Beans Nearly Half Planted

By Charles T. Peal
Rain Monday interrupted soy bean planting with nearly half of the more than 140,000 acres expected in the county planted.

Warm days—74° at two inches soil depth May 22nd—should speed germination and improve the effectiveness of chemical weed control.

Frank Coughlan, of Durhamville, got little control from pre-emergence materials last year but expects better results this year.

Farmers here are increasing potash use on land low in lime. The University of Tennessee recommends 0-40-40 on soils low in phosphorus and potassium, but 2-year data from the Milan Field Station show a 15 to 20% increase in yield, for some varieties, from a 60-pound rate.

Many producers here are planting some Bedford beans, tolerant but not completely resistant to Race 4 nematodes.

Most producers plant two or more varieties to stagger combining.

Sam Williams is using a granular material, Nemaure, which sterilizes the soil area of the seed for a time, allowing root development before nematodes can attack. This is about the only such material approved for use now.

Beans are going into cotton acreage which did not get planted, because of wet weather and cool temperatures, and into corn acreage and newly cleared land—forecasting a record crop here.

Molybdenum Helpful
Molybdenum ups yields of beans on soils with pH values below 6.6—12 to 15 bushels per acre, U.T. reports, on soil of pH 5.4.

As pH levels exceed 6.0, average yields for both treated and untreated beans increase, while the difference between the two decreases.

This shows the need for lime when beans are grown under acid soil conditions.

Apply molybdenum to seed at 0.5 ounces per acre for soils with pH level of 6.5.

If beans are treated with a molybdenum-containing fungicide, which usually supplies 0.2 ounces of molybdenum per acre, enough molybdenum should be added to increase the total to 0.5 ounces.

Properly applied, both dry materials and oil-base liquids have been successful used as molybdenum sources.

Bugs Hit Vegetables
Robert Clark, of Forked Deer, reports red aphids on his tomato plants.

Cutworms, Mexican bean beetles, blister beetles, cabbage loopers, Colorado potato beetles, corn ear-worms, tomato fruit-worms, flea beetles, cabbage bugs, leaf hoppers, striped cucumber beetles, plant bugs, squash bugs, squash vine borers, slugs, and snails can be controlled in home gardens by using two tablespoons of 10% Sevin per gallon of water, sprayed on the tops and undersides of leaves.

Sevin is a safer insecticide, and the waiting period, once it is sprayed on vegetables, is one day to harvest.

Aphids are controlled by Malathion and Diazinon. Sevin is of no value.

Look around the growing tips of plants for aphids—either red or green of body.

They need to be controlled, because they suck the sap from the plant, delaying growth.

Sugar Hill Slates Summer Events

Lauderdale County's Junior Auxiliary (Petitioning) will sponsor these events at Sugar Hill, Lauderdale County Library:

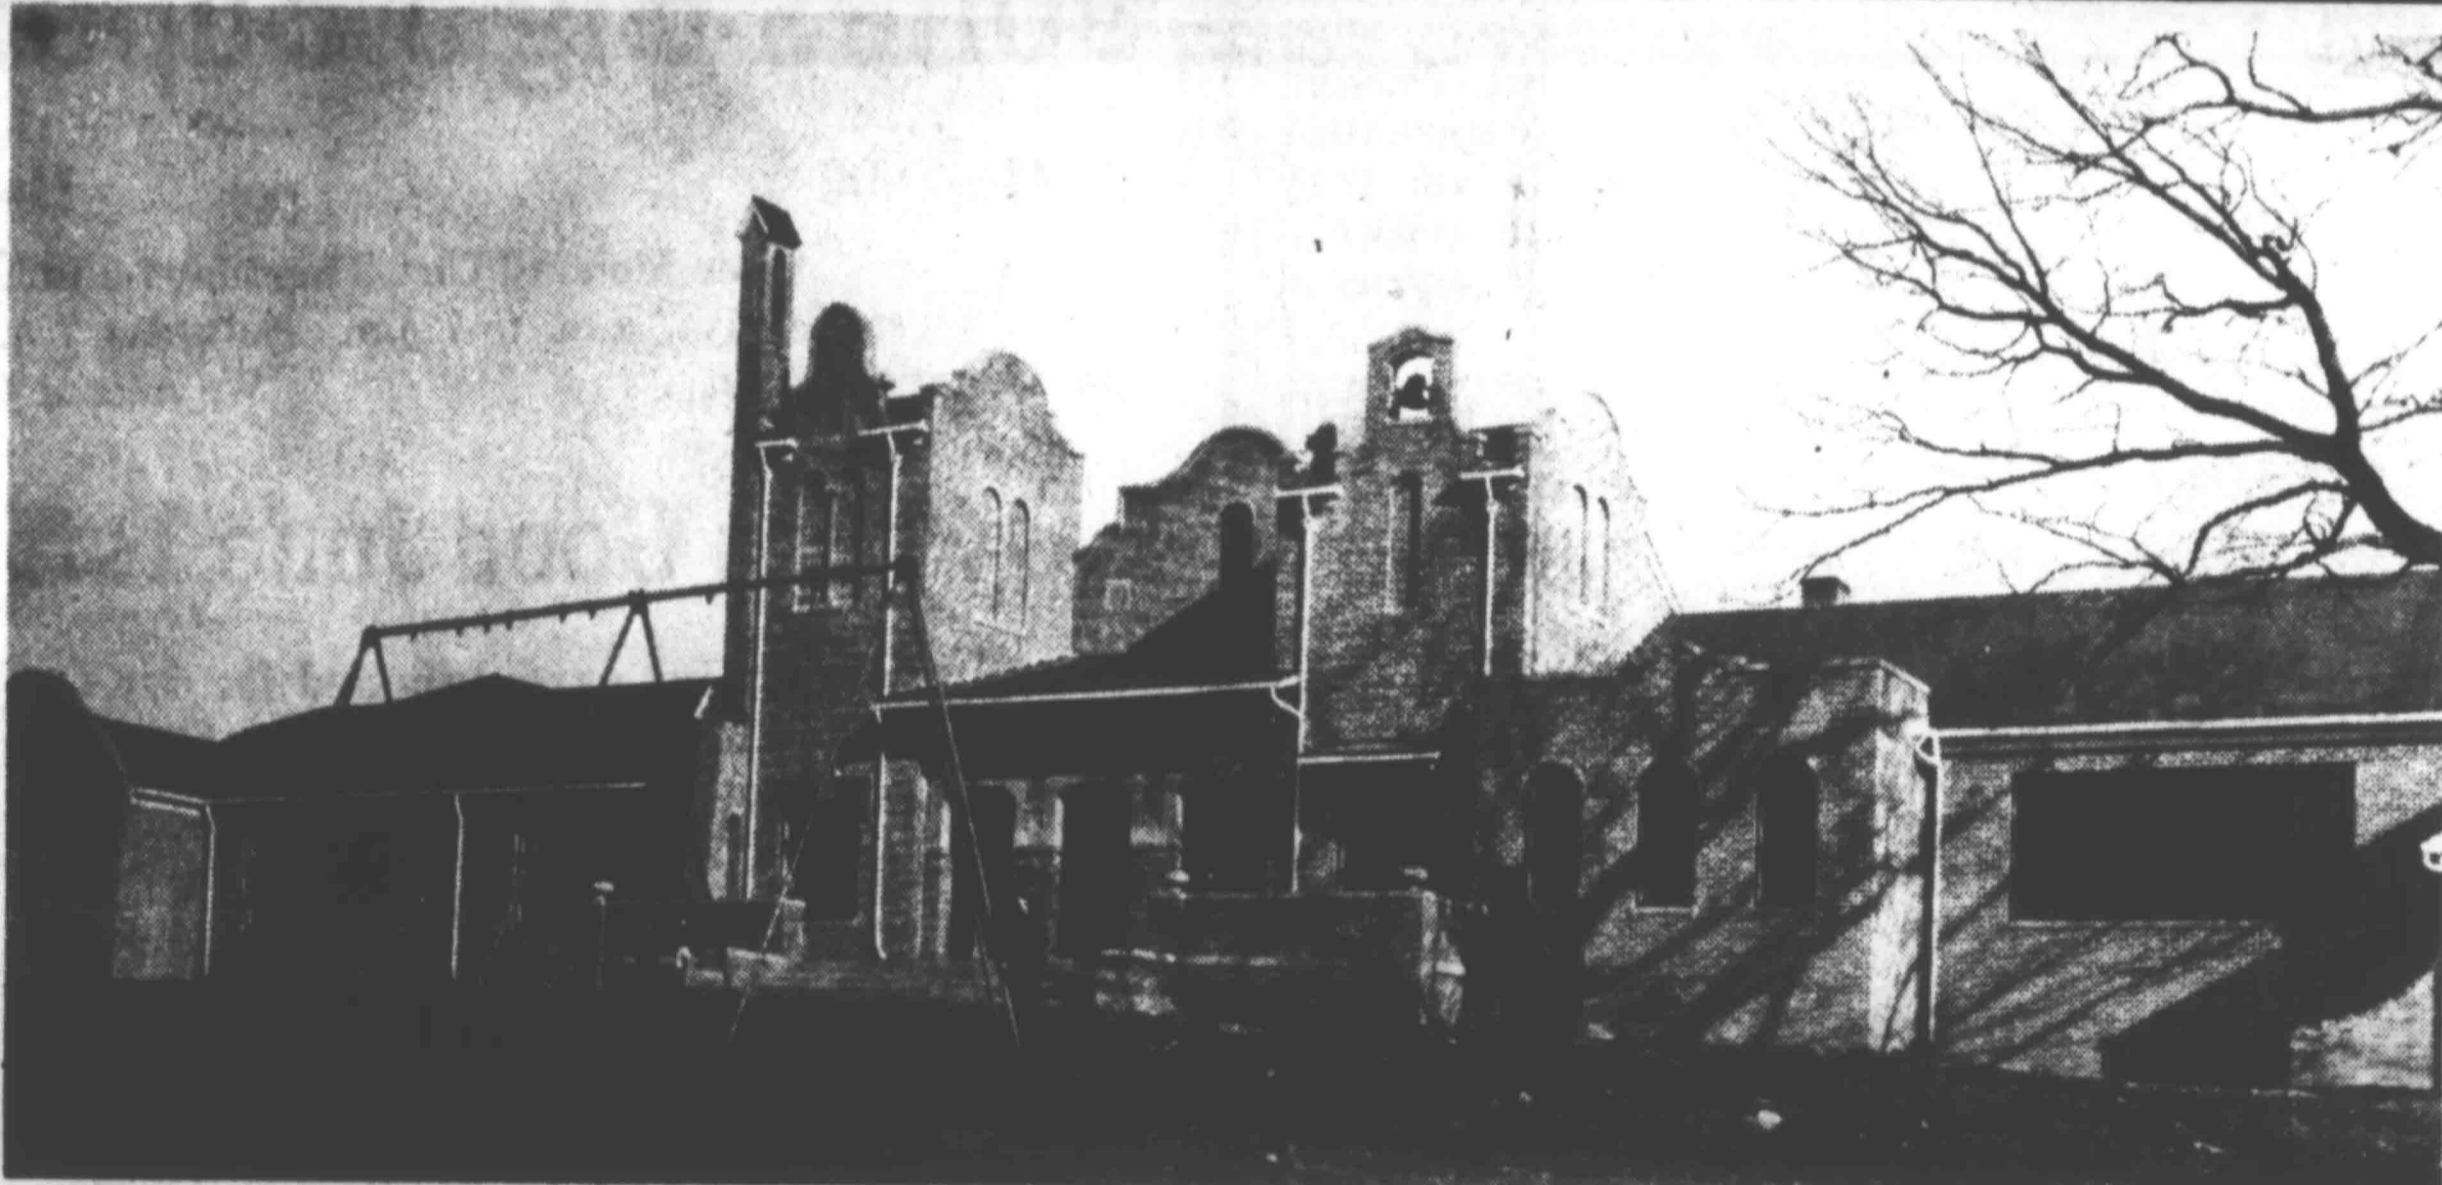

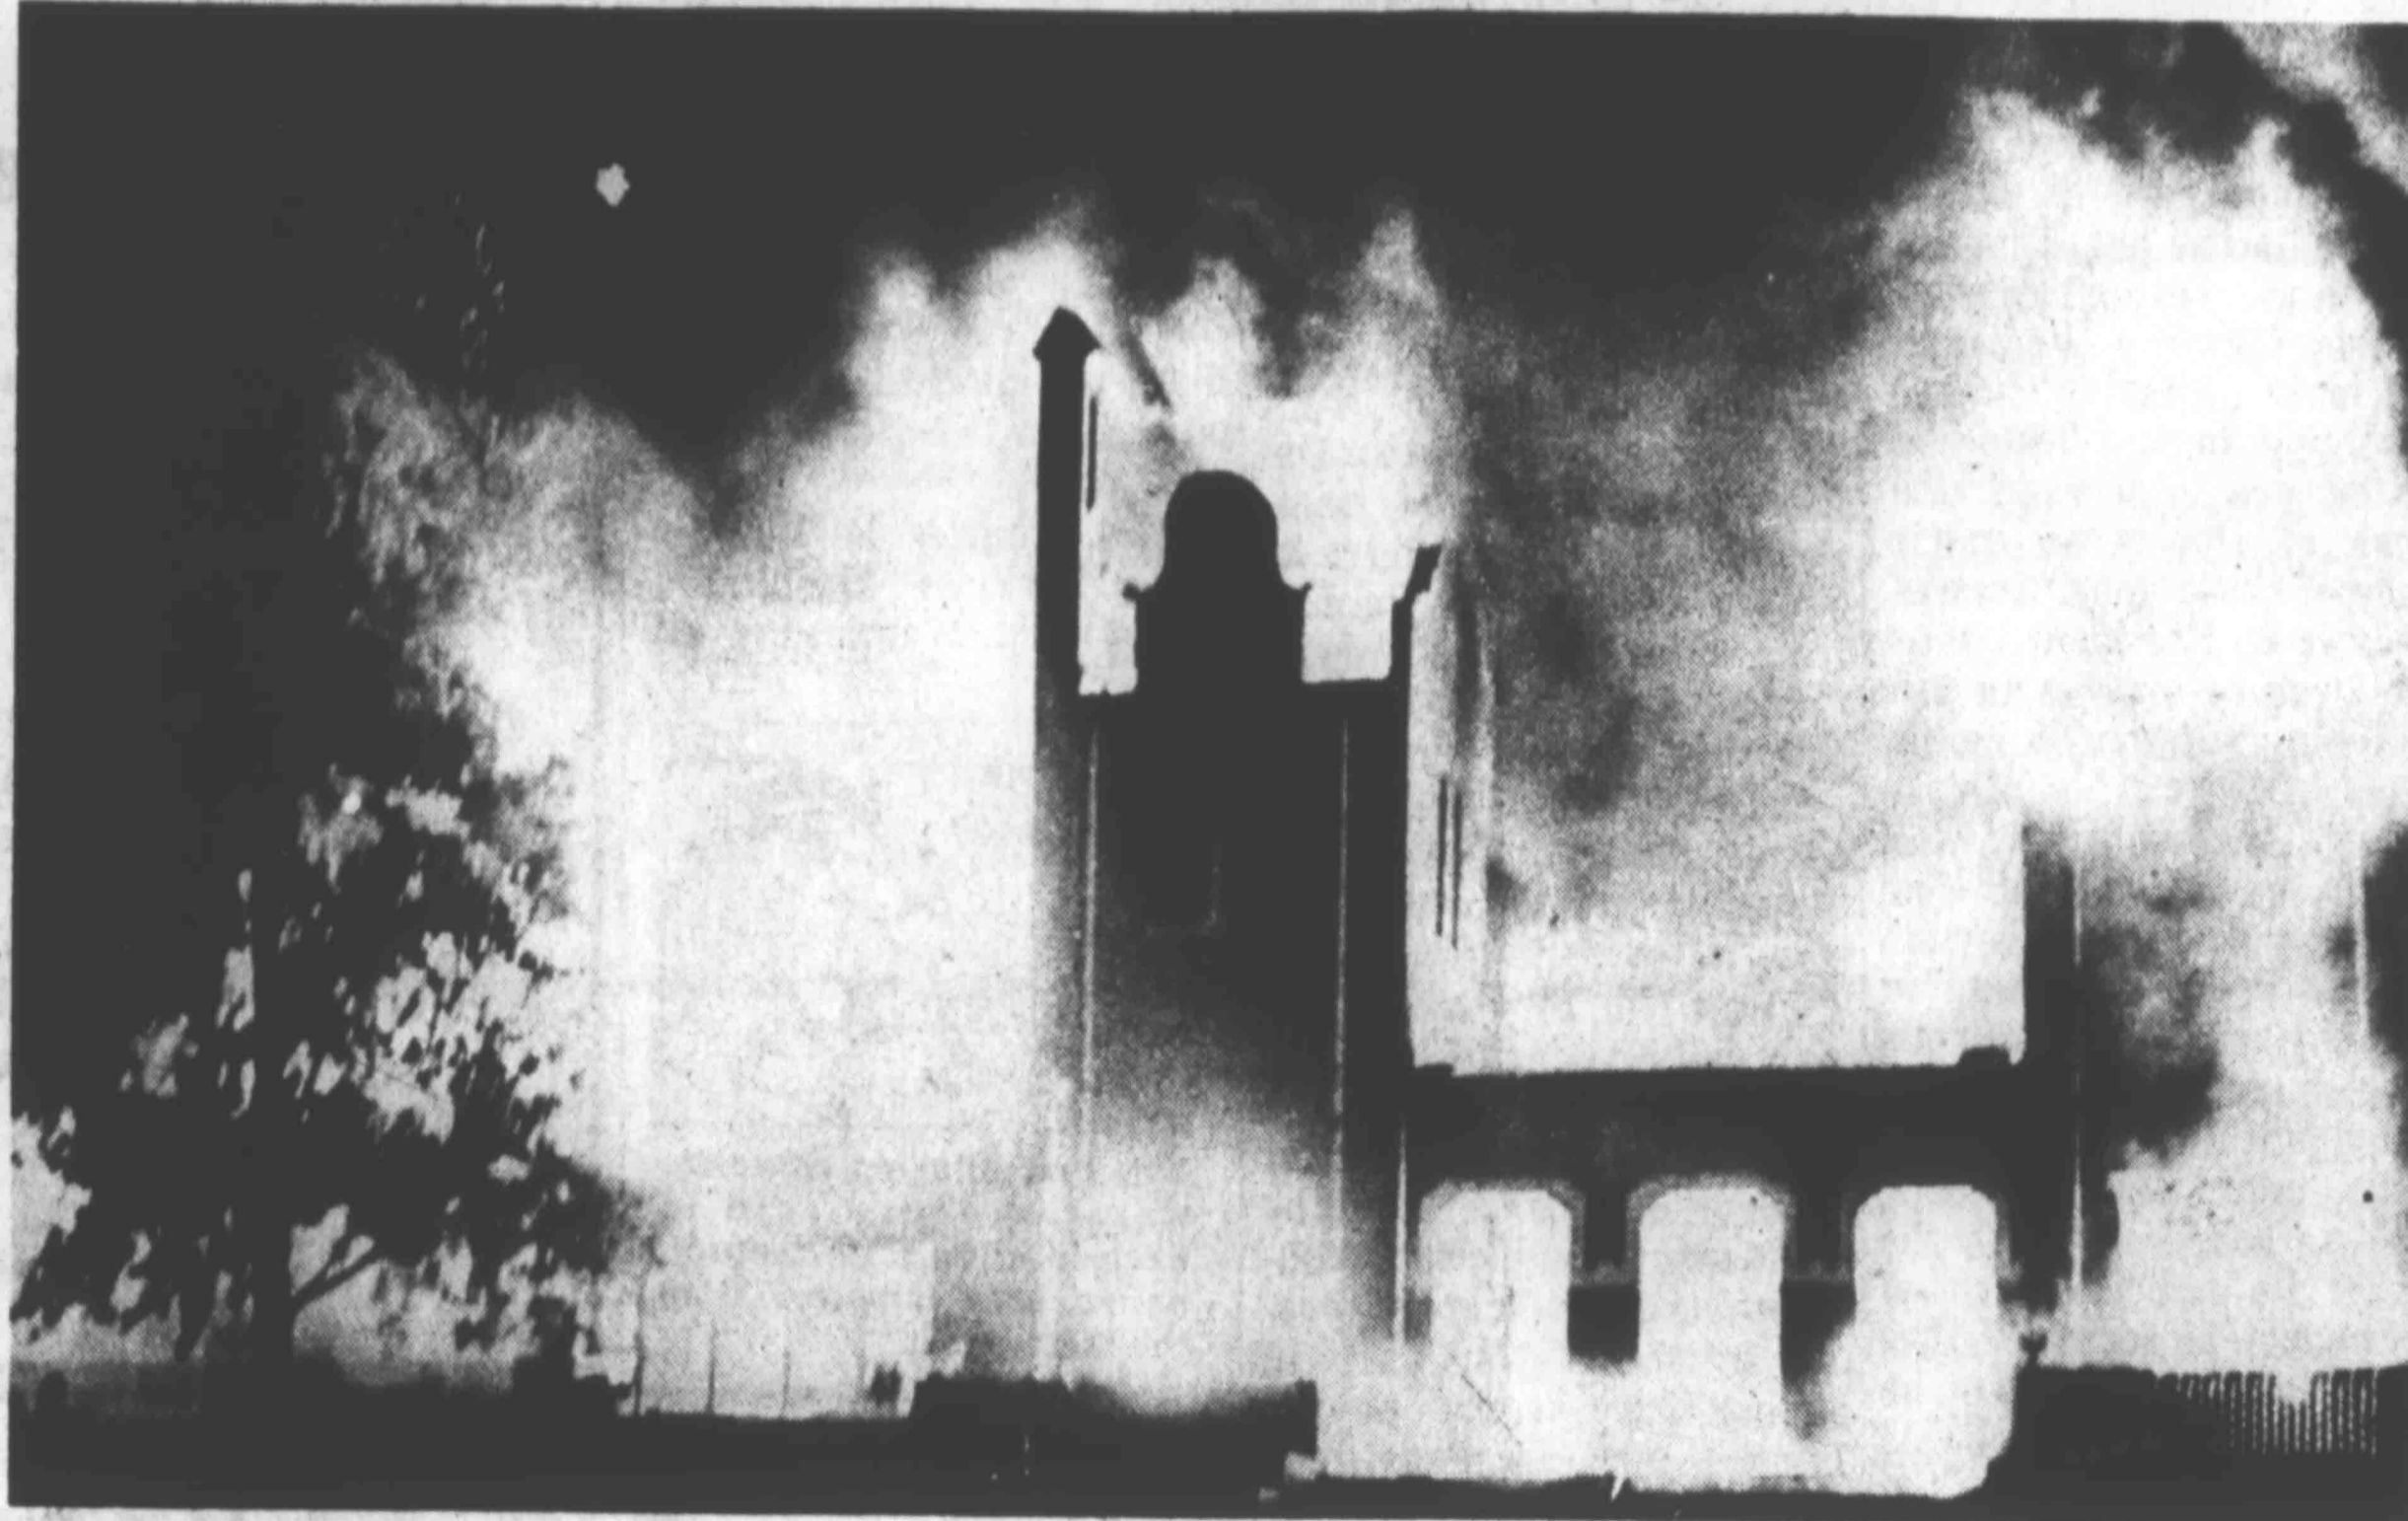

For fourth, fifth, and sixth graders—film and story hour, 10 to 11 a.m. each Monday, beginning June 5th.

For junior and senior high school students—film at 1 p.m. each Monday, beginning June 5th.

For ages 3 to 5—film and story hour from 10 to 10:30 a.m. each Thursday, beginning June 8th.

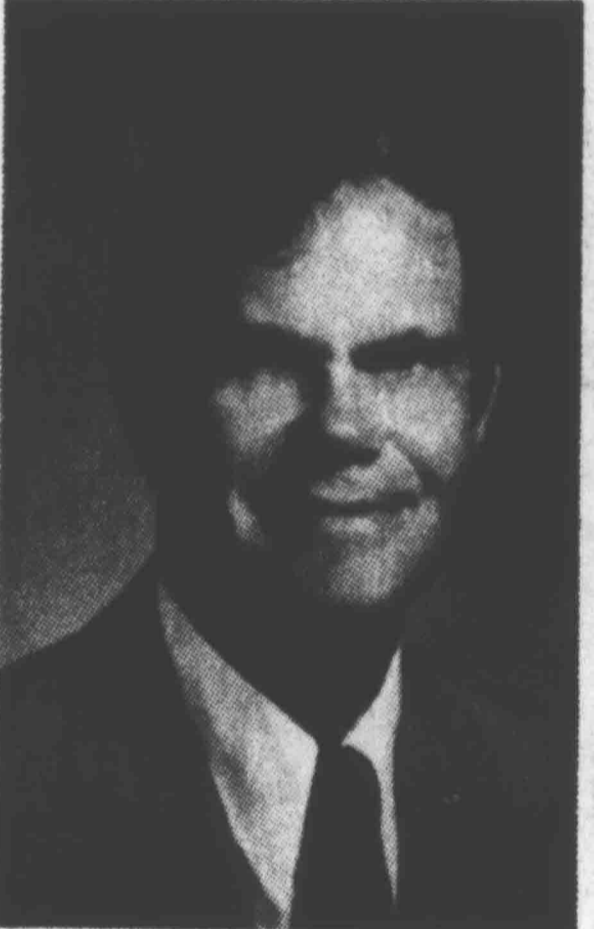

For first through third graders—film and story hour from 11 to 11:45 a.m. each Thursday, beginning June 8th.

Blaze Claims Primary School

RIPLEY PRIMARY SCHOOL, believed to have been struck by lightning, was engulfed in flames when two fire trucks arrived at 9 p.m. Monday. Little of the 15-classroom building, which had three more make-shift classrooms in the auditorium/gymnasium, was saved, but five temporary buildings, housing two classrooms, two special education classes, and the library were not destroyed. School Supt. O. R. Taylor estimates replacement value of the building, opened in 1930 (lower photo) as a grammar school, at $750,000 to $850,000; it was insured with Jamison and Fisher, of Covington, for $321,000, plus $73,000 for contents. The Board of Education now faces the problem of where the school's 544 first through third graders go next fall.

IN SENATE BID

LYLE REID, Brownsville attorney, is seeking the Democratic nomination for State Senator from the 27th District—Lauderdale, Dyer, Crockett, Haywood, and Tipton Counties—in Aug. 3rd balloting.

A graduate of Haywood County public schools and of the University of Tennessee College of Business Administration and College of Law, he has practiced in Brownsville since 1963. Married, he has two daughters.

"The General Assembly has become in recent years the dominant branch of state government," he says. "During the 4-year Senate term, the person elected Senator will consider many issues of great importance, including appropriation of state funds, reapportionment of the U.S. House of Representatives, interest rates, organization of local governments, and other legislation made necessary by the recent amendments to the State Constitution.

"I have served as General Sessions Judge, county attorney, assistant state attorney general, delegate to the 1965 Constitutional Convention, and State House of Representatives member.

"I have been an officer in the Tennessee Bar Association House of Delegates, a member of the Appellate Court Nominating Commission, and a member of the Criminal Rules Commission. I

Crain Asks House Seat

Floyd H. Crain, Ripley pharmacist, is seeking the Democratic nomination for the 79th District state house seat, representing Haywood and Lauderdale Counties in the primary Aug. 3rd.

"I am looking forward to campaigning for this office," he says. "I feel the voters of the 79th District desire a change, and after much thought and encouragement from friends, I have decided to throw my hat in the political arena.

"Through my profession, I meet people every day and have the opportunity to discuss the issues that are confronting them. They are seeking solutions to problems regarding state government that I feel I can help solve by representing them in the state house.

Crain, 48, was born in Lauderdale County. He and his wife, the former Joann Biggs, are active in local church and civic affairs.

"I believe that because of my education and experience, I am qualified to represent the people of this Senate District.

"I also believe my reasons for wanting to serve as State Senator are good. I am young enough to be excited by the challenges of the office and old enough to resist political expediency. A Senator who represents his district well will not always be popular. Many important decisions are not clear cut but are hard choices between unpopular alternatives.

"If elected, I expect to make all decisions, easy and difficult, in the best interests of this district and of the State of Tennessee. I will consider carefully the opinions and the advice of everyone, but I am not and will not become, controlled by any group or special interest.

"I solicit the vote and support of all citizens, and, if elected, I pledge my best efforts toward responsible, economical, and efficient state government."

Coffman Given Honor Degree

Marshall Lynn Coffman, grandson of Mrs. Fay Coffman, of Gates, and of Mrs. O. D. Hendren, of Lauderdale County Nursing Home, received a bachelor of science degree in mathematics magna cum laude May 21st from Lambuth College in Jackson.

He has been a member of Lambda Iota Tau, international literature honor society, the Gamma Beta Phi Society, and Omicron Phi Tau, scholastic honor fraternity.

He resides in Ripley and are the parents of three children, Steven Biggs, a senior in the University of Tennessee, Temple Ann, a senior in Ripley High School, and Ellen Harrell, a freshman in Ripley High School.

Crain is the owner of Crain's Pharmacy in Ripley. He is a member of the administrative board and a trustee of the First Methodist Church in Ripley.

Long active in civic and business affairs, Crain, is a director of the Farmers Union Bank and First Federal Savings & Loan in Ripley.

He attended Memphis State University and was graduated from the University of Tennessee College of Pharmacy in 1951. He is a past president of the University of Tennessee National Alumni Association. He is immediate past chairman of the Annual Giving Committee for the University of Tennessee, which has raised more than $1,000,000 for the university.

He is a past president of the Ripley Exchange Club, the 15th District Pharmacy Association, the Ripley Rotary Club, and the Ripley Chamber of Commerce.

He is a member of the National Association of Retail Druggists, the National Pharmaceutical Association, and the Tennessee Pharmaceutical Association and won that association's King of Courtesy Award in 1977.

He is a member of the Masonic Lodge, the Shrine Club, and the Ripley Stock Club. He served as a first lieutenant in the Army Medical Corp.

County's Utility Tax Income Slashed 16%

Under pressure from a federal court suit by railroads and South Central Bell, the State Board of Equalization has cut assessments of public utilities' property in the state by $76,750,950.

The cut includes $1,287,942 dropped from Lauderdale County assessments—about 16% of the total public utility assessments in the county.

The cut means a tax loss to the county and its cities of $52,573.34, according to estimates prepared by the state Public Service Commission. This is about 4.5¢ of the county tax rate.

If the railroads and telephone company win further relief in federal court, the loss could run to five times that amount, the Public Service Commission estimates.

The utilities sued to protest appraisal of their properties at 100% of fair market value, when other properties in the state are appraised at an average 63%, ranging from 23% in some counties to 89% in others.

District Judge L. Clure Morton, of Nashville, upheld the protest, ordering the Board of Equalization to use either the 63% figure state-wide or the percentage in each county. The board used each county's figure.

The state is considering an appeal of the ruling and is holding up certification of even the reduced assessments until a decision is taken on appealing.

Haley Is Halls Pulpit Choice

The Rev. James R. Haley, who has been pastor of Garland-New Salem Churches in Tipton County, was named Wednesday by the Memphis Conference of the United Methodist Church to succeed The Rev. Russell Reid as minister of First Methodist Church in Halls.

The conference made no other changes in Methodist ministers in this county.

Child Drowns In Farm Pond

BODY OF LILLIE MAE LEWIS, 12, is removed by Rescue Squad members at 9:15 p.m. Sunday from a pond in which she drowned on the former Barfield farm, owned by Walter Caldwell, about four miles west of Ripley. Her brother, James, one of several children walking on mud at the pond, cannot swim but tried to reach her with a long stick and then by using a floating ball, but failed. She was found in eight feet of water. She leaves her mother, Mrs. Bessie Mae Lewis, of Poplar Grove Road. Stewart Funeral Home, of Millington, has charge of services.

ED JONES

7th DISTRICT OF TENNESSEE

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON

President Carter now has under consideration several potential nominees for appointment to the Tennessee Valley Authority Board of Directors. These appointments to fill two vacancies on the board may be the most important appointments the President will make as far as the people living in the Tennessee Valley are concerned. Because of the great importance of these appointments, I contacted President Carter last week to express to him my feelings on these appointments.

Most importantly, I feel that TVA has lost sight of its original purpose to a certain extent. It seems that, in recent years, TVA officials have become more concerned with financial statements and balance sheets, and less concerned with the impact its policies have on the people it serves. I certainly don't mean to be overly critical of TVA. Having grown up during the period TVA has developed the valley, I am convinced that its work has been a major factor in the economic development and growth we have seen in the last forty years.

My primary concern over TVA is and can remain an example for other power companies to imitate, but the changes President Carter is considering for TVA should go much deeper than just an increase in research or additional power programs. It must also include a change in attitude among the leadership that will reflect a keen awareness of the unique position TVA maintains in the Valley. The leadership must also recognize the special responsibility it has to the people as keepers of the public trust.

The present Chairman, David Freeman, seems, at this point, to be an excellent choice for that position. I have talked with him on several occasions; most recently, I discussed the TVA rate increase. I think he understands the tremendous impact TVA policies have on people in its service area. I am hopeful that the two new board members will share that same understanding.

President Carter faces a very complex task in making these appointments. I hope that the two new board members will share that same understanding. The last wild horse breed discovered in the 1800s by Russian explorer Nikolai Przewalski, was named for him.

State Regent Is Guest At DAR Meeting

Key Corner Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held its annual luncheon May 23rd at Dyersburg Country Club with State Regent Mrs. Wallace Berryman, of Mt. Pleasant, as a special guest.

Mrs. Charles R. Viar, chapter regent, presided as the chapter welcomed members of the Fort Pudhomme Chapter, of Ripley, and other invited guests.

Mrs. Russell Moore read the President General's message and Mrs. Rainey Webb led in the reading of the American Creed. Mrs. Tom Banks, chaplain, led the ritual. The group followed with the National Anthem.

Prior to the luncheon of handkerchief chicken pie, broccoli, fresh fruit salad, and icebox strawberry pie, Mrs. Berryman was presented an orchid corsage from the chapter. Mrs. Viar was given a rose corsage by the hostesses, Mrs. Quintard Glass and Mrs. James Tyson, both of Newbern, Mrs. O. J. Nunn and Mrs. Neil Dyer.

The tables were centered with lovely arrangements of roses with each place marked with a rose and cornflower tied with a pink ribbon. Many of the roses came from the gardens of Mrs. Hays Hollar and Mrs. Parks Tigrett, Jr., both of Newbern.

Mrs. Neil Dyer who attended the Continental Congress last April in Washington, D. C. along with Mrs. Glass, gave a report of the meeting and presented a number of resolutions passed at the Congress affirming the stand of DAR on many issues.

After her talk, Mrs. Dyer presented Mrs. Berryman with a check for her scholarship fund.

Mrs. William G. Spence, program leader, introduced Mrs. Nancy Oar, Memphis interior decorator. Mrs. Oar showed a hand-made oriental rug, harmonizing materials for curtains, drapes, and upholstery, and accessories for a formal living room. She said that with normal wear the rug should last 200 years.

She then showed a machine-made oriental design rug with materials and accessories for a family living room, stating that the rug should last 100 years.

Dear Friends: On August 3rd, you will again have the opportunity to cast your vote to elect the Sheriff of Lauderdale County. Unlike previous sheriffs, the person you elect will serve a four year term. Therefore, it is critical that each voter be well informed and concerned for the future of our county. As you are making your decision, I would like for you to think about the following questions:

How long has it been since we pulled a drunk and his car out of the creek on Highway 19 West?

Have you noticed a difference in the safety of our highways?

Those of you who live in Henning, have you noticed a difference in the activities on the lane?

Have you noticed that taverns now close at Midnight Saturday through Sunday?

Are you now able to drive around on Sunday without fear of drunks?

Do you want a sheriff who treats people equally under the law, regardless of a person's influence, position, race, financial status, or do you want to pick and choose and obey only the laws that suit your personal interests?

WHERE DO WE DRAW THE LINE?

Have you heard it said that this sheriff is running need of revenue out of the county? Are you aware that even though the beer sales are closed on Sunday, the figures in Mr. McBride's office show an increase of approximately $5,000.00 in beer revenue my first year in office and the current figures indicate they will far exceed that figure this year? This is due largely to a decrease in illegal liquor sales.

How many of us say a prayer for our county? Our county and what goes on in our county needs some serious thoughts and some serious prayers.

Politics is primarily a struggle for power among groups. We have such a group now in the makings. What will you, the voters, do about it?

You will hear and have

JOE B. O'STEEN

Paid For By Joe B. O'Steen

heard in the past many political lies about this sheriff and his staff. Like a drowning man grasping at straws, this is all they have to hold on to. I have served the people of this county to the best of my ability. Remember, I have always had an open door policy and invite any of you to ask me any question and I will answer them truthfully.

At times I thought seriously about not running for sheriff again, even after qualification. However, in talking with different people, it was pointed out to me that I was not being fair to those who supported me. It would be like building a bridge half way across a river—it will not get you across. Also, as I studied the field of candidates and placed the question "Why is this man running for sheriff?" by the side of each candidate's name, I did not like the answer I saw. If a candidate will knowingly and intentionally break the law himself, he is not worthy of your vote or the oath of the office of Sheriff of our great county. He is tainted before he starts.

Friends, we have our work cut out for us. We need to stick together. Our opposition is well-organized and will go to any extreme to defeat us. They will stick together. This should be obvious to you. In the last election they said that there were not enough good people interested in this county to elect a Christian sheriff. You showed them that you did care enough. What about now? Are we united? Do we care enough this time? WE MUST.

Our county has made a lot of changes in the past two years that we can be proud of. Your vote on August 3rd, your prayers, and your support will help our county moving in the right direction. We have a good start toward having a decent county to live in and for our children to grow up in. Let's work hard, pray hard, stick together, and get the job done.

IN SHERIFF RACE

BILLY JOE CHILDRESS formally announced this week as a candidate for a 4-year term as sheriff in the general election Aug. 3rd.

"I feel like the citizens of Lauderdale County deserve a man in the sheriff's office that will enforce the law equally among all people," he says. "I think a sheriff can be too strict or too loose. I believe the sheriff's office needs to be run with a lot of common sense."

"I do not consider myself running against any of the other candidates. I am seeking this office for what I consider to be the best for all the people of Lauderdale County."

"I want you, the citizens of the county, to know what to expect when I become sheriff. First of all, we are going to have law and order. I will work hard to catch and punish the people that are selling dope in that county, regardless of who they are. I also want to clean up the drunk drivers from our county highways. They are a threat to everyone's life."

"I will serve all papers that come to my office immediately, but while doing so, I will respect all parties involved."

"I will be a sheriff that anyone in this county can talk with. In my department you can expect to see one of the best group of deputies, both black and white, that has ever been put together in this county. Each section of the county will be represented."

"I will work hard with my men to catch and prosecute any and all thieves in this county."

"I will work with all other law enforcement officers of this county. I feel by working together we can accomplish much more."

"I will not tell anyone where to go or what place to patronize. I will keep our county safe and decent for anyone to go anywhere at any time they desire. I believe this is being a good and fair sheriff. This is the way I would like to be treated."

"I will work with the young people in any way that I can. I will have respect for their wants and needs as long as they abide by the law."

"I will make you a sheriff that all of you can be proud of if you believe as I do, then I need your help."

SAVERS NOW ABLE TO EARN HIGHER INTEREST RATES

HERE'S HOW:

Savers at First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Lauderdale County will be able to earn a compounded interest rate of 8.24 per cent on long term deposits, starting June 1. Association Executive Vice-President M. Dale Bruner announced today.

To earn the full rate, savings must be left on deposit for terms of eight, nine, or ten years, and interest left to accumulate.

The new certificates are being sold in denominations of $1,000 or more. The certificates are federally insured up to $40,000.

Mr. Bruner said the new savings account interest rate was authorized by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board on May 11.

The eight to ten year certificates will carry an eight per cent stated interest rate, but with quarterly compounding, the effective annual yield is 8.24 per cent, if interest is left in the account.

The longer term certificates will also be helpful to home buyers because they will enable the association to stretch the terms of some savings capital, matching more closely the long terms of most mortgage loans.

He said certificate holders may withdraw earnings without penalty at any time. Deposits can also be withdrawn before maturity, but subject to an interest penalty required by federal regulations. The withdrawn deposits would earn interest at 5 1/4 per cent, less 90 days interest.

VOLUME 84—NUMBER 24

Court Shuns 47.8% Tax Hike

Green Light Given New Bank

NEW 'LAUDERDALE COUNTY BANK' IN HALLS, received Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation approval Friday and will begin work in the next few days on this building, designed by Hart, Freeland, and Roberts, of Nashville, architects, to be erected on the corner of Watkins and South Church.

Schools, Roads Alone Ask That
In their third monthly meeting before those who manage re-election are turned into "county commissioners," and in their last monthly meeting before they must, by law, set the real estate tax rate for 1978, County Court magistrates Monday voted unanimously against a 47.8% increase requested only by two departments of county government—the Board of Education and the Highway Commission.

The magistrates who hiked the rate 6.8%, from $2.50 to $2.67, for 1976 only with a 2-vote majority in their third roll call, in an adjourned session, voted 22-3 for an 11.25% increase last year, to $2.97, with two-thirds of the increase going to schools. But they were clearly appalled Monday at school and highway fund requests which alone would up the rate $1.42, to $4.39 per $100 assessment—without providing any increase for other county departments faced with steadily mounting payroll taxes, utility and insurance costs, postal charges, and other expenses beyond their control.

'Life Or Death' Issue
"It will have to be a life or death matter before I will vote for a tax increase," said Magistrate James L. Jones, of Halls.

Welcomed

THE REV. JAMES R. HALEY, new pastor of Halls United Methodist Church, and his family will be honored with a reception at 6 p.m. Sunday in the church. A native of Hayti, Mo., Mr. Haley is a four year veteran of the Air Force, attended Lambuth College in Jackson, and was graduated from Memphis Theological Seminary in 1976. He has been pastor of Andrews Chapel and Oak Grove, near Jackson and associate pastor and youth director in St. James Methodist Church in Memphis and came to Halls from Garland, N. W. Salem Churches at Covington. The Haleys have three daughters, Genia, 12, Amy, 10, and Christy, 7. They occupied the Methodist parsonage on North Church St. Thursday of last week. The public is invited to attend worship services and the reception.

Bean Planting Running Late

By Charles T. Peal
Wet field conditions hindered soybean planting in the county last week, and the excessive moisture Green of recent weeks Scene has made weeds and grass such a problem that herbicide control methods are in use on a large scale.

One month ago, farmers here never thought they would be hard pressed to plant beans by June 15th. It now appears many will not finish planting until the end of the month, maybe later.

Soybeans planted after June 15 yield less, because the amount of light and day length needed near maturity is not sufficient.

Tomato producers have faced still another "unusual spring." Cat-faced tomatoes on the first fruit cluster, the highest money maker, are common in many fields, caused by cold soil and cool, damp weather.

Otherwise, tomatoes are growing well and fruiting fast. Some producers feel this county's tomatoes may peak when the Arkansas crop is on the downgrade, thus providing a substantial market. Time will tell.

Corn is a "greasy black" color, benefiting from moisture and high rates of fertilizer. Some producers used nearly 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre.

Prospects for this crop look excellent now, especially in view of the fact the corn belt states did not get fully planted. The alfalfa harvest was a fiasco for some farmers here, when rains caught the crop on the ground. Though it was raked regularly, its quality was lowered considerably before the opportunity to bale.

3 Sentenced On Guilty Pleas

Circuit Judge Herman L. Reviere Tuesday sentenced three defendants pleading guilty.

Robert Junior Pirtle, to burglary and breaking into a vending machine at Reviere's Laundromat in Ripley, 11 months, 29 days, suspended except first four months, $5 fine.

Richard Vandergriff, to attempt to commit a felony, six months suspended on restitution of $500 to James Harris, $5 fine.

Curtis Porter, to joy riding, six months with credit for West Tennessee State Hospital time.

Judge Reviere ordered $40 of $140 seized by Sheriff Joe B. O'Brien in gaming arrests at Arp March 8th paid to Paul E. Dew, attorney for twelve Ripley men charged in the raid.

The remaining $100 had been contributed to a charity.

Convened At Opryland

to out-distance other counties in acreage, with 48,000 acres.

Pecan Galls Appear
Pecan galls are a new problem for George Crabb. Last week, he noticed these hard green growths on the leaves and ends of twigs. Cutting them open, he found a small worm.

This gall results when the tree makes a fleshy growth over the spot at which the insect has laid its egg. This problem usually occurs to a greater degree in cool, damp weather. Normally, it is no problem to the fruit development, nor will it damage the tree. When the galls appear, it is too late for control methods.

Land Use Priorities
Farm leaders in this county made decisions on the degree of importance of soil conservation practices in a meeting last week, conducted through the Soil Conservation District—part of a nationwide survey.

Bissell Makes County Visit

Keith Bissell, 36, Oak Ridge attorney, Thursday of last week brought his campaign for the state Public Service Commission to this county.

Formerly director of the transportation rate division of the Commission, he has since served four 2-year terms as state representative and has for four years headed the House Labor and Consumer Affairs Committee.

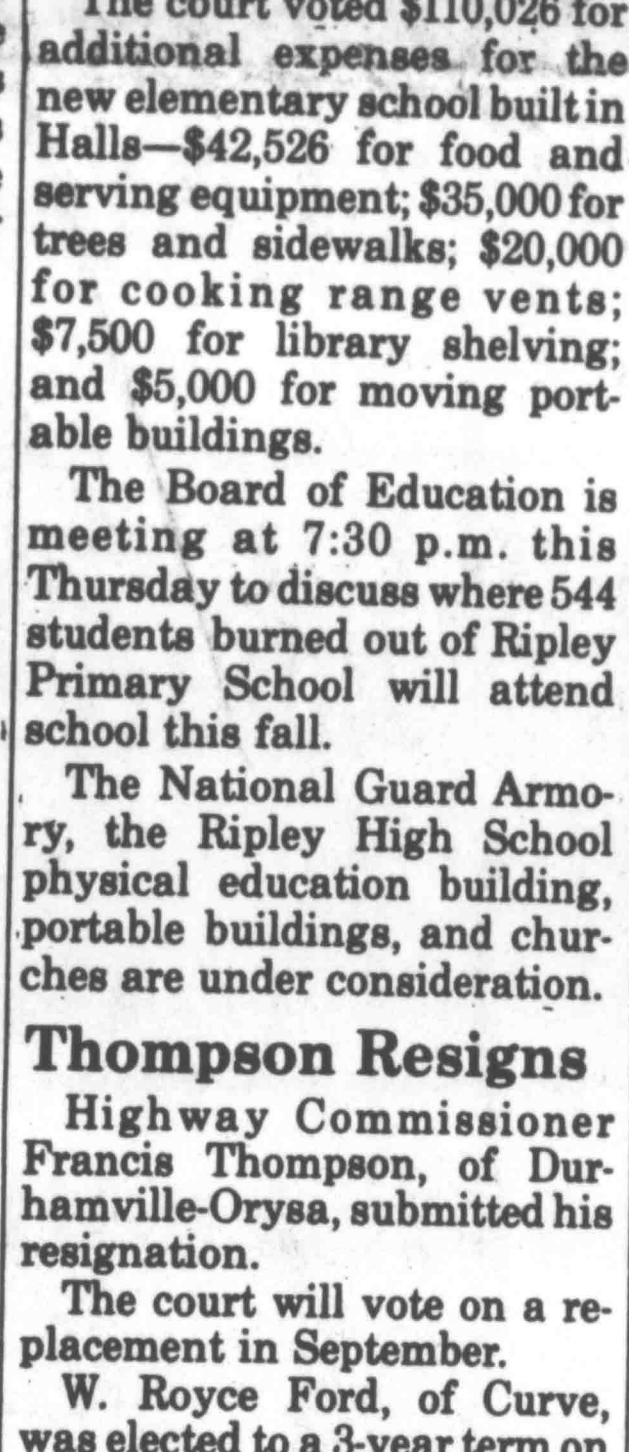

Cornell Attends Clerks' Seminar

Don Cornell, county Circuit Clerk, was among 90 court clerks attending a seminar conducted by the State Court Clerks Association in Murfreesboro Thursday and Friday of last week.

The seminar discussed processing, storage, and destruction of court records; standardization and simplification of forms such as subpoenas, warrants, and summonses; changes required by new state legislation, including substantial alterations in the collection and reporting of litigation taxes and new rules for criminal proceedings becoming effective July 13th; and the Judicial Information System, being extended state-wide, to record case-loads by computer at the state level.

The Moores, who have been married 55 years, have two sons, Wayne, of Olive Branch, Miss., and Wymond, of Halls, two grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

Cannon operates a machinery repair shop on Keltner Avenue and resides on West Tipton.

7th DISTRICT OF TENNESSEE

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON

After six months of arguing, bargaining, and stalemate, the conference committee working on the final version of the National Energy Policy Act has finally reached an agreement on the pricing of natural gas.

Congratulations

To Mrs. R. B. Alley, who celebrated her 86th birthday Monday. She was thrilled to receive a congratulatory card, signed by President and Mrs. Jimmy Carter.

AT CAMP LINDEN

Nine girls from First Baptist Church Girls In Action are attending Camp Linden Baptist Assembly, near Linden, this week.

Among those at camp are Linda Daniels, Tracie Daniels, Lynne Edens, Hope Harris, Rhonda Hines, Tina Kerby, Lynne McDearman, Elizabeth Taylor, and Jennifer Taylor. Also with the group is Tammy Clark.

Driving the girls to Linden Monday were Mrs. T. E. McDearman, Mrs. Joe Daniels, and Mrs. Roger Harris.

natural gas are also going to see increases in their costs of operation and those increases are going to be passed along to the consumer.

During the coming weeks, I am going to be discussing this legislation with a wide range of people, both those who oppose it and those who support it.

Those who oppose this deregulation plan feel it will result in much higher prices and even possible price gouging by the big oil and gas companies.

I fully realize that exploration and development of new energy resources requires large amounts of capital.

It appears that success or failure of the entire energy package is going to ride on how members of the House and Senate feel about this natural gas agreement.

Industrial plants who use natural gas will be able to purchase it at a price comparable to that of other fuels.

Nemacur Battles Cyst Nematodes

By Charles T. Peal. Sam Williams, of Durhamville, has found that Nemacur, an in-furrow treatment, protects soybean seedling roots from nematodes for five to six weeks.

Race 3 nematodes have been prevalent in this county for some years. Now Race 4 has appeared, and there is no resistant variety available.

Nematodes, small cysts about the size of the eye of a needle, attach themselves to the root and starve the plant to death by taking its food.

Control measures should be taken when more than 100 cysts are found per pint of soil.

Control measures should be taken when more than 100 cysts are found per pint of soil.

Crop rotation is probably one of the best methods to combat nematodes, but it is impossible to rotate on a large basis here, with a basically one-crop economy.

The new Bedford bean is somewhat resistant to Race 4 but is not a complete answer.

Plant Diseases Appear: Mr. and Mrs. Sidny Carmack have grown lima beans successfully for years.

Last year, they ran into a problem that nearly always appears when vegetables are grown on the same ground year after year—stem and pod anthracnose.

Wash the tick bite area with soap and water and treat with a good skin disinfectant to check infection.

The first sign of the disease is usually fever, beginning two to six days after the tick bite.

Even with this spray program, it is difficult to prevent some infestation, especially in cool, damp weather.

Spotted Fever Season: In this area, Rocky Mountain spotted fever is most commonly spread by the American dog tick.

Sap does not rise and fall. It moves out towards the surface in the spring, in towards the center in the autumn.

WATER TANK RAZED: After more than 50 years of service, the old water tank on South Front Street at the intersection of Shannon Street was razed.

New School Designed, Temporary Spaces Arranged For Three Grades Burned Out

FLOOR PLAN OF NEW RIPLEY SCHOOL, designed by Hart, Freedland, and Roberts, of Nashville, for 1,400 students in kindergarten through sixth grades, was shown the Board of Education last week. Bids will be taken soon for site preparation on Volz Road, near the South Industrial Park. Until the new school is opened, the board decided to house first and second grades in the Ripley High School physical education building and the National Guard Armory next fall, with third grades using portable buildings not burned at Ripley Primary School. Meanwhile, 393 persons have petitioned the state to prevent zoning which would force sufficient children to attend Curve and Central Schools to justify remodeling for which County Court has appropriated $300,000.

Halls Missionary Is Slain In Africa

The Rev. Archie G. Dunaway, Jr., 58, whose father was born and reared in Halls and who himself resided there briefly, was stabbed to death Thursday of last week on the grounds of a hospital in Sanyati, Rhodesia, by black nationalist guerrillas, according to the Rhodesian military command.

His body was found in a secluded spot on the grounds of the hospital, of which his wife, Margaret, a Mississippian, was director of the school of nursing. She and six other missionaries and five children were evacuated from Sanyati.

Her husband, minister and maintenance supervisor at the hospital, was the fifth white missionary to lose his life in Rhodesia in two weeks, and the 20th slain in the 6-year civil war rending the country, which has closed more than 800 schools, leaving about 200,000 black children, about a fifth of the expected enrollment, un-schooled.

Once Ripley Speaker
The Rev. and Mrs. Dunaway were guests in Ripley's First Baptist Church a few years ago.

A native of McComb, Miss., he began his career as a missionary in 1947 with the Yourva tribe in Nigeria and later worked with the Batonu tribe in northern Nigeria.

He was the first Southern Baptist missionary to meet death in Rhodesian violence.

"We have lost a great friend," said The Rev. Jimmy Hopkins, pastor of Inglewood Baptist Church in Memphis, of which The Rev. Mr. Dunaway had been an associate pastor.

The church had sponsored his work in Rhodesia for 17 years.

The slain missionary leaves two sons, Mark and John Archie Dunaway, and two daughters, Miss Martha Dunaway and Mrs. Mary Martha Dooley, all of Nashville.

Stronger Sevin Squashes Bugs

By Charles T. Peal
Gardeners with squash vine borer problems, despite spraying or dusting with the recommended insecticide, Sevin, need to try 10% dust or 50% wettable powder, sprayed each week—watching for moths and applying during this adult stage.

Fight Face Flies Now
Face flies—number one cattle pests—feed quickly on eye and nose secretions, so large amounts of poison must be applied daily to the animal's face. Most successful are applicators in a narrow opening through which cattle must pass to water or pasture, or regular back-rubbers equipped with fly-flips.

RAVAP, at 4.6 ounces per gallon, Co-Ral, at 10 ounces, and CIOVAP, at one quart per four gallons, are mixed with No. 2 diesel oil.

By saturating the back-rubber well, one charge can last up to ten days.

At State Conference
Gwen Chapman, Jerry Parker, Christine Shaw, and Charles Peal, of the county Extension office, attended the state Extension conference in Knoxville June 12-15th, designed as a "search for excellence" for 500 attending.

Fleas Abundant Here
Many calls are coming to the Extension Office about fleas in the home and yard.

Use five ounces of 57% Malathion concentrate in one gallon of water and spray to cover 1,000 square feet in the yard, or 2 1/2 ounces of 24% Diazinon per gallon on the same square footage.

In the home, use a spray containing three tablespoons of Malathion and two tablespoons of Diazinon in a gallon of water applied as a light mist to floors, rugs, furniture, and baseboards. One quart should cover 250 square feet. Before spraying, vacuum rooms and upholstered furniture.

Youth Conservation Corps Goes To Work

Thirteen Lauderdale Countians and one Tipton Countian enrolled in the Youth Conservation Corps met at the group camp-site in Fort Pillow State Historical Area Sunday, and for their families, for a briefing by Ike Taylor, director, and Jack Phillips, work co-ordinator, of the program in this county.

Also present were Area superintendent Robert Henry and State Rep. Jimmy Bishop, of Brownsville.

Enrolled are Nan Chambers, Pat Gaines, Keith Kirkpatrick, Keith Mercer, Susan Newman, Chris Stallings, and Terry and Tommy White, of Ripley High School; Alan Cherry, William Crisfield, Michael Hudson, Sandy Myrick, and Cherry Vaughn, of Halls High School; and Robert White, of Covington High School.

The Corps is intended to do conservation work on public lands, provide employment for 15-18-year-olds, and develop an understanding in participants of the nation's environmental heritage.

Corps members are clearing a new park trail this week.

Blaze At, 8, Set Hold Boy, 8, Set

An 8-year-old boy believed to have set the Curve home of Mrs. Annie Stokes after Wednesday of last week has been referred to the Covington Mental Health Center for examination, reports Johnny Laton, county juvenile officer, who investigated the case with Richard Eley, of the state fire marshal's office.

A blaze two days earlier which destroyed the mobile home of Mr. and Mrs. Prentice Rose, near Mrs. Stokes' home, and a blaze in the Stokes home April 9th remain under investigation, Laton says.

Butcher Will Visit County

Jake Butcher, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, will spend next Friday in Lauderdale County. Richard Douglas reports.

Tennessee Presents

opposed President Andrew Jackson's public land policies and adamantly spoke out against Jackson's desire to push the Cherokee Indians west to Oklahoma. The political disagreements with Jackson eventually cost Crockett his seat in Congress.

Returning to Tennessee, he told his constituents, "You can go to hell, I'm going to Texas." Crockett did go to Texas where he soon died at the siege of the Alamo. The Cherokee Indians also left their native land, leaving behind them the famous Trail of Tears across Mississippi to Oklahoma.

"The Gentleman From the Cane" is a humorous, musical account of Crockett's rise to prominence in Tennessee politics. It is presented every Friday and Saturday night at 8:30 during July and August at the amphitheatre inside David Crockett State Park at Lawrenceburg.

Tennessee's two other outstanding outdoor dramas take place in the shadow of the oldest mountain range in North America, the Great Smoky Mountains. Glazed with thick vegetation and topped by white, billowy clouds, the Great Smoky Mountain National Park is visited by more people than any other national park in the U.S. Some 100,000 people have enjoyed performances of the "Smoky Mountain Passion Play," at its natural amphitheatre two miles from the park's boundary in Townsend, Tennessee. The "Smoky Mountain Passion Play" and "Damasus Road" are inspiring accounts of the lives of Jesus and the Apostle Paul.

As night approaches, torches are lit, and biblical characters spring to life, carrying audiences back 2,000 years to the most important event in Western Civilization. The two plays are independent productions, but the scripts flow together. "Damasus Road" begins where the "Passion Play" ends to paint a full picture of the early development of Christianity. The 40-member cast of professional actors and the backdrop of the Great Smoky Mountains combine their excellence to make these two outdoor dramas a very worthwhile part of any trip to Tennessee.

"The Passion Play" is performed each Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday night while "Damasus Road" is presented on Wednesday and Saturday nights during June, July and August at the Townsend amphitheatre. Curtain call is 8:45 p.m. and tickets may be purchased at the door or by making reservations.

For more information on Tennessee's outdoor dramas, contact the Tennessee Department of Tourist Development, 505 Festlers Lane, Nashville, Tennessee 37210.

Four Flea As Car Burns To Ground

When the Ricky Elmore, of Route 2, Halls, left their home about 1:30 p.m. Thursday of last week, with their two sons in their automobile, they had only gone about 75 yards when flames shot from around the gas pedal.

Mrs. Elmore stopped the car in the middle of Nankipoo Road and grabbed one son while Mr. Elmore grabbed the other. She took the boys home however, and spectators, including Highway Patrolman Joe Jacobs who reached the scene quickly, could only watch as the car's windows exploded and the vehicle burned to the ground, severely damaging the pavement.

Halls Assembly Home-Coming

The commission says The Rev. George Hart and Bill Maxwell, who pulled the men from the river, have been nominated for hero recognition by the commission.

A wristwatch was considered effeminate prior to World War I, but this bias was overcome when the timepieces showed it practicality. Butter spreaders make good knives for children because they are small and blunt.

Election Day, Aug. 3rd, is just around the corner.

This time your sheriff is elected for four years instead of two, as in the past. That makes your vote twice as important.

In four years, your sheriff, if he chooses, can really stamp out the drug trade, illegal beer, and whiskey places that may wrongly influence your children.

On the other hand, in four years it can really be opened up, and progress made the past two years protecting your child from the temptation of drugs and alcohol will be erased.

What do you want?

A wide-open county where crime is invited in? Or do you require strict law and order, with protection of all our citizens?

If you want a sheriff who does not wink at crime in high places, who does not pat a friendly dope peddler on the back and say, "I understand"—then re-elect Joe O'Steen. Let him finish the job he has started in strictly enforcing the law, regardless of race or position.

Vote for the development of our youth in a clean, wholesome Lauderdale County.

Blaze Claims Curve Church Of Christ

CURVE CHURCH OF CHRIST, built in 1880 under the leadership of J. A. Carter, a minister who was the grandfather of A. C. Carter, of Dry Hill, burned to the ground Friday after having been struck by lightning, it is believed, about 3 p.m. The church's 20 members plan to rebuild on the same site. Curve United Methodist Church, on an adjoining lot, was undamaged by the blaze, which Ripley firemen helped battle.

Bean Crop Off To Good Start

By Charles T. Peal

Soy beans on most Lauderdale County farms are off to an excellent start. Producers who drill their beans must rely upon plane spraying in order to control these early weeds.

In spite of seed quality problems and delays from wet weather, most growers have reasonably good stands and are now applying post-emergence herbicides to control broad-leaf weeds.

This year's prospects look considerably better than the 1977 drought-stricken crop.

While most farmers have grown a better-than-average soybean stand, some have reported poor stands on the eroded areas of hills. Replanting will be needed in some situations, but is not always advised just because the stand is thin, especially if there are no large skips in the row.

Research at the Coastal Plains Experiment Station in Georgia shows that there is about a 40% yield reduction as the population is cut from eight to two plants per foot of row, but the soybean yield reduction when plant population is decreased from eight to four plants per foot may not be as much as one might expect. The reason is that the soybeans with thin stands will form secondary branches and compensate to a large degree for missing plants.

Over-the-top herbicides to control cocklebur and other weeds is all-important now. Weeds must be controlled in the early stages, before six inches of height, in order to use the materials presently recommended for over-the-top application.

Wet, muddy fields have kept farmers from cultivating soybeans planted in rows. Producers who drill their beans must rely upon plane spraying in order to control these early weeds.

It is important that as many weeds be controlled early as possible because they will compete for moisture and plant food beginning the sixth week, reducing the yield possibility of the beans.

O. B. Greer, of Edith, has walked over his beans many times and last week discovered a weed with which he was not familiar, the night shade plant. He will use the proper herbicide to rid the field of this weed as well as the cocklebur.

It is important that producers scout their fields to determine the kind and size of weeds present, so that herbicide selection can be made.

The next two weeks are very critical in the fight to control weeds, and all producers should use every means available to get them.

They can be more easily suppressed during periods of good growth rather than periods of stress like those here at this time last year.

Be Wary Of Pesticides

Farmers can face legal action for pesticide misuse this season. It is extremely important that farmers review pesticide practices and read labels on all materials.

For a pesticide to be used on a particular crop, the label must specifically give directions for that crop. If the crop is not mentioned on the label, the pesticide may not be used on that crop.

Applications of unauthorized pesticides causing illegal residues on a crop could result in crop seizure by the Food and Drug Administration. Equally important, application of a pesticide not in accordance with label directions is a violation of both state and federal laws. Mis-use could result in a fine to the applicator.

A farmer should not rely on word of mouth recommendations, out-of-date publications, or his memory in handling pesticides.

Specific instructions on the pesticide label represent the only legal uses of materials—read the label.

Kill Wasps In Nests

While wasps are beneficial insects which attack and destroy harmful insects found around homes and in gardens, they still attack people when they nest in areas adjacent to home entrances, etc.

You can destroy wasps by applying insecticides to their nests. Effective insecticides include Sevin, Chlordane, Lindane, Malathion, and Methoxychlor.

Usually about two tablespoons of material is sufficient in a gallon of water. In areas where it is difficult to spray, a dust of 5% Sevin directed into the opening will usually kill the wasps within 24 hours.

The same principle applies to wasps that nest in the ground.

The first umbrella in the U.S. is believed to have been used in Windsor Conn. in 1740. It produced a riot of merriment and derision.

Knee Field Lighting Gets $8,000 Backing

From S-R And Electroplating

Bruce G. Robert, chairman and chief executive officer of Siegel-Robert, Inc., of St. Louis, Mo., has informed James G. Douglas, Ripley High School principal, that two subsidiary firms in Ripley will contribute $8,000 for modern lighting on Knee Field.

A $5,000 check has been sent for S-R of Tennessee and a $3,000 check for Tennessee Electroplating.

They will be held until the remainder of the $75,000 to $100,000 needed is secured.

"We are proud of Lauderdale County and further, we feel that our company, as well as the other industries, depend upon your students as future employees," Robert said in a letter accompanying the two contributions.

"These students are now being taught by educators, such as yourself, to be able to participate in the business life of our community once they have left school.

"Of course, some may further their education by going on to college, having been well trained for this in Ripley.

"For instance, the son of O. W. Schneider, Jr., a director of our company and the vice-president of both our plants in Tennessee, is currently at Purdue University, having graduated from Ripley High School.

"He is doing very well in the field of mechanical engineering.

"This is a good example (and I am sure that you can give many more) of what fine preparation is being given by your high school so that the students can take up difficult

Still Waters Run Deep

Cave Spring in the southern part of Middle Tennessee has played an important part, both economically and historically, in the development of Tennessee. It flows through the town of Lynchburg, the county seat of Moore County and the smallest county seat in Tennessee. The town is internationally known as the home of the Jack Daniels Distillery, the oldest registered distillery in the U.S. and on the National Register of Historic Places.

Jack Daniels was a real, though short (5'2"), man who entered the liquor business at age 12. In 1866 when he built his famous distillery in Daniels' Hollow where it still stands, he was only 18. Cave Spring is one of the main reasons the distillery was located in the Hollow. The water is pure, almost sterile, and is completely iron-free, a very important factor in the whiskey industry. The spring also supplies water to the hard sugar maples on the hill. Each tree used in the whiskey process is cut when the sap is down, sawed into sticks and carefully stacked in ricks six feet high, in the open air. When the rick is burned to the ground, a pile of pure charcoal remains. This is used for "leaching" the raw whiskey, or filtering the whiskey through the charcoal, the difference between "Tennessee Whiskey" and bourbon.

Since the days of Jack Daniels and his nephew Lem Motlow, who took over the Distillery upon Daniels' death in 1911, the actual process has changed very little. Of course, modern machinery has been added, but the results are the same. The Distillery conducts free tours every day until 4 p.m.; be sure to go during the week when the whiskey-making operation is in full swing. Jack Daniels' office still stands and is part of the tours. However, don't expect to sample any of the Tennessee nectar. Moore County is a dry county.

Follow Cave Spring to the city limits of Lynchburg, a typical small southern town with a square. In the very middle stands the brick courthouse, built in 1865 at a

Crash Is Fatal For Steve Dedmon

STEVEN DWAYNE DEDMON, left, 23, son of the Jack Dedmons, of Ripley, was dead on arrival at Lauderdale County Hospital about 1 a.m. Sunday after his 1977 Datsun station wagon, right, northbound on new Highway 51 north of Ripley, turned toward Cedar Grove Road and collided with a southbound 1976 Pontiac whose driver, Mrs. Patricia A. D. Moore, 23, of Ripley, is in serious condition in Baptist Hospital in Memphis, according to Highway Patrolman Scott White, Jr. The Millington High School assistant coach was en route to the home of the Gene Sadlers, parents of his wife, Carol; he also leaves a brother, Darren, of Ripley, and his grandmother, Mrs. Julia Dedmon, of Brownsville. More than 300 mourners overflowed Ripley Funeral Home at 3 p.m. Monday for services; burial was in Memorial Gardens, with Al Jennings, Jim Pilcher, Robert Pruitt, Dennis Sadler, David Taylor, Jeff Robeson, and Jack Scoggins as pall bearers.

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON

For the past two weeks and for the next week or two, debate in the House has centered on the annual appropriations legislation. These bills provide for the funding of various federal departments and independent agencies. The appropriations process takes place every year so that Congress can decide which federal programs will be funded for the coming fiscal year. As an integral part of the budget process, appropriations decisions must be completed before the start of the fiscal year which begins Oct. 1st each year.

This process is very important. While Congress may pass many bills re-authorizing various programs throughout this year, it is these appropriations bills that decide which programs will be funded. Consequently, the bills reported to the House by the Appropriations Committee usually face a large number of amendments which either cut funds or increase funds for certain programs. With interest in cutting federal spending and the federal deficit growing continually, Congress is taking even closer looks at these bills providing federal funding for various programs.

I think the House is trying to respond to concerns over federal spending in a responsible way. Of course, as is the case with all legislation, these same bills must be considered by the Senate before being enacted into law. For its part, the House is making an honest attempt to reduce federal spending.

Elect Floyd Crain Your Representative

Education of our youth ranks high in priority as one of the most important functions of government.

The school system, so close to our hearts, is today beset with many problems. Problems that deserve the best collective thinking and co-operative action of the people and the government.

Ever-increasing costs and more and more directives, rules, regulations, policies, and programs, formulated in Nashville, are imposed on local school boards who are required to put them into effect and improve them with local taxes under threat of losing state funds.

Floyd Crain believes control of our schools should be brought back where it belongs, in the hands of duly elected local school boards, the County Court, and the capable administration working with and through the teaching profession.

Elect Floyd Crain for a dedicated and personal representative of all the people of Haywood and Lauderdale Counties.

Paid For By Floyd Crain

Citizens of Haywood - Lauderdale (79th Legislative District)

I am most happy to inform you that I have recently been endorsed for re-election by Tennessee Taxpayers Association.

Only 5 members of the Senate and 4 members of the House received this coveted endorsement from this Tax conscious organization, which works hard to keep the State's Tax rate as low as possible.

It is my privilege to present a portion of their letter to their state wide membership.

Tennessee Taxpayers Association

TO EACH MEMBER OF TENNESSEE TAXPAYERS ASSOCIATION June 14, 1978 SUBJECT: YOUR PARTICIPATION IN ELECTION OF STATE SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES

We urge each member of the Association to vote and encourage others to vote, in the August primary and November general elections. Businessmen need to take an active part in politics by making financial contributions to capable candidates for Governor and for the State Legislature who are fiscally responsible.

Media attention will be focused on the Governor's race, but members of the Tennessee General Assembly make most of the major decisions on taxes, workers and unemployment compensation, labor, pension legislation, debt management, environmental controls, and regulation of business. The balance of power has shifted from the executive to the legislative branch; businessmen need to recognize this development by furnishing financial support to conservative candidates.

There are a few races in the State where there is a strong friend of business who deserves support from residents of his district, plus help from other businessmen across the State. These are listed below:

Readers Speak

Editor: It is a sad day in Halls when our citizens cannot participate in the re-election of the Sheriff of our county without harassment.

Two weeks ago, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stolarick, who live on Park Street, had their Osteen posters burned in their front yard.

Dr. Stolarick had been, and still is, stapling posters to telephone poles from atop a ladder. Most of these posters have now been ripped off the poles.

Another family on Main Street had their bumper stickers ripped off their cars in their garage and driveway of their home and torn to shreds in their front yard.

One business up town has had six different posters ripped from inside the windows during lunch hours. It was reported by an employee at the back of the building that three white boys had come inside and proceeded to tear them off the windows.

Another business had tobacco juice repeatedly spit on his store window where his Osteen poster hangs.

Another business owner has been harassed by threatening phone calls after making the statement that she was trying to run a respectable business when told she could sell beer or anything she wanted to sell after the election.

We are so proud that all of the above have replaced their posters and bumper stickers immediately and have reported the threats to the Sheriff.

Fortunately, these acts do not indicate widespread support of the opposition, but widespread prowling of our town by unchecked hoodlums.

Do you know that Lauderdale County and Halls in particular were centers for illegal distribution of drugs when Sheriff Osteen took office two years ago? The problem has been somewhat checked but our Sheriff and his few dedicated deputies cannot handle this entire deplorable situation by themselves.

If our Sheriff is going to get any help, it will have to come from the good people of this county who elected him before and can do it again.

God help us if they don't. Lynne S. Harris

Dear Friends: Just a note to express my sincere thanks for all the help and support you gave me during the past year as president of the Parent-Teacher Organization. It was a most rewarding year for our school children and teachers. Each of you who helped make it so should be especially proud. Sincerely, Mrs. Warren Nunn

Married At Maranatha

MRS. HOWARD JOHN HIETT III was married June 11th in Maranatha Baptist Church at Toulon, with The Rev. Harold McMurry officiating and Edwin Goddard, professor of music in Austin Peay State University, at the organ.

The bride, Dawn Cerec Davis, was given by her father, Sam S. Davis, of Woodville, in a candle-lit setting of vases of white gladioli, chrysanthemums, and pompons backed by candelabra and jade trees.

She wore a gown of candlelight angel-skin satin with Alencon lace and pearl medallions applied on the bodice, which was accented with tiny covered buttons, and on the Renaissance neck-line. The sleeves formed wedding bells ending in lace and tiny buttons. A complete circle skirt, cascading into a cathedral train, was circled with lace and pearl medallions. The tiered veil of English illusion, edged in matching lace, flowed to fingertip length from a cloche of lace and pearl motifs. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of cattleya orchids, white masterpiece roses, stephanotis, and baby's breath. She wore a diamond cross, gift of the groom.
