RES Wins In OTTo Pace Germantown

Trailing Jackson North Side 14-0 in the third period, after a single first down in the first half, Ripley High School's Tigers forced the District 13-AAA show-down Thursday of last week into overtime, scored from the five, and intercepted to claim the district's second spot andfor the third consecutive season-make the state playoffs-visiting undefeated and third-ranked Germantown at 7:30 p.m. this Friday.

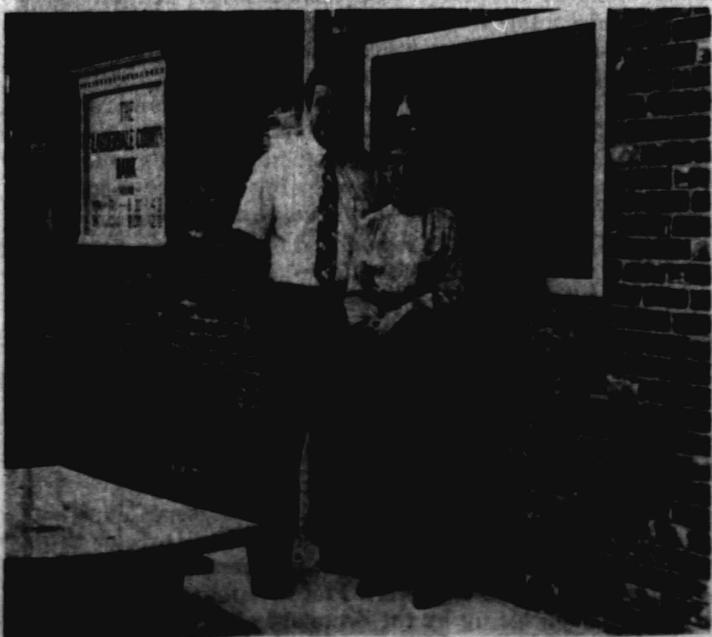

On third and five, Wayne Garrison broke the tie in overtime and-after the Indians failed to link two passes-nabbed Todd Goodman's third toss to make the Reservation the Tigers' Happy Hunting Ground.

Though the Indians bottled Ripley up in the first half, they couldn't score until 3:04 before the half.

Faking a punt on fourth and eight, from the Tiger 44, Greg Waller threw over the middle to split end Ronald Bills for 33 yards.

Two plays later, Jeff Cisco took Goodman's fifth of six completions in the half for 21 yards to make it 6-0 at the half.

On their first possession of the second half, the Indians made it 14-0 with 73 yards in four plays, Frankie Baker scampering right, unhindered, 23 for the TD with

NEW WALK-UP TELLER WINDOW at the Lauderdale County Bank in Halls is shown off by Bank President Jerry Crihfield and Vi (Mrs. Charles) Edens, who will be at the window when it opens next Monday. The new bank service is a part of a 1,100 square feet addition on the west side of the bank building at the corner of South Church and Wade Streets. Crihfield says the additional space 'will enable us to better serve our customers. The walk-up teller window will open at 7 a.m. each workday and close at 8:30 a.m. On Thursdays and Fridays, the window will re-open at 4:30 p.m. and remain open until 7 p.m. as a special service to customers who find regular banking hours inconvenient. The window will open at 7 a.m. and close at noon on Saturdays."

CONFIDENTIAL CORNER

By Henry Murchison

A Strange Season

Despite having a 6-4 record and reaching the state Class A playoffs for the sixth straight year we imagine that the 1986 football season has been both perplexing and frustrating for Halls Tigers Coach Andy Pugh and his staff and for the team members themselves.

In all of the four losses a margin of 7 points or less has meant defeat for the Tigers and only the Trenton Peabody and Denmark West games have the Tigers won by more than one touchdown. The Tigers very easily could have won most or all of their games with only Crockett County showing a distinct margin in total offense.

As predicted at the beginning of the season the lack of experience and a kicking game proved to be fatal to an outstanding season with fumbles, blocked punts and mental mistakes keeping the Tigers in trouble much of the time. At the start of the season only four starters, Derrick Harris, Tyrone Patrick, Kelvin Robinson and Greg Johns, from the 1985 squad were on hand with three or four others who had seen considerable action last year. There are some bright spots for the coming year with freshman Justin Taylor likely to turn into a topnotch kicker, three quarterbacks, Ashe Burnette, Jeff Ezekiel and Ronnie Glynn, will be vying for the starting spot next spring with a freshman quarterback, Chris Hurt, likely to get his name in the counting. Several freshmen and sophomores got lots of playing time and did well. In addition help is coming up from the "B" team so good times may be just ahead.

Incidentally, don't write off the Tigers in the playoffs. They open against McKenzie, ranked 1 in Region 6-A, but there is little reason to think that the Tigers are outclassed. A good game by the Tigers could mean trouble for McKenzie.

Thank You

Nell and your editor would like to say Thanks to our friends who have called, visited, sent cards or otherwise expressed concern about Nell and her eye surgery. Apparently the surgery and implant is a complete success. Nell has no paticular problems and is expecting to be back to normal within a few days.

Also your editor had some good news Thursday of last week when the doctor said that my eye had improved so much that I needed a new prescription. I had gotten what were supposed to be my permanent glasses a month ago. The doctor seemed to be as surprised as I was with the continued improvement.

Halls Hits Playoff Trail In McKenzie

The Halls Tigers, 6-4 after a 13-6 loss to Crockett County Thursday of last week, will face 8-2 McKenzie, Region 6-A champions, at 7:30 p.m. Friday in McKenzie, in the opening round of the state Class A football play-offs. The Tigers will be in the playoffs for the sixth straight year.

Other Class A play-off games featuring Region 6-A and Region 7-A teams are Greenfield, 8-2, hosting Denmark West, 3-7; Dresden, 7-3, will host Old Hickory Academy, 6-4; and Lake County, 6-4, will be at Bruceton, 5-5.

Other Class A match-ups in West Tennessee are Memphis Prep, 7-3, at Bolton, 5-5, and Memphis Skyview, 7-3, at Memphis SBEC, 6-4. All games will be played at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Another game of interest in Halls will be Class AAA Ripley, 7-3, visiting Germantown, 10-0. Ripley moved into the play-offs with a overtime 21-14 victory at Jackson North Side Thursday of last week.

Crockett County's Cavaliers record to 7-3. It will play Martin Westview in the University of Tennessee at Martin stadium Saturday evening for the Wes-Tenn Conference championship. Neither team generated much offense during the first half. The Tigers missed one scoring opportunity when a short punt gave them the ball in Cavalier territory. On the 24, a pass on third and two was knocked away, and a fourth down pass

The teams exchanged punts throughout the remainder of the first quarter and until 1:53 remained on the clock in the second.

was also unsuccessful.

Then Crockett County's Terry Wade picked off a Jeff Ezekiel pass and returned it 60 yards for a Cavalier score. The kick for extra point was tipped on the first try, but Halls was offside.

The second try was good to give the visitors a 7-0 halftime

Neither team was able to get on the scoreboard during the third quarter, but early in the fourth, the Tigers moved within one point of Crockett County when Ronnie Glynn intercepted a Russ Avery aerial and dashed 30 yards into the end zone. Justin Taylor's kicked missed the uprights, and the Tigers trailed Crockett County put the game away when Cary Carter raced 10 yards into the end zone after the only sustained drive of the night by either team. The try for a 2point conversion failed.

Crockett County led the statistics with eight first downs, 133 yards rushing, and 78 yards passing, for 211 yards. The Tigers were held to their lowest total of the year, with five first downs, 129 yards rushing, and only two yards passing.

Tiger quarterbacks Jeff Eze-

slipped by Halls to raise its kiel and Ronnie Glynn threw 11 times, completed twice, and were intercepted three times. Cavalier quarterback Avery threw 11 passes, completed five, and was intercepted twice.

The Tigers dropped the ball three times and lost it twice Crockett County did not fumble.

Tim Wright led Tiger rushers with 96 yards on 15 attempts. Tyrone Patrick added 20 yards on 4 rushes.

Tiger linebacker Derrick Harris had his best game of the year, with 10-5 tackles and one assist.

Milton Jackson added six stops. Zane Bernard tallied 5.5 tackles, plus 3 assists. Bruce Halliburton had 5.5 tackles and one assist. Ronnie Glynn had five tackles.

Halls Board Sets Meeting On 17th

In the absence of Mayor Sammie Arnold and with only four of the six aldermen present at the regular meeting of Halls Board of Mayor and Aldermen Monday, the only action taken was approval of outstanding bills and passing of a new zoning ordinance.

The Board voted to recess until 7 p.m. Nov. 17th.

Punt Block Crucial

Steve Brown turned the game around when he blocked Waller's punt and Ripley recovered on the Indian 22, midway in the third quarter.

Six plays later, William Genesy posted a first down on the 1-1/2 and scored, next play, with Larry Wisniewski's foot-as sure as ever, with Lynn Grantland holding-making it 14-7 with 1:55 in the quarter.

That let Ripley tie the game, with 8:25 in the final period, after North Side had punt trouble again.

A shanked kick wobbling seven yards, and a 15-yard personal foul penalty, gave Ripley the chance to punch 18 yards in six plays scoring Genesy from the two.

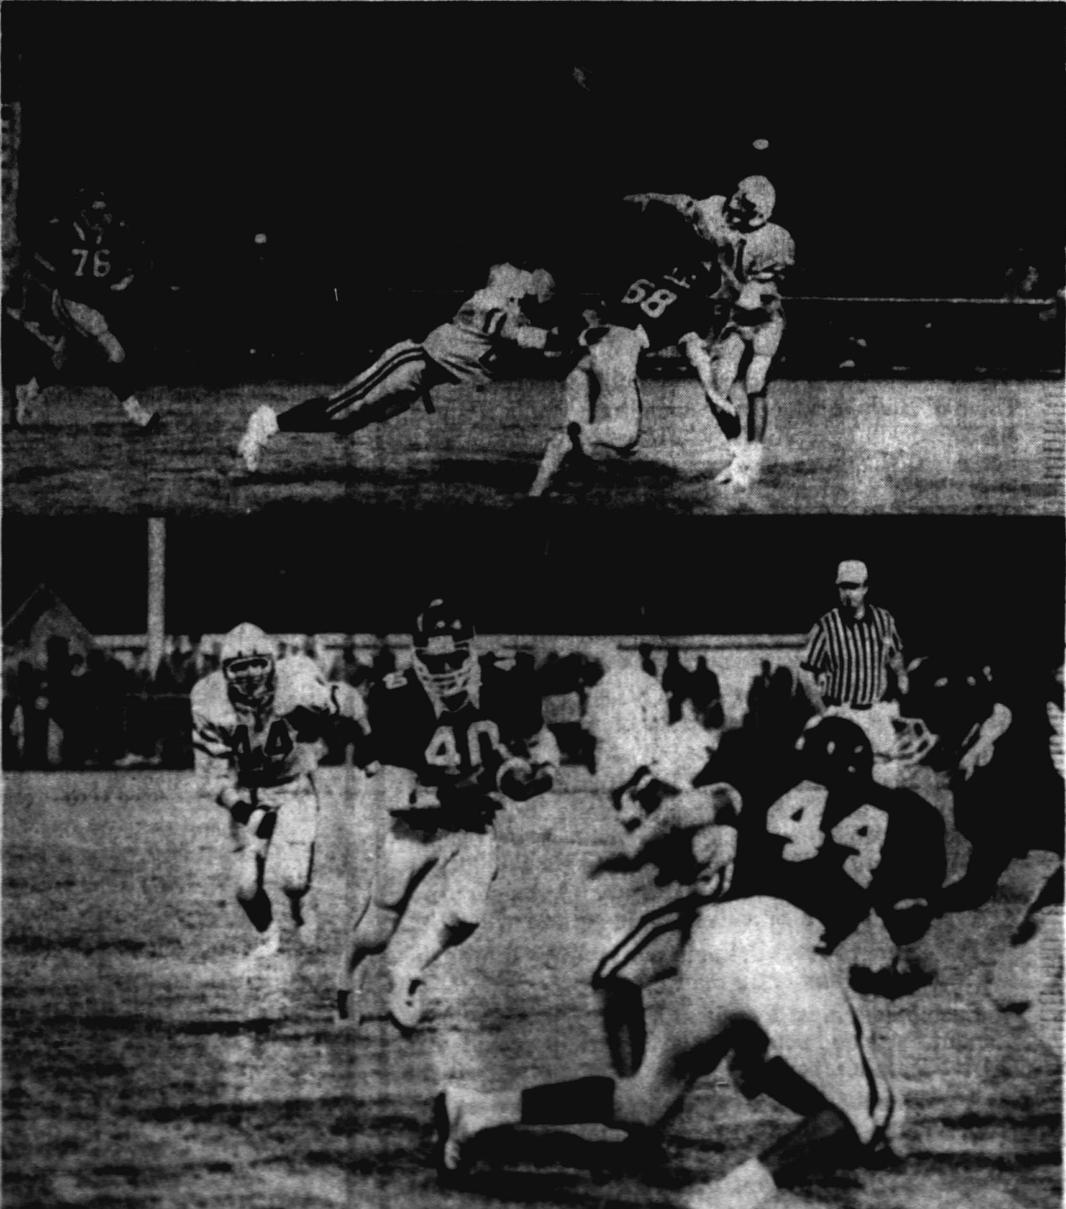

The reliable kick tied the knot to give the Tigers the chance they brilliantly exploited in over-

Concurrent Notice

NOTICE TO PUBLIC OF NO SIGNIFICANT IMPACT ON THE ENVIROMENT AND NOTICE TO PUBLIC OF REQUEST FOR RELEASE OF FUNDS

October 30, 1986

Town of Gates City Hall P.O. Box 127 Gates, Tennessee 38037

901-836-7501 TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, GROUPS, AND PERSONS:

On or about November 15, 1986, the above-named Town will request the Tennessee Department of Eco-nomic and Community Development to release Federal funds under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (PL 93-383) for the following

Gates Water System Improvements A 100,000 gallon elevated water storage tank improvements to the water plant, and fire hydrants in the minority areas.

Gates, Lauderdale County, Tennessee 503-Census Tract

It has been determined that such request for release of funds will not constitute an action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment and accordingly, the above-named Town has decided not to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (PL 91-190). The reason for such decision not to prepare such Statement are as follows:

The project is not located in a flood plain.

The facility will replace an existing facility with a 100,000 gallon capacity. The increase in capacity is needed to serve existing residents and will not contrib-

The facility will bring the community's existing water system into compliance with state regulations. No negative effects are anticipated beyond short term construction noise and dirt.

An Environmental Review Record respecting the within project has been made by the aboue-named Town which documents the environmental review of the pro ject and more fully sets forth the reasons such Statemen is not required. This Environmental Review Record is on file at the above address and is available for public examination and copying, upon request, at City Hall between the hours of 8:00 A.M. and 5:00 P.M.

No further environmental review of such project proposed to be conducted prior to the request for release of Federal funds.

All interested agencies, groups, and persons disagreeing with this decision are invited to submit written comments for consideration by the Town to the City Hall. Such written comments should be received at City Hall on or before October 31, 1986. All such comments so received will be considered and the Town will not request the release of Federal funds or take any administrative action on the within project prior to the date specified in the preceding sentence.

The Town of Gates will undertake the project described above with Block Grant funds from the Tennessee Department of Economic and Community Development under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. The Town of Gates is certifying to the State that the Town of Gates and James P. Archer in his official capacity as the Mayor consent to accept the jurisdiction of the Federal courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decision-making, and action; and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval, The Town of Gates may use the Block Grant funds and the State and HUD will have satisfied their responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. The state will accept an obligation to its approval only if it is on the following bases:

a) The certification was not in fact executed by the Mayor or County Executive.

b) The Town has failed to make one of the two findings pursuant to S 58-41 or to make the written determination decision required by SS 58.47, 58.53 or 58.64 for the project, as applicable.

c) The Town has omitted one or more of the steps set forth at Subparts F and G for the preparation and com-

d) No opportunity was given to the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation or its Executive Director to review the effect of the project on a property listed on the National Register of Historic Places, or found to be eligible for such listing by the Secretary of the Interior, in rdance with 36 CFR Part 800.

Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedure (24 CFR Part 58) and may be addressed to the Tennessee Department of Economic and Community Development, Rachel Jackson Building, 320 Sixth Avenue North, 6th Floor, Nashville, nessee 37219-5308.

Objections to the release of funds on bases other than those stated above will not be considered by the State. No objection received after December 1, 1986 will be considered by this State.

This authorizing sta-tute forms the basis for the federal student loan and grant programs, and various assist ance programs for colleges and universities. This legislation extends those programs for another five years. The huge bipartisan majority of 385-25 indicates the wide support these programs enjoy throughout the

These higher education programs have been used by millions of students who would have not have otherwise been able to obtain a degree from an institution of higher learning. Their continued availability to young people represent, in my mind, an investment in the future of our country. The national commit ment to insuring that all young people have the opportunity to go to college has been one of the reasons that our country has been such a world leader in technological achievement. Unfortunately, some of these education programs have been abused and it has been that abuse that has led to criticism of them. Some students, relatively very few I am sure, have cast the Soan and grant programs in a bad light by trying to avoid repaying their obligation to the Federal Treasury. While this legislation will not completely eliminate the abuse, it does tighten the programs in an effort to keep abuse down.

The new requirements in the bill include a mandatory needs test for all applicants. It makes it more difficult for undergraduates under 24 years of age to declare financial independence from their parents simply to qualify for bigger loans. It requires that students using federal assistance to attend college maintain a "C" average or grades consistent with gradua tion requirements in order to con-tinue to receive the assistance.

When You Shop At Halls You Help Create More Jobs

Many years ago, when our town was just beginning, it had few people, fewer stores and no manufacturing as we know it today.

Our community grew because more people moved here in our trade area. Soon there was a demand for local manufacturing.

People moving here meant building more homes, more stores meant more jobs and our industries needed workers. The word got around, and a steady stream of people looking for work and homes settled here.

Today, the more business our stores do the more people they hire. More jobs in our industries mean more business for all, a and help spread and lower the tax burden.

Nothing is very mysterious about it. Nearly every community grew the same way. So, shop at home and do YOUR part to help us all continue to grow.

Not Very Happy

Halls football fans are not only upset about the early whistle that took away a Tiger touchdown Friday night in the Halls-Ickenzie playof but also are upset that officials allowed lickenzie to run off almost two minutes on the near the end of the game without snapping

For health reasons we did not attend the game weather but according to information this writer lickenzie had the ball a their own 20-yard line with 2:53 remaining on the As was to be expected lickenzie chose to kill as much of the clock as possible rather than the ball in play. Two penalties were called the Rebels which should account for about but only 1:10 remained on the clock after the second penalty was stepped off.

bad taste was left for Tiger players, fans and coaches because of mistakes by officials.

District Revisions Affect Halls Most

The Tenn. Secondary Schools Athletic Association last week added Obion County to Ripley's District 13-AAA and assigned West Tenn. Class A teams to four districts, instead of six—placing Halls in District 14, with Bradford (which doesn't compete in football), Greenfield, Lake County, and South Ful-

Two teams from each district will make the state play-offs, stead of the four from two regions this year. District 13-A, the other half of the new Region 7-A, will have Bruceton, Dresden, Gleason and West Carroll competing in football, plus Clarksburg, Big Sandy, and Palmersville, who do not have football teams.

Halls High School's basketball teams will open the 1986-87 sche-dule Friday at Denmark West near Jackson. They play Tuesday at Crockett County.

Coach Winston Jarrett will field an experienced quintet, with ten players returning who started at least one game, plus several newcomers. Only Rodney Foster is missing from the 1985-86 squad which compiled a 12-13 record The tallest Tiger will be Travis

Bird, 6-3, but three others will check in at the 6-2 mark. The Tigers, with good quickness, will again be featuring a run and shoot offense and a pressing defense. Greatest problem facing them is that seven squad members were practicing for the first time this week, from the football

Reporting this week were Bobby McKinney, Tyrone Patrick, Milton Jarrett, George Glynn, and Dalton Jackson, all with playing time, plus freshmen Ron Ward and Chris Smith. Bobby Cain, Lady Tigers coach, is expecting his charges to have a much improved season this year over their non-winning record last year. Graduating from the 1985-86 squad were top scorer Rhonda Hines and Kathy Emerson.

Led by the Hutcherson twins Pam and Paula, and newcome Gina Warren, who is expected to add good ball handling, the Lady Tigers should be much quicker and will have much more

ABOUT 450 PERSONS toured the Anderson-Hickey Co. plant on the old air base in Halls Sunday as the firm observed its 50th anniversary in business. Coming to Halls from the main offices in Henderson, Tex., were Mike Jones, director of employee relations, Joe Sorrells, Henderson plant manager, Chet Hicks, director of engineering, Roger Hulsey, Henderson plant superintendent, and Bob Fisher, Henderson materials manager. Anderson-Hickey was founded at Nashville in 1936 and moved to Henderson in 1968. In 1977 in became a subsidiary of U.S. Industries, and that same year, Anderson-Hickey expanded to a new plant in Halls. Dick Strouse is plant manager in Halls. The firm manufactures metal office furniture.

When You Shop At Halls You Help Greate More Jobs

Many years ago, when our town was just beginning, it had few people, fewer stores and no manufacturing as we know it today.

Our community grew because more people moved here in our trade area. Soon there was a demand for local manufacturing.

People moving here meant building more homes, more stores meant more jobs and our industries needed workers. The word got around, and a steady stream of people looking for work and homes settled here.

Today, the more business our stores do the more people they hire. More jobs in our industries mean more business for all,a and help spread and lower the tax burden.

Nothing is very mysterious about it. Nearly every community grew the same way. So, shop at home and do YOUR part to help us all continue to grow.

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON

It has now been about a month Henning And Pope since the final gavel came down on the 99th Congress. These four weeks have allowed many observers of Congress to make some judgements about its work over the past two years and issue a report card on how well it did. Surprisingly, the report cards looks to be a rather good one. The Members of the 99th Congress left Washington to the words of congratulations.

That is not to say that there were not moments of partisan debate and political posturing during these two years. Those are characteristics inherent in the legislative process.

Fortunately, that partisanship was set aside when it came to dealing with important issues demanding bipartisan solutions. Even on an issue which tends to evoke great emotional debate such as the federal budget deficit, there was progress. The 99th Congress passed landmark legislation to achieve a balanced budget by 1991 by setting annual deficit targets, and requiring across the board spending cuts when those targets are not

Ohviously, this is no guarantee that the budget will be balanced, but it represents a real effort to achieve that goal. It is going to take difficult choices to achieve those targets but this new law provides a foundation

In addition, the Congress also took action to reform the nation's tax code by passing the most sweeping tax legislation in the last fifty years. The effects of this legislation will be seen only as it is implemented. However, its significance lies in the tremendous number of obstacles that were overcome in order for the bill to be enacted. It was certainly no easy task. The difficulty of it can be seen in the fact that passage of tax reform took the entire two years of the 99th

On other major issues, Congress passed a wide ranging and comprehensive anti-drug bill that authorizes the President to use just about every federal resource at his disposal to crack down on drug trafficking an drug abuse. This bill provides for efforts to not only enforce antidrug laws, but to also offer drug education programs in the schools and drug rehabilitation programs for those seeking assistance in getting off drugs.

Immigration law reform has been a sought after goal for almost six years. It was finally realized in the closing days of the 99th Congress. This legislation has become a necessity due to the tremendous influx of illegal aliens that have crossed our borders in recent years. This legislation provides a vehicle that can be used in dealing with this growing problem.

While federal spending remained tilted toward the Defense Department, the 99th Congress sought to make spend ing for our nation's security more efficient. It passed legisla-tion to reorganize much of our military leadership with the aim of making it more responsive to hreats to our national security Additional landmark legislation was passed ranging from overhauling the process for authrizing public works projects to eauthorizing the Superfund Pro-gram to continue the clean up of nazardous waste sites.

wever, a high standard has an achieved by the 99th Con-ess against which future Con-esses can be compared.

The Lauderdale County Bank would like to make a very important announcement to all of our Individual Retirement Account members.

New tax laws will soon be in effect that will severely limit tax deductions for Individual Retirement Accoun IRA-contributions for many people.

However, the new regulations will not take effect until the 1987 year. So it still makes a lot of sense to fully fund your IRA for 1986.

The Lauderdale County Bank makes this announcement to help keep our IRA customers a step ahead financially. This may be your last chance to take advantage of full IRA tax deductions.

Remember, any monies invested in your IRA by April 15th of next year, will still be free from taxation until you begin to withdraw funds at retirement.

This announcement is just one of many ways The Lauderdale County Bank keeps you—a step ahead!

Halls Hardware has been the principal supplier of hardware for the Halls area for many years. The present owners purchased Halls Hardware in 1972 when Winston Daws wanted to retire. Mr. and Mrs. Daws had operated Halls Hardware and Supply for many years in the same location on the corner of Main and Front, and the present owners have worked hard to give their customers the same friendly service they were use to receiving, plus increasing the variety of the stock to keep up

New national pricing is being incorporated to try to keep the price of any item in line with what that item sells for anywhere in the USA.

As the local economy is changing from mostly farming to 50-50 industrial, so the stock at Halls Hardware is also changing. Plumbing lines have been broadened with plastic piping, water, heaters, and washerless faucets. The electrical department is now being expanded to include every product needed in wiring a house or farm.

Mechanic electric tools and stationary tools like table saws, lathes and drill presses. The houseware department is being up graded to a better selection of anything for the house and kitchen.

To make shopping more convenient Halls Hardware is taking in the building next door to expand their floor space for power mowers and lawn and garden supplies. This month's best sellers are stove pipe, stoves, and insulation as Halls get ready for the coming winter weather.

This week is a real work-week for Everett, Frances and Odell because toys are arriving daily and they are getting ready for the Christmas toyshopping rush. That is when the extra floor space will be needed. Christmas lay-a-ways will be started this weekend and a special toy preview discount coupon will be found in today's Graphic.

Manager Odell Clymer invites all their Lauderdale County customers to come in and shop and enjoy that good old home-town friendly service at Halls Hardware

When You Shop At Halls You Help Create More Jobs

Many years ago, when our town was just beginning, it had few people, fewer stores and no manufacturing as we know it today.

Our community grew because more people moved here in our trade area. Soon there was a demand for local manufacturing.

People moving here meant building more homes, more stores meant more jobs and our industries needed workers. The word got around, and a steady stream of people looking for work and homes settled here.

Today, the more business our stores do the more people they hire. More jobs in our industries mean more business for all, a and help spread and lower the tax burden.

Nothing is very mysterious about it. Nearly every community grew the same way. So, shop at home and do YOUR part to help us all continue to grow.

Iranian Problem

Your editor is not quite certain just what he thinks of the furor over the alleged sending of arms to Iran in exchange for hostages. In the first place President Reagan and members of the administration claim that the arms were sent to Iran in an effort to protect against a possible takeover by Russia and the release of hostages was merely a by-product.

Perhaps this is true and perhaps not. Cerwe don't know and it is doubtful that most making the most noise know much if anyhing more than the general public.

Probably the shipping of arms to Iran was a stake but only time will tell. We are forced to gree with one statement by Secretary of State George Shultz in regard to not informing Congress when he stated that the more persons who knew of such operations the less likely it was that anything could be accomplished.

Buckle-Up Time

How many of you remember that only a little more than a month remains before the state law requiring the wearing of seat belts will be enforc-

has been in effect about six months actual enforcement was delayed to give the driving public a chance to learn to habitually asten the belts when you enter your vehicle. That grace period will end Dec. 31st and tickets and ines will be issued to those not wearing the elts. The law does not apply to back seat passengers although they probably should buckle up.

Nell and your editor have been trying to help ach other to remember to buckle up but we still ometimes forget.

Energy Savings Offered County

Bob Mays, of Ripley, Lauder dale County energy co-ordinator says that for a one-time investment of $61,173, the county could save $33,572 a year by imple menting conservation measures identified by a free Tennessee Valley Authority energy audit of 11 of the county's 34 buildings.

When all the buildings have been surveyed, the annual dollar savings will increase. Mays Current recommendations would reach their payback period in less than 1.8 years. The Tenn. County Energy Partnership was introduced in six pilot counties in November 1985. It combines the efforts and resources of the State's Energy Division, the Association of Tennessee Valley Counties, the University of Tennessee County Technical Assistance Service the TVA, and Bicentennial Volunteers, Inc., retired citizens who volunteer their time for projects like this. Energy Advisory groups are being formed in each of the six counties to determine methods to implement the recommenda ions. If you are interested, call Mays, 635-3065, or Gary Davis, state co-ordinator, at 1-800-342-

To the farmers in the Forked Deer Co-Operative's

The recent session of the Tennessee General Assembly voted to amend the sales tax law to

from the 5.5% rate to 1.5%.

The new law went in effect July 1, 1986, but appar ently very few farmers are aware of it.

The lowered sales tax is not automatic. Farmers must go down to their local electricity co-operative office and sign up for the exemption to certify the electricity for use

The most recent change in the law is one of several that lowers or limits the sales tax on seeds, feed, fertil-izer, pesticides, farm machinery, grain bends, diesel

The exemption saves producers several hundreds of dollars each year in their production expenses.

The Lauderdale County Bank would like to make a very important announcement to all of our Individual Retirement Account members.

New tax laws will soon be in effect that will severely limit tax deductions for Individual Retirement Account IRA-contributions for many people.

However, the new regulations will not take effect until the 1987 year. So it still makes a lot of sense to fully fund your IRA for 1986.

The Lauderdale County Bank makes this announcement to help keep our IRA customers a step ahead financially. This may be your last chance to take advantage of full IRA tax deductions.

Remember, any monies invested in your IRA by April 15th of next year, will still be free from taxation until you begin to withdraw funds at retirement.

This announcement is just one of many ways The Lauderdale County Bank keeps you—a step ahead!

Dollars spent out of town are gone for good. Dollars spent at home make our town a better place to live and work.

When You Shop At Halls You Help Create More

Many years ago, when our town was just beginning, it had low people, fewer stores and no manufacturing as we know it today.

Our community grew because more people moved here in our trade area. Soon there was a demand for local manufacturing.

People moving here meant building more homes, more stores meant more jobs and our industries needed workers. The word got around, and a steady stream of people looking for work and homes settled here.

Today, the more business our stores do the more people they hire. More jobs in our industries mean more business for all,a and help spread and lower the tax burden.

Nothing is very mysterious about it. Nearly every community grew the same way. So, shop at home and do YOUR part to help us all continue to grow.

Those of us who live in America are forever indebted to those patriots who created our nation: courageous men and women who truly pledged to their cause and to each other "our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

We are thankful to them for this glorious legacy of liberty and all the blessings it endows.

In the spirit of this Thanksgiving Day, all of us send you our warmest greetings.

be remembered for generations to come, along with the heritage that has been rediscovered as a result of it. "I'm sure Homecoming '86 will be remembered for a long time in our town," testifies Goodlettsville Homecoming '86 Steering Committee Chairman Pam Garrett. "Our Homecoming '86 project-a replica of Kasper Mansker's fort-will stand as a reminder of our heritage and the year we set aside to celebrate it!"

Kasper Mansker was Goodlettsville's first citizen—and Mansker's Fort was Goodlettsville's first structure. The replica fort built for Homecoming 86 will be a tangible reminder of the town's birth.

Mansker was born aboard a ship en route to America in 1750. His parents, who were German, were traveling to a new home in what is now Virginia.

In his late teens. Mansker began his long-hunting expeditions, which led him to the Middle Tennessee area-at that time called the Cumberland country. During his first trip to the area in 1772, he discovered two salt licks and a creek, which came to bear his name.

He returned to the area in 1779. bringing with him family and friends. The group arrived during one of the most severe winters ever recorded in Tennessee. Yet together, the early settlers constructed Mansker's first fort along the west branch of Mansker's Creek.

A surge of Indian attacks, however, forced the pioneers to seek other shelter. And the fort was burned.

Mansker's group returned three years later to build a second fort, which was located along the east branch of the creek, just one mile from the original fort's site. The second fort prospered, becoming a stronghold for settlers north of present-day Nashville. The development of Mansker's Station paralleled that of Fort Nashborough, which was 12 miles away. The two settlements depended on each other as they strove to create a new civilization in the wilderness.

A prominent leader in the Cumberland Settlements, Mansker signed the Cumberland Compact in 1780 and is considered one of the "immortal 70" responsible for the development of the area.

He served as lieutenant from Mansker's Fort under the Cumberland Association, was elected first captain, served as a second major in the militia of the newly formed Sumner County. served on the county's first grand jury and acted as a military escort for new settlers coming into the area. He also served as lieutenant colonel under Territorial Gov. William Blount.

When the Indian Wars ended. Mansker returned home and operated an inn. Such famous men as Andrew Jackson and John Overton were among his guests.

Mansker returned to military service later, serving in the War of 1812 and fighting in the Battle of New Orleans with Jackson. He eventually died in 1821 and was buried near his home.

Although Mansker's Station was not incorporated until 1853, it played an important role in the early government of the area. The town's name was changed to Goodlettsville when it incorporated.

While little is known about Mansker's Fort other than its location, the Homecoming '86 committee in Goodlettsville has spent a great deal of time researching forts of Mansker's era in the Cumberland Valley. As a result, the committee has accepted as authentic drawing by frontier artist and history buff David Wright. Construction began in March of this year. The replica is being built in Moss Wright Park in Goodlettsville near the original fort site. The re-creation wil be visually accurate, with all lights and modern plumbing hidden.

Unlike many fort replicas, no aggregate walks or potted flowers will be found on the site. Goodlettsville's goal is to create an atmosphere out of the 1700s as it really was. A wal enclosing three sides of the fort will screen the replica from its 20th century surroundings.

When completed, the structure will feature two blockhouses and four leantos. The almost-finished fort opened Oct. 4-5 for a weekend, featuring demonstrations by long hunters from surrounding areas.

Directing the building of the replica is Alan Comer, a builder and historian from Versailles, Mo. While some work is being done with modern machinery everything is finished authentically with period tools. In addition to the naid builders, long hunters from surrounding areas gathered at the site one day to lend a helping hand: Dressed in period clothes and working with tools from Mansker's era, the long hunters helped construct the fort? using the methods available in the late 1700s.

When finished, the project will be overseen by the Historic and Arts Council. It will be open for touring and for educational and cultural events.

For more information about Goodlettsville's replica of Mansker's Station and other projects that will stand as reminders of Tennessee-Homecoming '86. contact the Homecoming '86 office at (615) 741-1986.

-Julia Kincaid Ward

MEMPHIS, Tenn. - Like the eye the storm, the Lichterman Nature Center is a pocket of tranmility in the suburban sprawl of east Memphis and neighboring Germantown. Covering 65 acres of fields, forests and marshlands, the center provides a retreat where urpanites can leave the city behind without leaving the city limits.

Lichterman serves as a wildlife sanctuary and a public environmenal educational facility. Its hardwood forest and lake habitats are home for more than 350 varieties of Mants, 200 kinds of birds, 45 kinds of reptiles and amphibians, and 35 species of small mammals.

Self-guiding nature trails wander through the forests and fields. Along The way are "teaching stations' which identify plant and animal species and explore the natural protesses at work in the woods. A boardwalk stretches across the marsh and 12-acre lake, bringing visitors closer to the lily pads, beaver dens, and sunning turtles. On the observation pier a periscopelike device allows you to see underwater, and watch the fish, frogs and turtles swimming by.

The center also operates a wildlife rehabilitation center which functions both as a wildlife hospital and a native animal display center.

"People bring us all kinds of animals that have been injured and orphaned," said curator Larry Pickens. "Right now we have a squirrel that was blinded through some genetic defect. We're also treating some robins that had gotten into pesticides and have lost all their feathers.

"One day we had a call from a lady who said she had found a prehistoric monster in her kitchen,' he added. "It turned out to be a broad headed skink, which is a large lizard with a fiery red head. They are not uncommon around here, but they are rarely seen, especially in someone's kitchen."

The center also cares for wild animals that have been captured and "imprinted" (domesticated to the point where they have lost their natural instincts for survival.)

"Our goal is to naturalize them, to help them regain their ability to survive in the wild," Pickens said, "We treated a red wolf that someone had captured as a pup. They evidently decided a wolf was too much to handle and turned it over to wildlife authorities, who brought him here to the center. He was eventually released into a pack out west."

The Nature Center occupies a site which was once the estate of Clarence Saunders, a Memphis entrepreneur. Saunders' gift to the world was the concept of the selfservice grocery store, an idea he eventually built into the Piggly Wiggly supermarket chain.

Saunders purchased a 200-acre tract of Memphis countryside in 1928, and built the huge 10-room log cabin which now serves as the Interpretive Center. With its fanciful, ornate architecture, the cabin looks as if it might have been designed by the Brothers Grimm.

Saunders lost both his fortune and his country estate during the Great Depression. At one time the property fell into the hands of Bill Terry, then owner of the New York Glants. It was later purchased by Ira J. Lichterman.

In the early 1970s, as apartments and shopping malls were springing up all around the property, the city of Memphis purchased 50 acres for the development of a park. The Lichterman heirs donated an additional 25 acres, and over the next decade development of the center continued under the auspices of the Memphis Park System and Memphis Museum Systems.

The center opened its gates in 1983, and has become one of the ten most popular attractions in the city.

"We conducted programs for more than 17,000 school children in 1985," Pickens said. "That marked a 28 percent increase in visitations over the previous year."

The center offers a variety of special programs and activities. Guided nature walks are usually conducted on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, Summer Ecology Camps are held in June and July, and on Friday evenings in summer months the Fireside Series presents films and programs under the stars in the outdoor amphitheatre. Each changing season is celebrated with a special festival event.

Many of the center's programs are dependent on volunteer helpers, according to Pickens.

"Our volunteer support is an invaluable resource," he said. "Our staff consists of seven full-time and five part-time members, but there are more than 250 people on our ac tive volunteer list.

"We have high school kids who come in and clean animal cages for three hours a day. But we really try to make it a learning experience for them, and let them pursue their own areas of interest. Some maintain our trails or work in the green house, while others learn to care for injured wildlife in our rehab center."

Lichterman Nature Center is open Tuesday through Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and on Sunday from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. Admission is $2.50 for adults, $1.75 for students and senior citizens, and free for children age four and under. Special rates are available for groups of ten or more with reservations two weeks prior to visiting.

The center is located at 5992 Quince Road in southeast Memphis. From 1-240, take the Germantown exit (#15) west, turn south on Ridgeway Road, and then turn east on Quince Road.

To learn more about the center's programs and activities, call 901-767-7322.
