REPPRESSED ANGEL

Lesson for September 7, 1975

Background Scripture: Genesis 1 through 2; Devotional Reading: Acts 17:22-31.

In 1890 the following article appeared in the local newspaper: The vicinity of Gap, Lancaster County, is excited over the visit of Rev. David Kaufman, of Indiana, who preaches in his sleep. Mr. Kaufman arrived and went to the house of his brother. Shortly after 6 o'clock he arose in his sleep and began to preach, first in English, then in the German language, and continued to preach until about 9:30. He is now visiting various persons in the neighborhood and will preach every night in his sleep. (The Reading Eagle, Reading, Pa.)

That certainly must have been one of the strangest religious announcements of all time!

Something within
Yet, at the same time it says something significant about the nature of man; often there is something within us more wonderful than we might ever suspect.

When we are unconscious, that "something" is often released, like in the case of the rough, profane sailor who, in a coma, prayed incessantly.

Psychiatrist Viktor Frankl of Vienna says that, rather than hold that "man is a sublimated animal, we can demonstrate that he conceals within himself a repressed angel."

Note that Frankl did not say that only some people conceal within themselves a "repressed angel," but all men! There is something divine in all of us. Even the lowest citizen in our community, the worst criminal in our jail, the most dangerous public enemy has that divine potential within.

This is not some strange, new idea of our own century, but one of the oldest concepts in human history. In the Judeo-Christian tradition we find it begins with the Book of Genesis (which means "beginnings"). The writer tells us: "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God he created him" (1:27).

To be sure, man is a combination. Physically, he is composed of perishable, common material: "Then the Lord God formed man of dust from the ground..." (2:7). There is nothing everlasting about man's physical being. It is the perfect example of "built-in obsolescence."

The breath of life
But there is more to man's nature than "the dust of the ground." For, says the writer of Genesis, when God took that common dust, he "breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living being" (2:7).

Thus it is God's Spirit (his "breath") that gives life to the common perishable body of flesh. Note, once again, that the writer does not say that he breathes his Spirit into only some men, but all men.

In two different, but significant ways, therefore, the writer of Genesis is saying that there is something unique and divine about man. He bears the "image" of his Creator and within him is the divine "breath" of God. In short, there is a divine potential in every man, a likeness to God that links him to his Creator.

Think of it: within you there is the image of God, a "repressed angel" waiting to get out. Why not?

The Rev. Guy Merryman, of Dyersburg, will speak in morning home-coming services Sunday, Sept. 14th, with pot luck dinner at 12:30 p. m. at the Youth Center on College St. and the Jones Family of Bells, singing at 2 p. m. at the church.

Deserve Support
The Halls Tigers will host Alamo at 7:30 p. m. Friday in the opening game of the 1975 season.

The Tigers, with a fine 7-3 season last year, are expected to be in the middle of the fight for the Reelfoot Conference title and also for the Class A championship.

The sudden reversal of the Tiger fortunes seemingly may be attributed to a number of things including the coming of Coach Richard Tomlinson, the forming of an interested and active Booster Club, the support of fans, all of which were necessary to change the Tigers from a doormat to a fine football team.

Why not make your plans to attend the game this Friday evening and as many more as possible. Certainly there are some things that should be changed including one of our pet peeves — permitting small children to play at the end zones, and to run up and down the sidelines but everything can't be perfect and probably these things don't bother most of you.

Breaks Chain
The death of Albert Elmore last week broke a five generation family which are to say the least unusual.

Mr. Elmore left one daughter, Mrs. Elford Baker, one granddaughter, Mrs. Charles Smith, two great-grandchildren, Mrs. Joe Harris and Chuck Smith, and one great, great-granddaughter, Nichole Harris.

Certainly there must be other five generation families around but we don't know of many.

Isn't Necessary
With the removal of controls on the price of oil Sunday there came dire predictions of increases in the price of gasoline ranging from 6c to as high as 40c per gallon.

Any great increase in the price of gasoline will be a deliberate ploy of the motoring public's pocket by producers, distributors, service station operators, etc. since the price of crude oil is only one factor in the cost of gasoline. Labor, etc. are major costs and will not change at this particular time.

Many of the major oil companies are already basing their prices on the cost of foreign oil since much of their supply comes from that source.

While we are not prophet enough to foresee the energy future we certainly believe that government controls of any industry are usually wrong and in the long run de-control is likely to work. However, we have long believed in free enterprise but apparently most people don't.

James Stanley
James Stanley, 77, of Curve, retired farmer, died at 6:45 a. m. last Friday in Parkview Hospital in Dyersburg.

Services were at 3 p. m. Saturday in Curve Baptist Church, with burial in Halls Cemetery, with Ripley Funeral Home in charge.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Lillian Stanley; three step-sons, Julian and Joel Sutton, both of Ripley, and Terry Sutton, of Miami, Fla.; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Craddock, of Halls, and Mrs. Charles Reed, of Jackson, Miss.; a step-daughter, Mrs. Janet Gatlin, of Memphis; two brothers, Guy, of Munford, and Harvey, of Greenville, Miss.; and three sisters, Mrs. Jewel Hughes, of Halls, Mrs. Lula Davis, of Ripley, and Mrs. Stella Hays, of Greenville.

Mrs. Maroney
Mrs. Ruby Maroney, 73, of Medon, mother of Mrs. Bill Norment, of Halls, died last Friday in Medcenter in Jackson. Services were Sunday in Jackson.

She also leaves her husband, Print Maroney; seven sons, Ellis, of Medon, Harold, of Westover, Benny of Jackson, Henry, of Memphis, Gerald, of Medina, Boyd, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Troy, of Denver, Colo.; another daughter, Mrs. K. C. Hamilton, of Jackson; three brothers; and two sisters.

During the session which began at noon on Tuesday August 26th, the ladies heard about the various service programs within the Farm Bureau, organization were brought up to date on the legislative situation and were entertained by Tennessee's Poet Laureate, Richard M. (Peck) Gumm, of Nashville.

Also Tennessee's only lady commissioner, Mrs. Jayne Ann Woods, Tennessee Commissioner of Revenue addressed the ladies discussing legislative activities along with State Senator Edward Blank of Columbia.

The meeting was under the direction of Mrs. H. H. Proffitt, Jr. of Maryville, chairman of the Tennessee Farm Bureau Women and was held at the 4-H Training Center in Columbia, Tennessee.

U.S. SENATOR BILL BROCK WASHINGTON OUTLOOK

Children, particularly hard to turn on the television set and find the type of material that is going to help our children become better citizens in today's world.

The big part of the answer to this problem must lie with the family and our religious organizations. We must find creative and alternative answers to the violence that we see daily on the television. I am confident that if millions of Americans refused to watch this mayhem, it would soon disappear from our living rooms. But, whatever is broadcast invades every home. Until public pressure is more effective, elected officials must continue to vent their frustrations without result.

There has been a wide variety of proposals under consideration to improve the quality of broadcasting. Some, already enforced by the Federal Communications Commission, have done more damage than good. We must continue to find new proposals for encouraging better television programming. Sponsorship is not an answer, for it violates the very essence of our constitutional rights. Thus the fundamental answer lies in acceptance of the responsibility that our freedom requires.

One juvenile court judge responding to my survey by urging the protection of the moral values that are essential to our country and our future. I feel that pretty well sums up my goal in studying the whole problem of violence on television.

Tigers To Host Alamo Tonight

The Halls Tigers will be favored as they host the young and inexperienced Alamo Red Devils at 7:30 tonight in the opening game of the 1975 football season.

The Tigers however, will have their own problems as they open the season with an inexperienced quarterback and several other first year starters.

Led by highly rated running back Ralph Taylor, the Tigers are expected to have a powerful running attack and an adequate passing attack.

Chief problem of the Tigers other than inexperience at some points is the lack of depth. With only twenty-one squad members several of the Tigers will have to play both offense and defense. Injuries to key personnel could be costly.

The ten-game slate for the coming year is:
Sept. 5, Alamo, home.
Sept. 12, Dresden, home.
Sept. 19, Dyer County (Newbern), away.
Sept. 26, South Fulton, away.

Bean Worms Pose Threat

By Charles Peal

We are now beginning the final count down for early-maturing soybean varieties planted during May or early June such as Hill. In fact some farmers report that this variety already has yellow leaves. They are rapidly filling pods and will be mature within three to five weeks depending on variety and environmental conditions.

Elton Simpson, Lynn and Calvin Pittman have fields of beans which green clover worms have eaten nearly 20% of the leaf surface which is very near the recommended spraying percentage. Sonny Wekefield reported a field near them on which the worms had started eating on the pods. If this condition is found in a field, it will be necessary for spraying to begin when one worm is found per two feet of row. Insecticides Methyl Parathion, 80% Sevin wettable powder, liquid Sevin, and Lamate L are recommended.

Leaf feeding can cause critical yield losses and the most critical time is during pod filling. It's difficult to estimate foliage loss, but remember that it takes about a 10% loss of leaves during pod filling to justify spraying; before or after that stage a 35% foliage loss is required before treatment.

Saving Seeds At Home
Pharis Escue has inquired as to the best method of saving purple hull peas for planting next year. He has put one tablespoon of Malathion to one large jug in which he has poured the peas. Another method of preventing weevils in peas and other seeds saved at home would be to put them in a metal can and after the seeds have been leveled out in the can, place a jar lid there and fill it with carbon disulphide (high-life). This will form a gas and kill all the weevils that might be present in the seeds.

Homeowners interested in knowing more about specific directions on different kinds of seeds may inquire at the County Extension Office.

Farm Equipment Sales Declined
Farm equipment sales have declined during the first half of 1975 compared to a year earlier in all categories except combines. Tractor sales are off 19 per cent and other equipment lines are down as much as 50 per cent. But sales of self-propelled combines jumped 25 per cent. Generally, slower sales reflect the decline in farm income and the upgrading of equipment that many farmers completed in the last couple years. Partially offsetting has been the impact of larger crop acreages and an increase in the investment tax credit. Slower sales have resulted in a buildup of inventories of unsold new equipment which results in some moderation of upward pressures on prices. Some manufacturer rebates on smaller tractors have already begun. Furthermore, dealers' margins are large enough that some retail price concessions may appear, particularly in slow moving lines.

Energy specialists say insulation can cut home heating costs in half. "During winter, a tremendous amount of energy used for home heating is wasted due to a lack of sufficient insulation," one specialist noted. "And that wasted energy costs homeowners money."

According to the specialist, heat moves toward cold. During cold weather, heat used to keep a household warm will pursue the cooler temperatures of the outdoors, while in summer the sun's heat will invade the coolness of an air-conditioned house. But insulation, the number one energy saver, will keep heat wherever desired—inside in winter and outdoors in summer, providing comfort while saving energy and money.

THE CULPRIT. Lesson for September 14, 1975. Background Scriptures: Genesis 2:1-7, 3:1-7, 12:1-5, 22:1-19, 24:1-26.

Who's responsible for the way that I am? Many people have meditated, theorized and battled over that question. It is a question still pursued today whenever people are confronted by moral judgment.

The Bible is unambiguous with its own answer to this question. The early chapters of Genesis are a case in point. It begins with Adam and Eve, two people who lived a long, long time ago as much as it is our story.

More Pet Peeves. Maybe we were not feeling too well or something but it seemed to us that the telecast of the Alabama-Missouri football game Monday evening was excessively noisy with the bands, the crowd, etc.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. MARK OF CAIN
Lesson for September 21, 1975
Background Scripture: Genesis 4, Devotional Reading: Lamentations 4:7-21.

The story of Cain and Abel is as old as mankind and as new as tomorrow's headlines. It takes place every day in our community, our neighborhood, perhaps even our home.

Two or more people can play the game. You need just two of God's creatures: two brothers, a brother and a sister, a husband and a wife, a woman and her neighbor, a man and his employer or perhaps two racial groups, two religious factions, or two or more countries.

Where is your brother? In the story of Cain and Abel the two people are brothers. . . . so are we all.

At any rate, there are differences and the one does not understand the other. And where there is a lack of understanding, there is usually suspicion, distrust, and jealousy. In this case, Cain was jealous because it seemed that God favored his brother's offering more than he did his own.

What have you done? "If you do well, will you not be accepted?" says God (4:7). In other words: don't get hung up on what your brother does, give me your best and it will be enough. It is still good advice: do your best and don't become concerned with your brother and what he does.

But the story of Cain and Abel is one of redemption, not just judgment. When, at last, Cain realizes the enormity of his deed and its consequences, God puts upon him a mark. This mark of Cain is a symbol of God's forgiving grace and his power to redeem his children. . . . whom he creates to be brothers.

for a major publication concerned with the oil industry. Oilgram, published in Tulsa, Okla., has predicted a drop in gasoline prices by major oil producers. Some smaller producers have already cut prices slightly.

In making the prediction Editor Herb Hugo, whose knowledge of the oil industry is highly respected, based his prediction on reduced demand. However, he added that major reduction has increased their production capacity on major stockpiling.

Farmers Start Defoliation
By Charles Peal
Charles Anthony and Reed Jordan are considering defoliation to allow cotton on tall stalks to open as it should, as opposed to doing without defoliation, which would result in much boll rot and a yield reduction.

Water Boy
Warren Cantrell, 8 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cantrell, of Shreveport, La., an equipment helper for the Shreveport Steamers, flew with the team to Memphis Saturday to play the Memphis Grizzlies, Sunday. His grandfather, Elvis Cannon, and uncle, Abe Taylor and Jennifer, all drove to Memphis Sunday to see the game. Warren got permission for Fletcher to be water boy for the game and sit with him on the players.

Booster Club members and their wives enjoyed a dinner from 4 to 6:30 p.m. Thursday at the high school. The dinner is a part of the continuing effort to gain membership for the club and support for the high school athletic program.

Lawn Weeds Germinate
Remember those fuzzy dandelion weeds that floated through the air late last spring? Many have already germinated, and others will follow as autumn rains give needed moisture.

Control Turpin Pests
William Crowder has been having a problem with insects on the leaves of his turnips. Cabbage looper, flea beetles and cabbage bugs seem to be most prevalent.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

DO NOT PICK ME!

SELECTING FRESH PINEAPPLE, THE SYMBOL OF HOSPITALITY, IS SIMPLE—IT'S ALREADY BEEN DONE FOR YOU! UNLESS SOME OTHER FRUIT, A DOLE PINEAPPLE IS ALWAYS RIPE AND READY TO EAT WHEN YOU PURCHASE IT.

NOT YET?

BANANAS AND PEACHES FOR INSTANCE RIPEN AFTER PICKING BECAUSE THEY HAVE STARCH RESERVES WHICH ARE CHANGED INTO SUGARS. PINEAPPLES HAVE THEIR STARCH RESERVES IN THE PULP, SO ONCE THE PINEAPPLE IS PICKED IT WILL NEVER GET ANY RIPE OR SWEETER. THAT'S WHY WE FIELD TEST SAMPLES BEFORE MARKETING.

WHY'S OUT!

DO YOU KNOW WHY TELL IF A PINEAPPLE IS RIPE ARE WHY'S. YOU CAN'T TELL BY SHAKING. THE ONLY WAY TO TELL IS BY CUTTING IT OPEN. THE INSIDE SHOULD BE A BROWN LEAF AND A STRONG FRUIT IS JUST RIGHT. IT MEANS IT'S BEGINNING TO DEGENERATE.

SPONGE FRESH PINEAPPLE IN THIS REFRIGERATOR—KEEPING IT OUTSIDE ONLY WASTES DETERIORATION.

Patriotic Ameri-Cran Flag Cake

America's very own native cranberry is a perfect choice to create a cake that exuberantly sparkles with both patriotism and goodness for a July 4th barbecue party.

Along with your cake serve a Cranberry Rocket Punch, easily prepared for twelve with two quarts of Ocean Spray cranberry juice cocktail, chilled, 1/4 cup of grenadine syrup and 2 quarts of club soda. Simply add ruby-red cranberry rocks to keep cold. Make your berry-colored cubes by pouring undiluted cranberry juice right into your ice trays instead of water. This punch is a super third-quercher that will go along with your barbecued food and your fabulous dessert.

AMERI-CRAN FLAG CAKE
(Makes 1 - 9 x 13 x 2 inch cake)
1 package (18 1/2 ounces) yellow cake mix
1 teaspoon ground nutmeg
3 squares (3 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate, grated
1 package (8 ounces) frozen whipped topping, thawed
1 can (1 pound) Ocean Spray jellied cranberry sauce
1/2 cup fresh or frozen dry-pack blueberries

Prepare cake mix according to package directions adding nutmeg and grated chocolate to cake batter. Pour batter into a greased and floured 9 x 13 x 2 inch baking pan. Bake as directed on package. Remove from pan and cool on a rack. Place on a serving platter. Spread top and sides with whipped topping. Chill until ready to serve. Just before serving cut jellied cranberry sauce lengthwise into 1/2 inch thick slices. Cut slices lengthwise into strips 1 inch wide. Drain strips well on absorbent paper. Place blueberries in rows in upper left hand corner of the cake to resemble the stars on the flag. Place cranberry strips across cake to resemble stripes on the flag. Place cranberry strips across cake to resemble stripes on the flag. Place cranberry strips across cake to resemble stripes on the flag. Place cranberry strips across cake to resemble stripes on the flag.

U.S. SENATOR BILL BROCK WASHINGTON OUTLOOK

Almost two years ago the devastating oil embargo brought into sharp focus the fact that our nation was in the midst of an energy crisis. Today, we still have no solutions. It isn't as if Congress hasn't tried. There have been 596 bills introduced to deal with the crisis. Less than half a dozen have been passed. Still, the problem lingers unresolved.

Give your country a hand. But don't lift a finger.

Except to fill out this Payroll Savings Card where you work.

After that, just sit back and be lazy. Each payday part of your pay will be automatically set aside for U.S. Savings Bonds.

And that can mean big money for you in the years to come. For a new home, for education, or for retirement.

It means big money for your country, too. The kind it takes to put men on the moon, build highways, and keep the nation strong.

And the government believes in safeguarding your investment in it. Bonds are guaranteed. And the U.S.

Treasury will replace them—free—if they are lost, stolen, or destroyed.

There's a bonus, too. Each Bond you buy entitles you to buy a Freedom Share of the same denomination.

Freedom Shares pay a higher rate of interest than Bonds, and mature in just four and one-half years.

Now doesn't that sound like easy handi-work?

If they're lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them.

DO NOT FOLD, SPINDLE OR MUTILATE

PEOPLE PROTECTORS

Did you ever think of ads as guardians of your individuality? They are, you know.

In a time when the edges are being eaten off our personalities and we're all being reduced to card-index numbers, we need to hang on to some things.

Like our freedom of choice. And that choice is yours only so long as competition and free enterprise and advertising are working for you. Guard them. For they stand between you and a dull and standardized life.

BAPTISM (NO. 2)
 Baptism is an act of obedience which involves a burial or immersion in water. (Col. 2:12; Rom. 6-3-4). The importance of this Bible doctrine is seen in the fact that the word "baptize" is found in one of its forms in the Bible more than one hundred times. Further, its importance is evident from the following considerations: (1) Jesus submitted to the act of baptism
 "to fulfill all righteousness" (Matt
 3:15); (2) Jesus commanded baptism as a requirement in obeying the gospel. (Matt. 28:19-20; Mk.
 16:15-16; Acts 10:48); and, (3)
 "The Pharisees and lawyers rejected the counsel of God against themselves, being not baptized of him." (Lk. 7:30). Since we read of men who rejected the "counsel of God against themselves" by refusing John's baptism, what about those who reject the baptism of the Lord today?
 Another aspect of this topic is the question, WHO should be baptized? The proper subject of baptism is the penitent believer who confesses his faith in Christ.
 (Matt. 28:19; Acts 2:38; 2:37).
 This means that an infant or very young person has no need to be baptized. Such a person is not old enough to believe; he has no sense of which to repent; and he is not capable of understanding the meaning or the significance of confession; nor does such an individual realize the meaning of baptism. Further, an infant or a person of a few years is in a safe condition and is not a candidate for gospel obedience. (cf. Matt.
 18:3-4; 19:14).
 The gospel of Christ is the power of God unto salvation. (Rom.
 1:16). Since the gospel consists of facts to be believed (1 Cor. 15:1-8), command to be obeyed (Mk.
 16:16; Acts 2:38), and promises to be enjoyed (1 Jno. 1:7; 2:25), it follows that an individual must be old enough to realize his sinful condition, his need of salvation, and the requirements of gospel obedience, including baptism.

You are cordially invited to worship with the Halls
 Church of Christ.

By Mrs. Edric Owen III
 Miss Deborah Greenham, assistant county Extension agent, reports that Mrs. Jennie Forsberg, whose macramé hanging baskets were described in this column several weeks ago, will teach a macramé workshop next Wednesday.

There is no entrance fee, and the workshop is open to the public. If you are interested, be at the Farm Bureau Building in Ripley at 1:30 p.m. Bring scissors, tape measure, and one roll of 3-ply sisal twine (at least 46 yards).

These baskets make nice Christmas gifts and bazaars items. Mrs. Forsberg says one can be completed in an evening's work.

Our recent cool spell reminds us that winter is just around the corner, with the first frost expected in about four weeks.

Grass seeds need cool, rainy weather to germinate, and now is a good time to take care of those bare spots which have developed over the summer.

Bermuda for sun and bluegrass for shade seem to be the most popular choices.

Loosen the soil to the depth of one inch, and sow the seed evenly. Do not let the soil dry out between rains until the seeds have germinated. This can take about three weeks.

A top-dressing of commercial fertilizer applied now will be beneficial to established lawns. Use four or five pounds per 1,000 square feet, or follow package directions. If possible, do this on a day when rain is expected, and if the rain doesn't develop, water well. Fertilizer left on the leaf blades will burn them.

We heard an interesting story the other day about a fellow who wanted to surprise his wife and help her out by fertilizing her strawberry plants.

However, he neglected to brush the fertilizer off the leaves, and you can guess what happened. It took her two years to find out what killed her prize strawberries.

Acid-loving plants, such as azaleas, camellias, gardenias, hollies, and yuccas could use half a cup of acid fertilizer now. Look for compounds containing aluminum sulphate, chelated iron, or iron sulphate.

SEPTEMBER 19 1975

MRS. J. E. CRUTCHER'S HOME and nearby museum of antiques will be one of seven stops on the Pilgrimage to historic homes of the county being sponsored by Lauderdale Academy Oct. 11th and 12th. This century-old residence has a front walk of marble and slate squares which were in the lobby of the Gayoso Hotel in Memphis when Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest led his troops into it; in the 15 rooms with 14-foot ceilings one will find Gen. Beauregard's tester bed, with a hand-made lace and brocade spread which belonged to the Czar of Russia; bay windows filled with rare cranberry glass; and a profusion of rare and valuable antique furniture, glass, silver, brass, and copper.

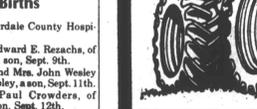

CAROLINE LIPSCOMB HANSON HOME in Henning is rich in heirlooms—treasures of furniture, old English silver, and cut glass. Pilgrimage visitors should note the beveled glass front door, the front hall light fixture, an oil lamp given brides of the family which came here with Grandmother Lipscomb, 87 at her death in 1952, the 200-year-old secretary, and many pieces of furniture more than a century old, all family pieces.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"I Refuse To Testify"
 Crouchy neighbor Jones, sitting on his front porch, sees a redneck driver plow into your parked car. Later, trying to collect damages, you need Jones to be a witness for you in court. He balks. "I refuse to testify," he says. "The whole thing is none of my business." Can you force him to take the stand? Indeed you can. Testifying in court is not a matter of choice but a matter of civic duty. The citizen who has useful information in a lawsuit must tell what he knows, willingly or not, because justice is entitled to his assistance.

One "refuser" is the court's power to hold him in contempt. But beyond that, if Jones' refusal should ruin your claim, he may even have to pay you the damages himself. Most states now have statutes allowing damages against the unwilling witness.

Thus, one court imposed damages on a businessman who was "too busy" to testify at a shopkeeper's lawsuit against a supermarket. Conceding that the duty to testify is "rarely pleasant or desired by the witness himself," the court added: "Public authority has preference over private interest."

On the other hand, a witness need not submit to embarrassment or hardship beyond the legitimate needs of justice. For example, a woman witness in a homicide case was asked whether she had been quarreling with her husband—a question that had no connection at all with the trial. The court threw the question out as improper.

An one judge put it: "Witnesses have a right to be protected from abuse by improper questioning and gratuitous attacks on (their) character."

PEANUTS AMERICANIZE GERMAN CHOCOLATE CAKE

German food is hearty fare. Sauerkraut, wiener schnitzel, hamsteffer and bratwurst—usually accompanied by sauerkraut or red cabbage and dumplings or potato salad—are all part of a hausfrau's repertoire.

But of all the German ways of preparing food baking has always been the most interesting and important. Afternoon kaffe is a cherished ritual among Germans of all ages. It is a social occasion when friends gather for coffee and conversation and the richest, most beautiful pastries that German cooks can concoct.

Chocolate cake is a traditional favorite at these afternoon kaffe gatherings. Planter's German Chocolate Cake is another version of this classic cake adapted to American tastes with the addition of peanuts. A peanut-coconut frosting sandwiched between and on top of three moist layers of chocolate cake results in a luscious dessert that will satisfy any sweet tooth.

PEANUT COCONUT CHOCOLATE CAKE
 1 package (4-ounce) sweet baking chocolate
 1/2 cup boiling water
 2 1/2 cups sifted flour
 1 teaspoon baking soda
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 cup (2 sticks) margarine, softened
 1 cup sugar
 4 eggs, separated
 1/2 cup vanilla extract
 1 cup plain yogurt
 Peanut Coconut Frosting (recipe below)
 1/2 cup chocolate in boiling water. Set aside.

Sift together flour, baking soda and salt. Set aside.

Cream margarine and sugar in a large mixer bowl until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Blend in melted chocolate mixture and vanilla extract. Alternately add yogurt and flour mixture to chocolate mixture, beating well after each addition. Beat egg whites until stiff. Fold into cake batter. Divide batter evenly among 3 greased and floured 8 1/2-inch round cake pans. Bake at 350°F. for 30 minutes, or until done. Cool.

In pans 10 minutes. Remove and cool on wire racks. Stack cake layers, frosting tops only with Peanut Coconut Frosting (recipe below).

PEANUT COCONUT FROSTING: In a saucepan combine 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup (1 stick) margarine, 1 cup undiluted evaporated milk, 3 slightly beaten egg yolks and 1 teaspoon vanilla extract. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened, about 12 minutes. Stir in 1-1/8 cups (1 can) flaked coconut and 1 cup coarsely chopped Planter's Coconut Flakes. Cool until thick enough to spread, beating occasionally.

Fall Is Here

It seems to us that the dramatic change in the weather during the last few days is perhaps one of the more drastic changes we can remember.

Not more than two weeks ago, we were experiencing some of the hottest weather of the year.

When suddenly fall descended upon us with a definite drop in temperature and great changes in the trees and flowers.

Tuesday was the official first day of fall but it seemed to be running about two weeks late.

We are not planning to make a habit of comments or reports on the weather but the sudden change so impressed us that we had to refer to it.

Gun Control Lanes

The two attempted assassinations of President Ford is certain to renew efforts to create stringent gun control laws by wild-eyed reformers who have little interest in anything but accomplishing their purpose.

Since we are not and never have been a hunter, own no firearms of any description and our shooting has been largely limited to target shooting with a .22 caliber rifle, we believe we can be considered somewhat of an impartial judge.

Outlawing handguns for citizens will accomplish little or nothing to prevent crime and just might have the opposite effect in some cases.

True enough we believe that the outlawing of the manufacture and import of the so-called "Saturday night specials" probably would be of some value, but the real effort should be through laws that would make the use of firearms for murder, robbery, etc. so costly and punishable so stringent that the criminal would think long and hard before exposing himself to the punishment involved.

In keeping with gun-control advocates' thinking, there is a bill before Congress which would make the shooting of an intruder into one's home murder.

Rep. James H. Quillen, R-Tenn., is leading the fight against the provisions of the bill which would prohibit the use of deadly force against a burglar or other intruder if the householder can retreat to another part of the house in safety.

Quillen has classified the proposed legislation as "sheer, total, and absolute lunacy."

Teachers Thankful

We have been asked to express the appreciation of the students and staff of Halls Kindergarten School to parents and others who raised funds and purchased air conditioners and installed them in the old Gates Elementary School building which is being used for the kindergarten.

The drive started at the beginning of this school year and resulted in the installation of air conditioner in each room in use.

Jere Ford

Jere B. Ford, Sr., 44, Dyersburg contractor, died Friday morning in Baptist Hospital in Nashville.

Services were at 4 p.m. Saturday at Dyersburg Cumberland Presbyterian Church. Burial in Fairview Cemetery in Dyersburg. Curry Funeral Home in charge.

Serving his third term as chairman of the Tennessee Board for Licensing General Contractors, he was also active in Boy Scouting and was past chairman of the Davy Crockett District which includes Dyer and Lake Counties and Halls in Lauderdale County.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Edie Harris Ford, two sons, Jere B. Ford, Jr., and John Ford, a daughter, Lynn Ford, his mother, Mrs. Gladys Blakenship Ford, and a brother, W. Kent Ford, all of Dyersburg.

BEAUTY SPOT

Attractive hanging baskets, a very neat lawn, and blooming salvia on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Ozell Hargett on Jaynes Drive were selected this week for the Halls Garden Club beauty spot sign.

Corn Moves, Big Bean Crop Near

By Charles T. Peal

County farmers are preparing combines for the largest acreage of soy beans ever produced here.

A good yield is in prospect. The county average could be raised above 22 bushels. Some producers report their Hill variety beans have dropped almost all leaves, meaning that harvest could begin in ten to twelve days, under normal conditions.

Cool, damp weather has delayed maturity of all crops.

Corn is beginning to move to market, containing 15% to 19% moisture. More corn was grown in 1975 than in 1974. Most of it will be marketed for cash.

Though cotton acreage is down to around 15,000 acres, many producers who followed a definite spraying program appear to have been successful to the extent that bolls were set to the tops of plants.

Spot cotton prices have been firm in the Memphis market. Grade 41, staple 34 cotton sold at $0.65 and $0.85 cents per pound last week compared with $0.65 and $0.45 cents a week earlier.

Domestic mill buying was moderate, and export market remained slow.

Feeder Calves To Sell

The annual fall feeder calf sales for Lauderdale County producers will be held at the Mid-South Livestock Center in Brownsville beginning Monday, Oct. 6, for producers with Hereford and cross-bred steers. Angus steers will be sold Oct. 8th and heifers of all breeds Oct. 15th.

Cattlemen who have steers and heifers weighing about 750 pounds will probably profit best in this sale this year. That is the size the feed-lot cattlemen desire.

This sale is for members of livestock associations in this area. Any producer interested in joining the local association and making use of this sale may do so.

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN AT STATE PRISON IN Nashville form ranks outside the prison's mid-

val architecture to receive duty assignments. They returned home Wednesday.

The occasion was planned by their children, with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Booker, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Blackwood, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Booker, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Voss, and Patty, Nancy, and Cindy Booker participating.

ATTEND FAIR

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. McDearman and children attended the Mid-South Fair in Memphis Sunday.

Tigers Go To South Fulton

The Halls Tigers will travel to South Fulton this Friday evening for their second game on the road. The Tigers will be slightly favored but continued rains could very easily offset any advantage the Halls eleven may have.

The Tigers are now 2-1 after a 19-6 loss at Newbern last Friday while South Fulton is 2-2 for the season.

The game at Tennessee Academy in Brownsville will be played on Thursday night because of the West Tenn. Education Association meeting in Memphis Oct. 3rd.

Rain and a fine Dyer County Choctaws eleven spelled disaster for the Tigers last Friday evening as the Tigers were unable to handle the wet football, fumbling on several occasions and presenting the Choctaws with scoring opportunities.

Not entirely ungrateful for the gifts, the Choctaws presented the Tigers with their only touchdown by fumbling the ball on their own 7-yard line on an attempted punt.

The Tigers recovered and Ralph Taylor went in for the score to give him 50 points for the season.

Dyer County led at halftime 6-0 with outcome of the game still in some doubt but an even harder downpour during the second half gave the heavier Choctaws an even greater advantage as they scored in each of the last two quarters to take a 19-6 lead.

The remaining schedule is:
 Sept. 26, South Fulton, away.
 Oct. 2, Tennessee Academy (Brownsville), away.
 Oct. 10, Fulton (Homecoming), home.
 Oct. 17, Galeson County, Ky., away.
 Oct. 24, Houston County (Etowah), home.
 Oct. 31, Middleton, home.
 Nov. 7, Greenfield, home.

Brock Urges Bussing Curb

"After years of forced busing perhaps we are now reaching a point where the government will finally listen to the people and investigate reasonable alternatives to this form of integrating our schools," Senator Bill Brock said today.

If an encouraged that both the President and HEW Secretary David Mathews have spoken out on this matter and have indicated their willingness to seek alternatives to busing," Brock stated. Earlier this week, Mathews said there were no magic solutions to the busing question but that there were alternatives. President Ford issued a similar statement during a news conference.

"Certainly there are alternatives to busing. Secretary Mathews and the President have shown the courage to voice their beliefs that those alternatives can be found, and I feel the Federal Government is now well on the way to exploring them. Tennessee has the most wide-spread forced busing program in the nation. The burden caused by busing in the name of achieving a racial balance in our schools is only too well known to most Tennesseans. Perhaps we now have a rap of hope in that the people in Washington are finally realizing the inherent problems caused by forced busing. Certainly every child in Tennessee and America deserves a quality education, but my fear has been that the busing program would and has today become a threat to public education. That simply must not be allowed to happen," Brock stated.

The Tennessee Senator also indicated that he will encourage Mathews to follow up on seeking alternatives and suggest that the effects of court ordered busing on children families, communities and education.

Officers Chosen By Farm Bureau

County Farm Bureau directors and district chairmen have elected Clifford Sweet Bureau president, Mrs. Sweet chairman, T. L. Criffield first vice-president, W. S. Thomas second vice-president, and Mrs. Walter Brogdon office secretary.

"Gone, but not forgotten"—this phrase, so often read on tombstones—is it really true? Cemeteries hold a fascination for many, and I must confess I am no exception.

But this artistic hobby, although it makes your friends think you are weird, will produce a profitable business, as shown by Dr. Mary Shultz, of Otter Creek Road in Nashville.

When Dr. Shultz was visiting a Vermont antique shop, she saw an early granite New England gravestone rubbing, beautifully framed, priced at $40. Instead of buying it, she purchased materials and went in search of her own rubbing.

It is very likely this hobby originated in the Far East, where temple rubbings by professionals have been selling for centuries. Our son, Lt. Commander Jim Nunn, sent us one from Bangkok, and it hangs in our living room.

WINTERIZE YOUR HOME Save On Your Electric Bill

Here are some tips suggested by TVA power use specialists and home economists for winterizing your home, so you will be able to save money on electricity bills this winter by eliminating heat waste. Another good point about these energy-saving hints is that you can do them yourself at very little cost. In fact, they'll pay for themselves in the long run with the money you'd normally spend on higher heating costs.

Caulk around door and window frames. Use the improved 10-year caulk, which can be purchased at most hardware or building supply stores. It will not have to be replaced every year or two. Caulking will seal the cracks around door and window frames, so heat won't seep outdoors and be wasted.

Weatherstrip outside doors. Weatherstripping, too, is easy to buy and can be attached to a door with little trouble. It keeps a good deal of heat from slipping under and around doors. (Approximately 12 percent of a home's heat loss can result from a lack of weatherstripping and caulking.)

Putting up storm doors and windows will also help keep heat in its place. Storm doors and windows create a dead-air space that slows heat escape in practically the same manner that insulation does. Although not as attractive or durable, you can staple or tack plastic sheeting over windows and still get an energy-saving advantage.

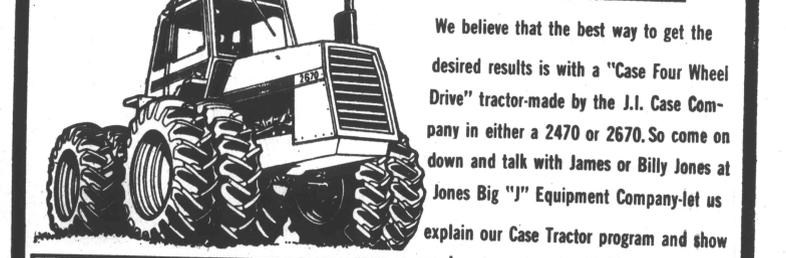

And when cold weather comes, open curtains and drapes so the sun's natural heat can help warm your home. Finally, keep attic and foundation vents open to help maintain a proper balance of moisture levels in your home.

HALLS, Its Business, its Present Condition and Future Prospect.

AS SEEN BY OUR REPORTER

A Prosperous Town of 650 Inhabitants and Growing.

Last Monday our staff representative visited the thriving little city of Halls, which is situated in the north end of Lauderdale county, the Eden of the south and the Paradise of West Tennessee. No county in all the vast Volunteer State can boast of more diversified resources than this county and no place within this narrow radius has nature shown such partiality or Providence smiled with more favor than the northern part.

Halls, situated as it is, on the bosom of the fertile Forked Deer bottom, elevated to a degree of healthfulness that is enchanting to home seekers, inhabited with a congenial, progressive people, cannot but become a potent factor in the commercial relations of Lauderdale. The lands which give her existence are very rich and produce in prolific extravagance all kinds of grain, cotton, etc., while her fruits and berries bring in handsome incomes to those who follow that branch of culture. And last but not prominent is the timber.

The natural condition and surroundings of the place is beautifully striking and elaborately inviting for the expansion of a town as it is to a bustling city, closely rivaling her sister county site. All within the corporate limits is almost perfectly level, and for several miles around the same smoothness presents itself save here and there a dot of a hill uplifting its head, which no doubt was designed for practical drainage purposes.

Halls is a town of about 650 inhabitants and is fast coming to the front both in population and increase of business. She is booming to use the frequent phrase. Only a month ago a complete system of water works was put in operation, and extends to nearly all the residences and in the business portion of town furnishes a big supply of fine water. There is now a plan on foot to have electric lights put in, which no doubt will be consummated. A large public school and business college is one of her valuable acquisitions which she may well feel proud, and under the principalship of Prof. W. E. Pitner is in a most healthy condition. Mrs. Walker of Dyersburg, and Miss Bessie Lewis, of Ripley, have each a large music class, which is living evidence that the young generation have an ear and talent for the high art.

Three churches, one Methodist, Baptist and Christian—with three excellent pastors at the head of each—furnish all the spiritual advice necessary for a good model community.

Now we drift to the business part. First in beauty, first in quality and style, and first in magnitude of stock comes the new store of G. D. Smith. Mr. Smith surely has a modern business house. He has just completed a very handsome, two-story brick on Main street, which is a model of beauty, and the exquisite taste displayed in the selection of his mammoth stock brings out the fact that he is thoroughly acquainted with the wants of the people. Here you can get anything in the dry goods line, groceries, hardware, queensware, or anything for the home you may desire. This store is equal in size to any in Ripley or in any country town for that matter. Mr. Smith aside from business is possessed with that grace of kindness and good nature which no one can fail to enjoy, and his hospitality is exceedingly above the average. He informed us that he contemplated erecting two more large brick store houses in the early spring. Such public spirited men as he is of vast advantage to a town, and Halls will be greatly benefited by his push and energy. Messrs. T. C. McKelvy and W. T. Smith are his salesmen and Guy Grant delivery clerk.

McDearmon & Young, run a nice business of general merchandise, embracing dry goods, clothing, notions, groceries, hardware, etc. Both these gentlemen are up-to-date in business and the trading public will do well to price their goods. Their stock is complete and prices low.

B. M. Archer is the proprietor of an exclusive grocery store. He also handles cigars and tobacco, and pays highest price for country produce. Mr. Archer is one of those good natured men, with a big heart and has the distinction of treating the public with all the courtesy possible.

D. E. Williams, the barber, has just opened up a shop. He comes recommended as a tonsorial artist and is prepared to give you a hair cut or shave in the best manner and style.

M. D. Seches does a big general merchandising business. His stock is very large, well selected and his goods are stylish as well as cheap. In addition to his dry goods and groceries he handles furniture, and is also proprietor of the mattress manufactory.

John E. Messengale is proprietor of the spoke factory which will soon start on full time.

J. R. Cherry is again among the progressive merchants of Halls. He has just opened up a brand new stock of dry goods and groceries next door to Tigrett & Co., and asks his friends to come around and see him.

T. L. Stephens saloonist, is in the market with a large stock of fine wines, liquors, cigars and tobacco, and can quench the thirst of those so inclined with pure spirits. He has been in the place a long time and has many friends.

Wm. Stephens has the largest livery stable in the place, and has some fine stock and vehicles. The transient public will do well to consult him before making drives.

Dr. I. N. Johnston carries a complete stock of drugs, chemicals, patent medicines, etc. He has a handsome stock of pure goods and makes a specialty of filling prescriptions. When in need of anything in his line consult him.

Mrs. J. J. Brooks has a very nice stock of general merchandise including dry goods. She is a deserving business lady and always makes prices interestingly low. Remember her when you buy your fall goods.

Archer & McDearmon have a nice livery stable. Their place of business is not as large as some, but nobody can discount their teams. High stepers and fine vehicles is what makes them popular.

N. J. Marks has recently opened up a saloon and carries a nice stock of liquors.

W. H. Salisbury is probably the largest grocer. His stock of hardware and saddlery is also complete. When you trade with him you take no risk. "Honest goods at honest prices," is his motto. Mr. Salisbury is an excellent gentleman and claims a host of customers.

P. G. Smithwick has a watchmaker shop in the store of W. H. Salisbury. He is a skilled workman and is deserving of your patronage. His work speaks for itself.

W. H. Hanna is strictly in the boat when it comes to selling goods. He has been drilled in the business for several years and carries a stock equal to any in town. He is also proprietor of the Hanna Hotel, which has won quite a reputation for its excellence.

Mrs. Slatta and Mrs. Mat Riddick run boarding houses, and furnish excellent accommodations.

Tigrett & Co., are merchants of the bustling kind. Their stock is large, prices low, styles up-to-date, quality of goods superior, and all now that is left for you to do is call on them and ask for what you need in dry goods or groceries. Mr. Tyler, the manager of the business is a very pleasant gentleman and will treat you right.

Stephen Bros. are owners and operators of the saw mill. Hall & Stephens do a good business with the large flouring mill, and McDearmon & Young operate the gin.

W. H. Roberson, E. L. Birmingham and Dock Neams do the blacksmith work for the town.

Drs. D. A. Nunn and I. N. Johnston, answer to the ills of the sick, and are both practical surgeons. They are excellent physicians and courteous gentlemen.

Dr. Sam Young is the dentist, and does excellent work.

M. D. Seches handles Uncle Sam's affairs.

L. D. Wallace wears the star of marshal and carries a club for the unruly.

Mr. T. F. Hall is mayor.

From above can readily be seen that Halls is no slouch of a place, but there is one thing that should be had at once and that is a telegraph office. It is a shame the railroad treats a town this size with such unpardonable neglect. We hope to chronicle in the near future a telegraph office for the place. Here's luck to Halls, her citizens and her future prosperity.

Editor Entertained.
Last Monday while in Halls an ENTERPRISE representative had the pleasurable honor of enjoying dinner at Fair View Mansion, the lovely home of Messrs. C. F. Wymond and H. L. Hurt. These gentlemen have just completed one of the most palatial homes in all West Tennessee at a cost of several thousand dollars, and its architectural designs, modern plans, exquisite finish and style beyond doubt or exaggeration distinctions it as the most beautiful structure in this section of the state. 'Tis a treat to go through it and admire its completeness in finish. Every joint is as just as it should be, all the rich wealth of paper hung as if by the deft hand of Nature, the painting as fine as an artist dream could portray and carry into execution, and in short the structure from cellar to attic is one unbroken dream of beauty that even the gods of great wealth would like to pose and drink in the joys of the charming surroundings. These gentlemen are graduates in the art of entertaining and no praise is too much to acknowledge the gratitude THE ENTERPRISE man holds for them. Messrs. Parnell & Burgess did the painting and paper hanging.
