NO HIDING PLACE

Lesson for May 4, 1975

Background Scripture: Psalm 139, Devotional Reading: John 14:15-21.

A friend of mine told me recently that there are times when his work piles up and the pressures seem unbearable and he day-dreams about "running-away from it all" to some far-away place where he can find peace and quiet.

"Do you think it seriously?" I asked.

"Not really," he replied, "for I know there's really no hiding-place from God."

God knows me. This is actually what the prophet Jonah learned the hard way: a man cannot hide from God. No matter where he did, no matter where he went, he could not seem to find a hiding place secure from God.

This too was the experience of the Psalmist:

"O Lord, thou hast searched me and knowest me! Thou knowest when I sit down and when I rise up; thou discernest my thoughts from afar." (139:1-2)

In a novel I read some time ago, one of the characters successfully hides a disgraceful act for many years. At last, however, he realizes that he cannot keep this knowledge inside himself any longer and, staring at himself in the mirror, he cries: "You thought you could get away with it, but by God, you couldn't!"

This is what the Psalmist found too:

"Even before a word is on my tongue, O Lord, thou knowest it altogether." (139:4)

There are no secrets in God's sight.

Where can I hide?

Jonah, faced with a task from God that he didn't want to perform, decided to "skip town." He went as far from Israel as he could. Apparently, he thought that God was limited to his own country. His God was too small, too limited. In reality, he found, God is universal. He is everywhere and there is no place where he cannot find us.

"Where shall I go from thy Spirit? Or where shall I flee from thy presence?" (139:7)

Is there nowhere he can hide from God?

Nowhere, the Psalmist discovered:

"If I ascend to heaven, thou art there! If I make my bed in Sheol, thou art there!" (139:8)

It is foolish to try to hide from God for there is no hiding place he cannot find. We may try to bury ourselves in work, we may busy ourselves in fun and good times, we may even temporarily blot him out of our minds, but we cannot ever hide from him that he doesn't find us.

At last, realizing that it is fruitless to flee from God, the Psalmist submits to God's scrutiny: "Search me, O God, and know my heart! Try me and know my thoughts!" (139:23)

Finally, he acknowledges: from God there is no hiding place!

From Washington

REPORT TO TENNESSEE

President Ford last week joined with me in calling for a four-year extension of the Appalachian Regional Commission, an agency which operates programs in 50 Tennessee counties.

I commend the President for his support of this program which is designed to help alleviate depressed conditions that have existed in the Appalachian mountains of Tennessee and 12 other states for so many years.

During the 10 years the Appalachian program has been in existence much has been done to improve living conditions for thousands of Appalachian people, who because of the natural barrier of the mountains were isolated from the rest of the nation physically, economically and socially.

For example, 1,345 miles—or almost half—of the Appalachian Highway System is completed or under construction. In Tennessee, 128 miles of an authorized 330 miles has been completed.

Construction is almost completed on a region-wide system of vocational-technical schools. The system currently serves 39 percent of Appalachia's eligible high school juniors and seniors with a goal of serving 50 percent of this group.

The Commission has funded

Howard H. Baker, Jr., United States Senator

443 sewer and water projects; 14 libraries; and 69 mine reclamation and subsidence projects.

Appalachian dollars have been invested in health facilities, equipment, operations, service projects and comprehensive health planning agencies. In addition, the ARC housing program has stimulated construction of low- and moderate-income housing units.

Appalachian funds also have been spent to build access roads to sites for industrial complexes, hospitals and schools; to rid the countryside of junk cars; to provide technical and planning assistance on the State and local levels; and to research and recommend actions on such critical regional issues as surface mining regulations and reclamation.

Multicounty health programs are underway in 12 States, developing and delivering a wide spectrum of health care services. As an example, one such seven-county demonstration project serves over 213,000 people, or the entire population of this predominantly rural area.

Tennessee has taken advantage of its Appalachian experience. In 1974, it passed a Comprehensive Child Development Act, establishing a State child development office with responsibility for a Statewide program based upon the concept and organization of the Appalachian Tennessee Child Development Program. On a region-wide basis, the ARC has over 200 active child development projects serving more than 100,000 children and their families.

Considering the past success of the Appalachian program, and the region's new relationship to the Nation, I know that to abandon this program now would be to leave a very necessary task unfinished. It is critical that we now examine not only what the program has so far accomplished, but also the new challenges Appalachia faces in a changing world and a time of changing goals.

Confidential Corner

Somebody's Crazy

Some one in the Congress has advanced the idea of placing additional taxes on gasoline and using the resulting income to help the railroads.

We wonder if they have been reading statistics concerning the drop in gasoline taxes collected since the energy crisis began and gasoline prices began to climb.

There is no reason to think that higher gasoline prices won't continue to mean a similar drop in the amount of gasoline used and thus smaller tax collections.

Also it occurs to us that the simplest method to aid the ailing railroads is to drop some of the federal controls, permitting the rails to have a chance to solve their own problems.

We need the railroads but further subsidies, especially with a gasoline tax, seems a little too much!

New Schools

We would think that very few citizens of Lauderdale County would argue that new school buildings are not needed in Ripley and Halls and other schools need extensive repair work but the price tag of $7,000,000 suggested last week and accepted as a goal by a joint citizen-magistrate committee on public school improvement is a tremendous sum at the present time.

No plan for financing the building program has as yet been advanced but a plan is being worked out for presentation to the county court and citizen groups.

We are not trying to raise nor encourage opposition to the building program but are simply trying to keep from asking the people to undertake a burden which they cannot handle at this time.

Build the schools if we can but let's be certain that what we get is worth the money!

Showing Again

Several weeks ago in March Nell and your editor had open house to show our depression glass and other collectibles to anyone who might be interested.

Unfortunately, the weather was extremely bad so that many who would like to have come but were unable to do so.

We plan to show the glass again this weekend and hope that the weather will be improved. Everyone will be welcome from 4 to 8 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday.

Spring Brings Look At Lawn

By Charles T. Peal

Brenda Campbell, of Ripley, planning to sow the lawn of her new home, was told the needed to apply 100 pounds of limestone and 15 pounds of 15-15-15 fertilizer per 1,000 square feet of seeding.

For maintenance, she will top dress annually, Oct. 1st, with 15 lbs. of 6-12-12 per 1,000 square feet, and March 1st, April 15, and July 1st, with 3 pounds of ammonium nitrate per 1,000 square feet.

Homeowners may fertilize trees by applying one pound of 15-15-15 per foot of diameter of the tree at the base. This fertilizer can be applied by simply scattering on the soil around the tree out to the drip-line.

Wild garlic can be killed in lawns by using 2,4-D (4 pounds acid equivalent) and applying this material when the temperature is 60 degrees or above, with at least three hours of sunshine following the spraying.

To do a good job, put a small amount of water in the sprayer, add one teaspoon of soap (liquid or powder) per gallon of water to be sprayed, stir this mixture, and add 2,4-D at the rate of 2 1/2 tablespoons per gallon of water. Add the remaining water and wait at least three days before mowing the yard.

Watch Dogwood Diseases

Spot anthracnose and septoria leaf spot are two of the more common diseases of the flowering dogwood, and they can be controlled.

Spot anthracnose attacks the flowers, leaves, and young shoots early in the spring. Small circular or elongated reddish-purple spots appear on the petals. Spots on the leaves are usually circular and dark purple. Heavily infected leaves are reduced in size and often killed.

Leaf spot usually does not appear to any extent until July. This disease causes small purplish angular leaf spots, the center of which become grayish later in the season.

To be effective, a spray program using Captan or Manzate should begin just as the flower buds are opening and continue through the summer.

Farm Youth Honored

Dwight McDaniel and Paul Parker are to be commended on the quality of their agricultural program at Halls High School.

Recognition of some of the outstanding boys and their work was highlighted at Future Farmer father and son banquet. Stan Throgmorton was recognized as the star farmer for 1974.

Money Saving Ideas

Do's and Don'ts Of Driving

No inflation weary citizen is more conscious of how difficult it is to stretch a dollar than the American motorist. In addition to skyrocketing prices for food, shelter and the other necessities of life, those who are dependent on a car have seen transportation expenses also increase dramatically in the past year.

There are simple things you can do, however, that could cut auto operating costs by 10 per cent or more and make your car and its tires last longer.

• Hold engine warm-up time to the minimum. Long warm-ups drain gas.

• Avoid "jack rabbit starts." Start up smoothly and get away steadily.

• Time your traffic lights. Don't race up to a light or stop sign and jam on the brakes. Face yourself.

• Be sure your automatic transmission is shifting properly. Use a light touch on the gas pedal to shift the transmission into high as soon as possible (approx. 28-30 mph).

• Buy the right grade of gasoline for your car's engine. More expensive gasoline will cost you money without increasing mileage.

• Avoid unnecessary idling. Turn the engine off when you're waiting for someone or stop for an extended traffic delay.

• Plan shopping trips to visit the most stores with the least amount of driving. try to use shopping centers where all your needs can be handled with one stop.

• Plan your driving to miss rush hour traffic, if possible, to avoid stop and start driving.

• Maintain correct front wheel alignment, a "must" for maximum gas mileage and long tire life.

• Keep your engine in good tune. Optimum combustion efficiency means maximum gas mileage.

The Melting Pot
Recipes from the Best Foods Kitchens

Sauerbraten—A German Contribution
In the three centuries since the first German immigrants arrived in America, several other waves have followed: Germans settled first in Pennsylvania, then in North Carolina, Virginia, Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Kansas and Texas. They brought with them their culture and cuisine. High on the list of their favorite dishes is the sweet-sour pot roast known as Sauerbraten. In the version here, the gravy is thickened with Argo corn starch, a readily available ingredient which replaces potato flour or cookie crumbs.

Sauerbraten
1 cup red wine vinegar 12 peppercorns
2 cups water 4 bay leaves
½ cup dark corn syrup 1 teaspoon salt
2 cups chopped celery 5 pounds beef rump roast
1 cup chopped carrot 2 cups beef stock or bouillon
1 medium onion, sliced Sauerbraten Gravy (below)

Bring to boil vinegar, water, corn syrup, celery, carrot, onion, peppercorns, bay leaves and salt; cool. Place meat in large deep crock, or enamel or stainless steel pot. Add marinade; cover. Marinate in refrigerator 5 to 7 days, turning occasionally. Remove meat; reserve marinade. Dry meat thoroughly. Beginning with fatty side, brown meat slowly. Drain off excess fat. Add 1 cup of the beef stock and the marinade. Cover tightly. Cook over low heat 2 hours or until tender, adding remaining beef stock as needed. Remove meat to hot platter. Prepare gravy. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Sauerbraten Gravy
Sauté onion in butter until golden. Add 1½ cup dark corn syrup, 1 teaspoon salt, 1½ cup water and ½ teaspoon ground cloves. Stir together 6 tablespoons Argo corn starch and 6 tablespoons water. Stir into stock mixture. Stirring constantly, bring to full boil and cook 1 minute. Measure about 5 cups gravy.

BIBLICAL MIRACLES

The natural and the supernatural are both from God, but some people do not distinguish between these two. However, if one knows the difference between a h/w Adam's wife arrived in the world, and how his own wife arrived, he knows the difference between the miraculous and the non-miraculous. The person who can distinguish between growing grapes and making wine, and immediately turning water into wine, can know the difference between the natural, which is not a sign, and the supernatural, which is a sign. (John 2:11).

Miracles were involved in the revelation and the confirmation of the word of God, the seed of the kingdom. (Heb. 2:34; Lu. 8:11; 1 Cor. 2:10-14). But the new birth is not a miracle because it is brought about by the Spirit through the word of God, the seed of the kingdom. Spiritual laws, not supernatural manifestations, operate in and bring about the new birth. When God so wills, He worked a miracle whether the person on whom it was worked wanted it done or not. Saul of Tarsus had not asked for the supernatural appearance of Christ. (Acts 9:1-6). Elymas did not want to be struck blind. (Acts 13:7-12). However, the new birth—even in the case of Saul—could not take place against the will of the individual. One must believe and be willing to submit to God's word in order to undergo the new birth.

It should be stressed that the miracles were signs to confirm the word of the miracle worker. It showed that his message was from God. Jesus promised the sign of the prophet Jonah." (Matt. 16:4). God approved Jesus by miracles. (Acts 2:22). Mark briefly stated the purpose of the miracles as that of "confirming the word with signs following." (Mk. 16:20). We are also told that the Lord "gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands." (Acts 14:3).

Miracles were not intended to last forever. Since miracles (signs) which are written produce faith (Rom. 20:30-31), and since the inspired Scriptures completely furnish us into all good works (2 Tim. 3:16-17), it follows that miracles are not needed today. (cf. 1 Cor. 13:8-10; Eph. 4:10-16).

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

By LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

RECOGNIZING "HOLY PEOPLE"

Lesson for May 11, 1975

Background Scripture: Leviticus 19, Devotional Reading: Psalms 26: 1-4.

Several months ago I led a tour to the Holy Lands of the Middle East. On the itinerary were visits to Greece, Egypt, Lebanon, and Israel. Although the purpose of our pilgrimage was to focus on Christianity, we also had an opportunity to observe the ruins of other ancient religions: those of the Egyptians, the Greeks, the Romans, the Canaanites, and the Phoenicians. Particularly impressive were the pyramids in Egypt, the Parthenon in Athens, and the colossal Roman ruins at Baalbek in Lebanon. Even if Herod's temple in Jerusalem had survived today, Judaism would still have no architectural monument to even compare to competing with these. The Jews were not builders of monuments.

"You shall be holy"

Yes, it seemed to me, that great and amazing as these monuments are even today, Judaism—and ultimately Christianity—have something else that greatly overshadows the greatest of all religious monuments: a moral imperative. By contrast, the ancient religions of the Greeks, Egyptians, Romans, Canaanites and Phoenicians were primarily religions of ritual. Their focus was the use of ritual and sacrifice to influence capricious gods. Winning the favor of the gods was primarily a matter of what one did in the temple. Religion had very little to do with affecting the moral state of society.

By contrast, Judaism was very much concerned with the morals by which people lived their daily lives. Although for many years Jewish worship was centered in the Temple at Jerusalem, the prophets and others emphasized the primacy of the moral law. Right living, they said, was much more important than right worship.

The Hebrews have been unusually beautiful in Halls this spring, and a drive around town is well worth the time spent.

As I have been thinking on dozens of laws, almost most of them are a part of their peak. Dogwoods were unbelievably gorgeous, as were other blooming trees, and jonquils.

Now iris are coming into full bloom, roses are beginning to bloom, and mock orange is filling the air with its fragrance. Some day lilies, with their rainbow of colors, and their blooming, as will nasturtium and other late spring and early summer flowers.

On the other hand, there is a fly in the ointment. There is a must be moved each week and weeds have to be controlled. Oh well, we suppose the aroma of wild onions mixed with gasoline fumes is a part of spring and summer too!

The Hebrews have been unusually beautiful in Halls this spring, and a drive around town is well worth the time spent.

As I have been thinking on dozens of laws, almost most of them are a part of their peak. Dogwoods were unbelievably gorgeous, as were other blooming trees, and jonquils.

Now iris are coming into full bloom, roses are beginning to bloom, and mock orange is filling the air with its fragrance. Some day lilies, with their rainbow of colors, and their blooming, as will nasturtium and other late spring and early summer flowers.

On the other hand, there is a fly in the ointment. There is a must be moved each week and weeds have to be controlled. Oh well, we suppose the aroma of wild onions mixed with gasoline fumes is a part of spring and summer too!

New School For Halls Is Urged

A citizen-magistrate committee is recommending to the Board of Education and the County Court a three-stage, five-year school building program.

School Supt. Jack Taylor estimates it will require a jump of 30c in county real estate taxes, now $2 per $100 assessed valuation, to find the money for the program.

This would be on top of any other tax increases necessary to keep abreast of inflation or to expand county programs when the rate for 1975 is set in July.

The committee voted 7-2 to propose a program in stages in view of the financial problems which appear to make any one-shot improvement program impractical.

Taylor said the committee was convinced that Halls schools should have first priority.

First stage of the program would be construction of a kindergarten through sixth grade school in Halls.

In 1977, a similar school would be constructed in Ripley. Two years later, seven existing schools would be given a complete remodeling to bring them up to modern standards.

The cost of these improvements at today's prices is estimated at about $8,000,000, but some old equipment and interest on bond proceeds before they would be needed are supposed to reduce the total to about $7,000,000, provided no further inflation occurs.

Each payday part of your pay will be automatically set aside for U.S. Savings Bonds. And that can mean big money for you in the years to come. For a new home, for education, or for retirement. SPEAKING IN TONGUES

There is a great deal of confusion in the religious world concerning this subject. Just because there is confusion on this or any other Bible subject does not mean that we cannot understand tongue speaking.
Tongue speaking is often called glossolalia. Glossolalia comes from the Greek word GLOSSA, which is translated tongue in the New Testament.
Tongues are not ecstatic utterances, but languages spoken by men. (1 Cor. 12:30; Acts 2:4,8,11).
Tongues were not a sign for believers but rather for unbelievers.
(1 Cor. 14:22). Further, tongues were not designed for all Christians. (1 Cor. 12:4-11,30). Yet, we are told by many religionists that everyone should be baptized in the Spirit and speak in tongues. Also, we should realize that tongues were not given to people as a public sign to convince unbelievers.

WHERE THE BUCK STOPS

Lesson for May 18, 1975

It is said that the late President Harry S. Truman had a plaque on his desk that proclaimed: "THE BUCK STOPS HERE!" To him it was a daily reminder that ultimately all responsibility for the conduct of the affairs of the United States government resided with him. There was no other person to whom he could rightly pass off that responsibility.

As Adam blamed Eve and Eve blamed the serpent, so God's children are grieved in the ancient art of "passing the buck." In the days of Ezekiel the prophet, there was a popular proverb fondly quoted by the buck-passers in the days of Israel's Babylonian captivity: "The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge." The Jews in exile blamed all their misfortunes on the evil deeds of their fathers in Israel.

To a certain degree, there was justice in this allegation; the prophets themselves had proclaimed that the Babylonian captivity was caused by the unrepentant rebelliousness of Israel. But the Jews in exile continued to blame everything on their forefathers who had become convenient scapegoats. Collectively they may blame their misfortunes on previous generations. Individually, they will seek to transfer their personal responsibility to their parents, their environment, the ethnic or religious background, their economic class, their educational opportunities, or just plain "bad breaks." "Something or someone else is responsible for our problems!"

"A new heart and a new spirit!" As Ezekiel indicated, however, that is never an adequate defense: "As I live, says the Lord God, this proverb shall no more be used by you in Israel. Behold all souls are mine; the soul of the father as well as the soul of the son is mine; the soul that sins shall die" (Ezekiel 18:24).

Solution Needed

It seems too bad that the County Court for the present killed attempts to build new schools without giving the people a chance to express their feelings about the need and the cost. We have doubted that the Court would approve the $7,000,000 expenditure but had thought it probably would set up a referendum, even though it is not required.

At the same time, we have gotten the impression that the citizens of Lauderdale County are not in the mood for additional taxes at this time, so we have doubts that the school issue would have been approved by a county-wide vote.

There can be no doubt that the need is there for schools in Halls and Ripley and every school building in the county badly needs additional maintenance. There has not been, so far as we know, any threat to cut off state funds at this time, but there is always that possibility. Gibson County schools systems are right now facing a situation in which all state funds are cut off until they reach a solution for their need for school buildings.

Since the great majority of school funds are derived through state sources, this can and will be a major factor in the solution of the building program. The County Court and the school board should continue to work toward some solution.

Dragging Their Feet

The State Legislature is near adjournment and still has to pass Governor Ray Blanton's 1975-76 budget or set up one of its own. As the past, it seems destined to pass many last minute laws without due consideration, with the all-important budget being crammed through near the closing hours.

Suggestions for an additional sales tax, and other tax increases have met a cool response among legislators, but there also has seemed to have been little thought as to just where state expenditures will be cut additional revenue is not forthcoming. We hear a great deal about no raises for teachers and other state employees, and still has to pass Governor Ray Blanton's 1975-76 budget or set up one of its own.

18-H Vote Delays School Program

County Court adopted Monday a $10 fee for county building permits but declined, 18-8, to add additional taxation to fund a school building program.

Discussion before the vote on the school program indicated the rejection was of the program's details, not the basic proposal, and in effect was a further postponement of action on the problem.

When magistrates appeared for Monday's session, they were given a single sheet of paper outlining the $7,000,000, at minimum, program, in three phases to build new kindergarten through sixth grade schools in Halls and then in Ripley, and thoroughly remodel seven other schools two years after the program's beginning.

SPEAKING IN TONGUES, RAISING THE DEAD, HEALING THE SICK (No. 2)

From a study of the Bible, it is evident that those who were to perform miraculous works of the Spirit were promised not also be some who could prophesy, or speak by divine revelation, "as the Spirit gave them utterance"

In the New Testament period, "speaking in tongues" was done by supernatural power which was done by the Holy Spirit. Such miraculous power enabled the apostles and other Christians to perform such miracles as raising the dead, healing the sick, and speaking in languages never known by the speaker by direct revelation of the Holy Spirit. For one to affirm that "speaking in tongues" may be done today will also necessitate the affirmation of performance of other miraculous work of the Holy Spirit

The absence of any one of the miraculous works of the Spirit, performed today, is proof of the absence of all

Schools Delayed

The first item on the agenda was to be in error, and magistrates complained they had not been given information prior to the court session

Clifford Sweat asked School Supt. Jack Taylor why copies of the architect's recommendations had not been prepared in enough copies for each magistrate to have one

Taylor said the new machine was a book-keeping machine and not a copier

He said the architect did not send enough copies of his report to give every magistrate one

He said Bob Evans, representative of the architect hired to survey the schools - Hart, Freeland, and Roberts - had called a few minutes before court opened to say he couldn't be present

William Tucker IV said he had obtained a copy of the architect's evaluation of the night before the court session "only by going through four people"

Magistrate Gus Hargett presented the rest of the findings of the architect and a study committee - that remodeling costs were so close to the cost of construction as to leave them little choice

He said new legislation requires public buildings to be equipped with ramps for wheelchairs and elevators if of multiple stories, to accommodate the handicapped, and that this increased costs sharply

The architect estimated remodeling costs as follows:

Arp $457,850, Central $244,632, Curve $289,202, Gates $178,227, Halls Elementary $725,273, Halls Junior High $335,358, Henning Primary $480,025, Henning Elementary $411,540, Sankipoo $136,072, Ripley Kindergarten $234,265, Ripley Elementary $484,774, Ripley Middle Grade $328,083, Ripley Junior High $146,299

Hargett pointed out that estimated cost of remodeling the Halls Junior High School, for example, to meet current standards was $27.30 per square foot, compared to $25 to $28 for entirely new construction

He said the committee had decided new schools in Ripley and Halls, with consolidation of two Henning schools and elimination of some smaller schools, offered the cheapest solution

He said the new Halls school could be built without issuing bonds, on the following financial plan:

Using $350,000 surplus sales taxes already accumulated

Anticipating $145,000 from future sales taxes, at the present rate, not obligated for bond repayments

Obtaining another $70,000 in sales tax revenues by increasing the rate 1/2% to the maximum. This would require an enabling act of the legislature and then approval by the people in a referendum

Collecting $100,000 by doubling the county wheel tax from $10 to $20. Uncertainty existed as to whether this would also require a referendum

Taking $200,000 from federal revenues-sharing funds

Increasing the county real estate tax rate 50%

Taylor, who last July sought a 28% tax rate increase for the school system's operating budget, not including any new construction, said the system is already "out of money" for this fiscal year and would need an 18% to 20% increase in taxes next year exclusive of the new building proposition

Judge Jerry Corlew said there would also be "other increases" in the new budget

Sweat indicated that he might buy the proposal but said he wanted to make it plain he would vote against the wheel tax proposal

But as the proposal neared a vote, controversy erupted over selection of the architect for the new building program

Magistrate Eugene Anthony asked that the motion make it very clear that Hart, Freeland, and Roberts were not going to be "handed the contract on a silver platter, that other architects should be considered"

Board of Education member Parrell Wells said from the floor that architect selection was, by law, left to the board

Board chairman William Spence, of Halls, said the board would be willing to have the same court committee which had sat in on selection of Hart, Freeland, and Roberts for the preliminary study to sit in again when the board chose an architect, but this did not satisfy the objectors. Both Sweat and Lawrence Chipman immediately announced they would vote against the proposal presented on those terms

The school budget was amended to transfer funds to permit repair of the roof of the agriculture building in Halls, where valuable equipment is endangered by leaks

Solaris elected were Mrs. Mary Nell Stanley and J. Thomas Caldwell

Albert Sellers, 62, Halls farmer, died at 2:45 a.m. last Friday in Parkview Hospital in Dyersburg

Services were at 10 a.m. Monday in Ripley Funeral Home, with burial in Dry Hill Cemetery

EDIFICE COMPLEX

Lesson for May 25, 1975

Background Scriptures: Isaiah 31:1-2; Jeremiah 7:1-15; Matthew 23:1-8; Deuteronomy 32:1-43

The ancient Egyptians had it. The Greeks of old had it. The Romans and Jews had it.

...not to mention many Christians! What?

The Edifice Complex! Deceptive Words

This complex is seductively dangerous to religions, for it manages to divert our attention from the core of the religion.

With the Jews, of course, the edifice complex was centered on the temple at Jerusalem. To use the term "complex" does not mean that there was anything visible, tangible or essential to something very visible and very tangible: a building, a religious edifice.

With the Jews, of course, the edifice complex was centered on the temple at Jerusalem. To use the term "complex" does not mean that there was anything visible, tangible or essential to something very visible and very tangible: a building, a religious edifice.

But what was wrong is what always goes wrong when the "edifice complex" infiltrates a religion: the importance of the edifice is distorted way out of proportion. That point is reached when unwittingly the edifice becomes a substitute for God himself, when people look to the building instead of to "him" really, the building is supposed to represent.

Whenever the people of Israel were threatened, says the prophet Jeremiah, they tended to look to the magnificent temple of Solomon at their seats. "This is the temple of the Lord, the temple of the Lord, the temple of the Lord" (Jeremiah 7:4). Nothing could be more deceptive than these words that reek of the "edifice complex." They are indicative of a false sense of security.

The Shiloh example The prophet invited the smug people of Israel to remember the example God set for them at Shiloh, the first centralized site of Jewish sacrificial worship. This sanctuary in the Samaritan mountains was destroyed by God because the people who worshipped there were utterly immoral. No sanctuary is safe or secure simply because it is a place of worship.

So it could happen even to the beautiful temple of Solomon in Jerusalem. What suggested God was the moral behavior of the people who worshipped in that temple. These people did not see any connection between their worship of God and their moral behavior. They had eyes only for the edifice, not that which lay behind it.

Jeremiah was not the only one to understand this: it was a constant theme of many of the prophets of Israel. The Prophet Micah, for example, put it this way: "With what shall I come before the Lord... Shall I come before him with burnt offerings?" (Micah 6:6). And his plain answer was that none of these rituals within the edifice itself were what God really wanted:

"He has showed you, O man, what is good; and what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with your God?"

Although it is our general attitude to criticize many of the actions of the federal government, we can only commend President Gerald Ford and the administration for its quick action in recovering the maritime ship, Mayaguez, and its crew.

Despite the criticism by leading Democrats, Edward Kennedy, Hubert H. Humphrey and George McGovern, this was the time and the place to convince other nations that the United States is not weak, nor is it willing to be pushed around by small or large nations.

It seems too bad that the incident had to occur in the first place, but certainly President Ford moved from confidence and strength.

Still Around The Tennessee State Legislature is still in session, with little accomplished toward passing a budget and determining which, if any, new taxes will be passed.

The teacher raise is on again, off again, with other raises of state employees also in doubt.

It seems to us that both the legislature and Gov. Ray Blanton need to quit playing politics and get down to the business of determining just what Tennessee will spend during the next two years and just what services will be expanded and which will be curtailed.

Not in many years have the finances of the state been in such a bind. Thank goodness for the state laws forbidding deficit spending.

SPEAKING IN TONGUES (No. 3)

In 12:7-10, Paul definitely declared that these miraculous ministrations of the Spirit included the word of knowledge, gifts of healing, working of miracles, prophecy, discerning of spirits, speaking in tongues, and interpretation of tongues. If tongues continue today, then miracles definitely have not ceased and these other miraculous ministrations of the Spirit must be in evidence just as much so as speaking in tongues. Also, the apostles were in the early church as a gift and not by the will of man. (cf. 1 Cor. 12:28-29; Eph. 4:8,11). The point of emphasis is that if any of these spiritual gifts mentioned in the Testament, including the apostles is for us today, then all of these gifts are for us today! Many times when a modern tongue speaker is called upon to demonstrate his power in raising the dead, handling deadly snakes, or healing a person of an incurable disease, he claims that he is being tempted like Satan tempted in Jesus. (Matt. 4). But this is not the case. The devil tempted Jesus to do wrong, whereas, we only ask the so called miracle worker of today to demonstrate beyond any doubt what he believes to be right and what he believes should be practiced today!

An interesting event is recorded by Robert Taylor, Jr., in Word of Truth, June 30, 1972 in an article entitled, "Water Proof But Not Bullet Proof." A.W.L. Jenkins in Mississippi claimed that God had spoken to him, and he said he was going to walk on the water of the Barnett reservoir in May, 1972. He cancelled the walk after he said someone shot him in the leg. This man was neither water proof nor bullet proof!

Paul mentions three miraculous gifts in 1 Cor. 13:8-10 in comparison to three non-miraculous gifts in 1 Cor. 13:1-7. This apostle stated that the miraculous gifts of "prophecy," "tongues," and "knowledge" would "fall," "cease," and "vanish away." In contrast, he said that "faith, hope, and love" would remain. (v.13).

DOG CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN

The Lauderdale County Health Department in cooperation with the city police will conduct a (2) day campaign to clean out stray dogs and unwanted dogs on June 4-5th, 1975

Also, a check will be made to find out how many dogs have been vaccinated and registered.

During these two dogs all dog owners are asked to either keep dogs up, or have current rabies attached to their collars. This will help the rabies officer and city officials in the dog pick-up. Dogs running at large without current tags will be picked up and brought to the dog pound at Ripley.

We ask the cooperation of all citizens in Halls in this campaign.

MAYOR OF HALLS

A WALK THROUGH THE BIBLE

Many years ago I entered the temple of God's revelation. I entered the bright morning star which walked down through the Old Testament art gallery where the pictures of Noah, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, Moses and Daniel hung on the wall. I passed into the music room of Psalms and where the Spirit swept the keyboard of nature and brought forth the dirge-like of the weeping Jeremiah to the grand, impassioned strain of Isaiah, until it seemed that every reed and pipe in God's great organ of nature responded to the tuneful touch of David, the sweet singer of Israel. I entered the chapel of Ecclesiastes, where the voice of the preacher was heard, and into the consistory of Sharon, and the Lily of the Valley's sweet-scented spices filled and perfumed my life. I entered the business office of the Prophets, then into the observatory-room of the Prophets where I saw telescopes of various sizes, some pointing to far-off events, but all concentrated upon the bright morning star which was to rise above the moonlit hills of Judea for our salvation. I entered the audiencium-room of the King of Kings, and caught a vision of the King sitting upon His throne in all His glory, and I cried: "All hail the power of Jesus' name, Let angels prostrate fall; Bring forth the royal diadem And crown Him Lord of All." —Selected.

I am an American.
Do not fold, spindle, or mutilate.

Millions of them show their pride by buying U.S. Savings Bonds.

Through regular purchases when they work or bank, they've helped preserve our freedoms by investing in their country.

At the same time, they've been storing up quite a nest egg for themselves.

U.S. Savings Bonds pay a guaranteed return. And your investment is backed by the full faith and credit of the United States of America.

Also, the interest on Series E Savings Bonds isn't subject to state or local income taxes.

You can defer federal taxes on E Bond interest until you redeem the Bond.

If your Bonds are lost, or stolen, or destroyed, we simply replace them without cost.

They're safe.
They're easy.
They're automatic.

And they're also a reminder. A reminder that we all have to work hard to keep what we have.

Investing in your country will do just that.

Think about U.S. Savings Bonds. It's a way to keep our country from getting folded, spindled, or mutilated.

If they're lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them.

FUEL COST INCREASE CONTINUES

TVA has announced that the continuing rise in power system fuel expense will add 85 cents per 1,000 kilowatt-hours on home electric bills in June.

On a typical home electric bill this will represent an increase of about 4 percent over the comparable bill in May, and a total of about 25 percent added by increases in fuel and related costs over the past year.

Monthly billing charges are computed to reflect changes in the actual costs of fuel and power purchases for the TVA system, with the June charge based on costs experienced in April.

The average cost of coal burned in TVA power plants in April was nearly $17 a ton, an increase of $1 a ton over the previous month as this overall coal cost continues to show the expected impact from last year's big jump in coal prices.

NOTE--Electric bills are not increasing by 22 to 28 percent in June, as an Associated Press story on Friday seemed to indicate. Instead, the effect of higher fuel costs will be to add about 4 percent to the May levels of figures carried in the AP story were for the total amount that higher fuel and purchased power costs have added to home electric bills in the past year.
