

A BOLTON RUNNER broke into the secondary, but three Halls defenders, including senior Joe Patrick (22), wrapped him up and put him on the bottom of the pile. Patrick was Halls' leading defender, with 11 tackles, but it wasn't enough to stop the Wildcat rushing game in the Tigers' 7-6 loss. The host Tigers led 6-0 until 2:57 remained and Bolton snatched the contest away.

Crop Prospects Good

during its early years.

Good growing conditions, with timely rainfall, have led to yield prospects that are expected to approach, equal, and in some cases exceed last year's betterthan-average yields.

Corn, grain sorghum, cotton, and hay production are expected to be up from last year, but at this point it is too early to tell about soy beans. The yields look as though they may be higher er acre, but there are not as many acres in Lauderdale County as in prior yearstobably 110,000 acres. Some of his soy bean land has yielded to ain sorghum and cotton in Much marginal land has gone into grass and clover. Many acres of alfalfa will be sown this County soy bean producers may exceed an average yield by two or three bushels. The state average is expected to be about 26 bushels per acre, and this county is probably close to this. Usually yields here fall three to four bushels below the state average.

the blaze when the elder Hurt came out of the building to battle the fire. As he arrived, the tank exploded, causing second and third degree burns over his body from above the knees. The worst burns are on his hands and arms.

The younger Hurt received second and third degree burns on his hands and arms while trying to assist his father.

Family members say cards should be mailed to the Hurt home rather than to the hospital because no items are allowed into the burn unit, to protect against germs.

Items delivered to the home will be delivered to Memphis when possible.

Hurt was taken to Baptist Hospital Lauderdale in Ripley and flown to Memphis by helicopter.

MSU Degrees Go To Six Countians

Patricia Meadows Higdon, of 719 W. Main, Halls, received a master of education dagree, and Charles Richards Viar, of Viar Road, Halls, received a doctor of education degree during Memphis State University's summer commencement exercises Aug. 18th.

Receiving bachelor degrees. were Donna Renee Cantrell, of 308 Lynn Street, Ripley, in education; Lillie Dora Garrison, of 398 Nesbitt Street, Ripley, in journalism; Sandra Warren Parker, of Route 2, Henning, and Anna Leigh Shoaf, of Route 2, Henning, in accounting.

prisoners, despite Gov. Lamar Alexander's proposal for a 60bed maximum security unit there. The 6,300 acre farm houses 625 prisoners with 271 inmates working inside the prison, including those making license plates.

Until about three months ago, the prison was housing more than 800, with the C-block being closed, to be converted to a vocational education building.

Warden Herman Davis, former warden at Brushy Mountain Prison, complained that the Class X crime law and inmate classification restrictions contained in the 1982 Judge Sentencing Act are hampering his farm operations and wasting taxpayers' money.

Class X prisoners are not permitted to work outside prison walls; in addition, Corrections Department policy prohibits anyone with 10 years or more to-

County Jail Meets State's Standards

R. Sheriff Milford Durham and his staff are to be commended".

SCOUTS ORGANIZE

Halls Boy Scout Troop 286 will start the 1985-86 year with a meeting at Tupperware at 7 p.m. Sept. 9th. Information from Stan Young, 836-7806.

Double cropped soy beans have declined in this county. Wheat production is down considerably from its peak of 135,000 to 140,000 acres in the early 1980s, to somewhat under 30,000 now. It took county producers several years to realize that double cropping on thinner soils certainly does not pay.

Possible Crop: Sumac

Smooth sumac, a perennial shrub of the Eastern United States, could be the next raw material for plastics, resins, and other manufactured substances.

The milky sap of this nonpoisonous sumac contains oils, hydrocarbons, polyphenol compounds that are of value as industrial feedstocks.

Polyphenols are used as the molecular "glue" that hold together slow-release drugs, pesticides, or solvents, slowly defusing them into the environment. Slow-release compounds are used in medicines and as tannin to soften hides in making leather.

Growing and harvesting sumac is fairly easy. A farmer could grow a substantial crop, cut it, bale it, and send it to the processing plant.

We have plenty of this in Lauderdale County. It might be our next crop.

Grouping of candlelabra and Oregon fern flanked the altar. The choir loft was banked with POregon fern and candles. Pew arrangements of white 'mums and baby's breath marked the mother's seats.

The bride, Lori Jane Brewer, was given by her father, Billy Brewer, of Halls, in a white gown by Lita Moressa of New York. The portrait neckline was out lined with pearls. Long lace sleeves, puffed at the shoulders, was tapered to lily points on the hands. The basque bodice was overlaid with Alençon lace and enhanced with seed pearls and sequins. Falling gracefully from the dropped waist was a ballroom skirt of silk taffeta which billowed into a chapel train.

A garland of silk roses and sequine, surrounded with rows of seed pearls, held a double fingertip veil of imported illusion which was pencil hemmed.

The bride wore a white hand smocked garter with pink hearts and bow, a gift from a friend. She carried a cascade of white sweetheart roses, stephanotis and baby's breath which surrounded a white glamelia of gladioli petals. Attached to the bouquet was a white handembroidered handkerchief which belonged to the groom's mother.

Miss Leah Roberts, of Halls was maid of honor. Other attendants were Miss Melinda Mount of Maury City, Mrs. Donald Ray Pennington, of Dyersburg, Miss Alesia Stanley and Miss Maria Woloshyn, of Memphis, and Miss Lori Webb, of Waverly. Jun ior bridesmaid was Amy Gibson, daughter of the Larry Gibsons. of Dyersburg.

They wore tea length dresses of candy pink satin overlaid with Cluny lace, with Sabrina necklines and scalloped sleeves and hems. Satin cummerbunds accented the natural waistlines, which formed a soft bow at the V-shaped back.

They carried cascade bouquets of pale pink rubrum lilies, miniature pink carnations, sweetheart roses, and baby's breath. A Bradshaw, of Dyersburg, was his brother's best man. Grooms men were Sherrell Armstrong, o Tiptonville, Jeff Brewer and Donald Ray Pennington, o Dyersburg, Pierce White, Knoxville, Tod Hayes, of Pensacola, Fla., and Jeff Pierce, of Palm Beach, Fla.

Guests were greeted at the registers by Miss Angela Newbill, of versburg, and Miss Tammy Johns. of Halls.

Miss Renee Stallcup, of Friendship, pianist, played Somewhere My Love, My Own True Love, Sunrise, Sunset, To A Wild Rose, and Till There Was You. She accompanied Misses Laura and Lisa Cary, of Union City, for The Rose, Wind Beneath My Wings, and Whither Thou Goest. At the close of the ceremony, the bride's father sang The Lord's Prayer, by Malotte.

Mrs. Jean Hansford, organist, announced the entrance of the bride with chimes of the wedding hour and Wagner's Bridal Chorus. The recessional was Mendelssohn's traditional Wedding March Mothers were escorted to their aces of honor to the strains of More. Mrs. Brewer, escorted by her son, Jeff, chose a tea length ensemble of ivory-yellow silk with Alencon lace and crystals on the neckline. Seed pearls were scattered about the blouson top. The groom's mother. Mrs. Sam Bradshaw, Jr., of Dyersburg, escorted by her son, Al, chose a tea length gown of rose silk chifwhich featured a handpainted bodice panel and long sheer sleeves. Each mother wore a white glamelia corsage.

Honored guests were grand-parents of the couple, Mrs. Jim Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Brewer, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Yarbro, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bradshaw.

Mrs. Hansford provided music for the reception in the fellowship hall of the church.

The 4-tier wedding cake, on a table overlaid with white lace, was topped with fresh sweetheart roses, stephanotis, and baby's breath. The groom's cake was a two layer chocolate cake decorated with fresh frosted grapes and leaves.

Centering the serving table was a silver candlelabrum with pink anthuriums, sweetheart roses, and baby's breath. Matching silver punch bowl and coffee service were placed at either end the table. Standing at the end the bride's table was a portrait the bride on an easel given a high priority is tax This legislation. the Congress by the President at the end of May, does not need definitive action by the start of a new fiscal year. Nonetheless, the emphasis placed on this legislation by the administration and the Chairmen of both the House Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee has placed it high on the agenda for the remainder of 1985.

The Ways and Means Committee in the House, led by Chairman Dan Rostenkowski, has already held many hours of hear-ings on tax reform. It should be pointed out that the Committee has not restricted itself to only to the administration's proposal. It is looking at a wide range of reform proposals to simplify the tax system and make sure that all segments of society carry their fair share of the nation's tax burden. Needless to say, this has not been an easy task.

Over the past several weeks, the committee has heard from a number of individuals, corporations, economists, and interest groups who by and large use their appearance before the com to express support position to either the entire reform package or specific proviof it. In addition, the committee received a report indicating that the President's proposal would result in a loss of revenue compared to the present system. This has become a particularly important issue in the tax reform debate for several rea-

it is extremely difficult to get an agreement on how to cut spending to reduce the deficit, it seems that a revenue losing tax reform proposal is counter productive. Secondly, the President has repeatedly demanded that any ax reform proposal be revenue leutral; that is, that it raise the same revenue as the present sys

As opposition rises to specific oints in the reform proposal such as ending the deduction rules for business, it difficult to achieve the revenue neutral goal. That difficult as it looks around to see how it can replace the revenues gained from those changes with other changes.

Chairman Rostenkowski indiated in July that he planned t begin drafting a tax reform bill in September. Fortunately, will be doing so amid a spirit of cooperation between the administration and the Congress. Both want to see a successful tax reform effort, and it appears that promise to achieve it.

Ifalfa Boosting the University of Tennessee soil Farm Cash Flow By Charles T. Peal

Alfalfa is being established b Wiley Ayers and other Lauder dale County farmers as an additional farm enterprise which can add income and cash-flow. A recent soil test taken by Wiley provides a basis upon which he can fertilize and lime.

In the last year we have noted big increase in the number of soil tests being taken for alfalfa Soybean Disease establishment and forage crops such as fescue, white clover, and orchard grass. This indicates to us that farmers are thinking seriously about a more balanced enterprise system on their farms thus taking some of the more erodable land out of row crop production that was formerly in pastures any way.

Many of our alfalfa producers are selling hay to horse owners as well as regular beef cattle producers. The market seems to be rather good for the horse owners but it appears that from the number of those who are establishing alfalfa that we may get into the situation of over producing thus selling our commodity much cheaper just like we are doing for soybeans. W advise producers to establish a market for their commodition before planting.

This is a good time to take soil tests for next year's crop. Produc ers who plan to fertilize their soybeans this fall can take a soil test now. The process is simple-take a small amount of soil from a sixinch depth in at least six places in the field, mix it thoroughly before putting it in a box. It takes approximately a pint of soil to provide an adequate test.

The cost of the basic soil test at testing lab is $2.00 plus 50 cents for postage. Other organizations charge more inasmuch as they provide analysis for minor elements. UT makes a minor ele ment analysis and the cost these will still be cheaper than the private lab.

We think that soil testing i certainly a tool that needs to be used to determine the amounts o plant food necessary to produce the individual crops. It can save dollars.

Some of our farmers brough in some soybean plants last week which were infected with a new disease called Sudden Death Syndrome. Dr. Melvin Newman UT Plant Pathologist stated to me that 1984 was the first time this has been seen here in West Tennessee

This sudden death Syndrome disease occurs on good land and land that may have soybean cyst nematodes. The soil moisture level is usually good which has been true this year.

There will be no nodules on the root system and a cross section of the lower stem shows light tan n the vascular system.

Dr. Newman said their expe riences with this last year and this year so far show that DP 417 seemed to have it worse than other varieties, but that many other varieties are susceptible The plant does not actually die but the yield is cut considerably. There is no cure at present. Plans are underway to use different hemical materials in 1986 own infested areas to see there is any way to control this

The current high school footcall season has three major changes in penalties:

• Holding or illegal use of hands-10 yards (formerly 15). • Ineligible receiver down-field—5 yards and loss of down (formerly 15 yards without loss of down)

• Free kicks out-of-bounds (kickoffs or kicks after safeties. untouched by receivers)-5 yards and re-kick (unless receivers d cline the penalty and take th where it went out-of bounds). Formerly, receivers got the ball 10 yards behind their free kick line (normally, the 40vard line).

Region 7A Teams Hit Rough Going

South Fulton and Dresden claimed victories in their regular eason openers, but the rest the teams in Region 7A found rough going in the first contests of their 1985 grid campaigns.

While South Fulton was run ning past Dyer County 23-0 and Dresden was downing Westview 13-7, Lake County, Halls and Greenfield were losing tough

Lake County, the defendin region champ, lost at Memphi Evangelical Christian School 13 7, Bolton tripped Halls 7-6 and Greenfield dropped a 20-18 decision to Old Hickory.

In Memphis, ECS made it three in a row over the Lake Countians. After knocking the Falcons out of the playoffs the two previous years, the Memphi-ans filled an open date on the chedule and continued to edge Butch Baker's Green Machine.

At Greenfield, Jerry Gage's ellow Jackets spotted Old Hick ory a 14-0 lead and then battled back into the contest, only to dee troy their chances with a number f fumbles. The Jackets fumble x times, losing all six.

Halls Awaiting Yellow Jackets

After losing close games in the first week of the football season, Halls and Greenfield clash w sights set on the first victory of the fall campaign.

Bolton came to Halls to hand the Tigers a 7-6 defeat, and Old Hickory edged Greenfield 20-18, leaving both squads 0-1 as play

"We hope we learned some things last week that will help us this week," said Halls Head Coach Andy Pugh, "but Green field will come in here ready to play, too. They lost a tough one, and they'll be after us. We'll have to be ready to play."

The Yellow Jackets, under the direction of third-year Coacl Jerry Gage, have seven returning starters on both offense and defense and are said to be an team than the one which won the Reelfoot Confer ence crown a year ago. Greenfield, 8-2 last year, has a lot of experience and, with only three seniors, the team could be a big surprise this season and in the future.

The team features eight juniors, six of whom started two seaheld down first-string spots last'

Against Old Hickory, the Jackets had trouble holding the ball. On three offensive plays in the first period, Greenfield fumbled twice and the visiting Generals jumped to a 14-0 lead Greenfield fumbled six times losing all six.

"It sounds as though they gave their game away, much as we gave ours away, with fumbles," Pugh adds. "I'm sure both teams will want to change that this week."

Team-leading efforts by sophomore Derrick Harris and senior Terry Lents have earned them Player-of-the-Week honors for last week's contest with Green-

Harris, a 5' 10, 172-pound offensive tackle and linebacker, made some key blocks when the Tigers had the ball and some crucial tackles while on defense. One tackle was for a loss in the late going when Halls had to hold the visitors to regain possession and notch the comefrom-behind win.

His six solo tackles was team high. Lents, a 6' 1, 153-pound quarterback, had some rough times in the early going but recovered to run for 24 yards on 10 carries and throw for 47 yards with two completions. His 36-yard strike to Tyrone Patrick in the final minutes set up the winning field

With their first District 13-AAA victory, over Munford, won with ease Friday, 49-17, Ripley High School's Tigers eave the district this Friday for their first road game, in

It's an old rivalry, but some of the steam has gone out of it now that the Chargers—edged out of play-off position by Ripley last fall, 6-0, in overtime—have been re-classified from District 13-AAA to District 13-AA.

Covington wound up 8-3 last season, after a loss in the unford Jaycee Bowl to Memphis University School. This fall, there's a new head coach—Steve Hay, 31, assistant le last four seasons to Bill Bona, now an assistant in Milan. There's a new quarterback, David Kidd, a 5-8, 150 pound unior, operating the multiple Pro I offense.

And there's an entirely new secondary, with only six return-ing starters, 12 returning lettermen, and 12 seniors. "If our juniors and sophomores come through, I feel we can win against most anybody; if they don't, it could be bad news," Hays said before the season started.

Lads he didn't expect to play came through as Covington forced four turn-overs from another arch-foe, Dyersburg, on hostile turf, to win its opener 20-14, though the Trojans gained 295 yards (163 rushing, 132 on six of 18 passes) to Covington's 178 (53 on the ground, 125 on seven of 10 passes).

Facing another young team, Covington senior John Eaton returned the opening kick-off 97 yards to draw first blood, and the Charger defense knocked out the win, with Covington's only turn-over on the fourth play of the final period, when Eaton fumbled to Nelson Yarbrough on his 24 to let Dyersburg post a

With less than five minutes to play, the Tigers had to hold the Yellow Jackets and get the ball back with time to work for another score. And the Halls defense, the strength of Andy Pugh's squad, more than rose to the occasion.

After the Halls kick-off, Greenfield took control at its own 25 yard line, needing only to run out the clock to preserve the victory in the season's first Region 7A battle. On first down, sophomore Derrick Harris broke through the Jacket blockers and grabbed a rushing Doug Wren for a 2-yard

Halls got the ball on the Greenfield 47. On first down, senior quarterback Terry Lents lofted a pretty spiral into the waiting arms of Tyrone Patrick 36 yards downfield. Patrick, a sophomore had raced into the clear in the middle of the field and made a nice over-the-shoulder catch to put the Tigers into field goal

After Joe Patrick and Jarrett Rogers moved the ball from the 11 to the five, Voss and Goodwin, with Lents doing the snapping, moved back into position.

The snap was good, Voss' hold was perfect and Goodwin's kick split the upright, giving Halls a 16-14 lead.

Halls Leads Early In District 7 Race

Halls moved into the early lead in the race for the Region 7A football crown Friday night with a 16-14, come-from-behind victory over region foe Greenfield. The Tigers, 1-0 in region play and 1-1 overall, staged a ninepoint final period to clip the Yellow Jackets. For Greenfield, was the second consecutive two-point loss. In other games involving region teams, Lake County evened its mark at 1-1 with a 29-8 win over Westview, Dresden dropped a 12-11 decision to Dyer to 2-0 with a 40-8 win over Gibson County.

At Tiptonville, Lake County rode the touchdown tosses Bubba McClain to victory over the winless Chargers. His tosses of 17 and 55 yards went to Tyrone Clay. Fred Tharp and Bill Mealer added touchdown runs of 28 and five yards, respectively, to cap the Falcons' score

At Dresden, a two-point con version attempt failed in the late going and the visiting Choctaw escaped Lion country with a one point victory. The win leaves Presden at 1-1 and evened the Dyer County record.

South Fulton jumped on the Class AA Gibson Countians and rolled to an easy win. In two games, Kerry Curling's Red Dev ils have scored 63 points and allowed only eight.

Nature in some of its rarest and most beautiful forms is on display along the Appala-chian Trail, a 2,100 mile continuous, marked footpath stretching across 14 states from Georgia to Maine.

The "A.T." is the world's longest marked trail and is named for the crest of the mountains that it follows: The Appalachians. For outdoor enthusiasts - including those who enjoy nature for a day, weekend or weeks at a time the Appalachian Trail presents an unequaled opportunity for exploring wilderness areas of the eastern United States.

In Tennessee, the trail follows the eastern border of the state and this section of the A.T. includes some of its most spectacular vistas and the highest elevations. Clingmans Dome in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park, at 6,643 feet is the highest elevation on the entire 2,100 miles.

In northeastern Tennessee the trail traverses several natural "balds," or unforested summits, including Roan Mountain which offers an unobscured view at 6,300 feet.

In general, the southern Appalachian Mountains are the highest and among the most rugged of the entire Appalachian chain. Much of the route, especially in the Great Smokies, is ridgecrest travel and for long distances is above the 5,000-foot elevation. The vistas include beautiful rolling waves of mountain ranges in all directions.

Plant life ranges from lush undergrowth reminiscent of the subtropics to alpine-like wildflowers and hardwood forests to spruce-fir forests. The profusion of flowering shrubs is a special feature and includes rhododendron, azalea and mountain laurel. Wildlife abounds and hikers should be prepared to share the trail and their surroundings with creatures ranging from salamanders to black have the state Much of the route for the Tennessee-North Carolina section of the trail lies in two

The Appalachian Trail

National Forests, the Cherokee and the Pisgah, and in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

For longer hikes, there are three major divisions of the trail in Tennessee and North Carolina. From Damascus, Virginia, to Sams Gap is 136 miles; Sams Gap to Davenport Gap is 75 miles; and 70 miles in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

Road access within these divisions breaks up these distances into shorter sections for hikers interested in a weekend trip or for the day hiker. Two of the more popular points for road access to the Appalachian Trail in Tennessee are Newfound Gap in the Great Smoky Mountain National Park and Roan Mountain State Park near Elizabethton, Tennessee.

The entire A.T. is marked for travel in both directions with white paint blazes about two inches wide and six inches high on trees, posts, or rocks. Other markings are designated for changes in trail direction and for side trails.

Although the A.T. is marked, because much of this area is wilderness, all hikers are encouraged to check out routes throughly with resource materials. Always match distances with physical abilities, taking into consideration elevation increases which add to the difficulty of the hike. Good advice for any outdoors experience is: never hike alone, so that if a mishap does occur the other person can go for help.

For overnighters, threesided shelters along the Appalachian Trail are generally spaced about 10 miles apart, but guidebooks must be consulted to obtain exact location and mileage in between. Permits and reservations are required for use of shelters in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park. Other shelters are on a first-come first served basis, so hikers should also be prepared with a tent or lightweight tarp to use if shelters are full.

The A.T. is maintained by 31

clubs, including in Tennessee the Smoky Mountains Hiking Club and the Tennessee Eastman Hiking Club. The clubs are comprised volunteers who are committe to the maintenance and protection of the Appalachian Trail as a recreational resource. Their efforts resul in the trail being an open, well-marked footpath, and these volunteers are also dedicated to its future preservation.

Representatives from the local clubs and the member ship at large govern the ac-tivities of the Appalachian Trail Conference, a non-profit organization founded in 1925. The ATC will celebrate the 50th anniversary of the trail's completion in 1987. Two Tennesseans, both from Kingsport and members of the Tennessee Eastman I ing Club, have served chairmen of the national conference. Stanley Murray, 1961-75, was chairman when the National Trail System Act was signed in 1968. Raymond Hunt, the current chairman, signed an agreement in 1984 with the National Park Service delegating management responsibility to the ATC for public land along sections of the A.T.

For more specific hiking and access information, guide books, data books and educational brochures are available from the Appalachian Trail Conference, P.O. Box 807, Harpers Ferry, West Virginia 25425-0807.

The guidebook (including maps) describing the Tennessee-North Carolina section of the trail is #9, the Guide to the Appalachian Trail in Tennessee and North Carolina ATC data books supplement guidebooks by giving more information about access points, trail and road crossings, shelter and campsite locations and places to purchase food or meals.

For more information about eastern Tennessee, contact the Tennessee Department of Tourist Development, Room 1 P.O. Box 23170, Nashville, Tennessee 37202.

Boating Death Trial Impends

A McKenzie man charged with vehicular homicide in the June 23rd boating death of 17-year-old Joyce Renee Shatley, of Halls, was indicted Monday by the Henry County Grand Jury and is scheduled to be arraigned Monday in Henry County's Circuit Court.

Morris Mealer, 35, reportedly registered .16 on an intoximeter test after his bass boat struck a ski boat on which the girl was a passenger. A reading of .10 legally indicates intoxication in Tennessee Mealer said he lost control of the boat because the throttle stuck and the steering system malfunctioned, authorities report, but Tennessee Bureau of Investigation and the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency offic ers tested the 17-ft. Fiberglas boat and found it in working condition.

Mealer remains free under $5,000 bond.

Having breezed past Covington, 33-6, Ripley High School's unbeaten Tigers seek their second District 13-AAA victory this Friday as they host Jackson Central-Merry at 7:30 p.m. on Knee Field.

JCM lost to Ripley, 14-12, in the district's 1984 season when it ran 4-4. This fall, it's 1-1 in the district, having lost its opener to Jackson North Side, 25-0, but coming back the next week over Bolivar Central, 23-8. Last week, it lost, outside the district, to Henry County, 21-0.

In the opener, JCM outrushed the Indians, but North Side scored on passes worth 55, 43, and 17 yards, posting 171 yards through the air to 18 for the Cougars. Richard Hughes booted a 4-yard field goal for the victors.

After a scoreless first half, hosting Bolivar, JCM's junior fullback, Darron Billings (6-0, 195) got 41 yards on six consecutive carries to score. After junior tackle John Borcum (6-0, 205) recovered on Bolivar's 22, it was fourth and eight when Jay Barnes, a soccer-style kicker, booted a 37-yard field goal with 3:52 in the third period

Senior tailback Jeff Cross (5 11, 185) posted JCM's final tally with 30 seconds in the game, a ter Bolivar had scored on a 67yard pass and conversion, Craig Rivers to Barry Polk.

Last week, Henry County con-trolled the line of scrimmage, holding JCM to 99 yards rush ing, 18 passing, to the Patriots' 185 and 54.

But the Patriots scored only on three short runs by Barry Glis-

HALLS BLOCKERS Derrick Harris and Zane Bernard did their part in last week's contest with Trenton's Golden Tide, but despite good defensive effort and line play, seven turnovers cost the Tigers a 15-6 loss, pushing the Halls record to 1-2. This week, Halls goes on the road for the first time, to Dresden.

Friday 13th Game, 15-6 Friday the 13th held plenty of luck for the Halls Tigers. And was all bad.

The Tigers, playing at home for the third consecutive week, gave up seven turnovers and gave away a 15-6 contest with Trenton's Golden Tide. The loss knocked the Tigers' record to 1-2 while the Tide improved its mark to 2-1.

"You make your own luck," said Halls coach Andy Pugh after the "13th" loss. "We played like we were waiting on things to happen rather than making them happen. You make your own breaks. They don't just happen.

W Trenton received more than its share of breaks in the con-test, getting Halls miscues prior to each of its three scores—two touchdowns and a field goal. Without the turnovers, the Tide did little with the ball, recording only four first downs and 122

"The defense played real well, especially with the adversity it was put under," Pugh added. "And the offense moved the ball well, at times. But you can't turn the ball over seven times and beat anybody that's respectable.'

Halls got the ball first and appeared to be a much stronger team, rushing for six and eight yards on the first two plays. But, with a good crowd buzzing despite the cool temperatures, things quickly turned sour for the Tigers.

After a mis-handled snap caused a loss of two, quarterback Terry Lents dropped back to throw his first pass. It landed in the arms of a Tide defender and the momentum shiftedpermanently-to the visitors.

After the first turnover, Tren-ton failed to move the ball. But the Tigers, after driving from their own four to the 43, gave up the ball again. A penalty backed the host to the 28 and, on the next play, the Tide fell on a loose

Seven plays later, Trenton's Tim Fields crossed the goal line from the one to put the visitors ahead. The point-after kick sailed wide but it was 6-0 with four seconds gone in period two.

Statistically, the Tigers out-gained the Tide 142 to 122, des-pite the turnovers. Halls received just one turnover, a fumble recovery by lineman John Arwood in the first half.

After Arwood's recovery, the Tigers moved three plays and were forced to punt from the Tide

A pair of defensive leaders earned this week's Players-of-the Week honors for last week's contest with Trenton's Golden Tide. The Tigers turned the ball over seven times against the Tide, limiting the offensive action, but their was no limit to the defensive effort from lineman John

Arwood and linebacker Tyrone Patrick. Arwood, a 6' 2, 290-pound tackle, recovered a Trenton fum ble and had nine tackles. The senior showed some good quick-ness for a big man, often moving from sideline to sideline to make sticks or assist in dragging down Tide ball carriers.

Patrick, a sophomore, recorded just one tackle in the first half but came back strong after the intermission to lead the defensive team. The 6'0, 176 pounder finished the game with 11 solo

Both Arwood and Patrick played key roles in holding the Trenton team to only four first downs and 122 total yards.

Halls In Dresden For Key Contest

Two squads desperately need-ing a victory square-off at Dresden Friday night as the Lions host Region 7A-rival Halls in a key gridiron battle.

The Lions, 1-2 after two straight losses, dropped a 33-20 decision to Gleason last week and Head Coach Scott Hewitt's club needs a victory over the visiting Tigers to even its record and record a region triumph

And Halls, also 1-2, needs the win to recover from a seventurnover performance and 15-6 loss to Class AA Trenton.

I really believe Halls was the best team but turnovers will kill you," Hewitt said of the Tigers loss to the Tide. "Turnovers always hurt but very many will take your right out of a bal-

Hewitt hopes his squad can cut down on turnovers if it hopes to stay with the larger Tigers. In a phone conversation Monday, he said any mistakes would make it difficult to stay with the Halls

"We don't have the size they have," he explained. "We can't run over them so we sure can't do anything to help them. We have a little speed and the quarterback has a strong arm but he's inexperienced. Any mistakes will kill us."

Leading Dresden's running game is back James Hammonds. He scored two touchdowns in Friday's loss to Gleason. The strong-armed quarterback is sophomore Peanut Winn.

"Halls is so big," he added "They have 290 and several over 200. We've got a couple at 230 but, after that, we don't even ge to 200. It'll be tough to stay with

The region battle will also be a reunion, of sorts, with Dresder Principal Larry Myrick and assistant coach Phil Meeks greeting former working mater. Myrick is a former Halls princial and coach and Meeks was an assistant football coach while leading the Halls basketballers.

The Cherokee National Forest

Mention beautiful scener in the mountains of Tennessee and most people think of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park. While there's no denying the appeal of the Smokies -- it's the most visited national park in the country -- the park has no monopoly on beautiful scenery in east Tennessee Bordering the park on the north and south is the massive Cherokee National Forest, undiscovered territory for many outsiders. Following the crest of the Appalachian Mountains, the Forest encom passes more than 620.000 acres along Tennessee's eastern border.

The Forest was named, o course, for the Cherokee I dian Nation, whose hunting grounds once covered most the southeastern United

More than 1,100 miles of roads cut through the rugged beauty of the Cherokee. Secondary and Forest Service roads make accessible vast. virtually unused areas, open ing up the Forest to all kinds of outdoor recreation.

Variety is the keyword here. The U.S. Forest Service main tains more than 50 recreation sites scattered throughout the Cherokee. Forest recrea tion includes scenic drives backpacking, camping, cycl-ing, horseback riding, nature photography, swimming, and boating. Outdoorsmen flock to the Cherokee for some of the country's finest fishing and hunting. Add to this white water rafting and kayaking and in the winter months, cross country skiing.

The Cherokee offers five bicycle trails, located away from busy roads and highways at recreation areas such as Rock Creek, Indian Boundary, and Chilhowee. The Forest Service also maintains two horse trails totaling 9.7 miles, (but bring your own horse) If you prefer traveling on foot there are 105 hiking trails meandering more than 500 miles through the Forest They range from short, easy hikes to arduous, highland treks for experienced back packers.

The system includes a lengthy section of the famous Appalachian Trail, which stretches for more than 2,000 miles across the eastern United States. The Cherokee National Forest section follows the crest of the moun-. tain chain, passing through some of the finest scenery the east Tennessee mountains have to offer.

Two National Recreation trails also pass through the Forest. The John Muir Trail covers 15 miles in Polk County, while the Warrior Passage, 3.3 miles long, runs through Monroe County.

The Forest Service operates 29 developed camping areas throughout the Cherokee, with approximately 685 units. There are 23 areas that require camping fees, which range from $2 to $5. Most areas have spaces for trailers but do not have hookups. Numerous private campgrounds in the outlying areas offer full service for recreational vehicles.

But the great thing about camping in the Cherokee, especially for those in search of solitude, is that unless an area is specifically marked closed for camping, you can pitch your tent at any suitable location that appeals to you. The Forest is open for hunting and fishing, subject to game laws set by the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency. The variety of game species include deer, black bear, squirrel, grouse, and urkev.

The Cherokee is well known for its wild boar hunting, perhaps the most challenging of U.S. hunting sports. Dangerous and unpredictable, the boars are descendants of European imports brought to North Carolina years ago by a wealthy sportsman. The Forest mighlands are laced with mountain streams cascades, and waterfalls, and the trout fishing is excellent. The Hiwassee, a designated State Scenic River, is famous for its prime brown and rainbow trout.

Several whitewater rivers flow through the Cherokee, and the thrill of challenging the rapids draws thousand every year. The Ocoee River east of Cleveland has become one of the most popular raf-ting streams in the nation. The Nolichucky River cuts a path through the Unaka Mountains, carving out one of the deepest river gorges in the southeast. The Hiwassee is somewhat tamer, and is extremely popular with canoeists. Commercial outfit ters rent equipment and prowide guided trips

Another sport growing in popularity is cross country skiing, particularly on Roan Mountain. At an elevation of 6,300 feet, the Roan is one of the highest peaks in the eastern United States. Best known for its mid-summer display of rhododendron winter transforms the area into a cloudland of snow-capped peaks and crystalline forests. Roan Mountain State Park, located about 30 miles south of Johnson City, is the South's only cross-country ski resort state park.

There are seven Forest Service offices in the various ranger districts that offer information on camping, trails, and other activities. You can write for forest maps and brochures to the Supervisor's Office, U.S. Forest Service, 2800 North Occee Street Cleveland, Tennessee 37311. There are also wilderness area maps available for a $1

County's Milo Acres Surge By Charles T. Peal

This county's mile acreage has jumped from last year's, with Ga-ry Ogden, manager of Continental Grain Co. at Ashport, reporting prices of $1.85-.85 Green with the basis of 40 under at the river. In 1984, the price was around $2.00 or more per bushel and pro-ducers with high yields came out very well. This year it looks like we might average 100 bushels per acre. Even though the per acre yeild may be higher, it appears that our total inc rom that acre will be less.

With soybeans being the price that they are and the possibility of adding corn to our row production, farmers can ge enterprise spread thus providing an opportunity to hit some markets that may provide them higher income rather than pro ducing one crop and taking chance.

Haley Pressing Museum Plans

From the YMCA to the Wal-dorf overnight—'the challenge of lealing with fame'-is the way author Alex Haley described Henning's possibilities as he met Thursday of last week with Hen ning Mayor Carol Ann (Mrs. Billy Poston) Brandon, Free Montgomery, and Diane (Mrs. Tom) Mitchell, aldermen, and other directors of the state's West Tenn. Heritage Museum-Mrs. Phyllis Bates Barlow, Fred French and Mrs. Pat Keller, all of Henning.

The famed author of Roots and the forth-coming Henning liked plans to restore the Palmer house in Henning, home o Haley's grandparents, to its original condition, except for one or two rooms to house 500 or more awards to Haley, with voice recordings in which Haley would recall memories of particular

"We don't want anything glamorous or highly technical Mrs. Mitchell suggested, "a small scale to fit the house an Henning."

Pleads Innocent Of Boat Fatality

Morris Mealer, 35, of McKenzie, pleaded innocent Monday to vehicular homicide charges stemming from the June 23rd boating accident which killed 17-year-old Joyce Renee Shatley, of

Circuit Judge Aaron Brown allowed Mealer to remain free on a $5,000 bond until the hearing is resumed Dec. 5th, to set trail

Miss Shatley was killed when the ski boat in which she was a passenger was struck by a boat driven by Mealer. Henry County sheriff's deputies arrested Mealer, who registered .16 on an intoximeter test after the accident. A reading of .10 is considered legally drunk in Tennessee.

Mealer reportedly said that the throttle on the boat, owned by Doug McCadams, had been sticking and that the steering system malfunctioned.

Chuck Stevens, a Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency officer, said the boat Mealer was driving showed no mechanical defects.

McCadams, a former employer of Mealer, said he did not know Mealer had taken his boat but that he decided not to press theft charges against him.

GIRL SCOUT APPEAL

Girl Scouts in Halls will benefit from the 1985 Reelfoot Girl Scout Council Fund Drive now being led by Mrs. June Hop-kins, Town Fund Drive Chairman, and her solicitors, Betty Harbin and Jane Moore.

There are some 40 Girl Scouts currently registered in H benfiting from experiences troop activities where well trained adults lead and guide the girls in development of good moral values and in informal education.

Other opportunities for girls made possible by the community contributions to Girl Scouting include participation in day camps, resident camp, association events with other troops council-wide events for older girls, and Wider-Opportunities that sometimes take girls as far away as Switzerland and as close to home as Arkansas where they learn about other people and meet other Girl Scouts.

Reelfoot Girl Scout Council provides Girl Scouting in 174 counties in West Tennessee.

Ripley High School's unbeaten Tigers, 2-0 in District 13-AAA, seek to make it 3-0 as they visit Bolivar Central High School's field this Friday.

The hosts have won only once this season, outside the district, topping Lexington 21-6 on a 55-yard scoring toss from Craig Rivers to Steve Miller, an interception by Lee Stewart, and Ray Champion's 153 yards on 32 carries, including a 2-point conversion.

That came after Bolivar had dropped its opener, hosting Memphis Ridgeway, 31-20, and its district opener, at

Jackson Central-Merry, 23-8. Champion tallied all three TDs against Ridgeway, the first on a short plunge, the other two on Rivers passes worth 55 and 42

Halls Tigers Visit Newbern Friday

One of West Tennessee's most colorful rivalries resumes Friday night when Halls travels to Newbern to tangle with the Class AA Dver County Choctaws.

When the squads were in the same classification, this battle was an annual affair for the top spot in district or region competition but Dyer County's jump to double A has taken away some

Halls Pacing Lake In Region Record

Halls and Lake County, favorities in Class A's Region ' loved a step closer to a showdown for the title by remaining perfect in competition against region foes Friday night.

The Tigers, now 2-0 in region play, downed Dresden 27-15 while Lake County was defeated region-foe South Fulton 26-0.

Greenfield, another region team searching for a playoff spot, won its first contest of the year with a 50-6 shelling of

At Tiptonville, Lake County rolled over struggling South Fulton, shutting out the Red Devils and handing them their second straight loss. Since losing their opener at Memphis ECS, the Falcons are 3-0 and have allowed just 21 points.

Sharon gave up 506 yards to Greenfield in the lopsided affair, 395 on the ground. Byrd Lockhart scored on runs of 10 and two yards, David Scarbrough had a two-yard scoring run and Mark Thompson returned a fumble 45 yards for a score. Three other runners added Yellowjacket Sharon's only score was a oneyard run by Russell Roberts.

In other games, it was Ripley over Jackson Central-Merry 21 ; Milan past Obion County 55 15; Dyersburg edging Bolivar 7-6; Gibson County 14, Crockett County 13; Trenton over Union City 14-0; and Covington 19, Humboldt 17.

Next week's Region 7A scheduled has Halls at Dyer County, Lake County hosting Memphis Westside, Gleason at Greenfield and Dresden at McKenzie. South Fulton has an open date.

Other games of local interest include Ripley at Bolivar, Dyersburg at Millington, Crockett County at Trenton, Union City at Westview, and Gibson County at Old Hickory.

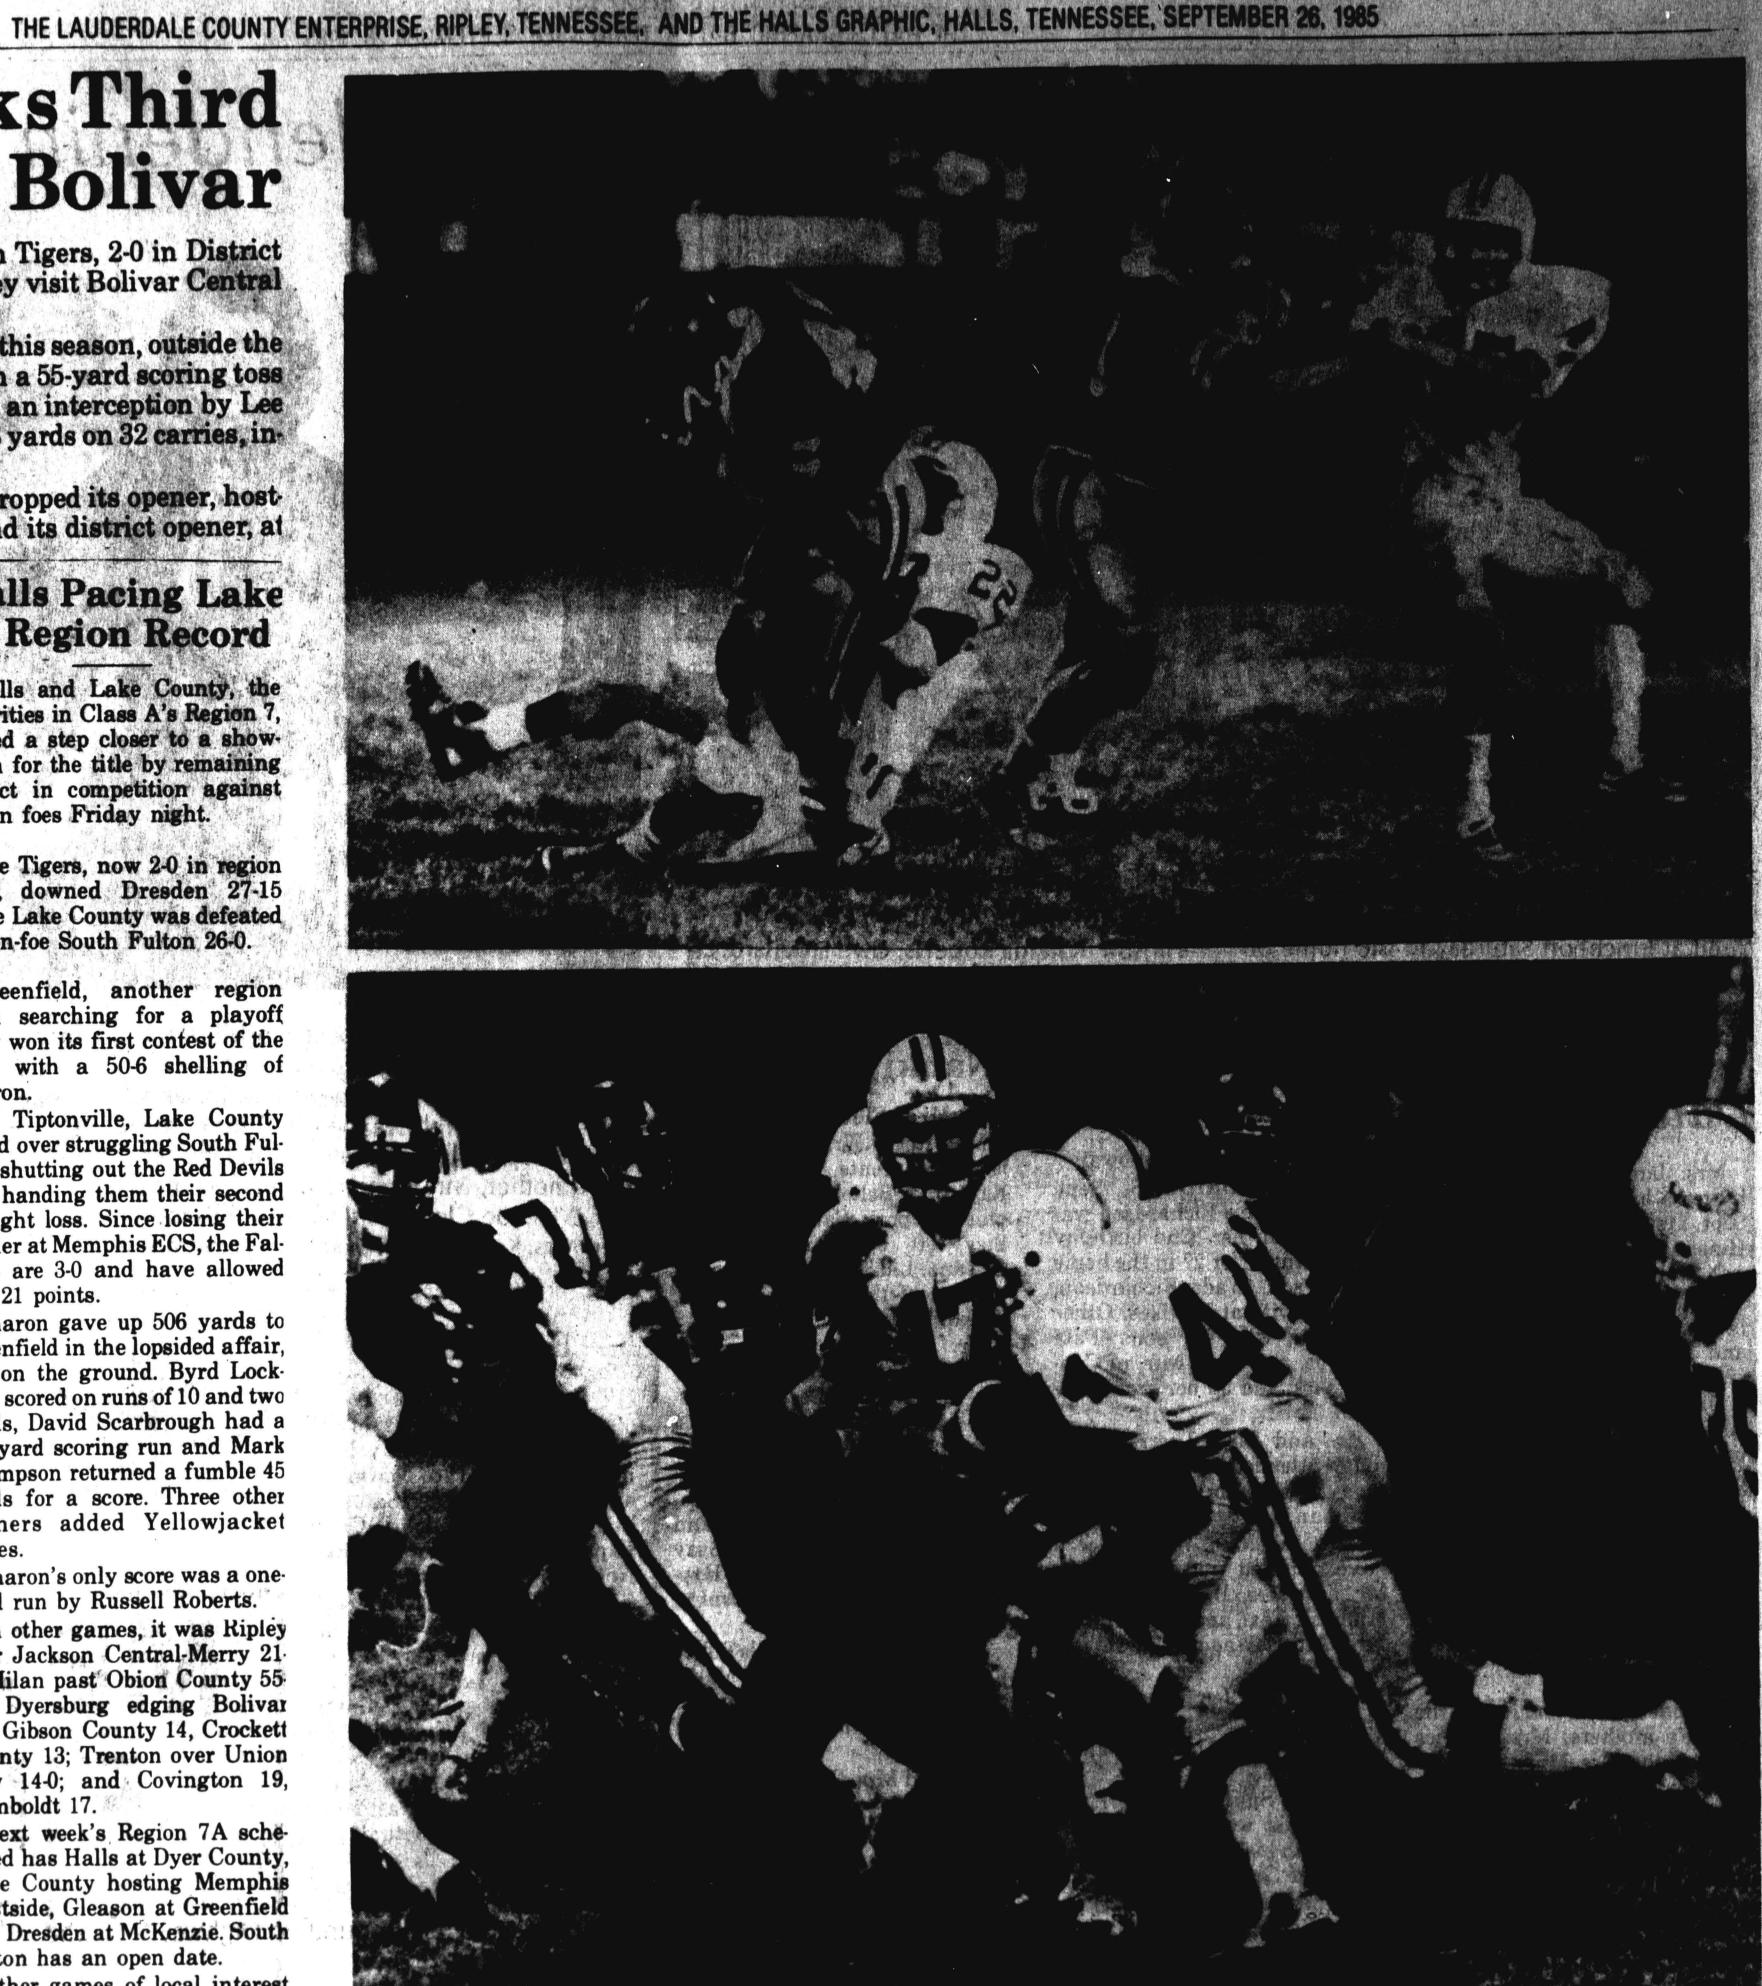

of the importance of the battle. It has not damaged either team's quest for victory and that's the case this week when a pair of 2-2 clubs aim to climb above the .500 mark.

Dyer County lost its opener but then won two rows before dropping a 12-8 skirmish last week at

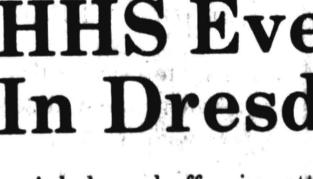

The Choctaws led 8-0 but the Chargers scored twice in the third period to edge the Orangemen. Chris Petty scored on a 32yard scamper to put the Choctaws ahead and quarter back Lynn Garner passed to Doug Zaricor for the two-poin conversion

Two fumbles hurt the Choctaw

"I'm sure Coach John Sam mons will have them ready for us," says Halls Head Coach Andy Pugh. "They've won a couple of games and a lot of people said they wouldn't win any They always play us tough and this one won't be any different."

A balanced offensive attack and a tough defensive effort carried the Halls Tigers to a 27-15 win over Dresden Friday night, evening the squad's overall record and keeping the Black & Gold bunch unbeaten in Region 7A play.

Quarterback Terry Lents rebounded from a miserable outing against Trenton to toss two touchdown strikes and sopho more Tim Wright scored one six-pointer on a long run from scrimmage and another after grabbing a Lion fumble to pave the Tigers' way to victory.

"We showed some improvements and managed to do some things which had been giving us trouble," Head Coach Andy Pugh said after the game. "We hope we'll continue to improve and cut down on some of the mistakes we're still making."

The Tigers wasted little time stopping Dresden in the game's opening possession and scoring the first time they got the ball. A heads-up defense disallowed two Lion pass attempts and senior leaders Dicky Deaton and John Arwood tossed a runningback for a two-yard loss, forcing quick punt After taking over at the Halls 14, the Tigers found trouble moving on the slippery turf but discovered some loose pass coverage. On third down, Lents hit Jef Buckner with an eight yard strike for a first down. Three plays later, Benjie Belton broke into the clear on the right side and Lents found him for a pretty 40-yard scoring bomb. Goodwin's PAT made it 7-0 just four minutes into the battle.

Halls got the ball back in two plays when Kelvin Robinson rec-overed a Dresden fumble but the Tigers failed to take advantage of the mistake and allowed a series of penalties to take them out of scoring range.

Dresden again turned the ball over deep in its own end of the field after two more plays. Dees Elmore recovered the loose ball at the 19 but Halls failed to move and failed to score when a 35yard field goal attempt missed

The Tigers made a mistake which allowed the Lions to knot he score with 6:36 left in the first half, Goodwin failed to get off a fourth-down punt from the Halls 11 and, despite a good running effort, he failed to make the first own, giving the ball to the host ning back James Hamnonds scored on first down, and David Jones tied the skirmish with the extra point.

Brown started a fast scoring drive from the Tiger 38. Jarrett Rogers picked up 17 on a pretty run to the Dresden 37.

Lents had a little trouble hold ing two straight snaps, losing total of three yards, but, on third and long, he found Buckner in the clear in the middle of the field for his second scoring bomb. Goodwin's point-after made it 14-7.

On the kick-off. Milton Jarrett nailed the Dresden runner and the ball popped loose and went straight into the hands of a hustling Wright. After grabbing the ball, he raced 25-yards untouched for another score and Goodwin's third PAT made it 21-

"There's no doubt about the hit of the week," Pugh said. "Jarrett put his bonnet on the ball and it came out and Tim was in the right place at the right time.

Dresden answered with a 62yard, seven-play drive to make the score 27-15 but the Halls defense wouldn't let the Lions get no closer. Hammonds caught a Peanut Winn scoring strike from 22 yards out and Winn ran in the two-point conversion to close the scoring

"They've got a good football team," Pugh said after the game. "They hit us harder than we've been hit all year. It could have een much closer.

The Lions, now 1-3, were hurt by the three fumbles and four interceptions Goodwin picked off two. Lents had one and Joe Patrick snagged a fourth. And the Halls defense limited the host team to only 145 total yards

The Tigers carried the ball 42 times for 135 yards and Lents 136 yards in passing capped the balanced Halls offensive game On defense, Deaton's six solo

Did you ever drive 60 miles or more to take advantage of a super special? An item that costs you *50 locally would have to save you *14.40 if you drove 60 miles round-trip to get it and just wanted to break even.

The American Automobile Association certifies that 24.0 cents is what it costs to drive your car one mile. So if you've driven 120 miles round-trip to pick up that special, you'll have to add $28.80 to the cost of your purchase. That sweet buy can suddenly turn quite sour.

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON

Committees of the House have ilready begun the task mandated by the FY86 Budget Resolution to cut spending in the next fiscal year. Needless to say, it is always difficult to reach deciions that limit or eliminate programs or government services to which people have become accustomed. However, the budget reso ution that passed just two days before the August Recess dicated that committees act on legslation that will reduce the leficit by $55 billion.

Congress has been back in town for over three weeks now and the various committees have started the difficult task of seeking those savings in federal programs under their respective urisdictions. For example, the Post Office and Civil Service Committee began its work by tentatively approving a freeze in the pay of federal employees which is expected to save $3.2 billion. The Ways and Means Committee deficit reduction proposals for programs under its jurisdiction were scheduled for action by the full House last week in order to allow the Com mittee to begin drafting tax and trade legislation which also falls under its jurisdiction.

Similarly, other committees such as Veterans Affairs, Education and Labor, and Energy and Commerce have begun the process necessary to meet their responsbilities in the effort underway to develop and enact deficit reduction legislation. More will follow as the other committees of Congress identify areas where spending can be cut

Another approach to cutting spending will affect committees who are writing legislation to reauthorize certain programs. Education and Labor, for example, must review current higher education programs for renewal this year. They will be expected to write that legislation in such a way that it will comply with the limitations imposed by the budget resolution.

The recent actions of the House Agriculture Committee are another example of a committee writing a bill to be effective for the next five years that had to comply with budget con siderations. When the budget resolution was passed on August 1, the section dealing with agri-culture required that the committee take another look at the farm bill then under consideration and make the changes necessary to reduce spending by $11.4 bilion over the life of the bill. That quirement essentially prented the committee from finshing its work on the farm bill prior to leaving for the August

When the Congress returned fter Labor Day, among the first ctions taken was the finalizaon of a farm bill for 1985. ction on that bill began last eek in the full House of Represtatives and is expected to conade this week. Of course, the ill still must gain passage in the mate and be approved by the President, so there remains a long road before final action is

These are all examples of how the huge budget deficit has had an impact on legislative action on issues on all types. Each and every area of the budget, and the mmittees of Congress who have jurisdiction over the pro grams within those budget areas, are coming under close scrutiny. Every possible method of reducing spending is being

The difficulties and complexities of this process are not conducive to it being a neat process. is going to continue along over the next several weeks as Con ressional committees seek to meet the September 27 deadline imposed by the Budget Commit tee, and the Congress takes additional actions on appropriations bills from which much of the savings will come.

It Pays To Know Apple Varieties

Apples and fall just naturally go together. To make the most of this year's harvest, consumers need to brush up on apple varieties. Consumers are often confused over which variety to purchase for cooking, salads or eating out of hand.

TENNESSEE TRAVELER

It is the month when the mountainsides of eastern Tennessee exchange the green hues of summer for the reds and golds of autumn

Hundreds of thousands of visitors make an annua autumn pilgrimage to the Great Smoky Mountains to witness the spectacle of October, but nowhere is the changing of the season celebrated with more enthusiam than in Chattanooga where October brings some inusual opportunities to sam ple the spectacle of fall. One of Chattanooga's most unique autumn events is the annual Autumn Leaf Special which takes place on October 12-13 and again on October 19-20.

Sponsored by the Tennessee Valley Railroad and Museum, the Autumn Leaf Special is a nostalgic trip into America's "golden age of railroading"

A full-scale, old-time train complete with Pullman cars, open observation cars, a com missary car and a full-service dining car, the Autumn Leaf Special leaves Chattanooga at a.m. each Saturday and Sunday morning for the 120-mile trip through the Cumberland Mountains to Crossville, Tennessee, return ing each evening by 6 p.m. For photographers a highlight of the trip is a stop along the way where photographers met disembark for a "photo run-by." The train also includes an open air car design ed especially for tape recording a rare sight and sound in modern-day America.

One day roundtrip coach fares on the Autumn Leat Special are $45.50 and may be obtained by contacting the Tennessee Valley Railroad and Museum, 4119 Cromwell Road, Chattanooga, Tenpeasee 37421 or by calling (615) 894-8028 available in both Crossville and Chattanooga. The Cross ville package includes over night accommodations, meals and optional tickets to the renowned Cumberland County Playhouse.

Overnight packages are 経営的なないと言

When Autumn Comes To Tennessee

The Chattanooga package includes accommodations at either the Read House or the Chattanooga Choo Choo and optional tickets to the Back Stage Playhouse.

Chattanooga's second annual fall extravaganza features autumn color by boat.

The Fall Color Cruise and Folk Festival October 19-20 and October 26-27 is one of Chattanooga's biggest annual events, attracting some 80,000 people to TVA's Shell mound Recreation Area on Nickajack Lake 39 river miles downstream from Chatta nooga.

The course of the river just west of Chattanooga lies through the spectacular "Grand Canyon of the Tennessee River." where the mountains, decked in their autumn finery, rise directly from the riverbank.

The flagship for the 1985 Fall Color Cruise and Folk Festival is the riverboat Southern Belle, a new 500-passenger sternwheeler which leaves Ross's Landing Park on the Tennessee River in downtown Chattanooga each morning at 8 a.m. and departs from the Shellmound Recreation Area each after noon at 3 p.m. for the return trip to Chattanooga.

Bus service is also available between the two sites for a $2 fare and one-way passage aboard the riverboat is recommended. Tickets are $16.50. and the price includes bus transportation either to or from the festival site. For riverboat reservations and tickets, contact the Chattanooga Riverboat Company, P.O. Box 4488, Chattanooga.

Tennessee 37405 or phone 615-266-4488. In addition to the Color Cruise excursions, the Southern Belle is offering a series of four-hour river excur sions October 21-25 between the Color Cruise weekends The daily excursion fare is $13.50 and the cruises feature many landmarks along the Tennessee River in the Chat tanooga area.

The Color Cruise site is also accessible by automobile via Tennessee Scenic Highway 41 The day-long activities at Shellmound include live entertainment of all kinds, a major "pickin' and fiddlin' contest, square dancing, clog ging, working artists and craftsmen, food and other activities.

Originally organized by several Chattanooga boating clubs, the Fall Color Cruise and Folk Festival is now in its 17th year and has become one of Tennessee's major autumn events.

The Autumn Leaf Special also now in its 17th year draws visitors from all over the world to Chattanooga to eniov one of the few oppor tunities left in the United States to sample the lifestyle of the legendary trains of the first half of the 20th century when The Super Chief, The Panama Limited and the Silver Meteor criss-crosse the country carrying the nation's passengers and commerce.
