READY FOR SOLID FOOD

Lesson for July 6, 1975

Background Scripture: I Corinthians 3:1-2 Peter 1:3-11

Devotional Reading: I John 3:19-24

There's an old story about a brilliant corporation lawyer who was traveling across the country in a Pullman train.

That night as he was preparing to settle down in his berth for the night, he was overheard to pray:

"Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep..."

For all his accomplishments, the man had never grown-up spiritually. In his religious life, he is still a child, existing, as Paul puts it, "on milk."

"You need milk..." This was one of the problems to which Paul addressed himself when he wrote his second letter to the church at Corinth. There was a great deal of immaturity in the church there, Paul observed. Pulling no punches, Paul says pointedly:

I must speak to you as babes. I fed you with milk, not solid food; for you were not ready for it, and are not even now (I Corinthians 3:2). In the Epistle to the Hebrews the same theme is sounded: You need milk, not solid food; for everyone who lives on milk is... a child. But solid food is for the mature...

Later, in the thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians, Paul reminds the people there that when you are a child, it is all right to act like a child. But when we grow-up, he says, we are to give up our childish ways and act with maturity.

Dr. Harry Overstreet wrote a book some years ago entitled, The Mature Mind. The thesis of the book is that most of our troubles are the result of our failure to grow-up. A psychiatrist, Hugh Missildine, has written a provocative book about Your Inner Child of the Past. Immutability, he says is the result of letting our "inner child of the past" continue to dominate our lives in the present.

Behaving like ordinary men Paul indicated that the Corinthians were still not ready for spiritual "solid food." The evidence for this assessment was to be found in the jealousy and strife that continued in the Corinthian churches. You cannot be mature when you continue to be dominated by these emotions.

Actually, said Paul, when they behaved this way, they were really "behaving like ordinary men" (I Corinthians 3:3). Apparently the Christian, as Paul sees it, is not supposed to be like "ordinary men." There is to be something special about him, something extraordinary. There is to be growth to a more solid type of spiritual food.

There are many Christians who are constantly fed a diet of spiritual milk. These are people who are spiritually "babes in arms," people who are not yet ready for the solid food of Jesus Christ.

Are you?

Still Climbing

We are still not convinced that the public is not being "ripped off" with the sudden increases in meat prices and gasoline prices.

Eight major oil companies announced Tuesday that gasoline prices are being increased about 3c per gallon to distributors, following increases of 4c to 5c a gallon in June.

Just what factor is involved that would justify something like a 10c a gallon increase has escaped us. We suspect that the oil companies are taking advantage of the announced policy of some government officials to allow prices to increase to curb consumption and conserve energy.

According to released government figures, the $1 per barrel import tax increase last month should have raised prices only slightly more than 1c a gallon, import prices have not increased, and cost of operation apparently has not climbed that much.

It seems to us that a great deal of the fault lies in the failure of Congress to take some decisive action on the energy question. There is no way that inflation can be controlled if gasoline prices continue to climb, since an increase there will eventually increase prices of many other items and services.

Climbing meat prices are also of major concern, since the farmer is still not receiving prices that justify the rise in meat costs. Bacon has increased almost 50c a pound during the past month, with all other pork making similar increases. Beef is beginning to climb, but the price of beef cattle has moved up very slowly.

All efforts to improve the economy and slow inflation will fail if the trend continues.

Very Dangerous

Recently we have been concerned about the many bicycles on the streets at twilight and after dark without light or reflectors of any kind.

Groups of youngsters are riding two, three, and four abreast on heavily traveled streets without lights of any sort so that motorists have great difficulty in seeing them.

Also, one evening last week, several youngsters on bicycles were following the mosquito spray truck so closely that they were completely hidden in the mist from the spray.

As we remember, there are city ordinances controlling these violations, and for the safety of the youngsters, they should be enforced.

For the most part we have been pleased with actions of motorbike riders, although there are exceptions. Some few continue to make as much noise as they possibly can, and others take unnecessary chances, but as a whole local riders seem to be using some common sense.

INTERIM PASTOR

Robert G. Elliot, business manager of Union University, of Jackson, has been named interim pastor for Halls First Baptist Church. The church pastor, The Rev. Nick Harris resigned June 1st to accept a pastorate in Southaven, Miss. Mr. Harris and his family moved to Horn Lake, Miss. this week.

Mr. Elliot will fill the pulpit Sunday morning and each regular service.

THE REV. DANIEL B. JEFFREY, pastor, will lead revival services July 6th-11th in Melville Methodist Church at Nankipoo, with services at 7:30 p.m. Sunday and 8 p.m. weekdays. The public is invited.

An electrician wanted to thread a cable through 80 feet of pipe that had four bends and was embedded in concrete. He took a male mouse, tied a thread to his tail and placed him in one end of the pipe. Then he squeezed a female mouse at the other end of the pipe and made her squeak. The male mouse ran through the pipe to the female's rescue, dragging the thread after him. The electrician pulled a strong cord through with the thread and the cable with the cord and the mice were given a piece of cheese.

In the weight-less conditions of outer space, how does an astronaut take a shower? Scientists find that water sprayed on the body sticks to the skin like syrup and has to be scraped off. Loose drops float around in the air. But towels can be used to dry the body and then wipe the floating globules from the air.

Beans In Soil Ahead Of '74

By Charles Peal

Hobson Wakefield and other soybean producers in the Mississippi bottom completed planting the lowest areas of their farms last weeks about 1 1/2 weeks ahead of 1974. Both the hill and river bottom areas have acreage planted after June 15.

The 12,000 acre reduction of cotton added to the normal soybean acreage plus some marginal land brought into production this year, could push the county's acreage to more than 135,000.

Soybean and cotton suffering from the cool nights and excessive moisture have now recovered and are now growing rapidly in the 90 degree heat. Areas of the county now need rain to keep these plants growing rapidly in order to fruit properly.

Soybeans have not been without their problems, however, as we have observed a complexity of situations involving Treflar: Cobex, Lorox, and Sencor damage along with seedling diseases.

Race 4 nematodes have been found in various parts of the county and some producers are applying Nemogon and Fumazone to prevent their development.

Cocklebeurs are being controlled by a combination of materials with Basagran, new over-the-top material, doing an effective job. Farmers will continue to fight cocklebeurs as they continue to germinate throughout the growing season.

Beans are being snapped, squash sliced, and other vegetables prepared as Lauderdale County gardeners freeze and can fresh vegetables from their gardens to help stretch their food dollars. All types and sizes of gardens ranging from 3 to 4 vegetables up to 25 different ones are being grown.

Clark Barnett, Ripley, and Powers Smith, Henning, have been very successful with a plastic garden. Clark put down six inches of cotton hulls on top of the ground in the backyard with which he mixed some 6-12-12 fertilizer and lime and covered it with black plastic anchored with brick at the edges. He cut slits in the plastic at the places he wanted to plant the seed or set the plants. His garden developed into a very lush growth producing high quality vegetables.

The black plastic caused the ground to heat more quickly than usual producing quick growth and maturity of vegetables.

William Douglas, North Alpine, Ripley, worked a large garden at their place of business which included 21 different vegetables. From this he is feeding several families.

Many farmers have gardens at the edge of the fields so that they can be cultivated with the tractor equipment. Much interest has been developed this year in the use of weed control chemicals in the home gardens of which the material Dacthal is the safest one recommended. Many home owners who have never raised gardens before report that they have enjoyed the experience and that the whole family has been interested.

A RECIPE FOR HOME
First, get out the cooking utensils. You will need one husband, one wife and children to suit yourself. Next, cream one cup of love until it is fluffy and mellow. Add one-half cup of tears and hardships and stir gently. Whip in a cup of joy, when smooth, add one teaspoon each of thoughtfulness, heartfelt tenderness and sympathy. Add one cup of ambition with two cups of Christianity. Bake in moderate oven, top with kindness, and serve repeatedly (Another Unknown).
HOW IMPORTANT IS YOUR HOME?
Your home and loved ones are sacred to you, and you would protect them with your life. Nothing is more important to you than your home. Won't you begin to study the Book of God, and worship regularly at the Halls Church of Christ?

Is Obesity a "Disease"?

Unable to reduce her weight by the usual methods, Kay decided to try abdominal surgery. The surgery did help her weight problem. But it also led to a financial problem: was the cost of the operation covered by her group health insurance?

The insurance company refused to pay off, arguing that the policy covered only "disease"—and that obesity was not a disease. However, in a court hearing, Kay described half a dozen ways in which the excess weight had disrupted her bodily functions.

Impressed, the court granted her claim. The judge said that chronic obesity can be considered a disease because it "impairs health and shortens life."

If you have health insurance, the policy may use the word "disease" in defining your rights. As a rule the law takes a broad view of what that means, giving the policyholder the benefit of the doubt.

Still, not every abnormal condition will be included. In another case a woman sought insurance for the removal of four impacted wisdom teeth. But in a court hearing it appeared that the teeth had been causing her no pain or discomfort whatsoever.

Rejecting her claim, the court ruled that she had not been suffering from a "disease." The court said there had been "no disturbance in any of the functions of the body."

Of course, the policy itself may avoid doubt by spelling out the specific conditions to which it applies.

A man suffering from a severe abscess tried to collect health insurance on the ground that his policy listed "boils" as one of the covered ailments.

But the court said that boils, which are an external skin condition, are different from abscesses—which are internal. Turning down the man's claim, the court said: "The language of the policy is explicit."

WHERE ARE YOU GROWING?
Lesson for July 13, 1975

Background Scripture: Ephesians 4:1-6; Philippians 3:1; John 9:1-9; Deuterian Reading: Colossians 3:5-17.

One evening last week I stood in the auditorium of our local high school, waiting for my son, Todd, and his graduating class to file past and begin the baccalaureate services.

I could not help but remember my own high school graduation almost three decades ago and compare the two occasions. As I looked at the long procession filing past me, I noted that today's youth are on the average, considerably taller than my own student generation. Physically, young people today are considerably advanced. They also appear to be intellectually advanced, too.

Whether they are any more mature or better prepared for life in today's world, only time will tell.

"Grow Up!"
Growth by itself is not enough. Everyone grows. Some people grow heavier, some taller, and everyone older. It is of vital importance to determine in what direction we are growing.

In one of his novels, Louis Bromfield says: "But with me there was no growth...I had never attained, any degree of maturity, I had merely grown older..."

But it is not enough to be called "older." We are also called to "grow up!" And Christ has given a specific direction which we are to follow.

In Ephesians we are told to "grow up in every way into him who is the head, into Christ" (4:15). In Philippians, Paul says "From now on, I will press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus" (3:14). And the Apostle John admonishes us to "be like him" (1 John 3:2).

Upon receiving that kind of admonition, some people shake their heads in either disbelief or resignation. "But who can be like Christ?" they ask. "He was the Son of God!"

The impossible dream?
If we concentrate our individuality of Christ to the exclusion of his humanity, we exalt him into irrelevance. We will see him as so far above us that he can have little or no influence upon our lives.

Yet, as someone has said, "Jesus became what we are, so that we might become what he is." In him we find, not some "impossible dream," but the example of what human nature can become. Jesus is the Son of God, but he also came to share that sonship with us. The Apostle says, "Beloved, we are God's children now" (1 John 3:2). In Galatians, Paul speaks of us as "adopted" sons (4:5) and again in Romans 8:23.

So, in Jesus, God showed all men what he created to be in that direction. It is not so much a matter of arriving at the goal, but always being sure we are moving toward it. As Paul puts it: "Brethren, I do not consider that I have made it my own; but one thing I do, forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead, I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus" (2:15, 16).

It is not enough to grow older; we are called to grow up as well.

Confidential Corner
By Henry Murchison
Lots Of Talk
If certain United States Senators including Henry Jackson, Birch Bayh, Adlai Stevenson III, would put into action much of their rhetoric concerning the sudden rise in gasoline prices and the energy crisis, there might be something to accomplish.

However, these Senators, along with others, promise investigations, efforts to hold down prices, etc. but all their conversation eventually boils down to an attack on the Ford administration energy policies without offering anything themselves.

We seriously doubt that even President Ford thinks that his $2 a barrel tariff on imported crude oil is any sort of a solution but at least the administration has made some effort as the Congress has not.

While we are certainly in no position to prove our beliefs, we are certain that the oil companies, the distributors, and the gasoline dealers are each increasing prices—without justification—at the expense of the general public.

Timing of the most recent increases would certainly lead the motoring public to believe that they were victims of a squeeze.

Despite the administration's beliefs that an increase in price is a good way to control consumption, it just isn't working out.

Shoe On Other Foot
A great church has indicated that he may call in former president Richard Nixon to investigate his part in the alleged assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. on Tuesday that Mr. Nixon had been involved.

We have little doubt that this is true but at the same time Sen. Church has stated that he will not release any information about the possible involvement of the late president, John Kennedy, nor of the late Robert Kennedy.

Seems to us that this is another witch hunt by a would-be presidential candidate trying to use the downfall of Mr. Nixon but at the same time unwilling to release all facts because of the damage to his presidential aspirations.

Actually, an investigation of the CIA can be a major threat to the security of this nation. The need for such an organization has been clearly indicated, although there is no doubt that poor judgement has been used at times.

Created A Monster
The Democratic party supported the selection of Gerald Ford as vice-president to succeed resigned Spiro Agnew with the belief that Mr. Ford would be no threat to the party electing the next president.

It hasn't worked out that way. While no one can predict that Mr. Ford will be re-elected as president next year, the Democratic party has suddenly waked up the fact that this is a strong possibility.

It will be interesting to watch efforts of party leaders to select a compromise candidate and seek to elect him.

Hail Seriously Damages Crops

By Charles Peal

Several hundred acres of cotton, corn, and soybeans were completely destroyed and/or seriously damaged by a hailstorm which swept through the Durhamville-Oryssa Community last Saturday night, July 5.

Bare stalks were all that remained of 20-inch cotton on the farm of Pat Parker, Jr. and Lawson Elder. Though the cotton would recover vegetatively, the hail damage would delay squaring 20-25 days making it mature late. Also, it will make a plant with a large top causing difficulty in harvesting.

Panhus Shelby, Extension specialist from Jackson, advised producers to destroy the stalks and plant soybeans in the middle. Care has to be taken in replanting as the herbicide Cotolan used for cotton can damage beans. Most producers banded their Cotolan which left an area in the middle where the soybeans can be safely planted.

Soybeans in this area varied from four inches in height to 20 inches. Broken stalks were damaged and though, there are enough nodes from which buds will develop to give a normal crop. A good root system plus two or more strong buds will initiate growth that would outweigh replanting.

Large pecan trees were blown over in the area behind Billy Thomas' house. Numerous limbs were broken off tree and damage to buildings, including St. Paul Methodist Church, occurred as the storm hit.

Crop damage of a similar nature occurred in the Woodville Area the same night. H. L. Elder, who toured the damage with 12 farmers, the County Agent and Extension specialist, said, "These farmers will be eligible for disaster payments through ASCS." A representative of the office will visit the fields to check on the damage and determine the extent which is eligible or payments.

Bel Weevil Percentage High
Sidney and Randy Talley started spraying Moxidiphenol weevils as a result of finding a 13% infestation in some of their fields near Henning. Billy Thomas, Durhamville, reported a near 90% infestation in one of his fields.

Weevils are starting early this year inasmuch as a higher percentage of them overwintered. In fact the population is about three times normal.

Farmers who need to spray, may use as their first choice the material called Guthion at the rate of one pint per acre. This will cost $1.25. If it is flown out, it will be $1.50 for the plane which will give the total cost of $2.75 per acre.

The second recommendation is Toxaphene-Methyl Parathion. The formula is 6-1/2 or 6-3. The Methyl Parathion does a better job of killing the bollworm providing its total action within the first 30 minutes of application. The Toxaphene is a residual material which can kill over a period of 3-5 days.

Farmers who start spraying should spray four times at five-day intervals. Following this the cotton should be checked for boll weevil activity. If it is as much as 10% spraying should be continued.

Cotton And Soybean Field Day
The Milan Field Station will be the scene of tours during which experiment station and Extension personnel will discuss various demonstrations and experimental work they are carrying on this year. Farmers from all over West Tennessee are invited to attend. The tour will start at 7:30 A.M. and go to 12:00 Noon, July 17th.

Some of the subjects are Molybdenum rates and sources for soybeans, pre-emergent weed control in soybeans, soybean varieties, cocklebur control systems in soybeans and no-till planting of soybeans in wheat stubble. This last subject will be discussed by Dr. Bobby Hatcock, a native of Lauderdale County who teaches a d works in research at U-T Martin.

Bride-Elect Of Phil Critfield Is Entertained

Miss Sherry Ann Shipley, a Chattanooga, fiance of Phillip Critfield, of Nashville, has been the guest along with her mother, Mrs. Irvin Morris Shipley, of Mr. Critfield's mother, Mrs. Harrell Austin, and Mrs. Austin. While here Miss Shipley was honored with a series of parties and pre-nuptial events.

The home of Mrs. Marvin Harford, of Halls, was the setting for a morning coffee. Mrs. Harford's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Jimmy Harwood, and Mrs. Ross Dyer, of Halls, and Mrs. Thomas R. Dyer, of Memphis, co-hostesses, welcomed the thirty guests.

The ladies, in summer frocks of pretty bright and pastel shades, added to the decor of the home. Gift arrangements of gardenias and day lilies sent by Mrs. A. C. Hargett, Mrs. Bill Perry, and Mrs. Mark Critfield were placed in vantage points throughout the Harford home.

The honoree wore a brown and white print, a white jump suit while her mother chose a white pant suit featuring a yellow floral blouse. Mrs. Austin was radiant in a pink and blue pant suit as she introduced her daughter-in-law to be and her mother to friends and relatives.

The dining table, overlaid with a linen cutwork cloth, was centered with an arrangement of pink daisies and baby breath in a silver bowl. Dee Dyer graciously poured coffee from a silver service while Kay Harford served tomato juice.

Guests enjoyed avocado cheese pie, ham and biscuits, open faced tomato and cucumber sandwiches, hot fruit muffins and fresh fruit balls.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Jim Austin and Mrs. Lee Austin.

The Tasteful Summer Diet

Plain cooking is the secret to weight loss and weight maintenance. Minimalist grates and fat-burner sauces from your food, and you undoubtedly will be eliminating fat from your figure too.

Food with a series of tasteless meals, a diet may develop the urge for egg benedict and vegetables crowding in indigestion. For a successful summer diet, learn to prepare low-calorie meals which taste so appealing that the dieter feels delighted rather than deprived.

The fresh herbs to add gourmet flavor without calories. Grow the herbs yourself—in pots on a sunny windowsill, or in a garden. The cultivation of vegetables and herbs is as pretty as a picture. Plant a different herb in each space between the spokes. Harvest yourself to rock gardens too, and will transform a small hillside into a wonderfully fragrant place. Explore the variety of tastes which herbs can impart to the simplest cooking. You'll see how easy it is to banish boredom from a diet.

To take the monotony out of counting calories too, why not do it the easy way—with blender diet food from Carnation. Mixed with 6 ounces of nonfat milk, blender has just 164 calories. Three glasses of this tasty "milk meal"—at breakfast, lunch and mid-afternoon—add up to just 492 calories, leaving you plenty of leeway for one of those tasteful herb-flavored special, season it with lemon juice and fresh crushed rosemary. With this, serve a tomato and lettuce salad sprinkled with chopped chives and a fresh apple. All this good taste adds up to just 648 calories.

To transform broiled chicken into something special, season it with lemon juice and fresh crushed rosemary. With this, serve a tomato and lettuce salad sprinkled with chopped chives and a fresh apple. All this good taste adds up to just 648 calories.

Per hamburgers with a difference, season lean ground beef with fresh oregano and freshly ground pepper. Marinate beef salad by combining cold cooked green beans and beef with sour cream dressing. Serve a fresh pear for dessert, for about 498 calorie total.

SOUP CREAM DRESSING Combine 1 cup sour cream, 1 cup nonfat milk, 1/4 teaspoon dill weed, 1/4 teaspoon onion salt, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 1/4 teaspoon salt and dash yellow in small mixing bowl. Chill. Calories, 111, 1 tablespoon = 24.

FAITH Faith is necessary in all the relationships of life. Business is conducted and credit is extended on the basis of faith. If we lose confidence in our financial institutions, withdraw our money from the banks, and refuse to extend credit, chaos would be the result.

Many Christians today are in the position of the little boy who charged the kids in the neighborhood to come in to his backyard to see the eclipse! This is a "backyard" mentality is to be found with many religious groups today. They speak of the Holy Spirit as if he were a personal possession, limited to followers of one sect or cult.

"He will guide you..." The implication is often very simple: "I've got the Spirit; you do not." So, how do we know if we've "got the Spirit?" First of all, the above question is all wrong. It is not so much a matter of who's got the Spirit, but when does the Spirit have? We do not "get the Spirit," so much as the Spirit "gets" us. We cannot control the Spirit of God, we cannot manipulate the Spirit's presence or performance. This is what Jesus told Nicodemus: "The wind blows where it will, and you hear the sound of it, but you do not know whence it comes, or whither it goes; so it is with everyone who is born of the Spirit" (John 3:8).

I am always rather skeptical of those who sound as if the Spirit were under their control. Secondly, the Spirit is not narrowly confined to the chosen few. The Bible makes it clear that God's Spirit can be found in all men, even when they do not recognize or acknowledge the Spirit's presence. The Spirit is the presence of God at work within us and there is no one on the face of this earth who is without God's Holy Spirit.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

WHO'S GOT THE SPIRIT?

Lessons for July 17, 1975

2 Corinthians 4:7-18
Revelation 19:10-20:3

The Holy Spirit is in the headlines once again. Some Christians speak of the Holy Spirit as if he were a rather recent discovery. For others, it is not only a recent discovery, but a parochial one as well.

Many Christians today are in the position of the little boy who charged the kids in the neighborhood to come in to his backyard to see the eclipse! State Approves Vo-Ed Schools

The State Department of Education Tuesday officially decided to build separate vocational schools in Halls and Ripley.

The Ripley school will be built on the site of the old Ripley High School on Jefferson.

The Halls school will be built at the rear of the elementary school building and connected to the main building by a covered walkway.

Cost of the schools will be borne entirely from state funds with the exception that the county will furnish the sites.

TOURNAMENT WINNERS
Twenty-eight men participated in the Tennis Tournament sponsored by the Halls Community Club. First and second place winners of each category received trophies.

Winners in the under - 25 bracket were Don Conell, first place, and Gary Lynn Jennings, second place. The over-25 bracket winners were Sonny Higdon, first place, and Jubba Warren, second place.

Confidential Corner

By Henry Murchison

Here We Go Again
News articles Wednesday reported inflation is again taking its toll with an increase of eight-tenths of one percent in the cost of living index during June. The high-ered increase this year.

Greatest rises were in the cost of meat, up 6.1 percent and gasoline up three percent. Also showing an increase was the price of used cars.

In contemplating these increases, it is well to remember that these are for the month of June. Both gasoline and meat prices have increased even more during this month, sugar has made an abrupt jump along with increases in other food items.

Efforts are being made to blame the increases on the cost of living on the Fed administration but the truth of the matter is that the administration, the Congress, the oil industry, labor, and the general public should all share their portion of the blame.

Threats of strikes by postal workers, railroad workers, truckers, etc. are just now being abated or they are just now arising.

President Ford has very likely made some serious mistakes in his efforts to curb the use of oil by failing to regulate the damage to the economy by rising gasoline prices. At the same time Congress has no actual mistakes since they have done exactly nothing to help the situation. Oil companies have apparently taken advantage of the situation to increase their prices out of all proportion to the cost of other cost-of-living items.

Telephone service in Tennessee has taken a huge jump, electricity increases regularly, oil rates are climbing daily. There seems to be no simple answer to the problem or may be no answer at all since most of us can readily understand the need for more money for labor, that the oil and telephone companies must make a profit, the administration and the Congress will play politics but an answer must be found if the economy is to rebound and use of energy is to be curtailed.

Estimates for 1975 are that 15,000 acres of cotton were planted in Lauderdale County compared with 15,000 last year. Tennessee as a whole, is down 33 per cent from 1974. Cotton is having its problems. Weevil counts in some fields have reached as many as 70 per cent. Farmers are using high-boys and planes to apply the insecticide, guthion and a toxaphene-methyl parathion. Once started, this spraying must be kept up on 5-7 day intervals all season to combat the different generations and migrating weevils.

Mrs. Fincher
Mrs. Maude Frances Fincher, 85, widow of Joe Fincher, died Monday in Parkview Hospital in Dyersburg.

U.S. SENATOR BILL BROCK WASHINGTON OUTLOOK

Two hundred years ago we fought the Revolutionary War from one side to the other without representation. Our forefathers were willing to die to have a say in how much taxes they paid.

Shower Honors Nina Cherry

Nina Cherry, bride-elect of Thomas Gouley, was honored
Friday evening with a shower at the First Christian Church in Halls. Friends in the church hosted the event.

Special guests were Mrs. Buford Cherry, Sr., mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. James Gou-ley, of Friendship, mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. May Moore, of Jackson, grandmother of the bride-elect, Miss
Susan Cherry, and Miss Dawn
Cherry, sisters of the bride-elect.

The bride-elect was lovely in a blue-green tweed dress complemented by a daisy corsage at her shoulder.

The refreshment table was beautifully decorated with a white lace-edged cloth centered by a floral arrangement of yellow and white daisies and silver punch bowl and appointments were placed at one end of the table. Silver compotes holding assorted mints and nuts along with a silver tray which held individual cakes topped with white icing and yellow and green buds were placed at the other end.

Upon arriving, the guests were registered by Gladys Ve-den then graciously served by Jo Ann Burks and Dawn Cherry.

After the guests were served refreshments, Miss Cherry opened her lovely assortment of gifts and passed them around for her friends to see.

HOW IS FAITH ACQUIRED?

Many contend that faith comes as a result of a miraculous operation upon the human heart. If this were so, all men would believe because "God is no respecter of persons" (Acts 10:34). Thus, faith cannot be ascribed to a falling agency from the heavens. Faith comes to rational people through rational means.

The divine record was given to produce faith. "These are written that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ." (Jno. 20:31) John was speaking of miracles or signs. Why were they written "... that ye may believe."

In the prayer of Jesus (Jno. 17), He taught that we believe on Him through the words of the apostles. "Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word." How was the church established? And, how were people made believers? It was through their word.

Paul wrote that faith or belief comes through the word of Christ. So faith comes by hearing and hearing by the word." (Rom. 10:17).

Peter states that faith is dependent upon hearing: Men and brethren, ye know how that a good while ago God made choice among us, that the Gentiles by my mouth should hear the word of the gospel and believe." (Acts 15:7). Before a person could possibly believe, he must either hear or read the Scriptures. Luke commends the Bereans: "These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so. Therefore many of them believed." (Acts 17:11-12). In the conversion of the Corinthians, hearing the word was the faith-producing agent: And many of the Corinthians hearing believed, and were baptized." (Acts 18:8).

Angels know that the word of God produces faith. In speaking of the conversion of Cornelius, Peter declared, "He told us how he had seen the angel standing in his house, and saying, Send to Joppa, and fetch Simon, whose surname is Peter; who shall speak unto thee words, whereby thou shalt be saved, thou and all thy house." (Acts 11:13,14). The words would enable him to believe and thus be saved.

The devil knows that God's word is the basis of faith, and for that reason, he labors to steal it from the heart: "Then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved." (Lk. 8:12).
