PRIDE AND PREJUDICE

Lesson for November 9, 1975

Background Scripture: Genesis 28:10-22; 32:1-33:4. Devotional Reading: Galatians 1:10-17.

Dreams were very important in the life of Israel and his family.

Two dreams had changed Israel's life: the mysterious dream of a heavenly ladder as he fled the wrath of his brother, Esau, and the strange nocturnal wrestling with a heavenly messenger from God himself. Because of his dreams, crafty Jacob had become Israel, God's chosen heir to the covenant.

"I had a dream..."

Joseph, his second youngest son, also was a dreamer. The only difference was that Joseph's dreams got him into serious trouble and almost cost him his life.

Of course there was a troubled household. Israel had two wives, Rachel and Leah, and two concubines. That alone was reason for jealousy and tension. Furthermore, Israel had children by the two wives and the two concubines and the competition between the four women was reflected in the twelve children. Such a household was bound to arouse suspicion of favoritism and in Israel's house it was more than just a "suspicion."

Rachel, to begin with, was his favorite wife and Joseph, his son by Rachel, was his favorite son. What's more, the favoritism showed, particularly in Israel's gift to Joseph of a beautiful multi-colored coat.

So Joseph was his father's favorite and there is the suggestion that perhaps he was a bit of a "spoiled brat"! The problem was not just with his dreams, but with the way he related to his brothers. What he said and did was almost guaranteed to provoke their jealous resentment.

One did not have to be a mental giant to interpret his dreams: both of them rather clearly indicated that Joseph saw himself as greatly superior to his brothers. The brothers understandably interpreted the dreams to indicate that Joseph thought that he was in a class apart.

"Here comes this dreamer..."

Actually, however, the dreams were precognitive in nature; they foretold something that was to come to pass in the future. They represented not just Joseph's inflated self-image, but a situation that was actually to occur in the years ahead: his brothers would eventually bow to him many years later!

But to the brothers the dreams spoke, not of the future, but of the present and they bitterly determined to do away with this "spoiled brat"! Thus, we see the natural consequence that often follows from the presence of pride and prejudice side by side: violence!

Still, there was more at work than just pride and prejudice—there was also God's providence. For as the seething brothers plotted to kill him, Reuben, the oldest of the brothers, was moved by God to intervene so that Joseph's life could be saved. The brothers intended Joseph's death, but God intended for him to survive and live to do important things for him.

Even in the jealousy-ridden, hate-infested home of Israel, there was an opportunity for the grace of God to thwart the evil of man and bring good out of a bad situation. God salvaged victory out of the seeming defeat of Joseph at Dothan. From that defeat there came an ultimate victory for God and his will.

So, despite pride and prejudice in Israel's household, God's providence prevailed.

Why Not Fewer Taxes?

Tennessee's Gov. Ray Blanton, various organizations representing county and city officials and other groups are advocating a state sales tax increase of 1c, an unlimited state constitutional convention with the object of enacting a state income tax with all group seeking some means of increasing state taxes.

It seems to us that the people of Tennessee have reached a point where they are ready to call a halt to additional taxes. As an example remember the hassle between Gov. Blanton and the state legislature with the eventual result that no new tax legislation was enacted.

State, county and city officials will do well to consider cuts in spending, fewer extra services, with the idea in mind of living within the present tax structure.

Criticism of county officials for the recent actions in suing for the salary increase has been even greater than we had expected. Talks of salary increases for teachers have been met with skepticism, and other increases of salaries for state employees have been similarly questioned.

Both state and federal officials may find a strong reaction from the citizens of Tennessee if taxes continue to rise.

Well Pleased

Halls Mayor Sammie Arnold, Chief of Police Buddy Moore, and others have expressed their appreciation for the cooperation they received Halloween evening with one of the quietest Halloween evenings ever experienced here.

The youngsters had fun, trick or treating was enjoyed, but in general behavior was exceptionally good.

A Fine Job

Of course it still is to be decided whether the Halls Tigers will advance to the state playoffs but the very fact that they have come so far within the past three years warrants acknowledgment of their fine showing.

For more years than we care to remember the Halls High football team had carried a defeatist attitude, played without any inspiration, with an accompanying apathy by high schools students and local fans.

All this, through the efforts of the school administration, an active and vocal Booster Club, and a fine coaching staff has been changed with the result that attendance is good, the record is outstanding, and prospects for the future, although probably not equal to this year, are excellent.

Congratulations to Principal

Tigers Must Win To Assure Spot In Playoffs

Assured of their finest record in many years, the Halls Tigers will host the Greenfield Yellow-jackets at 7:30 p.m. this Friday in the final game of the regular season.

The Tigers, now 8-1, will be favored over Greenfield but Greenfield has shown a strong club with a 6-3 record. The Tigers must have a win tonight for a certain three-way tie with Dyer County and Clarksville Academy for a spot in the Class A playoffs.

A loss by either of the three teams will almost certainly eliminate them from the playoff although losses by all three teams would greatly complicate matters. The Tigers are given the best chance to be one of the two teams in the playoff since Dyer County must play the strong Trenton Class AA eleven and Clarksville Academy will be the underdog against Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Last Friday evening the Tigers shocked visiting Middleton 56-0 as they netted 437 yards on the ground, 66 yards passing and 28 first downs.

Middleton, coming into the game 6-3, was never able to stem the running of Ralph Taylor and Dwayne McKinney. The game ended on a sour note as officials stopped play with a little over one minute left after warning Middleton about fighting and deliberate personal fouls.

Taylor scored four touchdowns and 217 yards rushing with McKinney adding two touchdowns and 198 yards rushing.

The Tigers scored twice in the first quarter on a 47-yard pass from Ray McBroom to Eddie Bishop and a 3-yard run by Taylor. McKinney picked up his first touchdown of the night with a 71-yard run and McBroom added a 1-yard run to bring the halftime score to 28-0.

The Tigers erupted for four touchdowns in the third quarter with Taylor scoring on runs of 83, 9, and 38 yards and McKinney racing 66 yards. Ladd Roberts kicked 8 extra points for the evening.

Taylor now has a total of 138 points and 1516 yards for the season.

NEW MINIMUM WAGE BILL

A new minimum wage and hour bill has been introduced to Congress that would raise the pay of agricultural workers to $3 per hour by 1978.

This same bill would raise gin workers to the same rate, with an overtime rate of 2½ times regular pay.

Also in the works is legislation for a federal workman's compensation program, as well as unemployment benefits, for agricultural workers.

Larry Myrick, Coaches Richard Tomlinson and Andy Pugh and others who have helped in any manner.

MARY ELLEN ECKLEBERG, of 2714 Roosevelt, Clinton, Iowa, and Sahnson, her 6 year old pure-bred Arabian Gelding, spent Sunday night at Douglas Mobile Mills' plant north of Ripley, en route from Cottonwood Point to Memphis on a 6½-month, 3000 mile "Great River Ride" she plans to cap with Christmas in New Orleans. The former school teacher for six years spent two years planning the Bicentennial observance and plans a return trip in a year. Sahnson, whose gear was hand-made in Mexico, has already worn out four pairs of shoes.

Cotton Slow To Mature

By Charles T. Peal Extension Leader

John M. Morris finds many farmers discussing slow maturity of cotton, which is greatly delaying the harvest.

Many last bolls produced seem to be continuing to hold tight and not open.

Some producers are picking where they can get a part of the cotton.

Yields in many cases are a little better than most producers thought at first. At this point, many are talking in terms of about 400 pounds to the acre, on the average.

Oliver R. Voss, manager of the Federal Compress, reports 4,947 bales brought in by the end of last week. The county acreage for 1975 is 11,207.

The probability of a 32 degree temperature in Ripley, according to the Tenn. Crop Reporting Service, for Nov. 9th will be 75% and for Nov. 14th 90%.

There has not as yet been a real killing frost. This has in many cases made beans very difficult to combine.

Farmers Looking Ahead

Wilbur Luton came to the Extension office last week with a weed he wanted identified—ragweed which appeared late, after early pre-emergence material dissipated.

Now is the time for all farmers to know what weeds they have to combat. Differences in soils, location, timing of pre-emergence control, and rainfall result in different weed problems in almost every field.

Many farmers cleaned ends of rows and areas around fields earlier in the season in order to eliminate many weed seeds.

Farmers are also discussing rotation systems. The latitude of rotations to prevent nematode build-ups is limited.

Cotton, which many farmers are not sure whether they are going to grow in 1976, is one of the better rotation crops. Corn can be grown on much well-drained land if planted reasonably early, fertilized well, and given ample moisture. Other farmers have discussed the possibility of planting grain sorghum as an alternate crop with soy beans.

These crops are not affected by the same nematode as soy beans, so a two or three year rotation with soy beans will greatly minimize the nematode problem, as well as allowing the beans to benefit from residual fertilizer.

Much hill land in this county need not be in any crop. We have observed soybeans on many eroded slopes which obviously were not going to make over ten bushels per acre.

Deep plowing, lime, and fertilizer, plus fescue and clover, will give much more income from this type of land than would any row crop.

Other practices soy bean farmers are considering are seed selection — getting high quality seed which gives good germination and a good plant population per acre; treating seed with fungicides to prevent disease control in the early stages; and sub-soiling, cotton land especially, to improve water up-take and seedbed preparation.

Two Extension meetings this winter will deal with soy beans. One will be on production, with emphasis on weed control, and the other on diseases and nematode control, along with alternative crop plans, budgets, and management techniques.

1975 Farm Safety Survey
Slips and falls and farm machinery cause most fatalities, reports a farm safety survey conducted by the Tenn. Farm Bureau throughout Tennessee this year. Animals and power tools range next in importance.

Plant Hardwood Trees

Walnut and poplar should be considered along with pines in a tree planting program on Lauderdale County farms.

These trees can make more money for land owners than most others. Both require deep, fertile soils, and most every farm has at least a small area which will grow these valuable hardwoods.

Maybe it is only an acre which cannot be used in other farming operations but could be made to produce something worthwhile.

Make your plans and order trees now for November and December deliveries.

Ralph Colley, of Memphis, spent Monday and Tuesday with his mother, Mrs. J. F. Colley.

I am an American. Do not fold, spindle, or mutilate.
Millions of them show their pride by buying U.S. Savings Bonds. Through regular purchases when they work or bank, they've helped preserve our freedoms by investing in their country.
At the same time, they've been storing up quite a nest egg for themselves. U.S. Savings Bonds pay a guaranteed return. And your investment is backed by the full faith and credit of the United States of America.
Also, the interest on Series E Savings Bonds isn't subject to state or local income taxes. You can defer federal taxes on E Bond interest until you redeem the Bond.
If your Bonds are lost, or stolen, or destroyed, we simply replace them without cost. They're safe. They're easy. They're automatic.
And they're also a reminder. A reminder that we all have to work hard to keep what we have. Investing in your country will do just that. Think about U.S. Savings Bonds. It's a way to keep our country from getting folded, spindled, or mutilated. Of course, the great majority of Americans have great pride in their country.

HAWAIIAN ISLANDS INSPIRE PIE

Say "Aloha" to a very moist and scrumptious dessert. Hawaiian Pineapple Pie. The taste of the tropics comes through in refreshing coconut and tangy pineapple. But there are other good ingredients, too—unsweetened quick or old fashioned oats and raisins. Take your taste buds on an island tour at a price you can easily afford: serve tart-sweet Hawaiian Pineapple Pie!

HAWAIIAN PINEAPPLE PIE

Makes 8 servings

- 1 cup quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked
- 1/2 cup shredded or flaked coconut
- 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1/2 cup shredded or flaked coconut
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
- One 8-oz. can crushed pineapple, undrained
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- One 9-inch unbaked pie shell

Heat oven to moderate (350°F). In large mixer bowl, beat eggs at high speed until lemon colored. Gradually blend in sugars, beating well after each addition. Add butter and vanilla; mix well. Stir in oats, coconut, raisins and undrained pineapple; mix well.
Four mixture into unbaked pie shell. Bake in preheated oven (350°F) 30 to 35 minutes or until filling is set. Cool on wire rack before serving.

An American Classic...

Fresh Cranberry Steamed Pudding

Fall's abundant harvest of plump, ripe, fresh cranberries can bring many pleasures to your table, and surely one of the most delightful is a chaste steamed pudding. Beloved for generations, this plump cranberry dessert will enhance a special dinner or a festive holiday occasion. Served warm from the oven, it can be elegantly garnished with sauced cranberries and topped with hard sauce or whipped cream. If there is any pudding leftover, it can be easily reheated simply wrapping it in foil and re-placing it in the oven. It's good, too, to know that you can buy beautiful fresh cranberries and freeze them simply by popping boxes or bags right into your freezer. When ready to use, just follow the recipe instructions exactly as for fresh berries. That way you can have Cranberry Steamed Pudding and many other delectable fresh berry dishes for many months to come.

CRANBERRY MOLASSES STEAMED PUDDING
(Makes one 1 1/2-quart mold)

3 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
3 cups Ocean Spray fresh cranberries, rinsed and drained
1 cup chopped nuts

2 teaspoons molasses
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 cup light molasses
1/2 cup hot water
4 teaspoons baking soda

Combine all ingredients except hot water and baking soda in a bowl. Mix hot water and baking soda. Add mixture to bowl and beat until well blended. Spoon mixture into a heavily greased 1 1/2-quart mold. Cover tightly with a piece of greased foil. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350° F.) for 1 1/2 hours. Uncover and bake another 10 minutes. Unmold and serve warm with sauced cranberries and orange hard sauce or ice cream. Wrap leftover pudding in foil and chill until ready to serve. To reheat place foil wrapped pudding into a preheated moderate oven (350° F.) for 30 minutes or until heated through.

Worry No More!

You Can Have An IRS-Approved Tax-Sheltered Pension Plan

Thanks to some changes in our tax laws, First Federal Savings can make your life a lot easier, if you haven't got a company retirement program on which to count.

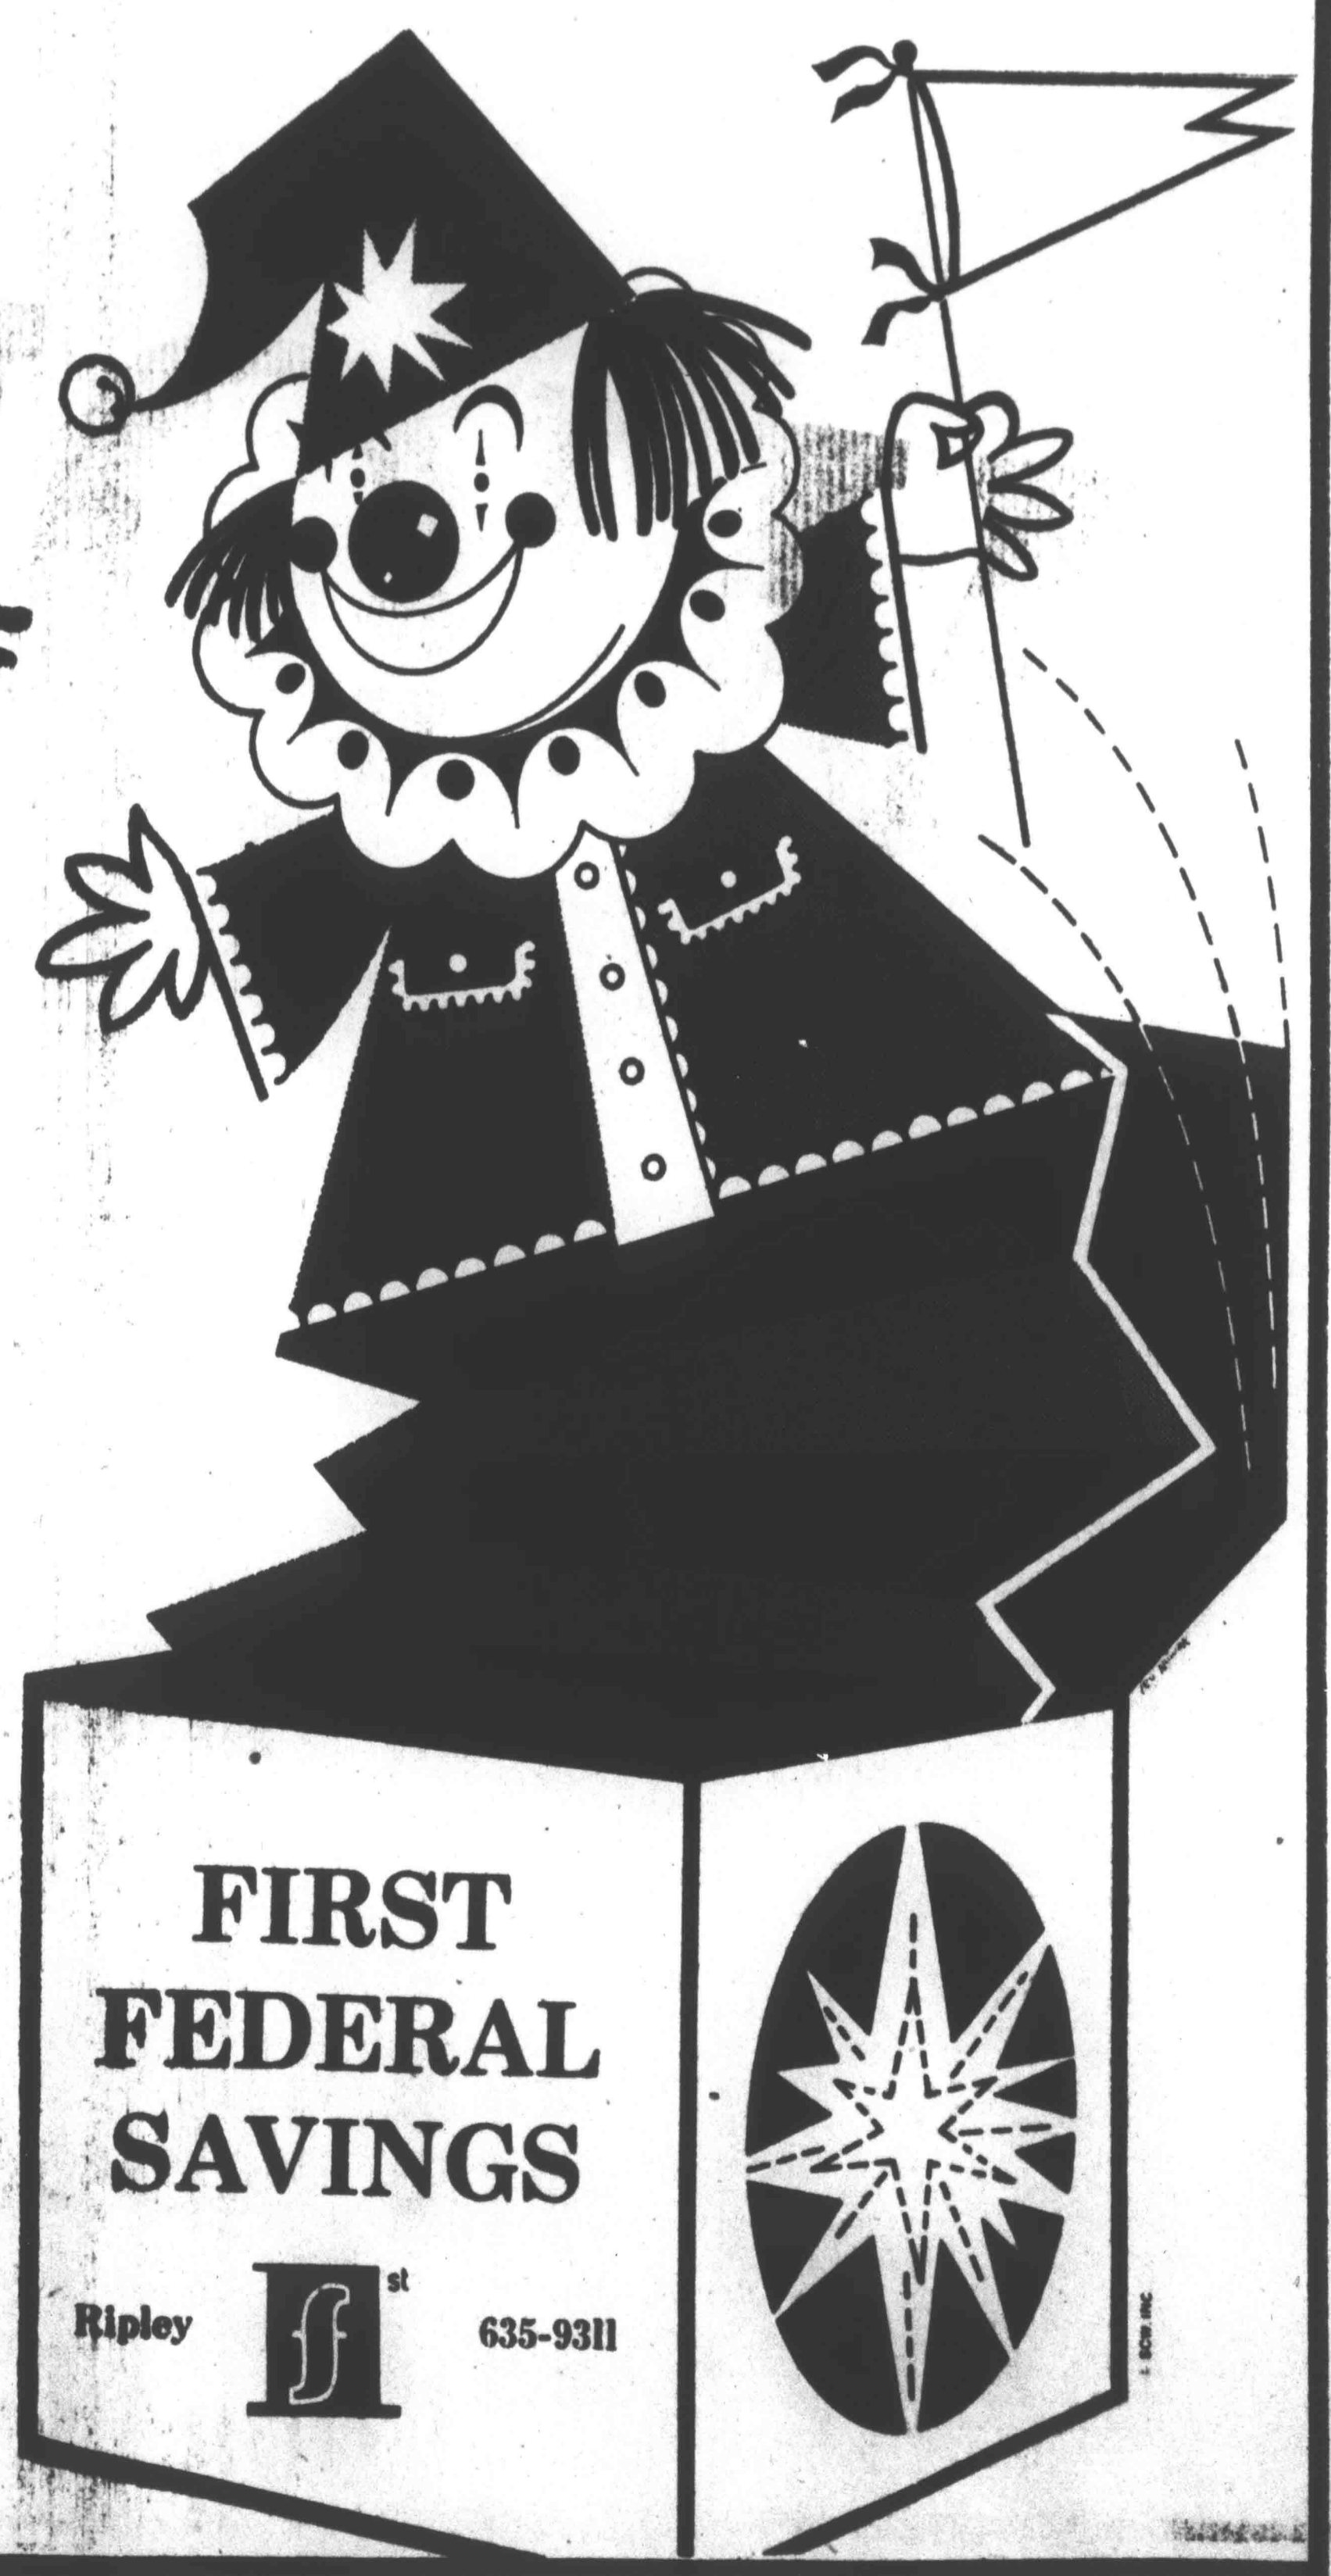

You see, now we've got a way to help you set up your own. And save plenty on your income tax in the process.

It's called an Individual Retirement Account (IRA, for short), and it's full of advantages for you. Because you can put as much as 15% of your income—up to $1,500—away every year, and deduct it all from your income tax.

What's more, the money you set aside earns interest at First Federal Savings. And every penny of interest you accumulate is tax-free until you retire, when you'll probably be in a lower tax bracket besides. You can even retire sooner, at 59½ instead of 65.

All it takes to get the details, and a few pointers in setting up your own Individual Retirement Account, is to call or see Benjie Beard at First Federal Savings.

Note: You must open your IRA pension plan this year to get a tax deduction on your 1975 tax return.

Confidential Corner

By Henry Moore
The Patronage Mess
The Patronage Mess has been the watchword for politicians since the days of the administration of President Jackson, if not longer, and we suspect that this attitude will continue so long as political parties exist.

During the last several days, a Memphis newspaper has made much of allegedly illegal purchases at Fort Pillow Prison Farm by the farm manager and also criticized other persons because they have made sales to the farm.

The newspaper has said that a majority of the purchases have been made from relatives and friends of Mrs. Gladys Crain, patronage chief for Gov. Ray Blanton in a five county area. As a result of the news stories Farm Manager Lawson Elder and Mrs. Crain have resigned their posts.

We know exactly nothing except pure hearsay about the charges but we would like to bet that Mr. Elder was operating with the approval and knowledge of higher officials in the state administration but of course denials have been profuse since the charges were first aired.

In so far as buying from friends of Mrs. Crain since she has been active in the Democratic party for many years, is associated with her father in the road construction business and also in large farming interests it would be extremely difficult to find persons in this area with whom she is not at least acquainted.

We think that there is some justification for the patronage system although we think that Gov. Blanton has carried it much too far.

When there is a job to be filled or a purchase to be made certainly it is to be expected that friends and supporters will have the inside track.

In all probability Mr. Elder exceeded his authority in making purchases without the proper bids and perhaps he did favor Mrs. Crain in some instances but it is our feeling that the newspaper is carrying on a vendetta with Gov. Blanton.

We did not support Mr. Blanton and have serious doubts concerning his abilities but nevertheless we wonder if the newspaper in question would be as critical if their candidate had been elected.

If there has been any real wrong doing it should be corrected but we don't think anyone should be convicted through the columns of a newspaper, not even our own.

Quite Annoying
As many of you know because of a sinus condition we have been unable to attend most of the football games and other outdoor activities at night.

However, we did turn on the radio and listen to the broadcast of the Halls-Dyer County football game last Friday evening.

At first it was rather amusing but eventually it became somewhat annoying as the station announcer proceeded to referee and coach instead of relating the game.

Being partisan is one thing but being critical of the officiating and the coaching and of the teams playing is something else. The young man needs to learn that such actions are distasteful to most people.

Douglas Resignation
We were greatly surprised when Supreme Court Justice William Douglas resigned last week. We had felt that because of his bitterness toward President Gerald Ford, he would stay on so long as he was alive.

However, he apparently realized that there was a strong possibility that he would be asked to step down by his fellow members of the Court if he didn't act.

One liberal columnist has written that Justice Douglas stepped down because he was interested in the welfare of the nation. Don't you believe it, he simply faced the fact that he could no longer serve.

Liberals are pushing for a maverick, a free thinker, etc. We think that we need a man who can read and interpret the

Halls Cagers

High School basketball playoffs, opened on the home court Tuesday evening with Halls winning both ends of a double header.

The Tigers will host Friendship this Friday evening. Two games scheduled for last week, Auburndale and Alamo, were re-scheduled for later in the season.

Pam Moore had 20 points, Molly Patton 17, and Theresa Luttrell 11 in the girls' opening victory over Gadsden, 48-39. Kevin Ward topped all scorers with 29 points to lead the Tigers to a 95-54 victory.

Wayne Bostic and Albert McCadney added 12 each. McCadney and Ward each pulled down 11 rebounds.

Coaching the boys are Terry Platt and Frank Wright. Girls' coach is Jan Godwin. All games start at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Tatum

Mrs. Eva Strong Tatum, 56, wife of B. C. Tatum, of Shaw, Miss., died Thursday. She had suffered a stroke about a month ago but was believed improving when she was stricken.

Services were Saturday morning in Cleveland, Miss., burial in Monroe, La.

The Tatum resided in Halls for a number of years in the 1950s and 1960s where he was an employee of a pipeline company.

She also leaves two sons, Bob Tatum, of Monroe, La., and Bill Tatum, of Tampa, Fla., a daughter, Mrs. Linda Auker, of Greenville, Miss., one brother and one sister.

Constitution as it is written and rule for the welfare of the majority of the people. Of course the minorities need defending but not at the expense of the majority.

Court Considers Murder Charges

George Blackwell's trial on a charge of assault to commit murder was set for this Thursday in Circuit Court, and a second degree murder charge against Ernest Kitchens has been set for trial March 9th.

Sentenced on pleas of guilty: James Jones, petit larceny, 1-1/2 years.

James L. Langley and Danny Ellis, petit larceny, 8 months (Langley suspended).

Decatur Lyle, forgery, one year.

Wilma L. Moses and Matilla Burnett, shop-lifting, six months suspended.

Richard Criddle, prison escape, one year.

Mrs. James Voss spent several days this week with Mrs. Jack Howse in Memphis.

Tigers Beaten, 19-7 In Class A Playoff

A crowd of more than 2,000 persons, one of the largest in Halls football history, saw the Dyer County Choctaws knock the Halls Tigers from the state Class A playoffs last Friday evening, 19-7.

Dyer County will face Region 3 winner, White House, at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Hendersonville for the right to play the winner of the Rockwood-Walland game.

Thanksgiving Day in Murfreesboro for the Class A championship.

The Tigers, three touchdown underdogs for the vie services, were unable to overcome adversity as the Choctaws captured their three touchdowns.

Dyer County scored first when a 15-yard face mask penalty placed the ball on the Halls 24. Six plays later Johnny Hooper sneaked from the one for the first of his three touchdowns. The extra point was missed and Dyer County led 6-0.

The Tigers lost no time in coming back. With a second down and five at their own 20 Ray McBroom hit Eddie Bishop for 19 yards and a first down.

On the next play Ralph Taylor went to his right, cut outside and raced 61 yards for a Halls touchdown. Ladd Roberts kicked his 21st straight extra point and the Tigers led 7-6.

Later in the first quarter Dyer County blocked a Bishop punt, recovering at the 9-yard line with Hooper scoring his second 6-pointer and then Dyer County kicked the extra point to lead 13-7.

In the second quarter another Tiger miscue, a fumble, gave Dyer County possession of the ball near the Halls 19-yard line with Hooper going over for the final points of the night.

The Tigers threatened several times in the third quarter with two goal line pass interceptions stopping the Tigers and a fourth down pass in the end zone going incomplete.

Dyer County mounted only one serious threat during the second half with the Tigers stopping them at the 19-yard line.

Ralph Taylor, second place scoring leader in the state, finished the season with 152 points and 1,851 yards rushing and the Tigers led 7-6.

The Halls 9-2 record is the best in the team's history. Previous highs were a 7-1 record and a 7-1-1 record in the 1930s.

WELL PROTECTED - Halls Quarterback Ray McBroom was well protected on this play as he waited to hit Eddie Bishop for a 19-yard pass on a first down. Halls' Ralph Taylor went 61 yards on the next play for the only Halls touchdown as they were knocked out of the State Class A Playoffs by the visiting Dyer County Choctaws.

GOING NOWHERE - Dwayne McKinney, No. 10, looks on as Halls guard David Jennings, No. 63, stopped Dyer County quarterback Johnny Hooper for little or no gain. Hooper, however, managed to score all three of the Dyer County touchdowns.

Elder, Fired, Says 3 Firms Contacted In Every Purchase

Lawson Elder, dismissed as farm manager at Fort Pillow State Prison Farm after The Commercial Appeal charged that he had not kept proper bid records on emergency purchases from firms controlled by relatives and friends of Mrs. Bernice Crain, says that in all instances he contacted "at least three possible vendors, in order to obtain the fairest price," and that no one but state employees took part in the purchases.

"If any crops were to be planted this year—if any improvements were to be made—materials and supplies had to be purchased immediately" after he took the job in May, he says.

"Upon learning that purchasing these items through the Purchasing Department in Nashville could take several days, even weeks, I contacted my superiors and was advised that I should use the emergency purchase route to secure items needed immediately."

"It was a shock to me, in more than one instance, to be advised by different firms that they did not wish to submit a bid, since they no longer extended credit to the farm."

"This was due to the difficulty and the length of time involved in securing payment for goods delivered."

"In regard to politics, may I say that I sought and accepted the job of farm manager here after discussing it with several individuals, not just Mrs. Bernice Crain, as has been suggested. Neither Mrs. Crain nor any individual that is not a state employee has taken part in any purchases by this farm."

"When items were needed, I contacted either my superiors in the Agricultural Department in Nashville, the warden of Fort Pillow, or the business manager of Fort Pillow (and many instances I contacted all three) before making any sizeable purchases."

State Commissioner of Agriculture Ed Porter was quoted by The Commercial Appeal as saying Elder was "solely responsible" for improper purchases—"an excellent farmer" who "fell down on the paperwork angle."

Porter said this year's crop is the "best Fort Pillow has ever produced."

Gov. Ray Blanton's office says Mrs. Crain has resigned as patronage chairman for Northwest Tennessee.

"I assumed the duties of farm manager for Fort Pillow State Farm in May," Elder said.

"Upon my arrival, I was immediately faced with the problems of obtaining seeds, fertilizer, and chemicals for planting over 2,000 acres of cotton, soy beans, and milo. Equipment to plant, cultivate, and harvest this acreage was in an unbelievably bad state of repair."

"The row crop specialist suffered a heart attack and had to be excused from his duties for approximately four weeks during prime planting time."

"This was of great concern to me, for I had been led to believe, prior to coming here, that a lot of dissonance existed between the supervisors and the inmates. At this time, I decided to meet face-to-face with the inmates and their supervisors and ask for their support and co-operation in getting the crops planted and getting various jobs done."

"I was pleased and proud of their answer as they responded with hard work, working long hours (seven days a week when needed) to get the job done. These supervisors and inmates are to be commended for doing the good job they did, considering the poor state of the equipment."

"Another thing which concerned me was that the dairy crop, even meet the minimum requirements of cleanliness. Because of this, no milk was allowed to be delivered to the dining room here or to any other state institutions."

"The overall appearance and the maintenance of the farm were in conditions that required immediate attention. Weeds needed to be cut from ditch banks, fields, and road sides. Roads leading to the various farm projects were in a bad state of repair, nearly impassable in some cases."

"I remember, not many years ago, when this farm was a showplace, and it was my goal to return it to this status."

"I believe this was the intention of the previous farm manager here, and, in my opinion, he was doing a commendable job; but he was hampered by a lack of co-operation at various levels. People were eager to find fault with any idea or action initiated by him. I encountered many of these problems. Too many Chiefs and not enough Indians best describes the situation.

"To this date, our dairy has been greatly improved and is furnishing milk for our institution, in addition to a couple of other state institutions. The appearance of the farm as a whole has vastly improved, with all projects easily accessible by car or truck. Our cotton and soy bean crop is one of the better ones, according to visitors from various counties of this area. Many personnel here have informed me that our soy beans are the cleanest that have been raised here in years. Poor and long neglected pastures have been tilled and fertilized for utilization by our dairy, beef, and swine projects.

"A program of raising broilers from one-day old chicks to be slaughtered and packed commercially for use by our institution, as well as other state institutions, has been started. Fort Pillow, or the business manager of Fort Pillow (and many instances I contacted all three) before making any sizeable purchases."

"I have received criticism in regard to the total amount of money that has been spent since I have been here. If the crops here can be harvested and if something disastrous and unforeseen does not strike our livestock, I believe a sizeable net profit will be shown for this farm operation at the end of the fiscal year which ends June 30, 1976. This profit will be shown in addition to payments for long term improvements which have been made.

"I welcome any and all sources of criticism to come and spend the day, and go over this farm, project by project, take notes and pictures, and see if things are as bad as have been reported.

"Maybe I accepted the job as farm manager with the wrong ideas to suit some people. It was my intention to make Fort Pillow a place the people of Tennessee could be proud of, both as a farm and as a penal institution, and to return a good margin of profit on each and every tax dollar spent here.

"At the last election, Tennesseeans elected Gov. Ray Blanton to head our great state for a term of four years. No man can effectively perform the duties and responsibilities of this demanding position without the support of the people. I feel we all, whether we be Democrats, Republicans, or independents, should demonstrate our faith and trust in our governor by actively supporting him during the remainder of his term.

"As a farmer, merchant, and life-long resident of Lauderdale County I have treated, and shall continue to treat, everyone as I would have them treat me.

"Being a taxpayer and a concerned citizen myself, I can see where recent releases by the news media could cause some concern, and I would like to say that my office is always open to concerned individuals, and I will discuss with them any and all operations and aims of this farm under my direction.

"In closing, I want my associates, friends, and my family to know their concern and support in the wake of the recent adverse and suggestive publicity is deeply appreciated and will never be forgotten."

Brock Backs Open Meetings

"The Senate has taken an historic step toward openness in government by voting to open not only its own committee process to public scrutiny, but by supporting a move to open the meetings of federal agencies, boards and commissions."

Senator Brock was a sponsor of one amendment to S. R. 5, which would require open conference committee sessions. That measure, as a single bill, had been killed at one point, but was incorporated into the final version.

On Wednesday, the Senate approved Senate Resolution 5 which requires open committee mark-up sessions and House-Senate conference committee sessions.

Two New Theme Parks Open in U.S.

From the entrance gate on, visitors are impressed with the color, variety of attractions and excitement. At the center of the park is a 32-foot replica of the Eiffel Tower with an observation deck scanning 1,000 square miles.

Other theme areas are the Happy Land of Hanna-Barbera, Old Virginia, Corey Island, and Lam Country. The latter offers a trip by monorail through an African wildlife preserve.

For more information on Virginia's vacation opportunities, write or call Virginia State Travel Service, Room C, 6 North Sixth Street, Richmond, Virginia 23219 (804) 770-4464.

For years, Virginia has attracted vacationers to its beach resorts. Blue Ridge Mountains, Shenandoah Valley and hundreds of historical attractions such as Mount Vernon, Yorktown, Jamestown, and Monticello. The addition of these two new theme parks is expected to boost Virginia's reputation as a primary vacation destination.

Joseph McDonough, of College Park, Md., spent last Friday and Saturday with Mrs. Sally Cullipher and family.

NOTE OF THANKS
 Dear Friends:
 We thank you most sincerely for the many expressions of kindness and sympathy you extended to us when, on November 12th, just two days before her 94th birthday, we laid our mother, Mrs. Effie McCaleb (Mrs. John R.) Crittendon to rest in the Halls Cemetery.

Mother spent some 45 years of her life teaching school, most of them being in and around Halls. She considered each child she taught as one of her family and tried to assist each one to realize as much good as possible from his or her years in school. We all have many pleasant memories of our lives amongst our friends in Halls.
 The concepts of life's values and priorities which we gained in those associations continue to guide us.

We think it appropriate and most reassuring that the final resting place of mother's body is amongst those she loved so dearly.

Sincerely,
 Mrs. Lisa Crittendon

County Is Beaten 14-8

By White County, beaten 14-8 by White County in a game played last Friday evening at Hendersonville, made the only respectable showing as all ten Tennessee teams were eliminated from the state playoffs.

Hamilton, Memphis, winner over Brentwood in the opening round of Region 4 Class AAA playoffs, was soundly beaten 45-7, by Nashville Maplewood in Memphis Memorial Stadium and Bishop Byrne, of Memphis, winner over Huntington in Class AA, was shut out by Trousdale County of Hartsville, 34-0.

Dyer County fell behind 14-0 and then came roaring back to trail 14-8 after a fake punt gave them the lead. The game was a 14-8 victory for the White House 45 and then on the next play halfback Chuck Redmond went 43 yards to the White House with Johnny Hooper over for the touchdown. Dyer County was later stopped at the nine-yard line and the 23-yard line as White House took over.

White House will face Walden, winner over Rockwood, Trousdale County will play Marietta and Mayberry Hooper play Oak Ridge as all three state finals are played this Thanksgiving afternoon at Middle Tennessee state University in Murfreesboro.

Mrs. Lynn Vaden was dismissed last Thursday from Baptist Hospital in Memphis.

Mrs. Nellie Kendrick Miss Terry Jones, of Jackson, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Jones.

Mrs. Carrie Sanderson is spending a few days with relatives in Unionville. Mr. and Mrs. Lenard Alston spent the weekend with the Bob Graham family in Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve McAdoo, of Jackson, spent the weekend with McAdoo's parents, the Talmadge Sprys. Mr. and Mrs. Dave Akers and family, of Dyersburg, spent Sunday with Mrs. Jean Conders and family in Memphis.

Mrs. Barry King and son, Brian, of Ripley, spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, the Hofford family in Memphis. Mrs. Alice Anderson and a family, of Double Bridges, visited Mr. and Mrs. James Wallace Saturday.

SANTA CLAUS COMING Halls Chief of Police Buddy Moore will be calling on Halls merchants and industries next week for donations to the annual Santa Claus Fund.

Santa Claus will be on the streets of Halls Dec. 6, 13th, 20th and Christmas Eve distributing candy and other goodies to the youngsters of this area.

MEETING DATES CHANGE Halls Booster Club will meet at 7 p.m. Monday at the high school. Future meetings will be on every other Monday evening dating from Jan. 13.

Both buy at home. Print at home. Both pay off in the long run.

Confidential Corner

Why Be Thankful? Thanksgiving Day will have ended when most will read this column but we really think that should have little to do with our reasons for celebrating.

Many are predicting the doom of America and perhaps they are right but we have a lot to be thankful for. More than half of the world's population live under a government which forbids freedom of speech and even deny the existence of an Almighty God, they suffer from the ravages of hunger because they are unable to make their land produce sufficient food, medical care, etc. is almost non-existent, and schooling is at a primitive level.

Certainly we can find many things which we can truly give thanks for but there is another and better picture when compared to most of the people of the earth.

Let's try to improve our own nation but at the same time let's recognize and appreciate the many things for which we may be thankful.

Be Generous Next week merchants and industries will be asked to donate to the annual Santa Claus Fund. Let's plan now to be generous and make Christmas a joyous time for all people.

Stills More Problems Screams of anguish are now being heard throughout the state as the patronage problem continues to be a major factor in the election process.

Charges have now been made that construction jobs are being done by firms owned by the father and brother of Gov. Ray Blanton without benefit of bids and so-called embezzlements.

Charges seem a little vague in some instances as seem to be authentic in other cases. At best the patronage problem is a mess which should never have happened and at worst could possibly be completely dishonest. We're not in a position to judge although we are learning more and more about the people, it would be Governor and his administrative assistants need to review and control their operations.

Brook To Seek TVA Board Open Meetings

Senator Bill Brock today described himself as "voluntarily appointed" with the effective consent of voluntary open Board meetings of the Tennessee Valley Authority and re-introduced his measure to require that the Board meetings be open.

The system is now on the list of "voluntarily approved" water supplies. If improvements do not bring the score up to 90, the "approved" water sign will be removed.

Moss and small trees were found growing in the flume to the sedimentation basin. Moss was found in the satorator.

One of the flocculators was in need of repair. General cleaning of equipment and calibration of meters and gauges was suggested.

It was also noted that the operator of the distribution system needs to be certified. Defects previously recorded include the need to have the 100,000 gallon storage tank cleaned and painted, the need for additional storage tanks to provide a minimum 24 hour storage, and the requirement for cities with well supplies to have a chemical analysis run three times a year. The report says Halls "must have these tests run without further delay in order to insure that the public water supply is safe from toxic materials."

Officials say an unapproved water cannot be termed unfit for human consumption, due to the many factors considered in the rating system. The public would be warned of any water found unsafe for consumption.

Beef Fund Bill Before Senate

By Charles T. Peal The Senate Agricultural Committee last week reported a beef research and information bill under which a referendum would establish a 68-member beef board with authority to raise funds for research and promotion.

This bill would give beef producers an option of contributing to a national plan, at so much per head, in order to promote the industry. The American Cattlemen Association has been pushing for this law for many years. It could greatly improve the packaging and distribution of beef and methods of presenting the final product to the consumer, as well as aiding the beef producer.

The high cost of seed wheat makes it more economical to choose where grazing alone is needed. "If grazing, plus a cash grain crop is warranted, then wheat may be the most profitable, even with its higher seed cost.

Wheat, Rye For Grazing Joe Burns, University of Tennessee Extension pasture specialist, says wheat and rye are very winter hardy and will make a more growth in cold weather, and the leaves will stay green longer in winter, than will oats or barley.

The high cost of seed wheat makes it more economical to choose where grazing alone is needed. "If grazing, plus a cash grain crop is warranted, then wheat may be the most profitable, even with its higher seed cost.

23 bushels per acre. Thirty pounds of nitrogen at seeding will be enough for the limited winter growth where grazing is desired. Use lime, phosphate, and potash according to soil test.

"For grazing and a grain, broadcast around Feb. 15th to 15th, and add another 30 pounds of nitrogen." Deficiency Threat To Cattle

A team of Oak Ridge-University of Tennessee animal scientists believe it has found a combination of factors which cause thrifty-looking cattle to be magnesium-deficient all year long.

Critical magnesium shortage seems to occur from about Dec. 1st through April. Caused by a shortage of magnesium in the blood stream, it is most troublesome in February, after cows have calved in good condition about three weeks earlier. They are prime targets for this problem as a result of lower magnesium levels while nursing the calf and grazing on early young tender forage which is high in potassium or nitrogen.

Researchers note that several commercial magnesium supplements containing 3% to 20% have proven helpful in raising the blood content of this important macro-element for cattle. Two ounces per animal are fed from early December through April.

There are many ways to feed this, depending on the method each producer uses to provide protein or roughage during the winter. Citizen Band Radios Helpful

Farmers throughout the country have equipped farm tracks and even tractors with CB radios, which are proving of real benefit in saving time and labor.

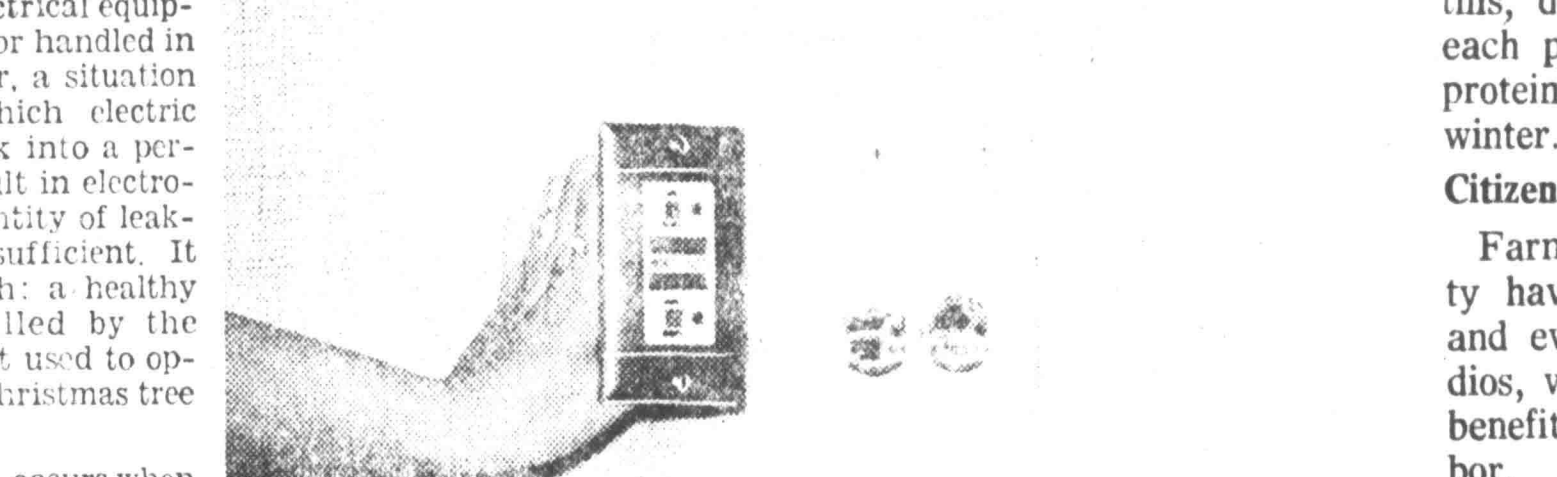

Dan and Lewis Walker have installed one which has a separate channel all their own. While riding recently with Clifford Sweat, I found he could hear what was being said throughout the river bottom. Visiting another farmer, I stopped at a store to call to see if he was home. I was informed by the farmer's wife that the farmer was on the way to Ripley and that she would call him on the radio. She did so, and since the store was only a mile from the farmer's home, he was able to arrive at the store in about a minute.

The problem the farmer was concerned about was discussed, and time was saved. Extension Office Holidays

The County Agricultural Extension Office will be closed during the Thanksgiving holidays. It is proud to announce that South Central Bell has again included it in the telephone book, after a year's absence due to an error by the company. It is listed as County Agent under Agricultural Extension Services. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Nunn left Saturday to spend the holidays with their daughter, Mrs. W. S. Hamilton, and family in Fairfax, Va.

Sights On Safety

By Harlan Teller Public Information Office GFCIs—They Could Keep a Heart Beating

Electricity has made many daily tasks easier—but it has also posed a premium on care and vigilance. Careless use of electricity can prove fatal for an unwary individual. Electrical shock may be a hazardous by-product of this essential life-supporting force.

A person containing a "live" current could look into a person. This can result in electrical shock if the quantity of power is sufficient. It is a fact that a healthy human can be killed by the amount of current used to operate a small Christmas tree light.

Electric shock occurs when a form of electricity is diverted from its intended path to ground. This is called a ground fault. A person touching a supply cord that has insulation damage is a bloody victim for ground fault. Insulation failure can also cause fire because the current is sufficient. A person containing a "live" current may not live much longer after this contact.

When the amount of current exceeds what is normally anticipated in the appliances, moisture significantly reduces the skin's capacity to resist electric current. This, in turn, generally cuts off the supply of current. However, the magnitude of a dangerous ground fault may be lower than normal current and, thus, not detected by fuses or circuit breakers. A supplementary protective device is available that can sense only ground fault current. This device is called a ground fault circuit interrupter (GFCI). A GFCI will recognize a ground fault current as low as 5/1000 of an ampere, and will shut off the source of electric power in as little as 1/40th of a second; less time than it takes a heart to beat once.

The installation of GFCIs, like other electrical equipment, is not a matter for amateurs. Only a trained technician should be called in for the job. However, there are units available that are easy to install. These units are called "plug-in" GFCIs. They are designed to be plugged into a standard outlet. Remember that GFCIs do not provide protection against the same types of electrical mishaps, such as a short circuit

COME AND GET RANCHER'S BEAN BAKE!

How do you wrangle a compliment about a baked dish from the family members? Easy! And you won't have to rope them into it either. Rancher's Bean Bake stands on its own as a prize prize-winner. Rolled oats, loved by Americans when the West was wild, stretches a pound of sausage into six simple lunch-on-or-supper servings. The meat mixture is topped by tomato-rich pork and beans and baked until bubbling hot. The smell will be the dinner bell, serving everyone to "Come and get it!"

RANCHER'S BEAN BAKE
Makes 6 servings

1 lb. bulk pork sausage meat
1 cup quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked
3/4 cup catsup
One 16-oz. can pork and beans in tomato sauce

2 tablespoons firmly packed brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon prepared mustard

Heat oven to moderate (350°F). Combine sausage, oats and 1/2 cup of the catsup in bowl; mix well. Press mixture evenly into a 9-inch square baking pan. Place in preheated oven (350°F) 30 minutes. Combine beans, brown sugar, salt, mustard and remaining catsup. Pour over top of sausage mixture and continue baking 10 to 15 minutes or until bean topping begins to bubble.

JUDITH CAROL HANSFORD, of Germantown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Marvin Hansford, of Halls, will marry Carl Gerald Newby, of Memphis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Newby, of Union City, at 6 p.m. Dec. 27th in Halls' First Baptist Church.

She was graduated from Halls High School, in which she won the Balfour Award. She attended Mississippi State College for Women in Columbus and received her bachelor of science degree in music education from The University of Tennessee in Martin. In UTM she received the Panhellenic Award as one of the Top Ten Outstanding Young Women on Campus; was a member of the 1970 UTM Court, a senior class officer, a student government representative, the University Stage Band vocalist, and 1969 talent award winner; and was active in the Choralists and The Opera Theatre. She was a member of Chi Omega, social sorority, and Sigma Alpha, professional music sorority.

Mr. Newby, an honor student in Union City High School, earned his bachelor of science degree in liberal arts from UTM and did graduate work in the University of Tennessee in Knoxville. In UTM, he won the Paul Meek Award as outstanding senior man, was a member of Phi Kappa Phi, academic honors society, and treasurer of Pi Kappa Alpha, social fraternity, won the Martin Rotary Club award for highest men's overall average, and was outstanding ROTC cadet for three years. He served as first lieutenant with the First Calvary Division in the Viet Nam conflict, receiving the Bronze Star and Air Medals, and was discharged with the rank of captain. He is a member of the University of Tennessee President's Club, a member of the UTM athletic board, and has served as secretary and vice-chairman of the Memphis chapter of American Society for Industrial Security. He is employed as secretary and regional manager for Guardsmark, Inc., in Memphis.

Susan Cherry Tells Of Plans For Wedding

Plans for the autumn wedding which will unite in marriage Miss Susan Cherry and Larry Gourley, both of Friendship, are revealed today by the bride-elect.

The sacred cows will be solemnized at 6 p.m. Saturday at Halls' First Christian Church following a program of pre-nuptial music beginning at 5:30 p.m. The Rev. John B. Pope, II, pastor of the church, will officiate.

Miss Cherry is the daughter of Mrs. Buford Cherry, Sr., and the late Mr. Cherry, of Route 1, Friendship. Parents of the groom-elect are Mr. and Mrs. James Gourley, also of Friendship.

The bride will be given in marriage by her brother, John B. Cherry, of Friendship. Traditional music will be presented by Mrs. John B. Porter, Sr., at the organ, with Mrs. Kathy Voss as soloist.

The bride-elect has chosen as her matron of honor, her sister, Mrs. Thomas Gourley, of Memphis, and as her maid of honor her sister, Miss Dawn Cherry, of Friendship. Serving the bride-elect as her other attendants will be Mrs. Franklin Brasfield, Mrs. Leonard Moore, and Miss Debbie Williams, all of Friendship, and Mrs. Douglas McFall, of Murfreesboro. The flower girl will be Venita Voss, daughter of Mrs. Kathy Voss.

James Gourley will attend his son as best man. Ushergroomsmen are Thomas Courley and Franklin Gourley, both of Memphis, brothers of the groom-elect, Franklin Brasfield, Leonard Moore and Robert McCalles, all of Friendship. Greg Williams, son of Friendship, will act as ring-bearer.

Mrs. Buford Cherry, Sr., mother of the bride-elect will host a reception at the church following the ceremony.

Bride-Elect Honored

Miss Cherry and her feminine attendants were honored with a bridesmaid luncheon Saturday at The Hut in Dyersburg.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Kathy Voss, Mrs. Wayne Vaden, and Mrs. Paul Henderson, Jr.

Miss Cherry chose for the occasion a lovely red knit pant suit accented with a gold mumm corsage, a gift from her hostesses, who also presented her with silver salad scissors.

The serving table, covered with a white linen cloth was centered with a fall arrangement.

Namkipo News

By Mrs. Fleetwood Cates

The C. L. Brays were called to Murfreesboro last Friday by the death of Mr. Bray's brother, Lloyd.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Olds and children spent the weekend in ment of orange and gold mums, greenery and accented with orange candles glowing in maple candle holders.

Place cards accented by tiny mums matching the flower arrangement marked the places for Miss Cherry, Mrs. Thomas Gourley, Miss Dawn Cherry, Mrs. Leonard Moore, Mrs. Frank Brasfield, Miss Debbie Williams and Miss Venita Voss. Special guests were Mrs. Buford Cherry, Sr., the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. James Gourley, mother of the bridegroom, and Mrs. May Moore, grandmother of the bride-elect. A menu of barbecue with all the trimmings, rainbow sherbet and after dinner mints was served to the guests and their hostesses.

New Madrid, Mo., with Mrs. Bill Hughes.

Darlene Bovic, attending Memphis State University, spent the weekend at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reed Moore, of Frog Jump, visited in the Fleetwood Cates home Monday evening.

Grady Cook has been ill for several days.

Susan Simmons, of Martin, is spending a few days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hughes.

Mrs. Douglas Collins and Roland Len Collins shopped in Memphis Monday.

Coy Hilliard was injured in a fall while feeding his cows Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bence Cates, of Bloomfield, Mo., are visiting relatives here.

Mrs. James Chambers, of Memphis, and Mrs. Bill Hughes were in Ridgely Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Virgil Presley spent most of last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Cooper, in Springfield.

SAFETY PASSAGE

By Underwriters Laboratories Inc.
Nancy Hudis
Public Information Office

Fire Doors

Confining a fire to a certain area of a building can be an extremely difficult task. Floors, walls, and ceilings made with non-resistant materials, along with sprinkling systems and fire extinguishers, will not afford total protection. Fire doors are needed, as well.

Fire doors can be found in many types, and are available in many fire resistant materials. Underwriters Laboratories has a performance standard with requirements that each fire door type must pass in order to receive its mark. Based on these requirements, the fire door is given a hourly "rating," signifying how long it can resist a fire.

UL engineers begin their investigation by mounting the door in a test frame in the same manner as it would be installed in an actual building. This frame, weighing several tons, is highly adaptable, and will accommodate various types and sizes of doors. Nothing is overlooked; the hardware and glass lights are included.

Fire for the three hour test is fed by 84 gas jets, and as the flames attack the door, the temperature rises to 1000°F in the first five minutes. Within the next 15 minutes, heat is recorded at 1100°F, and before the test is over, the door must withstand a temperature of 1500°F. Flames, temperature, and time are precisely regulated to insure uniform testing for all submittals.

The engineers check for the buckling of the door latch engagement, and note whether flames are able to penetrate the unexposed side of the door. Temperature measurements are taken on the unexposed side every two minutes for the duration of the test. Through these measurements, the engineers may determine the amount of heat being transmitted to the other side of the door.

The end of the test is signalled by the gas jets being shut off. The test panel is immediately pulled away from the furnace, and a steady stream of water is run up and down the surface of the door. The door must stay in position and not allow an excessive amount of water to pass through the assembly.

If the door can resist a fire for the rated time, block flames, and bar heat and water, it may receive the UL Mark.
