

CONFIDENTIAL CORNER

By Henry Murchison

About Football

In some ways, this has been the strangest football season we can remember, with the poor Tiger start, the reversal of form, and now the Tigers reaching their goal of the state play-offs.

The Tigers, rated at the top of the heap prior to the opening of the season, couldn't get started and dropped their first three games. We can't recall any team that was further down than the Tigers were after their loss at South Fulton.

But the coaches and players faced reality and made the necessary effort to win their next six games, culminating with a win over their nemesis, Lake County; Friday and a shot at the state championship.

We would think that the Tigers should be rated as underdogs in their quest for the crown, but certainly not such a long shot that it can't happen.

Anyhow, every Halls football fan should be extremely proud of the comeback by the Tigers.

In Our Opinion

We hope that Lauderdale County teachers have not made a serious mistake in voting to accept an outside bargaining agent in efforts to work out a contract with the Lauderdale County Board of Education.

We are afraid that they have backed themselves into a corner where they possibly will have to at least consider a strike if the differences cannot be worked out.

A strike by the teachers would alienate the vast majority of the people of Lauderdale County, and certainly, that would be disastrous for the teachers and the schools. Cool heads must prevail if all parties concerned are not to be harmed.

President Reagan was successful last week in getting the U.S. Senate to approve the proposed sale of AWACS planes to Saudi Arabia. We believe that this is a good move, but only time will tell.

Government officials including President Reagan have begun to acknowledge that the nation is in a recession, with unemployment climbing and economy indicators dropping.

Despite the fact that Mr. Reagan's programs have been in effect for only a month, there is a great tendency to blame all of this on the Reagan administration. This is not only unfair, it is unrealistic, since the downturn has been apparent for some time.

As we have repeatedly stated, we are in no way an economist or versed in high finance, but we do know that continued high interest rates are having a crippling effect on all major industries, from the automobile industry to agriculture.

Some means must be worked out to make money available at a reasonable rate if an upturn is to come at any time in the immediate future.

Loyalties

Congratulations to our fine football team! I hear you're going to play Memphis Prep next week.

First off, I'm not going to pretend to be a sports writer. I know nothing about football except that the ball is funny shaped.

I haven't been to any of the football games in the past three years, because I work second shift.

I do hear about all the games. I know when Halls plays and when it wins.

Let me say that I do cheer for Halls. I always hope they win.

Every Friday night during the season, David or I one will track down Larry Baker or Johnny Ward when they come in to work, to find out the results of the game.

I love to hear that Halls wins. I hope they win all their games and "play-offs and maybe get to play in the Super bowl or World Series or whatever.

However, there is one problem with the up-coming game against Memphis Prep. Some how, by coincidence, unpurposely, or by freak accident, I graduated from Memphis Prep in 1978, and my favorite brother, Robbie, is currently a senior there.

If I were to attend the game, which I'd love to, I'd be totally undecided for whom to cheer.

Let me say that I am a Halls fan. I love this town, and I love to see any group, club, or organization from Halls excel in its field. If my job permitted, I would try to be involved in some of the activities. I'm always on the town's side in anything.

But, on the other hand, I did graduate from Prep. I loved my friends, my teachers, and my class. I cried through my entire graduation ceremony, because I had such a good time that I didn't want to leave.

I am now in the alumni club. My brother tells me about their sports events, so I know when they win or lose, too.

If I went to the game, I'd want to sit with Halls, along with all my friends and relatives.

On the other hand, I'd want to sit with Prep, to see some old friends and teachers and to brag about my home town.

So you see, I do have a personal problem—if I went to the game, where would I sit, and who would I want to win? I've already solved one problem—well, Tupperware has solved it for me, by having me on second shift.

I might ask off for that night since I've only missed five days of work this year, but I'm going to be a good girl and go on in that night and pretend nothing's going on. I probably won't be able to keep my mind on my work, though.

Now, the question of who I want to win: I wish both teams could win. I guess I really don't have a choice. Good luck to both teams; May the best win! (But Halls winning would make good headlines).

If you're the lucky owner of a cast iron pot or dutch oven, don't throw it out... use it! The available iron in food can increase up to 400 percent when iron cookware is used. Cleaning it will be good exercise as well.

PFC Tyrus J. Brown, son of Jewell Brown, of 229 Laurison, Halls, and of James Brown, of 2518 1/2 E. 79th St., Chicago, Ill., has completed an air defense acquisition radar course at Ft. Bliss, Tex. He is a 1974 graduate of Halls High School.

Mrs. Craddock

Mrs. Hess Cox Craddock, 78, widow of R. E. Craddock, operator of Halls Canning Co., died Friday in Parkview Hospital in Dyersburg.

Services were at 3:30 p.m. Saturday at Halls First Christian Church, burial in Halls Cemetery, Halls Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Craddock came to Halls in the 1920s with a husband. She was a member of Halls First Christian Church and Halls Garden Club.

She leaves a son, Robert Craddock, of Halls; two grandchildren, Jan Craddock and Bob Craddock, both of Memphis; a sister, Mrs. Jane Neal, of Phoenix, Ariz., and a brother, Earl Cox, of Brownsville.

Faulk Course Earns Credit

Dr. Rosella McLean, of Dyersburg State College, told Halls Rotarians Monday that the self-improvement classes of the Durhamville-Orysa Community Improvement Club have been added to DSC's continuing education program.

She was joined on the club's program by C. Fred Faulk, of Ripley, Rotary district governor-elect who has taught numerous classes for the Durhamville-Orysa Club, and by Roy Thompson, of Durhamville-Orysa, who described the program's beginnings.

HALLS P-TO MEETS

Halls Parent-Teacher Organization will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Halls Elementary School.

P.T.O. officials expressed their thanks to each person who aided with the Hallo-wen Carnival and especially merchants and business firms which donated many of the toys and items for the Carnival. Attendance was called very good.

Halls Claims District Title

The Halls Tigers, who cinched a place in the State Class A play-offs Friday with a 21-12 win over Lake County, will travel to Martin this Friday for their final regular season game before hosting District 16-A's champs, Memphis Prep, Nov. 13th, in the play-offs.

Memphis Prep, 9-0, reached the play-offs with last week's 7-3 win from Catholic.

Now 6-3, with six straight victories, the 'tigers will be slight underdogs to the Class AA Martin Westside eleven. Martin has a 3-6 record for the year.

Lake County came to Halls last Friday with the full expectation of continuing its dominance in District 15-A and returning to the state play-offs as defending champions, but a swarming Tiger defense kept the Falcons playing catch-up all night.

Lake County dominated the first quarter, but with a 15-yard holding penalty, the Tigers were able to keep them out of scoring territory. A fumble recovered at the Lake County 26 in the second quarter gave the Tigers their first scoring opportunity.

Andre Piphus got 23 to the Falcon three, and on second and goal Michael Hudson got the first of his three touchdowns. Danny Edenfield kicked the extra point with 5:43 in the half.

Neither team moved the ball well during the remainder of the half.

In the third period, Lake County got on the board quickly on a 16-yard pass from Chris Bargery to Russ Davis, but the try for extra point, was no good and the Tigers had a 7-6 lead with 8:15 in the quarter.

Hudson got the second Halls TD with 7:38 in the fourth quarter, on a 32-yard run, and Edenfield made it 14-6.

In a little more than two minutes, the Bargery to Davis combination worked for a second Lake County touchdown, but the Tiger defense stopped Tony Flagg short on the try for two, and it was 14-12.

Lake County's attempt at an inside kick failed to travel the necessary ten yards. The Tigers took possession at the Falcon 48 and moved for their third touchdown with 2:32 remaining.

Hudson drove over from the one and Edenfield kicked the extra point.

Each team had nine first downs. The Tigers had 196 total yards, Lake County 206. Lake County fumbled four times, with Gary Meeks recovering twice. The Tigers fumbled three balls and lost one, setting up the first Lake County score.

Hudson gained 113 yards in 20 carriers, Piphus had 51 in eight attempts.

Zach Heath led Halls tacklers with 14 stops. Bobby McCadney added 12. Brandon Ward had 11.

Halltex Workers Accept Pay Cut

Union employees of Halltex Clothing Co. in Halls, have voted to defer pay increases and take a 13% wage cut in an effort to save the Halls plant.

Local 892, Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union, located with the Halltex Clothing Co. in Halls, Tennessee, voted last week to give up a 20¢ raise, a 2¢ cost of living raise, and 13% of their wages, effective immediately, in order to try to save their faltering plant. This deed was indeed a devastating loss of their income, equaling about one day's pay per week!

"Halltex officials visited the plant and spoke to all the employees about their financial condition. It was stated that "the plant is in very bad financial shape, and we are trying to take steps to avoid the closing of the plant in Halls."

"All accounting statements were taken to the ACTWU office in New York, and a thorough investigation by the union was made, before the company and the union decided upon this proposal. It was then taken to the local union for discussion and to vote upon. The vote was to accept the proposal by a 47 to 28 margin.

"This vote will affect many families, homes, and businesses, but it was indeed a great sacrifice and example, for a plant that was stated only one year ago to be one of the best paying rates and beneficial plants within this area to take such an extreme measure on their part as a member of the national clothing union and as a member of the Local 892 in Halls.

a Lake County pass with a little more than a minute left in the game, returning it 65 yards to the Lake 17.

Wild Boar, Sow Killed

Band Booster Day

MRS. JACK HENDERSON, left, in behalf of Halls Band Boosters and Halls High Band members, presented a plaque to Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Bailey, second and third from left, Saturday in acknowledgement of their cooperation in making the Plaza Restaurant in Dyersburg available for fund raising to aid the band to attend the World's Fair next May. Band members looking on are, from left, Gina Patton, Susie Foley, and Carol Arwood.

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON

This week, a Conference Committee of House and Senate members will begin working out the differences in the two versions of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1981. The House completed action on its bill two weeks ago. The Senate had acted earlier on Tuesday. The Conference Committee is composed of members of the two Committees on Agriculture.

Both bills were faced with the same budgetary restraints facing every piece of legislation. The Administration and the Congress, in adopting positions on the budget for fiscal year 1982, set limits on how much federal resources would be devoted to agricultural programs. Obviously, that resulted in a great deal of debate in Committee, as farm programs were measured against the impact they would have on the overall budget target for agriculture.

The House Committee on Agriculture worked long and hard to come up with a bill that would be within budget constraints but provide a minimum amount of protection for farmers.

Needless to say, under those circumstances, the final bill that went to the House floor for a vote was not all that everyone wanted it to be.

Essentially, the House bill provides for the continuation of most commodity programs for the next four years. It maintains a system of target prices and loan levels for wheat, feed grains, cotton, and rice. It sets price supports for dairy products and continues the loan program for soy beans.

Target prices for 1982 crops were set at $4.20 per bushel for wheat, $2.90 per bushel for corn, and $8.00 per hundred-weight for rice. The minimum target price for cotton would be 55 cents per pound. Those price levels would be adjusted yearly to reflect changes in costs of production.

Loan rates on those commodities would be set at $3.55 for wheat, $2.65 for corn, and $5.02 for soy beans. The cotton loan rate would be set using the current formula that reflects marketing information and demand. These figures would also be adjusted to reflect marketing information and demand. These figures would also be adjusted to reflect changes in the target prices.

In reviewing the bill from a broad perspective, it appears that the Senate bill has provisions that are more advantageous to crops such as peanuts, soy beans, cotton, and sugar.

The current program of peanut allotments and marketing quotas was taken out of the House bill during debate on the floor. Similarly, a section of the bill providing for price support loan programs for sugar and sunflower seeds was eliminated on the House floor.

By the same token, there are parts of the House bill that will be more advantageous to farmers who grow such crops as wheat and feed grains.

I am hopeful that the strongest parts of both bills will be adopted in the Conference Report. Obviously, that is going to require negotiations between the House and Senate conferees in order to insure that there is a program that recognizes the needs of farmers throughout the country. I suspect that the Conference Committee will be meeting for several days to reconcile the differences in the two bills.

Henry Riley

Henry Riley, 75, of Halls, retired Lauderdale County school bus driver, died Thursday at Memorial Hospital in Trenton. Services were at 1 p.m. Saturday at Halls Funeral Home, burial in Lauderdale County Memorial Gardens in Ripley. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary Gates Riley; a daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Daugherty, Dyersburg; two sons, William Riley, of Memphis, and Billy Riley, of Jacksonville, Fla.; two sisters, Mrs. Girtie Reese and Mrs. Mervie Lents, and a brother, Erman Riley, all of Halls.

Given the state of today's agricultural economy, the importance of this legislation cannot be overlooked. It covers not only the commodity programs but also the Department of Agriculture's authority in the areas of farmer held grain reserves, increases of support loan rates when certain conditions, farm credit language, food stamp reforms, and soil conservation programs.

All of these aspects of the overall program are going to have to be addressed further as the Conference Committee puts together a bill to be brought to the floors of both Chambers of Congress for final passage.

Tennessee's Fall Color Magic

It's that time again -- time for Mother Nature to stage her annual fall color pageant. In Tennessee, autumn has a way of coming early and staying late. It begins in late September on the peaks of the eastern mountains, then works its way through the hills and valleys to a chromatic peak in mid-October. And in the densely wooded deltas of west Tennessee, the colors linger well into November.

And while much of the nation is already bundling up for the onslaught of winter, folks around Tennessee are enjoying one of the most delightful times of the year. Sunshine is at a maximum, rainfall at a minimum, and temperatures are marvelously moderate. Conditions are never better for a crisp, cloud-splashed weekend on the open road.

One of the premier showcases for fall foliage is the Great Smoky Mountains National Park. Thousands of visitors come each year to watch autumn work its magic on these fabled, fabulous mountains.

The park contains over 130 native tree species, each lending its own splash of color to a tapestry which stretches as far as the eye can see. Botanists say that for plant life in the Smokies, every 100 feet in altitude equals about 30 miles north in latitude. That means that on the upper peaks you'll find trees similar to those of southeastern Canada!

Traffic on the main roads will be congested during mid-October, but there are over 95 miles of paved roads in the park to explore, not to mention over 800 miles of hiking trails. If solitude is what you seek, stick to the trails and you'll find it. After all, you'll be surrounded by 800 square miles of mountain wilderness.

The folks around Chattanooga are also blessed with beautiful fall scenery, and they've come up with some great ways to enjoy it. The Fall Color Cruise and Folk Festival has become one of the largest events in the Southeast. Boats of all types and sizes join in for a scenic cruise through the Grand Canyon of the Tennessee River. The steep canyon gorge is covered with one of the world's most diverse hardwood forests, and the mosaic of fall colors at their peak is truly spectacular.

These large excursion boats, including the paddle-wheeler Alabama Star, will offer round-trip cruises through the gorge. The fleet will dock at the Shellmound Recreation Area (river mile 425) for the Folk Festival, a free outdoor happening which adds great entertainment to the scenic splendor. There will be music of all kinds, square dancing, working artists and craftsmen, even hang gliding demonstrations.

Dates for the Fall Color Cruise and Folk Festival will be October 24-25 and October 31-November 1. The festival site is just above TVA's Nickajack Dam, and can be reached by car via Service Hwy. U.S. 41. Bus service will also be available from Chattanooga to the site. For more information contact the Chattanooga Convention and Visitors Bureau, 615-756-2121.

Another popular fall event is the annual run of the Autumn Leaf Special, a round-trip train ride from Chattanooga to Crossville.

The trip has a nostalgic atmosphere that is right out of the "Golden Age" of American railroading. Powered by a genuine steam locomotive, the train passes through tunnels and across tall trestles, puffing its way across the beautiful Cumberland Mountains. There are authentic passenger cars, open observation cars, and a diner where you can enjoy a meal served up by white-coated waiters. Musicians, cloggers and craftsmen will be on hand to entertain during the stopover in Crossville. The Autumn Leaf excursions are always a sell-out, so make your reservations early. Dates are October 17-18, and October 24-25. Tickets are available ($30 per person for a round-trip) by contacting the Tennessee Valley Railroad Museum in Chattanooga, 615-894-8028.

For more information on fall events in Tennessee, contact the Department of Tourist Development, Room T, P. O. Box 23170, Nashville, Tennessee 37202.

Wonder drugs— aspirin and acetaminophen

If they were suddenly introduced on the market tomorrow for the first time, they would probably be hailed as miracle drugs—they are so useful and effective. Yet neither aspirin nor acetaminophen (brand name examples are Tylenol and Datril) cures disease. Instead, both are mainstays of pain and fever therapy and work by interfering with the body's natural response to infection and injury.

Aspirin (which was once a trademark name) is more widely used of the two and is thought of as the older drug. It very well may be—the Greeks got pain relief from the aspirin in willow and poplar bark preparations 2,400 years ago. But both drugs were introduced in this country around the turn of the century.

In the late 1800s chemists isolated acetylsalicylic acid, aspirin's scientific name, from willow bark. It was sold in powder form in individual packets. In 1915 the Bayer company stamped the first five-grain tablet "aspirin."

Acetaminophen was also introduced to the medical community before 1900. Its effect and acetaminophen reduce and relieve these symptoms. Aspirin, however, has much greater effect on whatever prostaglandin mechanism is involved with the swelling and inflammation of arthritis. Acetaminophen is not useful in this respect, and aspirin is clearly superior for reducing inflammation and increasing range of motion in swollen joints.

Acetaminophen may, however, reduce some types of swelling not associated with arthritis. One study of oral surgery patients showed that those receiving sugar pills had substantially more swelling, as well as more pain, than those receiving acetaminophen.

To relieve pain and reduce fever, acetaminophen is the drug of choice for some groups of people. Among these are people allergic or hypersensitive to aspirin and those on anticoagulation therapy, since aspirin also prolongs bleeding time. Ulcer patients too should choose acetaminophen, because aspirin can cause stomach irritation in susceptible people.

A Sole For the Job ...

Each Ranger safety shoe sole is specially job designed for best performance. Certain sole formulations are better suited for particular situations. All soles on Ranger safety shoes are developed for longer wear, skid, slip and oil resistance; length and width traction. On the chart below you can see how each sole reacts to the elements.

CONFIDENTIAL CORNER

By Henry Murchison

An Explanation

The past week has been a hectic time, with just about everything that could go wrong taking advantage of the opportunity.

Nell, in several days, wound up in St. Francis Hospital in Memphis for tests, so we have been absent from the office a great deal of the time, and several items which should have been in last week's issue of The Halls Graphic wound up in The Enterprise but not in The Graphic.

Some small items seem to have been swallowed up, leaving no trace. There is a strong possibility that some of the same foul-ups could occur again this week, but we will try to see that this doesn't happen.

So far, we do not know what Nell's problem is, but hope to have some information early this week. Your editor will, of course, be in Memphis with her but will try to be available some of the time.

Teachers Unhappy

Some Halls teachers are unhappy with your editor because of his comments last week about the forthcoming negotiations with the county Board of Education.

A spokesman for the teachers tells us that despite misunderstanding, all negotiations must be lawfully carried out by members of the Lauderdale County Education Association, and representatives of the Tennessee Education Association cannot participate in the talks, although they can advise the local group.

We are happy this is true and feel that such negotiations should be confined to local people.

However, we would call the attention of the group to one fact. Our interest is our school system. We know the teachers have some legitimate complaints, which need correcting, but our primary concern is that there be no harm to our school system.

It is our sincere hope that the differences can be worked out on a friendly basis without leaving a bad taste for anyone.

McKee Directing Memphis Center

James E. McKee, of Memphis, former principal of Halls High School, has been named director of one of nine Educational Service Centers being established by the state Department of Education.

McKee will direct the Memphis center, which will provide leadership and instructional services to school systems in the Memphis-Delta area of the state.

Since 1975, McKee has been team leader and director of the department's Memphis Delta District Office, under a former organizational structure beginning Oct. 15th, he is co-ordinating a newly formed team of "highly qualified generalists in the area of elementary, secondary and vocational education, special populations, and school finance," according to state Education Commissioner Bob McElrath.

"Jim McKee has proved his leadership ability during the past years he has provided services to school systems in this area," McElrath said.

"He has dealt with a number of difficult situations demanding tough decisions and has always represented the department in a professional and capable manner."

McElrath said the primary thrust of the service centers is helping local school systems develop sound educational programs.

"Regulatory and monitoring functions will be carried out by three regional staffs, which will work in close cooperation with the new service teams."

McKee, a former state director of teacher education and certification, has served as president of Bethel College in McKenzie.

He also has administrative experience as superintendent of Trimble City Schools and as a high school principal in Ohio County.

From 1966 to 1968, he was a regional supervisor with the State Department of Education. He then joined the University of Tennessee at Martin for two years as director of equal educational opportunities.

McKee, a graduate of Bethel, holds a master's degree from George Peabody College in Nashville and a doctor of education degree from Memphis State University.

He and his wife, the former Margaret Scott, have three children.

"Childhood is all mine," John McKee

Three Lauderdale County officials were elected to important positions during the annual fall meeting of the County Services Association in Chattanooga Oct. 21st-23rd.

County Judge Jerry Corlew was elected to a 1-year term as president of the Tennessee County Judges/Executives Association.

County Highway Commissioner Douglas Collins was elected president for the year of the Tennessee County Highway Officials Association.

County Commissioner Gwinn Matthews was chosen to represent the Tennessee County Commissioners Association on the Board of Directors of the Tennessee County Services Association, for a 3-year term.

"This speaks well for Lauderdale County," TCSA Executive Director Ralph J. Harris said. "I don't remember any county ever having that many leadership positions within our organization."

Highlighting the meeting were speaking appearances by U.S. Sen. Jim Sasser, state Commissioner of Revenue Martha Olsen, and State Planning Office Executive Director Stephen Norris.

Delegates also participated in technical sessions featuring such topics as "Alternative Fuel Costs," "Opening and Closing County Roads," "Media Relations," "Green Belt Laws," "Reappraisal Programs," "Financial Management Act of 1981," and "Investment of Idle County Funds," and "Judicial Cost Recovery."

More than 400 county officials and their spouses attended the meeting.

Halls Board Eyes Parking Pinches

Don Levy told Halls' Board of Mayor and Aldermen Monday that work on the new library building is progressing well, with a cost estimated at $12,000, already available.

He said the library circulated 2,700 books in October, with 487 persons holding library cards—more than 55 books checked out per month, an astonishing figure.

He asked board permission to erect signs reserving library property for its use, when open, the board agreed. 4-1 (Judson Vaden dissenting) to instruct police to issue warning tickets if signs are ignored.

The board also:
• Limited parking on the east side of North Front St. during business hours (trailer trucks have been left parked for several days).
• Cut expenditure on the Community Center parking area to $1,978.20; estimated cost for completing the paving was $7,000.

• Agreed to erect speed signs in Beech Bluff Sub-Division II.

According to the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture the average American eats over 150 pounds of meat a year.

Dyer Joins State's Bar

Charles T. Dyer, son of the Neil Dyers, of Halls, attended the 21st Bridge-The Gap Seminar at Tennessee State University in Nashville Oct. 26-28th, sponsored by the Young Lawyers Conference of the Tennessee Bar Association.

A graduate of the University of Mississippi and Memphis State's College of Law, Dyer was admitted to practice before the state's Supreme Court Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. Lucy Haynes, former associate of Boyd & Boyd, attorneys, of Dyersburg, presented him to the court.

He is now associated with the Dyersburg firm. His parents and Miss Cindy van Zandt, of Germantown, attended the ceremony in Polk Auditorium and a luncheon following in the Hyatt Regency Hotel.

Halls Band Seeks Fair Jaunt Funds

Halls Band Boosters approved Monday of last week three projects to raise additional funds to send the band to the Knoxville World's Fair.

Until Nov. 13th, tickets for a Thanksgiving dinner—turkey, vegetables, and other trimmings—all donated by Don Hilliard of Halls IGA, and for a 15 lb. country ham, donated by Grady Hargrove, will be on sale by any band member or parent. Tickets, $1 each, will include two chances to win—either the turkey dinner or the ham. The drawing for these winnings will be held at the half-time of the Halls-Memphis Prep State Playoff game in Halls Nov. 13th.

The band will present a Christmas Concert at 2 p.m. Dec. 13th, in the Halls Elementary School auditorium. Admission, $1. Chorus from area churches may sing selections from their cantatas during the afternoon.

Private or company sponsorships of individual band students may be purchased after the first of the year.

Bobby Webb, band directory estimates each student's expenses for three nights, plus meals, will be $100.

Additional family memberships reported were the Ray Clarks and the Wardell Parishes.

Mrs. James Vaden, treasurer, reported all instruments purchased with funds raised.

Richard Deaton, chairman of the ways and means committee, reminded all parents to collect calendar sales funds as soon as calendars arrive.

The group thanked Mrs. Judy Newman and Mrs. Betty Lovelace, of the Bank of Halls, and Mrs. Shea Lee Harris and Jerry Critchfield, of the Lauderdale County Bank, for typing birth and anniversary dates on the calendars, as well as the business listings.

Richard Deaton, chairman, announced plans for chaperones to be chosen to attend the World's Fair with the band. The Boosters voted in favor of all chaperones paying their own expenses for the trip. There will be two chaperones per chartered bus.

Larry Reynolds appointed Bill Woods, of the budget committee, and Mr. Webb, chairman on dormitory accommodations at TMI Academy in Sweetwater, near Knoxville, for three nights.

Shop Employee Shoots Himself

James R. Holland, 32, of 130 Vals Circle, Ripley, employed part-time at City Pawn Shop on North Main in Ripley, has been ruled a suicide by authorities investigating his death in the pawn shop from a gunshot wound about 11:35 a.m. Friday.

W. D. Chisholm told police he asked Holland to watch the front of the shop but as soon as he went to his rear, he checked the shot, from a .32 revolver kept in the store's desk, which entered Holland's head over the right eye.

Holland resided with his father, Zeb Holland.

Halls Hosts Memphis Prep In Play-Off Tilt

Halls High School's Tigers, District 15-A champions, will host Memphis Prep, District 16-A winners, at 7:30 p.m. Friday on H. G. Conley Memorial Field in Halls.

Tickets at $3 each are on sale at the high school or may be purchased at the gate.

Memphis Prep, coached by Malcolm Phillips, has a 10-0 record and is ranked fourth in the state. It reached the state playoffs Oct. 29th with a 7-3 win over favored Catholic High.

Memphis Prep has scored 256 points while allowing only 47, shutting out four opponents. Top players are Quarterback Danny Brownlee and running backs Steve Osborne and Marty Mosby. Leading the defense is Greg Stevens.

The Tigers brought their record to 7-3 and cinched the play-off spot Oct. 29th with a 21-12 victory over Lake County's defending state champions.

The Tigers will be playing without their top offensive threat, with Mike Hudson on the sideline with a knee injury. Halls Coach Andy Pugh said Tuesday that Hudson's chances of playing are very slim. Replacing Mike will be his youngest brother, Steve.

The Halls Tigers showed their character Friday as they scored seven points in overtime to take a 28-21 victory at Martin Westside.

Losing star running back Mike Hudson to a knee injury early in the second quarter, the Tigers piled up 16 first downs and 289 yards.

The Tigers opened the scoring in the first quarter when Quarterback Eric Smith hit Mike Hudson with an 18-yard pass. Danny Edensfield kicked the first of four extra points.

Trent Calhoun put Martin on the scoreboard late in the quarter, and Stanford kicked the extra point to even the game at 7-7.

Smith got the second Halls touchdown with a 10-yard run. Edensfield gave the Tigers a 14-7 half-time lead.

John Roberts broke loose on a 14-yard run to score for Martin late in the third quarter, and Stanford's kick evened the game.

Martin's tie was short-lived, as Andre Phipps returned the kick-off 90 yards, and Edensfield made it 21-14 in the third period.

Roberts scored in the fourth quarter and Stanford added the extra point to bring Martin even again, 21-21.

With little more than two minutes left, the Tigers drove to Martin's four, from which Edensfield's try for a field goal was wide to the left as the clock ran out.

Martin couldn't score in overtime, but a fine catch by Mike Blackwood, his fifth of the night, scored for Halls, with Edensfield making the extra point.

The Tigers showed a balanced attack against the Class AA Westside team with 152 yards on the ground and 137 yards on seven completions, of 16 attempts. Martin had 12 first downs, 124 yards rushing, and 134 yards through the air.

Bobby McCadney was the top Tiger tackler, with 11 stops. Gary Meeks added nine and Mike Kerby eight. McCadney led Halls rushing with 63 yards in 12 carries. Steve Hudson got 33 on nine carries.

Halls Football Banquet Near

Rex Dockery, Memphis State University football coach, will be guest speaker at a banquet honoring Halls High School's Tigers at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 30th in the Halls Elementary School cafeteria.

Tickets, $5, are offered by Halls Boosters, to benefit Halls High athletic programs.

Takes Top Award

PATSY HOGGARD, a native of Ripley who resides in Halls with her husband, Carl, and sons, Steve, 13, and Kevin, 6, has received, in the Social Security Administration's 30th annual Awards Ceremony in Baltimore, Md., its highest award—the Commissioner's Citation—for outstanding performance as data review technician in the Dyersburg office, where she has worked since 1965. Her family saw the presentation and visited the nation's capital and other points of interest.

BEFORE AND AFTER Aunt Donna made a fool of herself.

Donna's Diary

By Donna Baker
Aunt Donna

Hi! My name is Jeremy Ryan Baker and I am six months old. My mommy is Doretta Baker and my daddy is Larry Baker. Everyone says I look just like my daddy Eugene Hilliard. I think my Aunt Donna started that rumor. Well, just let me tell you something about Aunt Donna.

One time me and mommy and Julie and Aunt Donna went to grandma's house. Me and Julie were in the floor fighting over my toys, when Aunt Donna came up with the brilliant idea to have me and Julie's picture made together for Christmas.

Well, I never thought she'd really do it, but one evening, one Saturday me and mommy and Julie and Aunt Donna and grandma went to K-mart in Dyersburg. We went in the store, and I got in a basket and Julie got in a basket. We went back to the place where the man was taking pictures.

We had to wait in a line for a long time. Julie and I were getting restless, we wanted to go look at toys. We were happy enough, though, until Mommy and Aunt Donna put us up on that carpet-covered box.

I just sat there looking. I was having some trouble with my new teeth and kept slobbering, and mommy kept getting after me with a kitchen towel. Julie started crying. I'm still little, so I didn't know what was going on, but Julie is big, and I figured if she was crying, there must have been a good cause. I started crying, too.

Everyone was looking at us, and the picture man said he couldn't take pictures of crying babies.

Aunt Donna picked Julie up and talked to her, and mommy got after me with that kitchen towel. Aunt Donna put Julie down and got in front of the camera. Mommy stayed behind us to make sure we couldn't get down.

Aunt Donna started talking, telling us something about Santa Claus. Then that picture man started moving our legs around and getting up in our faces.

Aunt Donna started telling us to smile. She has no sense. If she wanted us to smile, she should've taken us to the toy department.

The picture man moved behind the camera, and Aunt Donna started talking and grinning at us. We were not about to smile. Forget it.

Then all of sudden, Aunt Donna started jumping around and waving her arms and acting crazy.

There were about twenty- eleven people in line and they were staring and pointing at Aunt Donna. She would jump to one side of the camera and yell "weeee" and then jump to the other and yell "wooooo". Grandma just walked off.

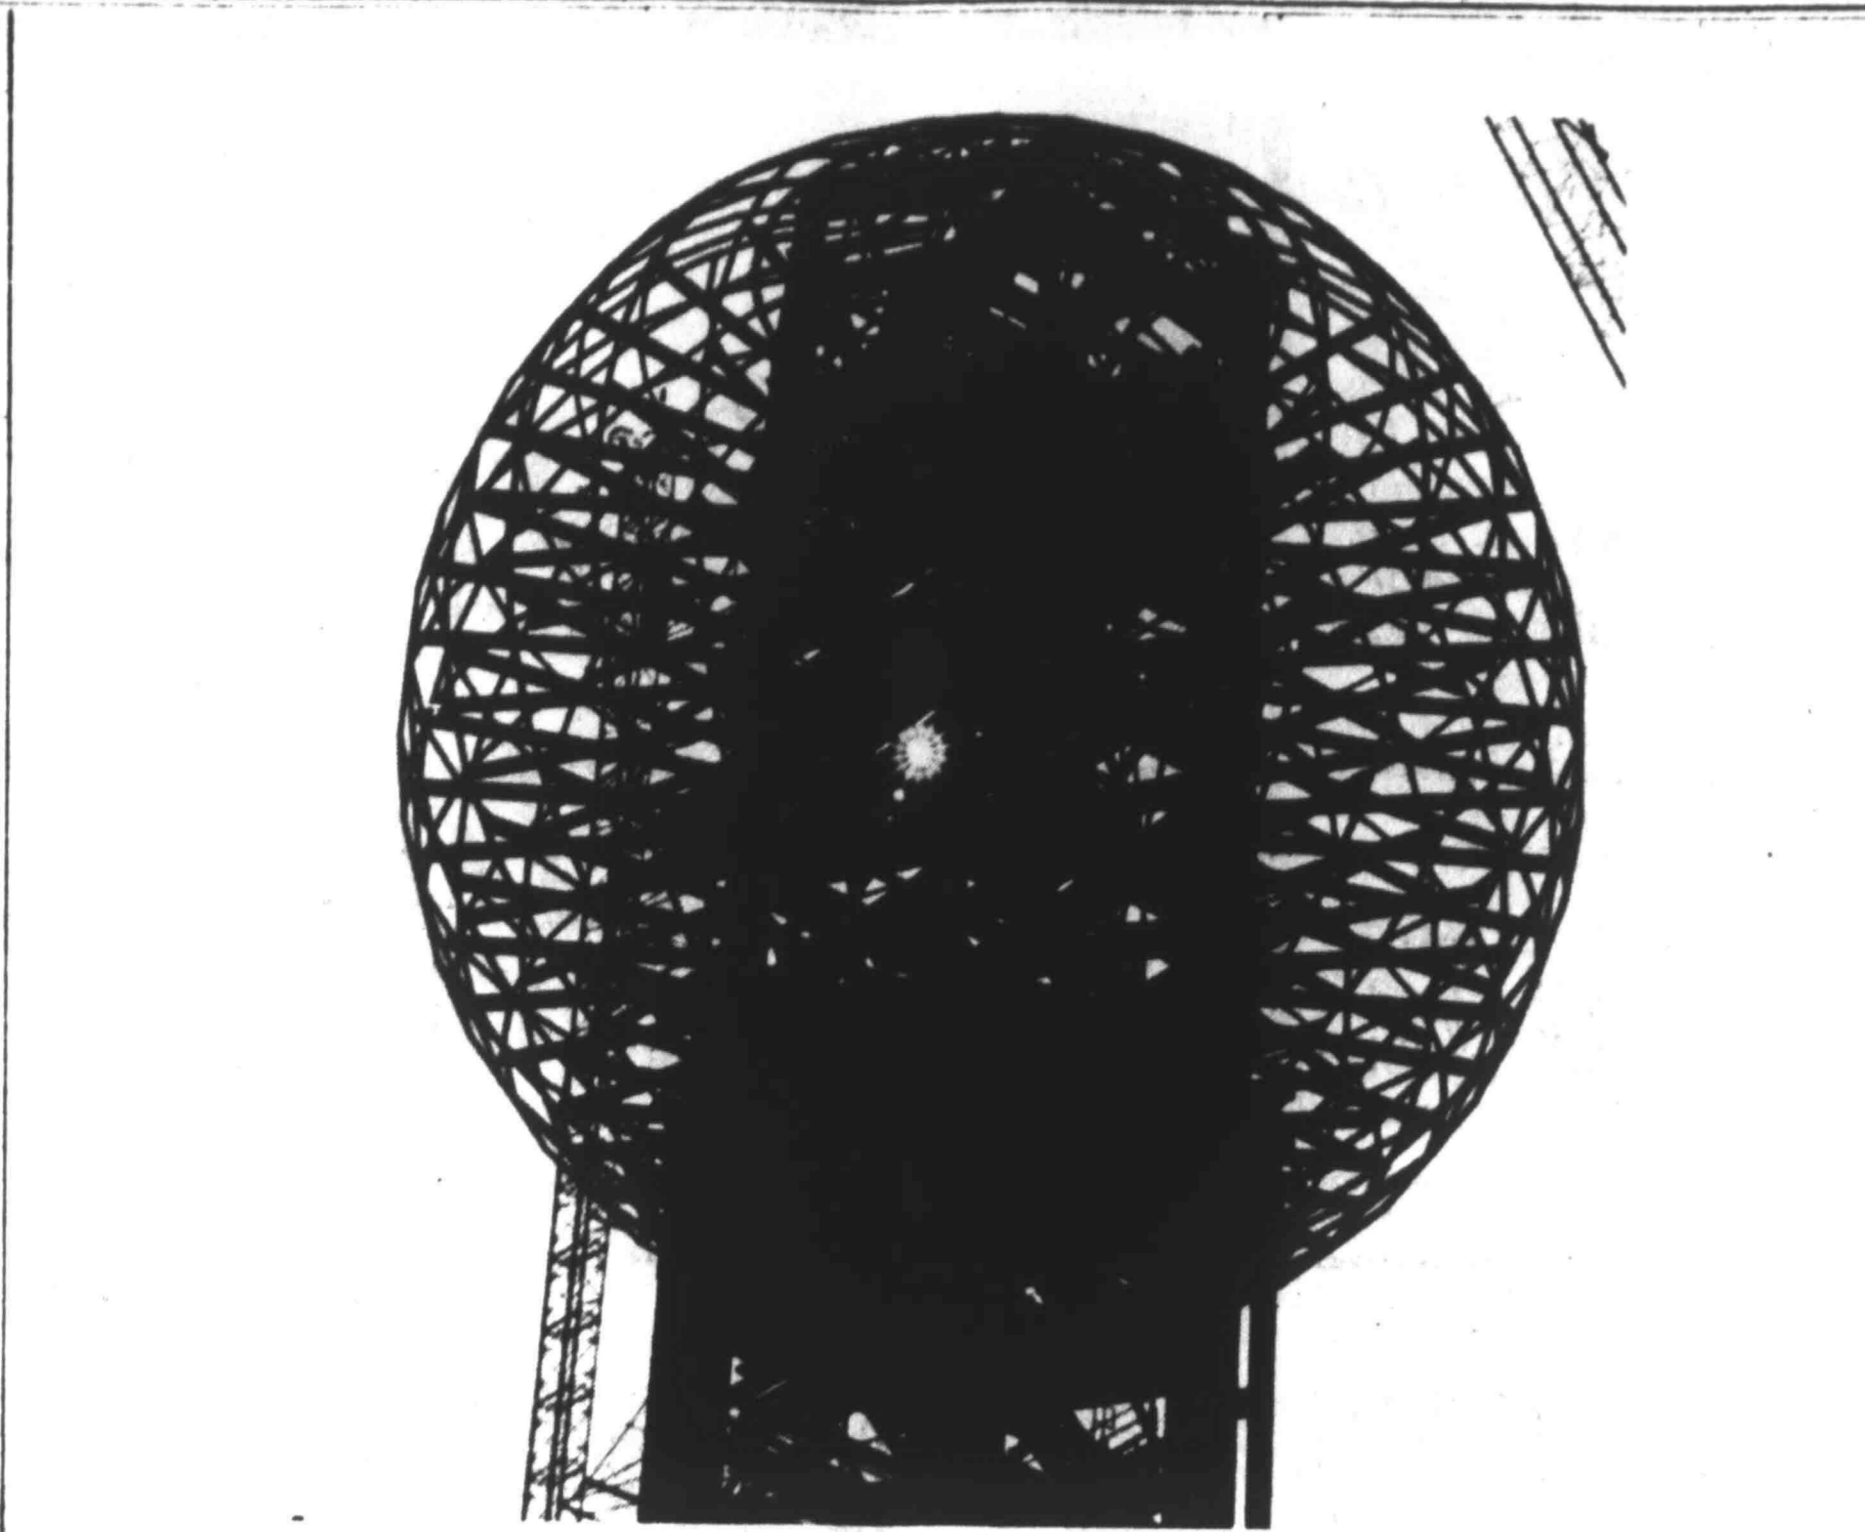

A crowd gathered around to watch Aunt Donna make a fool of herself and me, and Julie couldn't help but laugh. The picture man flashed a few pictures, and then it was over. I heard the picture man offer Aunt Donna jobs.

Then we finally went to the toy department.

Well, last week, the pictures came back. Everyone really liked them.

I heard Aunt Donna say that in ten years, when someone sees the pictures of these two smiling babies, maybe they won't remember that she had to stand on her head and play pattie cake to get us to smile. Don't worry.

Aunt Donna, I'll never forget it!

Energy is the theme of the 1982 Knoxville World's Fair and The Sunsphere, a 266-foot high tower capped by a bronze globe, is the theme structure for the Fair running from May 1 to October 31, 1982.

More than 20 nations will participate in the 1982 World's Fair site located on the banks of the Tennessee River in the heart of downtown Knoxville.

The 1982 World's Fair

On May 1, 1982, the gates swing open and the first of more than eleven million visitors will begin streaming onto a 20-acre site in downtown Knoxville, Tennessee, for a look at the biggest show ever to be held in the southeastern United States - The 1982 World's Fair.

"There will be more than 20 nations participating in the Knoxville World's Fair," explains S. H. "Bo" Roberts, president of the 1982 World's Fair. "The list includes Canada, Australia, Japan, Korea, Mexico, most of Europe and for the first time in its history, the People's Republic of China. There will also be exhibits from many of the major names in American industry - Dupont, Ford, Kodak, General Electric, Tenneco and U. S. Steel, just to name a few."

But a World's Fair is more than just exhibits. The nations coming to Knoxville will bring with them their native foods and products, bits of their culture and lifestyle and some of their entertainment. Japan, for example, is bringing The Grand Kabuki Theater, one of the most respected traditional theaters in the world, to perform for World's Fair audiences. There will be performances by many top American entertainers such as Bob Hope, Red Skelton, Bill Cosby, Tennessee Ernie Ford and Johnny Cash.

There will be a world shopping area with boutiques and merchandise from all over the world and more than 60 restaurants offering the native foods of participating nations as well as American foods. One of the major restaurants will be housed in The Sunsphere, a 266-foot high steel tower capped by a huge bronze globe which is the theme structure for the 1982 World's Fair.

There will be a major amusement park area featuring the largest operating Ferris wheel in the United States and several new rides which have never been seen before in the United States.

One new ride described as a shuttle loop rollercoaster catapults riders through a loop at 69 MPH, ends going straight up in the air and then goes back through the loop at 69 MPH backwards. A new German pendulum ride which also travels a 360 degree arc.

Beginning with the first World's Fair, the Crystal Palace exhibition in London in 1851, World's Fairs have had a tradition of innovation and technological progress. Past World's Fairs have provided such internationally recognized landmarks as the Eiffel Tower from the 1889 Paris Exposition and the Space Needle from the 1962 Seattle World's Fair. They have provided the first public exposure for such now familiar things as the ice cream cone (St. Louis - 1904), The Ferris Wheel (Chicago - 1893), the telephone (Philadelphia - 1876) and television (New York - 1939).

"We don't know yet what the ice cream cone of the 1982 World's Fair will be," Roberts admits. "We do know, however, that it will be something to do with energy, which is the theme for this World's Fair. Most of the nations coming to Knoxville are keeping the nature of their exhibits a secret but some of the things we have learned from our discussions with their representatives are truly astonishing. The Japanese, for instance, plan to show off their world leadership in robot technology. Saudi Arabia is considering the possibility of transporting a full-scale Arabian desert to Knoxville complete with sand and camels. The Chinese have talked about bringing a section of the Great Wall with them. It is also important to remember that it is not always the big, flashy exhibits which will have the most profound impact on our lives in the years ahead.

The telephone was a novelty at the Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia in 1876 and few of the people who saw that flickering image painted with light on a cathode ray tube in New York in 1939 had any idea of the role television would play in all of our lives during the second half of the 20th century. We know there will be some astounding things to see in Knoxville during the six-month run of the 1982 World's Fair, but that is only part of the fun. There will be a huge fireworks show every day, all sorts of sporting events and special activities so that every day of the Fair will be something new, exciting and different. It is going to be quite a show."

For months now, early visitors to the 70-acre World's Fair site in the heart of downtown Knoxville have been awed by the towering presence of The Sunsphere and the beehive of activity by construction crews around the impressive United States Pavilion and other structures which will be a part of the big show running from May 1 to October 31, 1982. In the Japanese Pavilion they have been treated to a special presentation about past World's Fairs and thousands of them have made their plans to be back in Knoxville in 1982 when the real show opens.

Earnest Treadway

Earnest Treadway, 35, of Jackson, Mich., son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Treadway, of Gates, died Oct. 30th, in Jackson, Mich.

Tennessee Superpark: Fall Creek Falls

Approximately 70 miles northwest of Chattanooga, Tennessee in the rugged Appalachian foothills, a rustic sign on Highway 30 proclaims "This is the place where love-liness keeps house between the river and the wooded hills." Each year an increasing number of people have discovered this place to be Fall Creek Falls State Resort Park.

Situated atop 16,300 widely beautiful acres of the Cumberland Plateau, Fall Creek Falls State Resort Park is the second largest of the more than 50 state parks in the Tennessee system. Its diverse terrain features steep sandstone cliffs, lush virgin forests and three natural waterfalls including one which is the park's namesake, Fall Creek Falls.

This is the highest waterfall east of the Rocky Mountains and at 256 feet (90 feet higher than Niagara Falls) it tumbles down a rocky ledge like a silver ribbon and disappears into a shaded plunge pool. It can easily be seen from two nearby overlooks, or for an intimate view, one can wade across the falls clutching a cable or trek to the gorge below by way of a steep trail.

Buzzard's Roost is another unique scenic area in a park renowned for its breathtaking vistas. From this huge granite boulder hawk and other large birds can often be seen fully soaring over the gorge 600 feet below, and on a clear day it's possible to spot 12 peaks arched against the horizon.

As Tennessee's largest recreational park, Fall Creek Falls offers miles of exceptional hiking trails just made for exploring the roadless woods and fields, fresh water streams and cascades and canyon rims. Other trails snaking through valleys and forests are designed for bicycles and horses. Both can be rented here.

An extensive, man-made feature of this park is the Village Green Complex, the center of day use activity at Fall Creek Falls. The park headquarters is located here as a camp store, laundrette, craft center, visitor lounge, public pool and bathhouse, recreation center, a multiplex theater, snack bar and information center. Tennis courts, picnic grounds, ball fields and other day use recreation facilities surround the village complex.

To the right of this development lies a beautiful, challenging 6,700 yard golf course chosen by Golf Digest as one of the top 50 public courses in America. On the other side is Fall Creek Falls Lake, a 375-acre water playground which provides excellent bream and bass fishing. Various boats may be rented at the marina.

Combining the unspoiled natural scenery, top-notch facilities and first-rate guide instruction make for an almost endless variety of activities. Programs extend into nearly every month of the year. During peak summer months anywhere from 40-60 natural and recreational programs are offered per week. All are free.

According to Naturalist-Ranger Herb Roberts, "You'll find people standing by the billboards scratching their heads trying to decide what programs to participate in because they're all so good." A sampling includes overnight cave trips, creek safaris, Saturday night square dances, macrame and leather crafts, softball games, moonlight canoe trips, movies and rappelling. These activities involve anyone from preschoolers to senior citizens.

In addition, interesting lectures and other presentations are offered at the Betty Dunn Nature Center which also serves as a mini-museum with exhibits ranging from "coalified" tree bark to a wasp's nest larger than a basketball.

Camping is on a first come, first serve basis and 200 moderately priced campsites are available in three campgrounds year round. All have tables, grills and water and electrical hookups. There are also two fully-equipped group camps and separate group lodge which can accommodate more than 100 persons.

For those who prefer the comfort of indoors, the park features 20 two-bedroom cabins (actually more like small houses) which sleep up to eight people. All have a fireplace and are fully stocked with everything from silverware to linens.

Nearby stands a luxurious, 72-room Inn with each room having a private balcony overlooking the lake. Other facilities include a 300-seat restaurant, three meeting rooms and an Olympic size pool. For more information about this or any other state park, contact the Department of Tourist Development, Room T, Box 23170, Nashville, Tennessee 37202.

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON

A Conference Committee made up of House and Senate members has begun working on resolving differences on the two farm bills passed in the respective Chambers of Congress. It is hoped that a Conference Report can be agreed upon by the Committee and brought to the floor of the House and Senate in the near future for final passage.

The differences in the two bills start with the commodity price support programs and go further in other sections of the bill. For example, the Senate modified the peanut program but retained authorization for it under different conditions than in the past. The House, on the other hand, accepted an amendment during debate on the bill, eliminating the traditional peanut program and deleting a proposed sugar program.

Obviously, working out a compromise on the entire bill is going to have to start with the price support programs for all the commodities involved. President Reagan has promised a veto if the support levels in the House are adopted, even though both Senate and House committees put together their respective legislation under budget constraints contained in the budget resolution passed in the spring.

However, in fashioning a completed bill for final consideration and signing by the President, additional considerations must be given to the depressed economic conditions that farmers are facing this year.

Commodity prices in the market place are depressed, and farmers are experiencing continued spiraling increases in the costs of production, especially interest rates.

I am hopeful that the strongest parts of the Senate bill and the strongest parts of the House bill can be merged together so that an effective program is adopted for the next four years.

A weak farm program can only serve to further undermine an already dire farm economy especially in light of projections that forecast farm income may go lower than any level since 1934 when adjusted for inflation.

The recognition of the severe situation in which farmers find themselves cannot be over-emphasized. With agriculture representing about 20% of the Gross National Product, its place in the American economy is significant, to say the least, and reaching agreement on farm policy should reflect that fact.

Action by the TVA Board of Directors approving substantial salary increases has been met by widespread opposition of Members of Congress from Tennessee and other states within the TVA service area.

All eight Members of the Tennessee House delegation joined together to co-sponsor a concurrent resolution that disapproves the pay raise action.

President said that he planned to improve presently empty missile silos already in existence and put the MX into them.

That decision immediately stirred a controversy among even the President's closest military advisors. Sen. John Tower (R-Tex.), Chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, questioned the wisdom of the decision and suggested that the mobile basing system was still the best method.

In hearings held after the decision was announced, the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff expressed his opinion that the decision would not accomplish the goal of making the nation's missile fleet less vulnerable.

One of the key reasons that this decision is causing such a stir is the cost of both programs. Procurement of the B-1 and the MX are going to be very expensive undertakings.

Combined with other parts of the strategic arms package announced at the same time, the price tag is expected to reach the $150 billion range.

Obviously, under those circumstances, Senators such as Mr. Tower want to insure that whatever weapons system is purchased will be most effective possible to provide superior national security.

Obviously, this question will be resolved as the President's decision and any alternatives that might enhance our country's strategic position.

A recently introduced bill known as the Rural Enterprise Zone and Development Act has gotten a great deal of attention and gained support in recent weeks.

The bill essentially allows for the designation by the Secretary of Agriculture of enterprise zones in distressed rural areas. It would, hopefully, have the effect of generating income producing and employment opportunities in those areas by providing federal loans for the establishment, expansion, or retention of small businesses. In addition, the bill provides for tax incentives for small businesses in those areas to expand or locate there.

Among the tax incentives are tax credits to small rural businesses within the zone who hire young people under 21 or who incur expenses to increase the technical and managerial skills of their employees. It also provides for substantial reductions in capital gains taxes for those qualified businesses and additional investment tax credits for businesses who rehabilitate old buildings in those areas designated as rural enterprise zones.

Such a program would be implemented as a partnership between the Department of Agriculture and local governments who wish to receive a designation as a rural enterprise zone. It must be emphasized that no decision to embark on acquiring such a designation would be initiated at the local level. The loan guarantee authorities that would be granted to the Secretary of Agriculture would be used to enhance the economic development of the rural areas of this country.

Those funds could be used for such activities as developing land and facilities for industrial or commercial use, construction of buildings for that purpose, and other similar activities that are necessary in attracting new businesses to any area.

Obviously, this idea is not totally new. During last fall's Presidential campaign, President Reagan himself suggested a similar program for large urban areas who had lost their industrial base.

Many of those areas could, I am sure, use a similar program to re-vitalize areas that have deteriorated dramatically. By the same token, there are a great many smaller towns and communities whose economic development would receive a real boost with the development and implementation of a program such as this.

There are many areas, some in West Tennessee, who have sought unsuccessfully new businesses for their areas to provide jobs for the people who live there. Unfortunately, their hard work and the investment they made in industrial site development has been fruitless.

Consequently, as younger generations come along, they find themselves faced with the choice of having to go elsewhere to find jobs. In many cases, in their hearts they would rather remain at home but can not do so because the opportunity is not there.

The Rural Enterprise Zone and Development Act would address that problem and hopefully provide encouragement for small businesses, larger industrial companies and the people of this country who enjoy living in rural areas the opportunity to do so. My Subcommittee on Conservation, Credit and Rural Development will be holding hearings on this bill on November 17th.

ED JONES
7th DISTRICT OF TENNESSEE
REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON

Last year, the Congress adopted legislation that essentially terminated Social Security disability payments to prisoners who were convicted of a felony. This issue received a great deal of public attention when it was learned that prisoners, some of whom committed crimes that gained national notoriety, were receiving benefits through Social Security while serving sentences for their crimes. To make matters worse, in some cases their disabilities were related to the crime they had actually committed. Needless to say, enactment of this legislation was long overdue and I was one of its co-sponsors.

Again this year, the issue of prisoners receiving Social Security has arisen. I have joined as a co-sponsor of two pieces of legislation that directly affect this problem. First of all, it has been learned that one of the provisions of the bill passed in 1980 has left a loophole. It provides that a prisoner can continue to receive Social Security disability benefits if he or she enrolled in a rehabilitation program at the prison. One of the bills I have co-sponsored closes that loophole and prohibits any person convicted of a felony and serving time in a penal institution from receiving Social Security disability benefits. In these times when necessary budget cuts are having an impact on just about everyone, it seems to me that there is a question of basic fairness in the issue of convicted felons receiving Social Security benefits. Another bill introduced relating to prisoners receiving Social Security goes even further. It denies Social Security benefits to any kind of person who is being held in prison who is convicted of a felony, or a person who is housed from tax money as a crime punishable by death or still obtaining additional pay-

Halls Edged In Play-Off

Playing without Michael Hudson, 1980 state scoring champion, the Halls Tigers were unable to generate enough offense last Friday night as they were knocked from the Class A state playoffs by Memphis Prep, 15-7, in a game played at Halls.

Hudson went down with a knee injury in the Martin Westside game Nov. 6th. He had surgery Saturday morning in Parkview Hospital in Dyersburg.

Hudson, who is also state Class A 100- and 200- meter track champion, is expected to be ready for track next spring, but his football future is in jeopardy. This is the second operation on the same knee.

Steve Osborne, Memphis Prep running back, gained 137 yards on 37 carries and scored 14 of the 15 Memphis Prep points. In addition, he was outstanding on runbacks of kick-offs and punt returns.

The Halls Tigers led at the half, after scoring with 2:15 in the second quarter. The Tiger touchdown was set up when Eric Smith hit flanker Mike Blackwood with a 46-yard pass at the Memphis Prep three.

Steve Hudson, Mike's younger brother, got the touchdown from the one on third down. Danny Ednefield kicked the extra point.

Steve Osborne did most of the damage as Memphis Prep got on the scoreboard with 4:51 left in the third quarter. Osborne went in from the one and then scored the 2-point conversion after the Tigers got their only penalty of the game, an offside, on Memphis Prep led 8-7, after three quarters.

Memphis Prep got an insurance touchdown with 4:27 in the game. Osborne scored on a 12-yard scamper.

The Tiger offense, outweighed but definitely quicker, made Memphis Prep earn every yard it gained, but inability to generate a consistent offense was the Tigers' undoing.

Memphis Prep had 11 first downs, with 168 yards on the ground and 50 yards through the air. The Tigers had 7 first downs, with only 55 yards rushing and 93 passing.

Eric Smith, Tiger quarterback, completed 9 of 18 passes but had two intercepted at crucial times.

The Tigers fumbled four times and lost twice. The Panthers fumbled twice and lost both times.

Tiger linebacker Mike Kerby had 16 stops to lead Tiger defenders. Brandon Ward added 15. Eric Smith and Zack Heath got twelve each.

Sixteen seniors were playing their last game for the Tigers, including Mike Hudson, Ronnie Layne, Mike Kerby, Eric Smith, Andre Phipus, Stan Bowie, James Thomson, Paul Throgmorton, Eddie Smith, Kevin Hardy, Brandon Ward, Chris Boucher, Gary Meeks, Jeff Mountjoy, Gid Oida, Mark Bernard.

The Tigers, losers of their first three games, had won seven straight before losing to Memphis Prep.

Speaker Urges Positive Ideas

Mrs. Betty Brown Smith spoke on "The Power of Positive Thinking," when Tennessee Pi Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa met Nov. 10th with Mrs. Beverly Taylor at Halls.

Mrs. Kay Grugett and Mrs. Dezzie Mae Clark, co-hostesses, served a dessert plate to 25 members and Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Smith said each of us is a product of our thoughts, and if we feel good about ourselves, we can have a positive attitude about others.

"Yesterday has gone for all, so we should forget it and weed out all things that cannot be changed and concentrate on altering facts that can be controlled."

She said the Bible was her guide and that Paul's words, "I can do all things through Christ, who strengtheneth me," had helped her meet many problems.

The chapter meets Dec. 8th with Mrs. Barbara Sumrow.

ALL GOOD DEALS MUST COME TO AN END

IT'S THE LAST MONTH TO BUY A NEW 40- TO 80-HP JOHN DEERE TRACTOR AND EARN $500 OF JOHN DEERE MONEY, AND YOU'LL SAVE ON FINANCE CHARGES

All good deals must come to an end. So buy a new 2040, 2240, 2440, 2640 or 2940 Tractor before November 20, 1981, and you'll still qualify for $500 in John Deere money you can spend for goods or services at our store. And, no finance charges will accrue on purchases until March 1, 1982. * The same finance waiver offer applies to new implements purchased with the tractor.

But a good deal isn't all you get with a John Deere 40- to 80-hp tractor. You also get a tractor with outstanding lugging ability, tough drivetrain and "extra" features like closed-center hydraulics that get jobs done faster.

So get in on a good deal now. You'll save.

*This finance offer may be withdrawn at any time.
