience with a major depression such as we had in the 1930s. No one under 30 years of age can really speak with authority about the 1930s.

Inflation needs and must be controlled but we do not need a major depression.

WHO IS THE CHRIST? (No. 2)

In the first century, there was much misunderstanding concerning the true identity of Jesus Christ. There were those who thought that Jesus was John the Baptist; some thought that He was Elijah; others thought that He was Jeremiah, or one of the prophets. The writer of Hebrews answers: "Wherefore in all things it behoved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to the sins of the people. For in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted." (Heb. 2:17-18; cf. 4:15). Jesus became man so that we could more easily identify with Him as we pass along the journey of life.

Who is the Christ? He is the Saviour and Lord. The Bible reveals, "For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord." (Lk. 2:11; cf. Matt. 1:21; Acts 2:36; 5:31).

Do we have a proper appreciation of the infinite worth of the Christ of Calvary? If so, then we will obey Him and praise His name.
