8 For Sheriff Only Countywide Race

Tuesday's qualifying deadline passed with eight candidates for sheriff but all other officials elected county-wide unopposed for re-election.

The sheriff candidates are incumbent Joe O'Steen, Thomas E. Brown, Billy Joe Childress, Louis Craig, Lewis Gitchell, Clarence Holcomb, Henry L. Love, and Woodrow W. Searce.

Without opponents are County Court Clerk Vernon McBride, Jr., Trustee Paul Meadows, Register Nolan Criner, and Circuit Court Clerk Don Connell.

Board of Education incumbent Parnell Webb faces two opponents—Charles F. Cutlip and Gus Hargett, Jr.

Magistrates (now to be "county legislators") have until June 15th to qualify, under legislation adopted in Nashville last week, but most candidates have already filed their petitions to make certain they would get under the wire for the Aug. 3rd ballot.

Qualified for the legislator positions are:

Position 1—Larry W. Escue, Robert Flagg, B. G. Graves, E. L. Queen, Charley T. Sneed, Jr., Bonnie C. Wallin, Emmett Young.

Position 2—Franklin Alley, Neal Crain, Lawson Elder, Lucius Forsythe, Gus L. Hargett, William Tucker IV.

Position 3—Eugene R. Anthony, Delmus J. Connell, Larry Douglas, V. A. Gilliland, Gwinn Matthews, C. R. "Bud" Meadows, Charlie Moore.

Position 4—Don Ammons, Anderson Bentley, Joe C. Baldon, Lawson Chipman, Everett L. Fields, L. O. Gillespie, Gardes Thomas, William L. York, Jr.

Position 5—Jeanne Shoaf Duncan, Roland Henderson, Vernon McBride, Sr., John Peyton, M. S. "Bill" Rice, Clifford R. Sweat, Leonard Wakefield, Gary Wayne Woodard.

Position 6—Oneal Ashworth, W. D. Chisholm, Jr., Vitalias Hutcherson, Duane E. Phares, L. G. Thompson.

Position 7—P. B. Bridges, Fleetwood Cates, Talmadge L. Cribfield, Richard G. Lazure, Sr., Hal J. Pennington.

Position 8—Roy M. Cook, Jr., Eugene Pugh.

Position 9—James L. Jones,

Earns Ph.D.

HETTY B. BEARD, assistant professor of biology in Savannah, Ga., State College, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery Beard, of Gates, who will go to Ames, Iowa, May 27th to see Iowa State University confirm the doctor of philosophy degree for which she completed work last January. Born in Haywood County in 1948, she was encouraged by Mrs. Izora Bowers and the late Mrs. Ora B. Bowers, teachers in Currin's Elementary School in St. Luke community, to continue her education. She was graduated from Carver High School in Brownsville and received a bachelor of science degree from Tuskegee, Ala., Institute in 1970, to which she returned, after a year of teaching in Halls High School, to earn her master of education degree in science and mathematics education in 1973. She served on Tuskegee's Educational and Executive Councils, won the Student National Education Association Award in 1969, and was chosen for "Who's Who Among College And University Students" in 1970. She is a member of the National Education Association, Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary, Iota Sigma Pi, women in science honorary, Sigma Xi, research potential honorary, and Zeta Phi Beta, social society, a co-ed affiliate of the Pershing Rifles, and a member of the National Black Science Student Organization.

William G. "Billy" Spence.

Constable candidates were reported as:

Position 1—Robert Bates, William Lee Miller, Joe Henry Stowers.

Positions 2, 3, 4—Hubert Criner, Julius Kimble, James Vanness.

Position 5—J. T. Benthall, William "Bill" Davis, O'Neal Haynie, James H. Prater, Sr.

Position 6—Roy E. Lovelady, Joseph W. Spencer, Barry R. Wakefield.

Position 7—Lewis E. Clement, James Dukes, Gene Patton, Roger Wright.

Position 8—Gordon M. Gooch.

Position 9—Maurice E. Jordan.

Candidate

CHARLES CUTLIP, 32, of Ripley, the general manager of Charles Griggs Building Materials, Inc., has announced his candidacy for the seat on the Board of Education now occupied by Parnell Webb.

His name will appear on general election ballots in the Ripley, Arp, Ashport, Central, Cook's, Curve, Edith, Gates, Golddust, and McBride's precincts Aug. 3rd.

An honor graduate of Milan High School in 1964, he took a bachelor of science degree in secondary education from the University of Tennessee in Martin in 1968 and a master of science degree in administration from the University of Tennessee in Knoxville in 1973.

He teaches a senior high Sunday School Class in First United Methodist Church. He has been a Parent-Teacher Organization member since his daughter, Tonya, 10, started to school. He and his wife, the former Lynda Griggs, have another child, Marcy, 3.

A Ripley Jaycee since 1975, he has held several chapter offices and has just been elected District 62 director.

A Ripley Exchange Club member since 1976, he was a director in 1977-8 and is treasurer-elect for 1978-9.

"I have always believed it is important for parents to be involved in the public school system," he says. "I have always attended public schools, and my child has and always will."

"My child has received a good education in the public schools because of my being interested and involved with her education."

"I feel it is important that the Board of Education become more involved in policy making and budget management."

"I believe I have the energy, background, and desire it will take to be a good representative of my district."

"I will earnestly try to meet with the people in these communities and listen to their many good ideas, because this is necessary to insure good representation."

"I respectfully ask for their vote and support."

"I can assure everyone that I am my own man and will represent the people who elect me, not any special interest group."

Sunday Opening Onto Aug. Ballot

Ripley's city board voted unanimously Monday to put the question of allowing more stores to open Sundays on the Aug. 3rd ballot, more clearly worded than in the recent city election.

That ballot simply said "For The Blue Law" or "Against The Blue Law," providing unprepared voters with no explanation of what the slang term "blue law" meant.

The vote was 898-784 against the blue law, but many voters said later they thought they were voting against Sunday openings, except those already permitted.

Ches Hamby was reappointed to the Gas Board.

The board accepted a bid by Wes-Ten, Inc., for a rotary mower at $709.95 and a sickle mower at $1,200. Laudequip, Inc., was the only other bidder at $750 and $1,200.

SCHOOL NEEDS EYED

A meeting Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. of next week in the courtroom of the Court House in Ripley will assess needs of children in reading and math.

Parents are invited to attend to express opinions to how federal funds under Title I might be used to supplement the local reading and math program.

Information is available from Phillip Jackson, federal projects co-ordinator for the Board of Education.

Tiny Knee, Tillman Join Sports Immortals

THE LATE IRVIN 'TINY' KNEE was among eight men—four surviving—admitted into the Sports Hall of Fame at Cumberland College in Lebanon, founded last year. His widow, Mrs. Willard Knee, of Ripley, and their only child, Mrs. Ned Rooks, of Brownsville, were among the honor guests at the ceremony, along with Mr. and Mrs. Homer Knee, of Watertown.

They were presented a walnut plaque with engraved brass plate and a citation reading as follows:

"Because he both coached and played football during his four years as a Cumberland athlete, the 1924 team ranking third in Tennessee and the 1926 team losing only two games, the record for the seasons 1923-26 being 23 wins and 11 losses;

"And because he continued at Cumberland a record of achievement that he had begun at Wabash College in his native Indiana after earning a position on the All-State high school football team for two years, then earning a backfield position alongside Jim Crowley of 'Four Horsemen' fame on the All-Indiana college team in 1922;

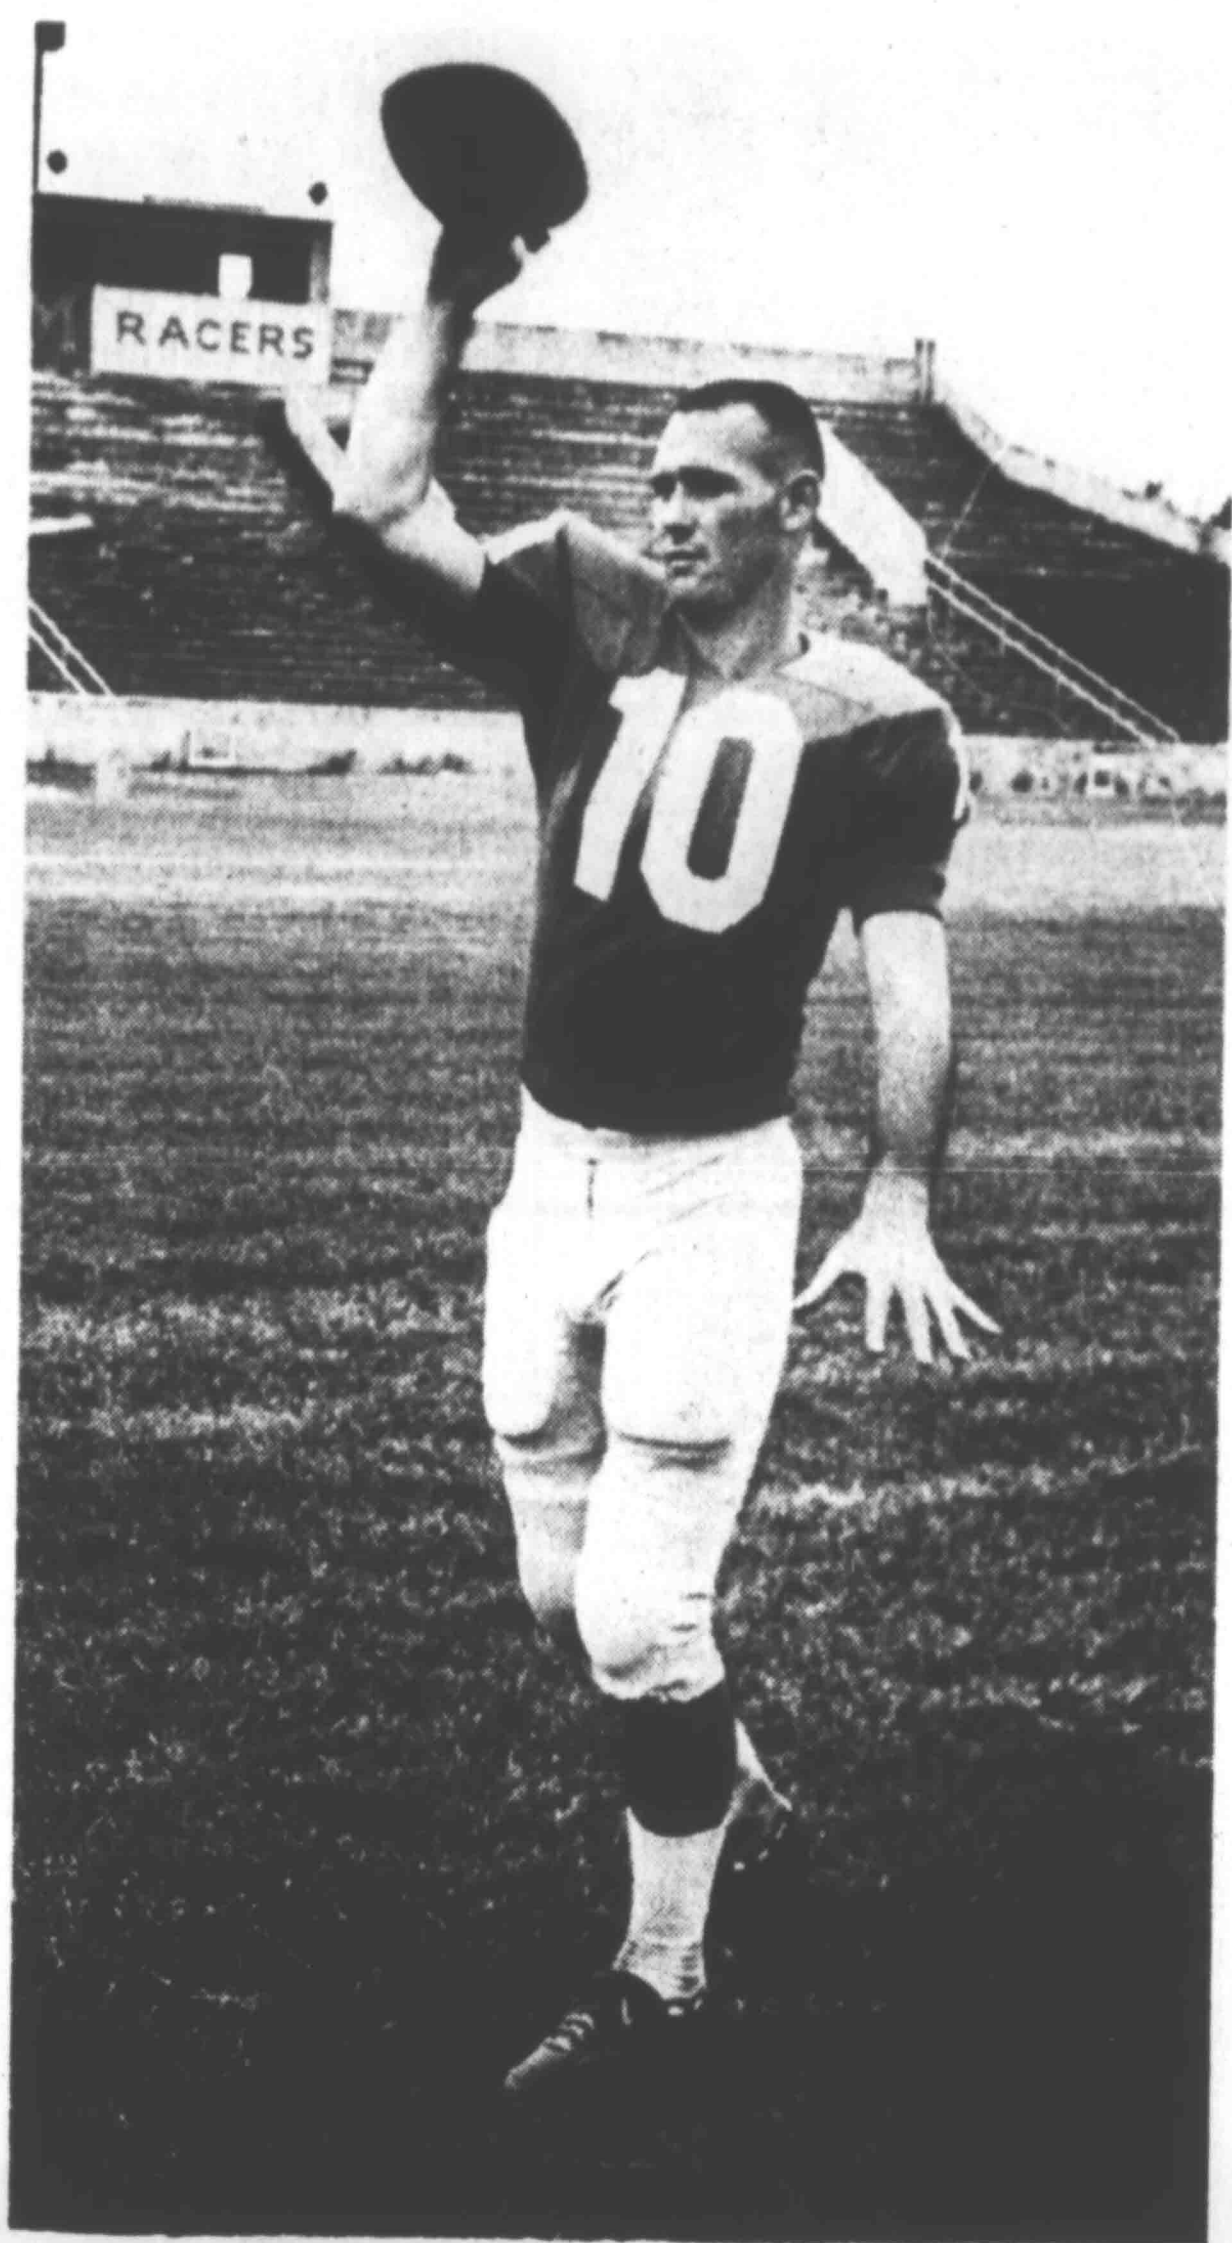

"And because he was also an outstanding performer at track, setting the Indiana intercollegiate record for the javelin throw and a still unbroken record in that event in an Eastern intercollegiate meet in 1923;

"And because he also coached basketball at Cumberland for three years, and introduced golf as an intercollegiate sport, designing and supervising the building of a nine-hole golf course on the university campus;

"And because he was known as 'the incomparable Knee' and was considered 'the fastest man at circling the ends that ever wore the Maroon and White' and led Cumberland to a 17-0 victory over the University of Tennessee Medical School at Memphis, the first defeat for the Docs in eight years;

"And because he subsequently went to Ripley, Tennessee, in 1927 and remained there until his death in 1968, not only rebuilding the Ripley High School football program but building a field and track that is named Irvin Knee Field and developing a public recreation park called 'Tiny Town' in his honor, his teams winning championships in football, track, and basketball;

"And because he played four years with the Memphis Tigers, first professional football team in the Mid-South, from 1931 to 1934, the most memorable victory

LARRY TILLMAN, Ripley High School graduate who played football for Murray, Ky., State University from 1965 to 1968, was inducted into the MSU Athletic Hall of Fame in its All-Sports Banquet Wednesday.

Tillman, a 5-9, 170-pound quarterback from Ripley, guided Murray to one of its best records ever in 1968 (7-2-1) and still holds most MSU passing records.

He was named the Ohio Valley Conference's "Offensive Player of the Year" in 1968.

He played his first season at Murray as a defensive back and was named to the All-OVC team at that position in 1965.

As a reserve quarterback in 1966, he completed 32 of 71 passes for 463 yards and three touchdowns.

He started at quarterback in 1967 and completed 190 of 380 passes for 2,300 yards and 18 touchdowns.

In 1968, he completed 162 of 307 passes for 2,206 yards and 25 touchdowns.

His career passing statistics are 384 completions in 758 attempts for 4,969 yards and 46 touchdowns. All are Murray records, and most are OVC records.

In a 35-14 victory over Middle Tennessee in 1967, he completed 28 of 71 passes for 425 yards and four touchdowns. He once threw five touchdown passes against Austin Peay.

The Racers lost the OVC championship in 1968 when they were edged 21-20 by Eastern Kentucky. A Tillman touchdown pass in the final seconds, which would have won the game, was lost on a penalty call.

being a post-season game against the Green Bay Packers, National Football League champions.

"Irvin 'Tiny' Knee, LL.B., 1924, Graduate Study, 1923-27, is hereby admitted to membership in the Cumberland Sports Hall of Fame..."

Trash Dumpers Given Warning

General Sessions Judge Willard Norvell Tuesday gave 27 countians whose names were found in illegally dumped garbage two weeks to clean it up or face fines of $25 to $50, plus court costs.

The crackdown was conducted by the county health department and the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency, represented by Ken Dykes, of Martin, recently promoted to assistant area supervisor after wildlife officer service in this county.

Cheek's Grocery Sold To Carrolls

Vester Cheek has sold his grocery on Lafayette St. in Ripley to Billy and Margaret Carroll, who are operating it as Margaret's Market.

Mrs. Carroll operated Margaret's Market near Whitefield until vandalism forced it to close last summer.

CAR WASH SLATED

Central School seventh and eighth graders will hold a car wash from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. May 20th to raise funds for an Opryland trip, charging $1 for outside cleaning, 50¢ inside.

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON

Last week, the House of Representatives approved an important piece of farm legislation that will make several important changes in farm credit programs administered by the Farmers Home Administration. It is the Agricultural Credit Act of 1978 which was written by the Agriculture Sub-Committee on Conservation and Credit on which I sit as chairman. The bill was designed to actually update Farm Home credit programs and provide for a short-term, emergency loan program for farmers who cannot obtain needed credit from normal sources. Under Title I of the bill, the legislation will increase limits for farm ownership loans from $100,000 to $200,000 for insured loans and up to $300,000 on guaranteed loans. The limit of farm operating loans would also increase to $100,000 for insured loans and $200,000 for guaranteed loans. In both cases, the interest rates on these loans would not exceed the cost of money to the government plus one percent to cover administrative costs. The interest rate on guaranteed loans was negotiated between the lender and the borrower. This change in interest rates will lower the costs of the Farmers Home program and should result in substantial savings to the federal government since these interest rates will no longer be subsidized by the government. However, a limited program of lower interest rates, aimed primarily at low-income farmers, was also included in this section of the bill. The Agriculture Committee recognized that many of these farmers were young and might need the additional help to become established. As a result, a special category of low-income who, at the Secretary's discretion, will be eligible for low interest rates of 3 percent on operating loans and 5 percent on ownership loans. The emergency loan program of the bill came in Title II. It authorized insured and guaranteed loans to farmers and ranchers including those organized as partnerships, corporations, or cooperatives. Eligibility for this program would be limited to those farmers who are temporarily unable to obtain sufficient credit from their normal sources of credit because of economic problems. Preference for these loans would be given to owners and operators of family farms. Of course, the eligibility for these loans would not be limited to this category. These loans could be made to repay debt incurred after Jan. 1, 1973. They would be made for essential farm needs but they could not be used to purchase or lease additional land. Throughout the deliberations on this bill, the committee worked closely with banking interests, farmers, the Administration, and the Farm Credit Administration. All agreed that this was important legislation and would be helpful in

I must also add that this bill enjoyed broad support throughout the House. In fact, only 23 members of the House voted against it. I am hopeful now that the Senate will act expeditiously on their version of the bill so that it can be enacted into law in the very near future.

Off Again, On Again The weather during the past two weeks has been much like the Irish railroad section foreman's wreck report, "Off again, on again, gone again—Finnegan." Spring arrived with a bang early in April, with 75 and 80 degree weather, then down it went again with frost, near freezing temperatures—it was sub-freezing with 30 degrees in Nashville on April 22nd—so that gardeners, farmers, etc. have had little idea what to expect with the temperature running up and down like a yo-yo. Nevertheless, it seems to us that the flowers have been blooming more, the grass is growing, and a really beautiful spring is here. Maybe, we feel that way as a reaction to the horrible winter we have just escaped.

Why Advertising? Since the showing of "Holocaust" on television last week, we have been somewhat amused to read some of the Letters to the Editor in various newspapers, protesting the advertising portions during the several segments of the show.

We did not see the film, so we cannot say whether or not the advertising was in bad taste, which it often is, but the need for the advertising is very simple. From time to time there has been talk of pay television, and each time a howl of protest arises, but the fact remains that the choice is either advertising or pay television if a program is to be presented.

While many accept advertising as a necessary evil, we wonder if they realize that advertising actually makes their living costs less in the long run, since it enables the merchants, manufacturers, etc. to inform the public of their product, services, or whatever they may offer.

Sound statistics have proven that not one product which exists today existed 50 years ago if the manufacturer stopped advertising. The very existence of the many manufacturers, such as the motor car industry, appliance industry, food processors, etc., depends on advertising. True, some advertising is in bad taste, other advertising can be and is misleading, but always remember that advertising can and does make your life better.

Six Attend Nankipoo High Class Of 1928's Re-Union

Six members of Nankipoo High School's Class of 1928 met in the Golden Hawaii Restaurant near Ripley Saturday evening—A. C. and Annie Buford Hughes Carter, of near Ripley, McKinley Bentley, of Memphis, Mary Lou Meeks Criffield, of Halls, and Olen Olds and Annie Lee Thurmond Webb, of Nankipoo.

Unable to attend were class members Beatrice Steelman Gaines, of Memphis, and J. R. Stockard, of Trenton.

Others present were Mrs. Bentley, L. E. Criffield, Jr., and T. M. Webb.

Since the last reunion 13 years ago, Clifford Hutcherson, of West Memphis, Ark., Mrs. John G. Olds, of Halls, and Troy Olds, of Nankipoo, have died.

Mrs. E. M. Browning, principal, and Pat H. Wiley, assistant, are both deceased.

Dinner decorations were in the class colors of pink and white and featured the class flower, the tulip. An arrangement of pale pink tulips and white bridal wreath centered the table.

The Rev. E. C. Thurmond led the devotion. J. L. Highsway, former principal of Tech High School in Memphis who was a friend of Mrs. Browning for many years, was the evening's guest speaker.

Reminiscences were enjoyed as Mrs. Carter shared photographs of her school days.

Mrs. Nettie Tyus Shaw, 91, of Durhamville, died Thursday of last week in Lauderdale County Hospital.

Services were at 12:30 p.m. Sunday in Elam Baptist Church at Durhamville, of which she was a member, with burial there.

She was born Sept. 17, 1886, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Watson.

She leaves six sons, Ed, J. T. Jewell, Roosevelt, and Robert Lewis Tyus, of Ripley, and John David Tyus, of Tip-topville; three daughters, Will Ada Manns and Lillie Mae White, of Ripley, and Mrs. Pearl Perkins, of Henning; 22

THE AGE OF MIRACLES

Lesson for May 7, 1978

Background Scripture: Acts 9:32-43 Devotional Reading: Isaiah 35:3-10

When I was a young pastor I would just as soon avoid passages of scripture like the story of Simon Peter raising Dorcas from death at Joppa. I found the concept of miracles unsettling. Oh, to be sure, I could have explained this story with the idea that Dorcas had not really been dead but only seemed dead.

But Peter prayed and Dorcas was restored to life. Nor do I find it hard to believe that God is still performing mighty works like that today.

My Believed One reason is that I have seen people healed by the power of faith before my own eyes. I have spoken with people who "died" (were pronounced clinically "dead") and were resurrected back to life by their physician.

Miracles are not really contrary to science. I have realized, quite contrary to what we know of science. They represent an area of reality that is still largely unknown to us.

In 1910 an obscure British musical performer toured the U.S. in a vaudeville act billed as "Karno's Wow Wow's." His name: Charlie Chaplin.

Readers Speak

Editor: Ex-Sheriff Louis Craig is wrong when he states he placed the first uniformed deputies in Lauderdale County. Let us go back into the history of the sheriff's department of Lauderdale County.

I was elected sheriff of Lauderdale County in 1942 and served for six years. We were in World War II. We were living in a time of testing the nerves of all men, women, and children of Lauderdale County.

We had the Air Base at Halls. This turned thousands of soldiers on our streets when they were given leave. Men from every part of America and every walk of life, plus our own dear soldier boys, were coming home on furlough, demanding special attention and privileges to which they were entitled.

Then peace was declared, and the war was over, with our boys coming home - some brain-washed, shocked and highly nervous. We had the problem of helping them get re-adjusted to civilian life.

On top of all this, the county was building a new jail. The entire county was in a state of confusion. This was a time that separated the men from the boys.

The good citizens and I dedicated ourselves in a spirit of humility to our own responsibilities to the county and to each other. We communicated with each other. We had time to talk to each other.

In 1954, I was again elected sheriff of Lauderdale County. I had promised to make our office of sheriff second to none in the State of Tennessee. I selected five men: Doug Morgan, of Halls, still in law enforcement; Joe Norman, whereabouts unknown; Leslie Swain, deceased; W. J. Woods, of Ripley, retired assistant police chief, City of Ripley; and Earnest Underwood, radio dispatcher, deceased.

These men were all outfitted in tailor-made uniforms. I purchased two marked patrol cars. Besides my personal car - one for Halls and the other for central and south Lauderdale County. I was successful in negotiating a deal with the Civil Defense in Nashville for radios for the cars.

I was first to use the new jail; first to have uniformed deputies; and first to have marked, radio-equipped cars.

Neither I nor any of these men were trained by any law enforcement academy. That may account for us not having cameras and recording machines, but we did have the common sense necessary for good law enforcement.

When we talked to a person, we advised him that he had a right to remain silent - that anything he said could and probably would be used against him in a court of law.

Now all this happened before Watergate, and we did not bug people then. When we caught a neighbor violating some small misdemeanor, we felt that the embarrassment of being caught and the penalty fine and costs were sufficient punishment. We did not take pictures for the papers and print a story in every newspaper of the land to the embarrassment of the defendant's mother, wife, children, and even grandchildren who were innocent.

I agree with Ex-Sheriff Craig that he had every qualification to make a good sheriff - personality, youth, physical nature, and experience. There are other candidates in the race for our sheriff who are also qualified.

I think the people will be more careful this time in selecting their county officials. I believe in democracy, freedom, peace, and law enforcement for all the people.

What is law enforcement? Protection of life and property is just as important as the enforcement of the narcotic and alcoholic beverage laws.

I want a sheriff who will enforce the law and protect my life and property. I do not want special privileges for some while the rights of others are suppressed. I want a sheriff who can and will give us wise and honest law enforcement - moral, and economic welfare of the people of Lauderdale County.

I want a practical sheriff - one who has the spiritual, physical, and economic welfare of the people of Lauderdale County at heart.

I don't want a blind sheriff who cannot see any way except his way. I don't want a sheriff so deaf that no one can talk to him. I want a sheriff who will communicate with all the people.

I don't want a sheriff who is so dumb he cannot make the right decisions at the right time. I don't want a sheriff who, with the proper clothing, a man can stand the extreme cold as low as 50 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

Some have believed carrying rope in their pockets would make them lucky at cards.

wants to be a hero, wanting all the publicity he can get. I want a sheriff who can be proud of. How long has it been since you heard the sheriff of Lauderdale County referred to as "my" or "our" sheriff? It is always, nowadays, "The Sheriff." Why? Why don't we speak of him in a possessive way? Be careful about selecting your officials this summer. There is nothing wrong with this county that the faith, love of freedom, intelligence, and integrity of her citizens cannot cure.

We have a full house of candidates for sheriff, all telling us what they are capable of doing. I think this time they will be judged by what they have done. Maybe out of all these candidates and with their past records, we can have the intelligence to select a candidate to support who will make us a sheriff of whom we can be proud.

Do like I am going to do - vote for the candidate of your choice. They are all my friends. I offer to one and all of the candidates the hand clasp of a good neighbor. Take our hand, look us in the eye, and tell us what you are going to do. My Candidate, if you are elected, let us use ourselves to make life richer, sweeter, and nobler for all of us. Live so we will be able to say, I have fought a good fight; I have kept the faith. With malice toward none and love for all.

Oscar Griggs.

Jimmy Barnes, 34, son of Mr. and Mrs. Finis Barnes, of Lightfoot, was one of four men winning "Outstanding Tennessean Awards" from Gov. Ray Blanton last week for rescue efforts after the Waverly tank-car explosion Feb. 24th.

Blanton praised "the courage shown by these people in the face of disaster and death."

Barnes, a Wildlife Resources Agency officer in Benton County, was aiding in emergency communications when the tank car, loaded with propane, exploded 50 yards from him as he sat in a van with John D. White, Jr., of the state Department of Transportation, state civil defense hazardous materials expert, who was the only other survivor to win the Outstanding Tennessean Award.

Awards were given the families of Donald Mark Belyew and Daniel L. Engle, hazardous materials experts, who died in the blast.

Though the van's windows were closed, Barnes' face and hair were singed, and he had his hands burned in extinguishing his blazing coat.

His wife, Jennie, and their two children were at home when the tank car, one of two containing 288,000 gallons of propane, exploded "like an atomic bomb."

The cars were among 23 of a 93-unit Louisville & Nashville freight, bound from Nashville to Memphis, which derailed.

The blast claimed nine lives and injured nearly 100.

Lad Hit By Auto Has Broken Leg

Barry Akin, 15, son of Mrs. Linda Glover, of 230 Highland, Ripley, suffered a broken leg when struck by the left front fender of a Ford Maverick at 4:30 p.m. Friday on the Wal-Mart shopping center parking lot.

The car was driven by Alfred W. McBroom, 18, of 230 Jefferson, Ripley.

Taken to Lauderdale County Hospital, the youth was transferred to Parkview Hospital in Dyersburg.

Run For Constable By Court Districts

County Court—soon to be the "County Commission"—decided Monday the county will elect nine constables in August—one in each of the new county commission districts, instead of at least one per Civil District, as has been the practice in this county for decades.

The decision firms up the August ballot, since state legislation received from Nashville seems to deny this county a June 15th qualifying deadline for county commissioners which the legislature gave counties revising their districts after the normal May 2nd deadline.

County Judge Jerry Corlew said that since this county did not wait for the state legislation to revise its districts, it is believed the deadline extension does not apply for candidates here.

The table below summarizes the new county commission districts. Constables on the ballots in the new districts will be:

Position 1—Robert Bates, Dan.

Position 2, 3, 4—Hubert Criner, Julius Kimble, James Vanesse.

Position 5—J. T. Benthall, William "Bill" Davis, O'Neal Haynie, James H. Prater, Sr.

Position 6—Roy E. Lovelady, Joseph W. Spencer, Barry R. Wakefield.

Position 7—Lewis E. Clement, James Dukes, Gene Patton, Roger Wright.

Position 8—Gordon M. Gooch.

Position 9—Maurice E. Jordan.

Curve Fights Were Sellout

There was standing room only in Curve School Saturday evening as the seventh and eighth grades sponsored boxing matches to earn money for a year-end trip.

Lauderdale County Boxing Team members faced thus:

Heath Conrad lost decision to Memphis Fire Fighters' oldster and larger David Finley, after three rounds of solid punching.

Shannon Conrad, most improved junior, 1978 Memphis Junior Olympic champ, took a close split decision from MFF's Terry Bell, 1977 and 1978 Junior Olympic champ.

Gene Malone, one of two most improved beginners, confused Savannah's Junior Short with his southpaw stance to take the bout.

Greg Woodard, one of two most dedicated and promising, 1978 Junior Olympic champ, had more left jab than MFF's Chad Fry could handle and won the bout.

Clay Conrad, named the team's most dedicated and promising, rated most im-this year, got an 8-count on MFF's Eric Owen, who came out smoking, in 35 seconds of the first round, and after a flurry and another combination scored a technical knockout in 50 seconds of the second stanza.

Tim Goodman, one of two most improved intermediates, looked good in his first fight, but MFF's more experienced Albert Harris won it.

Sherman Voss, outstanding senior boxer, came on strong in the first round with MFF's Larry Joyner, runner-up in the Memphis Amateur Athletic Union tournament, but was weak in the stomach in the second ring and gave Joyner a TKO.

Eric Brown lost a split decision to MFF's Jeff Adams, who had a 10-pound weight advantage.

Keith Gitchell, outstanding junior boxer, and Lynn Lane, unmatched, met each other, with Gitchell, more experienced, taking the decision and the outstanding boxer award for the night.

Beside the team honors noted above, Ricky Woodard was recognized as one of two members most dedicated and promising. Rated most improved were Terry Goodman, intermediate, Eugene Brown, beginner, and Scott Dyeon and Heath Conrad, peewees.

Team members presented coaches Robert Conrad, Jimmy Jones, and Ron Rickard a plaque for the black eyes, bruises, sore muscles, and glove burns received.

to both schools from other areas in order to meet state standards.

Page Latham, presenting a petition with 534 signatures seeking continued use of the Halls air base for drag racing, was told by chairman pro tem Eugene R. Anthony, Jr., presiding while Judge Jerry Corlew was attending a judicial conference, that the base is now Halls' responsibility, after court agreement to make it available to Halls for development as an airport.

Nunns Buy Into Newbern Bank

David R. Nunn, chairman of the board of Bank of Halls, and Warren Nunn, president of Bank of Halls, have purchased the interest of E. A. Nichols in Security State Bank in Newbern, effective May 9th.

Mr. Nichols, who has been with the bank since 1931, resigned as president at a board meeting Tuesday.

W. H. Parks, of Trimble, remains as chairman of the board, with David R. Nunn elected vice-chairman. In other changes, John M. Drane, cashier, was named president, Warren Nunn was named executive vice-president, and Joann Hilliard was named vice-president and cashier.

The institution, with main offices in Newbern, has two branch offices in Dyersburg—on Park Avenue, near a Kroger shopping center, and in Milltown, in East Dyersburg.

Capital accounts of the bank are $1,400,000, with assets of approximately $20,000,000 and deposits of approximately $18,000,000.

Fugitive From Ft. Pillow Captured In New Mexico

Joe R. Sawyer, 23, of Shelbyville, who fled Fort Pillow State Prison Farm last July 7th while serving a 40-year sentence for armed robbery and second-degree murder of Herschel Griffith, of Memphis, in 1976, was arrested Wednesday of last week when a state police officer stopped the vehicle he was driving near Gallup, N.M.

Federal Bureau of Investigation agent Richard Baxter, of Gallup, reports Sawyer was also wanted in connection with a murder in California and an attempted murder in Colorado.

The court earmarked $500,000 for remodeling of Central and Curve Schools, from sales tax funds, though the state has not yet approved plans, and students must be routed

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON

During the past week, Americans throughout the nation observed a special day to promote solar energy as an important alternative energy resource. I am speaking, of course, of Sun Day, which was observed on May 3rd.

This special observance was designed as a day to help promote greater awareness of the potential that solar energy holds as at least a partial solution to the nation's energy situation. Furthermore, it was felt that this day could be used to promote solar energy as an important part of our efforts aimed at correcting the energy problem.

Here, in Washington, the observance was carried out in a big way. Displays of currently available solar hardware and possible solar uses were set up on the Mall and in various other locations around the city. The Department of Agriculture also sponsored a display of solar energy uses that could be adapted for farms.

Just prior to the observance of Sun Day, the House passed, by an overwhelming margin, a bill encouraging small businesses to participate in the solar and renewable energy resources fields. The bill authorizes the Small Business Administration to make loans to designers, producers, manufacturers, distributors, and marketers of solar energy and renewable energy resource equipment. Like the farm credit programs discussed last week, these loans would be made at interest rates that reflect, at a minimum, the cost of money to the government.

To insure that these loans go to legitimate small businessmen, the bill also establishes certain standards that must be met by an applicant to obtain such a loan. Factors to be considered in determining the greatest amount of paper went to Mrs. Jean McDearman's room with 1,658 pounds. Others with large amounts were Miss Elizabeth Fuller's fifth grade room with 1,151 pounds and Mrs. Dorothy Bridges' sixth grade room with 1,141 pounds. Many people have believed that cattle acquire the gift of speech on Christmas Eve.

Solar energy, in my opinion, can be harnessed to take an important place in the energy field. In addition, it would encourage small businessmen who might have a feasible idea in the use of renewable energy resources to continue their work toward making it available to the general public.

There is no doubt in my mind that small business, in general, ranks among the most important parts of our nation's economy. As new technologies are developed or expanded, I think the federal government should use its resources to encourage small businessmen and women to take a prominent role in meeting whatever demands may arise.

Solar energy, in my opinion, can be harnessed to take an important place in the energy field. In addition, it would encourage small businessmen who might have a feasible idea in the use of renewable energy resources to continue their work toward making it available to the general public.

There is no doubt in my mind that small business, in general, ranks among the most important parts of our nation's economy. As new technologies are developed or expanded, I think the federal government should use its resources to encourage small businessmen and women to take a prominent role in meeting whatever demands may arise.

Bride-Elect Feted At Tea

Miss Katie Terry, daughter of Mrs. Vance Terry and the late Mr. Terry, of Memphis, was honored Saturday with a bridal tea in the home of Mrs. J. W. Warren, Jr., on West Main.

Miss Terry will marry Grover Howse, son of Mrs. Jack Howse, of Memphis, and the late Mr. Howse, May 27th in Germantown Baptist Church. Mrs. Howse is the former Fern Parrish, of Halls.

Assisting Mrs. Warren were her mother, Mrs. Bob Poindexter, and two of Mr. Howse's cousins, Mrs. Marcus Fennell, of Reeves, and Mrs. Jerry Criffield, of Memphis.

Representing Halls High School in the regional track meet at Memphis State University Saturday will be, from left, David Atkinson, Mike Hudson, Marcus Reed, and Track Coach Larry Keen. The trio qualified in the district meet at Jackson Friday. Atkinson placed second in the mile run with a time of 4:43, Hudson qualified in the 100-yard dash and the 220 with times of 10 seconds and 23 seconds, and Reed qualified in the 2-mile run with a time of 10:36. They are the first entries from Halls High School in track meets in many years.

Garden Group To Set Shrubs At New School

Approving a recommendation by a committee headed by Mrs. David Nunn, the Halls Garden Club voted at its meeting May 4th to finance a planting of shrubs across the front of the elementary school building during the fall months.

Mrs. Sidney Gooch, club president, presented Mrs. R. J. Nunn, who gave a meditation "Voiceless Lips" by Nell Warren Outlaw. Mrs. Nunn told the group that the author says flowers speak, if people will but listen. Mrs. Nunn then read "Pansies." Judges for arrangements and specimen were Mrs. Bob Poindexter, Mrs. R. T. Peal, and Mrs. R. J. Nunn. First place went to Mrs. Hal Pennington for a triangle arrangement of red weigela; second to Mrs. Ross Dyer for a triangle arrangement of lavender iris. Mrs. Jim Jaynes took first and second place for iris specimens with a yellow and red iris, and third place went to Mrs. Pennington.

Mrs. Ross Dyer reported the placements of the Beauty Spot sign, all having been published in The Halls Graphic at the time of placing.

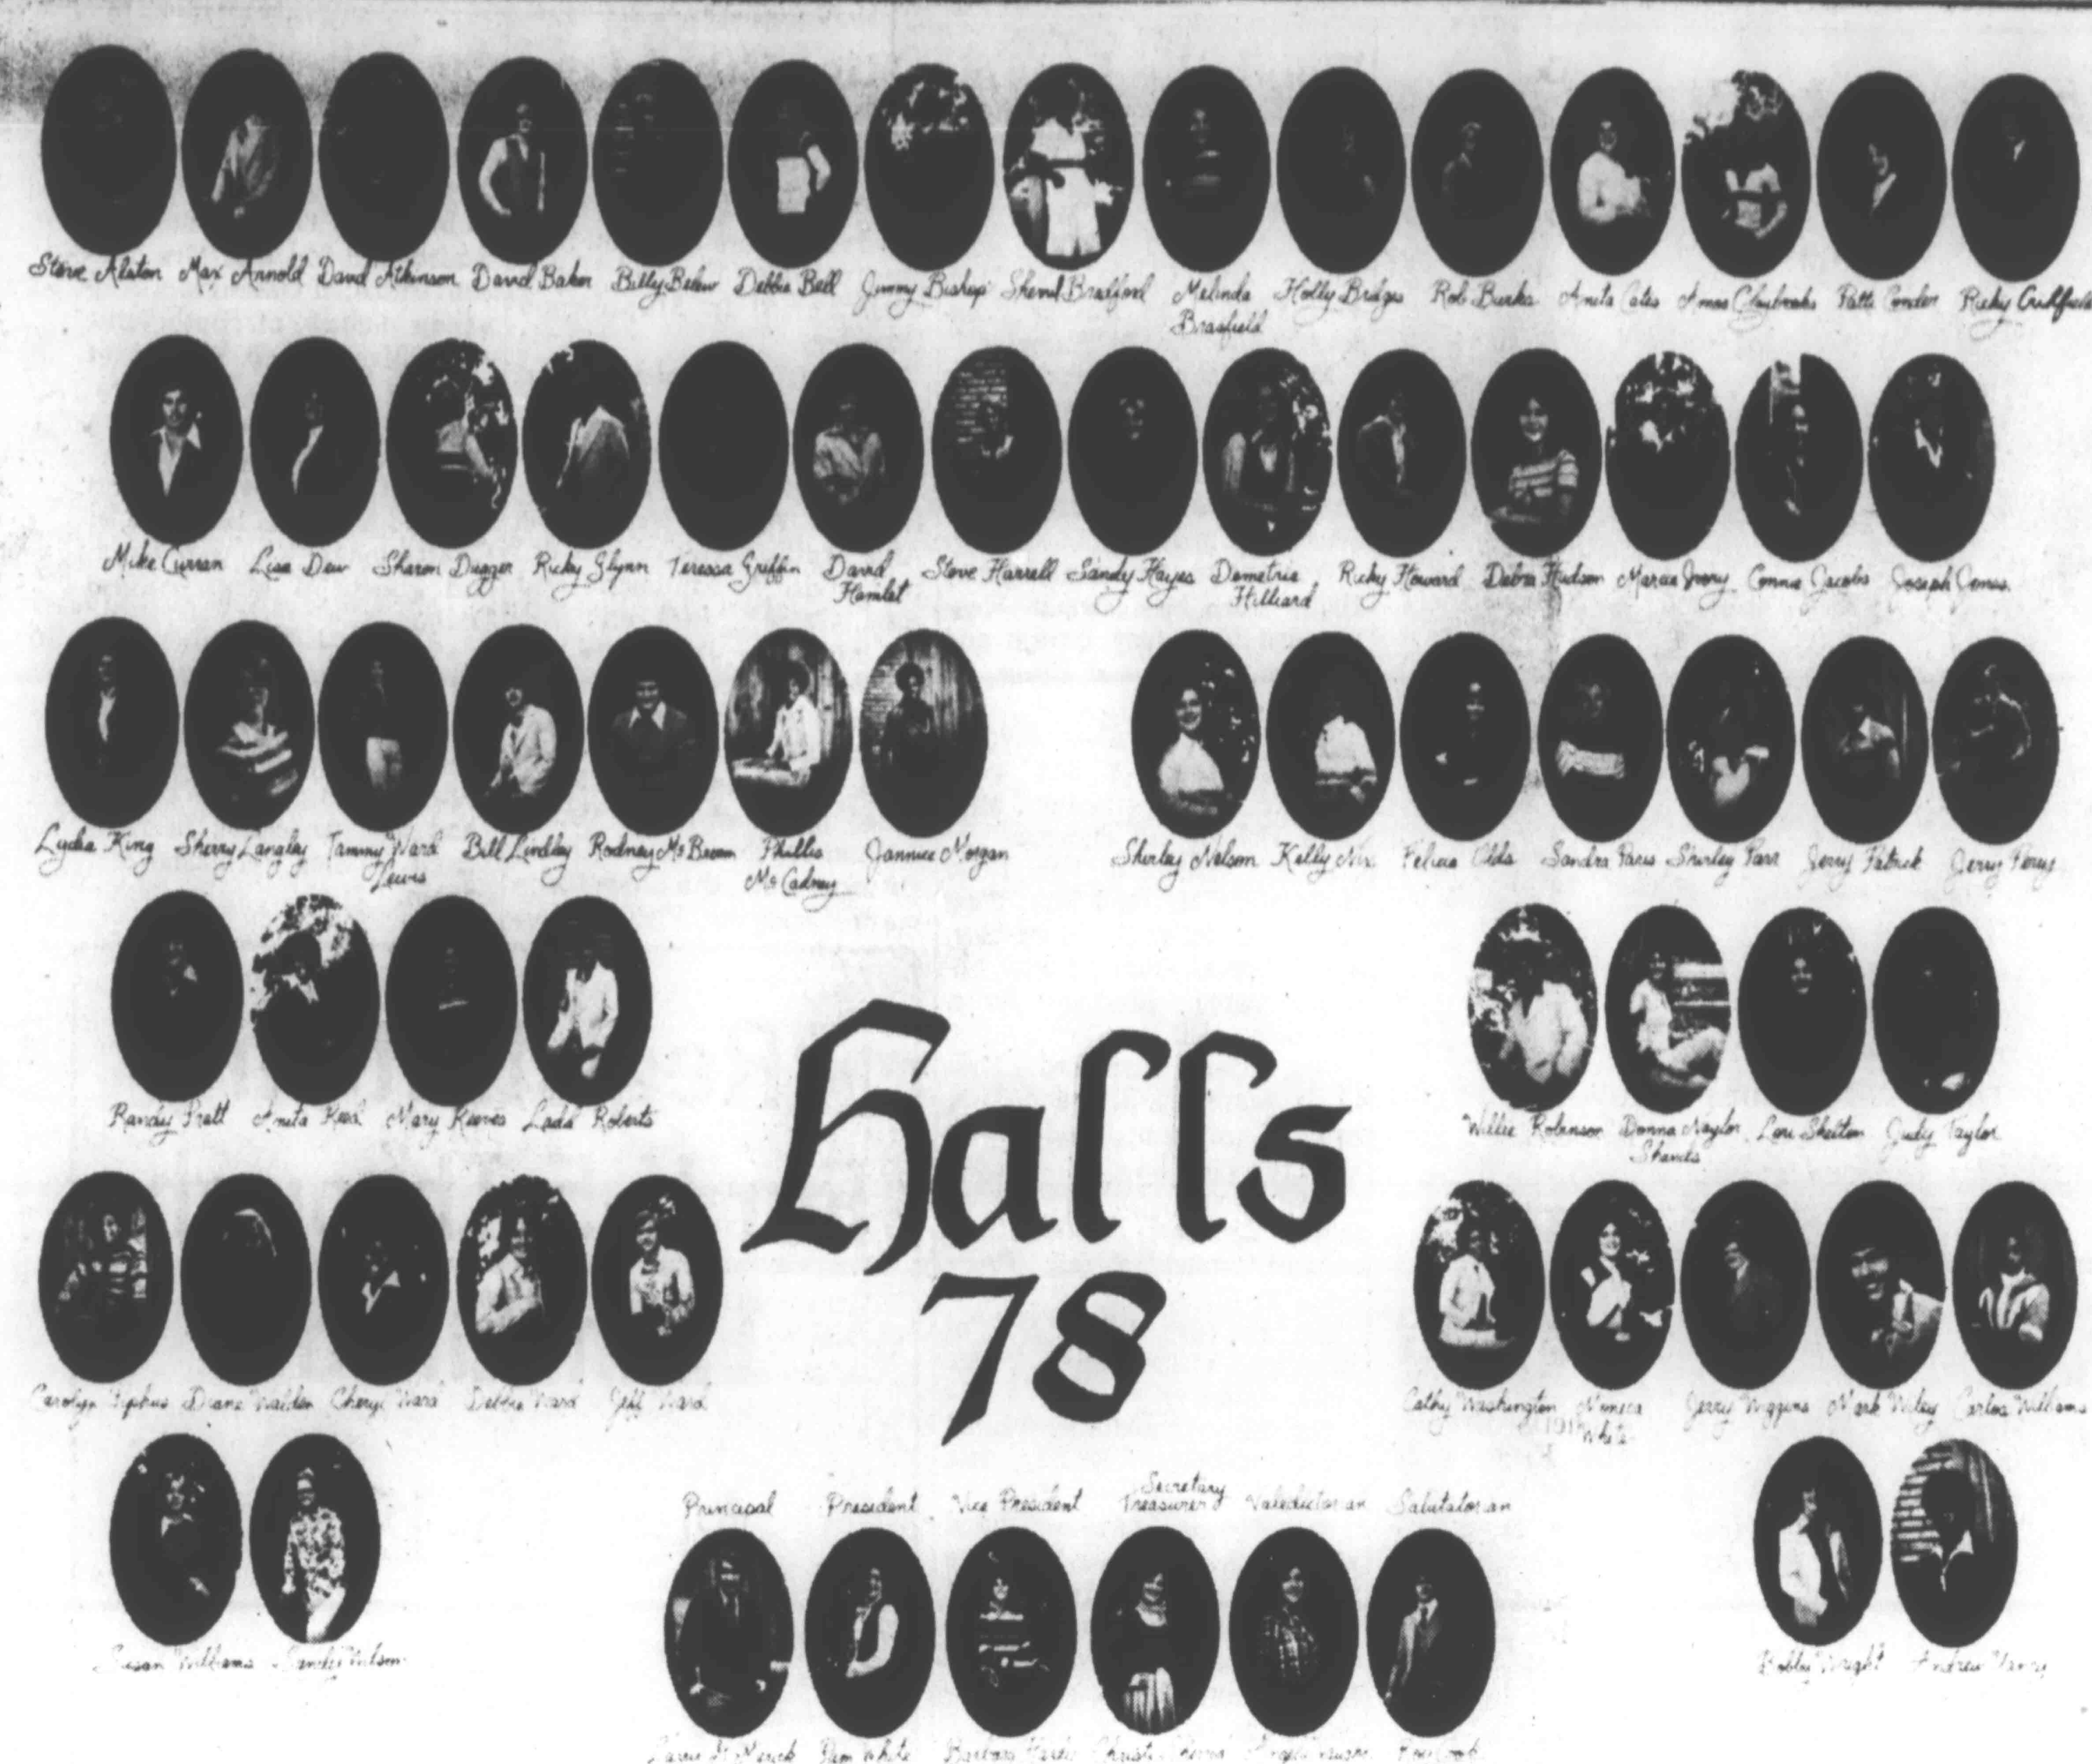

Mrs. Dyer, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Alvin Hallman who gave a review of the James A. Michener book, "The Drifters." Members followed closely as Mrs. Hallman told how Michener gathers material for a book, taking a large staff in-

Halls Board Approves Appeal For Federal Development Aid

Town of Halls Board of Aldermen Monday evening approved plans as presented by Larry Gavin, city engineer, for an application for federal Community Development funds.

Gavin recommended that $100,000 be spent on the old Halls Consolidated School building, $210,000 for rehabilitation of sub-standard houses, $300,000 for street improvement, $15,000 for code programming, and $25,000 for administering the funds, for a total of $650,000 to be sought. The area involved includes west along Tigrett Street to Fenton, north off Airport to Pearl, west of Pearl to Airport, north off Airport to Coleman, and east to the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad.

In other business the board:

Heard an appeal from a group seeking re-opening of the old air base runways for drag racing. After discussion the matter was referred to the Lauderdale County Quarterly Court since the old air base is the property of the county.

Heard John Webb, of the county health department, present an ordinance adopted by the county imposing penalties for dumping garbage in unauthorized spots. The board agreed to study the ordinance for future action.

Granted permission to Westside Baptist Church to use the old road as they choose since it was turned over to Westside about four years ago.

Heard a proposal to rezone an area at Church and Pearl Streets for business. Action was deferred until affected citizens can study the proposal.

Told Hancock, Inc. that it would be held responsible for utility lines covered by new construction, since the con-

Park Funds Approved

A grant of $53,895 to the Town of Halls for improvement of the 17-acre park failed to secure the required permits nor otherwise consulted with city officials.

Deferred action on purchase of a new police car until proper procedure can be ascertained, since 50% of the funds will be from a grant by the Law Enforcement Agency.

Voted to hire Lewis Hudson and Janie Mitchell to operate the summer program at Halls Consolidated School and approved employment of Andy Pugh and Phil Meeks to operate the summer baseball program. Also approved payment of franchise and insurance fees for the baseball program at an approximate cost of $800.

Approved request of Joe Mack Cherry to give tennis lessons in the mornings with the schedule to be worked out with the playground supervisors.

Rescinded the board meeting until 7 p.m., May 15th.

Halls Fire Department Halls, Tennessee 38040

Re: Waverly Disaster

I wanted to take this opportunity to express to your department and in particular the three firemen who were in attendance at the above referenced my sincere appreciation and personal gratitude for the service that you rendered in the recent tragedy in one of the counties that I serve. Waverly is in Rumphreys County where I prosecute on Wednesday of each week. I arrived at the scene of the explosion approximately one hour after the occurrence. Needless to say, chaos and fear were ever present.

During the minutes immediately following the blast, the need for personnel to aid with the treatment and evacuation of the injured was grave. It was comforting to see the many people from the surrounding counties and even from West Tennessee respond in the manner in which they did to a small town's cry for help. I want you to know that your endeavors in these people's behalf did not go unnoticed.

It was not until some weeks following this tragedy that I became aware that my hometown had persons present and participating in the aid to victims. The portable generator and floodlights that were brought to the scene by the Lauderdale County Rescue Squad proved invaluable during the first night of the blast. There illumination provided some benefit to those of us working in and out of the temporary morgue facility.

The courage you have demonstrated and the willingness to serve others is truly an outstanding attribute for each of you to possess.

Thanking you once again for your assistance to the citizens of this county within my circuit, and looking forward to being able to see you in the future, I remain,

With kindest regards and best wishes,

Daniel W. Cook

Cotton Delayed, Corn Pondered

Five inches of heavy rain early last week dealt a blow to newly planted cotton and severely eroded fields prepared for planting of cotton and soybeans. Small gullies created reveal the fact that in many fields, farmers are using part of the hard-pan as top-soil, which may account for crop yield reduction. A surprising result of the rainfall, however, was a sudden rise in soil temperatures. From the upper 30s, it jumped quickly to 63 and last Friday averaged 70 degrees at 6 a.m. and is sufficient to germinate cotton seed and maintain the seeding if the ground is not too wet, which could contribute to seedling disease. Most cotton in the county seems quite healthy despite all the cold weather. Oliver Voss and others, speculating on cotton acreage for 1978, predict an amount near the 11,250 we had in 1977. Congress receipts in Ripley and consideration of other factors involved in the ginning and transfer of cotton fixed Lauderdale County's crop last year at 13,800 bales. Though the weather can prevent planting, May 25th is just about the last date to allow for proper maturity before frost. New Testing For Brucellosis Tennessee's brucellosis eradication program, just completed in Lauderdale County, is being aided by a new regulation beginning May 15th, requiring blood testing of all cattle of 18 months of age sold for breeding purposes within 30 days before sale. A veterinarian can test samples in his office, avoiding the delay of sending samples to the state laboratory. Market Near John A. Clement participated last year in Food Fair in Dyersburg, sponsored by the First Methodist Church, on a parking lot. Farmers sold produce as they do in the parking lot west of the Lauderdale County Jail in Ripley. Possible starting date is July 7th. There will be $1 per week cost for the privilege of selling there.

Joint ADK Meet Installs Officers

Mrs. F. E. Wright, of Jackson, international grand president of Alpha Delta Kappa, installed new officers of the chapter as 110 members met Saturday in Ripley High School.

Luncheon tables were centered with blooming begonias, favors for each one—courtesy of Bank of Ripley, Farmers Union Bank, and Production Credit Association, as well as the head table's arrangement of purple iris and yellow daisies.

Miss Carolyn Cribfield, president of this county's Pi Chapter, presented an orchid corsage to Mrs. Wright and introduced Mrs. Jimmy Lewis, chaplain, for the invocation.

After lunch, she thanked her co-hostesses, Mrs. Eddie Carden and Mrs. Duane Martin, and introduced other chapter presidents—Mrs. Joe Nucholls, of Brownsville, Mrs. Jack Mallard, of Dyersburg, Mrs. Clarice Wortham, of Covington, and Mrs. Matthew Enocha, of Dyer County.

Also introduced were Mrs. Ralph Moore, West Tennessee district chairman, and Mrs. F. L. Thompson, Mrs. Rose Tillman, Mrs. Nucholls, Mrs. Larry Sanders, Mrs. A. E. Slover, and Mrs. Roy Thompson.

After Mrs. Wright spoke, Mrs. W. A. Smith, of Ft. Smith, presented her a plate painted by Mrs. A. R. Walker, of Ripley.

Door prizes were 20 cutting boards, courtesy of Bank of Halls.

In the Little Theatre, Mrs. Joe H. Walker, Jr., program chairman, presented Mrs. J. A. Dunaway, who gave a reading, "Social Function."

followed by a piano duet by Mrs. William Davis and Mrs. Frank Thompson.

Hailed For Golden Deeds

FRED FAULK, right, was presented the Ripley Exchange Club's Book of Golden Deeds Award by Exchange Club member Larry Carden at a banquet Friday in the Fraternal Order of Police lodge hall. A native of Bedford County, Mr. Faulk, Farm Bureau insurance representative, is active in Ripley Church of Christ and Ripley Rotary Club and has served unselfishly in conducting many self-improvement courses sponsored by Durhamville-Orysa Community Club.

Diseases Devour Cotton Seedlings

By Charles T. Peal

Seedling diseases, often called "damping off," have hit many fields of cotton here.

They attack the plant at the soil level and spread down to completely destroy roots.

Though most producers plant seed treated with fungicides, the prolonged period of cool, damp soil did not allow the seedling to get off to a fast start and over-come these disease organisms as it would have in warm soil.

Specimens also indicate an ascochyta or weather blight which can cause a complete loss of stand.

The only recourse available to producers on cotton land is to replant in soybeans.

Larry Hawk says about 20 producers have requested their cotton be checked for possible plow-up and replanting to soy beans.

University of Tennessee data show that at least six weeks are necessary between the time Cotera is applied and the time soy beans can be planted in order to get a normal yield.

Some farmers have been successful in dipping both ways in order to dissipate the material and help it break down in the soil so it will not damage the beans.

Heavy rains may have accelerated the breakdown of Cotera, adding the chances of soy beans following cotton with this pre-emergence chemical applied.

Pesticides Deserve Care

More than 500 farmers in this county have been certified as commercial pesticide applicators, after having attended meetings conducted by the Extension Service.

Rubber gloves, protective clothing, and in some cases face masks are necessary when handling more toxic materials. No one can afford to take a chance on handling pesticides that can be absorbed through the skin or breathed into the lungs that might cause certain injury.

Symptoms of pesticide poisoning usually appear within 12 hours following exposure. When they appear, one should go immediately to a hospital or a doctor's office and if possible know what the material is that caused the trouble so that the doctor can apply the proper antidote.

The Environmental Protection Agency is just about ready to make final its restricted use pesticide list. It seems likely that this list will start requiring certification cards for the purchase of material.

Mayor Finds Henning Re-Built In Hollywood

Henning Mayor and Mrs. Billy Po Brandon were guests Tuesday of Alex Haley on the Warner Bros. movie sets on which the sequel to the television adaptation of Haley's book, "Roots," is being produced for the American Broadcasting Company.

The new series, "Roots: The Next Generations," starring Henry Fonda as a Southern colonel and Olivia de Havilland as his wife, is expected to run 12 hours and cover the years from 1882 to the present. Shooting as the Henning visitors arrived was of the 1897 era, with George Stanford Brown, who was in the first television series, playing Tom Harvey, a freed slave who was a blacksmith in Henning at the turn of the century.

Henning has been re-created for the camera lenses as two sets—one at the Warner Bros. studios in Burbank and one at a ranch near by. As shooting proceeds, small trees are being replaced with larger ones, gas lights and buildings are added, streets are paved, and automobiles are about to be added to the backgrounds.

"We haven't found anyone yet who will play Alex," Vernon White, producer, joked with the Brandons. "He says we haven't found anyone good-looking enough."

A CANDIDATE State Considering New Blue Law Poll

The State Election Commission has not ruled Ripley cannot put the question of repealing its "blue law"—which restricts Sunday business operations—on the Aug. 3rd general election ballot, as the city board voted to request.

Walter Parsons, commission attorney, told city officials Monday that he was surprised by a Commercial Appeal report that Ripley's request had been ruled out, along with one from Lake County for an opinion poll on a regional basis.

He said Ripley's request had not even been received at the time of the report. It did not reach the state commission until Tuesday of this week.

William "Bill Pete" Tucker IV, former county election commission chairman, says he expects the state to disapprove the request.

Tucker and "Bud" Meadows were automatically dropped from the county commission when they qualified as candidates for county commissioner in the August balloting. It is a misdemeanor for candidates to serve on the commission.

State authorities have not named replacements to bring the commission back up to five members, who will then elect their own chairman to succeed Tucker.

1-Woman Class Of '08 Sets 'Re-Union' Here

Seventy years ago, on the evening of May 14, 1908, black citizens of Ripley filled the second floor courtroom of the Ripley courthouse—not for a hearing, not for a trial; nor to hear a judge pronounce a sentence—but for the second graduating exercise of the Ripley High School for Blacks, when Bessie Dupree, the lone graduate, recited for 29 minutes an oration entitled "Self-Reliance," which included both salutatory and valedictory benedictions.

Where is the class today? Where is the girls' trio who sang "Come, Genial Spring," with an encore that night? Where are the other schoolmates?

The class of 1908—Bessie—now lives a life of retirement at 4700 Bessie Court in St. Louis, Mo., where she is active in religious, civic, and social circles after 47 years of teaching in Tennessee and Arkansas and teaching English to the foreign-born in the International Institute in St. Louis. Serving 17 years as bookkeeper and personnel manager in a business owned by her husband, B. M. Ivy, also involved much instruction.

Life has not been a bed of roses, but a few of her priceless memories involve sailing over the Atlantic to spend historic summers in Europe, giving the Centennial address at Holly Grove Baptist Church in Ripley; addressing the Illinois Senate when her son, Cecil Partee, was President of the Church at 6 p.m. Sunday and 7:30 p.m. Monday through Friday of next week. The Rev. E. T. McCoy, pastor, invites the public.

She will be returning to Ripley in mid-July for a Dupree family re-union, when members of a seventh generation will review their "roots."

Dennis Cleek, of Middleton, will hold a youth revival in the Dry Hill Assembly of God Church at 6 p.m. Sunday and 7:30 p.m. Monday through Friday of next week. The Rev. E. T. McCoy, pastor, invites the public.

BONNIE JO WALKER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Walker, Jr., of Lackey Lane, Ripley, made the last semester's Chancellor's List at the University of Mississippi in Oxford, with a 3.87 average (of a possible 4.0).

RETIRING

MARSHALL G. PIERCE, JR., 58, Halls Postmaster, will retire Aug. 18th after 40 years with the Halls Post Office. A native of Dyersburg, Pierce moved to Halls with his family in 1929 and after graduation from Halls High School joined the post office in '38. In January, 1942, he volunteered for the Army, serving in the Far East until November, 1945. He returned to the post office in January, 1946. Appointed acting postmaster in October, 1964, after Postmaster E. J. Shannon retired, Pierce was named postmaster in August, 1967. He has been superintendent and secretary of First Baptist Church's Sunday School and adjutant of the Halls American Legion Post. He belongs to the 377th U. S. Army Division Association and to the Cincinnati Chapter of the 147th Infantry. He has no special retirement plans. A temporary replacement will be sent to Halls until a new postmaster is chosen from a group of five persons now in the Postal Service, with seniority and experience major factors. Axford Pickens, supervisor of postal services in the Halls office, says he will not seek the position, on the advice of his doctor.

Voss Re-Union Is Set For June

All Voss families are invited to bring lunch to an annual re-union June 11th at Tipperware's recreation area in Halls.

Mrs. Margaret Voss Allen, of Mobile, Ala., researching the Zilman Sylvester Voss and Nancy Pewitt Voss family tree—with Tillman, Hendren, and Hutchinson descendants—requests anyone with information to contact her at the re-union.

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON

Time has come again for the annual authorization bill for the Department of Defense. This legislation is brought up each year by the Committee on Armed Services to authorize the procurement by the Defense Department of major weapons systems during the upcoming fiscal year. As one might imagine, this bill tells the country what weapons will be developed and purchased, and what the strength of our Armed Services in terms of manpower will be.

This year's bill authorizes the expenditure of $37.9 billion for procurement of major weapons systems during the fiscal year. The total amount is $2.4 billion over the Administration's request and represents a $1.3 billion increase as compared to last year.

The major changes in the proposal presented by the Administration are in the Navy's ship-building program. In addition to what the Pentagon requested, the House Armed Services Committee authorized the construction of another Nimitz-class aircraft carrier and a new nuclear powered strike cruiser. Those are the biggest and most costly items included in the increase.

The bill also makes several major additions to the Administration's request for aircraft. Other increases were authorized for purchase of new missiles, tanks, and other equipment.

In addition to authorizing major purchases of military equipment, the bill also sets manpower levels for the Armed Forces. It sets a ceiling of over two million persons for active duty forces and $27,000 for Reserve and National Guard Forces. One aspect of the manpower question that is constantly

Who says there's no substitute for money?

Everything Checking Accounts!
In many ways it makes more sense to use checks than the real thing. A trim checkbook is much safer to carry than a full wallet. One check from Everybody's Bank can become any sum of money. Bill paying can be done through the mail. Then there's checking records to show where the money's gone. Just about everything cash can't do, our checking does. Try it.

MR. AND MRS. SIDNEY EXCEL GOOCH celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday with open house in their home on North Hazel Street in Halls. Honoring them and receiving with them were their children, with their spouses—Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Belton, Mr. and Mrs. D. Sidney Gooch, Douglas Gooch, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gooch, all of Memphis.

Mrs. Gooch, the former Kathleen Tull, wore a green floral floor length gown, complemented by a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses. Mr. Gooch wore a green suit with a yellow rose boutonniere.

The dining table, laid with an ecrú lace cloth over a light gold liner, was centered by a silver epergne of yellow roses, daisies, and baby's breath. Mrs. James L. Wright, daughter of the Jackie Beltons, served the anniversary cake, triple-tiered and decorated with white rosettes and topped with yellow sweetheart roses, daisies, and baby's breath.

Cherry punch was served from a crystal and silver service by granddaughters, Miss Cindy Gooch and Miss Amy Belton. Mixed nuts and white and yellow decorated mints in crystal compotes completed the table setting.

Miss Lisa Gooch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Sidney Gooch, and Kimberly Ann Kelly Gooch, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gooch, presided at the guest register. The registry table was laid with a soft yellow Dacron sheer cloth over a yellow liner. Yellow roses in a white milk glass vase and a Golden Anniversary plate completed the table decorations.

Gift floral arrangements were placed at vantage points throughout the house as more than 120 guests extended congratulations.

Among out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Belton, Mrs. Glen Chisholm, Judge and Mrs. Jerry Corlew, Mrs. F. H. Paschal, Mrs. Louis Wheatley, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stephens, Mrs. Neil Crain, and Mrs. Arthur Gooch, all of Ripley; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Home Uses Energy While You're Gone

You are on vacation. Your house is empty. Silence is predominant. Yet there is a steady hum in the background. The motors of your refrigerator and freezer are running, and electric clocks are keeping time. And occasionally the roar of the cooling system breaks in as it kicks on.

There are some lights burning at your house. You left them on purposely for security reasons. And in some remote part of your house, your electric water heater is keeping water hot for no reason.

You are on vacation when the meter reader comes by and reads your electric meter. Part of your vacation time may appear on one power bill and the rest on another. Therefore, the reduction in your electricity use may not be readily apparent.

You return from vacation and receive your power bill. You hit the ceiling because it is higher than you expected. You didn't use that much electricity, right? Wrong! Think back.

The refrigerator and freezer were using electricity. You were going to adjust your refrigerator's thermostat before you left, but you forgot.

Then there's the date the meter was read. Not all of your vacation time appeared on one power bill.

While you were away, some of the appliances at your house were working as faithfully as ever. You were the one on vacation.

Early History Of Halls Being Studied

Halls' history was the center of interest when the Lauderdale County Historical Society met Tuesday evening at the Newport News and First United Methodist Church.

Don Connell, president, said Dr. Robert Drake, former Riparian who is a professor of English in the University of Tennessee in Knoxville, will probably present the program at the June meeting.

Mrs. O.J. Nunn led the program on Halls, with Mary Alsbrook presenting early history, and Sean Spence discussing Henry Rutherford and Rutherford Cemetery.

Mrs. Alsbrook quoted 1887 Tennessee history's report that Halls Station on the Newport News and Mississippi Valley Railroad, was founded in 1822 by Hansford R. Hall, J. S. Stephens and S. A. Jordan, and had about 400 inhabitants. This railroad was later taken over by the Illinois Central.

Joe Hurt, a descendant of an early pioneer family and avid history student, said the settlement was first known as Hansford's Station.

Since the rivers were the main source of transportation and communication before the railroad came, Double Bridge to the west and Chestnut Bluff to the east, both near the Forked Deer River, were much more prosperous and busy places before the coming of the railroad.

Hansford Hall gave the right-of-way for the railroad but wanted to sell the land for the station. Since the company wanted this land given, too, there was a dispute, and for some time trains did not stop in the town but would stop at Brown's crossing to the north and at Sumner Creek and Gates to the south.

Mrs. May Young Cherry, 94, was born about half a mile north of Halls, the daughter of Dr. Sam Young, a dentist, and Ida Buck Young. She lives between Ripley and Halls now. She says she remembers that her mother would have to ride to Gates to meet her father returning from St. Louis.

E. Stanfield, general merchant, was the first to engage in business in Halls in 1882. The next merchant was J. Wiggins, in 1948 and a followed Wm. Stephens, T. E. Salisbury, H. R. Hall, and John Davis.

Other merchants in 1887 were Glass and Stanley, general store; W. F. Waggoner, man, groceries; Mrs. J. J. Brooks, drugs; W. A. Blair, drugs, groceries and hardware; and S. E. Williams & Co., dry goods and groceries.

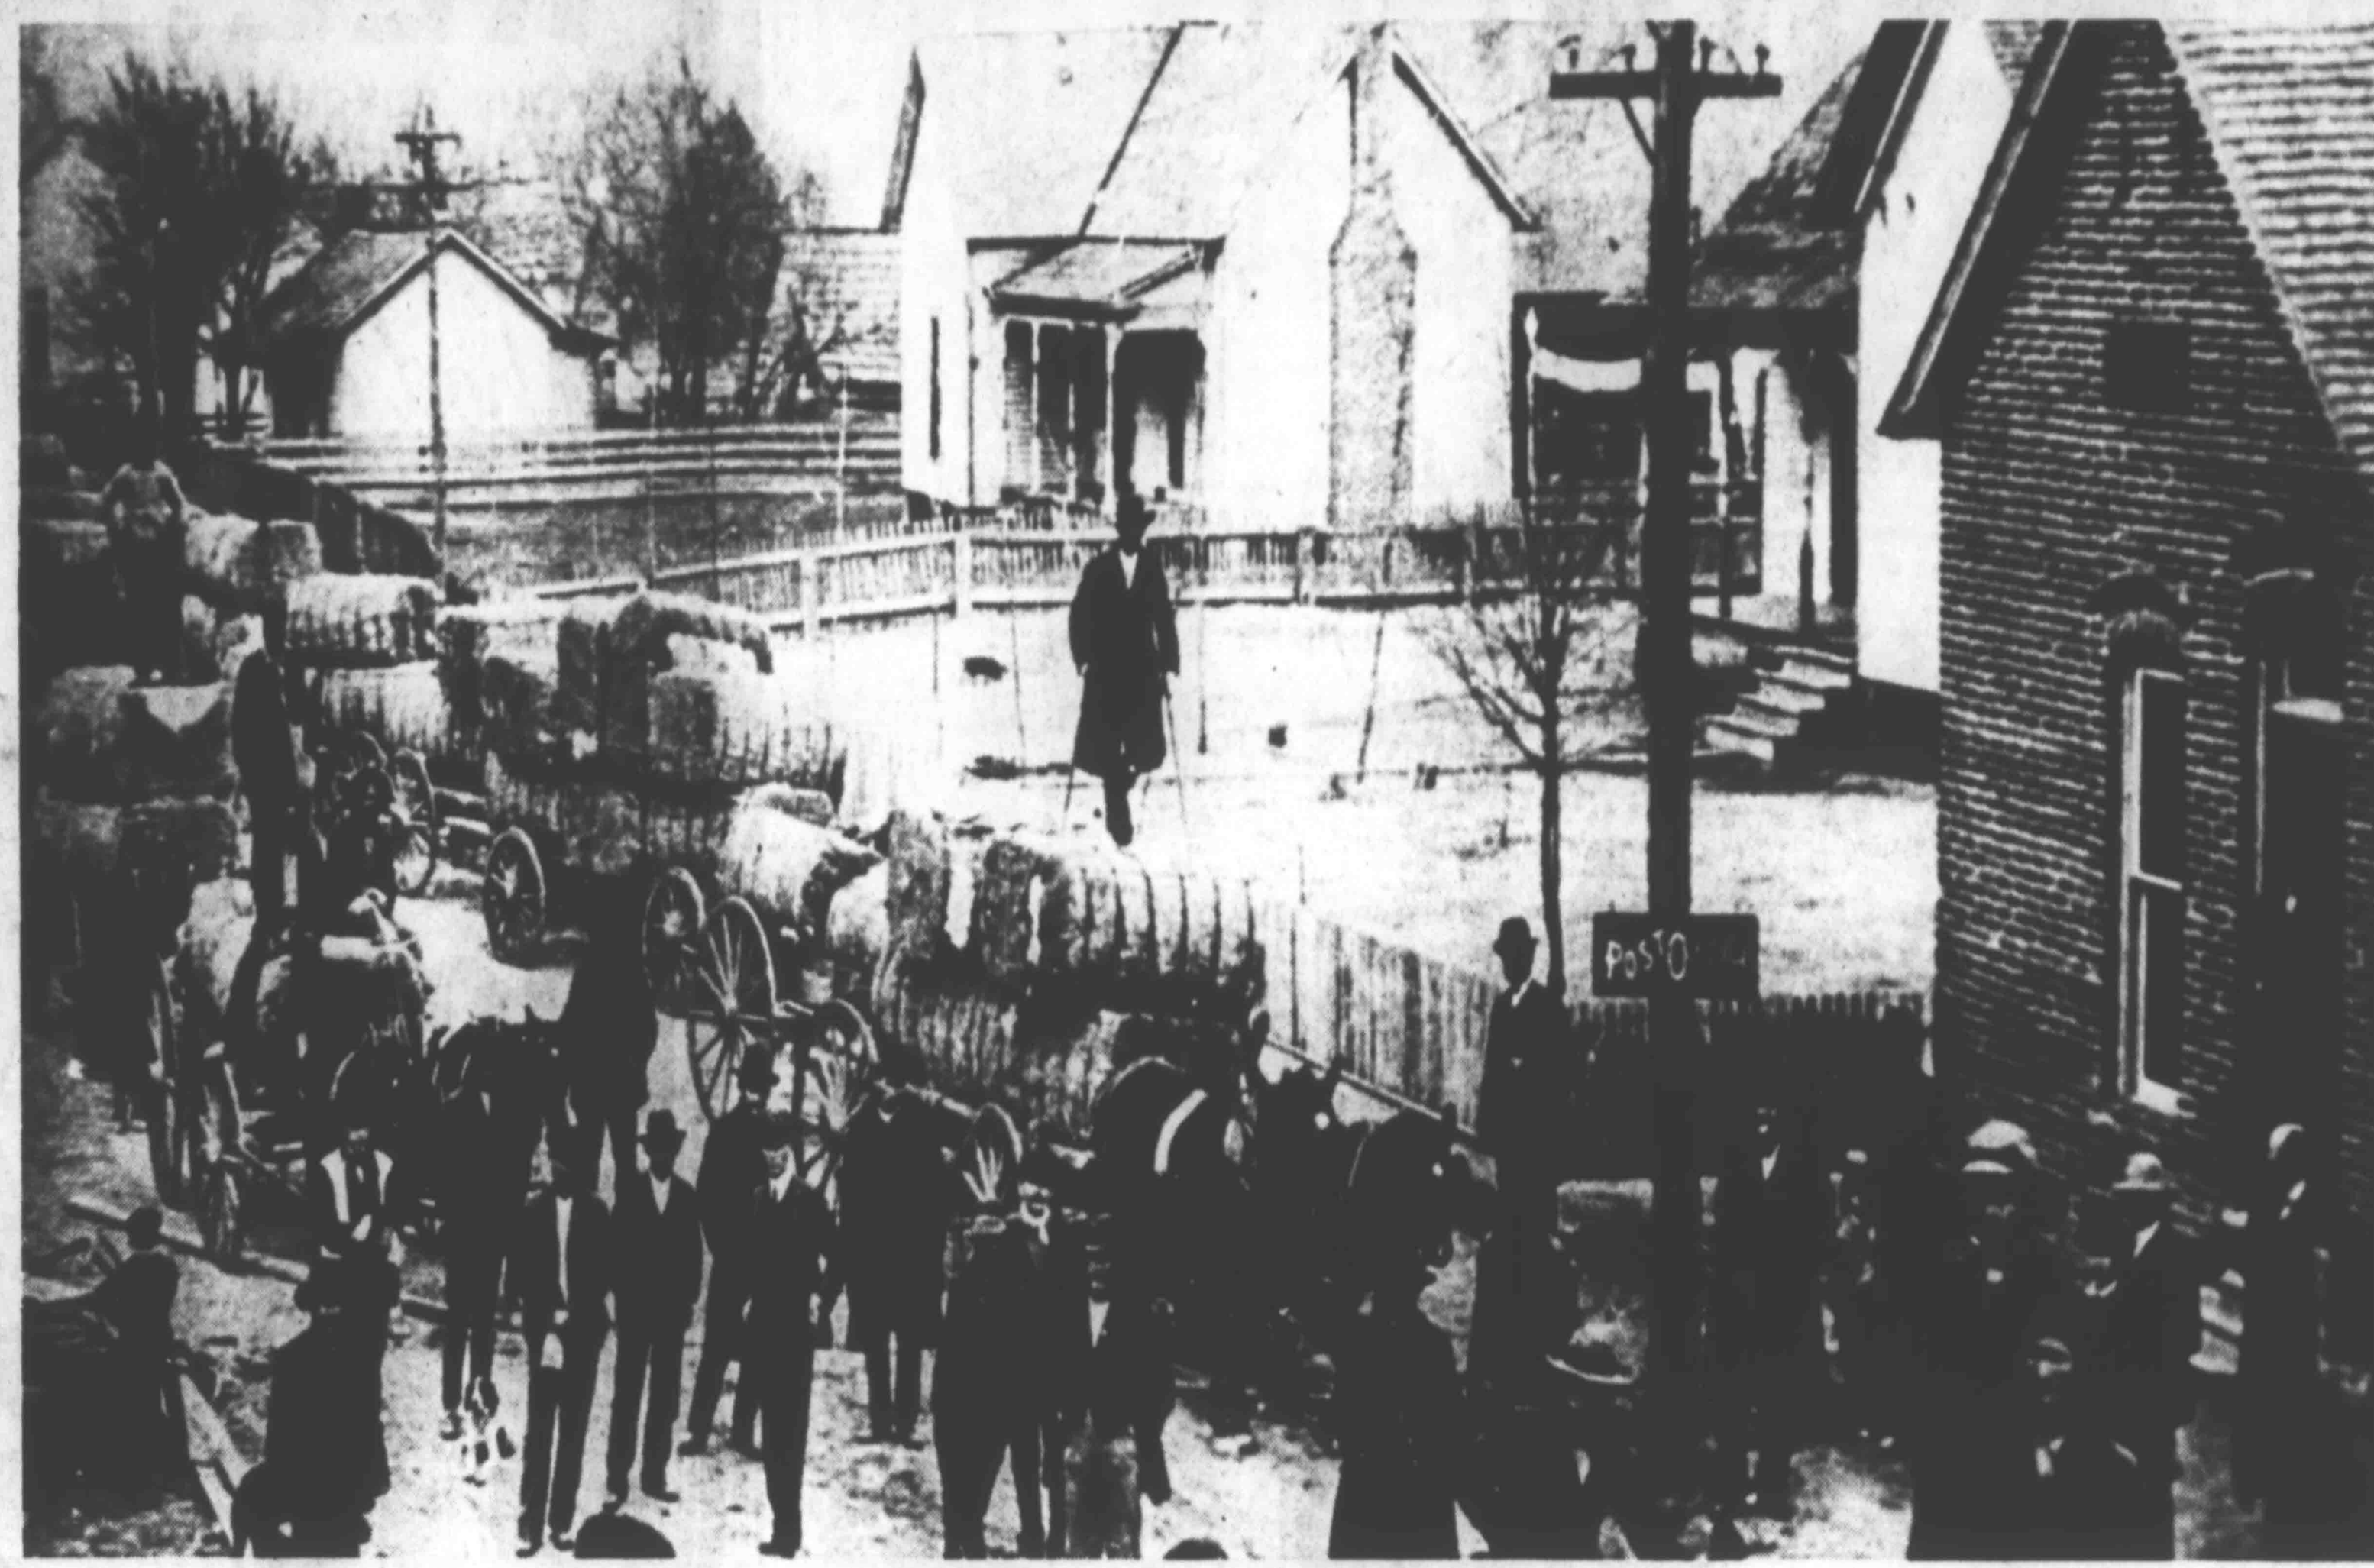

Manufacturers were Young and Sawyer, steam cotton gin; D. P. Shoffner, steam saw mill and wagon material; J. H. Farmer, saw, grist and planing mill and cotton gin; Shannon and Farmer's mill was established in 1886.

The first school Mrs. Alsbrook found in the histories were Young school, Baptist and Methodist, built by the above mentioned Dr. Young and his brothers about half a mile north of Halls. It was a subscription school, as was the Anderson School, in the home about half a mile west of Halls. Faye Currie has information on two schools, established even earlier—the Bernes Male and Female Academy, north of Halls, and the Beech Bluff school between Halls and Gates, operated by the Beech Bluff Christian Church, where Beech Bluff Cemetery is today.

About 1880, Talbert F. Hall, Jeff Stephens, and Caswell Brandon built a one room school in Mr. Stephens' yard, on what is now East Tigaret Street, primarily for their families, but others did attend.

During the late 1800's, the John Farmers donated a lot on College Street for school purposes, and a two room frame building was erected, the upper floor being used by the Knights of Pythias and later by the masons.

Mrs. Cherry told Mrs. Alsbrook of attending this school after she finished Young's School and later going to the Brownsville Female Academy, as many other young ladies of Halls did. Lucille Cherry was her room-mate, and they were in some mischief when the teacher told her (May Young) that she was not being very lady-like but was acting like a young buck. She told him that maybe the reason was that her father was a Buck. He seemed amused and did not punish her.

It was in Brownsville that Lucille Cherry met Fred Haglan. They were married and lived in Halls for many years, rearing five sons.

The W. A. Rawles family moved to Halls in the early 1900s, living on East Tigaret Street, next to the Jordan home place and later on Locust Street, where the three sisters, Lyde, Thelma, and Electra Young, now live.

Lucy (deceased), the oldest, married Guy Jordan, editor of The Halls Graphic for many years, and is remembered for the sweet obituaries she would write for the paper. Several families felt much better after reading what "Miss Lucy" had written about their loved one.

Electra married Frank Young (deceased), son of Dr. Sam. She loaned Mrs. Alsbrook a picture of her class made at the early school on College Street, showing the late Rutherford with his finger bandaged. It was said he cut his finger to avoid taking a test that day.

Joe Sumrow, Rhoe Hall, Carl Poston, Willie Hurt, Paul Hurt, Julia Buck, Siale Cone, Farrin Hilliard, Will Nunn, Rebecca Young (most now deceased) are recognized in the picture.

The Rawles family were devout Methodists, and in writing the history of the Methodist Church, said there have been 39 pastors, with David H. Cherry serving for 30 years as the first Sunday School superintendent, with T. N. Dyer following him and serving for nine years. There have been nine or ten since then. In 1906 the present brick structure was built.

Joe Hurt says the first frame structure was blown across the street during a storm, pulled back by oxen, and put back together.

Elizabeth Cambrian Hurt, wife of William Washington Hurt, raised $15.00 to buy the bell in the frame church, which was installed in the brick church and hangs there today.

The stained glass windows were installed in 1948 at a cost of $8,500. The first annex was added in 1925.

An extensive building program was launched during the pastorate of Kenneth Stuart, now minister in Olive Branch, Mississippi, with an impressive service held January 31, 1960, with Bishop Marvin Franklin and Dist. Supt. Dr. Burkett assisting the pastor in dedicating the remodeled and refurbished building.

Mrs. Buna Tice Jackson, who lives on East Tigaret Street, is a descendant of early settlers. Her father served on the Board of Aldermen. She has a picture of an early school class with Mrs. Sally Hilliard (later McDearman) the teacher.

Among those recognized were Effie Cox, Sadie Miller, Gladys Elkins, Cornelius

Moore, Byron Lucas, Mott Sumrow, Cary Hutcherson, Isaac Farmer, Brooks Hathaway, Pat Wiley, Jack Hurley, Annie Mary Hanna, Lula May Cox, Buna Tice, Georgia Witt, Hazel Jones, Clarkie Witt, Maurine Davis, and many others.

She tells of Dr. Will Millen being the only doctor in Halls at that time. Never married, he lived with his mother on the corner of Main and Church Streets. She had a millinery shop in the front of her home, with Mrs. Dora Argo and Miss Pearl Trebeau (who later married R. H. Jordan) assisting her.

Dr. Millen would become so concerned about a sick patient that he would remain for hours acting as nurse as well as doctor.

Isaac Farmer, a descendant of early settlers, Meredith Pinkney, Gentry Farmer and Mary Jane Nunn Farmer, now lives on East Main. His father had a general store and did truck farming. He tells of the old Hanna Hotel above the store, a wooden building that stood next to the Hanna residence (an apartment house now). The dining room was in the rear, and drummers would spend the night in the room upstairs.

There was also a Negro hotel, behind this one, between Tigaret and Main Streets, about where the Cannon Shop is now. He is not sure of the name but thinks it was Ride Out or Right Out Hotel.

He recalls the McCoy house that was moved from the corner of Main and College (where the Wilson house was built) to the corner of Tigaret and College Streets. This house was cut in half, with stream emptying into the Mississippi on the east side. Some of the men killed a large buck deer with long forked antlers, suggesting the name Forked Deer River.

Several miles down this river, a leaning sycamore tree standing on the south bank was marked the beginning corner (Key Corner). On this tree Rutherford drew with his knife the letters H. R. and the picture of a key.

He surveyed more than 365,000 acres and returned to Middle Tennessee, not returning to West Tennessee, until the lands were opened to settlement.

In September, 1819, he and his brothers, John and Griffith, returned.

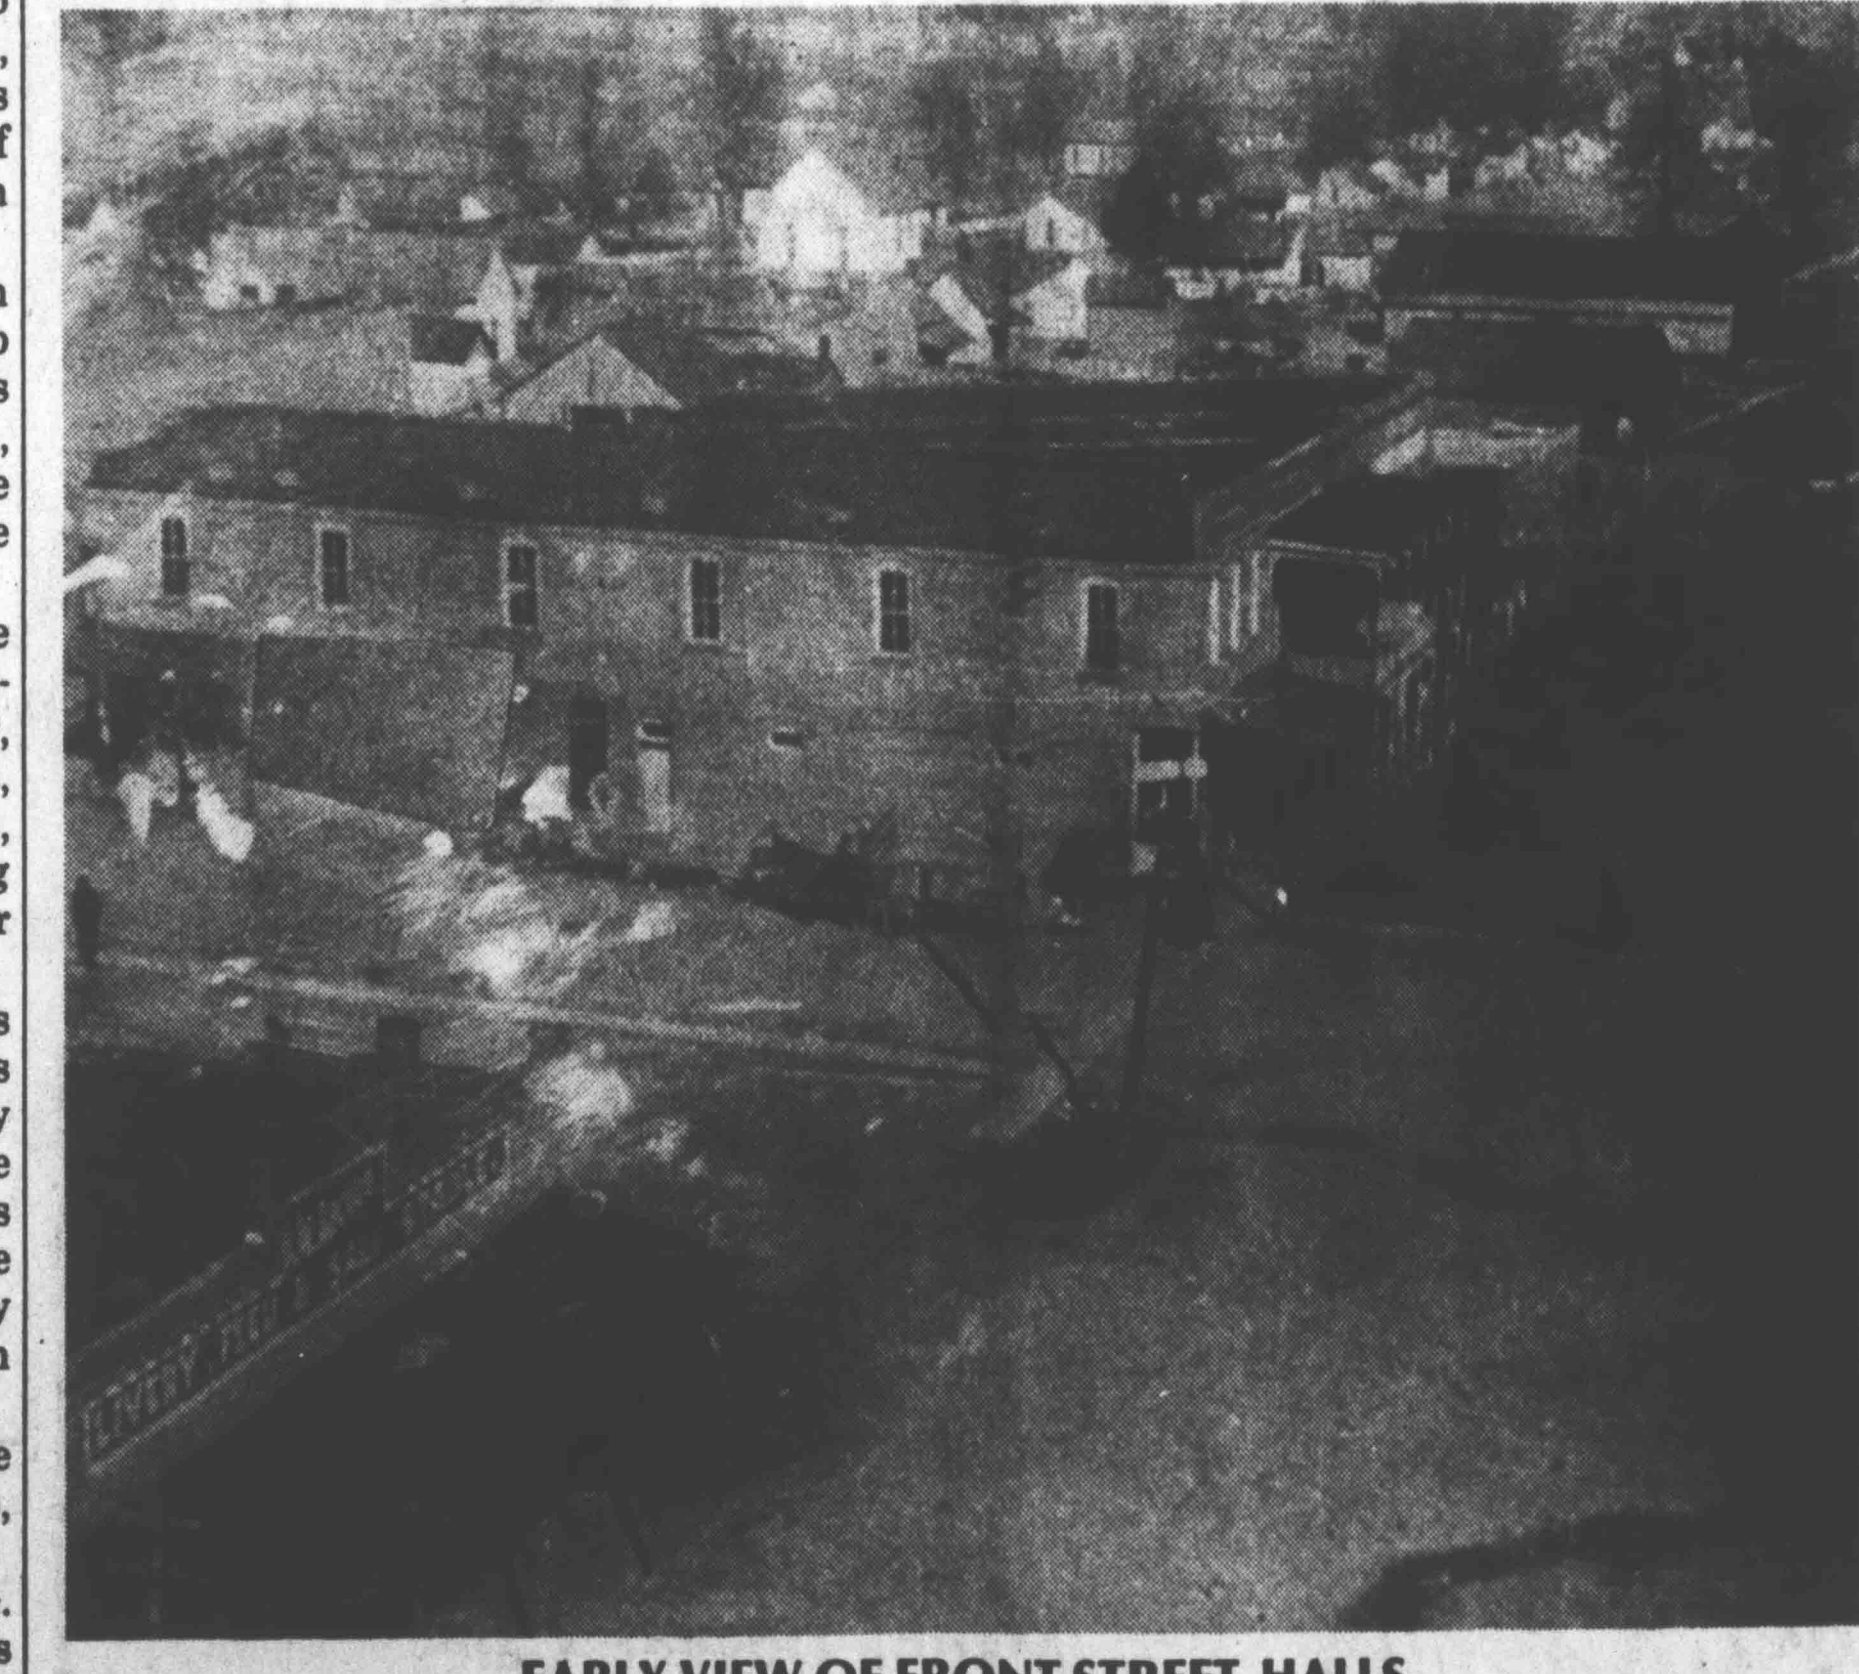

Henry settled about two miles east of Key Corner with his family, his wife (maiden name Johnson), their sons, John, James, Griffith, and Frank, and a daughter.

He did not realize much of his large estate, much of it having been sold at a low price.

He died at 85, in May 1847, and was buried in Ellen Church Cemetery, now called Rutherford Cemetery, land he had given for burial purposes.

The County Bicentennial Committee has cleared brush from it and contributed in excess of $1500 for its upkeep, in an account in the Bank of Halls for which further gifts are solicited. P. B. Bridges, residing nearby, has worked hard on this project.

The Fort Prudhomme Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution of Ripley marked Henry Rutherford's grave with a bronze plaque Aug. 11, 1976. The Tennessee Historical Society visited the grave April 16, 1977. An effort is being made to place a marker on the highway with directions on how to reach this historical site.
