Congressman JOHN TANNER REPORTS TO THE EIGHTH DISTRICT

The American patriotic spirit is always high as our country celebrates its day of independence on the Fourth of July. This week's festivities in communities throughout our country and the Eighth District of Tennessee are certain to be colorful and poignant as we Americans take time to commemorate the freedoms we all share and remember the millions of Americans who have sacrificed so much to defend those freedoms.

That spirit was never more evident than it was recently as Americans from across the entire political spectrum raised objections to the Supreme Court's ruling which allows the burning of the American flag. By a vote of 5-4, the Court ruled that burning the flag as a political protest was protected under the First Amendment guarantee of freedom of speech.

Ironically, the five votes in favor of that ruling included some of the Court's most conservative members as well as its most liberal members. It was an unusual coalition of legal and philosophical contrasts.

This case needlessly extended freedom of speech to actions taken to protest government policy. Our freedom of speech guaranteed in the Constitution allows Americans to criticize or disagree with government policy as adopted by the President, the Congress, or any other government entity. It says that anyone with a grievance against any policy, or even in disagreement with conventional wisdom of the day, can take exception with those policies without fear of recrimination. That is an absolute freedom which all Americans support. Extending that freedom to an inciteful action such as burning the flag is unnecessary.

That is why I have joined a number of my colleagues in the House to sponsor legislation calling for a constitutional amendment prohibiting the desecration of the American flag. The flag is a very special symbol of our country and our freedom. It is recognized by all people. For Americans, it is also a daily reminder of the enormous price that has been paid in blood by literally millions of Americans who have fought in defense of freedom.

The disappointment with the ruling of the Supreme Court is non-partisan. President Bush last week added his support to a Constitutional Amendment prohibiting the desecration of the flag. We may have differences of opinion when it comes to policy choices, but we are all Americans when it comes to our desires to see America remain the leader of the free world.

During this particular Independence Day commemoration, I hope all Tennesseans as well as all Americans will reaffirm our shared commitment to the freedoms we enjoy and the symbols that remind us of how privileged we are to live in a nation that affords us liberties that most other people of the world hope to achieve.

Cimmarron

Eva Jo Hensley — Chet Richardson
Tony Webb — Randy Parsons — Eddie Mack Owen — Jim Glover

Cimmarron is composed of Tony Webb, of Halls, Randy Parsons, Jim Glover, and Eddie Mack Owen, all of Covington, Chet Richardson, of Memphis, and Eva Jo Walker Hensley who was raised in Lauderdale County. To be exact, she was raised as far down in the Ashport Bottoms as you could get. Her husband, Jimmie Hensley, is the band's manager and sound technician.

Cimmarron has done many free benefits for local and state politicians, as well as civic organizations such as the yearly Adult Activity Center dance for their clients. This local talent proudly takes part in many civic and charity affairs.

The Bama Band

Nominated two years in a row for "Band of the Year" by the Academy of Country Music, this is the back-up band for Hank Williams, Jr.

From ballads to boogie, country, R&B, soul, and rock 'n' roll—the Bama Band is good family entertainment.

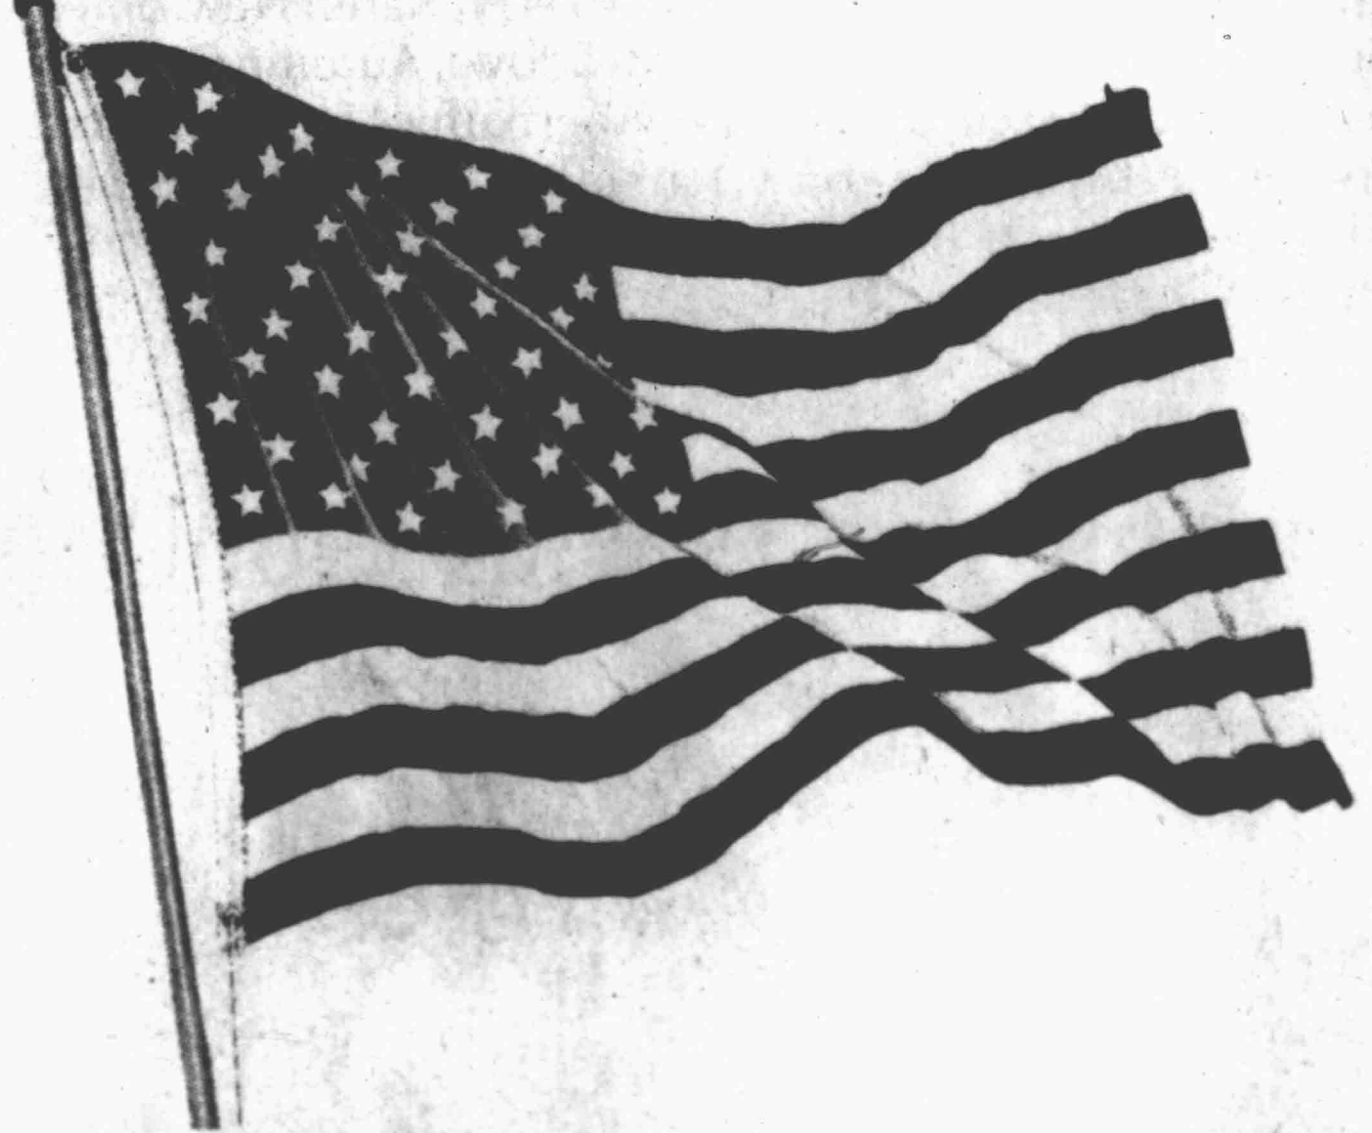

This year the Fraternal Order of Police is sponsoring a "July Jam" on the Tiny Knee Football Field at Ripley High School. Money from ticket sales and ads in the program will help to replenish the FOP fund, which will enable them to continue their efforts for the people of Lauderdale County.

Fraternal Order of Police is made up of any law enforcement office in this area who wishes to join. They are a non-profit organization, and Mr. George Crabb is now serving as president.

FOP quietly, and without recognition, donates much to civic and charity organizations, such as the Girl and Boy Scouts, and distributing fruit baskets and food baskets to the needy and those families who have lost their homes to fire. They recently gave funds toward the purchase of a video camera for Halls High School. This will enable the team to view tapes of their football games.

During the holidays the FOP yearly gives hams and turkeys to older people who live alone. Following the Hatchie River Bridge collapse in April in which eight Lauderdale County residents lost their lives, the FOP was there to assist in many ways, including donating their time and food for fellow workers. They are a proud sponsor of the "Just Say No" program to help eliminate drugs and their sale to our children.

The FOP does much more, so remember this when it comes time to purchase your ticket to the "July Jam".

CONFIDENTIAL CORNER

Vandalism Must Be Stopped

Many citizens are greatly concerned about reports of vandalism and petty thievery in the area. Windows have been broken in school buildings, false fire alarms have been reported and an attempt has been made to burn the house which Mr. and Mrs. John Sammons are building at a sub-division off Highway 51 near Halls. Such acts must be stopped before they balloon into much more serious crimes. We have unconfirmed reports of broken glass in cars, the painting of satanic emblems on county roads, and of course two automobiles and a church have been burned in the Frog Jump community. Police will not be able to control these activities without the assistance of private citizens. Anyone seeing persons hanging around school buildings, churches, and other public buildings during unusual hours should notify the police at once. Parents should determine where their children are and what they are doing. This is not to say that teenagers or any particular race or group is responsible for these acts of vandalism. Everyone must help.

Personal Opinion

We can't say whether we were enraged or outraged at the Supreme Court decision ruling that burning of the American flag is not illegal. The Court ruled that a man who burned the flag in 1984 should not have to serve a jail sentence imposed by a Texas Court.

By a 5-4 decision the Court felt that the Texas law was a violation of the freedom of speech portion of the Bill of Rights. Very few American citizens agree with the decision and it seems likely that an amendment to the Constitution will be passed forbidding the desecration of the flag. We hope so!

Other recent rulings are just as controversial. The Court ruled 9-0 that dial-a-pornography telephone line is legal and cannot be stopped under the Bill of Rights. Perhaps this is a correct ruling but certainly there should be some means to prevent this type of pornography available to under-age children. Reports say that small children are running up hundreds of dollars in long distance telephone bills making such calls.

We are of mixed opinion on the abortion ruling, we do not believe that abortion at will is correct but we do believe that abortion is acceptable under certain circumstances. We think both sides of the issue are entirely wrong in their contentions and that a middle ground is needed.

Over the years we have generally supported the stand of the National Rifle Association concerning the ownership of firearms but we believe they are entirely out of line in opposing the banning of assault rifles. Also we see no reason why they should oppose a waiting period and licensing of pistols. Such laws could possibly prevent the easy acquisition of pistols by criminals and certainly should not prevent private citizens from owning or purchasing pistols if they wish. We don't think there is any need for control of shotguns and hunting rifles. The NRA would do well to re-think their stand.

Halls Board Approves Budget And Tax Rate

After public hearings Monday evening, Halls' Board of Mayor and Aldermen approved on second reading the amended 1988-89 city budget and the proposed 1989-90 budget.

It approved on second reading the 1989-90 $1.16 property tax rate, a 15 m.p.h. speed zone in Beech Bluff sub-division. It removed restrictions on city employee vacations the week of 4th of July.

Mayor Randy Harris and Aldermen Eugene Pugh and Noel Sherrod met last week with the county ambulance committee to discuss problems with availability of the ambulance station in Halls. The county committee is meeting Thursday evening at Ripley.

Nelda Sump was named activities director at Halls Senior Citizens' Center, succeeding Mrs. Harry Wright, who has resigned.

The Board approved a request by Crafco, Inc. for a railroad spur, with the provision that Crafco assume maintenance costs. Other firms may use the spur after agreement with Crafco to share costs.

After a complaint by Mrs. Mildred O'Steen about stray dogs, the Board agreed to call a public hearing for possible enforcement of a leash law.

Rains Have Upped Early Corn Yields

By Charles T. Peal

Corn producers who planted early can look forward to an excellent yield. A user of large amounts of water, the roasting ear stage, has benefited from the plentiful moisture.

Cotton has amazed everybody. From a slow growth beginning, it has exploded in growth to the point producers are making successive applications of PEX, a growth retardant that shortens internodes but allows the plant to fruit normally, makes for better boll development and better picking.

Jerry Parker reports a high percentage of cotton producers spraying for boll weevils and plant bugs. Jerry says that squares are large enough and weevils are already active, as evidenced by flared squares in some fields.

If producers can slow the vegetative growth of cotton and convert to the fruiting stage and we have hot, dry weather, yields could be excellent.

While some crops have benefited from the moisture, our more than 600 acres of tomatoes have regressed. Development of three smooth marketable bottom clusters caused producers to be optimistic. But along came frequent rains in June, accompanied by high humidity which encouraged diseases.

Even spraying with the best fungicides, growers could not prevent rapid development, retarding the size of the fourth, fifth, and sixth clusters. Additionally, cool nights in late May and early June resulted in cat-faced fruits.

Heavy rain July 2nd completely wiped out some of the late crop, which had an even better potential than the early one.

CRP Winding Down

The next sign-up for the Conservation Reserve Program will be held at the County Agricultural Soil and Conservation Service July 17th through Aug. 4th. The final sign-up authorized by the Food Security Act of 1985 will probably be held in February and March, 1990.

U.S. acreage in the program now exceeds 30,000,000 acres. The legislative goal of the program is 40 to 45 million. However, total acreage enrolled in the CRP now exceeds acreage which was involved in the Soil Bank program of the 1950s and 1960s, making the CRP the largest long-term cropland retirement program in U.S. history.

Tennessee acreage in CRP now stands at just over 400,000. Lauderdale County CRP acreage stands at 11,510.

Time is running out for farmers to enter eligible cropland into the program. For

Porter Attending State Conference

Brad Porter, of Woodville, is among 160 youths attending a state 4-H Academic Conference in Knoxville this Tuesday through Friday.

Participants were selected on the basis of demonstrations given in their project areas as well as their individual project records. They are getting an in-depth look at college courses required in animal, plant, and soil science and home economics curricula.

The program also explores career opportunities in the fields of agriculture and home economics. It includes a trip to Dollywood and a graduation banquet.

A gift from the Tennessee Farmers' Cooperative is sponsoring the event. The organization manufactures, processes and distributes a variety of farm supplies across the state.

State Horse Show Wins Are Posted

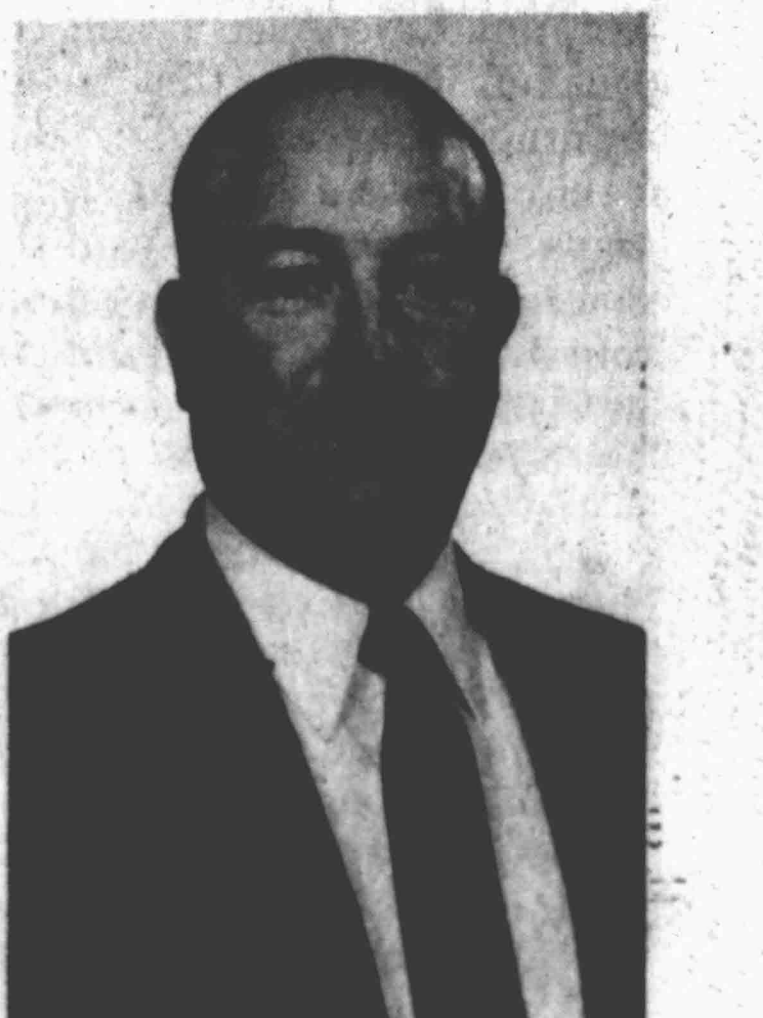

Three Lauderdale County 4-H horse project members participated in the state 4-H Horse Show June 22nd-24th on the Tennessee Walking Horse National Celebration Grounds in Shelbyville.

P. J. Jackson, of Halls, placed first with his Junior Halter Gelding, first in Ponies Under Halter, fourth in Junior Showmanship, fourth in Junior Barrel Racing, sixth in Senior Geldings, and tenth in Junior Pole Bending.

Chris Gibbons, of Halls, placed first in junior high barrel racing and second in junior high pole bending.

Honored

WILLIAM G. PARKER, of Ripley, has won the Vernon and Ida Darter Award for Excellence among Associate Extension Agents.

The award was presented to 'Jerry' during the annual Awards and Promotion banquet June 30th at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville.

The award is named for the Extension dean emeritus and his wife.

Parker's expertise ranges from livestock and crop production to management and marketing. Two of his clients have been state winners at the Tennessee Grassland and Forage Council Convention.

He has helped producers in Lauderdale County update swine facilities, set up farrowing schedules to increase production per sow, and secured swine scales for their use. As a result, swine numbers have increased by 5.5% in two years.

Under his leadership, cotton acreage enrolled in the Integrated Pest Management Program has tripled to nearly 6,000 acres.

'Jerry' is conscientious and thorough in providing information, recommendations, and guidance to our clientele,' says county Extension Leader Charles T. Peal. 'We are proud to have him on our team.'

Extension Agent is Jerry's new title, as of July 1st. His length of service and quality of performance, plus his master's degree, earned him this advancement.

Three Ballots Fail To Fill CC Vacancy

The County Commission's meeting Monday, in three ballots, failed to produce the 13 votes required to elect a successor to Anderson Bentley, resigning from the Commission for health reasons.

None of three candidates—The Rev. L. C. Hayslett, The Rev. Jessie Kiestler, and James H. Reviere—could get 13 votes. The matter was postponed until next month's session.

The Commission approved a real estate tax rate of $2.83 per $100 assessed valuation, unchanged from the previous rate.

Complaints about the Ambulance Authority's service to the Halls area were referred to a committee headed by Charlie Moore, of Ripley, with P. B. Bridges, Lawson Chipman, Steve Fulen, and Eugene Pugh as other members.

The committee will meet at 7:30 p.m. this Thursday in the Ambulance Authority station (basement of the old Lauderdale County Hospital) in Ripley, public invited.

From Forked Deer Onto Family Feud

The Jack Walden family, of Forked Deer, has been chosen to appear on Family Feud at 6 p.m. Friday at Libertyland.

Their entry, a half bushel basket with a layer of dirt centered with a tomato plant and surrounded by tomatoes, with each participant's name on a business card hanging from the branches, was selected by Channel 13 from more than 1,000 entries.

If they win Friday, they will compete again Saturday, and if they are final winners, they will have the use of a van for a week, spend a week at Dollywood, and have dinner with Dolly Parton.

much marginal cropland in the state, the CRP will generate a larger net income than average net income from cropping the land for 10 years.

The CRP has an additional benefit as a compliance alternative in conservation plans. The County Board of Education will meet at 6:30 p.m. July 12th in the Education Building.

COOK IT LIGHT
JEANNE JONES

MIDDLE EASTERN ONE-DISH MEAL

One of my own favorite recipes in my new pamphlet, Easy and Nutritious One-Dish Meals, is for Moroccan Chicken with Couscous. This delightfully different Middle Eastern dish can also be made with turkey or rabbit instead of chicken.

Couscous is a fine, cereal-like pasta which is typically served as a side dish or accompaniment with Moroccan meals. In this recipe I added it to the other ingredients because it adds such an interesting texture and it can be served in just one bowl.

I like to serve this dish with a tart apple and raisin salad on the side.

MOROCCAN CHICKEN WITH COUSCOUS

6 cups defatted chicken stock
1 medium onion, finely chopped (1 1/2 cups)
1/2 teaspoon salt (omit if using salted stock)
1/2 cup canned garbanzo beans (chick peas), drained
1 medium turnip, peeled and cut into bite-size pieces (2 cups)

1 medium yam, peeled and cut into bite-size pieces (2 cups)
1 cup canned peeled tomatoes
1 1/4 teaspoons ground coriander
1 1/4 teaspoons ground cumin
1 cup uncooked couscous
3/4 pound cooked chicken breast, without skin, cut into bite-size pieces (3 cups)
Chopped chives, for garnish

1. Combine the stock, onions and salt and bring to a boil. Reduce the heat and simmer for 1 hour, uncovered. Add the beans, vegetables and spices and cook for 20 minutes more or until vegetables are just tender. Do not overcook. During the last three minutes, add the couscous.

2. Just before serving, stir in the cooked chicken and sprinkle with the chopped chives.

Makes 6 (2-cup) servings.

Congressman JOHN TANNER REPORTS TO THE EIGHTH DISTRICT

"Ask not what your country can do for you — ask what you can do for your country" is a widely known quote from the Inaugural Address of President John Kennedy. The spirit of service to our country contained in that remark led to the creation of the Peace Corps, VISTA, and other programs of voluntary service to America.

Recently, President Bush submitted to the country and the Congress a new program aimed at encouraging all Americans to give of their talent and their time in service to others. Basically, the President's proposal calls for the creation of a four year, $100 million government-chartered foundation to encourage the identification, replication, and reward of successful volunteer programs, and assist in the development of new community leaders.

This idea of a new approach to "national service" has been under development for some time. President Bush presented his proposal only after appropriate discussions with outside groups and debate within the White House. His support for such a proposal adds to the momentum that already exists in the Congress for such a program.

At last count, 23 pieces of legislation had been introduced in the Congress before the President made his proposal known. Most of them are new proposals; but some expand existing volunteer programs, and some reauthorize current programs. Many of them offer incentives for people to enter into voluntary service by providing student assistance, forgiveness for federal student loans, or credit toward the purchase of a home in exchange for civilian or military service.

As this legislation develops, it appears that there is a major point of disagreement which focuses on the costs of a national service program to the government. President Bush's proposal calls for a $25 million a year expenditure that would be matched by a like amount from private donors, but there would be no benefits from government programs.

Congressional initiatives, on the other hand, offer various incentives such as student assistance to attend college or forgiveness of federal student loans.

Another point of controversy may also develop on whether or not to require recipients of federal student assistance to earn their benefits by participating in a service program.

Before final action is taken on this legislation, it could become a package with a price tag in the neighborhood of several hundred millions of dollars. Obviously legislation of that magnitude will have to be considered carefully in light of its impact on the budget while it is also evaluated in terms of the benefits such a program of national service may hold for the future of our country.

The wordmark gets its name from the Dutch for "earth pig." It's nose looks somewhat pig-like, but it's not related.

Congressman JOHN TANNER REPORTS TO THE EIGHTH DISTRICT

Even as the House of Representatives was preparing to accept the resignation of Speaker Jim Wright, it was also taking time to commemorate the many contributions of its oldest member, Congressman Claude Pepper who died at the age of 88 on May 30. Mr. Pepper was a legend within the Congress and throughout the country. He was known as a champion of the elderly, but his contributions to our country spanned 50 years of public service and numerous major developments that occurred during his lifetime. To place proper historical perspective on Mr. Pepper, known as "Senator" to his colleagues, he met both Orville Wright with his brother, Howard, who flew the first airplane and the crew of the Apollo 11 space mission which landed on the moon. He viewed Halley's Comet both times it was visible in this century — in 1910 and again in 1986. Congressman Pepper served with 10 Presidents and literally thousands of Members of Congress during the 44 years he served as a Senator from Florida (1936-50) and the 26 years he served in the House (1962-89). During his lifetime, he saw our nation go from horse drawn buggies to T-Models to high technology vehicles capable of traversing the surface of the moon. Early in his tenure in the Senate, he recognized the danger of Adolph Hitler and became a vociferous opponent of the Nazi regime in Germany. With knowledge gleaned from a trip to Germany in the late 1930s, he was a firm supporter of America's Lend Lease program enacted to support Western Europe in its war against Germany. Even before it became fashionable to do so, Mr. Pepper fought against McCarthyism and organized crime and supported civil rights for all Americans. He was a strong supporter of President Franklin Roosevelt's New Deal, and through

CHICKEN BREASTS IN CHAMPAGNE SAUCE
 1/4 cup flour
 1/4 cup butter
 4 chicken breasts, boned and skinned
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 1 pound sliced mushrooms
 1 1/2 cups heavy cream
 1/4 cup champagne
 1. Mix the flour, salt and pepper, roll the chicken in it.
 2. Heat the butter in a large skillet. Lightly brown chicken breasts.
 3. Add the sliced mushrooms to skillet, cover and cook 10 minutes.
 4. Remove chicken and mushrooms and wipe skillet clean.
 5. Return chicken and mushrooms to skillet and add heavy cream. Simmer over low heat 10 minutes. Transfer breasts to warm serving dish.
 6. Add champagne to sauce in skillet. Bring to rapid boil and cook until sauce is reduced to a creamy consistency, 3 to 5 minutes. (For a thicker sauce, add cornstarch or arrowroot that has been mixed with a little of the sauce.)

Serves 4.
 Dear Donna:
 This is indeed a tasty recipe. I have been able to lower the cholesterol and fat by substituting evaporated skim milk for the heavy cream and corn-oil margarine for the butter. My revision is still creamy and delicious and the champagne flavor is more predominant without so much fat to hide its flavor.

I have also reduced the salt and slightly altered the cooking method. The chicken doesn't need to cook for 20 minutes, and I think the shorter time in my method results in more tender and flavorful meat. I hope you agree that even though my revision is light, it is still a heavy-hitter in flavor.

REVISED CHICKEN BREASTS IN CHAMPAGNE SAUCE
 1/4 cup unbleached flour
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
 4 chicken breasts, boned and skinned (12 ounces)

2 teaspoons corn-oil margarine
 1 pound mushrooms, sliced (8 cups)
 2 tablespoons corn-oil margarine
 3 tablespoons unbleached flour
 1 1/2 cups evaporated skim milk
 1/4 cup champagne
 1. Mix together the 1/4 cup flour, salt and pepper. Roll each chicken breast in the mixture and shake off any excess.
 2. Melt 2 teaspoons margarine in a large non-stick skillet. Over medium heat, lightly brown chicken. Add sliced mushrooms, cover and cook for 5 minutes. Remove chicken and mushrooms from skillet with a slotted spoon. Pour off any remaining liquid and wipe skillet clean.
 3. Melt 2 tablespoons margarine in the same skillet over low heat. Add the 3 tablespoons flour and cook for 4

TRULY VEGETARIAN SPAGHETTI

Spaghetti squash is such a fun vegetable. It produces truly vegetarian spaghetti-like strands as if by magic. It can make a simple, easy and inexpensive dish for a deliciously light meal.

The "spaghetti" from the baked squash is wonderful tossed with a good extra virgin olive oil, seasoned with a bit of fresh garlic and topped with a little freshly grated Parmesan cheese. If you prefer a bit more bite to this simple Tuscan taste, add a touch of crushed red pepper to the olive oil and garlic and grind a little black pepper over the top of each serving.

1 (4-pound) spaghetti squash
 3 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil
 2 cloves garlic, minced
 3 ounces Parmesan cheese, freshly grated (1/2 cup)
 1. Preheat oven to 350 F. Cut squash in half with a heavy knife and remove seeds. (You may cut it crosswise or lengthwise. Lengthwise will simply give you longer strands of "spaghetti.")

 2. Place the halves, cut side down, in a baking pan. Bake in the preheated oven for about 1 hour or until tender. Remove from oven and pull the strands from the skin with a fork. You should have about 6 cups.

3. Heat the olive oil and garlic just until garlic sizzles; do not brown.
 Pour over the squash strands and toss thoroughly. Divide "spaghetti" onto 4 plates and top each serving with 3 tablespoons freshly grated Parmesan cheese.
 Makes 4 servings.

Dear Jeanne:
 Here is my very favorite recipe, which is loaded with calories, not to mention cholesterol. My cholesterol count is very high. Is it possible to cut out the fat and still have the delicious taste?

 4. Add the champagne to the sauce and, stirring constantly with the whisk, cook over low heat for 5 minutes more. Add the chicken breasts and mushrooms to the sauce and stir gently until heated through. (Good served with rice.)

Hosting State Tourney

A picnic will precede opening ceremonies on Knee Field at 7 p.m.; play begins Saturday (see schedule).

Metropolitan Fed Swells Earnings

Metropolitan Federal Tennessee's largest publicly traded savings and loan, with 20 offices, including one in Ripley, reports fourth quarter earnings of $1,168,000 (31¢ per share) compared to a $21,500,000 loss for last year's fourth quarter.

"In light of the dramatically higher interest rates during the year, the soft real estate market in Tennessee, and the continuous national media coverage of the industry problems, Metropolitan Federal has performed quite well," says Edwin W. Motta, Jr., chairman and chief executive officer.

County Reaps State's Funds

Lauderdale County will get about $41,000,000 from the state's eight billion dollar budget for 1989-90.

"Considering how tight state funds are," says State Sen. Leonard Dunavat, of Millington, "Lauderdale County fared very well."

The county's share of the budget is up about $8,000,000 from last year, notes State Rep. Floyd Crain, of Ripley.

Wiley To Serve In Philippines

Air Force Staff Sgt. Edwin A. Wiley, son of Henry E. Wiley, of Route 2, Halls, has arrived for duty in the Philippines as a law enforcement supervisor with the 3rd Law Enforcement Squadron. He is a 1980 graduate of Halls High School.

FESTIVAL RUNS

Ripley's Tomato Festival will include a 5K run (walkers invited) at 7:30 a.m. (registration, $30) Aug. 5th (entry fee, $6), and a Family Fun Run for ages 13 and under at 8:15 a.m.

Ambulance Authority Boosting Fee To $105

The county Ambulance Authority board has raised its fee for ambulance service from $90 to $105, effective Aug. 1st.

It was suggested the increase could fund two additional Emergency Medical Technicians, to work 8-hour shifts, 5 days a week, and eventually provide another ambulance to serve the county and alleviate complaints about service in the Halls area.

Authorities say these complaints result from numerous calls to nursing homes in the Ripley area, but that even if an ambulance were permanently based in Halls, federal and state regulations would require it to respond to any call from any point in the county which another ambulance could not immediately serve.

Charlie Moore heads the AA board; other members are Lawson Chipman, Steve Fullen, Eugene Pugh, Gus Hargett, and P. B. Bridges.

Allmand Will Head State Power Assn.

Mike Allmand, manager of Ripley Power & Light Co., was chosen president-elect of the Tenn. Municipal Electric Power Assn. in its convention in Nashville.

Wounded In Gun Tussle

Mary Jane "Bunny" Shoemaker, 26, of Ripley, was in critical but stable condition Monday in the Regional Medical Center in Memphis, with a .32-caliber pistol wound in her lower abdomen.

Sheriff's deputy Bill Danley says Tommy Gitchell, 22, of Ripley, reported that a pistol he had unloaded first as he tried to take it away from the victim early Saturday on Henning-Bethlehem Road east of Henning.

No charges have been filed.

GOSPEL SINGING

Federal Grants Aid Halls And Henning

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved Community Development Block Grants to Halls and Henning.

Halls will get 86% of the cost of a $140,550 project to make drainage improvements to reduce flooding from Simmons Creek.

Henning will get 91% of the cost of a $381,100 project to construct a well and replace deteriorated and under-sized steel water pipe.

Two Injured In Collision

Mrs. Kathy L. Pinkston, 31, of Gates, and her daughter, Amanda, 6, were sent to Methodist Hospital in Dyersburg after a collision about 4:40 p.m. Wednesday of last week.

Their 1981 Datsun station wagon, south-bound on New U.S. Hwy. 51, turned left to enter Gates Road and was struck by a north-bound 1-ton Ford truck pulling a trailer loaded with 12 horses, according to Highway Patrolman Scott White, Jr.

The truck was driven by Michael J. Twisdale, 25, of Mason, White reports.

Juvenile Court's Grant Increased

The State Department of Youth Development has granted Lauderdale County Juvenile Court $53,085 for fiscal 1989-90 under its Community Services Intervention program.

This is the third consecutive annual grant of this kind and is up about 50% from last year's grant.

It will house boys over 15 and any girls who would normally be committed to Shelby Training Center or St. Peter's Home for Girls in Memphis.

Juvenile Judge Robert C. Wilder says the increase in the grant "indicates that progress has been made in achieving our stated goals of keeping children who must be committed as close to home as possible, so that their families and others in the community can participate in their programs of treatment and rehabilitation."

"In addition, our program has been successful in reducing the number of children committed to the Department of Youth Development and thereby saving state and local dollars."

"I look forward to working with our county's Community Services Intervention Grant Advisory Committee in administering this year's program."

The committee includes Judge Wilder, Kim Coffey, youth services officer, Joe Pursell, juvenile investigator, Billie Ann (Mrs. J. C.) Hendren, director of Human Services, Frankie Pilcher, director of William F. Walker Counseling Center; Danny Beard, county commissioner; Bill Pete Tucker, county executive; Celeste Henry, probation officer, Jon Pavletic, principal of Ripley High School, and a representative of the Tenn. Children's Service Commission.

Toy Museum Holds Many Treasures

NASHVILLE, Tenn. -- From the time he was a little boy, Ted Lannon was "crispy mad" for trains, spending his pocket change on "Model Railroad" magazine and later collecting toy trains.

Today, a lifetime of collecting is displayed in his Nashville Toy Museum -- a treasure chest of toys from the 1860s to the 1970s including an extensive train collection and a multitude of rare antiques such as planes, boats, automobiles, dolls, dollhouses and bears. Lannon is often on hand to greet visitors, eagerly sharing the history of each toy.

"I grew up in Dyersburg near Memphis, and at Christmas my parents would take me to Goldsmith's department store where there were giant train displays," Lannon recalled. "They would cause a traffic jam in the store with everyone stopping to look at them."

Gazing at the displays fired the boy's imagination, but it was a trip to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C. that sealed Lannon's desire for a museum.

"I was in second grade, and I went to visit my aunt and uncle. They took me to the Smithsonian every day, and I knew I wanted a museum," he said. "I even made my bedroom a museum with displays everywhere."

After college, he went to Italy to study art and then to Britain where he collected more trains. Settling in Manhattan, Lannon "got into collecting big time." Moving back to Dyersburg in 1978 to chair the college's art department, Lannon began spending summers in Britain buying toys.

came an expert in collecting - which is very helpful at sales. "People who come there have a passionate interest in it," Lannon said. "Some people are buying back their toys that have been given away and others are buying for investment, so it can get wild. It's amazing to see all this rare stuff in one room -- stuff you never thought you'd see. I've taken on 35-foot mural commissions to pay for toys."

One of the prizes of his collection is a model railroad display. A train runs through a village, over a bridge, across the countryside, past a castle, church and a train station.

"I spent about 18 years putting this together," Lannon said. "The train runs on windup -- no electricity. I drew the track plan using the 1905 and 1910 'Model Railroad' magazines."

Each purchase is a story. For example, the Gothic country church is a biscuit tin from 1890. "I paid $950 for it at an auction. There are lots of people who collect biscuit tins so I was lucky to get it," he said.

On the bridge wall are metal signs advertising items such as Wright's Coal Tar Soap and Rowland's Chocolates -- made in the 1910s and 20s specifically for use in train layouts. Other rare pieces are a tree with a little girl in a swing, a church wedding party, a greenhouse, horsedrawn milk delivery wagons, a pre-World War I cigarette vending machine and a cast lead stone wall around the castle.

"Every dog, bush, tree and figure-everything - predates World War II," Lannon said. "All of the people are made by toy soldier companies."

Cases lining the walls in the Train Room are filled with model trains including American Flyer and Lionel trains from the 1920s and 30s, pre-World War I British trains, wooden windup and steam trains.

As Lannon's interest grew so did the toys he collected, and the museum displays many other equally rare items. Just inside the door, a collection of stuffed bears seated on a bench gaze at visitors. Some are extremely rare German Steiff bears predating 1915, while others are English from about 1930.

The antique doll collection ranges from an 1850 French Junco baby doll to an English 1925 Boudoir doll. Another charming doll is Frozen Charlie, an 1880 German bathing doll that floats in water. Other dolls include a 1900 German Keetner, and 1924 German Bylo baby.

Another case is filled with model cars from America, Europe and Japan -- from a 1904 horseless carriage
