Dick Clark, of Nashville, John Steinhauer, of Hendersonville, and Ralph Yelton, of Kingsport, all of whom scored zero on a dozen roll-call votes. Davis told the Dyersburg rally that state government has become 'too big and too costly' and that the more the state spends, the greater the waste, the larger the bureaucracy, and the more unproductive programs and services become—even worse, the louder the demands for more and more tax dollars. Expenditures by the state...have grown from less than one billion dollars annually, ten years ago, to more than three billion dollars annually. With the increase comes unbelievable waste and extravagance.

My Friends of Lauderdale County,

I greet you in behalf of my brother, Lyle Reid, a candidate for the state senate. Although due to my employment as a United Methodist minister, I do not presently enjoy living in your immediate area, but I still wish you and yours the best of all good things.

It has been said that "Religion and politics don't mix." Often they don't, but they should. You have a candidate who has demonstrated unquestionable wisdom, integrity and honesty, and is the type of public servant we can entrust with the legislation that touches every aspect

You have only to check the journals of the United Methodist Church to gain insight into his commitment to the church and society in general. His services as church delegate and trustee of the Memphis Annual Conference as well as legal services rendered it have been given

I earnestly solicit your vote and support for Lyle Reid for state senate. I do this knowing that he will be as fine a senator for you as he has been a brother for me.

can Mr. Jones deal with the problems of inflation, farm profits, crime, taxes, national defense and energy if he doesn't even believe they are real issues? During the past several months, I have been crisscrossing the district and talking with as many of you as I can. I know that you have many other important concerns. I also know that there are some very real issues in this election. They are extremely important issues that must be dealt with, because the future of our nation rests on them. Like most of you, I am conservative. I would not have entered this campaign if I thought Ed Jones represented your conservative interests. For the past two years, he has succumbed to the desires of the big liberal pressure groups and lobbyists in Washington. His voting record proves that. Mr. Jones has voted to bail out New York City from their financial mess, he voted for the so-called labor reform bill, and he was the only member of the Tennessee delegation to vote for a tremendous Social Security tax increase. The list goes on and on. Your congressman points to his seniority on the agriculture committee as a reason for re-electing him. Was he making effective use of his seniority when he only attended half of his committee meetings the first six months this year? I'm convinced that Ed Jones has not given us the leadership that we deserve. I want to go to Washington because someone needs to face up to the serious problems we confront. I will go there with obligation only to my conservative principles, your concerns, and the district's needs. It is time for a change. It can be done this year, but I need your vote.

Home Club Woman Of Year Alexander's Appeal Only Vote Surprise

County voting Tuesday—only 72% of the 8,266 votes cast in August—held few surprises except the strength, also seen state-wide, which swept Republican Lamar Alexander into the governor's chair. Democrat Jake Butcher led Alexander here by 625 votes but lost state-wide, 665,716 to 522,837 in 2,313 of 2,316 precincts.

The county joined general trends which easily re-elected Republican Howard Baker, Jr., as U.S. Senator, 654,656 to 464,591 for Jane Eskind; favored Democrat Keith Bissell over Republican Tom Jensen for the state Public Service Commission, 556,240 to 390,753; and sent U.S. Rep. Ed Jones, Democrat, back to Washington, 96,721 to 35,973 for Republican challenger Ross Cook.

State Sen. Bill Jim Davis, independent, of Cov ington, won 57% of the vote for re-election ov Democratic nominee Lyle Reid, of Brownsville who carried his own county only 132 votes but wh led Davis in this county—the only other county. Davis lost—by a majority of 386.

Official returns await Monday's canvass. Full unofficial returns for front runners in each race:

Halls Mayor Sammie Arnold has indicated that he thinks that funds can be made available to establish such a unit whose duties would be to protect the lives of the children and see that traffic regulations are enforced. Perhaps the Parent-Teacher Organization, the Community Club, or some similar group will take the first step in this direction.

We had decided that since we normally take a negative approach we would make no comment on President Carter's moves to fight inflation but it eems to us that the efforts are doomed to failure

A study of past history will show that neither work. They have been tried before and only during While Quantities Last World War II under the Emergency War Act did such attempts have any success at all and there is no reason to believe that the present efforts can be ex-

There is no doubt that inflation is the single most dangerous situation now facing the United States but the answer, so far, has eluded all of us. Much as we oppose higher interest rates, it is probably true that higher interest rates are very crucial although they are also inflationary. Tax cuts are welcome but they are not the answer so long as the federal government is spending more than it collects.

We really do not have any more answers than anyone else but there are a few things that seem obvious. The energy crisis must be solved so as to cut back the importation of oil as much as possible, curtailed spending by government and individuals seem necessary, and we must show a willingness to forego some of the so-called necessities which are actually Everything that floats, including several excursion boats, will hit the waters of the Tennessee River on the weekends of October 21-22 and 28-29 for the trip to Hales Bar Resort, some 20 miles downstream from Chattanooga. The river cuts through the Grand Canyon of Tennessee where the steep mountainsides rising from the riverbank contain an incredible variety of plantlife.

During the peak of the fall tumn Leaf Special, a daylong train excursion from Chattanooga to Crossville pulled by the Tennessee Valley Railroad Museum's steam-puffing Mikada locomotive #4501. The trip begins early on the mornings of October 14, 15, 21, and 22 when the air is crisp and the predawn mist lays a quieting blanket over the city. Mrs. Hargett honored the couple with a gift tea Nov. 6th in Mrs. Monday's beautifully decorated home. Individual cakes iced in yellow and green.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parker Bowers III were married by Neal Crain at 6 p.m. on Nov. 4th before the fireplace in the home of the groom's parents at Central, with close friends and relatives present.

The bride, Mrs. Barbara Moore Kirby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Moore, of Halls, had Mrs. Brenda Kirby as her only attendant. Leamon Pennington

In the reception, a 3-tier cake decorated with a bridal couple and white wedding bells was served by the groom's sisters, Mrs. Ricky Hargett and Mrs. Larry Monday, from a table laid with a white cloth with satin bands over which white candles glowed. Mrs. Fred Burns, of Memphis, served punch. Mrs. James Worlds assisted with hospitalities.

TO THE FINE PEOPLE OF THE 27th SENATORIAL DISTRICT

My family and I want to thank you for your kindness and many courtesies shown us during our campaign for re-election.

We cannot praise highly enough our campaign leaders, precinct workers, and scores of others who worked so hard to make the campaign such a success.

We are especially grateful and proud of the votes we received. This expression of confidence in our record and performance is most gratifying.

I look forward to serving you as State Senator for the next four years.

Buffet Dinner After Gift Tea

MISS KATHY HUNTER, behind punch bowl, bride-elect of Carson Steelman, was honored with a buffet dinner Sunday before last in the home at 530 South College in Halls of the Jerry Pucketts, whose son, David, was a groomsman in the vows Wednesday of last week. Special guests included (from left) the groom's sister, Mrs. Charles Ennis, his grandmother, Mrs. S. A. Thompson, his sister, Mrs. Rayburn Capps, his mother, Mrs. H. C. Steelman, Jr., the bride's mother, Mrs. Melvin Hunter, a friend, Mrs. Morris Griffin, and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Raymond Price, along with Mr. Steelman and high school friends of the groom. The buffet table, centered with yellow 'mums and roses, featured turkey and strawberry shortcake. Mrs. Puckett gave Kathy a picture for her home. In the afternoon, Mrs. Ennis had hosted a gift tea for Kathy, with Mrs. Griffin as co-hostess and Mrs. Capps assisting in serving cake, nuts, mints, and pineapple punch from a table laid in blue and centered with fall flowers flanked by yellow tapers. The yellow 'mums also decorated the registry table, and scented candles were used throughout the home. Kathy wore a corsage of white carnations with her tan corduroy skirt and vest over a print blouse. Among gifts was a quilt made by her grandmother, Mrs. J. R. Hunter. Mothers and grandmothers were special guests.
