Shelia (Mrs. Larry) Reynolds, right, of Halls, sold her ticket. Balloons were released Sept. 15th with names of ticket holders. Editor:
Enjoying Halloween should not be for a chosen few who elect themselves to destroy everything displayed.

All around, Sunday morning, one could see the handiwork of the self-appointed vigilante group. The empty yards and swings where once sat our laughing faced scarecrows and Jack-o-lanterns have been replaced by tear-stained faces who don't understand why someone would take their Halloween decorations.

Well, I don't either, why we as an adult community sit back and say "Oh it's all in fun," or "Why are you so upset? They do it every year." It upsets me to think that the only way to find pleasure is to destroy.

An event that once was a treat for parent and child alike has been turned into a true horror.

Connie Moore

Editor:

Halls Band Boosters and chaperones who made the trip to Mount Juliet would like to commend the Golden Tiger Marching Band for its superior performances Saturday, both in the afternoon and night, in the state competition.

Our band has never performed nor looked better. We feel that it was a great honor to have placed fourth in state competition. The Halls band put on a great show that will be remembered, and they did come home definite winners, because they know they did their very best at both performances.

Our band members also deserve a superior rating for their conduct during the competition and on the over-all trip. They were most cooperative in every way, and our town can certainly be proud of these fine boys and girls. Even though they didn't bring home the first place trophy for performance on the field, they won first place in the hearts of all who accompanied them, and we're sure those back home who could not be there. Thank you, Band members!

To our Band Directors, Bobby Webb and Deana Sieglar, we also give a superior rating for the outstanding job they have done with our band, not only in teaching them how to perform with style and dignity, but also how to be able to accept disappointment with a positive attitude. It takes a special talent to produce a band with class and we know we have that.

Thank you, Bobby and Deana.

CONFIDENTIAL CORNER

By Henry Murchison

As We See It

It is sickening to your editor to listen to and read the attacks on President Reagan and the American government concerning the Grenada invasion and the Marine massacre in Lebanon.

We don't begin to know just what is right and what is wrong about the situation in Lebanon and the bombing deaths of the 229 Marines, but we do wonder about the security measures. However, we cannot help but feel that President Reagan and the government deserve the support of the American people.

Concerning Grenada, we feel that this is a step in the right direction. The continued aggression of Cuba and Russia must be halted now. Anyone believing that the coup in Grenada was not one more step to spread communism has not studied the history of the Russian attempt to dominate the world.

Many are going back to Viet Nam and comparing the situation. Viet Nam is a blot on the face of the United States but not necessarily because we were in Viet Nam. The failure to provide means of winning the war and the treatment of Viet Nam veterans has been and remains shameful. Every man who fought in Viet Nam deserves the same honors that were accorded veterans of other wars.

Tigers Inconsistent

The Halls Tigers have this year been a mystery to your editor. At times they show great spirit and drive, and at others they seem completely flat, for no apparent reason.

Last Friday, they showed the spirit and enthusiasm that it will take to defeat Sharon and advance to the state Class A play-offs. Their fate is in their own hands.

A victory will mean the Tigers will go to Adamsville for the first round of the play-offs, and a loss will probably mean the season will end.

Fan support will be needed Friday night and at Adamsville!

Vandals Active

Connie (Mrs. Tony D.) Moore is unhappy and we agree with her! The scarecrow, pumpkin and bale of hay pictured in last week's issue of The Halls Graphic was taken from the front porch of the Moore home Saturday night. Other Halloween decorations were taken from other houses in Halls. Halls police are looking for the culprits.

Fun is fun, but Mrs. Moore had worked hard to prepare this Halloween scene for her small daughter, Tori, and both are rightfully upset.

Mail Theft Being Traced

Halls police and postal officials report a sack of The Voice, addressed to subscribers, missing from the Halls Post Office lobby late Wednesday night or early Thursday of last week.

The Lauderdale County Enterprise suffered similar problems last year, but the missing copies were always found in a trash can near the post office.

Halls postal workers failed to find any trace of the missing Voice copies last week.

The lobby is protected by laws providing severe penalties for interference with the mails. Anyone with any information should contact Police Chief Buddy Moore.

Crossons, of Milan, Dr. and Mrs. Morris Stallings, of Chattanooga; Mrs. Edith Stallings Williams and daughter, Mrs. Perry Sprawles, of Atlanta, Ga.; Charles Sprawles, a student in Belmont College in Nashville; the Harrison Allen Pickards, of Harrison, Ark.; Mrs. Earl Hendrix, Mrs. Cecil Massey, Mrs. Janice Buffalo Rooney, and Miss Montine Akin, of Ripley; Mrs. Irene Stallings, Tommy Littlejohn, and Jack Fletcher, of Brownsville; Homer Hendron, of Searcy, Ark.; Mrs. L. E. Woods and son, Jack, Mrs. Hal Pennington, the Fred Jacksons, Mrs. Frances Hardy, and Paul Avery, of Gates, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Edens, of Ash Grove, Mo.; Mrs. Kathryn Cook, of Dyersburg; Mr. and Mrs. M. Reward Seeks Halls Thieves

Halls Police offer $100 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of thieves who took a roll of copper wire and other items from Forked Deer Electric Co-Operative, Inc., Monday night of last week.

Chief Buddy Moore says locks to a gate at the utility on old Highway 51, north of Halls, were cut and glass broken in a door to enter the building.

Missing in addition to the roll of copper wire, valued at $2,200, are two chain saws, four wheels and tires, and miscellaneous copper.

HOW THEY FARED

Bolton lost to ESC, 40-8.
Dresden defeated Fulton City, 19-0.

Honor Firemen

Rate Halls Band Fourth In State

Halls' Golden Tiger Marching Band placed fourth in state competition of Class A schools Saturday in Mount Juliet.

First place went to Goodpasture with a rating of 91.0, followed by Westmoreland, 88.0, Franklin Road Academy, 87.4, Halls, 84.2, Lewis County, 79.9, South Pittsburg, 77.9, Parsons Riverside, 76.8, and Coalfield, 75.9.

Halls color guard rated sixth with a 81.8 rating.

"This was the band's best performance of the year, says director Bobby Webb. "With only three years of competition, the band has shown steady improvement each year. The first year we did not make it to the finals, last year we were sixth, and this year fourth."

Editor:
This letter is in reference to your article concerning the handling of the Mary Massey case in Circuit Court. While the account is accurate insofar as it goes, without additional information it tends to cast both my client, Mrs. Massey, and the prosecutor in an unfavorable or false light.

What Attorney General Paul Summers and our office found when the case neared trial was that the investigation was based upon a number of inaccurate assumptions. First, there was no hard evidence that any money was missing. Second, the Attorney General's Office discovered that other persons had made several errors in investigative technique. Third, only one person had ever accused Mrs. Massey of taking so much as a dime.

In light of all this, General Summers' actions were entirely reasonable and proper. Mrs. Massey, at the same time, although adamantly contending she was guilty of no wrongdoing, avoided the very great expense of a protracted trial.

Thus, while I commend your paper for its interest in the case and its usual objective reporting, I feel that the article should be put in larger context.

Keen Descendants Gather

Forty-nine descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Keen attended a family re-union and pot-luck dinner, organized by Mrs. Peggy Parker and Mrs. Elaine Fisher, of Memphis, Nov. 5th at the Upperware Recreation Center.

Oscar Keen, who was born May 31, 1882, was a brick-layer in this county. He died May 8, 1967.

He married Lillie Maude Richardson on May 28, 1904. They had seven children, all still living.

They moved from community to community according to his work. After retirement they settled in the house at Hale's Point currently occupied by Freeman Keen.

The last previous re-union was on Mrs. Lillie Keen's 95th birthday in September, 1979. More than 80 family members attended the dinner in her home at Hale's Point.

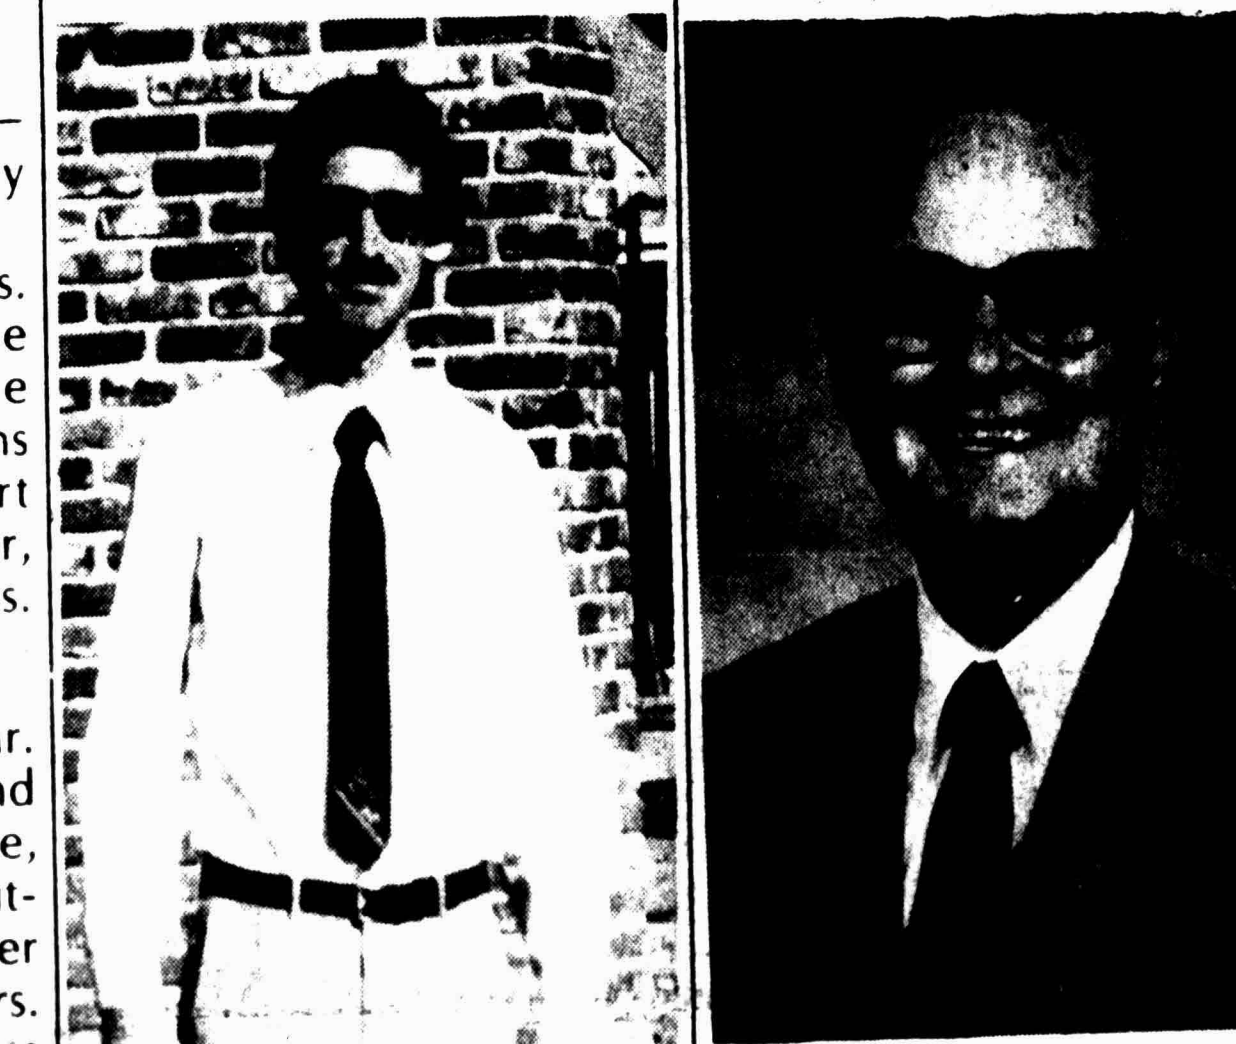

Mrs. Keen, born Sept. 1, 1884, died Feb. 4, 1981, at the age of 97.

Several family members were unable to attend the re-union Saturday due to the illness of Mr. and Mrs. Keen's oldest son, Wesley Keen, of Halls. He is in fair condition in Jackson Madison County Hospital.

Five of the seven children were present—Mrs. Mary Keen Davis, of Judsonia, Ark.; Mrs. Louise Keen Minner, of Ashport, Jack Keen, of Memphis, Harry "Bo" Keen, of Halls, and Mrs. Peggy Keen Parker, of Memphis.

Other family members present were Sam Davis, of Judsonia, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Davis and daughter, Stephanie, of Cincinnati, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Davis, of Heber Springs, Ark.; the Jerry Culbreaths and children, Jennifer and Jeremy, of West Memphis.

New Here Elected

NOLAN CRINER, Lauderdale County Register, was elected vice-president of the Tennessee Register Association in its annual meeting Oct. 21. He was previously president of the association.

PT-O MEETING

The first grade will present a program on Thanksgiving when the Halls Parent-Teacher Organization meets at 7 p.m. Nov. 14th in the Halls Elementary School cafeteria.

CONFIDENTIAL CORNER

By Henry Murchison

Opportunity Awaits

The Halls Tigers will be rated 2 touchdown underdogs in Adamsville Friday in the opening round of the Class A play-offs, but there are some things in their favor.

They are in the play-offs for the third consecutive year, while Adamsville is in the play-offs for the first time.

In the history of the play-offs, Region 7 is usually much stronger than Region 6, and while there probably isn't as much difference this year, the edge is still with Region 7.

The Tigers are still a mystery to your editor, but they have at times demonstrated strong offense and have been strong defensively the entire year.

If the Tigers play to their capabilities, they will have a chance to win in Adamsville and advance to the second round.

In the other game matching Region 7 against Region 6, Lake County will be heavily favored over Bruceton.

Unemployment Drops

The national unemployment rate dropped .5% during October to 8.8%, lowest in 20 months. At the same time, automobile sales, building permits and retail sales showed an increase, with inflation remaining at a low rate of increase.

In Tennessee, the employment rate dropped to 9.3%, the lowest since October, 1981, ending 21 months of double digit joblessness.

Lowest unemployment rate in West Tennessee was Weakley County's, 6.0%. Obion County was close behind at 6.1%.

Lauderdale County reported a jobless rate of 8.2%, well below the state rate. The county showed 940 unemployed from a work force of 10,560.

Rates in nearby counties were Tipton County, 8.3%; Haywood County, 11.4%, the highest in nearby counties; Crockett, 9.9%; Dyer County, 9.2%, well down from the high of 18%; Lake County, 8.6%; and Gibson County, 12.9%.

Halls In Adamsville For State Play-Off

Halls High School's Tigers, in a sloppily played game Friday, led Sharon 22-6 to win a state play-off berth against Adamsville, in Adamsville, kicking off at 7:30 p.m. this Friday.

Tickets ($3) are available at HHS, Arnold Healthmart Drugs, Brown's Super Market, Bank of Halls, The Lauderdale County Bank, and Nunn Drug.

Adamsville, rated sixth in Class A state polling, is 9-1 this season. It has met only two teams Halls played this fall. Halls led Dresden 7-0; Adamsville won 41-6. Halls led Denmark West 35-14; Adamsville won 50-21.

Adamsville's only loss was to Class AA Parsons Riverside, 7-6. Halls, 7-3, has lost to Class A Lake County and Class AA Crockett County and Gibson County.

Halls scored against Sharon with 1:18 in the first quarter, David Blackwood going the final eight yards.

After an offside call on Sharon on the extra point try, Blackwood went in to give Halls an 8-0 lead.

The touchdown had been setup after a Sharon punt was blocked and the ball recovered at the Sharon 34.

Playing without their quarterback, Brian Moore, injured in the South Fulton game, Sharon was unable to move the ball after the kick-off, with the Tigers taking a punt at their 26.

In two plays—a 22-yard pass from Sammy Burnette to Pat Smith and a 52-yard run by Jarrett Rogers—the Tigers got their second touchdown.

Benjie Goodwin kicked the extra point to give the Tigers a 15-0 lead at half-time.

With the help of Tiger penalties Sharon got its only points of the game with 2:30 in the third quarter. Bee Taylor dived over from the one. The try for point was no good.

It took just 1:28 for the Tigers to match the Sharon touchdown, with Pat Smith going the final 41-yards and Goodwin kicking the extra point for the 22-6 win.

Halls had eight first downs on 222 yards rushing and 67 yards passing. Sharon got five first downs, but its only offense, seven of them passing.

Tiger quarterback Sammy Burnette completed four of eight passes for 67 yards, without interceptions. Sharon threw 10 times, completed twice, and had two passes picked off.

Blackwood led Tiger rushers with 72 yards on 11 carries, including a 34-yard run in the first quarter. He lost a 52-yard punt return on the play.

ELAINE (MRS. JERRY) PARKER, of the Bexar Club, got the Home Demonstration Club's Member of the Year Award Thursday of last week in the county clubs' annual awards banquet in Ripley High School. She has taken under her wing an elderly lady in her area, providing transportation as needed. She is secretary-treasurer of Area 8 Special Olympics, trains new SO volunteers, and spearheaded her H.D. Club's project to make the Area 8 Special Olympics Banner, which placed first in state competition. She has helped with pre-school screening and assisted with story-time at the county library. She attended school last summer and received enough credits to renew her teacher's certificate.

Education: brings The joy of learning — a life-long experience

Education is a life-long process, not something which can be confined to the classroom. It is a continuous process of learning, growing, and developing. The joy of learning is a life-long experience that enriches the soul and prepares one for the challenges of life.

questioned must be pulled off the market much faster than under current law, and exemptions for special uses would be harder to obtain. In making decisions, EPA solely would have to consider the impact on people and could not weigh the benefits provided by a specific pesticide's use. Cost-benefit analyses would be eliminated. The bill would directly affect how pesticides and herbicides are applied on the farm. For example, a farmer who is a certified applicator would have to apply a restricted-use pesticide himself, because he could no longer supervise such an application. The bill eliminates the existing prohibition against requiring farmers and ranchers to take a test to prove their competency in using pesticides. It also eliminates the prohibition against states requiring tests. The bill specifically requires that "buffer zones" be considered as a protection method. With "buffer zones," a farmer would have to leave edges of his fields untreated to prevent any drift toward a neighbor. Such zones could range from 100 yards to a quarter-mile in width. Other possibilities written into the bill include requiring farmers to notify all neighbors before applying a pesticide and to post signs saying which pesticide was used in a field. Commercial applicators could be required to maintain records of each field treated, with details on usage. Even if a farmer complied with all the rules, he still could be subject to civil lawsuits, because the bill grants a "private right" to sue. Any person or group, after first notifying EPA, could sue a farmer for the farmer's alleged misuse of pesticides. A farmer who lost such a case could be responsible for paying the plaintiff's court costs. For example, if a farmer applied an herbicide according to the law, and that chemical later was found as a

Mike Escue Sold On Soil Testing

By Charles T. Peal By following soil test recommendations, Mike Escue, of Durhamville, feels he benefited from his fertilizer and lime inputs even in this dry year, by eliminating any guesswork in application.

The pH level on two of his tests was 5.9. The rest showed pH levels of 6.1 to 7.1. The pH level recommended for soy beans is 6.1 to 7. The proper pH level causes other elements in the soil to be more readily available to plants.

Current University of Tennessee recommendations for soils low in potash call for 80 pounds to be added.

Phosphorus, as a fertilizer element, is very abundant in our upland soils and usually in the bottom soil. If the pH level is not 6.1 or above, this element is not readily available to the plant during the growing season.

Halls Tigers Treated

ENJOYING STEAKS Tuesday night of last week as guests of Next Door Restaurant were members of the Halls Tigers football team. Paul Brown, owner of the restaurant, had promised the team a steak dinner if they made it to the state play-offs.

in a system of self-government.

I do not know of anyone who will dispute the fact that our nation faces difficult problems both at home and abroad. Questions persist about the course of the economy. International turmoil threatens world peace. Americans have suffered the loss of lives in Lebanon and Grenada in recent weeks, and the arms race goes forward with no clear indication that the world powers can reach agreement on how to curb it.

Those kinds of immediate concerns and the potential impact of those problems tend to overshadow the basic simple gifts of life that we possess. While the large majority of Americans will enjoy a good meal and the warmth of our homes on Thanksgiving Day, we sometimes forget that in many parts of the world those basic necessities of life are luxuries. The people of Lebanon, for example, are struggling to cope with the results of war and a government that is finding it difficult to maintain a solid hold on its ability to govern.

Yet, through these difficulties around the world, our nation continues to be strong. Though disagreements exist as to what certain policies should be, those disagreements are voiced without the violence that characterizes them in other countries around the world. Our electoral process allows for our people to voice their preferences every two years and that process is among the ingredients that has kept our country strong and our freedoms intact. We have been able to work together with reason and confidence in seeking solutions to the problems facing our nation.

By world standards, the United States is a young nation. It was created by and for those who sought to govern themselves. Those who left their homelands to come to the new world did that knowing that their success would require sacrifice. That important part of the American spirit has not changed.

Though our system has grown more complex, reflecting changes in population, there is no other nation on earth whose people cherish their liberty more or who are more willing to make sacrifices to protect it.

This Thanksgiving Day, my family and I will be using this time to reflect on the many gifts God has given us. We will be giving thanks for a way of life in America that is unsurpassed anywhere in the world. I want to wish each of you a special hope that we can all celebrate the day in a true sense of Thanksgiving for what we have, and for those who have made the ultimate sacrifice to protect it.

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON

During this week, we, as a Nation, will be celebrating the Thanksgiving Holidays. To most American families, this is a season for re-union and family togetherness. It is also traditionally a time for us to reflect on ourselves, our country, and the good things in life for which we are thankful.

Today's news always seems to focus on the bad things that happen—disasters, outbreaks of violence, both at home and abroad, difficulties in the economy, and the like. This year has been no exception. While there have been improvements in the economy, our own district is still feeling the effects of relatively high unemployment and serious financial difficulties for farmers who had to weather a drought this year.

Obviously, those kinds of news stories are important and should be given the extensive coverage they warrant. Unfortunately, the discouragement that accompanies these kinds of events tends to overshadow the many gifts for which we, as individuals and as a country, should be thankful. Despite the many setbacks, we maintain those freedoms for which the first celebrants of Thanksgiving Day were so grateful—the freedom of speech, the freedom to worship God in whatever manner we want, the freedom to criticize government policy without repercussions and the freedom to participate
