Confidential Corner

by Henry Murchison

Not Listening

Despite the fact that the vast majority of Tennesseans—in the neighborhood of 85% of those contacted—have expressed opposition to a state income tax and despite the apparent forbidding of a state income tax by the constitution, Gov. Ray Blanton, The Memphis Commercial Appeal, The Tenn. Municipal League, and other organizations continue to call for such a tax.

Different methods are suggested for creating the tax and it becomes more and more apparent that there is some possibility than an unlimited constitutional convention or other means will be used to attempt to create a state income tax.

More and more legislators are beginning to show an interest in the tax as pressure is brought on all sides to raise more funds for the state treasury.

There can be little doubt that additional revenue is needed and taxes will be increased but despite a great deal of noise the legislators have so far shown little interest in cutting costs.

Last week both the State Senate and the House passed a 1¢ increase in sales tax but differences in the two bills may yet torpedo the increase. The Senate approved a 1¢ increase without additional change while the House amended the bills to remove the sales tax from prescriptions and also apparently to exempt the first $50 on residential electric bills while increasing the tax on industrial bills. Conferences are to be held this week to iron out the differences with some predictions that the tax increase may be dropped back to ½% although the administration maintains this is $80 million below the needs.

Perhaps by the time this is published some agreement may be reached and the sales tax increase will become a reality.

However, the income tax drive will not have ceased and becomes even more probable all the time.

Stupid Idea

We suspect that postal authorities have brought up the possibility of three times a week delivery so that postal patrons won't scream so loud when Saturday mail delivery is dropped.

It becomes more and more apparent that the Congress must step in and recover some of the control which they relinquished when the postal service was established.

We Blew It

Due to a lapse of memory last week we listed the parents of Mrs. William French as the late Mr. and Mrs. John Cribbs. This should have been Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cribbs as we well knew. Mrs. French is the brother of Dyer County Sheriff John Cribbs.

A typographical error in last week's Corner listed one of the players under Coach Charlie Dodds as James Perry. This should have been James Peery—as we wrote. "Pedro" as was known to many of his friends was later football coach and then principal of Halls High School before going to Apopka, Fla., in the late 1950s.

Lack Courtesy

Several farmers have complained recently that hunters and fishermen are blocking access roads to their fields so that they cannot get into their fields with heavy machinery.

For years sportsmen have complained because there is less land on which they are allowed to hunt or fish. We wonder if it has occurred to them that the lack of common courtesy and consideration has played a large part in the posting of land. Remember that you use the farmers property through his good will and that you do not have any right to block passage, tear down fences, drive across fields or otherwise violate the tenets of common courtesy.

Dr. Bonds

Dr. James W. Bond, 57, Dyersburg pediatrician, died Sunday at Parkview Hospital after a heart attack.

Services were at 3 p.m. Monday at Hillcrest Cemetery in Holly Springs, Miss.

He leaves his wife, the former Dorothy Smith, of Halls, a son, Dr. James Bonds, Jr., of Memphis, two daughters, Mrs. Becky Alfalter and Mrs. Beverly Tinkle, both of Dyersburg, his mother, Mrs. Bertha Bonds, of Holly Springs, and two sisters.

Coleman Treasurer For Seal Campaign

Jerry Coleman, of Ripley, has been named county treasurer for the Easter Seal campaign to aid crippled persons.

Funds are being solicited by letter, and restaurants will sell Coffee Day buttons offering free coffee on Good Friday.

West Is Chosen For Who's Who

Richard West, of Ripley, was among eight Dyersburg State College students chosen for "Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges."

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl West, he has been an honor roll student, served on the Instructional Council, and is on the baseball team.

Starters To School Register April 23

Children starting to school for the first time next August should register at their schools between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m. April 23rd.

Kindergarten students will register at their kindergarten centers.

Children who did not attend kindergarten last year but will enroll in first grade this year will need to go to the principal's office to register.

They must have a birth certificate or legal proof of age.

Children eligible for kindergarten must be five years old by Oct. 31, 1976.

Children entering first grade must be six years old by Oct. 31, 1976.

They must have a physical examination and proof of immunization against polio, measles, diphtheria, whooping cough, and tetanus.

Parents should bring this health record with them so the information can be entered on the child's record at that time.

HONORED AT PURDUE

Richard Chapman Mays, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mays, of Ripley, ranked in the top 18% of Purdue University students during the first semester of the 1975-6 school year to be designated a "distinguished student" in the West Lafayette, Ind., university. He is a freshman majoring in engineering.

Drake Will Autograph Miss Minerva Reprint

Miss Minerva and William Green Hill as drawn by Angus Macdonald

"Joy. That is the word which comes most readily to mind when we think of Miss Minerva And William Green Hill. It is the joy of childhood, the joy of life itself," says Dr. Robert Drake, of Ripley, professor of English in the University of Tennessee in Knoxville, in his introduction to the facsimile reprint of the book written by Frances Boyd Calhoun (1867-1909), who lived and died in Covington.

It was her only book, first printed in 1909; it subsequently went through many editions.

Later books in what became a Miss Minerva series were written by Emma Speed Sampson, of Richmond, Va.

The facsimile edition being issued by the University of Tennessee Press will be autographed by Dr. Drake from 2 to 4 p.m. March 20th in Sugar Hill Library in Ripley.

At this time, the library will have on display quilts and macramé done in classes taught for Dyersburg State College by Mrs. Jennie Forsberg, librarian.

Miss Minerva And William Green Hill begins when the orphaned "Billy" comes to live with his iron-willed old-maid aunt.

It ends with Miss Minerva—by then a more human person—marrying her stronger-willed

Deadline In April For Disaster Aid

Joe Moss, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor, says applications for 5% loans to cover physical losses from excess rainfall last year will be accepted until April 20th, and for production losses until Nov. 22nd.

Short-term operating loans are at 5%, long-term loans at 8 3/4% and 9%.

Borrowers must be unable to obtain credit elsewhere.

Little Directing Vo-Tech School

Jerry Little, former principal of Central School, has been appointed superintendent of the Ripley Area Vocational-Technical School.

Little, who holds a master's degree in education from Memphis State University, succeeds Tommy Hall, appointed superintendent of the new Whiteville Area Vo-Tech School.

suitor, the Major, "pants and all," in Billy's words.

Between these events, Frances Boyd Calhoun skillfully shows how Billy meets the challenge of living in a world organized and run by adults, one in which the boy's irreverent nature is at war with Miss Minerva's grand design for him.

At every turn, he and his playmates match their matter-of-fact wits with those of adults, usually with humorous results.

In the end, however, Miss Minerva awakens to the futility of indoctrinating Billy with her artificial gentility and realizes the value of his untrammelled and irresistible boyishness.

Back To Farm Trend Found

By Charles T. Peal
County Extension Leader

If you look back to the 1950's, there was a strong trend for everyone (seemingly) to move into a city. Young people grew up and left home.

According to a recent survey by the Economic Research Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, a net of five million people left non-metropolitan areas to head for the cities.

In the 1960's, people continued to leave many of the areas of chronic rural exodus, but the percentage was not as great as in the 50s. And now there's a reversal to this trend.

In the 70s, the trend seems to be "back to the farm." Growth in non-metropolitan counties between April, 1970, and July, 1973, shows an increase of 4.2%. This is the first period in this century when non-metropolitan areas have grown at a faster rate than metro areas.

What's the reason for the trend? A decentralization trend in U. S. manufacturing has been a major factor in rural and small town economies. Another factor has been the growth of recreation and retirement activities in non-urban areas.

Rats $600 A Pair—Dead!

Iowa State University estimates that each live-in rat on a farm eats at least $2 worth of grain, damages another $4 worth, and contaminates an additional $6 worth—a total loss of $12.

Most experts agree that for each rat that's seen, ten are present which go undetected, except for the damage they do.

Because rats are so prolific, they are difficult to control without a year-round program. Their gestation period is only 20 to 25 days. They produce three to six litters a year. Litters usually are seven to eight. One pair can produce as many as 50 offspring a year. If no control measures are used to keep them in check, one pair can add $600 annual cost to the farm operation.

Whenever rats are a problem, one of the best farm investments can be a highly effective rat-and-mouse killer that contains the anti-coagulant warfarin.

While there they visited many places of interest in Arizona and Mexico and also visited with Dr. and Mrs. Ted Perry, of Chandler, Ariz. Dr. Perry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Perry, of Halls.

VAN FLIES 600 MILES PER HOUR—Inside this semi-trailer which will visit Ripley High School March 15th, rear-projection motion pictures viewed through a realistic cockpit's windows, with a high impact sound system, will create for student "pilots" and "co-pilots" the sensation of flying a multi-jet engine aircraft 600 miles per hour at 200 feet—so vividly some viewers become queasy. The 8-minute film is viewed by 15 students every ten minutes, with Air Force personnel on hand to answer their questions.

Brock Is Urging New Nominee For TVA Spot

"Knowledge, experience and quality are the primary ingredients required for the next Board member of the Tennessee Valley Authority. It is now incumbent upon the President to select a nominee for the Board of Directors who meets these important standards," Senator Bill Brock stressed today.
The Senator's comments came after the Senate Public Works Committee voted to indefinitely delay the nomination of James Hooper of Mississippi as the next Board member of TVA. Brock had led the fight against Hooper's nomination.
"The important fact today is that the consumers of TVA power just cannot afford constantly increasing prices. We desperately need to select a Board member who can help lead TVA through a period of uncertainty in the energy field and at the same time provide the service that TVA is intended to provide."
Brock said he was gratified by the Committee's decision, which has the effect of killing the Hooper nomination. The Senator called on President Ford to begin again the search for what Brock termed "a truly qualified person" to fill the vacancy.

The defeat of the Hooper nomination is considered a major victory for Brock who had led the Senate opposition.

Backyard Pools

Kidly Mr. Norris allowed the neighbors to use the swimming pool in his backyard. One day, while he was away from home, a teenage girl dove in from the top of the bathhouse and injured her arm.

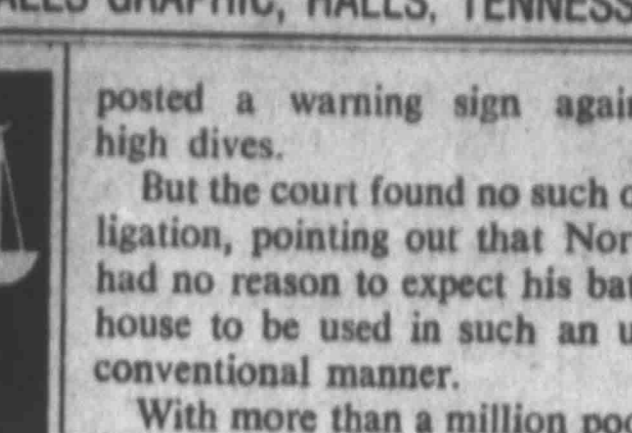

By and large, the pool owner is not liable for a mishap which he could not reasonably have foreseen or prevented.

Many communities, however, have increased an owner's responsibility by special ordinance—usually, by requiring pools to be fenced. Furthermore, he may become liable on grounds of simple carelessness.

Another case involved the drowning of a neighbor's child in an unfenced pool. Although the pool was properly fenced, the owner had left the gate open and a surging wave running into the water.

In these circumstances, a court said the owner could be blamed for having set the stage for tragedy.

One neighbor, irked by the lights and noise from a new pool posted a warning sign against high dives.

But the court found no such obligation, pointing out that Norris had no reason to expect his bathhouse to be used in such an unconventional manner.

With more than a million pools in the nation's backyards, with annual deaths in the hundreds and annual injuries in the thousands, questions of legal liability have gained fresh importance.

Farmers Finding Soil Testing Pays By Charles T. Peal

The addition of lime to acid soils has been one of the most useful practices to increase profits from soy beans, according to Don Herd, who is having a number of soil samples tested by the state laboratory.

Experimental work at the University of Tennessee over a 5-year period showed that lime gave an average increase of about six bushels per acre per year, as compared to an increase from fertilizer of less than three bushels.

A common effect of lime on soy beans is to correct the deficiency of molybdenum, either partly or completely, by increasing the availability of molybdenum in the soil and, thereby, increasing nitrogen fixation.

Farmers from throughout Lauderdale County have been utilizing the University's analytical service heavily this winter. One farmer sent in 50 samples.

All over the county, soil is being limed, indicating that farmers have received the message of its value.

There is still time to take a soil test. A pint of dirt obtained from six or eight locations in the field, at a 4 inch depth, constitutes a sample. The test is then brought to the County Extension Office, where information on each sample is obtained. The cost of testing each sample is $1. Mailing is free service.

Control Onions In Yard Carolyn Pilcher and many other homeowners have inquired about the annual task of ridding lawns of wild garlic. 2,4-D properly applied in the following steps will give adequate control:

Put a small amount of water in your sprayer or jar, add one teaspoon of soap per gallon of water you intend to spray and stir, add 2 1/2 tablespoons of the four pounds acid equivalent 2,4-D per gallon of water, and add the remaining water and spray.

Spray only when the temperature is 60 degrees or more and when there will be at least three hours of sunshine after the spraying.

CARD OF THANKS We wish to thank our many friends and relatives for all the nice things that were done during the illness and death of our loved one.

Thanks to the Fincher quartet for their good singing, also our ministers, Bro. Steven Cavitt and Bro. Fleming, for their comforting words.

Thanks for the beautiful flowers, the food, and the kind words of comfort from so many. May God bless each of you.

Bertha Mal London, wife Levoe London & family Rondell London & family Ad.V.P.

According to an old Lapp proverb, "Love comes after the wedding."

I have been on the top of the Eiffel Tower, the Empire State Building, Chicago's Sears Building (at this writing the world's tallest), the Centennial Arch in St. Louis; I have stood within the vastness of St. Peter's Cathedral in Rome and a greater number of other man-made wonders.

Still, no structure which man has conceived and constructed has so impressed me as the Great Pyramid at Giza in Egypt.

At the pinnacle of the pyramid stands the very pinnacle of the pyramid. The "not-so-great" stand at varying levels below, trying constantly to climb a little higher on the ever-steeper structure. Thus, when we think in terms of success or greatness, we speak of "climbing higher" and "moving up."

It is often erroneously assumed that Jesus didn't understand human nature. But Jesus understood human nature better than anyone else. He knew that most people dreamed of "greatness" - or at least of "greatness," when success is defined as what many people might assume, to be Jesus saw nothing wrong with wanting to be "great," so long as we go about it in the right manner!

The inverted pyramid! Several months ago I stayed in a most unusual hotel in the city of Tunis on the North African coast. The Hotel Du Lila is actually an inverted pyramid - a pyramid resting on its pinnacle and with its broad base standing high in the air!

This strange building reminded me of something George Arthur Buttrick once said: "Christ's idea of greatness is like the inverted pyramid; the nearer to the peak, the greater the burden, and the more people are carried in love."

When speaking about "... whoever would be great among you must be your servant, and whoever would be first among you must be your slave." (Matthew 20:26-27). It is all right for a man to strive for greatness so long as he knows that greatness really is!

And what is the formula for true greatness? Jesus both proclaimed that formula and demonstrated it with his own life: "even as the Son of man came not to be served but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many" (20:28).

The world seemed addicted to the wrong understanding of "greatness" for many believe that it means to "lord it over" another. In both Jesus' words and life, however, we find the missing formula for true greatness: "... not to be served, but to serve!"

Weevils Peril Alfalfa Here

By Charles T. Peal Cotton Elder found an alfalfa weevil in almost every plant last week, as his well-fertilized crop was growing rapidly, with a dark green color.

Alfalfa is a costly crop to produce, but its high yields on good stands make its protection from insects important.

Cool weather this week will slow activity, but the weevils will be ready when warmer weather resumes.

Many materials, such as Fumdan, Alfa-tox, and Methoxychlor will give good control.

Temperatures Over Norm The Environmental Studies Service Center in Stoneville, Miss., reports the West Tennessee weather outlook through mid-March above normal temperatures and slightly above normal rainfall.

The center predicts rainfall averaging near 4.75 inches and mean temperatures around the 50s, with several cold air outbreaks to be expected in the next 30 days.

Pastures perked up with the warmer temperatures last week. This will help relieve the strain on feeding supplies, as forage becomes more plentiful.

Much land preparation has been completed. Farmers ought to be aware of severe erosion problems on sloping land and wait until nearer planting time to prepare it.

The weather forecast indicates delays in land preparation, so farmers are urged to prepare to fertilize, apply chemicals, and plant on short notice.

The top-dressing of wheat moved forward rapidly during the good weather, with slightly higher than normal rates of fertilizer being applied in view of a possible $4 per bushel price.

Billy Thomas is one of many farmers applying 2-4-D low volatility ester to wheat at the rate of three-fourths quart per acre.

This will kill or greatly diminish wild goose activity to prevent damage to wheat crops.

Tomato producers sowed the bulk of their seeds last week in preparation for setting in early April. Greenhouses over the county are being prepared to handle the thousands of peat-potted plants which enable the producer to set early and, it is hoped, make a crop which is early and will bring a high price.

Beautiful weather the past two weeks have encouraged farmers to make definite decisions on how many acres of cotton, soy beans, and corn to plant, as well as to get fertilizer, herbicides, varieties, and other inputs purchased.

Okra, Squash Market Set Robert Flagg, Jr., of Henning, will again this year represent the Agricultural Services Association, Inc. of Bell, in operating a station to buy okra and squash.

This is the first time okra has been handled here. The station will be paying 10¢ per pound for untrimmed and 13¢ per pound for trimmed okra.

Last year, this station handled quite a quantity of squash, which proved very profitable to some growers.

1/2% Sales Tax Hike Vote Set May 25th

County Court Monday approved expenditure of $180,000 from the sales tax fund to improve Arp, Central, Curve, and Ripley schools and set a vote of the people May 25th, during the presidential preference primary, on a half-cent sales tax increase in the county to get more money for schools.

The additional tax would produce about $140,000 annually, the court was told.

Cus Hargett, chairman of the court's education committee, at first proposed the $180,000 be used to add two rooms each to Curve and Ripley Middle Grade Schools and three rooms to Central School, but after discussion included Arp, leaving exact division of the funds to the committee and the Board of Education.

A discussed $10 increase in the county wheel tax, which had once been scheduled for popular vote also, was dropped from the May ballot.

A proposal to re-finance a $1,800,000 bond issue for the county's rural water system, presented by engineer Mel Tidwell, was approved in hopes of realizing sufficient savings to permit enlargement of the system without raising rates.

The court appropriated $21,956 from revenue sharing funds to meet bills of Lauderdale County Hospital.

Magistrate Delmus Connell was appointed liaison with Ripley Chamber of Commerce.

Larry McBride, director of the county Department for Human Services, and Mrs. Gwyn Walker, food stamp supervisor, reported that less than 20% of the county's population is receiving food stamps.

Notaries elected were Verble Mueller, Elizabeth MacIn, June Critchfield, Glenda Belton Davis, Rebecca McWilliams, Mrs. Thelma Hart, Charles McFaulter, Ella Dell Chism, and Mrs. Ann Robeson.

A Circuit Court jury Monday found Robert James Hefflin, of Glimp, not guilty of first degree murder in the death of John McFaulter, the same community who was fatally shot last August in an argument alleged to have stemmed from a neighbor's dog.

The panel deliberated 45 minutes before returning the not guilty verdict at 10:28 p.m.

Tuesday, a jury acquitted Ernest Kitchens, of Covington, of second degree murder charged in the death of James Harrison Lewis, of Cross Roads, in an automobile accident last March.

This verdict came 23 minutes after the jury retired.

With all of the talk about a possible cutback to 3-days a week mail delivery, it has occurred to us to wonder just how the projected savings will be instituted.

Will the city and rural carriers be cut to a 3-day week with a resulting cut in their pay of some forty percent? Will checks at the post office be given cuts in pay or be out of jobs entirely?

What effect will such cutbacks in service have on the pay and workload of the higher officials? Charles McFaulter, Ella Dell Chism, and Mrs. Ann Robeson.

Rose Ends Active Coaching At ASU

John Rose, 40, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rose, of Ripley, has closed seven years as head basketball coach for Arkansas State University by resigning to become administrative assistant in athletics at ASU.

Dr. Ross Pritchard, ASU president, said the institution was "most appreciative of all the efforts John has put into building the respected basketball program it has become in the past few years, and we understand his desire to move into athletic administration."

Rose, who was track and cross-country coach for Union University in Jackson for five years after his graduation from Union in 1958, came to ASU as head track coach and assistant basketball coach, becoming head coach in 1969.

He leaves the post as the second youngest coach in Indian history.

His first two seasons had 15-9 records, and the Tribe moved to "major" status the second year, winning the conference championship. Another conference crown came in 1973, when the team finished 17-5.

During Rose's tenure, Steve Brooks and Don Scatfe were given "major" status on the All-American team, and Allan Pruet was named most valuable player in the conference.

As track coach at ASU, Rose recruited hurdler Thomas Hill, who later won an Olympic bronze medal.

Rose starred in four sports in Ripley High School and took a spot from Union in preference to football scholarships offered by the University of Mississippi and Memphis State University.

He and his wife, the former Linda DeLoach, of Jackson, have two sons, John, Jr., 15, and Mark, 12.

County Pursuing Federal Funding

Lauderdale County will apply for $300,000 to fund the second year of a community development program, Duane Phares, administrator of the program, said this week.

Funds are asked to continue rehabilitation programs, provide a home winterization program for the elderly and pool, construct water storage tanks in Halls and Henning, install and improve curbs, gutters, and fire plugs in Gates, and improve storm sewers in Ripley.

The first-year grant was earmarked for housing, solid waste management, and parks and recreation.

It included $100,000 to purchase vacant, condemned buildings in Halls and Ripley, to be torn down.

In addition, $50,000 was made available to owners of deteriorated homes.

Phares says most loans are expected to range between $3,000 and $5,500, with interest based on the home owner's income.

The funds will be available for homes in designated blighted areas near downtown areas of Halls and Ripley.

The county hopes to use $175,000 earmarked for solid waste management to buy the land fill site now being leased, fence it, purchase a bulldozer, and install a building house the bulldozer, Phares says.

The grant included $125,000 for improvements to three parks in Ripley and two in Halls, but all too high and were rejected pending plans revision.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE 'IN' CROWD Lesson for March 14, 1976

Background Scripture: Matthew 21:33 through 22:14. Devotional Reading: Isaiah 55:1-12.

Several years ago, Dr. Karl Menninger wrote a book with the intriguing title, WHATEVER BECAME OF SIN? Contrary to what you may think, this eminent psychiatrist sees the loss of the concept of sin as very harmful to the individual and to society as a whole.

The "sinner" is the other fellow, the person whose views and life style are quite different, the person who is "outside my church." For many of us the "sinner" is the non-church member, the frequenter of the corner bar, the user of profane language, etc.—in short, the "other guy."

Of course, that's what was assumed by those who heard Jesus. They thought of themselves as the "in" crowd and the term "sinners" was reserved for the other guy—the people who were not very devoted to the strict observance of the law and customs of the religious elite, the tax collectors, thieves, harlots, non-Helens, etc. But they were very, very wrong, said Jesus.

The problem was that the scribes and the pharisees focused too much on the sins of others, and too little on their own sins. They were like the son in the parable that Jesus told: They say "yes" to God, but don't really do what he wants. For them, religion is simply "taking a good game."

CARD OF THANKS

Words can't express the gratitude I feel for all the prayers, visits, cards, letters, gifts, and many kindnesses shown to me during my recent hospital stay. I want to publicly thank

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank everyone for all the cards calls, and visits during my recent illness. It is wonderful to know that I have so many fine friends. Adv. Tommy Meeks.

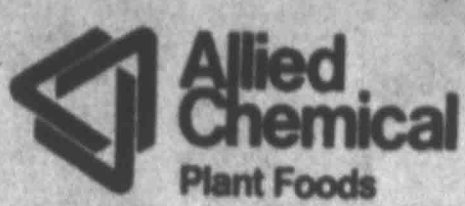

What can Arcadian liquid do for the cotton farmer?

In one preplant application, Arcadian liquid can supply a custom fertilizer, prescription mixed according to a complete soil analysis. This means N-P-K and micronutrients such as boron, that each individual field needs to grow the most profitable cotton.

And, we can do it all in one shot. Even include herbicides so you can feed and weed cotton in one trip instead of two.

Liquid fertilizers made the SLF* way won't segregate out like bulk blended dry fertilizers do. They stay completely mixed and spread the same analysis uniformly over every acre.

If you grow cotton, or any other crop, you really should find out what Arcadian liquid can do for you. Stop in and see us today.

MARCH 19 1976

WHO ARE YOU FOOLING? Lesson for March 21, 1976

Background Scripture: Matthew 22:15 through 22:39. Devotional Reading: Matthew 22:34-40

Upon reading the twenty-third chapter of Matthew, a boy in my confirmation class exclaimed: "See, Jesus sure had it in for the scribes and the Pharisees, didn't he?"

When we read the gospel narratives it certainly seems that way: his bitter words and acts are aimed at the scribes and Pharisees. Yet, some people today find it difficult to understand, for the scribes and Pharisees were, for the most part, the most conscientious and dedicated followers of the Jewish faith. They were dominated by a passion to make that faith relevant to the daily lives of the people.

'Whitewashed tombs' Why was Jesus so hard on these dedicated religionists? Why did he reserve his strongest language for them?

"Who to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for you are like whitewashed tombs, which outwardly appear beautiful, but within they are full of dead men's bones and all uncleanness. So you also outwardly appear righteous to men, but within you are full of hypocrisy and iniquity" (Matt. 23:27-28).

The answer is that, although these people were in truth the most dedicated and faithful followers of the Jewish faith, they still were not what they pretended to be. It seems that the person who is "good" and pretends to be even better, is not actually as "good" as the person owns up to being what he is. In other words, Jesus expected more of the "good" people. The proof of their being "good" would be their refusal to pretend to be more than they really were.

The measure of your fathers The scribes and Pharisees dutifully honored and revered the prophets and saints in their time, but this struck Jesus as hypocritical. "You are the sons of those who murdered the prophets. Fill up, then, the measure of your fathers" (Matt. 23:31,32).

Jesus did not mean that they were the biological descendants of these tyrants, but rather that they were their spiritual heirs and offspring. In other words, despite what the Pharisees said about these long-dead martyrs, if they were to come back from the dead and begin to prophesy again as before, the Pharisees would be among the first to oppose and try to destroy them.

The problem, thus, was not just that the scribes and Pharisees were fooling others, but they were first of all fooling themselves. They were "good" people, but they weren't nearly as "good" as they supposed. And because they assumed that they "knew better," Jesus expected more of them than others.

And you? Who are you fooling? (Based on outlines copyrighted by the Division of Christian Education of the Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. Released by Community Press Service.)

Mrs. Grady Kelly led the program, "The Heritage and the Challenge," when United Methodist Women met at the church Monday of last week. Mrs. Frances Hardy read scripture. Mrs. Cecil Baker delivered the worship service. Mrs. R. V. Lilley, Mrs. Fay Coffman, Mrs. Paul Avery were on the program. Mrs. E. M. Voss, Mrs. Estel Wood, and Mrs. Frances Hardy served a deserts and all uncleanness. So you also outwardly appear righteous to men, but within you are full of hypocrisy and iniquity" (Matt. 23:27,28).

15% Increase In Gas Rate Seen Next Month In Halls

Halls Mayor Sammie Arnold said this week that effective in April, natural gas rates will increase about 15 percent.

In making the announcement Mayor Arnold said, "For the past 18 months while inflation was at its highest level we were able to maintain prices on every city service, including taxes."

"Now, however, because of a substantial increase in rate by our supplier of natural gas we find we must pass this increase on to our customers."

"We who work for the city believe that it is of paramount importance that cost of services be held at the lowest possible level and we will do our best to avoid additional increases in the cost of services."

At the meeting Monday evening of last week the board approved the purchase of a mosquito fogger and to offer to sell the service to the Corporation of Gates.

The board also authorized Mayor Arnold to seek an Environmental Development Agency grant for the creation of a 500,000 gallon water storage tank.

In other action the board approved election of Mrs. Travis Davis as recorder; took under advisement request to remove speed bumpers on Sumrow Street.

Held request of L. E. Cribfield, Jr., to purchase two acres of land adjoining his property on the air base. Action was deferred until city attorney Tom Caldwell can determine whether the land can be legally sold for other than industrial purposes.

Discussed hiring of Grant Duke as industrial counselor for with shingles in the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. M. Voss.

Mrs. Carl Robison was released from Lauderdale County Hospital last week.

RESOLUTION For Levying An Additional SALES AND USE TAX In Lauderdale County

BE IT RESOLVED by the Quarterly County Court of Lauderdale County, Tennessee:

Section 1. The resolution of the Quarterly County Court of Lauderdale County, Tennessee, imposing a local sales and use tax as authorized under the provisions of Section 67-3049 - 67-3056 of the Tennessee Code Annotated, adopted by the Quarterly County Court at a regular meeting of record in Minute Book 7, page 506, and Minute Book 8, page 202, is amended to levy a local sales and use tax at a rate of four-ninths of the state rates, not to exceed two percent of the taxable amount, as provided in the Retailers' Sales Tax Act under Chapter 30, Title 67, TCA, as the same may be amended and authorized so long as the general State rate continues at 4 1/2%, and at three-fourths if and when the general State rate is reduced to 3%, and on farm or industrial machinery at the rate of one half of 1%; and to increase the maximum tax on the sale or use of any single item to $7.50. All that portion of the one half percent additional tax allocated to the County is to be used solely for the construction, repair, renovation, and maintenance of school buildings.

Section 2. If a majority of those voting in the election required by Section 67-3053, TCA, vote for the increase in the tax imposed by this resolution, the collection of the increased tax levied by this resolution shall begin on the first day of the month occurring 30 or more days after the county election commission makes its official canvass of the election returns.

Section 3. The Department of Revenue of the State of Tennessee shall collect the additional tax imposed by this resolution concurrent with the collection of the state tax and the local tax now being collected for Lauderdale County, in accordance with rules and regulations promulgated by the said Department.

Section 4. The County Judge is hereby authorized to contract with the Department of Revenue for the collection of the additional tax imposed by this resolution, and to provide in said contract that the Department may deduct from the tax collected a reasonable amount of percentage to cover the expense of the administration and collection of said tax.

Section 5. A certified copy of this resolution shall be transmitted to the said Department of Revenue by the County Court Clerk forthwith and shall be published one time in a newspaper of general circulation in Lauderdale County prior to the election called for in Section 2 hereof.

State Of Tennessee County Of Lauderdale

I, Vernon McBride, Jr., County Court Clerk of Lauderdale County, Tennessee, hereby certify the above to be a true copy of a Resolution from the minutes of the Quarterly County Court of the County held on March 8, 1976.

Witness my official signature and the seal of the County, this 8th day of March, 1976.

VERNON MCBRIDE, JR., County Court Clerk

(SEAL)

NOTICE OF REFERENDUM QUESTION ON ADDITIONAL SALES TAX

We, the undersigned Commissioners Of Elections for Lauderdale County, Tennessee, as required by law, hereby give notice that pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Quarterly County Court of Lauderdale County, Tennessee, in its regular monthly session on the eighth day of March, 1976, the ballots for the Presidential Preference Primary to be held in every voting precinct of Lauderdale County, Tennessee, on will include a referendum question on imposing an additional 1/8% sales tax in said county, of which all that portion allocated to the county is to be used only for the construction, repair, renovation, and/or maintenance of public school buildings.

A complete text of the resolution as adopted by the County Court is published in this issue of this newspaper and is included by reference herein.

DRUG PROBLEM IS THREAT TO EVERYONE

The menace of drug abuse remains although much has been done to try to halt it. Some experts estimate over 50% of our teenagers have an urge to try drug experimentation.

People don't like to be told that teenagers pose the most critical drug abuse problem in this country. We like to think of drug abusers as hardened criminals, veterans of the underworld who are beyond assistance. This view makes inaction more justifiable, but facts don't lie, and the truth is that at least half of the nation's drug abusers are too young to vote!

Studies have shown that the most likely type of person to use drugs are the immature or childlike! They usually have a dependent personality, probably unsure, and afraid to meet life squarely. They are reluctant to grow up and assume an adult role.

Marijuana, besides alcohol, is probably the most popular drug of teenage abusers. Marijuana has no recognized medicinal use. It is generally smoked in cigarette form. The marijuana habit can change environment to the extent that companionship becomes limited to other users and outlets to "harder" drugs open as a result. Marijuana doesn't necessarily lead to heroin and other narcotics—but it interesting to note that almost all heroin and other hard narcotic users began with marijuana.

From the standpoint of criminal interests, marijuana is a good "starter" for recruiting youth.

Other drugs which are widely abused besides narcotics are LSD (acid), amphetamines (pep pills), and barbiturates (goof balls). It would be easy to skip alcohol in writing about drug abuse because it has been legalized and we can't blame it on the teenagers. However the truth is alcohol is unmatched by any drug in destroying lives and bringing misery to a large percent of our population. Approximately 40% of the beds in veterans hospitals and asylums are taken up by alcoholics. Besides killing themselves, alcohol users are responsible for a large percent of the deaths on our highways.

It is too bad that people who use drugs want others to use them also. They form groups in schools and colleges and try to make it sound interesting and exciting to others so they might become hooked also. There is no doubt that it does sound exciting at first but it isn't worth the price.

Throughout history drugs have had two functions. On one hand they have been screened and developed to help us guard our health and use our abilities to the fullest. On the other hand they have been misused to make segments of our population incapable of performing fully as human beings.

Drugs can help or harm. Before you try drugs take time to get the facts, take time to weigh them, and then convey the facts to others. If you do this, I don't believe you will misuse drugs.

I am very proud of our teenagers in Halls. While in many places there has been a lot of drug users and law violators we have been very fortunate here in that teenagers have acted with maturity and judgement. All of us, as adults, should be appreciative of OUR teenagers.

Brock Seeks Tax Changes

Citing the Federal Income Tax system as too complicated and unfair, Senator Bill Brock has introduced legislation to change the system and allow for higher standard deductions which should especially benefit the low and middle income citizen.

"The burden on the average American taxpayer has become unbearable. The complexity of filing income taxes is such that it now takes a college education to understand the form, much less fill it out properly. Secondly, the current income tax system is simply unfair to the average income American because those people are unable to claim itemized deductions, while those with higher incomes can," Brock pointed out.

"In addition, my measure would allow a taxpayer to take the standard deductions and also claim deductions for his interest payments on his home mortgage as well as for charitable contributions," the Senator stressed. "This is not possible under the present tax law." The legislation would also make permanent the increase in the low income allowance recently passed by Congress. It would also make permanent the simplification achieved in raising the standard deduction and low income allowance by permanently relating those figures to the cost of living.

"Through this means, we can begin to put an end to the roll-back effect in which the percentage of those families able to use the simplified short form falls as inflation cuts into the real value of the standard deduction. Millions of taxpayers are now caught in this confusing and wasteful system."

Senator Brock also noted that upon the original introduction of the standard deductions, 82% of those filing returns utilized it, but the figure has now fallen substantially. Additionally, he noted that many citizens are afraid of making mistakes in filing and yet cannot afford to hire accountants or tax consultants. Brock projected that the revenue loss to the Treasury created by his measure would be $6 billion, an amount less than the President's proposed tax reduction, but one which would benefit far more people—particularly those in low and middle income groups.

Brock also said tax simplification should become the number one priority for Congress this year.

Buildings Rising Near Compress

Construction is underway on two new buildings near Federal Compress on South Jefferson in Ripley.

Radio station WTRB is erecting a metal building at its transmitter, across the road from the compress, to house its office now above First Federal Savings and Loan on the west side of the downtown square.

South Central Bell Telephone Co. is constructing a large plant operations center just north of the compress, with R. A. Baxter & Son, Inc., of Covington, as general contractor.

MEETING CHANGED

Halls Garden Club will meet at 2 p.m. April 8th in First Baptist Church, a change from its regular meeting schedule.

NEW BEAN SEEDING METHOD

A Henry County farmer seeded six acres of growing wheat to soy beans on May 6, 1975. He seeded three bushels of Purcell beans per acre by airplane at 100 feet altitude, just after a heavy rain.

The wheat was very thick and yielded 52 bushels an acre.

The beans were very spindly and weak when the wheat was combined and he topped most of them about six to eight inches.

The beans grew rapidly after the wheat was removed, and 40 bushels per acre were combined Nov. 15th. No herbicide was used.

A similar experiment at Milan Field Station on Memphis silt loam soil used two bushels of Essex soy bean seed per acre. Fifty-two bushels of wheat were

Innovations Aid Potatoes, Beans

By Charles T. Peal
Jack Chambers, of Edith, long-time sweet potato grower, has, like the innovative individual he is, added a new dimension to his sweet potato growing operation this year.

With the aid of Extension information and Tennessee Valley Authority personnel, he has constructed sweet potato beds in which are installed automatic electric heating cables, ten inches apart, in 100-inch wide beds 80 feet long.

On top of the cables, he added two inches of sand. Electrically welded concrete wire was placed on top of the sand to protect the heat cables from above injury. Another three inches of sand were added, and the seed potatoes were placed on this. He added four inches of sand to cover the potatoes.

Jack placed soil thermometers, with their points as deep as the potatoes, in various locations in the bed.

He is aiming for temperatures between 70° and 80° Fahrenheit. The thermometers help him avoid guess-work.

When the potatoes begin to sprout, he will top dress the seedlings with 15-15-15 fertilizer to help get healthy, growing plants.

Over the top of the bed, Jack has used cheese cloth instead of the plastic he has used in the past. This cheese cloth prevents a high build-up of humidity in the bed and will allow growth of high quality slips.

On top of the bed, before the slips emerge, he has placed chicken wire to keep from pulling the potatoes up when the slips are pulled.

Before going to the field with the potato slips, Jack applies a material called Vernam for weed and grass control on a broadcast basis. He then beds his ground and sets the slips. This gives sufficient weed control until the plants shade the ground.

To control wire worms, he has had to change to a new material called Meron. This material, new on the market, prevents wire worms and nematodes.

By using a material called Meron, 3400 in which to dip seed potatoes, he has been better able to control rot and other diseases.

Halls Show Raises $300 For St. Jude

A talent show sponsored by University of Tennessee in Martin alumni, with Joe McCarthy as master of ceremonies, drew a capacity audience and raised an even $300 for the Push for St. Jude Hospital at Halls High School last Friday.

The money was presented to Alpha Phi Omega fraternity men as they arrived in Halls Monday, making their annual wheelbarrow push to Memphis and a half hour.

Williams Convicted In Ex-Wife's Death

Kenneth Ray Williams, 33, of Dyersburg, was found guilty Thursday of last week of second degree murder in the death June 13, 1975, of his ex-wife, Mrs. Barbara Ann Thompson, 31, whose body was found in the bedroom of her free-sweet frame home at Dry Hill.

A Circuit Court jury in Ripley returned the verdict at midnight after having heard 27 witnesses and having deliberated for three and a half hours.

Both Williams and Victor Thompson, the victim's husband of 18 months, held 3 p.m. to midnight jobs during which the fire occurred, but it was testified that Williams did not report for work that day.

The testimony of Donna Williams, 15, daughter of Williams and Mrs. Thompson, who was spending a month with her father at the time of the fire, conflicted with that of her father and stepmother on the time he arrived home that day.

Judge Herman L. Reviere overruled a motion by defense attorney Thomas Caldwell for a retrial on grounds that the evidence was wholly circumstantial.

Written trout applications will be filled at the Erwin, Flintville, Morristown, or Pellito State Fishery Stations in May and June each year.

The trout are about four inches long and are provided at the rate of 300 per acre.

Stocking in ponds smaller than 1/10th acre may not exceed 25 fish.

Water temperatures should not exceed 72° Fahrenheit during

U.S. SENATOR BILL BROCK WASHINGTON OUTLOOK

The recent spring like weather in Tennessee may be a blessing for hard put electricity consumers. Hopefully, less usage will prevent those huge electric bills which have been invading the pocket-books of most of us like an unwanted thief.

While in Tennessee recently, many people complained to me of tremendous jumps in their electric bills. One elderly lady, whose only income is her Social Security, received a bill a hundred dollars above the previous month's bill. That bill represented half of her total income for the month.

The people of Tennessee simply cannot afford to pay such outrageous bills. The frustration and anger directed toward the spiraling rates is evident. It also points out that most folks simply don't know where to turn to get help. There appear to be more bureaucratic roadblocks than there are roads.

One such roadblock may be the rate structure of the Tennessee Valley Authority. I have introduced a bill to set up a pilot rate program for those who can conserve energy to save money. It also would explore the advisability of peak load pricing and of so-called lifeline rates, as a means of providing low cost power to low income families.

Increasing rates are becoming a difficult problem for most Tennessee families. It is time that Congress realized that steps must be taken to help. TVA has been of great benefit to the Valley and it should continue to be. However, inflation coupled with ill-advised moves can price TVA out of range for the people of Tennessee.

Confidential Corner

by Henry Marchant

Random Thoughts

We probably will be en route home by the time this corner is published after a week's vacation with Chuck and his family at Springfield, Va., near Washington, D. C., where Chuck is press secretary for Tennessee Senator Bill Brock.

Since we first mentioned spending a week in Washington we have taken a great deal of kidding on whether or not we were going to Washington to straighten things out.

No way! In fact, we're of the opinion that Washington is hopeless until the citizens of the United States decide that there needs to be changes.

It seems to us that we, the people, are getting just what we want since we continue to vote for the officials who support deficit spending, high taxes, etc.

If the past we have screamed about Washington as do most other citizens but we have reached the conclusion that we have blamed the wrong people for what we must admit that a liberal news media, labor forces, minority groups, etc., are making a great effort to continue as we are going.

Bureaucracy is in control and will continue in control so long as we continue to support their efforts.

Changes can be made if we want them but we must first demonstrate that we do want those changes. Taxes cannot be reduced any great amount if we continue deficit spending.

The President of the United States, every member of the House of Representatives and one-third of the United States Senators will be up for election this year. Begin now to decide just what you want, listen to the men themselves—not news commentators—study their past records, and then decide just what you want.

Deserves Support

A move is underway to establish a public library in Halls. There can be no doubt that there is a great need for such an institution and every citizen should give the move their support. Some difficulty is being encountered in finding a suitable location and also concerning the financing. Any help or suggestions will be welcomed. Let's take advantage of this opportunity for a library here.

Cattlemen Weigh Face-Flay Control
By Charles T. Peal
Lauderdale cattle producers have been plagued with excessive numbers of face flies for the last three years.

This fly is a new pest and probably now number one in annoyance and injury to cattle. The fly feeds on the secretions of the eyes and nose of cattle.

Unfortunately for control measures, the fly spends a small amount of time on the cow, taking up fluids quickly and then flying off to a sheltered place, so the fly does not have extended exposure to any insecticide.

Substantial amounts of fly killer need to be applied to the animal in order to have any effect on the fly. A successful control program depends on action taken now to kill flies and prevent their hatching.

The organo-phosphate family of insecticides is reasonably effective against the face fly but needs to be applied to cattle on a daily basis to get best control.

Since spraying cattle is expensive and time-consuming, cattle producers have adopted the method of using various applicators to apply insecticides to the heads and faces of their cattle.

The most successful applicators, are positioned so cattle are forced to come in contact with them on a daily basis. Charles Carpenter has his back-rubber, with fly flaps attached, located in an opening through which his cattle must pass to get to water.

Experiments in 1975 with a group of Johnny Roberts' cattle proved that the back-rubber with fly flaps was the most effective method when the applicator was placed in the loafing areas.

Time To Spray Wheat
Farmers who have not already done so should spray wheat fields in order to control wild garlic.

Wheat should be well tillered, four to eight inches tall; 0.75 pounds (¾ quart) of low volatile ester 2,4-D should be applied per acre; at least 30 gallons of water should be used.

Warm temperatures (above 55 degrees) will be required for a few hours each day for a minimum of three days following application.

The addition of ¼ pint of surfactant per 30 gallons of solution will increase absorption and enhance garlic control.

Control Pond Algae
Ciba Geigy has recently received label clearance for the use of simazine (trade name, Aquazine) to control algae and submerged broad-leaf weeds in water.

This will provide the most broad-spectrum control of aquatic weeds of any herbicide now being marketed for that purpose in Tennessee.

Fonds and other weed-infested bodies of water should be sprayed in early summer before weed growth becomes too great, in order to lessen the danger of suffocation of fish due to the decaying plants.

Rates vary from ¼ to ¾ pounds of Aquazine per acre foot of water, depending on level of weed infestation.

Vegetable Price Correction
Robert Flagg, Jr., informs us he is paying 8¢ for untrimmed He for trimmed okra, rather than the amounts previously reported.

Avoid Farm Accidents
With the cropping season near, farmers and renters will be moving agricultural machinery over country roads.

Farm equipment is now well-lighted, and warnings devices, such as slowing moving vehicle emblems, are clearly displayed on them.

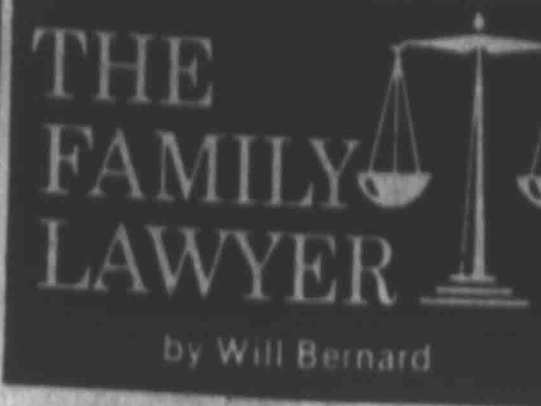

It is the responsibility of the equipment operator to pull off the road whenever possible to allow traffic to pass, make an effort to avoid heavily traveled roads, move the equipment during daylight, and obey all traffic rules.

It is the responsibility of motorists to avoid excessive speeds on roads containing many hills, dips, and curves so equipment can be seen in time to prevent accidents.

Entrapment

With skid row robberies on the rise, Officer Jenkins was assigned to play the role of a decoy drunk.

Dressed in tatters, he slumped against the wall of a downtown alley to await developments.

Sure enough, a man came along and went through his pockets. But when Jenkins placed him under arrest, the man called it foul play.

Afterward, in the courtroom, he accused the police of "entrapment." However, the court rejected this defense and found him guilty.

The court said the original intent-to-steal was already in his mind before he ever saw his supposed victim.

Entrapment is not a valid defense to a criminal charge merely because the defendant happened to be caught by a trick.

"Artifice and stratagem," the United States Supreme Court has said, "may be employed to catch those engaged in criminal enterprises."

Law enforcement officers may not only "play possum," as Jenkins did, but also take affirmative action in gathering their evidence.

For example: A postal inspector sent in a request for obscene pictures that had been advertised for sale. Again, in the trial that followed, the court held that the seller could not escape punishment on grounds of entrapment.

The inspector had given him the opportunity to commit the offense, said the court, but had not suggested the idea in the first place.

On the other hand, the law does object if the police plant the seed of criminality in an innocent mind. Suppose that a careless driver, halted by an officer, is told he can buy his way out with a $20 bill. If he hands over the money and is then arrested for bribery, he could indeed invoke the defense of entrapment.

As one judge observed, in depicting the misuse of temptation: "Human nature is frail enough at best."

What can Arcadian liquid do for the cotton farmer?

In one preplant application, Arcadian liquid can supply a custom fertilizer, prescription mixed according to a complete soil analysis. This means N-P-K and micronutrients such as boron, that each individual field needs to grow the most profitable cotton.

And, we can do it all in one shot. Even include herbicides so you can feed and weed cotton in one trip instead of two.

Liquid fertilizers made the SLF* way won't segregate out like bulk blended dry fertilizers do. They stay completely mixed and spread the same analysis uniformly over every acre.

If you grow cotton, or any other crop, you really should find out what Arcadian liquid can do for you. Stop in and see us today.

DRUG PROBLEM IS THREAT TO EVERYONE

The menace of drug abuse remains although much has been done to try to halt it. Some experts estimate over 50% of our teenagers have an urge to try drug experimentation.

People don't like to be told that teenagers pose the most critical drug abuse problem in this country. We like to think of drug abusers as hardened criminals, veterans of the underworld who are beyond assistance. This view makes inaction more justifiable, but facts don't lie, and the truth is that at least half of the nation's drug abusers are too young to vote!

Studies have shown that the most likely type of person to use drugs are the immature or childlike! They usually have a dependent personality, probably unsure, and afraid to meet life squarely. They are reluctant to grow up and assume an adult role.

Marijuana, besides alcohol, is probably the most popular drug of teenage abusers. Marijuana has no recognized medicinal use. It is generally smoked in cigarette form. The marijuana habit can change environment to the extent that companionship becomes limited to other users and outlets to "harder" drugs open as a result. Marijuana doesn't necessarily lead to heroin and other narcotics—but it is interesting to note that almost all heroin and other hard narcotic users began with marijuana.

From the standpoint of criminal interests, marijuana is a good "starter" for recruiting youth.

Other drugs which are widely abused besides narcotics are LSD (acid), amphetamines (pep pills), and barbiturates (goof balls). It would be easy to skip alcohol in writing about drug abuse because it has been legalized and we can't blame it on the teenagers. However the truth is alcohol is unmatched by any drug in destroying lives and bringing misery to a large percent of our population. Approximately 40% of the beds in veterans hospitals and asylums are taken up by alcoholics. Besides killing themselves, alcohol users are responsible for a large percent of the deaths on our highways.

It is too bad that people who use drugs want others to use them also. They form groups in schools and colleges and try to make it sound interesting and exciting to others so they might become hooked also. There is no doubt that it does sound exciting at first but it isn't worth the price.

Throughout history drugs have had two functions. On one hand they have been screened and developed to help us guard our health and use our abilities to the fullest. On the other hand they have been misused to make segments of our population incapable of performing fully as human beings.

Drugs can help or harm. Before you try drugs take time to get the facts, take time to weigh them, and then convey the facts to others. If you do this, I don't believe you will misuse drugs.

I am very proud of our teenagers in Halls. While in many places there has been a lot of drug users and law violators we have been very fortunate here in that teenagers have acted with maturity and judgement. All of us, as adults, should be appreciative of OUR teenagers.

Halls, Tennessee

OPEN HOUSE March 30, 7:30 P.M.

Come and see for yourself what the students of Grace Christian School are learning and doing. Have you asked some of these questions?—
How can you operate such a school?
Are regular academic subjects taught?
What kind of curriculum is used?
How many teachers do you have?
How many students can you accommodate?
Should I shelter my children?
Do my children really need the Bible?
How do you discipline children?
Is it too expensive?
These questions and many more will be answered IF YOU will take the time to investigate for yourself what Grace Christian School can do for your children.
We will begin registration March 30th for Kindergarten through Grade 12.

Important Notice To Dog Owners

All dog owners are hereby notified that "The Tennessee Anti-Rabies Law" as passed by the 1957 legislature and approved by the Lauderdale County Court will be enforced throughout the county.

All Dogs 3 Months of Age Must Be Vaccinated by A Veterinarian All Cats 3 Months of Age Must Be Vaccinated by A Veterinarian

This law requires that all dogs in the county be vaccinated by a licensed veterinarian and licensed at the County Trustee's office on or before the 1st day of June, 1976 and of each year thereafter, paying a county license fee of One Dollar ($1.00) for each dog owned, kept, or harbored.

The law also requires that a certificate of rabies vaccination in date must be presented at the time of getting license and that no license certificate shall be issued unless a certificate of rabies vaccination is produced for each dog to be licensed.

In order to help dog owners get their dogs vaccinated, the following vaccination clinics have been set up throughout the county and a charge of $2.50 for each dog vaccinated will be made by the veterinarian at these clinics. A rabies control officer will accompany the veterinarian to these clinics and all dogs can be licensed at these clinics. The rabies officer will be on duty full-time thereafter, picking up dogs without tags.

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON

Earlier this year, I briefly mentioned in this space the new approach President Ford is proposing in the awarding of federal funds to the states and cities for health programs. Generally, the President's proposal seeks to combine the Medicaid Insurance Program for the poor and 15 other categorical health programs into one annual grant for each state.

Administration officials tell us that the block grant plan, which would be set up in a manner similar to revenue sharing, would distribute federal health dollars to the states in a fairer way, enable states to set their own priorities, reduce red tape, and give states a stake in controlling rising health care costs.

When I mentioned this proposal earlier, its details had not yet been worked out. However, in recent weeks, the Administration has made its program known to the Congress. In addition to the Medicaid program, other federal programs to be considered under the proposal include grants for Community Mental Health Centers, grants for emergency medical services, for the construction of medical facilities, and several others.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare projects that the funding for such a program would reach $10 billion in fiscal year 1977 compared with total expenditures approaching $9.7 billion for this fiscal year. States would then receive grants from this fund based on Women Aided Cotton Industry Growth In U.S.

Women have made important contributions to America's cotton industry throughout its history. One of the first attempts to establish textile manufacturing in the South, for example, was made by a woman, Mrs. Frances Hamage, a South Carolina widow, began operation in 1789 of a cotton mill that was powered by mules on James Island near Charleston.

And it was a Georgia widow who suggested to Eli Whitney in 1793 that he turn his inventive talents to designing a cotton gin. Mrs. Catherine Greene, whose husband Nathaniel had been one of Washington's generals at Valley Forge, befriended Whitney when he came South looking for work.

The young inventor soon worked out a wire-toothed device to strip lint off cotton seed, but then ran into the problem of removing the lint from the wire teeth. Mrs. Greene is said to have picked up a brush used to remove the lint, and laughingly suggested this as a solution to the problem. The idea worked, and Mrs. Greene helped change the course of American history.

In the same year a woman in Rhode Island came up with another far-reaching idea: Hannah Wilkinson Slater, whose husband Samuel established the first successful cotton yarn mill in the United States, found she could make sewing thread by spinning wheels. Hannah's ingenuity led to establishment of the first cotton thread mill in America and made a vital contribution to clothing manufacture in this country.

Over The Long Haul Half a million pounds of cotton went into the 9.8-mile conveyor belt system that hauled sand and gravel to build California's Shasta Dam. The belt is said to be one of the longest ever made.

Ben Remembered Benjamin Franklin wrote to his wife from England in 1758 that he was bringing her "46 yards of cotton, printed curiously from copper plates, a new invention, to make bed and window curtains."

Historical First—Cotton growers of California's Imperial Valley shipped their first serious inroads in other parts of the Cotton Belt.

FIRST CAR OF COTTON FROM IMPERIAL VALLEY SHIPPED BY AMERICAN-MADE COTTON CAR AT ECCENTRO, CAL.

'Mechanical Marvels' Seem Slow Today

Some early-day cotton gins were rightfully considered mechanical marvels in their time. They turned out two or three bales a day—considerably more than the 50 pounds of lint that could be separated by hand in the pre-gin era, but considering the 10 pounds of bales that can be produced in an hour at some of today's "super" gins...

Because of the time it took to gin a farmer's cotton, he was given a receipt for the cotton currency, being passed from person to person to settle accounts or pay for new supplies.

Under Mississippi law, ginnermen were allowed four months to do the work and could keep 10 pounds of cotton for every hundred they ginned as a fee for their services.
