Halls History

By Oliver Nunn

(Presented at the Halls High School Home-Coming of the Classes of 1920s and 1930s.)

There were subscription schools in the area around Halls before Halls had a school building. The earliest record available indicates the first school building in what is now Halls was erected in 1880-108 years ago. It was a two story wooden building approximately 20x60. The building was located on the lot donated by the Farmer family on what was later named College Street. Halls was incorporated as a town after the railroad came to West Tennessee in 1881; the charter is dated 1884.

One of the two seniors in the first high school graduating class of 1903 was my cousin, Augusta Nunn, the mother of Neil and Gilreath Dyer. The other member was Allen Rooks. Another source lists Frank Young as a member. He was the son of Ida and Dr. Sam Young and the husband of Electra Rawles Young. (He was also Oliver's cousin.)

The next school building for Halls was a two story brick building just north of the two story frame building on the Farmer lot on College Street, erected in 1904. This building, and I quote from the Halls High School Catalogue of 1911-1912, "We have a handsome two story brick building, modern in structure and furnished throughout with the latest improved patent single desks. It contains ten recitation rooms with a very spacious auditorium with a seating capacity of over 600. The auditorium is furnished with the latest and best folding opera chairs, and also simply supplied with electric lights." Never since this building was used has Halls had a school auditorium. It was always a combined basketball court and auditorium. Basketball supporters far out number the demand for music and opera seats. In fact, when the 600 seat capacity auditorium was being used, the only place to play basketball was up-town, upstairs, in a two story building on Front Street. I remember the games. We had poultry wire enclosing the court with the space around the court about three feet wide for the spectators to stand. There was hardly room for a good fist fight with the visiting supporters.

I have often told my children and grandchildren about the first lesson I learned in school. Being a first-grader, I went out to the school pump at recess to get a drink because I was thirsty. The bucket was hanging on the pump but it was empty and I couldn't reach the handle of the pump so I had to wait until some of the big boys wanted a drink. When they got their drink, some water was left in the bucket and I got a drink. The lesson I learned was that somebody has to put something in the bucket before anyone can take something out.

We struggled along in this spacious two story brick building with not much change from baseball and basketball until Ike Nunn went to work in the Bank of Halls. He had graduated at a school way off in Nashville called Vanderbilt. He brought back home with him a funny shaped hall larger than a baseball and not round like a basketball. He called it a football. Ike would come to school and show the big boys how to throw, catch and kick this funny shaped football. All the boys really like football. The girls liked the game too.

About this time the local school board found a vacant room in the frame building and hired a young girl from Georgia to come teach cooking and sewing. Some of the men in town sure did fuss, saying it was a waste of tax dollars to teach a girl to sew and cook—mothers were supposed to do that. The really bad part about our cooking and sewing teacher was she liked football too. First thing I knew, she married Ika Nunn and talked him into moving up to that place called Nashville where they said the school Vanderbilt was. The most distressing thing to me was that when Mary

GREEK EGGPLANT CASSEROLE MINUS THE GREASE, FAT AND CHOLESTEROL

Dear Jeanne:
Enclosed is a recipe for Greek Eggplant Casserole. It is delicious but too greasy. Can you help to improve that situation? Thank you very much.
Bertha S. Benson
San Diego, Calif.

GREEK EGGPLANT CASSEROLE

Meat filling:
2 tablespoons olive oil
1 pound ground lamb or beef
1 cup chopped onion
2 cloves garlic, crushed
1/2 cup tomato paste
1 cup white wine
1/2 cup water
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 cup chopped parsley
Salt and pepper to taste

Saute meat and onions until meat is no longer pink. Add remaining ingredients. Simmer for 10 minutes. Taste for salt and pepper. Set aside.

Eggplant preparation:
2 1/2 to 3 pounds eggplant (2 or 3 medium-size)
Olive oil to cover large skillet to depth of 1/2 inch
Salt

Cut and discard ends of eggplant. Cut eggplant into 1/2-inch wide round slices. Lay slices on large cookie sheet or tray. Sprinkle generously with salt. Let stand at room temperature for 30 minutes (salt draws any bitterness from the eggplant). Rinse eggplant under cold running water to remove salt. Dry with paper towels.

Heat olive oil until very hot. Fry eggplant slices 20 to 30 seconds on each side. Drain on 2 thicknesses of paper towel. Set aside.

Bechamel sauce topping:
1/2 cup butter
10 tablespoons flour
4 cups milk
2 egg yolks, beaten
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
Salt and pepper to taste

Melt butter in sauce pan. Add flour and stir constantly over low heat for 2 minutes. Do not brown. Gradually add milk, stirring constantly, until sauce begins to boil. Remove from heat. Add egg yolks, stirring constantly, until well blended. Add seasonings. Stir. Set aside.

Assembly:
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
—in a 13x9-inch baking pan or casserole dish (either metal or glass) cover bottom with eggplant slices. Spread all of the meat filling over eggplant. Top with another layer of eggplant, using up all slices. Spread bechamel sauce over the entire surface and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Lightly sprinkle top with ground cinnamon. Bake in preheated oven at 325 F for 45 minutes or until bechamel sauce is set. Cool 5 minutes. Cut into squares and serve. Serves 10 to 12.

Dear Bertha:
I made several variations of this Moussaka, or Greek Eggplant Casserole, before I came up with one that I liked. I was able to greatly reduce the fat and cholesterol by using less olive oil and eliminating the eggs called for in the sauce. I could have omitted the olive oil completely, but the flavor it gives the meat is necessary for the authentic Greek taste range.

I liked the casserole best when I made it with peeled eggplant, and steaming instead of frying the eggplant enabled me to further reduce the amount of fat and calories in the revised recipe. My revision only serves 8 people, but I think it is a more practical size for most families, and it could easily be halved if you desire to make a smaller dish.

Each serving contains approximately:
Original Recipe:
Calories: 521
Cholesterol: 134 mg
Fat: 41 gm
Sodium: 597 mg

Revised Recipe:
Calories: 297
Cholesterol: 48 mg
Fat: 14 gm
Sodium: 475 mg

By Mrs. Ward Hardy
 Guests of the Ihmer Kissells for Christmas dinner were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Jones and Dale Jones and son, Ashley, of Ashholm Lake Road, Mr. and Mrs. Erle Kissell and children, Shelly and Shawn, of Dry Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Kissell and son, Corey, of Woodville, Mr. and Mrs. Darin Kissell, of Ripley, and Bubba Klutts, of Central. Mr. and Mrs. Luther Wilson and sons, Chris and Bradley, of Memphis, spent several days with them.

Mrs. Jimmy Hansford's home in Halls was the setting for tea Oct. 16th, hosted by ladies of the Gates community. Freshly cut flowers were used throughout the house. Home-made cookies, nuts, mints and punch were served.

A bridal luncheon for Kristi was held Oct. 15th in the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mike Elmore, in Friendship. Wedding attendants, mothers and grandmothers were guests. Finger sandwiches, cold cut trays, cheese balls, chips, dip, cake, cookies and nuts were served. Kristi was given a silver tray, from Mrs. Diane Elmore, and a white negligee and matching robe from her attendants and mothers. Everyone then helped make bells filled with bird seed.

For the rehearsal dinner in the fellowship hall of Lebanon Church, tables were decorated with candles and baskets of fresh cut flowers. Barbecued chicken, slaw, potato salad, baked beans, rolls, cake and tea were served buffet. The couple presented gifts to the wedding party.

MR. AND MRS. ERIC SMITH exchanged double ring vows at 7 p.m. Oct. 22nd in Lebanon United Methodist Church. The Rev. Norman Crittendon, of Covington, officiated in the candle-light ceremony.

The bride, Kristi, is the daughter of Mrs. James Elmore, of Halls, and the late Mr. Elmore. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Smith, of Gates.

The sanctuary was decorated with two spiral candelabra with white tapers, white gladioli, greenery and white stock. Behind the couple were two heart-shaped candelabra complemented with votive cups, white cushion mums, Oregon fern, ivy, and baby's breath. Behind the minister stood a 25-branch candle tree dressed with Oregon fern, white stock, and baby's breath. Windows held candles in crystal cups nested in ivy and tied with white bows. The altar rail was decorated with ivy and white net bows. Each side of the church held two large baskets of variegated ivy and fern. A white satin runner was laid down the aisle.

Love, Surely the Presence of the Lord Is In This Place, and Savior, Like A Shepherd Lead Us, The mothers entered to Wonderful Mother Of Mine. The processional was O Perfect Love. The bride entered to the Bridal March. The recessional was the Wedding March.

The bride's mother wore a pale blue jacquard dress, softly pleated at the waist-line, with a point d'esprit lace collar. The groom's mother chose a pale pink crepe dress with sheer long sleeves and a draped neckline featuring a lace insert. Each wore a shoulder corsage of white cymbidium orchids. Before the mothers were seated, they lit the side candles to the unity candle for their children.

The groom's grandparents who attended were Mrs. Flossie Robinson, of Gates, and Mrs. Buford Smith, of Halls. Honorary grandparents of the bride attending were Mr. and Mrs. George Martin, of Lexington. Each grandmother wore a cymbidium orchid at the shoulder.

For the reception in the fellowship hall, the bride's table was draped with white lace over satin. Each corner was accented with peach bows. The bride's 3-tier white cake, designed and baked by the maid of honor, was connected to two smaller cakes by stairways with miniature bridesmaids and groomsmen. The bottom of the cake was decorated with an arrangement of fresh peach and white roses. The center layer was adorned with porcelain doves and rose buds. The top layer held a miniature porcelain bride and groom before a heart of lace.

The groom's table, draped with lace over white satin and accented with peach bows, held a chocolate cake with a softball motif. Peach-colored tropical punch was poured from a silver bowl flanked by silver candelabra. The food table, centered with silk flowers and candles, offered finger sandwiches, cheese balls with crackers, vegetable trays with dip, fruit trays, pecan tarts, ham rolls, sausage balls, chocolate dipped pecans, cheese trays and monogrammed peach and white mints.

Serving were Cindy Pugh, Kim Saylor and Mary Jo Vernon, all of Friendship; and Rita Hargett and Shirley Love, of Halls. Bells of blue lace netting and white bows filled with bird seed were distributed by Heather Brasfield and Misty Hall, cousins of the bride. After honeymooning in Paradise Island, Grand Bahamas, the newlyweds are residing near Halls. Mr. and Mrs. Gary Manning hosted the couple's shower for the pair in their home in Friendship Sept. 17th. The couple received many household items. Guests were served chips, dip, cake, finger sandwiches and ice drinks. A gift tea was given Kristi Sept. 25th in the home of Mrs. James Harry Jordan in Halls by Mrs. Jordan and Mrs. Shirley Love. The tea table was decorated with fresh cut flowers, cake, mints and punch were served. Lebanon Church ladies hosted a miscellaneous shower Oct. 2nd. Guests were served cake, nuts, mints and punch. Kristi was honored with a recipe and pantry shower Oct. 6th in the new home of Mrs. Diane Noblin, of Halls. Co-hosting were Mrs. Barbara Jennings and Mrs. Rita Hargett, of Halls. Guests enjoyed a variety of party delicacies. Mrs. Dorothy Eivens, Mrs. Kim Saylor, Mrs. Janet Vernon, and Miss Mary Jo Vernon hosted a kitchen and bath shower for Kristi Oct. 13th in the home of Mrs. Janet Vernon in Friendship. Most of the guests were Kristi's school friends. They enjoyed a variety of snack foods.

under their tree. From then till today football is a tough competitor with basketball and baseball. We had several teachers from Vanderbilt who influenced our school. Do you realize our school colors are the same as Vanderbilt? Our alma mater words and tune?

Our first football field was a cow pasture across the railroad at the end of East Tigratt Street. A man by the name of R. L. Conley was made Superintendent of Schools in 1923. He was a real worker to build the school.

Most of us in the classes of the '20s and '30s started our schooling in the two story brick building on College Street. With the arrival of Mr. Bob Conley some changes began to take place. Our local school district was combined with the County School System. There was talk of needing a new school building. The first thing Halls knew we had students from Fowkes, Bonicord, Chestnut Bluff, Perry's, Gilliland's, Forked Deer, Curve, Gates, Nankipoo, Double Bridges, Unionville and other communities. A new high school building on West Tigratt Street was ready to move into in 1924, leaving the grades on through eight to use the building on College Street as our elementary school.

H. G. Conley came in 1924 to teach Ag, and also to help coach football. About 1926 our first real football coach, Mr. R. A. Tate, was hired. He was a graduate of Union University in Jackson, Tennessee and knew well, football tactics. About this time the U.T. doctors at Memphis discontinued college football. Coach Tate bought all their equipment, suits, pads, and helmets for $100. The shoes were too large. Most of the shoes and equipment were worn out. The good pairs of shoes were too large anyway. So we made the best of what we had. Simmons Shoe Store nailed cleats on "plow" shoes for us. One boy wore baseball shoes that someone donated. One of the best ball carriers (broken field runners) our football teams ever had started playing barefooted. He could catch a rabbit running. No one could catch him on a football field.

Coach Tate was followed by another Union University graduate, Mr. Charlie Dodds. Coach Dodds was a very successful teacher and coach. He taught science in high school, kept study hall periods, and coached football, ball and girls basketball, and track.

A new gym was built in 1924 with cold water showers that few used in November through the basketball season. There was a shed for horses and buggies behind the gym. Everyone who couldn't walk home or to the boarding house for lunch brought a sandwich in a sack or lunch basket. Nearly everyone walked to school. If they were lucky, they 'caught' a ride.

Most of the girl's basketball early uniforms were 'home made'. They did stick with the school colors. The 'bloomers' were black, very full and came down to the knees. Gold middle blouses completed their basketball suits. Modern uniforms, of course, came later. The basketball court had three divisions for the girls, but today all changed to one full open court for both boys and girls.

Coach Tate and later Coach Dodds produced some champion football and basketball teams. In fact the 1928 basketball team made a school record. The Hall team had gone to the State Tournament in Knoxville. I tried to warn everybody, but our Democratic West Tennessee Halls basketball players just didn't realize what East Tennessee Republicans consider a good, fair tournament. They scheduled Halls to play the last day of the tournament one day in the morning at 10 a.m.; play another team at 3 p.m. the same day; and at 8 p.m. that night, another game—three different teams for three games in less than twelve hours.

Halls came out No. 2 in the state—it upset the whole state. By the time the next presidential election came around so many Democrats and any Republicans in Tennessee, infuriated over the way those East Tennessee Republicans had treated our Halls Democratic team players at the 1929 State Basketball Tournament, that practically the whole state of Tennessee voted Democratic. The result was that a Democrat replaced the Republican in the White House in 1932.

A school paper was published for many years and an annual began in 1927, discontinued after 1932—later resumed in the late 40's.

A fire destroyed county school records and the actual facts on school faculty, publications and records of students are difficult to locate. The best records are in old school papers and old annuals, which are rare, if available.

Students from Halls High School have been outstanding in every profession: doctors, lawyers, judges, musicians, dentists, bankers, ministry, teacher, agriculture, college professors, and every branch of the military service from World War I through Vietnam. Former students are graduates of our military service academies. Many of our Ag students have won national awards in FFA sponsored programs.

The 1911-12 Catalogue lists Miss Lula Mai Moore (Mrs. C. F.) Harward as head of the music department. She trained the early musicians and was helpful to our schools and churches. Many talented musicians were trained mostly in the homes of the music teachers. Interest in music and art was not sufficient to support a separate department in school. For years science and mathematics instructors were difficult to employ.

Husband and wife combinations have been very successful and our school enrollment continues to grow. Today over 1500 hot lunches are served in two cafeterias. Air-conditioned computer programmed activities are carried on in the three separate buildings. A high school and junior high, Trades and Industry and Ag building, and elementary school building, with two connecting gyms have all been remodeled. The modern buildings replace the school building, Ag building, and gym we all used in the 20's and 30's. Nine big buses transport the students and there is hardly room to park the student cars.

In the early 20s the electric lights in Halls were all 'turned off' at 10 p.m. Then the coal oil lamps were 'lit up' again.

'Miss Sadie' Uley was our telephone system. She knew everything going on all the time. When you rang 'Miss Sadie' and asked her to ring a party for you it wasn't unusual for her to say, 'he is not at home, I just saw her go into Levy's or Smith Drug Store. I'll get her there for you.'

When four boys toured the West to California and back in a 'T' Model Ford, 'Miss Sadie' originated the first phone 'Conference Call' in Halls for the Bell Telephone Co. When one of the mothers received a card or letter from the 'T-Model Tourist', she would call 'Miss Sadie' and hook up the phones of all four mothers together for a 'conference call.' 'Miss Sadie' will always be remembered by the classes of the 'Boaring 20s and the Depression 30s.'

NEWSWORTHY TRENDS

Starting a Small Business Has Benefits, Risks

More than half of all Americans would like to own a small business, even though they are aware of the risks involved. This was the conclusion of a survey conducted by Comprehensive Accounting Corporation, a nationwide organization of more than 300 accounting franchises serving more than 20,000 small businesses.

Of the 1,000 men and women who participated in the survey, 41 percent said self-employment would give them the best opportunity to make a lot of money, compared to the 29 percent who said employment in large corporations would produce the greatest income. Self-employment would provide the most interesting work according to 37 percent of the participants, while 19 percent said employment in large corporations would be more interesting, and 17 percent chose medium-sized companies.

When asked about job stability, however, only 13 percent said self-employment provided the greatest level of job security. Large corporations were rated the most secure by 49 percent of the people surveyed, and medium-sized companies were judged the most secure by 24 percent.

The risks involved in operating a small business were apparent to the 77 percent who said that small business has the highest percentage of failures and bankruptcies each year.

"Unfortunately, it's true," said Leo G. Laussen, chairman of Comprehensive Accounting Corporation. "Within four years after opening their doors, half of all small businesses are no longer in existence. Many Americans know how to make a product or provide a service, but they lack knowledge in managing and expanding the business."

Interestingly, while 53 percent said they would like to own their own business, only 19 percent said they would advise a high school student to aim for self-employment. Small business is where the job is, however, annually creating 60 percent of all new jobs in the United States.

"The survey revealed that Americans are not aware of this," said Laussen. "More than half the people said large corporations create the most jobs in reality, all the big corporations—those with 1,000 employees or more—are projected to add only 20 percent of all the new jobs for 1988."

Laussen commented that there would be more interest in careers in small business if budding entrepreneurs had more evidence that success is possible.

"If a person starting a business accepts the need for proper management, accounting, marketing and other basic business components," says Laussen, "he or she can overcome the odds against survival."

Halls Cancels Pallet Option

Halls' city board, meeting Thursday of last week, voted to cancel its option to re-purchase H&H Pallet Co.'s site should it be sold or discontinue operation.

The move aids bank loans to Mike Harris, who plans to buy out his partner, Roger Harris. The board approved:
• A $139,757 contract with Childress Construction Co. of Ripley, to replace a high-pressure natural gas line to the regulator station.

A Fine Job

One of the things that has frustrated this writer recently is that because of his eye problems he has been unable to see the Halls High Lady Tigers basketball team.

That however does not mean that he has not been aware of their fine performance and undefeated status. We believe their record is now 14-0 for the season with victories over class AAA and class AA as well as their own class A rating.

Our congratulations to Coach Bobby Cain and his players. Led by the Hutcherson twins, Pamela and Paula, and Gina Warren, the Lady Tigers are rated the top class A teams in Tennessee. This is particularly gratifying when one remembers the disheartening winless records just a few years ago. We are proud of these young ladies and their coach.

While not having an undefeated record the HHS Tigers are playing well and have a good record.

We wish both teams well in the tournaments next month.

Diminishing Returns

Both the state of Tennessee and the Federal Government are considering additional gasoline taxes with still more taxes on liquor and tobacco being studied by the Federal Government.

While we do not doubt that additional money is needed by the state of Tennessee for road improvement and maintenance we do question the advisability of the Federal Government adding to the cost of gasoline.

Any large gasoline tax inevitably will mean that drivers will cut back their travel thus reducing tax yield. Since the automobile is essential to residents not served by public transportation a greater burden will be placed on them. This is unfair and quite likely to be disappointing in raising money for the federal budget.

Liquor and tobacco are already burdened with taxes which push the cost of the products far beyond their actual value. Already the consumption of liquor and tobacco has been sharply cut by health warnings and rising costs. Perhaps in the long run this is having a good effect on the general health of the public but the tax returns are likely to drop drastically within the next few years.

Too Many Bowls

In recent years we have commented several times that too many football bowl games are now being played so that almost any team with winning record can expect a bowl invitation. By our count 17 bowls involving 34 teams were played during the holidays and we understand that the NCAA has approved two more bowls for this year.

Some of the bowls such as the Liberty Bowl, the Peach Bowl, and others will find it more and more difficult to secure good matchups and draw large crowds. The continued increase in bowl games may mean the demise of some of the older bowls which have done so well over the years.

Few people enjoy football more than this writer but it is our belief that too much of a good thing may kill the bowl game.

Enon Baptist Church Route 2, Halls The Rev. Tony Crossnoe, Pastor Deacons: Danny Cates, Chairman, Raymond Belton, Reid Hilliard, Thomas Newman, Lowell Tillman, Tab Tillman. Sunday School 10 A.M., Morning Worship 10:45 A.M., Church Training 6:00 P.M., Evening Worship 5:45 P.M., Wednesday Prayer Meeting 7:00 P.M. On the last Sunday of October, 1870, The Rev. Kennedy and a group of believers met to form the third baptist church in this area which would be known as Enon. From that Sunday in 1870 until today, Enon has been continually serving the Lord. At Enon we believe in the Lordship of Jesus Christ. We actively minister to our community in the name of Jesus. Enon has a total mission to all ages, from the youngest babe to the oldest senior citizen. Enon has been asked to have charge of the community cemetery. The Enon Cemetery has been in existence since 1872. The care of the cemetery is provided from funds that are held in trust for our church. We, at Enon, would invite anyone that does not have a church home to come and join us in our worshipping of the Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Remember always that Jesus loves you and so do we at Enon. Sincerely, Tony L. Crossnoe Pastor

Halls History

By Mrs. Charles Alsbrook: Mike Pritchett, son of Mrs. Barbara Pritchett, of Prairie Village, Kans., and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Andrews, of Halls, has been:

• Promoted to assistant vice-president for loan reviews and compliance of First National Bank in Hutchinson, Kans., which he joined in 1983.

• Chosen as one of 15 participants in the Hutchinson Chamber of Commerce's sixth annual Leadership Project—eight classes ending May 24th.

I have read that all students in one Atlanta, Ga., high school need a year of volunteer work to earn a diploma. All U.S. high schools should take notice.

When I graduated in 1933, Halls had three schools, one superintendent, three principals, and one janitor (maintenance engineer).

We all picked up the paper and left the classrooms neat. The teachers' pets were allowed to remain after school and dust the erasers and wash the blackboards.

My husband says that when Mrs. Ferguson was his teacher (8th grade, I think), she allowed him, Louise Fussell, and James Massengill to work their next day's arithmetic lesson on the blackboard.

When C. H. Mullins was my high school superintendent, he had the boys who had misbehaved mow the school yard as punishment.

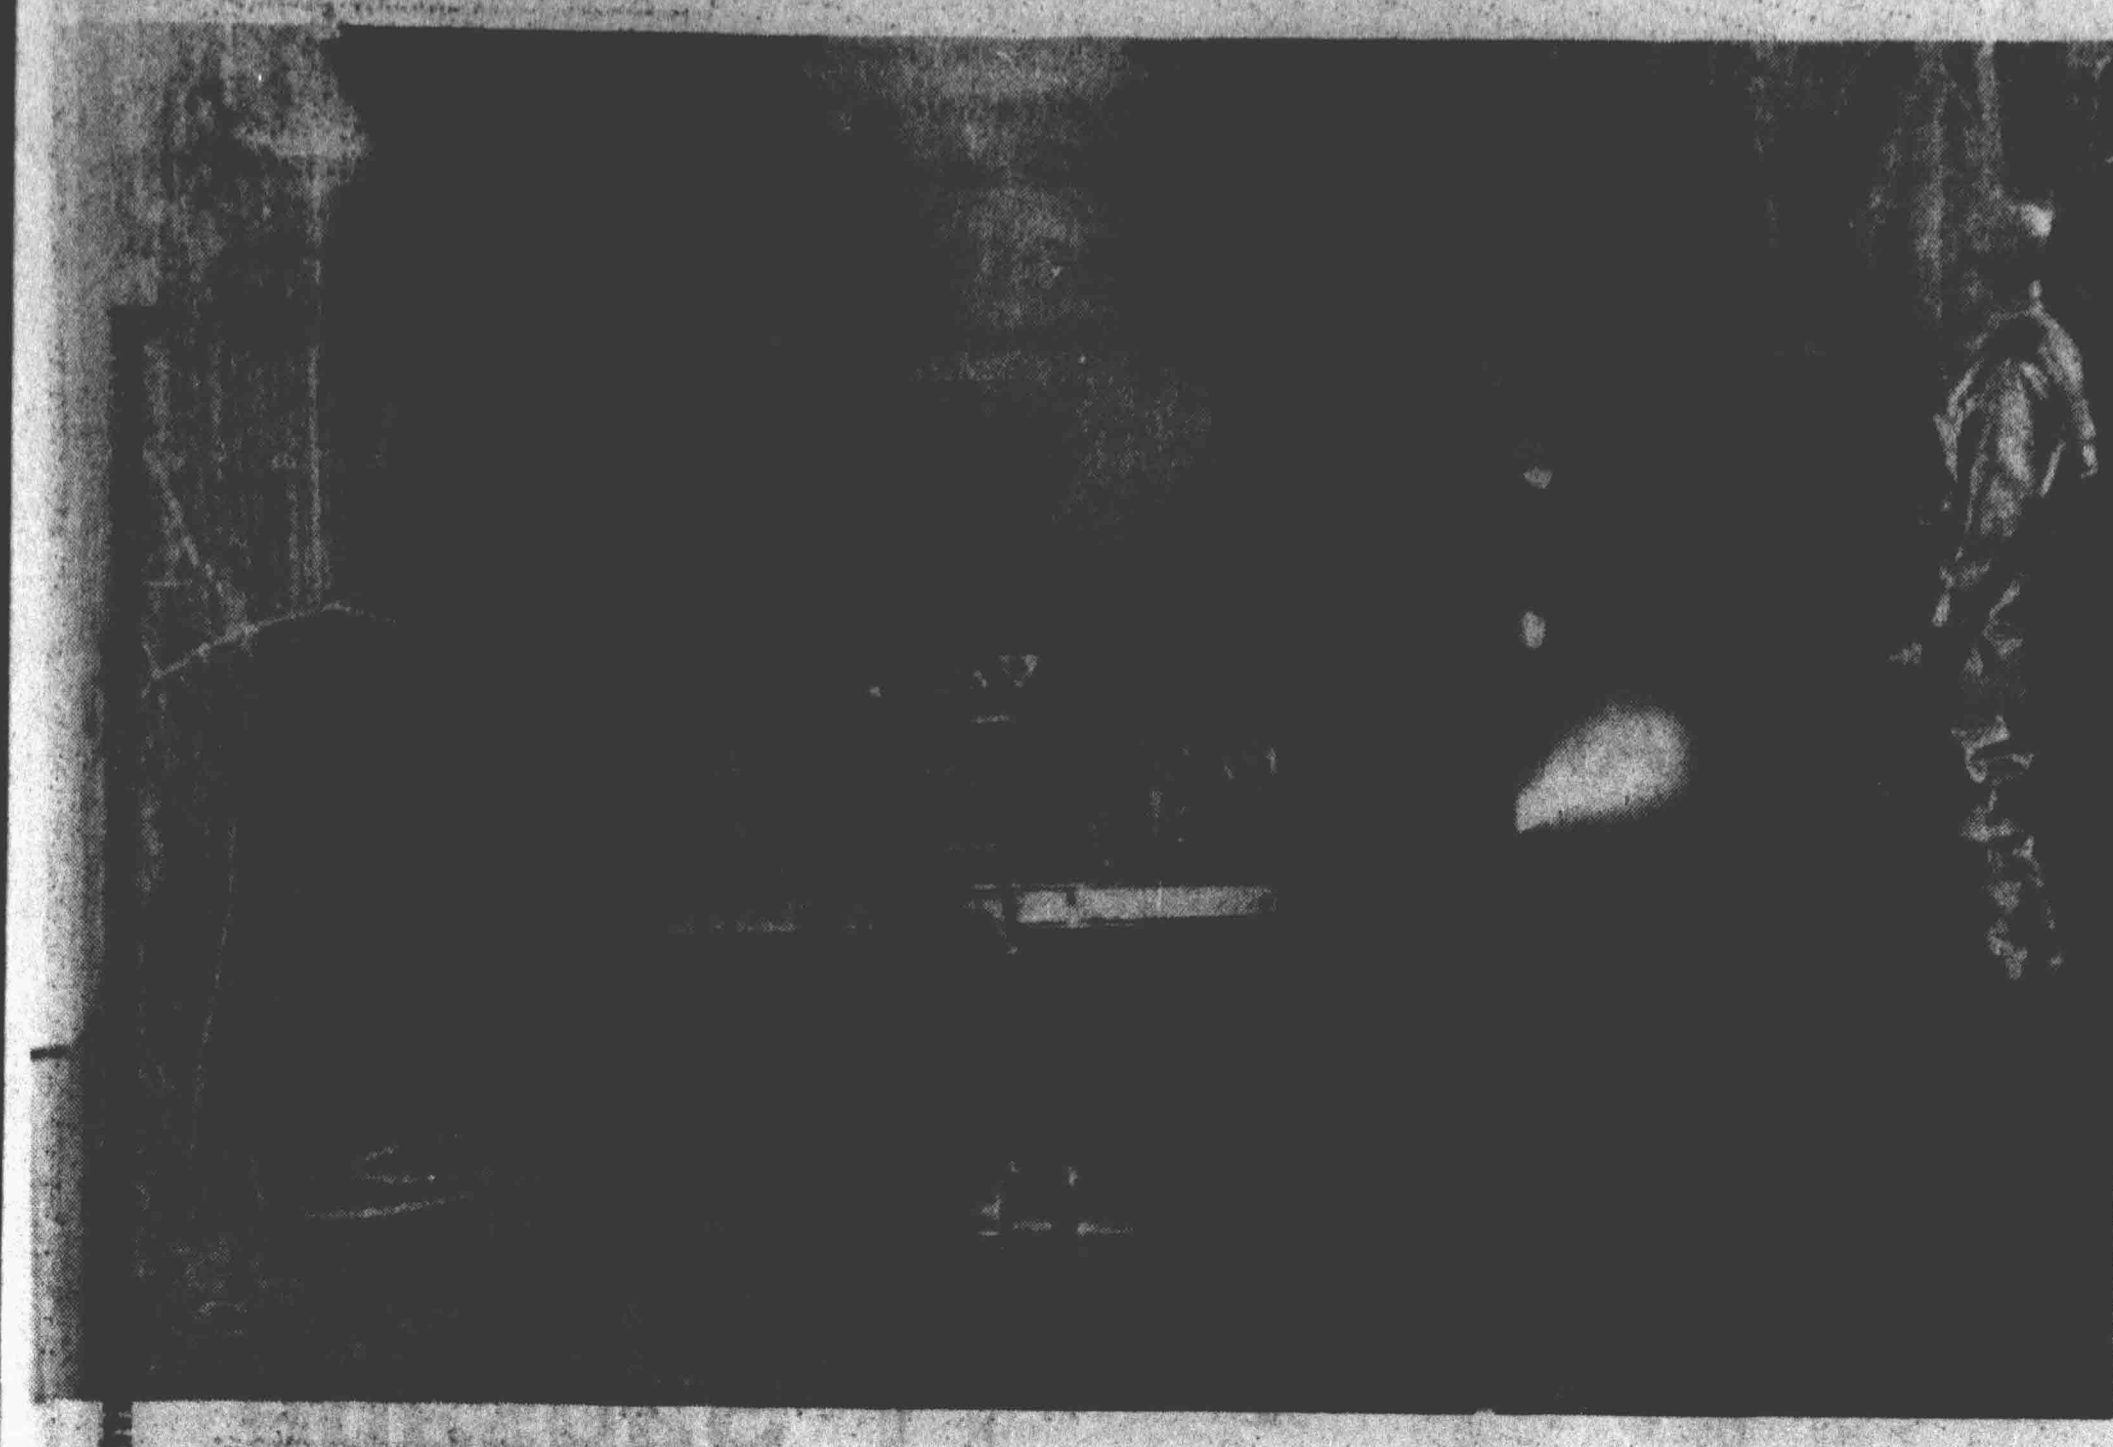

People believe if a fly lands on your nose, somebody has something to tell you.

It is the duty of your Grand Jurors

The grand jury will next meet on Monday, Feb. 6, 1989, at 9:00 a.m. You may be prosecuted for perjury for any oral or written statement which you make under oath to the grand jury, when you know the statement to be false, and when the statement touches on a matter material to the point in question.

Pick-Up Burns

JIMMY BIZZELL'S PICK-UP truck was ablaze at the home of Ellen Jackson on Beech Bluff Rd., south of Halls, when she returned home about 10:30 p.m. Monday. The vehicle was a total loss, but Halls firemen kept the blaze from spreading to the house.

Seniors Not Wealthy Or Greedy!

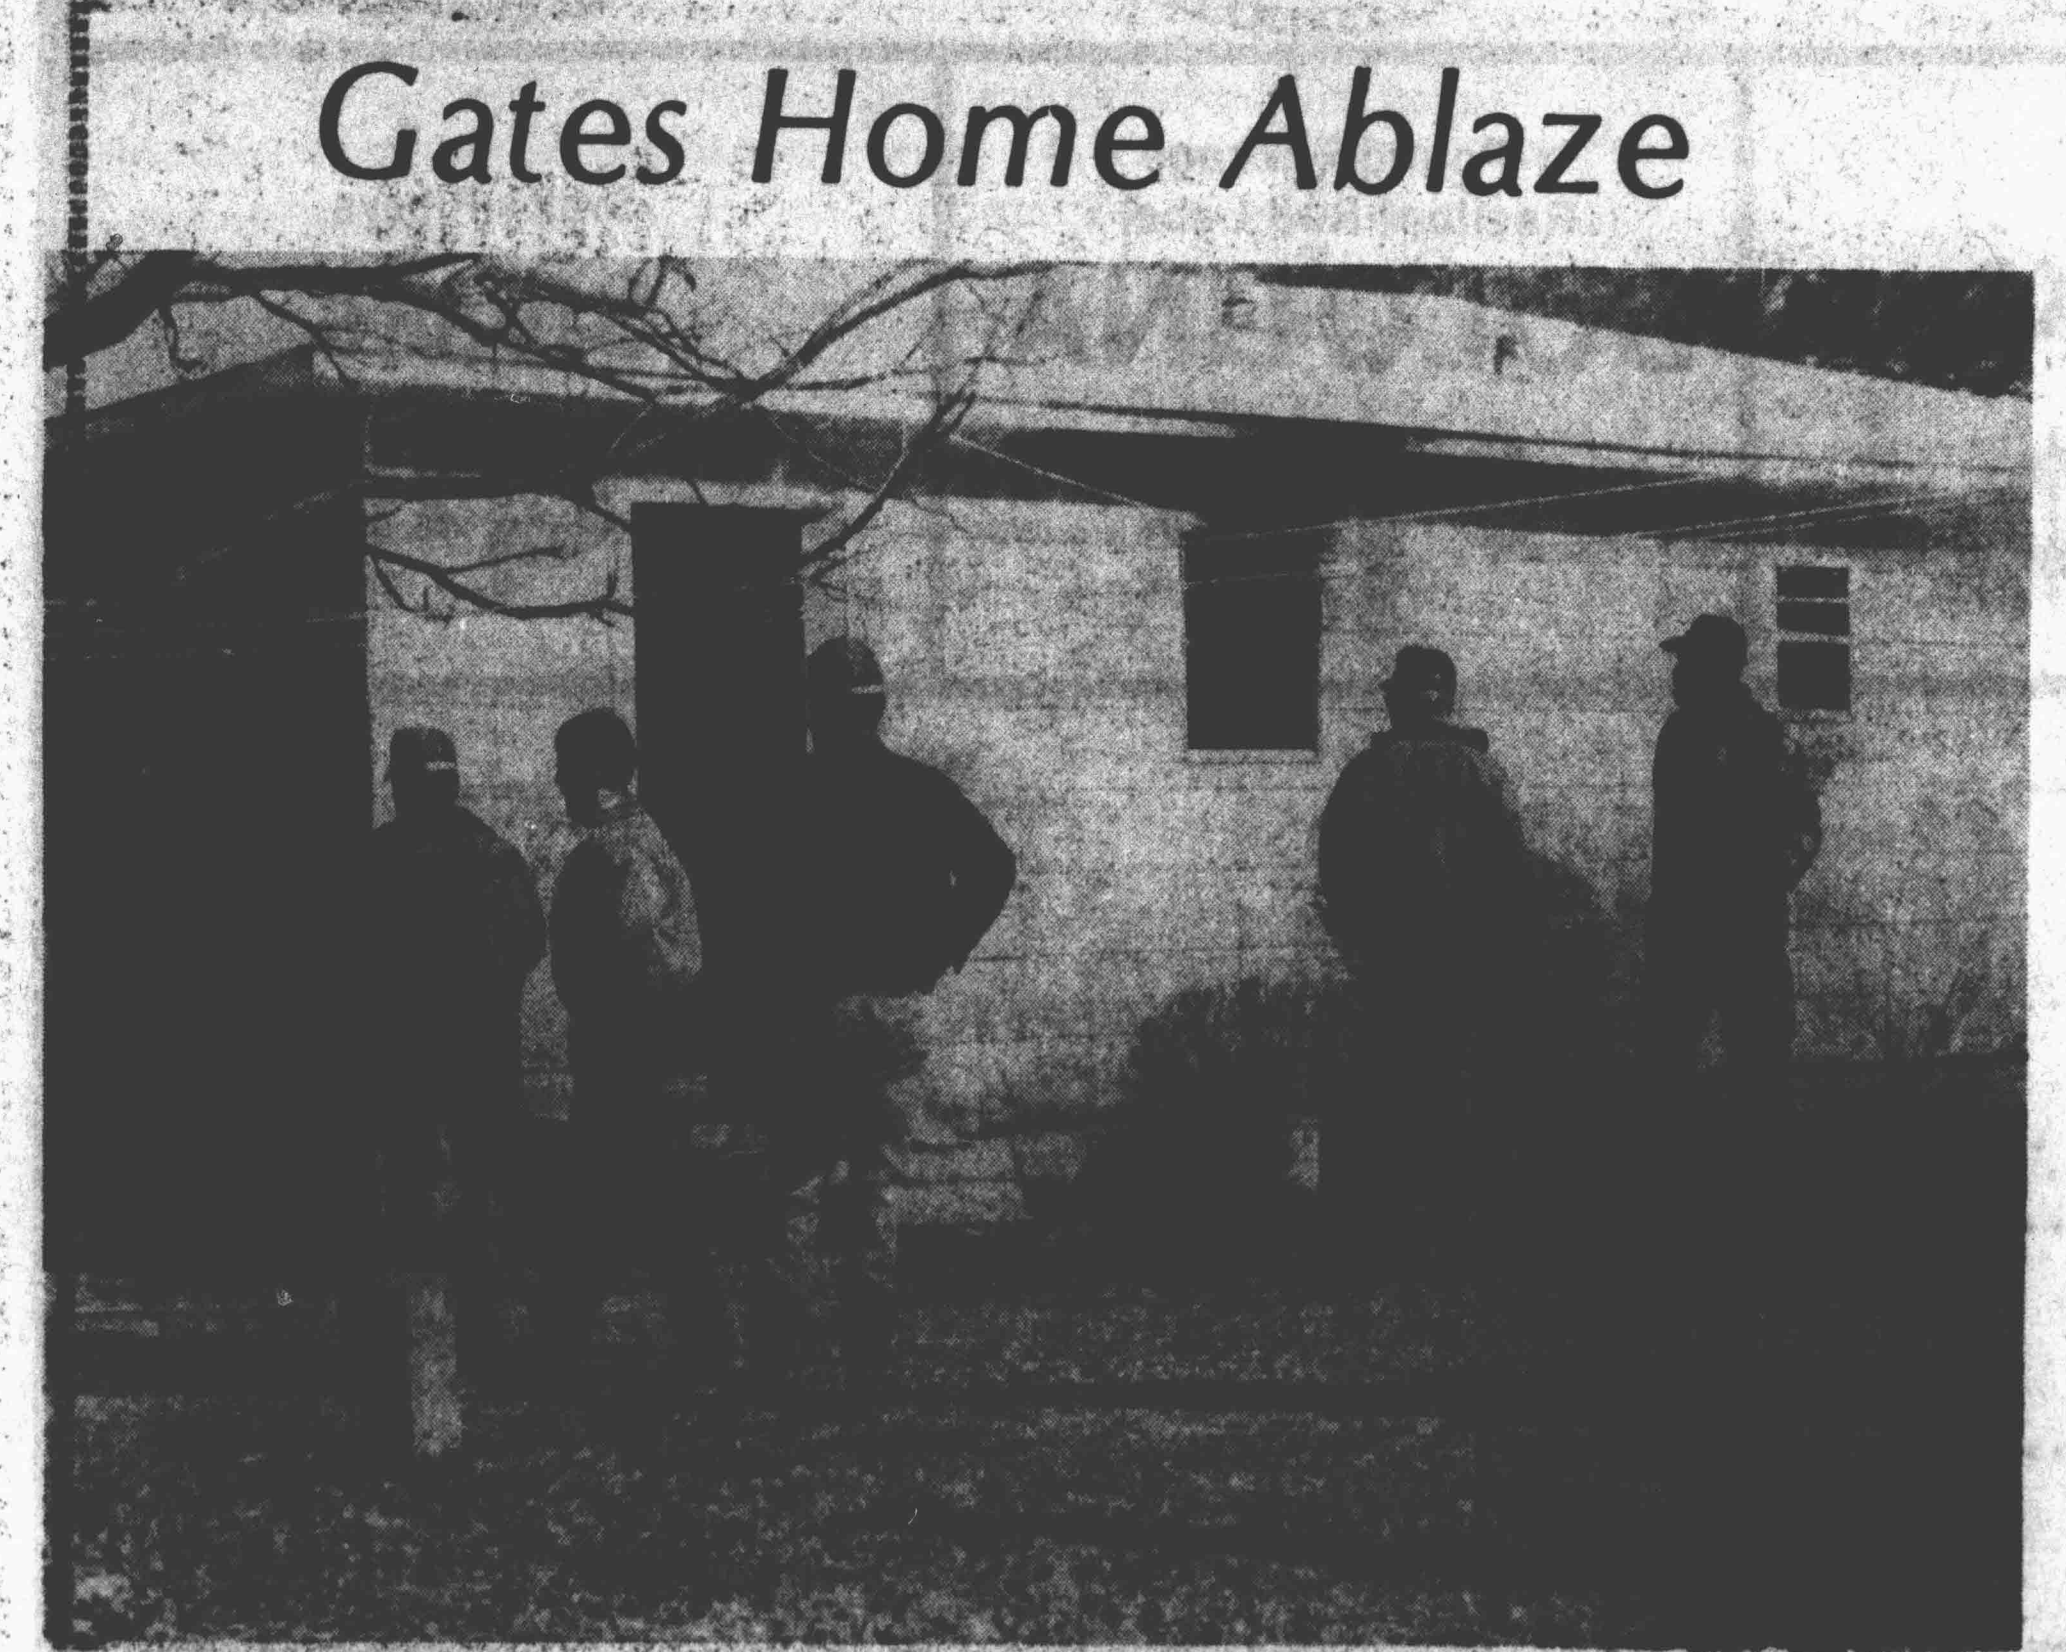

Q. I keep hearing how many of our seniors are well off and don't need their Social Security checks. Is this true?

A. No, it isn't. Today, the average monthly Social Security check is $334. That's not a lot of money these days. Yet, fully 24 percent of individuals over age 65 rely on Social Security for a least 90 percent of their income. Most of these are women. Sixty-two percent of all seniors receiving Social Security rely on it for at least 50 percent of their income, report experts at the National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare. Most rely on it for much more than half.

CONFIDENTIAL CORNER

By Henry Murchison

End Of An Era

Friday will mark the end of an era in America as President Ronald Reagan completes his two terms in office and President-Elect George Bush is sworn into office.

No matter what you may think individually, there can be no doubt that President Reagan has been one of the most admired of all U.S. presidents. He leaves office with the respect of the majority of United States citizens and the world in general. Despite the huge deficit, various scandals, and at times ridicule by the news media, Mr. Reagan has accomplished many of his objectives.

There can reasonably be many criticisms of his administration, but none can criticize his devotion to his country and his will to return the love of America to its citizens.

No one can be certain just what is in the future, but it is to be hoped that the new president will try to preserve the patriotism that has been revived during the past eight years. President Bush will face many difficult problems, but maintaining respect for their country by its citizens will go far toward helping to solve those problems.

We may be certain that we will continue to hear from President and Mrs. Reagan as they retire to their home in California. All of America wish them Godspeed and hope that they do well.

Not Racist

John Thompson, coach of the Georgetown University basketball team, Sunday walked off the court at the Georgetown-Boston College game to protest a new National Collegiate Athletics Association regulation which would require a C average in high school and a definite score on college entrance examinations.

Thompson charged that the new ruling is racist and would prohibit many black youths from receiving scholarships and thus deprive them of an opportunity to receive a college education. Several other coaches and news commentators agreed with Thompson.

The rule, which would not go into effect until August, 1990, was approved by a majority of college coaches and administrators and was in no way planned or set up to deny any group, minority or otherwise, a chance at a college athletic scholarship but was an effort to improve education for those individuals on athletic scholarships.

The protests may bring about additional study and perhaps some change, but it should not be approached as a racist issue. As one administrator stated, "College is not for everyone." Colleges should not be perceived as a training camp for professional athletes, and there is no reason why any person should be admitted to a college or university if unable to fulfill the academic requirements.

Rural Business Loans Offered

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration will launch on Tuesday a $200 million "drought and disaster" loan guarantee program for rural businesses suffering effects from 1988 weather disasters. Johnny Crow State Director for Tennessee, announced today. "Under this new program, we can guarantee up to 90% of a loan to help alleviate financial distress caused, directly or indirectly, by drought, hail, excessive moisture, or related conditions occurring in 1988," he said. "The maximum loan amount is $500,000."

The program was authorized by the Disaster Assistance Act of 1988. Interim regulations implementing the program are scheduled for Federal Register publication Tuesday, January 3, 1989, with a 60-day public comment period. "We are starting up this program at the same time we are accepting public comments because of the need of many rural businesses for financial assistance," Crow said.

The savings were achieved by taking advantage of the energy management services offered by Ripley Power & Light Co. and making some energy-saving improvements to their 12-year-old ranch, brick home.

Fed up with a house that was cold in the winter and hot in the summer, they called Platt to help plan a new heating and cooling system for their home. Platt told them about the TVA Heat Pump Financing Program offered by RPL, which provides technical assistance and low-interest financing for energy-saving home improvements.

After a visit by a home energy advisor from the power company, the Lewises added floor insulation, sun-screens on the south side of their home, and a high-efficiency electric heat pump to replace their old furnace.

The Lewises already had adequate attic insulation with an R-30, which had been put in the home during construction.

"We really like the new heating system," says Mrs. Lewis. "We are well pleased with everything," especially the bills!

In comparing energy use for the 10-month period of January through October, 1988, with the same period in 1987, the Lewises have reduced their electric consumption by 13,042 kilowatt hours.

Their most dramatic savings came in March of last year, when the bill for their all-electric home was $110.08, compared to $287.80 for March, 1987, a savings of $177.

The TVA Heat Pump Program offers consumers a free analysis of their home to see if they could benefit by the installation of a heat pump and other energy-saving improvements. Consumers may also qualify for low-interest financing to cover the cost of the heat pump and installation, with up to 10 years to repay.

Interested consumers in this area should contact Ripley Power & Light or their local electric power distributor for more information.

"And the word was made flesh..." John 1:14

There are many verses of scripture that tell us the importance of God's word, but this one brings home to us that Jesus and the word are one in the same, thus demanding our love and respect. If we know anything of God, Jesus, His church, it will be due to our knowing the word. The word of God is the testament of Christ. Hebrews 8:9,16.

He tells us it will be that which judges us in the end, there will be no surprises brought before us in judgement. It has all been laid down before us in the word. It is what convicts our hearts and spurs us to ask what we must do to be right before God. Acts 2:37. We all know the importance of faith, but to have faith in what we do, we must have God's word to provide that faith. Romans 10:17.

And it is impossible to please God without faith. Hebrews 11:6. It is where the power of God lies. "For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ for it is the power of God unto salvation. Romans 1:16.

It makes our rebirth possible. "Having been born again, not of corruptible seed, but incorruptible, through the word of God which lives and abides forever." I Peter 1:23

It is perfect therefore we need not fear following and trusting it. It cannot be improved upon. "All scripture is given by inspiration of God and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works." II Timothy 3:16,17.

I speak of these verses because many people do not know they exist. People upon entering into a contract, marriage, business partnership will invest much time and thought and rightly so. But when it comes to our spiritual salvation and security, we accept without question what we are taught; tradition becomes as binding as the word of God.

"We must realize we cannot add to or take from God's word (Revelation 22:18,19) for the consequences of doing so are terrible.

Examine your faith and convictions concerning salvation, worship and living the christian life. Compare it to what God says. If all is well, then good; but if it doesn't follow God's word, come and let us reason together. Isaiah 1:18. If you have any questions or would like a place of worship, please come visit us at the Halls Church of Christ.

CONFIDENTIAL CORNER

A Good Idea

At a meeting two weeks ago the Halls Planning Commission denied a request by a Halls citizen to establish a child care center in a residential area.

We totally agree with the commission that a child care center should not be in a residential area but we do think that the commission should establish rules and regulations for such establishments in Halls. There is a growing need and demand for child care centers.

We feel that the commission should act now in preparation for future requests. State authorities can aid with the needed information.

The continued movement of mothers into the work force make qualified and regulated child care centers necessary.

Helping Hand's Work Reported

Barbara (Mrs. George) McDaniel, of Ripley, director of Helping Hand of Lauderdale County, reports that last month, 21 volunteers working 110 hours aided 148 persons in 47 families with 879 clothing items to 42 families, 599 grocery items to 23 families, 16 toys to 11 families, and eight household items to one family.

Lin Thompson, of Ripley, board chairman, reminds the public that the new Thrift Store at 152 College in Ripley is open Monday afternoons and Friday and Saturday mornings.

He invites the public to a meeting at the same address at 7 p.m. Feb. 21st.

Halls History

By Mrs. Charles Alsobrook
Dr. Thomas B. Flynn, a neurosurgeon in Baton Rouge, La., has taken a team to Thailand for the past three years, operating and seeing patients, while working with native doctors and Thai hospitals.

Tommy wrote Elizabeth and Jim Horner from there last year, reporting harvest celebrations and celebrations of the King's 50th birthday.

The people made little containers of banana leaves or lotus flowers, added a candle and an offering of some kind, and floated the containers in rivers and lakes, so the night was aglow with candlelight.

Tommy visits his brother, The Rev. Mike Flynn, pastor of the Episcopal Church in Union City, several times each year and always flies there from Nashville, where he has business.

He has not been to Halls since the death of his grandmother, Mrs. Helen Bradford Brown, about four years ago.

She was the wife of Dr. Spence Brown, who practiced medicine in Halls until his death late in 1943.

Three or four years ago, Dotson Broglin and his wife, Margaret, bought the Brown home-place on Hall Street. The house was never really cleaned from basement to attic before it was sold to the Broglins. I took several family pictures that were found there to Mike in Union City.

About a year ago, one of the most interesting things found in the attic was Cousin Spence's medicine bag and his account book, which reads as a diary. Some of the prices he allowed patients to give him on their accounts were "1 1/2 gal. blackberries 20¢, two frying size chickens 30¢, 1 bu. potatoes 25¢," and on and on with what the Internal Revenue Service today would call bartering.

He also had a page of Charles Alsobrook accounts: "treating wife and child in Gurnall Drug Store $1.50" (I wonder if he mopped our throats and then wrote the prescription for what he mopped it with; I think it must have been, for after he died, I would still go to Connell's and get Will Cherry to mop my throat).

Another story Charles tells about my Cousin Spence is that Dr. Brown charged $25 for a delivery but had never been paid for several deliveries for one mother. Like the boy who hollered "wolf" once too often, he was just not going to aid her any more—she could just get someone else.

Abe Simon was in the drug store with a bunch who hung out there, and he said, "Come on boys, lets give Doc that $25 and let him go and help that poor woman." They did, and he did.

Tommy has a real urge to spend some time in Halls as he hasn't been here since Gam (his grandmother, they called her that because she had such pretty legs, or gams) died.

He has a standing invitation to the Horner house in Dyersburg or the Alsobrook house in Halls, if he brings his mother, Helen (Mrs. T. T.) Flynn, with him. She also resides in Baton Rouge.

Some of us will go to Union City to get him and take him back when he is ready. He may not like our services, but he will certainly like our prices.

Halls Girls Steam Into 3rd Rank In State Poll

Halls High School's girls led Greenfield 55-46 Friday to push their season record to 19-0, their District 14-A record to 7-0, and their ranking in the Associated Press poll to third, up from fourth a week earlier.

They won again Tuesday from Dresden, 69-61, outside the district. Pam Hutcherson posted 26 points, Kecia Miller 18, and Paula Hutcherson 12.

Halls doubled Greenfield in the first period, 19-8, but was out-scored in the second to hold a half-time lead of 29-20. Halls had a strong third quarter, 14-8, to stand off an 18-12 Greenfield edge in the final stanza.

Halls' boys escaped with Greenfield—14-17, 21-16, and 18-21 in the first three periods—to lag 75-74 with nine seconds left.

Sophomore Louis Williams sank a 16-foot jumper for the win. Halls boys won Tuesday from Dresden, 65-61, for a season record of 9-10, 5-2 in the district.

Entrants Sought For LiftAmerica

Lift or join a 5-member team (women welcomed—only one participated last year) to lift weights in the LiftAmerica (benefitting Special Olympics) in Ripley High School's Physical Education Building Feb. 6th.

LiftAmericans solicit pledges; they do not collect money. Their performance determines the amount of the pledge, collected by mail.

Participants receive prizes based on the amount of money collected by LiftAmerica within 45 days of the event.

Last year's event raised more than $1,100. It led the state. This year's goal is $3,000.

There is no single cat called a panther. The name is commonly applied to the leopard, puma, and the jaguar.

The cat-gut used to make strings for violins and tennis rackets has nothing to do with cats. The word comes from hit, an old term for a small fiddle.

Sunday School 10:00
Worship Service 11:00

We are one of the newer churches in our county. Our church was dedicated the first Sunday in October, 1957. We are proud of our church. We have a very simple message: The Bible, Jesus Christ crucified for the sins of the whole sinful world. He is our Savior, our Comforter, our Lord. He is the Lord of Lords and the King of Kings. John 1:1 "Let not your hearts be troubled, you believe in God, believe also in me. In my father's house are many mansions. If it were not so I would have told you. I go and prepare a place for you and if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you to myself, that where I am there you may be also. Whither I go, you know the way. Thomas saith unto Him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest and how can we know the way? Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life and no one cometh unto the Father but by me." We pray in His name, we trust Him for our salvation.
Romans 10:12-15—For whoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. How then shall they call on Him in whom they have not believed and how shall they believe in Him in whom they have not heard, how shall they hear without a preacher and how shall he preach except he be sent.

Jones and Dale Jones and son, Ashley, of Chisholm Lake Road, Erle Kissell and son, Shawn, of Dry Hill, Corey Kissell, of Woodville, and Myron Kissell, of Ripley, had lunch with the Ihmer Kissella Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Luther Wilson and sons, Chris and Bradley, of Memphis, spent Friday night and Saturday with the Kissells.

Jake Kitchens was ill last week. Warren Hardy and Ward Hardy were in Memphis for medical check-ups last week.

The following policies have been approved by the Lauderdale County Board of Education and will be effective in all Lauderdale County Schools beginning February 1, 1989.

I. Visitors Meals
Visitors eating breakfast or lunch in the schools shall pay:

Breakfast—$1.00
Lunch—$1.60

This is anyone not employed by the Lauderdale County Department of Education.

II. Charged Meals
A student or an adult may charge for two days only. The two days charge must be paid before another charge can be made. A partial meal charge cannot be made and ala carte items including extra milk cannot be charged. Students may pay by the day, week, month or year for their breakfast and lunch.

III. Returned Checks
Persons giving checks to the school cafeteria which are returned due to insufficient funds shall have five days from the time they are notified to pick up the check and make payment plus a $5.00 handling fee. A check will no longer be accepted if two checks from a family have been returned during a school year for insufficient funds.

IV. Handling Lost, Stolen, and Misused Meal Tickets
The Lauderdale County Board of Education is establishing the following policy for handling lost, stolen and misused meal tickets:

1. Each student will be allowed three ticket replacements each year.
2. The school will maintain a list of students who have reported missing tickets in the current school year and the number of occurrences for each student. Prior to denying a meal to a student without a ticket, the list will be reviewed to determine if the student has already had three ticket replacements.
3. One advance written notice will be given to the student and the parent prior to refusal to allow additional meals or ticket replacement.
4. Meals will always be provided to preprimary and young primary students and for any handicapped students who may be unable to take full responsibility for a meal ticket.
5. The ticket replacement policy is for free, reduced, and full price tickets.

Mr. Farmer:

What is your opinion of commodity check-offs?

Do you know that the American Soybean Association is going to ask for a mandatory check-off in the amount of 1/2 of 1% of the value of your soybeans with no right of refund?

If you are interested in attending a meeting to discuss this and other matters of concern to your farming operation, please contact Mr. James L. Jones, Phone 836-5196 or 836-9309.

COOK IT LIGHT

CARROT PUDDING, HEALTHFUL REVISION

Dear Jeanne:

Could you reduce the calorie count, fat and sugar in the following holiday recipe? Thank you.
Beverly Reynolds
East Northport, N.Y.

CARROT PUDDING

- 1 cup dark brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/4 cups whole-wheat flour
- 2 tablespoons freshly squeezed lemon juice
- 2 teaspoons freshly grated lemon rind
- 1/4 pound carrots, grated (2 cups)
- 1. Cream together the margarine and sugar. Add the apple juice concentrate and egg substitute and mix well.
- 2. In a separate bowl, combine the baking soda, baking powder, cinnamon, nutmeg and flour. Add to the liquid ingredients and mix well.
- 3. Add the lemon juice, lemon rind and carrots to the batter mixture. Pour into a round or square cake pan. Bake at 350 F for 1 hour. Makes 12 servings.

Each serving contains approximately:

Original Recipe:
Calories: 283
Cholesterol: 46 mg
Fat: 17 gm
Sodium: 350 mg

Revised Recipe:
Calories: 145
Cholesterol: Negligible
Fat: 5 gm
Sodium: 227 mg

I was able to achieve a wonderful revision in one try on this recipe! I'm not always so lucky, but since the original was very greasy and you wanted a pudding with less fat I knew I had to greatly reduce the amount of margarine called for in your recipe. I substituted apple juice concentrate for some of the moisture, and the sweetness of the fruit juice also allowed me to reduce the sugar.

Liquid egg substitute replaces the eggs, and I used whole-wheat flour instead of the unsifted "flour" in the original recipe. I also specified freshly squeezed lemon juice since I feel the flavor is so much better than the juice you get from a bottle.

LIGHT CARROT PUDDING

- 1/4 cup corn-oil margarine
- 1/4 cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed
- 1/4 cup apple juice concentrate, thawed

Send your recipe for revision to: COOK IT LIGHT, P.O. Box 1212, La Jolla, CA 92038

SZECHUAN SENSATION FOR THE YEAR OF THE SERPENT

On February 8 the Chinese New Year will begin. We will bid farewell to the Year of the Dragon and toast to a happy and prosperous Year of the Serpent.

The Chinese New Year offers a wonderful opportunity for all of us to celebrate with our families and friends and, of course, to serve Chinese food. My own favorite Chinese dish for parties is Szechuan Noodles with Peanut Sauce. Unlike so many Chinese dishes that have to be prepared just before serving, this one can be prepared ahead of time.

Szechuan food is traditionally hot and spicy. To help control the calories from fat in this unusual dish, I have used a dark sesame oil to achieve maximum flavor for the calories consumed. If you would prefer a hotter sauce, add a bit more crushed red pepper but remember, a little bit goes a long way!

SZECHUAN NOODLES WITH PEANUT SAUCE

- 10 ounces dry Oriental-style noodles (4 cups cooked)
- 1/4 cup plain non-fat yogurt
- 2 teaspoons sugar
- 1/4 teaspoons low-sodium soy sauce
- 1/4 teaspoon dark sesame oil
- 1/4 garlic clove, finely chopped
- 1/4 teaspoon crushed red pepper flakes (or to taste)

1. Combine all the ingredients in a blender container and blend until smooth. Refrigerate in a tightly covered container. Makes 1 cup.
Each serving contains approximately:
Calories: 354
Cholesterol: 7 mg
Fat: 13 gm
Sodium: 79 mg

Nothing fishy about it—one of the founder's eyes travels to the other side of its head as the fish devorages. The winter founder's eyes are on its right side, while the summer founder's eyes are on its left.

Congressman JOHN TANNER REPORTS TO THE EIGHTH DISTRICT

The opening day of a new legislative session is always exciting. There are always moving ceremonies that mean so much to our nation's great institutions; and of course, there is the impressive swearing-in ceremony which takes on even more significance for a first term Member of Congress like myself.

Adding another element of excitement is the historic nature of the 101st Congress. It marks the beginning of the third century of existence of the institution that our Founding Fathers felt was essential to the democratic form of government that reflected the will of its people. Even with its faults, the Congress of the United States remains an institution that reflects, better than any other legislative body in the world, a government based upon the idea that power should always be vested in the people.

As I am finding out firsthand, the membership of the Congress is comprised of people from all walks of life — from the big cities of the east to the majestic forests of the northwest and everything in between. They represent congressional districts that are as widely diverse as our nation is as a whole. This diversity is one characteristic of our 50 states, essential to our national strength.

On a more practical level, the first week of a new Congress is also filled with the turmoil of new Members receiving their office space and completing the always chaotic task of moving boxes and scattered in the hallways and cleaning crews go from office to office preparing for the arrival of new tenants.

I was fortunate to be assigned Room 512 in the Cannon House Office Building, the oldest and most historic of the House office buildings.

The Cannon Building was built in 1906 and named for Speaker Joe Cannon whose legacy includes the mandate that the House Restaurant System serve bean soup every day on its lunch menu.

The day after the swearing-in of the 101st Congress, I was assigned a seat on the powerful Armed Services Committee, which maintains jurisdiction over national security issues. That is going to be a challenging and important assignment in an area that has interested me all of my life.

I feel confident that my military experience and my commitment to a strong, efficient national defense will be helpful as I take on this important task. This committee assignment should also be helpful to the Eighth District because of two military installations and a major munitions manufacturing facility located in our area, all three of which play important roles in providing economic opportunity for workers in our area.

My second committee assignment was the Science, Space, and Technology Committee which has legislative jurisdiction over all scientific research programs as well as America's space program.

These assignments and other important issues facing our great country promise a challenging two years ahead. I invite every resident of the Eighth District to share with me their views and opinions so that I can accurately reflect their concerns and aspirations. I will make myself accessible to you through such efforts as the Winter Listening Tour now underway to further seek your comments and views. I will continue to make these weekly reports in an effort to keep you informed of my activities and my positions on issues of importance to the Eighth District and our nation.

They come from hometowns just like yours. Men and women dedicating themselves to serving you and the nation in the U.S. Navy. So wherever they are, they're out there for you. Remember...

It's your Navy.
