Claimed By Flames

TOTAL LOSSES couldn't be prevented by Halls firemen answering three calls last weekend: In upper photo, at 6:55 a.m. Friday, a 1984 Oldsmobile Cutlass, without a license plate, was reported aflame on Coon Dance Road, southeast of Halls; sheriff's deputy Donnie Paris identified it as the property of Leroy and Janet Johnson, of Maury City. In second photo from top, at 7:20 a.m. Sunday, a Ford sedan burned in Arthur Foley's front yard in Jacobs Sub-

Division north of Halls. Below, firemen fought flames, reported at 10:45 a.m. Sunday, which started in the rear of the former Siler home at 219 North College St. in Halls, owned by Dale Hutcherson, of Ripley, and occupied by the Ricky Conrad family. Mr. Conrad, who drives a '16-wheel truck, was away on a trip; his wife, Susan, and their children, Ricky Dale and Jackie, were not at home. Heat damaged the roof and exterior of the Jerre Jordan home next door.

Halls Men Drop District Finale

Bradford's five defeated Halls, 92-73, Tuesday evening for the District 14-A championship.

Halls had moved into the final clash with an 80-69 win Saturday from South Fulton, in which Thomas Robinson scored 24 points and Charles Parker posted 19.

Halls' Lady Tigers lost the consolation game Monday evening to Greenfield, 61-54, in overtime.

Halls had tied it 53 all. Gina Warren and Kecia Miller won All-District honors.

The Lady Tigers meet Dresden, District 13-A champions, at 6 p.m. Thursday in the opener of Region 7-A play at Greenfield High School.

All-district choices and region schedule for HHS men were not available as we went to press.

Damages Sought In Kirby's Death

Thomas Kirby, administrator of the estate of Billy Mack Kirby, 53, of Ripley, has filed suit in Dyer County Chancery Court, asking $3,000,000 in damages for the death.

Tyrone Charles "Sweet Daddy" Trent, 31, arrested by Dyersburg police and wrestled into the Dyer County Jail's 18x19-ft. "drunk tank" at 10 p.m. Jan. 5th, was charged with first degree murder after a disturbance, about five minutes later, led a jailer to find Billy Mack, previously jailed there, dead, authorities said.

Kirby, one-armed, was found face down on the concrete floor, his head bleeding, while Trent was allegedly kicking one of five other inmates of the cell, LeRoy Duke. Duke did not require medical treatment.

After mental evaluation, Trent is held in the Lake County Jail, with bond set at $150,000.

Named with Trent as defendants in the suit are the City of Dyersburg, Dyer County, and county Sheriff Robert Willard "in that they knew, or should have known that...Trent frequently exhibits violent and volatile behavior."

Kirby is represented by Dyersburg attorney Charles M. Agee, Jr.

Disadvantaged Get FmHA Preference

Many of 170 farms for sale by the Farmers Home Administration are targeted for socially disadvantaged applicants ("subjected to racial or ethnic prejudice or cultural bias...without regard to their individual qualities"), according to Harriet V. Smith, county supervisor.

Four sales have been made to minorities; three are being processed.

Information from 635-4331.

Murder Suspect Held In Florida

William E. Fincher, Jr., 32, of Ripley, charged with the murder Feb. 18th of Max Richardson, 55, of Mary's Chapel, was arrested in Daytona Beach, Fla., accused of stabbing a man, not fatally, in a bar there Tuesday evening of last week.

After Sheriff Milford Durham and Investigator Lynn Gould went to Florida to question Fincher, Florida authorities are expected to drop their charges to speed Fincher's return here to face trial for first degree murder, especially aggravated burglary, and especially aggravated robbery.

Fincher is also wanted in Ohio, for parole violation, after having served a prison sentence for armed robbery, and has served a prison sentence in Arizona for burglary and vehicle theft, Durham says.

Gould says Fincher left Ripley on the Sunday of the murder to seek work with a construction crew in Charleston, S.C., for which Bobby Underwood, of Ripley, had rented housing.

Gould says Fincher was allowed to stay in the rented 5-bedroom house only one night and left about an hour before Charleston officers arrived to arrest him.

Gould says Florida authorities found in Fincher's room there many silver coins, plus muddy clothing and tennis shoes.

Richardson's wife, Sarah, reported missing from their home a potato chip can containing silver coins, Richardson's wallet, and her .22 caliber pistol.

She says she waited outside while her husband, suspecting an intruder, entered the home; hearing a shot, she says, she first hid, then drove about a mile to the home of her son-in-law.

Ripley police investigator Steve Sanders, on Sky-Line Drive in Ripley.

Sanders says he found Richardson with what was first thought a single wound in the forehead; autopsy reveals two.

No report had come at press-time from the Tenn. Bureau of Investigation laboratory as to whether the shots came from the missing pistol.

Not reported to us last week, among Mr. Richardson's survivors, was a daughter, Angie Richardson, of Ripley. All concerned regret this inadvertent omission under the stress of the tragedy.

Prison Sets Open House

Warden Billy Compton and his staff of 318, who will keep 640 inmates in the new West Tenn. High Security prison on Hwy. 87 west of Henning, invite the public to tours from 6 to 9 p.m. March 8th, with refreshments in the staff dining room.

The facility is north of Hwy. 87, just west of Fort Pillow Prison.

5-County Sweep For Drug Abuse

As we went to press early Wednesday, county and city officers in this and four other counties served by Paul G. Summers, of Somerville, as 26th District Attorney General, were scheduled to attempt to arrest, on drug charges, persons named in 175 indictments by grand juries in the five counties.

A grand jury indictment holds a person for trial in Circuit Court.

The sweep planned by Summers' Drug Enforcement Task Force is the largest ever in West Tennessee and one of the state's largest in a rural area.

Other counties in the district are Tipton, Fayette, Hardeman, and McNairy.

Skits Prepared

TEEN THEATRE STUDENTS of Halls High School are working up skits for shows to be presented early in March—Responsible Friendship, Child Abuse, Teen Pregnancy And Responsibility, and Teen Depression And Suicide. Co-ordinating are Mrs.

Guard Company Presents Flag

A drill team and other members of Ripley's 268th Military Police Co. of the National Guard presented a U.S. flag to Halls High School Feb. 15th in memory of Brian Terry, former Guardsman and an HHS graduate.

The drill team was composed of William Barclay, John Drummond, Steve Jackson, and Kerry Northcott.

Assisting in presenting a program on the flag were Eric Brown, Ronnie Elder, Roy Kirkpatrick, James and Tony Sanders, Hollis Vaden, and Danny Vaughan.

NEW CROSSING GATES began operating Monday at the Shotgun Rd. crossing of Illinois Central Railroad tracks in Halls, across Old U.S. 51 from Entrance Rd.

Halls Pageant Stars

Winner

KELLY CARMACK, daughter of the Mike Carmacks, of Gates, has repeated her win last year in the Future Farmers of America West Tenn. Public Speaking Contest in Jackson; she again goes to state competition in Nashville, where last year she was runner-up to a winner who placed second in the nation.

A senior in Halls High School and president of its FFA chapter, Kelly spoke this year on FFA's Future, Where Do We Go From Here?

She has also won the Arch E. McClanahan Scholarship, which her advisor, Bill Newsom, says is the state's top agricultural scholarship.

'I'm very proud of Kelly,' Newsom says, 'because I know how much work she has done...I have a feeling that this year she will make it all the way to the national contest.'

MEDICAL TERMINOLGY

Ripley Area Vocational School is offering an inexpensive course for persons interested in pursuing employment in a hospital, physician's office, or health-related facility. Classes are approved for Continuing Education Credit, therefore limited in size.

Classes begin at 7 p.m. March 12th in Baptist Hospital Lauderdale, to meet each Monday night for eight weeks.

Donna Klutta, director of medical records for Cane Creek Center in Martin, will be the instructor. Information from the school, 635-3368, or Donna Klutta, 1-800-423-9103.

"MAKING CONNECTIONS"

Key Gibson, Manager

Telecommunications is key to education, economic development. A world of opportunity for growth and development awaits us in Ripley, Halls, Henning and Lauderdale County. More and more, emerging technology promises to unite our cities and rural areas into one global economy. The connecting highway is the telecommunications network.

Yet, it's important to note that Americans today are being denied access to information services that could simplify and enrich their lives because of federal restrictions on the Bell telephone companies.

These restrictions prevent the Bell telephone companies from working with educators, scientists, manufacturers, or anyone else who wants to develop information services or produce equipment which could make information services easier to use and widely available to the general public.

To develop a picture of the possibilities we only need to look at what's already being achieved in other nations.

* More than 4 million French families have computer terminals installed in their homes, hooked up through telephone lines, offering over 10,000 different information services, including directory listings, shopping services beneficial to disabled persons and others, community bulletin boards with up-to-date notices from government officials, news services, reservations systems and many other services.

* In the United Kingdom, British Telecom has a videotex system connected to over 200,000 businesses and residences through telephone lines. One of the programs offered, education 2000, uses videotex to promote education. Another service, chat back, is for children who have speech or other communication difficulties.

* In the Canadian Province, of Saskatchewan, farmers can use agrinet, a service providing weather information, commodity rates, agricultural data and other information through their telephone lines.

* Similar services are also available in West Germany, Sweden, Japan and Singapore.

* The United States still has the best telephone network and service in the world—in price, service and availability. And we have the technology to provide these kinds of services—and more. But other nations are pulling ahead of us.

The possibilities for yet-to-be-discovered information services in the 21st century are staggering. It's not an overstatement to say that telecommunications has the potential for revolutionizing education and commerce.

We need a public policy that allows the people of Ripley, Halls, Henning and Lauderdale County, and throughout America, the privilege of full participation in the information age. Congress is presently considering legislation that would relax some of the restrictions on the Bell telephone companies.

Speakers available for clubs and organizations. Our employees' bureaus can help you learn more about the possibilities of the information age and other telephone topics by providing a speaker for your club or organization free of charge.

For more information about the speakers bureau or about what you can do to help remove restrictions that are impeding America's advancement in the information age, call your South Central Bell Corporate and Community Affairs Office in Jackson at 901-668-1524. There's no charge for the call.

Virginia Buckner

Virginia May Buckner, 50, of Ripley, died Monday in Methodist Hospital in Memphis. Services were at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Garner Funeral Home.

I have been honored to be the Sheriff of Lauderdale County for the past 8 years. During these years I have tried to be a Sheriff for the people and earn the respect and trust that you have placed in me by electing me your Sheriff in the past two elections. Now, as election year is here again, I respectfully ask the people of this county to re-elect me to this office for another four years.

I have had many people ask me if I am eligible to seek re-election again due to the length of my tenure. In 1978 a law was passed that extended terms to four years with unlimited tenure. It is because of this law that I not only can, but I am asking for your continued support in the forth-coming election. I will continue to enforce the law fairly and honestly, and I solicit your questions, suggestions, and advice.

Halls History

By Mrs. Charles Alsobrook
Daffodils, forsythia, tulip trees, and pussy willow are in full bloom. Redbirds, blue jays, mockingbirds, woodpeckers, blackbirds, sparrows, and all the other birds that stay with us all winter have been joined by the robins and starlings. In the late afternoon, you can hear the shooting of guns and Roman candles and the clanging of tin pans where the starlings roost; robins can be just as big a nuisance if they congregate in one tree or grove.

We have a white squirrel living in an old line tree between Gilreath Dyer and us. Bobby Phillips enjoys it as we do. Charles keeps an ear of corn between my clothes line wire and the old walnut tree it goes around all winter. The birds, as well as the squirrels, eat the corn off the cob as well as the sunflower and small seeds he feeds the birds every morning.

On day some time ago, Charles said to me, "I don't know I ever killed those things." I told him how he did it. He was one of the biggest hunters, fishermen, skeet shooters, and pool players in Halls when I married him 54 years ago. We had big duck suppers. Hess Craddock and Charles could dress 20 to 30 ducks in a very short time.

When Japan bombed Pearl Harbor, Mary Norton and Will Sugg were having a big quail supper. It was early, and we hadn't eaten, when it came over either the television or radio. I don't remember which. The men furnished the quail and Mary Norton and Will furnished everything that went with them. They also had (I think Froggie) dressed in a white suit, and he cooked and served the meal. This was not a supper, it was too elegant; it had to be a dinner.

Leslie Puckett has sown his mustard seeds. Some gardeners have sown their tomato and cabbage seeds in the hot-beds for early planting. Winter is not over here yet, as we still have some snow-birds in sunny Florida and California.

The Siler house (see photo on Page 1) which burned Sunday was the last of two lovely old houses on North College St. Clark's Grocery bought the one next door and had it torn down to make a parking lot for the store and deli.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerre Jordan bought their lot from Mrs. Siler when they moved the front part of their house from the air base. Many of the houses in and around Halls are made from the barracks which were sold when the base, known as Dyersburg Air Base, closed. Much of this land is now in the Town of Halls. Jerre was at home; Naulene had gone to Baptist Hospital Lauderdale in Ripley to sit with her sister, Louise Hickman. Buddy Moore took Jerre to Gilreath Dyer's house. Martha Viar called Naulene to come home and called another sister in Ripley to go sit with Louise.

It is said that Mr. Charlie Wilson moved one large house from I don't know where, cut it in halves, and made the Siler house and what we knew as the Earl Meeks house on the corner.

Dr. Josh and "Miss" Blanch Nunn moved to Halls with their children, Ruth, Oliver and David, when David was one year old. They were all born in Chestnut Bluff in Crockett County.

They moved into the house that you would run into if you didn't turn left or right on West Tigratt

St. from North College. The Nunnas sold the house to Ike Smith; he sold it to Milo Hurt; the Hurts sold it to Mr. and Mrs. Noah Ray, my neighbors. David says he thinks the house used to be closer to the creek and was moved west to where it is now. David lived there when he started to school. Every day at recess he would go home. There was and still is a bridge over the creek that runs through town.

David had a pet goose, and sometimes he would go back to school and run all the other little children back into the schoolhouse.

I know some other good stories that have been told to me about Ruth, Oliver, and David, and if I live long enough, I'll tell them to you.

I can't help but wonder if David repeated first grade from illness or from playing hooky.

It is said that he was ill a good bit that year. Anyway, Charles says he was in first grade with him, and David is more than a year older than Charles.

By Dr. J. E. Bradley
Bradley Chiropractic Clinic
508 Troy Ave.
Dyersburg, Tennessee

In general, disease may be characterized as being either acute or chronic. Some cases in the first category may be critical and life-threatening and might well require treatment with drugs or surgery. Because doctors of chiropractic do not, as a rule, concern themselves with either type of treatment, the patient must be referred to a medical doctor. On the other hand, chronic disease usually lingers by virtue of its bio-negative momentum. Symptoms come and go, but all the while, the patient's health is on a downward slope. The chiropractic approach is well-suited to treating chronic disease, as well as less serious acute problems. By applying the philosophy of treating the whole person and intervening in a conservative manner, the chiropractor strives to reverse the negative momentum of disease, achieve bio-positive momentum, and avoid crisis.

Make an appointment for yourself and the other members of your family with BRADLEY CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC, so we can unlock the door to a wonderful world of health and happiness. All our patients, and particularly our more athletic ones, know they will be healthier if they maintain a healthy spine and nerve system through regular chiropractic care. We are located at 508 Troy Ave., 286-2222. There is ample parking in a private lot. Hours: Mon., Tues., Wed., Fri. 8:30-5:30, closed Thurs.

P.S. High-blood pressure is an example of a chronic disease with crisis potential.

Experts on children's nutrition say preschoolers daily needs include:

- 1600 calories
- 40 grams of protein
- 0.8 grams of calcium
- Ten milligrams of iron
- 2500 international units of vitamin A
- 0.6 milligrams of thiamine
- One milligram of riboflavin
- 11 milligrams of niacin
- 50 milligrams of vitamin C
- 400 international units of vitamin D

Good sources of many of these nutrients are fruits and vegetables which also add fiber to the diet—and pleasant taste to the meal.

Thanks to the American farmer, parents can feel secure giving their children these foods. Harmful insects, fungi and other pests have been kept from ruining the food through the proper use of crop protection pesticides.

Local Sheriff Announces Honorary Membership Program

Sheriff Durham today announced that Lauderdale County citizens who would like to join in the fight against crime are invited to become Honorary Members of the Tennessee Sheriffs' Association.
 The Tennessee Sheriffs' Association is a professional and educational organization dedicated to the preservation of peace and the protection of the lives and property of the citizens of Tennessee, according to the Sheriff.
 The Honorary Membership program was begun to provide citizens with an opportunity to lend their support to more effective law enforcement and to better help local Sheriffs protect the lives and property of citizens.
 "We are inviting the public to help us better serve them by joining the fight for effective law enforcement," Sheriff Durham said. Lauderdale County residents should soon receive membership applications in the mail. "It is difficult to get an application to everyone who might want to join the Tennessee Sheriffs' Association as an Honorary Member," the Sheriff said. "If you don't receive an application by mail, you can come by the Sheriff's Department, or you can send your name, address, and check—$20 for individual membership or $25 for a business membership—to the Tennessee Sheriffs' Association, 501 Union Street, Suite 506, Nashville, TN 37219.
 Membership dues used are to upgrade, professionalize, and train Sheriffs to protect the men, women and children of Tennessee. All Honorary Members will receive a membership card, a bumper sticker and a window decal for your car, and a year's subscription to our publication, The Tennessee Sheriff. In addition, business members receive an attractive wall plaque.
 "I hope that all law-abiding citizens of this county will join me in the fight for good law enforcement by joining the Tennessee Sheriffs' Association when your membership letter is received," the Sheriff concluded.

Bonds Edged, Demoss Wins In National Amateur Finals

Ripley's Richard Bonds, rated the No. 2 light heavyweight in U.S. amateur boxing, lost his third bout in national finals in Colorado Springs, Colo., Wednesday of last week to No. 1 rated Jeremy Williams, of Fort Dodge, Iowa.
 Bonds lost a close decision to Williams in last year's finals, and it was the same story this year.
 The loss doesn't remove Bonds from the U.S. team which will soon visit Poland and Ireland.
 Bonds returns to Colorado Springs next week to train for two weeks overseas.
 Ripley's Mike Demoss, now with the Marine Corps, defeated the Air Force's Ronald Sims in the 165-lb. finals to win No. 1 U.S. ranking, earning a spot in the Goodwill Games this summer in Washington State.
 Mike is the son of Mrs. Willie Demoss, of Ripley.
 Bonds is the son of Mrs. Earlene Bonds, of Ripley.
 Both boxes are products of the Ripley Boxing Club, coached by Tenn. Highway Patrolman Ron Rickard, of Ripley, and assistant coach Ray Roberson, employee of Ripley Power and Light.

All-State

DAVID MATTHEWS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gwinn Matthews, of Ripley, has been chosen to sing in the All-State Choir, directed by Charlene Archiboe, choir director at San Jose, Calif., State University.
 A bass, he received the highest rating of all West Tenn. students in auditions for the choir. This is his second year to make the choir. He has sung in the University of Tennessee Martin Honor Choir, Quad-State Choir, and All-West Choir for three years.
 He is student director of the choir in Ripley High School, in which he is a junior; Harley Patterson directs it. David is a vocal pupil of Dr. Bette Stainecker, of Memphis.

Richardson Murder Suspect Jailed Here

William E. Fincher, Jr., 32, of Ripley, charged with the murder Feb. 18th of Max Richardson, 49, (not 55, as reported last week), of Mary's Chapel, was returned here Saturday from Daytona Beach, Fla., and was held Monday without bond on charges of first degree murder, especially aggravated burglary, and especially aggravated robbery.
 Sheriff Milford Durham said late Monday he had no report from the Tenn. Bureau of Investigation laboratory as to whether the two shots in the head which killed Richardson in his home came from a .22 caliber pistol which Richardson's wife, Sarah, reported missing from their bedroom.

Weevils Are Here

Alfalfa producers reported weevils eating foliage as early as Tuesday of last week.
 Control now or risk missing early yields. Choice of chemical controls should be based on individual situations.
 Alfalfa is a good hay and cash crop and should be tended as if it were row crops.
 Alfalfa can be an alternative to soybeans on limited acreage, and returns might be better, unless bean prices improve. Consult your Extension office for your alfalfa information.

Wary On Sulphur

Research in Tennessee hasn't shown that adding sulphur will boost yields of corn, cotton, soybeans, or wheat, reports Richard Buntin, our county's acting Extension leader.
 Although sulphur is an essential plant nutrient, deficiencies haven't been found in this state. That's because sulphur is one of the primary elements in acid rainfall.
 Leaching isn't a problem in Tennessee soils, so the sulphur added by rainfall tends to accumulate.
 The only condition in which sulphur boosts yields is on very sandy soils, but most soils in Tennessee are silt and clay.
 Research with corn at three locations in the state show that as much as three times the amount of sulphur removed by the corn is added back to the soil in rain.
 So applying sulphur, when you already have an excess, isn't profitable.
Weigh Corn Verdict
 If you have Johnson grass in your corn field, you probably have a corn virus (stunt) disease problem.
 That means you should select a virus-resistant variety. This year you'll have a pretty good supply of corn seed for varieties having medium-high to high resistance to the virus.
 Select the variety you want to plant and order it so it will be on hand by planting time.
 Corn stunt virus winters in Johnson grass weeds (niessens). In the spring and summer, insects carry the virus from the grass to the corn.
 If your corn gets the stunt, you can lose 10 to 20 bushels of yield an acre with non-resistant varieties planted in fields with small amounts of Johnson grass present.

 A Report for Tennesseans

Crime Bill Will Add More Fire Power To The War On Drugs
 In my travels across the state in the last few weeks, I have talked with several law enforcement officials and concerned citizens about progress on the war on drugs.
 Right now, more than $35 million in federal funds are in the pipeline to Tennessee as a result of the drug bill approved by Congress and signed into law by the President late last year.
 Thirty-five million dollars for Tennessee is a lot of money, but it really doesn't even come close to addressing all of the problems we are facing with drugs -- treatment, education and interdiction.
 In the next few weeks, the Senate is expected to take up the Federal Crime Control Act of 1989, which includes some new initiatives, as well as additional resources to help intensify the fight against drugs.
 For starters, this legislation authorizes $600 million new dollars for state and local law enforcement assistance.
 In addition, this legislation establishes a new grant program for community organizations that are working to combat substance abuse, authorizing $15 million in fiscal 1990, $20 million in fiscal 91, and $25 million in fiscal 92.
 The legislation also requires Drug Czar William Bennett to designate an official rural drug policy coordinator. This rural drug specialist would develop and recommend policy options for drug interdiction in rural areas, coordinate federal efforts and make federal resources available to rural law enforcement agencies.
 This initiative includes $20 million for rural drug enforcement. Half those monies would go to the most rural states in the nation. The other half, and Tennessee would come under this category, would receive the rest. Under the funding formulas, Tennessee would be eligible for at least $100,000, and probably more.
 Finally, this legislation includes a bill I introduced last year, call the National Police Corps Bill.
 Fashioned after the R.O.T.C. program, up to 25,000 college students can enroll, attend any college, and have any major. After graduation they would be required to serve for four years on a state or local police force. After the satisfactory completion of this tour of duty, the federal government would pay up to $10,000 each year of their college education bill.
 This bill, which has received widespread support from numerous law enforcement agencies and organizations, is designed to provide additional manpower and support to state and local law enforcement agencies, freeing up more senior and experienced officers from the burdens of paperwork and office duties, to spend more time on the streets, hunting criminals and preventing crimes.
 The prospects for passage of this comprehensive crime package are promising, and I believe the new initiatives and funding included in this legislation will add substantial fire power to the ongoing war against drugs.

Bradley Chiropractic Clinic
506 Troy Ave.
Dyersburg, Tennessee

Perhaps because we were admonished to "stand up straight" so frequently in our youth, we tend to overlook the positive consequences of good posture later on. It must be realized that posture plays a key role in providing the body with good health and performance. Without it, bone alignment becomes distorted and muscles tense chronically, leading to such stressful conditions as loss of lung capacity (as much as 30 percent), reduced blood and oxygen flow to the brain, reduced range of motion (resulting in stiffness and pain), faulty digestion, constipation, and perhaps as much as 80 percent of all cases of back pain. The correction of any one of these symptoms would be reason enough to straighten out with chiropractic care.

The science of chiropractic goes to the source of the problem rather than merely dealing with the symptom. Many discomforts, such as those we have just mentioned, can be effectively approached with a chiropractic exam. To learn more about how chiropractic can benefit you, we urge you to call BRADLEY CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC. Whatever your health problems may be, don't let drugs and painkillers delay proper treatment. You'll find us at 506 Troy Ave., 286-2222, with ample parking in a private lot. Hours: Mon., Tues., Wed., Fri. 8:30-5:30, closed Thurs.

P.S. Aside from physical symptoms, poor posture can lead to a negative attitude, drowsiness, and poor concentration.

Cooking Corner Tips To Help You

Mexican Food: A Hot Idea

Old! That's how many Americans feel about their favorite south-of-the-border cuisine. Serving up a delicious Mexican meal is always a hot idea (or not so hot, depending on how you decide to spice up your supper).

Surprising to some is the fact that Mexican food is much more than the ever-popular tacos, beans and rice. Actually, fresh, nutritious fruits and vegetables play a prominent part in many Mexican recipes. The banana, and its less-sweet counterpart, the plantain, are used often. So is the avocado. Almost any Mexican dish may have avocado incorporated into the recipe. Of course, one of the most famous Mexican dishes in America includes avocado — guacamole. Most Americans eat it as a dip, although Mexicans use it in tacos.

Another popular fresh item in Mexico is the tomato. Often used in sauces, one of its major uses is in Salsa (Pico de Gallo). Try these easy-to-make Mexican sauces tested in the Oster Test Kitchens. They can add an international twist to any meal.

PICO DE GALLO
3 ripe tomatoes, seeded and cut in eighths
4 1/4-inch pieces green pepper
2 1-inch pieces onion
1/2 tsp. cider vinegar
1-2 jalapeno peppers
2 sprigs cilantro
Assemble "Oster" Food Processor Accessory. Place all ingredients in processor bowl and cover unit. With hand on cover, process until mixture is just slightly chunky. Serve with corn chips, crackers or raw vegetables.
Yield: 1 1/2 cups

A spicer upper for any supper: Mexican favorites such as Pico de Gallo and Guacamole.

GUACAMOLE
2 large ripe avocados, peeled and cubed
1 medium tomato, cubed
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 1-inch piece onion
1-2 jalapeno peppers
salt to taste

Assemble "Oster" Food Processor Accessory. Place all ingredients in processor bowl and cover unit. With hand on cover, process until mixture is just slightly chunky. Serve with corn chips, crackers or raw vegetables.
Yield: 1 1/2 cups

GREAT MOMENTS IN HISTORY

Happy 100th Birthday Peanut Butter!

This year marks the 100th birthday of America's favorite spread—peanut butter. This beloved food classic was developed in 1890 by an enterprising St. Louis physician seeking an easy-to-digest, high-protein food for his patients. The concept was an instant hit: shelled, roasted peanuts ground up in a kitchen grinder with a little salt and used as a spread.

By 1914 there were several dozen commercial brands on the market. Skippy® Peanut Butter, one of the country's leading brands, was first sold in 1933. It was so successful that two years later a Skippy Chunk Style was added to the line.

America's century-old love affair with peanut butter is still going strong. In fact, this year annual consumption is expected to reach a record 800 million pounds.

Why not celebrate peanut butter's birthday with this easy microwave pie:

Microwave Chocolate Peanut Butter Mousse Pie
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons corn starch
3 cups milk
2 egg yolks
1/2 cup Skippy creamy peanut butter
1/8 cup semisweet chocolate pieces
1 prepared graham cracker crumb crust (about 8-inch)
1 cup heavy cream

America's century-old love affair with peanut butter is still going strong.

1/3 cup chopped roasted peanuts for garnish

In large microwaveable bowl mix sugar and corn starch. Gradually stir in milk and egg yolks until smooth. Microwave on High (100%), stirring 3 times, 7 to 8 minutes or until mixture boils and thickens. Beat in peanut butter until smooth. In small bowl combine 1 cup of the warm peanut butter mixture and chocolate pieces. Stir until chocolate melts; spread in prepared crust. Cover surface with plastic wrap; chill. Cover surface of remaining peanut butter mixture with plastic wrap; chill 45 minutes or until cool but not set. Whip cream until soft peaks form; gently fold into peanut butter mixture. Spoon over chocolate layer in crust. Chill 1 hour or until set. Garnish with peanuts. Makes 8 servings.

CLEAN UP THE GARDEN CLUTTER... and find time to smell the flowers

Weeding, mulching, edging, pruning, pinching, training, feeding — the gardener's work is never done. How to find a way to clear the clutter, tidy up the landscape, and hold tedious chores to a minimum?

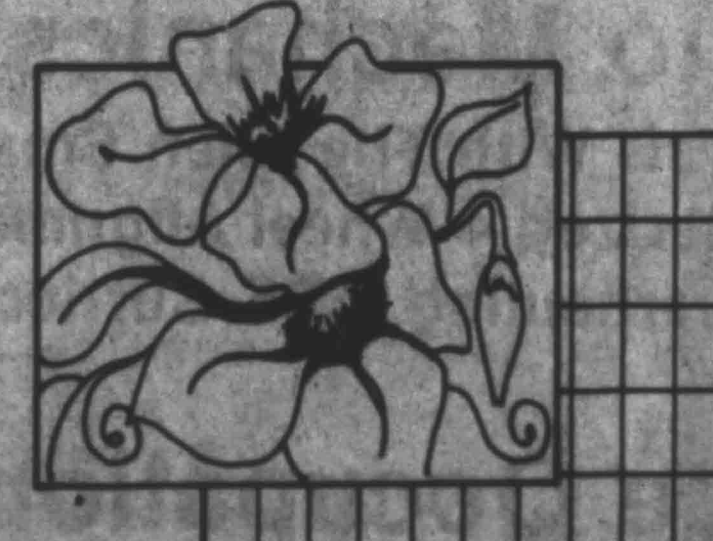

For starters, here are some time and energy savers for this year's garden, using various types of wire mesh fencing. A little planning and effort expended now can simplify yard maintenance for months to come — and free up more time for creative gardening and just plain enjoyment.

And remember, always wear safety glasses and protective gloves when cutting, unrolling, and fastening fencing and wire products.

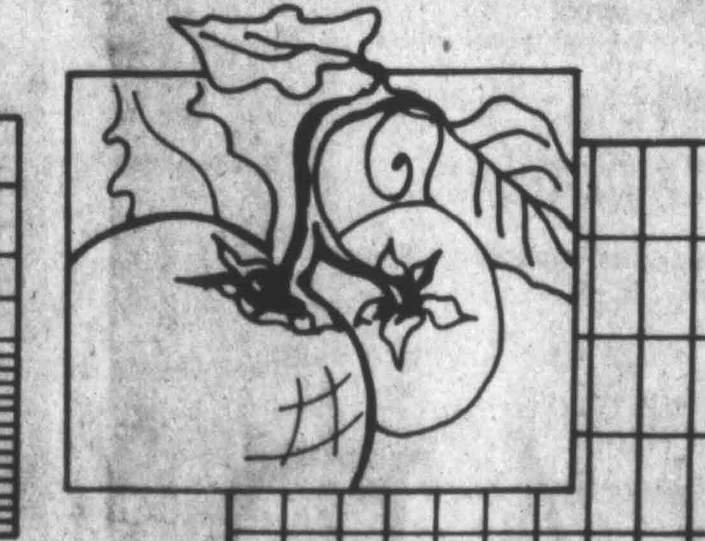

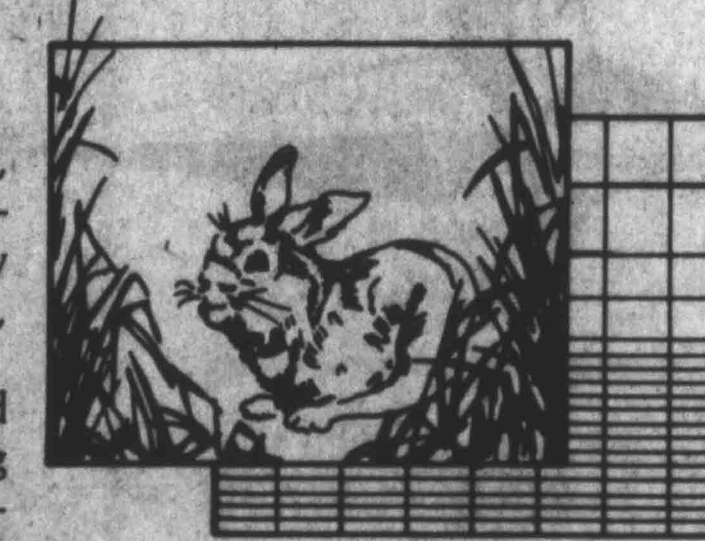

Foiled hungry rabbits and raccoons with an economical vegetable garden fence specially designed to keep critters on the outside, looking in. Unique Rabbit Shield™ Garden Fence features closer mesh openings at the bottom, wider at the top. Bunnies get the picture and head for the neighbor's patch.

Fragrant flowering vines or creepers, such as sweet pea or clematis, can be woven through the fence to soften the lines and provide eye-catching color.

Climbing vines and rambling roses, like irresistible puppy dogs, need to be trained early on, or you'll find them poking their tendrils into places where they don't belong — through windows, around drainpipes, or up your favorite evergreen tree.

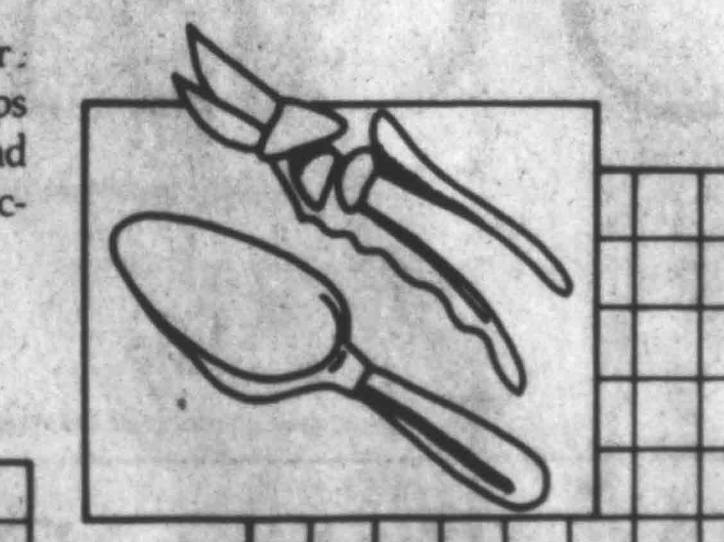

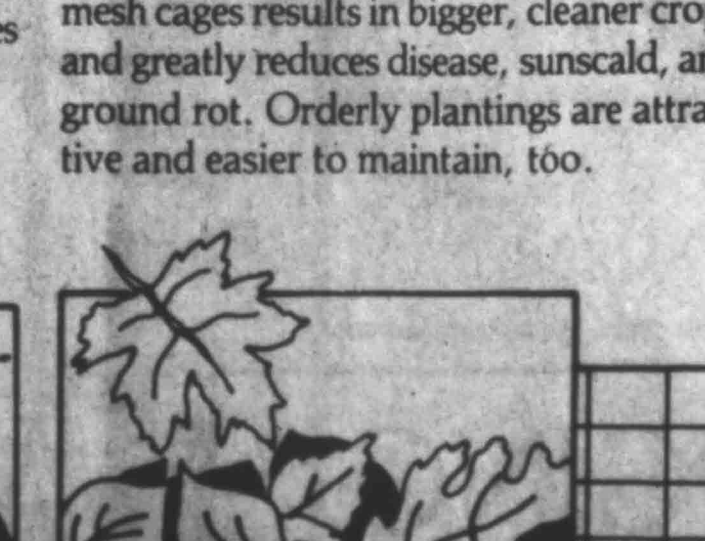

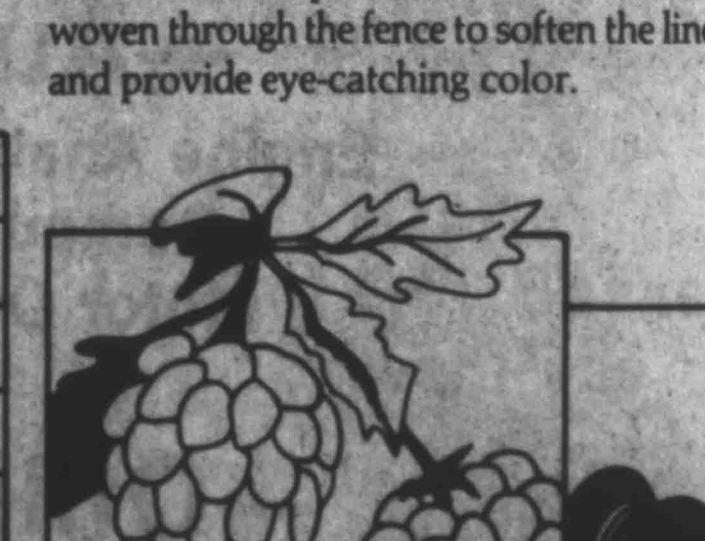

Lengths of inexpensive welded fencing, 2 or 3 feet wide, are perfect for forming trellises to train the vines on. A wire mesh trellis is very inconspicuous, and can be mounted against the house or garage wall, or suspended between two posts. It can even be staked into the ground, and formed into an arch, for a dramatic garden entryway.

Go vertical in the vegetable garden with wire mesh trellises, set singly row by row to catch the sun, or doubled up in A-frame fashion. Benefits of off-the-ground crops include good light and ventilation, cleaner yield and easy harvesting. Great for vine crops, such as peas, cukes, pe e beans, squash and snow peas. Galvanized utility fabric is a good, low-cost choice for making trellises.

Save money and "roll your own" tomato and pepper cages. Make cylinders of sturdy, galvanized utility fabric and anchor them into the ground with wooden stakes or fence posts. As the plants grow, gently tie the new shoots to the wire cage with strips of nylon hosiery or soft cord.

Bunching tomatoes and peppers in wire mesh cages results in bigger, cleaner crops and greatly reduces disease, sunscald, and ground rot. Orderly plantings are attractive and easier to maintain, too.

Keep garden tools at your fingertips with a handy tool storage wall in garage or shed. Grids of close-mesh hardware cloth, framed with 1"x3" boards, are fastened into wall studs for sturdy storage. S-hooks hold garden tools and accessories right at hand and ready to use.

For detailed how-to instructions for these and other lawn and garden projects, contact Keystone Steel & Wire Co., 7000 S. W. Adams St., Peoria, IL 61641. Request "Red Brand Pocket Guide for Do-It-Yourself Projects." Or call, toll-free, 800-635-7500 for name of nearest Red Brand Fencing dealer.

IN MEMORY OF Walter C. Pierson

March 8, 1988-March 8, 1990

What are the implications of "life" as referred to by Christ? It speaks of present-day peace and purpose. Without these two priceless gems no human being can possibly experience fulfillment in this life. The growing number of suicides gives tragic testimony to this fact. Multitudes, unable to experience peace or find purpose, take their own lives. But the Christian, possessing both peace and purpose, can rejoice even in the midst of fiery trails, knowing that God himself will arrange the outcome for His glory and their good. To everything there is a purpose for time in this life. We will always miss you, even though we are praying that in time the mind will focus fully on accepting the will of God.

P.S. Preventive maintenance in the form of regular exercise best helps avoid "frozen" shoulder (adhesive capsulitis).

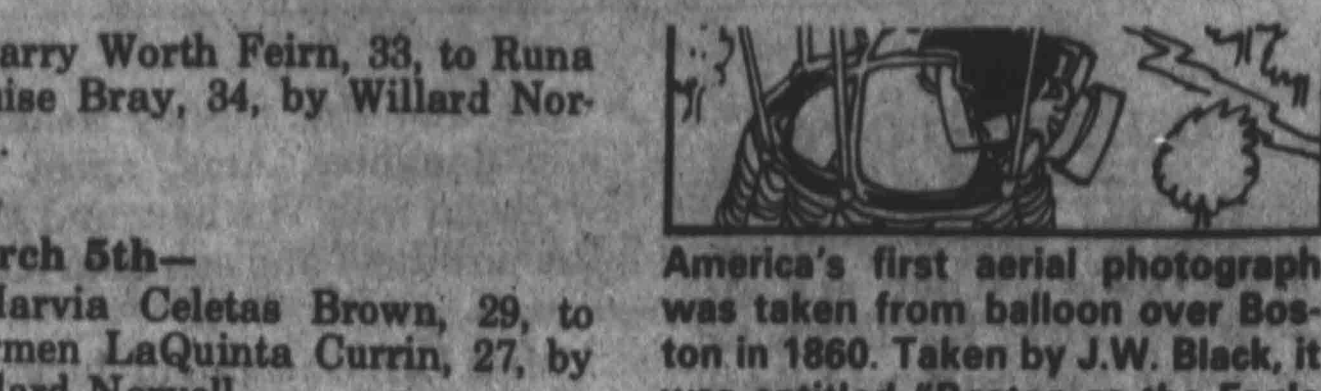

Nearly everyone experiences shoulder aches, but persistent shoulder pain or loss of motion may be caused by concern. Many people between the ages of 40 and 60 first experience a twinge in their shoulders, which is followed by the realization that their joints exhibit limited motion. These experiences of "frozen shoulder" often afflict those with injuries. Lack of use may be another contributing factor. As the soft tissues around the shoulder become shorter, the joint begins to lose its full range of motion. Movement becomes difficult and painful. At this point, the chiropractor's advice should be sought before the shoulder becomes "frozen" in place. The doctor of chiropractic may help restore full range of motion.

Congressman JOHN TANNER REPORTS TO THE EIGHTH DISTRICT

RENEWING A NATIONAL PRIORITY

Homeownership has always been considered a big part of the "American Dream." Declared a national priority in the 1949 Housing Act, homeownership has been encouraged and assisted by a variety of government programs.

HOW THE GOVERNMENT HELPS

The most widely used program is the income tax reductions on mortgage loan interest payments. This piece of the tax code represents about $34 billion in taxes saved by homeowners. Programs to assist moderate income and first-time buyer households do so by providing low interest mortgages from the proceeds of the sales of tax exempt bonds.

Several agencies within the Federal government offer loan programs to assist Americans to own their homes. The Federal Housing Administration (FHA) and the Department of Veterans Affairs offer assistance to qualified borrowers through a mortgage insurance system. By offering direct loans to families in rural areas, the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) reaches families in small towns and communities.

THE RECORD SINCE 1949

These federal programs and incentives helped 65.6% of all Americans achieve their dream of ownership by 1980. However, during the 1980's homeownership rates have been steadily decreasing. There were nearly two million fewer homeowners in 1988 than in 1980.

Funding cuts for federal housing programs are partially responsible for this decline. Programs which were funded at approximately $25 to $30 billion in the late 1970's were dramatically cut in the 1980's to between $7 and $8 billion.

The impact of these funding cuts have been compounded by several economic factors of the decade. Higher mortgage rates have worked against young, first-time homebuyers. More dramatic is the appreciation of real estate in the past 20 years. In 1968 a median priced single-family home cost $20,100. The price of this same home in 1989 rose to an average of $89,300 — increase of 363% that is far above the increases in median income over this same period. The gap between family incomes and ever-increasing housing costs is wider than ever, forcing young families without previous equity out of the home market.

RENEW THE COMMITMENT

Homeownership should retain its rightful place among our national priorities. That is why it is important to continue such programs as the financing of mortgages with tax exempt bond money as a way to keep the dream of homeownership alive for young families. It is only one part of an overall strategy to expand the opportunity for homeownership throughout our great nation. Other efforts such as reduction of interest rates must continue as well if owning one's own home is going to be an achievable goal of all Americans.

School Wages Said Lagging New Here

A committee put together by County School Supt. Bobby Webb finds school salaries in this county "have been gradually losing ground over many years" until they now rank:

Under the average for 11 Southwest Tenn. counties—teacher aides, 19%; hourly personnel, 28%; secretaries, 30%; bookkeepers, 37%; and bus drivers, 37%.

Under the average for 19 West Tenn. county school systems—beginning teachers (B.S. degree), 14%; (master's degree), 21%; for 20 years added experience, 31% and 40%.

The committee is considering sources of revenue to reach the Southwest Tenn. average over the next five years.

Committee members are County Commissioners Danny Beard, Gus Hargett, and Dennis McCallin; Board of Education members Richard Lazure, Gardes Thomas, and Carol (Mrs. Dan) Walker; and aldermen Barry Dewalk, of Henning, Tommy Dunsavat, of Ripley, George Glynn, Jr., of Gates, and Mack Stanley, of Halls.

The Board of Education will meet at 8:30 a.m. March 24th in its building in Ripley to consider long-range plans.

Poster Winners Urged Reading

ANGELA PERRY, who was graduated in January from the Physicians' Assistant School at Trevecca Nazarene College in Nashville, has joined Ripley's Family Practice Clinic. She is specially trained and licensed to perform, under a physician's supervision, tasks physicians usually do. Born in Swaziland, a small country in southwest Africa, she is the youngest of three daughters of a couple who served as missionaries there for 23 years. She resided there until she was 19. She is board certified and a member of the American and Tenn. Academies of Physicians' Assistants.

Book Features Early Settlers

Early settlers in this county of the Cox, Evans, Forsyth, Lamkin, Lowry, Rucker, Rust, and Westmoreland lines are traced in a 2-volume book by a daughter of Lou Forsyth, of Johnson's Grove, in Crockett County. If you will provide names of ancestors, she will advise whether included in her book: Leona L. Weaver, 704-262-0071, or write her at P.O. Box 2356, Boone, N.C. 28607.

Sheriff, Trustee Races Set For August Ballots

The county's incumbent sheriff and trustee face opposition for re-election in petitions filed to qualify candidates for the general election Aug. 2nd.

Jerry Crain, Johnnie D. Ford and Randy Paris have asked that their names be placed on the ballot to oppose incumbent Sheriff Milford "Pop" Durham, who is seeking his 3rd 4-year term.

Everette R. Harrison has filed to oppose re-election of Trustee Paul Meadows, who is seeking his 6th 4-year term.

Other candidates who have qualified thus far:

County Executive: William "Bill Pete" Tucker IV, incumbent.

Register of Deeds: Annie Laura Jennings, incumbent.

Circuit Court Clerk: Richard Eugene Jennings, incumbent.

General Sessions Judge: Willard Norvell, incumbent.

Juvenile and Probate Judge: Robert C. Wilder, Jr., incumbent.

Chancellor, Part I: Dewey C. Whitton, of Bolivar, incumbent.

Chancellor, Part II: John Hill Chisolm, of Covington, incumbent.

Attorney General 16th Judicial Circuit: Paul G. Summers, of Somerville, incumbent.

Circuit Court Judge, Part I: Jon Kerry Blackwood, of Somerville, incumbent.

Circuit Court Judge, Part II: Joe H. "Jody" Walker III (new post, no incumbent).

County Commission, Dist. 3: Charlie Moore.

County Commission, Dist. 6: Mack Curtis.

School Board, Dist. 3: Bob Ennis.

School Board, Dist. 5: Roy Wayne Harkness, Sr.

Deadline for getting on the ballot is noon June 7th.

Candidate

EVERETTE R. HARRISON, of 313 Burke, Ripley, announces his candidacy for County Trustee in the Aug. 2nd General Election. He will make a more complete statement later.

Dana Clement Grant Winner

Clay Connell, manager of Ripley's Wal-Mart, announces award of a $1,000 Wal-Mart Foundation Community Scholarship to Dana Clement, a senior in Ripley High School, who plans to attend the University of Tennessee in Knoxville.

Active in Student Council and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, she is a volunteer counselor in special education.

She was chosen for academic performance, school and community involvement, and financial need.

Alternate is Jonathan Hargett, of Halls High School, who plans to attend Tennessee Technological University in Cookeville.

"It was a difficult choice for our judges, Connell says.

They were Carolyn (Mrs. James) Mitchell, executive director of the county Chamber of Commerce, Dianne (Mrs. Al) Hamilton, of Bank of Ripley, and Judy (Mrs. Roy Lynn) Kelley, of Farmers Union Bank.

The scholarship is one of more than 1,200 awarded by the chain of 1,325 stores in 27 states.

In Tribute

A MEMORIAL TRIBUTE will honor the late Mr. and Mrs. Billy Herron at 2 p.m. April 1st in Ripley Church of God, with a reception to follow in the fellowship hall. Given by their children, the public is invited to share in this tribute marking the first year of their deaths in the Hatchie River tragedy April 1, 1989.

Miss Ripley Contest Set

The Miss Ripley Pageant is set for 7 p.m. Friday, March 30th, in Ripley High School's Little Theatre ($3, $2 for students).

Mrs. Gene Davis Heading Society

Mrs. Gene F. Davis, of Halls, was elected president when the Arthur Thompsons, of Durhamville, hosted the Lauderdale County Historical and Genealogical Society in Sugar Hill, the Lauderdale County Library, Sunday.

Other new officers are Mrs. W. A. Dorris, of Ripley, vice-president; Mrs. Cornelia York Riswell, of Durhamville, recording secretary; Mrs. Tolla Caldwell, of Ripley, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Earl Hendrix, of Ripley, treasurer.

Mrs. Davis spoke on recently discovered records of the Bechtel Cumberland Presbyterian Church of Double Bridges, dating from the 1840's to the late 1860's. Newton M. Cusick, whose great-grandson, Bill Utley, of Genoa, Ill., made the material available, was clerk of the session.

Family sketches are still sought for a book of county history. The group plans to publish. Meetings are planned every other month.

Paul Harris Fellow

ROBERT C. WILDER, JR., second from right, Ripley attorney and Lauderdale County Juvenile and Probate Court judge, Tuesday became a Paul Harris Fellow in Ripley Rotary Club.

With a unique distinction: the award was presented by his father, of Jackson, former Rotary District governor and former president of Lambuth College in Jackson. At left is Judge Wilder's mother, at right, his wife, Kathi Wyatt Wilder. Harris Fellows have given, or have been honored with gifts of $1,000 to aid Rotary projects, including PolioPlus, which has invested more than $200,000,000 to immunize children world-wide against polio and other dread diseases.

JOHN TANNER REPORTS TO THE EIGHTH DISTRICT

THE 1990 CENSUS

Did you know that the United States was the first nation to make a census part of its Constitution? There were, however, many populations in America before the Census Act of 1790. For instance, the Comanche Indian tribe counted its warriors, young men, women, children, and lodges. The periodic censuses of the thirteen colonies by the British government were undoubtedly used for taxation purposes.

WHY A CENSUS?

Though the first census provided the infant America an assessment of its military and industrial strength, its original purpose was to apportion the newly created U.S. House of Representatives whose membership was allocated based upon the population of individual states. Therefore, an accurate count of the population was, and is, essential to insuring fair and effective representation in Congress.

Though the questions are limited to population and housing characteristics, a great deal of information is gathered through the U.S. Census. The data is used only statistically to provide vital information on such national priorities as housing, economic development, and social services.

In addition to government uses, this data will be used by scholars to study demographic characteristics and by businesses to examine the availability of workers in areas where they may be expanding or locating a new facility. Government agencies will use the statistical information to apportion about $38 billion in federal aid that is distributed to state and local government annually on the basis of population counts.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME: IT'S CONFIDENTIAL

Answers to the U.S. Census have never been used for taxation purposes. In fact, the answers to an individual's questionnaire are not revealed to any person, any private institution, or any agency of the federal government outside of the U.S. Census Bureau. The Supreme Court felt that privacy was so important that it ruled that these answers are to be kept absolutely confidential for 72 years — that's longer than Presidential papers are kept confidential.

Most census questionnaires will take only 15 minutes to complete, however 17% of the population will receive a longer form which requires about 45 minutes to fill out. By taking these few minutes to fill out this form, Americans will receive 10 years of social services and economic development. So, on the Official Census Day April 1, make your self count by making yourself counted.

TENNESSEE TRAVELER

What's New

In Tennessee For 1990

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Perhaps the best news for 1990 travelers in the Great Smoky Mountains area is the opening this summer of a new Tennessee State Welcome Center on Interstate 40 near the Cosby entrance to the national park. The new center will be the 11th full-service center operated by the Tennessee Department of Tourist Development and will be staffed and open 24-hours a day.

Also in the Great Smoky Mountains area, Dollywood unveils a gorgeous old turn-of-the-century Dantzel Carousel for the 1990 season. The Pigeon Forge theme park has redesigned one entire section as a nostalgic setting for the carousel. The park has also added a new 450-seat theater as a venue for a new original live musical show. Dollywood will also remain open during the 1990 Christmas season with a special Holiday Festival November 23-December 30.

Dixie Stampede, the Pigeon Forge dinner-entertainment attraction now in its third season, is offering a completely new action-oriented live dinner show for 1990, and the Rainbow Music Theater, a new live music and comedy attraction, opens in May as the third live musical show on Pigeon Forge's "Music Row."

The big news in Chattanooga is the inaugural run of the mythical Chattanooga Choo Choo of Glen Miller fame. Following as closely as possible the lyrics in the famous song, the special excursion train is scheduled to leave the Pennsylvania Station in New York City on September 12, arriving at the equally famous Chattanooga Choo Choo terminal on September 13 in time for the opening of the city's 10-day Choo Choo Festival. The real-life Chattanooga Choo Choo is putting the final touches on a $4 million-dollar renovation of its facilities. Construction is also continuing on the city's $31 million Tennessee Aquarium scheduled to open in 1992.

On Lookout Mountain, Ruby Falls has added a new "Fun Forest" play area complete with a variety of activity-oriented attractions designed for children.

Chattanooga's Museum of United States Military History & Hall of Valor Medal of Honor opens in July. In conjunction with the July 2 opening, the museum will also sponsor the 100th reunion of the Legion of Valor, the oldest military organization in the United States. The huge Chickasaw-Chattanooga National Military Park celebrates its 100th anniversary during 1990 with the August opening of a major expansion of its visitor center and museum. The new facility will house a 150-seat theater showcasing an innovative new orientation program detailing the monumental Civil War battle. At Onieda, the Big South Fork National River & Recreation Area begins offering two and three-day escorted horseback trips into the huge new national park this spring. Shorter two to three hour horse trips are also available from the stables at Bandy Creek Campground.

In Middle Tennessee, Grassmere Wildlife Park, a new 200-acre nature park, opens in Nashville in June with exhibits centering on native Tennessee animals, birds and fish. The facility is an extension of Nashville's Cumberland Museum & Science Center which has also opened a new 18,000-square-foot exhibit wing at its downtown facility.

Nashville's landmark Parthenon in Centennial Park unveils its new 42-foot-tall statue of Athena in April.

Also in Centennial Park, the new Centennial Sportsplex has opened featuring such attractions as a 17-court tennis center, an ice skating arena, and the Olympic-quality Tracy Caulkins Aquatic Center.

Nashville's beautifully restored Union Station Hotel reopened in March. The historic train station features several new restaurants among its attractions. Country Music Backstage, a major new exhibit at the Country Music Hall of Fame and Museum, features many never before exhibited instruments, song manuscripts, stage costumes and personal memorabilia from 28 country music stars.

The Mary Robbins Memorial Showcase reopens in March after moving from its previous location at nearby Hendersonville to the rapidly expanding Music Valley Drive area near Opryland. A new, and as yet unnamed, exhibit facility featuring a variety of changing attractions ranging from art and photography to the technical side of Nashville's huge music industry will also open on Music Valley Drive in April.

At Opryland, the famous Grand Ole Opry celebrates its 65th anniversary in 1990 with several special activities scheduled throughout the year, including regular informal appearances by many Grand Ole Opry stars inside the Opryland Showpark. The park is also premiering its new Heart of Country concerts this season with such stars as Tommy Wymette, Gary Morris and Lee Greenwood making one and two week appearances. Entertainer Brandon Lee returns to Opryland's Academy Theater for her third season headlining an all new musical show called Spirit of America.

a new "spruced up" look and a new menu item created by famed New Orleans chef Paul Prudhomme, and the latest addition to the lineup of Opryland attractions is the new 18-hole Springhouse Golf Club scheduled to open this fall at Opryland Hotel.

In Memphis, the city's skyline is changing rapidly as construction continues on the landmark 32-story Great American Pyramid scheduled to open in the spring of 1991.

On Historic Beale Street, B.B.'s Place owned by blues legend B.B. King, is scheduled to open this summer. Rock and roll legend Bo Diddley has also agreed to lend his name to another new Beale Street club.

The Children's Museum of Memphis a new discovery museum designed for youngsters, opens in June, and Southland Greyhound Park begins year-round operation in 1990 with racing nightly except Wednesdays and Sundays. The track in West Memphis is also undergoing a major renovation of its facilities.

The current trend among parents is to enroll their children in elite sports programs that are aimed at promoting high-level proficiency in a chosen sport. With the high degree of emphasis placed on performance, overall fitness may be overlooked. As a result, many youngsters are suffering from overuse injuries. Those young athletes at highest risk for injury are those who engage in long periods of repetitive movement. During a seven-month study at Children's Hospital in Boston, it was noted that 70 cases of stress fracture (tiny cracks in the bone) were observed. Tendonitis and joint damage are also problems for many youngsters. These risks suggest that young athletes undergo regular chiropractic checks to ensure that bone strength and flexibility can match stressful training levels.

A periodic chiropractic exam for your youngsters can provide the answer to many of their discomforts. Such a routine of periodic exams allows existing problems to be addressed while, oftentimes, avoiding unwanted developing situations. Their individual needs, based upon their athletic involvement can be analyzed and suggestions made as to the best methods to cope with them. For the comfort you and your family seeks, call BRADLEY CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC, 508 Troy Ave., 286-2222. Hours: Mon., Tues., Wed., Fri. 8:30-5:30, closed Thurs. P.S. Stress fractures among child athletes were virtually unheard of 30 years ago.

April Vows Planned Church Vows Scheduled Married In Dyersburg

ELISE DANETTE BRYSON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Bryson, of Ripley, will marry Bruce Wayne Tims, son of Robert Tims, of Ripley, and Alice Faye McBride, of Halls, at 6 p.m. April 28th with a pool side wedding at the home of the bride's parents, all friends invited.
Miss Bryson is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Holt, of Ripley, and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Bryson, of Covington. A 1987 graduate of Ripley High School, she attended Dyersburg State College. She is employed by The Shoe Barn in Ripley.
Mr. Tims is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Archibald, of Frog Jump, and the great-grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ray D. Heath, of Halls. A 1986 graduate of Halls High School, he is employed by Tupperware.

ANGELA MICHELLE INMAN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Inman, of Lexington, will marry Benjamin Todd Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Henderson, of Halls, at 7 p.m. (music at 6:30) June 30th in First Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Jackson, with a reception at The Sheraton Old English Inn, all friends invited.
Miss Inman is the granddaughter of Mrs. Edna Myracle, of Lexington, and the late Pearl Myracle, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Arnold, of Portland, Ore., and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Inman, of Lexington. A 1985 graduate of Lexington High School, she graduated from Memphis State University in 1989 where she received a bachelor of business administration in marketing. She is employed by Memphis State as an academic counselor.
Mr. Henderson is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Rozelle Turner, of Curve, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Paul Henry Henderson, of Halls. A 1984 graduate of Halls High School, he graduated from Memphis State University in 1989 where he received a bachelor of business administration in finance. He is employed by Ford Motor Credit in Memphis.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT SHELTON were married Dec. 2nd in Westside Baptist Church in Dyersburg. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Shelton, of Ripley. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cooper, of Dyersburg.

MRS. KEVIN HARDY was given a stork shower Tuesday evening of last week in the home of Mrs. Roger Harris on Highway 88 west of Halls. Hostesses were members of the Young Adult Sunday School Class of First Baptist Church in Halls, assisted by their teacher, Mrs. Hartwell Strain. Special guests were the honoree's mother-in-law, Mrs. Georgia Blackwood, right, of Halls, and the honoree's sister-in-law, Mrs. David Jennings, left, of Halls. Cake, nuts, and punch were served.

Honored
son house next door. Virginia and Paul Avery had an apartment upstairs at Mrs. Howard's.
Bea and Jack will celebrate their 73rd wedding anniversary in July. Virginia and Paul celebrated their 53rd wedding anniversary in February.
Mary and David Harold also visited Dr. Jim and Betty Hinton in Ocean Springs, Miss., on their trip. Soon after he was graduated from medical school, Dr. Hinton came to Halls to practice medicine. He was here for a number of years, with his office over Connell's Drug Store.
Many doctors had their offices there when practicing medicine in Halls. In those days, most of the patients did not see their doctor in his office, as all the doctors made house calls. We now have a clinic with doctors coming from Ripley and a dentist coming from Memphis on certain days.
For years we had three drug stores in Halls. Now we have one drug store as large as all three of the old ones put together. We have three pharmacists, with one living in Medon, one in Gates, and one in Halls. This drug store is also a nice gift shop, almost anything in stationery, toys, and children's books.
One thing they do not have is a window full of comic books, which Leonard Andrews had in his store. My children used to go to town in the afternoon to spend a nickel for a comic, Coke, or pop-sicle, and while eating it, they would read all the new funny-books.
When I was in high school, we went to Connell's Drug Store for a Coke or to split a milk-shake after school. All the drug stores, as did Pedro's, had curb service, where we would go at night for the same thing, if we were lucky enough to have a date with a boy who had a car, or was double-dating with a friend who had a car. I have told my grandchildren that Charles, or Pop to them, was the only boy with whom I had as many as ten dates who owned a car.

Halls never had but one policeman on duty in the day time and one on duty at night, until a very few years ago. The day-time policeman, when I was growing up, was Vester Walpole. He served for many years.
They put in parallel parking in Halls on Main Street, uptown, after I was married. Even though I learned to drive when we had a Model-T Ford, then an A-Model Ford, I never learned to do parallel parking until Mr. Walpole taught me. He somehow never learned to drive a car himself, but he was a good teacher in making people obey the law in this town. If you had something stolen from your home or grounds, you told him what someone had taken, and most times he had the article back to you in a very short time.

Pageant Winner
Sylvia Tyus, right, a 1989 graduate of Halls High School, placed third March 9th in the Miss Jackson State College Pageant in Jackson. A freshman, she plans to pursue a career in communications. She is the 11th of 12 children of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Tyus, of Halls. Pictured with her is Kimberly Meeks, of McNairy County, who won the title.

The Return of the Romantic Wedding

By Lise Cochran
PM Editorial Services
How do I love thee? Let me count the ways. I love thee to the depth and breadth and height / My soul can reach, when feeling out of sight / For the ends of Being and ideal Grace.
—Elizabeth Barrett Browning

The romantic verses of Elizabeth Barrett Browning's poetry have forever captured the essence of people in love. And as the tulips and daffodils begin blooming this spring, devoted couples around the world will be committing their love to each other in the most timeless of celebrations, weddings. Wonderful, romantic weddings.
Weddings are back! Not that they ever went out, but the trend toward more traditional ceremonies from days gone by has returned, and with great passion.

Already the magazines have hit the newsstands bursting with the latest fashions for elegant, ivory lace wedding dresses and recommendations for sophisticated receptions set at historic houses and country inns. Guidelines are offered so brides-to-be can select carefully their bouquets, choosing flowers that carry symbolic meaning, such as orchids for rare beauty or white lilies for purity and modesty.
Nearly 2.5 million brides will enter matrimony this year, and the planning process for these lavish weddings has reached an all-time high. Many brides are finding that creating the perfect day is a full-time job.
"If you were paid for all the hours invested in coordinating a wedding, you probably could end up paying for the wedding itself!" says Shannon Toole, who is busily planning her May wedding in Washington, D.C.
This could very well be true. Although costs can range from $100 to hundreds of thousands of dollars, an average wedding today falls between $7,000 and $30,000. It depends on where the reception is held, what type of food and beverages are served, and the formality of the ceremony. In any case, a bride may find it very difficult to keep the total cost under $10,000.
Receptions also can reflect the touches of a romantic. String quartets have replaced rock bands, historic inns are chosen over modern hotels, and everyone has a champagne toast. Wedding cakes can be custom-made by layers, offering raspberry chocolate, amaretto cream and mocha as some favorite choices.
However, there are a few non-traditional trends emerging too. For example, many couples are paying for their own weddings or families are sharing the expenses. And, prenuptial agreements are becoming common requests.
Still, whether traditional or contemporary, formal or informal, when the bride and groom are pronounced man and wife, no one can deny it being one of the most cherished moments in life. [L]

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

HALLS, TENNESSEE, MARCH 29, 1990

VOLUME 92—NUMBER 28

Honored By Chamber

"His career began in Lauderdale County in September, 1950, with the Agricultural Extension Service; he remained with it until his retirement, Dec. 31, 1989.

"For the first 21 years, most of his time was spent working with the youth in the 4-H Program. During these years, he saw many accomplishments, such as an increase in participation in public speaking events, upgrading of the swine quality in this county, and also much leadership development among the youth. As he observes throughout the county, he recognizes many adults active in leadership roles whom he feels are leaders partly as the results of his interest and assistance.

"For the past 17 1/2 years, he has been Agricultural Extension Leader and has worked with the farmers in crop and livestock programs, in addition to carrying on his duties as office manager. During these years, he received the Outstanding Extension Agent honor in West Tennessee in 1966 and was recognized nationally for Distinguished Service in Extension in 1974 by the National County Agents Association.

"He enjoys horticulture very much—has a green house, grows perennials, annuals, and roses. He also does a small amount of consulting in this field.

"He is on the City Planning Committee and the County Planning Committee, is a member of the Three Star Community Development Committee, and the Ripley Rotary Club, in which he recently became a Paul Harris Fellow, and is Sunday School Superintendent and treasurer of Mount Pleasant United Methodist Church at Arp.

"He is married to Martha Peal, retired guidance counselor at the Ripley High School. They have one daughter, Melinda Peal Jagers, of Lexington."

Feist was saluted in these words:

"He has served our county in so many ways to mention—as president of the Chamber of Commerce, president of the Ripley Rotary Club, a key supporter of the Ripley Youth Council, which developed summer programs in "Tiny Town" on Knee Field and opened Ripley's public swimming pool, and as an active and enthusiastic supporter of the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, countless other worthy causes, and development of Rolling Hills Country Club.

"Born in Germany in 1919, he left for the U.S. in 1936 with $2.50 in his pocket—and seeing fellow passengers cashing in jack-pots from slot machines on the ship, lost his $2.50. Speaking no English, on a train to relatives in St. Louis, Missouri, he got off in East St. Louis, Ill., but quickly got back on again.

Two years later, in 1938, he met Betty Berg, of Ripley, then attending Lindenwood College in St. Charles, Mo.; they have three children—Lee, president of the retail division of Remington Corp., in Ridgefield, Conn., Alice Conte, counselor with Sierra Tucson in Tucson, Ariz., and Carol Hoxie, head-mistress with Cinderella Montessori School in Memphis. They have seven grandchildren, Sam, Tammy, Emily, Richard, Jesse, Jimmy, and Betty.

"He entered the Army in 1942, first in Ordinance, then in the Counter-Intelligence Corps, interrogating German soldiers taken prisoner by Allied forces.

"In 1946, he joined his father-in-law, Sam Berg, in Ripley's oldest active business, Berg & Schaefer Co., founded in 1879. After Mr. Berg's death in 1958, he and Betty were sole owners until they sold the firm in the mid-80's to Mr. and Mrs. Gene Butler.

"But while operating the family firm, he looked beyond it to the wider business community—promoting, through the Chamber of Commerce and The Lauderdale County Enterprise, Ripley's first "Community Bargain Days."

"He also sought out and helped establish in Ripley its first post-war industry, Ripley Manufacturing Co., community-financed by the Ripley Development Corp.

"He also developed with Mickey Rourke, of Greenfield, Remnant House, a regional chain of fabric stores, which was sold to Bobbie Brooks.

"He and Betty now operate West-Ten Sales, a major importer and wholesaler of lace.

"We're glad our Honorary Member didn't stay in East St. Louis, Ill., nor in St. Louis, Mo., but came to this county to contribute so much to it in so many ways, and continues to do so—a tried and true, died in the wool Lauderdale County booster."

Candidate

JODY WALKER, 44, Ripley attorney, will be listed as "Joe Walker" on Aug. 2nd general election ballots in this and four other counties, seeking a new Circuit Court judgeship.

He is not opposing Circuit Judge Jon Kerry Blackwood, of Somerville, Chancellor John Hill Chisolm, of Covington, or Chancellor Dewey Whitenton, of Bolivar, who now serve this county as judges. He seeks an entirely new judgeship, created by the legislature, as a second Circuit Judge, in addition to Judge Blackwood, in Lauderdale, Tipton, Fayette, Hardeman, and McNairy Counties.

Jody's wife, Lyn, is Donor Services Representative in this county for Life Blood. They have three children.

Jody is the grandson of the late William Tucker III, Ripley merchant, ginner, and alderman, and County Court magistrate.

Rearred in Ripley, Jody was educated in county schools and earned an Eagle Scout Badge. He was graduated from Southwestern at Memphis (now Rhodes College) before service with the infantry in Viet Nam, earning a Bronze Star and two awards of the Army Commendation Medal.

He attended Memphis State's Law School on the "G.I. Bill" and was associate editor of its Law Review.

Since he received his law degree, he has practiced in the firm of Walker and Walker in Ripley.

In 1982, he was appointed by the governor, during an election contest, to serve as Chancellor in the five counties of the district for 12 months.

He has also gained judicial experience as City Judge in Ripley, as a former Supreme Court disciplinary hearing committee member, and as a former Juvenile Court referee.

He has extensive trial experience in Circuit, Chancery, and other state courts and in U.S. District Court.

He serves on the Board of Directors and on the executive committee of Farmers Union Bank in Ripley and on the Board of Insouth, a multi-bank holding company. He is on the board of a warehouse company and of several charitable organizations. He is a member of the Executive Board of the West Tennessee Area Council, Boy Scouts of America.

He is past president of the Lauderdale County Chamber of Commerce and was voted Outstanding Young Man in Ripley in 1981. He is a member of the Ripley Rotary Club, in which he is a Paul Harris Fellow. He is a member of the American, Tennessee, and local legal Bar Associations.

"In the next few years, our Circuit Court system will require judges with integrity, experience, and fairness, tempered with firmness, especially with regard to drug offenders," Jody says.

"If this is what you want in your additional Circuit Court judge, I will appreciate your support."

Junior Miss Royalty

TONI COLEMAN, second from right, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coleman, of Halls, was chosen Queen of Saturday's Halls Junior Miss Review, sponsored by Halls Band Boosters. From right are first maid Sara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Weeks, second maid Laura, daughter of Allan and Vicky Duncan, and third maid Christina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Stanley, all of Halls.

Gwinn Matthews Seeks County Exec's Position

Former sheriff Gwinn Matthews, of Ripley, has put his name on the Aug. 2nd ballot to seek the County Executive (formerly County Judge) position now held by William "Bill Pete" Tucker IV, who is seeking re-election.

InSouth Using Vboss System

Independent Southern Bancshares, of Brownsville, parent of Farmers Union Bank in Ripley, has installed computer software from Vboss, of Appleton, Wis., in all its operations to improve financial calculations, product and service information, document preparation, and teller functions.

Candidate Murder Defendant Rips Sink Off Wall

Tyrone Charles "Sweet Daddy" Trent, 31, of Dyersburg, jailed in Lake County after having been charged with first degree murder Jan. 5th of Billy Mack Kirby, 53, of Ripley, is reported by The Lake County Banner to have flooded part of the Lake County Jail by ripping a sink from the wall of his cell after he threw a tray of breakfast at a trusty delivering it. Damage was minor.

Trent is charged with stomping Kirby to death while both were in the "drunk tank" of the Dyer County Jail, charged with public intoxication. Trent is also charged with aggravated assault on another prisoner in the "drunk tank," after his attack on Kirby. He has not made $150,000 bond while awaiting Dyer County grand jury action.

Woodville Baptist Revival Planned

The Rev. John Daughtry, of New Orleans, La., will lead "Here's Hope, Jesus Cares For You" revival services in Woodville Baptist Church March 30th-April 1st, at 7 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 10:45 a.m. and 6 p.m. Sunday, with special music each evening and a basket lunch after Sunday morning services.

The Rev. Gary Zook, pastor, invites the public.

SERVICE FOR KING

A pre-memorial service honoring Martin Luther King will be held at 7 p.m. April 3rd in Palmer-Turner Community Center in Henning.

Close-Up In Capital

HALLS HIGH SCHOOL CLOSE-UP STUDENTS Rita Nolen and Louis Orchard, plus David Lawrence, not pictured, and their sponsor, Pat (Mrs. Bernard) Higdon, left, were in Washington, D.C. last week for seminars on Capital Hill and a visit to the Senate gallery. They visited famed monuments and saw the play, Fiddler On The Roof.

Roosevelt. A 12-year veteran of Close-Up, Mrs. Higdon was guest of honor at a Thursday evening dinner at Trader Vic's in the Capital Hilton Hotel. Close-Up Foundation President Steve Janger, when introducing her to representatives from Hawaii, Connecticut, West Virginia, and Ohio, said, "Pat and her Close-Up Club are outstanding examples of what the Close-Up experience can accomplish in the communities." Over the past 12 years, more than 100 students from HHS have participated in the Washington program.

Lookout Mountain's Ruby Falls

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. — Chattanooga's famous Lookout Mountain is a remarkable place in many respects. It is, for example, one of Tennessee's most distinctive landmarks, rising from the banks of the Tennessee River to dominate the skyline of the city from almost any vantage point.

One of Lookout Mountain's most impressive features, however, is buried deep within the stone heart of the mountain, and was discovered quite by accident.

For centuries, the mountain's extensive network of caves has been explored and used by man, particularly a large cavern at the base of the mountain.

Generations of prehistoric Indians lived and died within the shelter of the cavern. The Cherokees and early settlers explored miles of its passageways and left their names on its walls.

Since that day in 1928, nearly ten million people have followed Leo Lambert's path through the quarter mile of passageways lined with large stalactites and stalagmites, flowstone, delicate "soda straws," and other natural formations to stand in the soaring room as Lambert did marveling at the spectacular underground waterfall.

Ruby Falls holds several distinctions among America's commercial caverns. It is, for example, the highest underground waterfall open to the public.

While the quarter mile walk from the elevator to the waterfall chamber is relatively level, the bulk of Lookout Mountain rises overhead so that the waterfall itself lies 1,120 feet beneath the top of the mountain, making Ruby Falls the deepest commercial cavern in the United States.

Over the years since 1928, geologists and spelunkers have extensively explored the cavern, but have failed to solve its primary mysteries. Many explorers, for example, have climbed to the ceiling and traced the flow of water back for several hundred yards to a low ledge which blocks further exploration and leaves the source of the waterfall still unknown.

The high, vaulted ceiling was almost beyond the reach of their lights, but it was the source of the sound that filled them with awe.

As they worked their way deeper and deeper into the mountain, they gradually became aware of the roaring sound of water somewhere ahead of them. Another 600 feet of exploration led them through a small hole 15 feet above the floor of a gigantic room.

The high, vaulted ceiling was almost beyond the reach of their lights, but it was the source of the sound that filled them with awe.

The following day, Lambert led a full-scale expedition armed with helmets, ropes and carbide lamps into the opening. The party crawled through low passageways, squeezed through narrow corridors, traversed rocky ledges, and waded through waist-deep water.

Congressman JOHN TANNER REPORTS TO THE EIGHTH DISTRICT

HEAD START: A SUCCESS STORY

As great effort goes toward developing ways to improve education, there appears to be a growing consensus that the Head Start program is one that works. Educational leaders throughout the country urge its expansion because it is a program that helps prevent problems in later years of a child's education.

UNIQUE GOALS

The vision of Head Start encompasses more than simply educational goals or child care services. Each program must, for example, provide health screening and education programs for every child; identify the social services needs of the children and their families; and develop a parental involvement program.

Since the program's inception in 1965, Head Start has provided this full range of developmental services specifically to low-income pre-school children. This year almost 500,000 children will be enrolled in Head Start programs. In the Eighth District alone, it is expected that 800 needy students will be served in FY 1990.

REACHING OUT

Nationally, though, Head Start reaches only about 14% of the eligible 3-year olds, and 38% of the 4-year olds. Efforts by both the Congress and the President may make Head Start reach more of those eligible for its services.

Administration budget proposals, for instance, would increase the program's funding by $500 million, making Head Start available to an estimated additional 180,000 4 year olds. By approving proposals to expand the program to provide full-day, year-round services, the 101st Congress hopes to fulfill its commitment to early childhood development services.

The Head Start program's unique approach to providing disadvantaged children needed educational, social, and health services should be admired and expanded. For an Eighth District average of $2,197 per student per year, each Head Start child gains invaluable self-confidence, the parents gain direct involvement in their child's educational and social growth, and the educational system gains a well-adjusted student prepared to confront the challenges facing him or her throughout their learning years.

I believe our children are worth it.

Readers Speak

Editor: In and around Halls is our old stomping ground. We have a lot of wonderful memories of a lot of people and places in Lauderdale County, which we talk about often.

We attended the re-union, in 1988, of the 20's and 30's, and enjoyed every minute of it. Last week, Eleanor Bivens brought The Graphic by the news about the Siler home and Nauens and Jerre Jordan. Enclosed is a check for a year's subscription.

March 21st, we celebrated our 48th wedding anniversary. Have been in Jackson for 43 years in October, and love Jackson, but still love to hear the news from Halls.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO DOG OWNERS

All dog owners are hereby notified that the Tennessee Anti-Rabies Law as passed by the 1957 legislature and approved by the Lauderdale County Court, will be enforced throughout the county. All dogs three months of age must be vaccinated by a veterinarian. All cats six months of age must be vaccinated by a veterinarian.

This law requires that all dogs in the county be vaccinated by a licensed veterinarian and licensed at the County Trustee's Office on or before the first day of May, each year, paying a county license fee of one dollar ($1.00) for each dog owned, kept, or harbored.

This law also requires that a certificate of rabies vaccination in date must be presented at the time of getting license and that no license certificate shall be issued unless a certificate of rabies vaccination is produced for each dog to be licensed.

In order to help dog owners get their dogs vaccinated, the following vaccination clinics have been set up throughout the county, and a charge of $4.00 for each dog vaccinated will be made by the veterinarian at these clinics. A rabies control officer will accompany the veterinarian to these clinics, and all dogs can be licensed at these clinics. The rabies control officer will be on duty full-time thereafter, picking up dogs without tags.
