Despite uncertain weather conditions, about 400 people were on hand to welcome the President, First Lady Hillary Clinton, Vice-President Al Gore, and Tipper Gore. Other Lauderdale Countians held hand-made signs on the highway near Halls as the president's buses passed.

Halls Winners Host Camden For Their Region 7-2A Bow

Halls High School's Tigers, who last week edged Crockett County, 14-13, for the Cavaliers' 20th consecutive defeat, host Camden this Friday for their first foray into the tough, 8-team Region 7-2A.

Camden lost last week to Waverly, 34-33, in over-time, on Jonathan Fortner's run after a 10-yard scoring toss from Carlton Plant to James Nowlin.

The Lions were 2-8 in 1994, 4-6 last fall. In Alamo, after a 0-0 first rell Rogers put Halls on the score-board in the second quarter, from the 12.

It was 7-7 at the half, and 14-7 for Halls after three periods. The Cavaliers recovered a fumble to score Andrew Smith in the fourth quarter, Halls tail-back Mon-

Rotarians Hear Dispute Tactics

Jocelyn Wurzberg, Memphis attorney, listed for Ripley Rotarians Tuesday a dozen ways of handling a dispute, ranging from nuclear war to avoiding the issue.

She focused on alternatives to litigation, including arbitration, summary jury trials, early neutral evaluation, mini-trials, judicial settlement conferences, mediation, and bi-lateral negotiations.

She was the program guest of Rotarian Herbert Feist.

but a pass attempt, to secure the winning two points, failed.

River Maintenance Contracts Awarded

The Memphis District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers awarded contracts to Luhr Bros., Inc., of Columbia, Ill., to construct stone dikes about 14 miles north of Helena, Ark., and to Clifton Excavating Co., Inc., of Dyersburg, for riprap protection work on the North and South Forks of the Forked Deer River in Dyer, Crockett, Lauderdale and Haywood Counties.

Work on the Arkansas project will begin in September and is expected to be complete in three to four months. The dikes are stone structures built in the Mississippi River to improve the low water navigation channel. Cost of the project is $2,817,200.

The riprap protection work, at a cost of $947,000, will begin in October, completion in one year, will protect public facilities like bridges and pipelines from the erosive effects of the river.

Attends Farm Tour

Designed to help farmers better understand the various phases of the cooperative system, the tour included visits to FFR Cooperative, a plant-breeding operation in Lafayette, Ind.; Cooperative Seeds, Inc., an FFR Corn production plant in Elizaville, Ind.; Keystone Steel and Wire, manufacturer of Red Brand wire products in Peoria, Ill.; and Cooperative Research Farms, a 151-acre swine and cattle research farm in Lexington, Ill.

In Chicago, the farmers saw the opening of a trading session at the Chicago Board of Trade. They watched from the visitors' center as 1,000 traders used a combination of open, competitive outcries and hand signals to buy and sell crops. They also visited the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, a smaller trade center where pork bellies, live cattle and swine are traded with crops such as corn, soybeans, wheat and cotton.

48 yards to make it 14-12 after three quarters.

Sinis booted a 25-yard field goal and topped Kelly Schrotberger's recovery of a fumble in the end zone to end the scoring.

Ripley Tiger Victors Begin Play-Off Chase At Bolton

Ripley High School's Tigers, winners from Frayser in their debut Friday, 24-12, go to Bolton (near Arlington) Friday to begin their quest for one of two play-off spots in 6-team Region 7-4A.

Other region foes are, in order of schedule, Somerville's Fayette-Ware, Sept. 20th, Dyersburg, Oct. 4th, Collierville, Oct. 18th, and Covington, Nov. 1st.

Bolton, 6-5 last fall after winning its last four games and losing its play-off debut to Memphis Westwood, 51-14, last week led Evangelical Christian School, of Memphis, 26-14.

Bolton led 19-0 after three quarters.

Bolton's coach for 14 years, Robert Downing, is 68-69 for his 18-year coaching record.

He has back this fall 11 seniors, short on experience; three starters on offense, and five starters on defense; a good back-field but no depth in the line.

Big assets inherited from last year's Wildcats include senior full-back Brian Wade (5-10, 215), whose more than 700 yards rushing ranked him second in the region last fall, and senior kicker John Wright (5-10, 145), who decided more than one game last fall, with a field goal in final minutes defeating South Side.

Friday, it was sophomore Seward Ruffin who scored Bolton's first two touchdowns, from the three and from the 80, to put Bolton ahead 19-0 after three quarters.

In Ripley, the host Tigers led Frayser all the way.

Orlando Qualls scored from the five, with Billy Sinis kicking, for a 7-0 first quarter lead.

After Frayser's Michael Jones went 77 yards from a Ripley fumble to score, Ripley's Quincy Richmond tallied a 16-yard TD to make the half-time score 14-6.

Frayser's Dave Rosenthal hit Keith Wilson with a TD pass of

FOUR-H CAMPING WAS DIFFERENT IN 1923

This summer, some 12,000 Tennessee 4-H members attended camp at one of the four facilities across the state owned by the University of Tennessee. Those 4-H training facilities are located in Milan, Columbia, Crossville and Greeneville. The cost of a week's camp this year was $85.

When I was going to camp in the late 1940's and early 1950's, the cost was about ten dollars a week. The current cost of $85 is not excessive when you take into account the fact that the facilities are much better now, and we must not forget about the rate of inflation.

Four-H camping is certainly different from what it was 50 years ago. However, it has really changed from what it was 73 years ago. Back then, you had to bring your own food to camp. I recently came across an article in the Columbia Daily Herald, dated August 23, 1923. It told of the upcoming boy's Four-H camp on the University of Tennessee Experiment Station, and told them specifically what they should bring to camp. Just take a look at this list.

"One quilt, one pillow and case, one pair sheets, one saucer, one glass, one bath cloth, four towels, one toothbrush, one plate, $1.00 in money, one cake of soap, one comb and brush, one tin cup, one knife and fork, and brown domestic to hold these articles, notebook and pencil." (I wonder how many people today have ever seen brown domestic, or know what it was.)

"Clothing for boys - one suit, cap or hat, two suits of underwear, extra trousers, two pairs of shoes, two shirts, two pair of socks."

"Equipment for each club to bring to camp - one skillet, two wash pans, one large stepan, one water bucket, one lamp."

There was a list of food supplies that they were to bring to camp. I am not sure whether each camper was to bring this much or not. I would assume that was the case. They were to bring their lunch with them for the first day, and provide the following in order to prepare for the 15 meals to be served that week:

"Green corn, three ears; Irish potatoes, three pounds; tomatoes, one quart; cabbage, one head; apples, one quart; butter, half a pound; two onions; one green sweet pepper; eggs, one half dozen; one chicken, one to one and a half pounds; bacon, half pound; flour, one pound; bread, one loaf; sugar, one half pound; jelly, preserves, jam or honey, either kind you have, one glass."

The last sentence of the newspaper story read, "Please bring the above and don't bring a lot of extras."

From this list, it would seem that to bring a large group of boys from any club, it would take a two horse wagon to haul all the supplies that they were supposed to bring.

When they said they were going camping in those days, they really meant it.

Tennessee Lasagna: A Sure Hit from Shore

Dinah Shore is one of the many famed Tennesseans who wore so many hats in her lifetime. Winchester, Tenn., was home to Dinah, but she spent years in Hollywood and New York pursuing her television and theater careers. Not to be forgotten was her talent as a cookbook author, as well as a wonderful cook and hostess. Dinah's foundation shared her recipe for Tennessee Lasagna and her comments about the recipe.

She said, "My version of lasagna is one of those dishes that is most useful when people unexpectedly drop over and you have to substitute several ingredients to make it stre-e-etch."

"On one occasion, I added cheese. On another, more macaroni. It's an economical dish, and my usual practice is to make two and put one in the freezer. Then whenever guests drop in unexpectedly, as they say in the commercials, I pop the frozen one in the oven. I've hardly ever had a more accommodating dish."

How practical and perfect for a Tennessee hostess!

Dinah Shore's Tennessee Lasagna

Cook one, 1-pound package of elbow macaroni in salted water until just done.

1 POUND OF SHARP CHEDDAR CHEESE, CUT IN CUBES
PARMESAN OR CHEDDAR CHEESE GRATED

SAUCE
2 POUNDS GROUND MEAT (GROUND CHUCK OR 1-POUND GROUND CHUCK AND 1-POUND HOT ITALIAN SAUSAGE, IF YOU LIKE)

1 SMALL BUNCH OF CELERY, COARSELY CUT
2 CLOVES OF GARLIC, CHOPPED FINE

1 MEDIUM ONION, CHOPPED COARSELY

1 GREEN PEPPER, CUT IN BROAD STRIPS
6-8 WHOLE MUSHROOMS, SLICED THIN

4 CUPS TOMATOES (2 16-OUNCE CANS)
1 8-OUNCE CAN TOMATO SAUCE
DASH OF WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE
PINCH OF OREGANO
1 TEASPOON CHILI POWDER
RED PEPPER FLAKES
1/4 TEASPOON CUMIN

Brown onions and garlic in oil, then add celery and green pepper. Cook until a little soft, and then remove from pan. Add ground meat to oil and brown well. After meat is browned, add salt, pepper, chili powder, cumin, Worcestershire sauce, oregano (easy on this), mushrooms, onions, garlic, celery and green pepper. Sprinkle with red pepper flakes. Add tomatoes and tomato sauce—allow to cook slowly for one hour until sauce blends.

Assemble by putting a layer of macaroni in casserole; dot with butter, add cheese cubes and then a layer of the sauce. Sprinkle with red pepper flakes, butter and cheese cubes, etc., finishing with a layer of sauce.

Top with grated Parmesan or cheddar cheese. Bake in a 350-degree oven for 30 minutes until cheese is melted inside and dish is thoroughly heated. This can be prepared ahead and reheated 30 minutes before serving. Yield: 10 to 12 servings. Serve with crusty French bread and a green salad.

On her 96 in '96 Bicentennial tour this summer, Miss Daisy King will visit each of the state's 95 counties, plus the site of the lost county of James.

King will be promoting brick sales for the Tennessee Bicentennial Mail Path of Volunteers and signing copies of her best-selling cookbook, Miss Daisy Celebrates Tennessee.

Look for "Miss Daisy" at Cracker Barrel Old Country Stores, at Bicentennial Exposition Train stops, and at book retailers across Tennessee.

In conjunction with the 96 in '96 tour, the publisher is sponsoring a recipe contest looking for special dishes and corresponding family stories that truly express who we are as Tennesseans.

The mysterious chronic fatigue syndrome has been linked with neurally mediated hypotension, a problem in blood pressure regulation that often results in fainting. The "cure" in many cases is a high-salt diet and blood pressure medication.

For high-cholesterol patients who can't be helped by low-fat diet or drugs, the FDA has approved the Liposorber, a device that cleanses the blood of cholesterol. It functions like dialysis machines that remove toxins from a kidney patient's blood.

Research in Hawaii has found a correlation between high blood pressure in middle-aged men and impaired memory and concentration when they reach their late 70's. Every 10-point increase in systolic pressure lowered brain function by 9 percent.

Women who take oral contraceptives should pay special attention to oral hygiene, since estrogen can affect the gums. It is best to schedule any dental surgery for the days off the pill.

Urges Support For I-69

BILL REVELL, center, Mayor of the City of Dyersburg, spoke to the Ripley Exchange Club, Thursday last week, on I-69. Pictured with Mayor Revell is Richard Braden, left, and Richard Jennings, right.

West Tennessee's share of the annual cost of the I-69 Coalition is $71,000," stated Mayor Revell. "Shelby County groups will provide $51,000.

"Every $1 spent on I-69 should yield more than $6 in economic productivity," continued Mayor Revell. The route would carry at least 35% of the truck-borne Canadian and Mexican imports and exports. It would connect military bases and connect

Ag Fraud Charges Nearing U.S. Jury

Four counties Monday heard Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. Larry Laurenzi rest the case against them before U. S. Dist. Judge Odell Horton and a jury.

The defendants—Johnny Carroll, Jimmie Hensley and wife, Tracie, and Johnny Little—are accused of fraud and conspiracy to get crop damage payments via the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) 1993 disaster aid, for crops never planted and/or damaged.

As we went to press Tuesday, Judge Horton was scheduled to meet with attorneys before the defense began presenting its case.

City Of Ripley Funds Speculative Building

Ripley's City Board, meeting Monday, unanimously approved a request from Bobby Best, chairman of the Ripley Economic Development Corp., to advertise for bids for a speculative building, expected to cost about $1,000,000, on 25 acres of the city's new industrial park, north of the Hwy. 19 By-Pass south of Ripley.

A speculative building is a shell, not built for a specific user but easily adaptable for many prospects. Having it in place, eliminating months of construction time, can often mean the difference between locating a new industry, or losing an industrial prospect.

Halls Gridsters, 1-1, Host Yellow Jackets

Halls High School's Tigers, 1-1 for the season after a Region 7-2A loss to Camden last week, 33-18, this Friday host Greenfield's Yellow Jackets, of Region 7-A.

Halls led Camden in first downs, 14 to 10, and had 260 yards rushing, to 281, and 32 yards passing, to 28.

But seven fumbles (two lost) and four penalties for 50 yards hurt. Camden recovered its only fumble and caught two penalties for 20 yards.

The Lions led 7-0 after the first quarter, 20-6 at the half, and 27-12 after three periods.

Bobby Harrell (5-10, 150) scored the first two touchdowns for Halls, from the 16 and on a 75-yard kick return.

Monrell Rogers (5-11, 188) went six yards for the final Tiger tally to bring his rushing yardage to 128.

Yellow Jackets Also 1-1

Greenfield, yet to play in its region, visits Halls after a win from Lighthouse Christian, in Nashville, 12-6, and a loss, at home last Friday, to Fulton City, 9-7.

Mr. McBride urges farmers of Lauderdale County to make plans now to seed winter cover crops on their fields this fall.

Further information about winter cover crops from the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service, 162 Randolph St., 635-0851. All programs and services of the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service are offered on a nondiscriminatory basis, without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age, marital status or handicap.

Planting Of Winter Cover Crops Urged

Vernon McBride, chairman of the Lauderdale County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors, stated that "winter cover crops seeded annually help control erosion but have many other advantages to the farmers of Lauderdale County. Legume winter cover crops such as vetch and crimson clover will give the farmers approximately 40-60 pounds per acre of nitrogen. The winter cover crop also increases organic matter and water holding capacity. Wheat, rye and oats are non-legume plants also used for winter cover crops. Seeding of winter cover crops is not a new conservation practice but one used by the grandparents of most Lauderdale County farmers. The application of this important conservation practice has renewed interest in recent years with the implementation of the Food Security Act and Conservation Compliance."

The board approved Ripley Power & Light's request to buy five acres of the new industrial park, as appraised.

The board urged the state to revive plans for a Hwy. 19 to Hwy. 51 by-pass northeast of Ripley.

The board awarded a contract to Jerry Brewer & Associates for curbs and gutters for the Cottonwood Sub-Division, on a bid of $50,400.

Parking Problems Heard

The board approved reports by a committee chaired by Alderman Jimmy Harrison:

-- To change two parking spaces reserved for Elder's Yard Sale (across from the Post Office in Ripley) in its adjoining parking lot to one large door for receiving and delivering merchandise.

-- To restrict one handicapped parking space, at about

Swedish neurosurgeon has devised an operation—a pallidectomy—that has offered dramatic relief from the rigidity and spasms of Parkinson's disease. It removes the pallidum, a tiny, malfunctioning part of the brain that causes the problem.

Exercise helped decrease the diastolic readings of hypotensive men, enabling them to reduce their medication, a VA study found. The scientists recommend a stress test before the exercise regimen is started.

Breast feeding for the first six months reduces the likelihood of asthma and allergic skin disease later in life, even if both parents have allergies, the journal Lancet reports.

Cardiac rehabilitation therapy—from stress reduction to lifestyle change to exercise—helps heart attack patients achieve a 25 percent lower death rate. New guidelines by the Agency for Health Care Policy and Research say almost all patients could benefit.

Ripley Adding 150 Jobs, Plans Four Annexations

Ripley Mayor Richard Douglas told Ripley Rotarians Tuesday that a Ripley industry, not named, has firm plans to add 150 jobs to the current 3,340 industrial jobs in Ripley--75 in a shop on industry property and 75 in a new location.

Mayor Douglas says the city is seeking state/federal aid to annex Sky-Line Sub-Division, to improve streets and utility services. He said the city has plans for three other annexations, when feasible.

He said the city has plans for three other annexations, which are ready for submission to the Planning Commission.

One, he said, would be to the east, including the Country Club area.

Noting that he is constructing a new building for Allied Discount Lumber on new U.S. Hwy. 51 north of Ripley, with the building half in and half out of the city limits, he hinted annexation there.

After the meeting, he declined to name the other annexation target.

"People think the City annexes areas in order to pick up their real estate taxes," the Mayor told Rotarians.

He said real estate taxes were less important to city financing than sales taxes and per capita shares in state and federal grants.

He said that for per capita income the City might conduct a special census before the federal census for the year 2000.

He said there were reasons to suspect that the 1990 U.S. census under-counted City of Ripley residents.

Annexed areas often earn better utility service and lower fire insurance rates.

He noted that from three areas annexed this year, south to touch the Henning city limits, only one person appeared, at a public hearing, to protest the annexation.

The annexations included 74 parcels of property, adding $3,408,140 to a 1995 tax base of $178,186,716.

That tax base in 1992 was $117,945,420.

Sales tax collections in 1992-93 were $283,091.70, in 1995-96 $349,583.40.

The City budget, $3,008,732 for 1992-93, is, for 1996-97, $4,209,404.

Along the way, Douglas said, the City has demolished 99 houses and the buildings on "Skid Row," on North Main St., and has added to its parks and recreation system a new park, west of Ripley High School, with no equal in the state, Douglas said.

He said the park is visited frequently by officials of neighboring counties and other counties across the state, to study its advantages.

Douglas was the program guest of James R. Fitzhugh, chairman of the board of the Bank of Ripley, who was Mayor of Ripley when Douglas was an alderman, supervising street work.

They did more than $200,000 of curb and gutter improvements, including Oak St. work in asphalt which has served well to date.

Douglas reported industrial employment in Ripley as:

Birmingham Bolt	55

Koonce Held Guilty of Henning Thefts

A Circuit Court jury Thursday of last week found Sylvia Koonce, former recorder of the City of Henning, guilty of theft of more than $60,000 from city funds.

A witness from a Mississippi casino reported she had lost heavily there.

The jury set a fine of $25,000. Sentencing by Judge Joseph H. Walker III, set for Oct. 30th, could add eight to 12 years in prison.

In Halls From Japan

NORIE HOSOI, left, of Tokyo, Japan, is a house guest of Pam Sirman, of Dyersburg, principal of Halls Junior High School, as an exchange teacher from Japan, teaching Japanese culture to (from right) Courtney Thomas and Tammy Watts, and about 48 other students, in addition to assisting in coaching volleyball and helping with computer technology.

Arrests Made In Weapons Theft

The Lauderdale County Sheriff and Ripley Police Departments combined efforts Sept. 12th to make arrests on recent burglaries in the county. On Sept. 11th, Fullen's Store and B.E. Helton's home, both on Highway 19 West, were burglarized. Weapons were stolen from the Helton home, 2-way radios and other items were taken from the store. The following night, suspicious of two homes on Highland, the police began a still watch with sophisticated equipment borrowed from another department. Entering the houses, they found the radios and weapons.

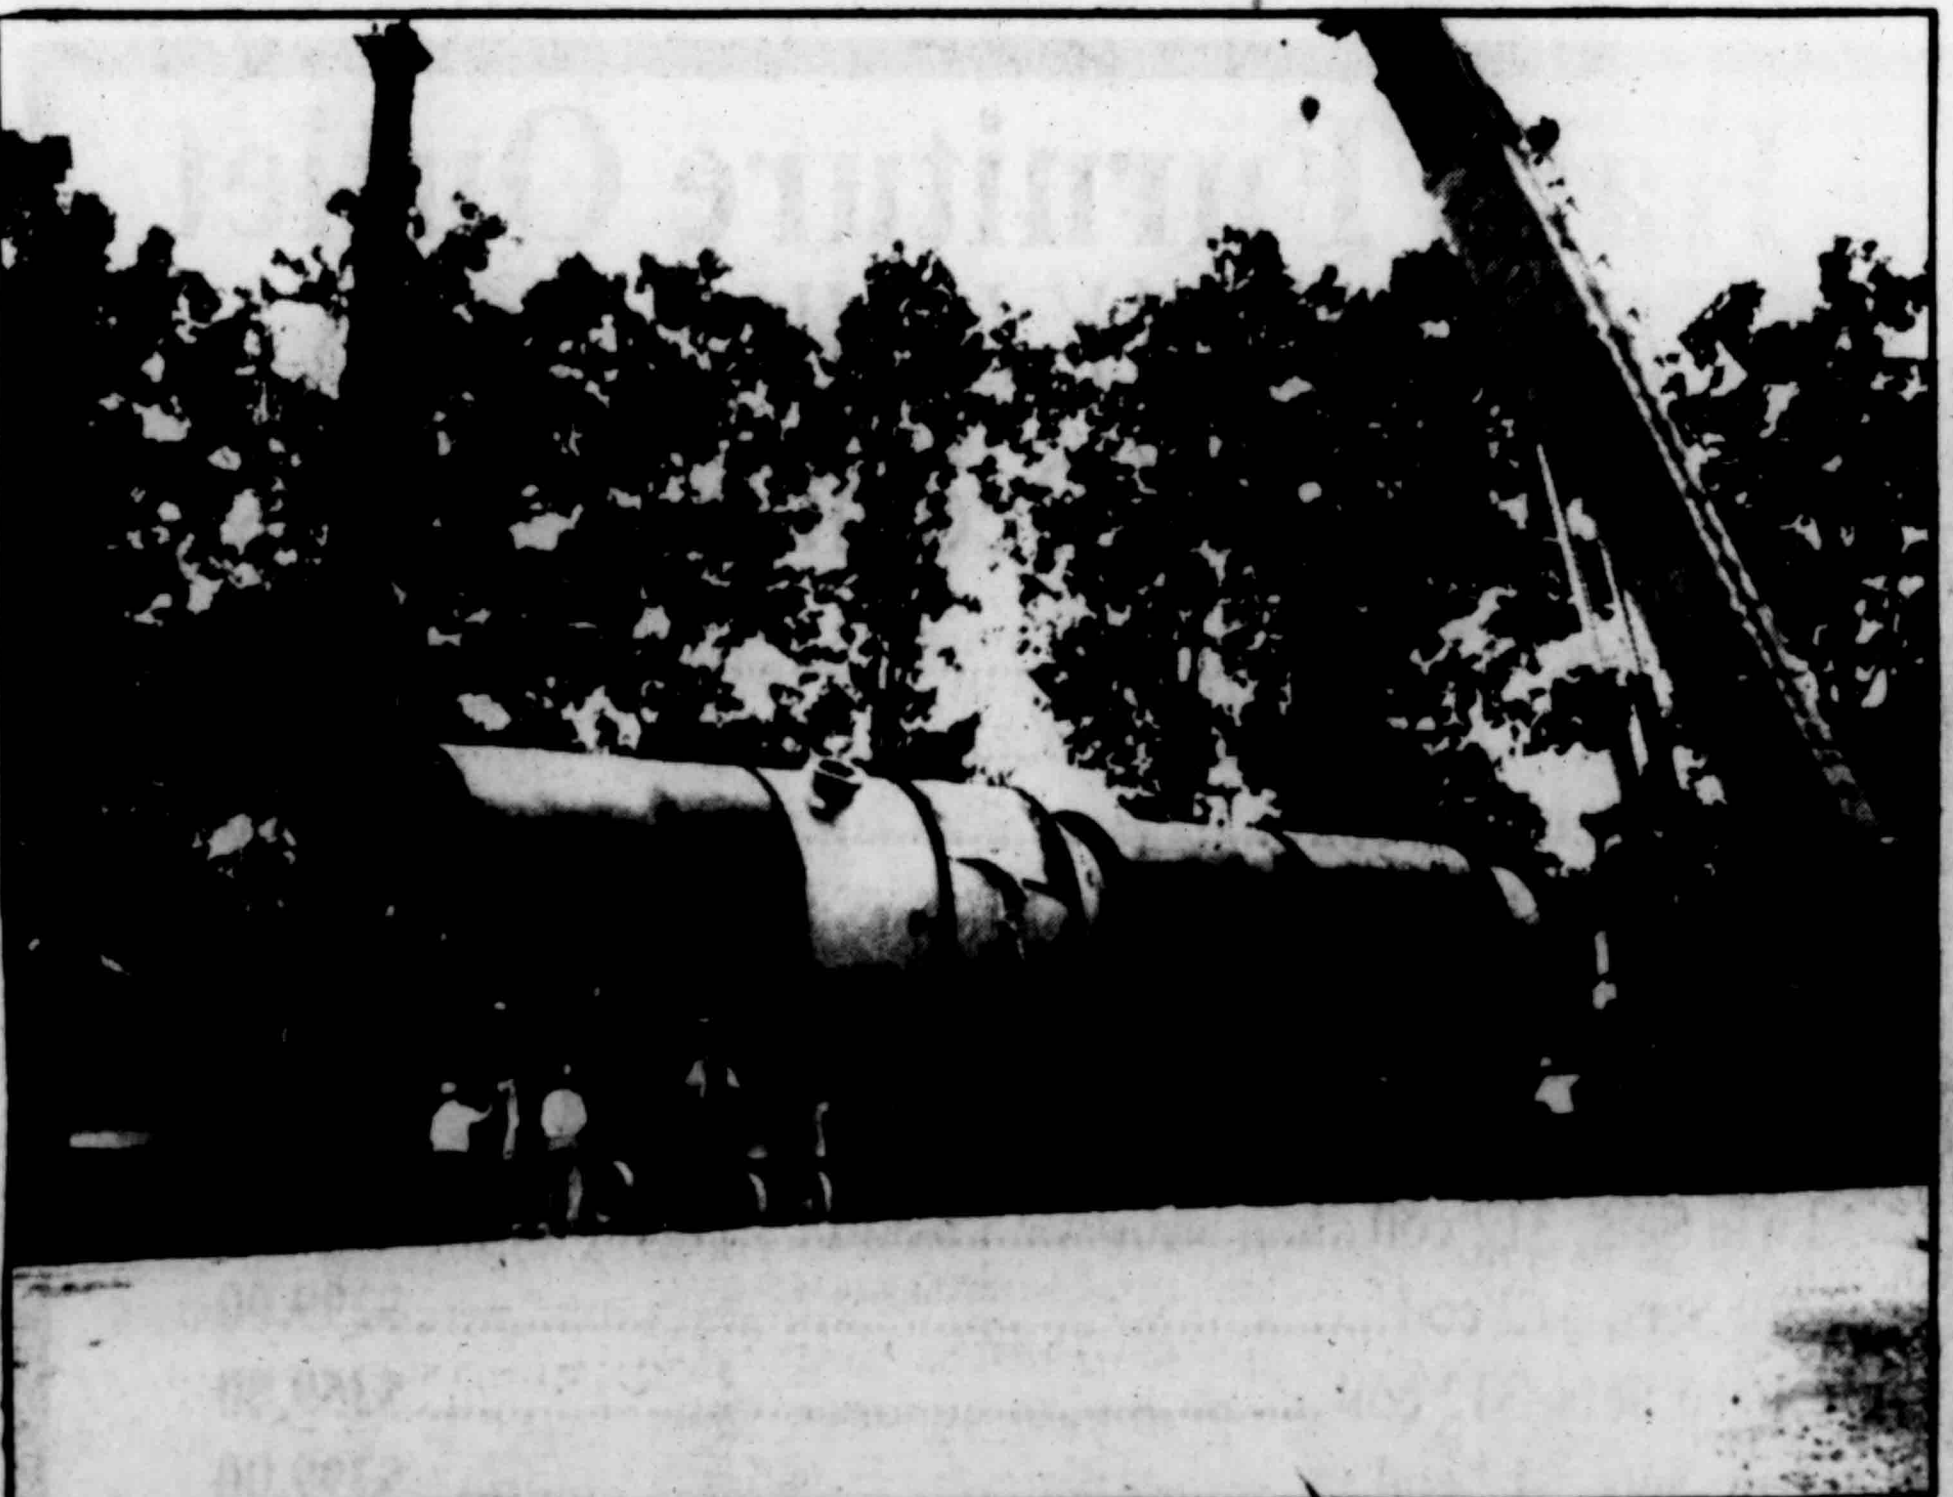

Arrested were Denita Helton and Tenika Whitlow, both 19, charged with running a disorderly house, theft, and contributing to a minor. Kimberly Thomas, 19, was charged with theft and contributing with theft; Steven Burnett, 19, theft. Eight juveniles were arrested and charged with burglary, violation of curfew and probation. Two are being held in custody in Memphis. Preliminary hearings are set for Sept. 17th, 19th, 26th and 27th.

James H. Prater, Jr., 33, of 244 1st Ave. Dyersburg, was arrested Saturday evening and charged with two counts of child rape. Sheriff Deputy Gaston Garrett was making rounds through the county when he noticed a car backed up into Crossroads Cemetery. He stopped to check the car and found Prater with two girls, ages 8 and 9. He is being held under a $100,000 bond. Preliminary hearing is set for 9 a.m. Sept. 27th.

Halls In Huntingdon For Regional Battle

Halls High School's Tigers, winners in Greenfield last week, 22-20, take a 2-1 record to Huntingdon this Friday for their second Region 7-2A game.

Halls lost its region debut to Camden, 33-18. Just out of the gate, the region race has Camden, Huntingdon, Union City, and Martin Westview 1-0.

The four are also undefeated outside the region, except Camden, which lost to Waverly, 34-33, in over-time.

Tied with Halls in the region, at 0-1, are McKenzie, Middleton, and Trenton Peabody.

Huntingdon's Mustangs have won from Hardin County, 21-7, Trenton Peabody, 14-12, and South Fulton, 40-0.

Huntingdon lost in the second round of the play-offs the past two seasons--last fall to Lewis County, 17-0.

Much Mustang Power Back Coach Mike Mansfield has back more than half of last season's starters, including All-State and All-West senior Reggie Gordon (6-1, 200), at defensive end, and All-Region Seneca Smith (6-2, 205) at defensive tackle.

At quarterback, and in the secondary, the Mustangs lack such credentials, and, like Halls, they have depth problems.

A Halls win Friday would be a big jump toward the play-offs for children with ADHD and is supervisor of educational services at Vanderbilt's Child Development Center.

Dr. Jane N. Hannah, assistant professor of pediatrics at the Child Development Center at Vanderbilt Medical Center, will present a program on the symptoms of Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) from 7 to 9 p.m. Oct. 7th in Halls Elementary School.

Dr. Hannah earned her doctorate in education at Peabody of Vanderbilt University. She directs the summer day treatment program at Vanderbilt's Child Development Center.

The Difference You Know As A Customer

Per Miles Around

By Murray Miles
Tennessee Farm Bureau

WE ALL INFLUENCE SOMEONE, WHETHER GOOD OR BAD

We were sitting around at a family gathering recently talking about growing up experiences. One of my sons-in-law told me about a time when he was ten years old, and a real Popeye fan. He wanted to be just like Popeye, and so he persuaded his mother to take him to the grocery so that he could buy some spinach. He wanted to eat it and be strong, just like Popeye. He got his can of spinach, and his mother opened the can and offered to heat it up for him. "No way," he says. He was going to eat it just like his hero, Popeye. So, he turned up the can of cold spinach, and filled his mouth full... just like Popeye. Well, you can guess the rest of the story. That's the last spinach that he ever ate, either cold out of the can, or any other way.

This is a perfect illustration of the effect of the media on children. Whether it is from comic books, movies or television, and whether it is good or bad, our children are influenced by what they see and hear.

But we hear Hollywood folks all the time denying their works are influencing anybody. They say that what they produce is just a reflection of real life.

Who are they trying to kid? Those who say their programming does not influence children are being totally dishonest.

We are bombarded night and day with television programs and movies that are full of gory violence, explicit language and illicit sex. If little boys can be persuaded to turn up a can of cold spinach and eat it after watching Popeye, what are some of them doing after watching the Power Rangers and the Ninja Turtles and other such violent cartoons every afternoon?

Sure, there was violence to see on TV when we were growing up. Remember the old black and white cowboy movies? They were shoot'em ups, but you never saw any blood. No one ever blew up into pieces, and the hero seldom kissed a girl. It was always his horse. And they never even said "dam" that I recall.

If Hollywood is just mimicking real life, are they portraying your life? Think about it. Do you act and speak the same way as they do in the movies?

So, what can be done about violence, sex and language on TV and in the movies?

No, censoring is not the answer, but supply and demand is. If we don't watch them, they'll be gone. Unfortunately, it appears that Americans love violence and sex and we'll still have these things, and we'll continue to influence young people, and adults, to be violent as a result of it.

But, if we are concerned, we can each do our part if we'll turn off the slimy talk shows in the morning, or the sexy soaps in the afternoon, and the violent crime shows in the evening, and stop paying good money to go see, buy or rent, gory, bloody, tasteless movies. Letting the sponsors know you won't buy their products works, too.

But, let's not blame the media for all the influencing that goes on in this world. We are individuals have a lot of responsibility, too. As parents, grandparents, aunts and uncles, teachers, preachers, or whatever our vocations might be, we all influence someone whether we know it or not. By the way we speak, act, and live, we influence for good or bad.

Remember, you are somebody's hero. Let us hope and pray that more will influence for good. We certainly need it now-days.

CARD OF THANKS

AirSho '96 is now just a memory (except for the many follow-up activities). I would like to thank Lauderdale Countians for making this the best air show ever. I have been overwhelmed by the support by Ripley and Halls business and industry. Without sponsors and advertisers, this event would never materialize. Our estimated attendance this year was 16,000. This is an improvement of 12,000 spectators over our first show in 1993. Success of any event, and this is no exception, is due to advertisement and media coverage. The Dyersburg Army Air Base Memorial Assoc., Inc. has never had the funds to advertise. Therefore, our success is totally due to media coverage, the contributions of business and industry, the participation of volunteers, and word-of-mouth promotion. The publicity that has come to our county because of this cannot be calculated. This activity, along with the Tomato Festival and other volunteer programs, is something that makes Lauderdale County project a very positive image. Thanks to all Lauderdale Countians for the success of this year's event.

She was a Baptist. She was the widow of Isaac Monroe Helms.

STEVEN TANOUS, 25, of Memphis, was fatally injured Sunday afternoon when his 1994 4-door Nissan Altima left Highway 51 By-Pass traveling southbound at Pennington Road, going airborne and hitting an embankment head-on.

His wife, Julie, 29, was seriously injured and flown to the Regional Medical Center in Memphis. Their four-month old baby was taken from Baptist Hospital Lauderdale to LeBonheur in Memphis with minor head injuries.

Trooper Thomas Joyner reported they had been to an annual family retreat in Kentucky. Mrs. Tanous had moved to the back seat to feed the baby and her husband fell asleep at the wheel.

New Exhibit Kentucky Offers Clue To County Burglaries

A gun stolen in this county is reported among 62 recovered from three persons charged in Fulton County, Ky., with receiving stolen property.

Held are D.C. Baugher, 53, his son, Eddie, and Eddie's wife, Billie Jo, of Hickman, Ky.

Mike Kirkpatrick, Lauderdale County sheriff's investigator, planned a visit to Fulton Wednesday.

Two arrests in Dyersburg, are tied to the case. Jerry Lee Hart, of Halls, was arrested Wednesday of last week, when, on a tip to city police, he was observed entering a home, gathering property from the house and preparing to leave, according to Dyersburg authorities.

Mr. Hart allegedly stated to Dyersburg Police that he understood Steve Barker, of Dyersburg, was burglarizing homes and selling what he stole to a man in Kentucky. He was arrested Saturday.

The American Academy of Family Physicians has renewed the Active Membership of Dr. W. H. Tucker, of Ripley's Family Practice Clinic, at 202 Tucker. Membership requires at least 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. Dr. Tucker has been an Academy member since 1965.

Readers Speak

Editor: First let me express my appreciation to you for your willingness to hear the voice of the people. There was a question in one of the schools about fairness in the schools. They call it Zero Tolerance. Children knowing right from wrong, this is what prompted me to write this letter to you.

We send our children out into an un-godly society, and an unholly one, that we have caused to come into being. Yet there are still some of us who do our best to teach them moral values. This is impossible without God's law that we seem to ignore, and go about establishing our own.

Many schools today are supported by gambling and casinos. Yet we get angry when laws are passed to prevent smoking because of filthy lucre. We don't want gun-control laws passed and God forbid that the President or anyone else would try to outlaw it. So we have confused and mixed-up children. I did not grow up with a TV. Reading books is what I did best and what all of us did best, even some read better, but we did not have to have special classes for reading.

Every superintendent, principal, professor and teacher went to church. They taught us moral and Christian values. Therefore, we had Godly teachers as well, who had a real concern for our welfare and being. Parents went to church and didn't send them but took them. Sunday was family day and fellowship with others of like faith, be it Baptist or Methodist. And, from our children, I don't recall hearing the word "boredom." I think that all of these made for a moral and Christian Society. No locks on the houses or car. So no matter how well we try to train our children at home, we still have to send them out into a God-less society that seems to have more influence on them than we do at home, no matter sometimes how hard we try. Was this society now that we live in made by them? I don't think so. Did they make the laws? I don't think so.

We set curfew laws to get them off the streets, that we allowed to happen, after all, who wants to stir up trouble, it's so much better to just let it go. These are streets that we didn't control when we sat quietly by and let it happen. So now we show our indignation toward that which we have allowed to come into being. Everyone's saying that they have a right to do "my own thing", without regard to their fellowman. So we have sown in the wind and now we are reaping a whirlwind. Imperfect people wanting a perfect child, and medical reason to kill the baby to save the life of the mother. A live delivery works equally well. The maternal anesthesia DOES NOT kill the baby—it suffers immensely! President Clinton, in defending the procedure, has stated that fewer than 600 are performed annually in this country, and then for gross fetal abnormalities. In truth, at least 1,500 partial birth abortions are performed annually in New Jersey alone, nearly all for "convenience," according to a recent investigative report in The Record, a pro-abortion New Jersey daily newspaper. Even Dr. Warren Hern, a later-term abortion provider and textbook author, admits, you can't really defend it...I would dispute any statement that this is the safest procedure to use." Further, it is a procedure with significant medical risks to the mother.

Revelation 6:17. For the great day will surely come, and who shall be able to stand. Yes, put the Bible back into our homes, schools and the heart. Anything else is just a Band-Aid.

It's ironic. Many of those who protested the Vietnam War labeled American soldiers serving their country in Vietnam as "baby killers." Now, many of those erstwhile protesters are themselves the most vocal defenders of this grotesque method of killing babies.

With the override of the President's veto accomplished in the House, please urge your Senators to help end this outrage against America's defenseless babies.

Jim N. Brantner, M.D. 2412 Susannah Street, Suite 5 Johnson City, TN 37601

Editor: I'd ask the lady so concerned about cigarette smoking. "Why waste your time on the smoking issue when there are far greater atrocities taking place in our country?"

While I do not smoke and am not a smoking advocate, I will not condemn anyone who does, since I have a few bad habits of my own.

Why not shut concern over the millions of abortions taking place in America, and the acts of Dr. Kevoorkian? We need to take a stand on far greater issues, and these are just a couple of the ones that will force God's wrath upon us if they are not put to a halt.

People need to wake up in America and quit all this political correctness. We need God's correctness!

Editor: I appreciate, very much, that you used the picture of the Gold Dust School 1914, that I sent in last week. I began getting local calls Wednesday night from those who could identify the faces that appeared on the picture. Since then I have had long distance calls, from as far away as Rhode Island, from Mrs. Robbie Camaro, she saw a picture of her father, Robert Meter, her aunt, Brooksie Meter Jordan, and her aunt, Lettie Meter Shoemaker. Mrs. Gertrude Brown Thompson, of Memphis, called Sunday afternoon and knew several that appeared in the picture. A gentleman from Ripley called Monday morning stating that he found several members of his family in the picture.

For Miles Around

By Murray Miles Tennessee Farm Bureau

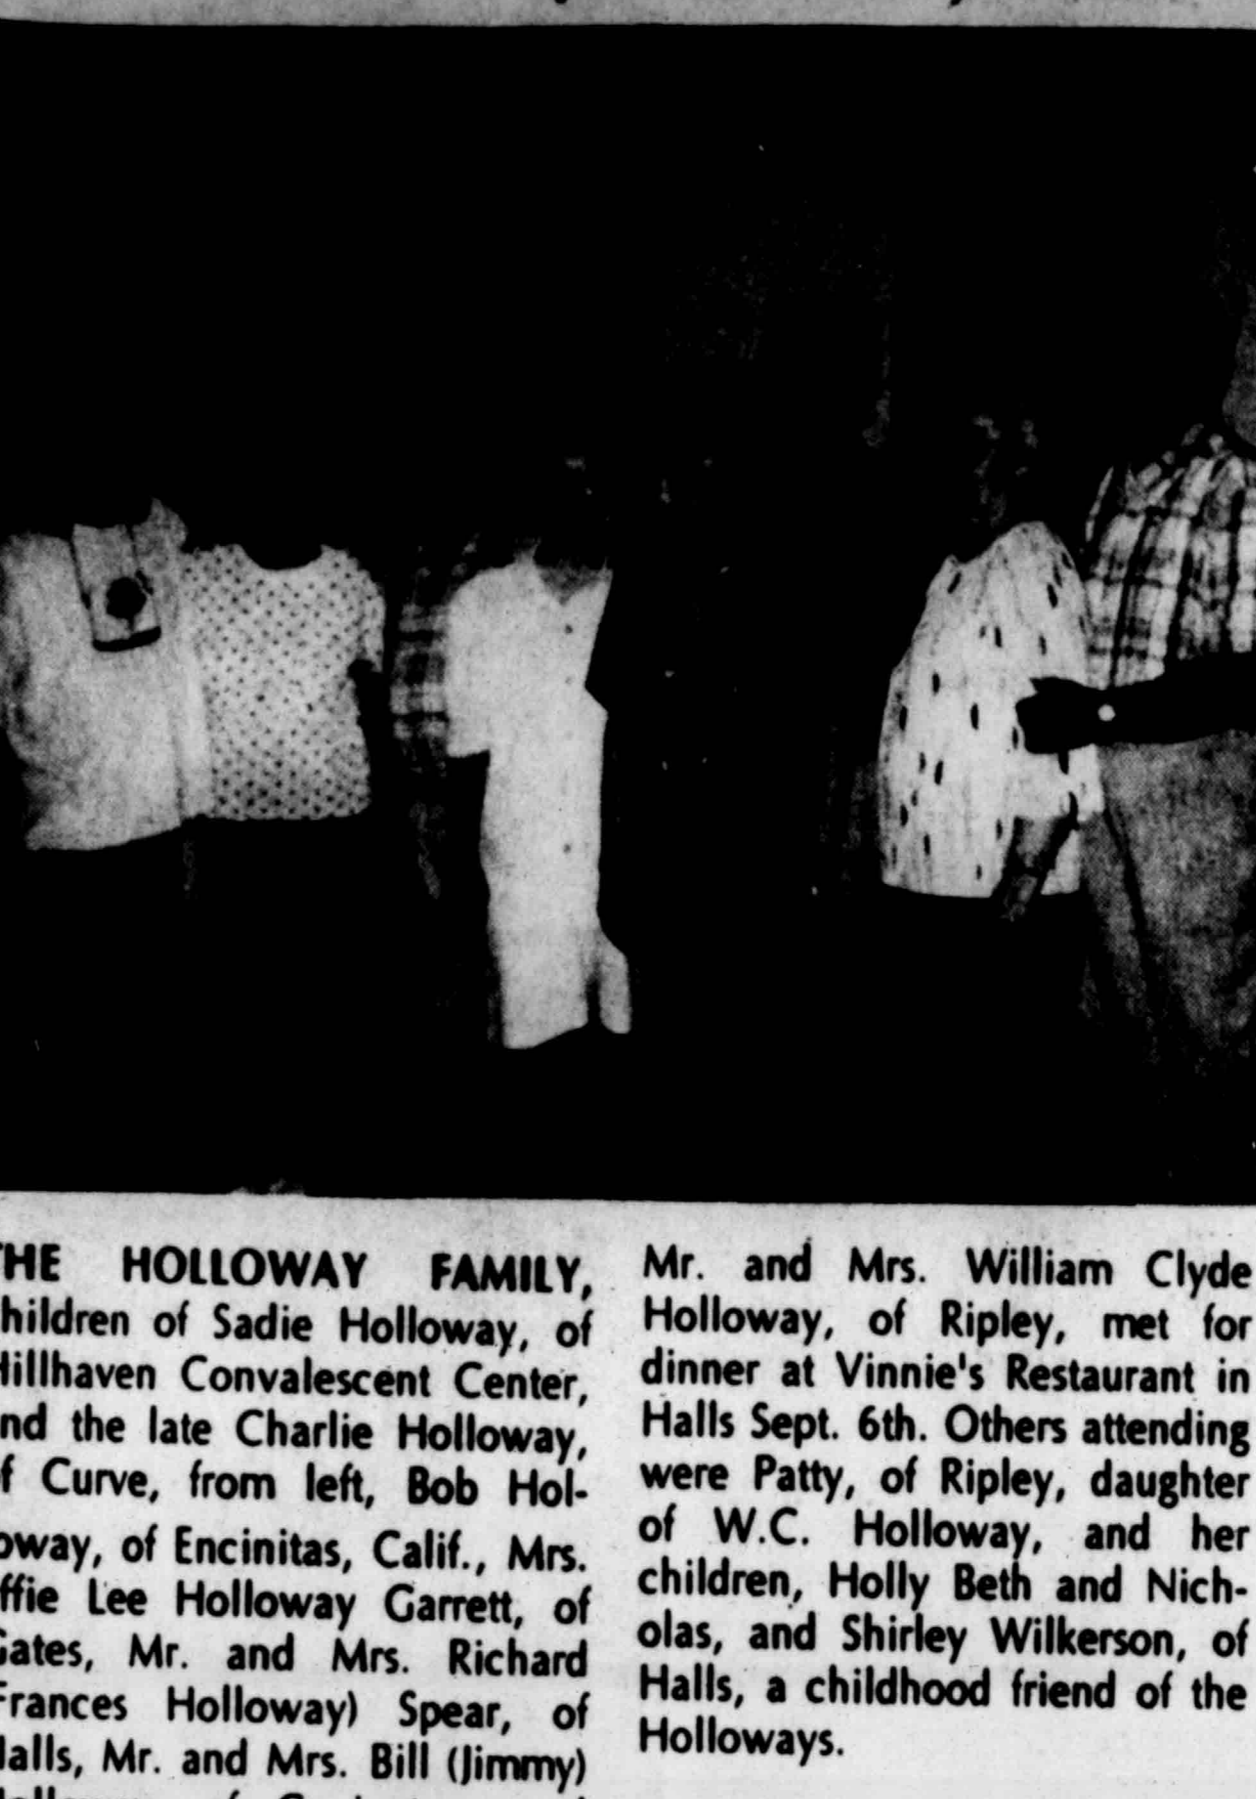

was at the Young Farmers and Homemakers' annual state camp at Camp Woodlee in Warren County in 1951. The chicken was a hit, and he hit the road with the sauce. Through the years, he cooked chicken many more times at YF&H camp, at the annual County Farm Bureau Presidents' Conference, Farm Bureau Women's Summer Conference, at state meetings of his fellow U.T. Extension workers, and at 4-H camps.

He was instrumental in setting up the annual Jamestown Broiler Festival where they barbecued enough chickens for five thousand people. He also helped begin the Cosby Ramp Festival in Cocke County. His barbecue chicken at the Ramp Festival was featured in a two page double spread colored picture in a May 1960 issue of Life Magazine.

He would always insist that the barbecue pit be two concrete blocks high, and he would use racks that held some 40 halves. There was an extra rack, and it would be used to lay on top so that two persons could turn all the 40 halves at one time.

After the chicken was turned, he would yell, "Let's us spray," and he had a stainless steel sprayer that he used to put the barbecue sauce on the chicken halves. An avid horseshoe player, he would challenge someone to a game between the turning and spraying process.

Also an enthusiastic Rook player, he would challenge someone to a game after the evening meal of barbecued chicken.

THE HOLLOWAY FAMILY, children of Sadie Holloway, of Hillhaven Convalescent Center, and the late Charlie Holloway, of Curve, from left, Bob Holloway, of Encinitas, Calif., Mrs. Effie Lee Holloway Garrett, of Gates, Mr. and Mrs. Richard (Frances Holloway) Spear, of Halls, Mr. and Mrs. Bill (Jimmy) Holloway, of Covington, and

Mr. and Mrs. William Clyde Holloway, of Ripley, met for dinner at Vinnie's Restaurant in Halls Sept. 6th. Others attending were Patty, of Ripley, daughter of W.C. Holloway, and her children, Holly Beth and Nicholas, and Shirley Wilkerson, of Halls, a childhood friend of the Holloways.

One half cup of cooking oil, or one eighth pound of butter or margarine;

Four teaspoons of Tabasco sauce;

Five teaspoons of Worcestershire sauce;

One fourth teaspoon of garlic powder. The garlic powder is optional.

Stir the ingredients together, and heat before using. Cook the chicken slowly, two concrete blocks high from the charcoal. It ought to take about two hours if you do it right. To check to see if it is done, twist the drumstick. If it turns easily and disjoints from the thigh, then it should be ready.

If you don't want to cook it yourself, find out when your local 4-H members are involved in the annual barbecued chicken cooking contest. They might let you have a bite of their finished product. You'll find out why Bill Sewell was a very special person when you try his sauce.

Bicentennial HIGHLIGHTS

Celebrating Sevier's Efforts

In 1771, Tennessee's first governor migrated to this area, raiding Cherokee country and leading a victory over the Tories at King's Mountain soon after. John Sevier became the first and only governor of the never-established state of Franklin before he became governor of Tennessee in 1796. A well-liked leader, he served for six terms before being elected to the U.S. House of Representatives.

Celebrating Sevier's guidance and leadership in the formation of Tennessee is more than appropriate in Tennessee's 200th year—it is imperative! And what better way to celebrate than with food?

The Sevier family offers this 150-year-old recipe for lemon pie. To prepare a pie crust as Tennesseans did in Sevier's day, I recommend the Never-Fail Pie Crust.

—Miss Daisy

Never-Fail Pie Crust

1 CUP ALL-PURPOSE FLOUR
1/2 TEASPOON SALT
1/3 CUP VEGETABLE SHORTENING
3 TABLESPOONS COLD WATER

Assemble all ingredients and utensils. In a bowl, combine flour and salt. With fork, work in shortening until mixture resembles coarse meal. Sprinkle water over flour mixture until completely moistened. Form into a ball. Roll dough out on a floured board or surface. Place in a 9-inch pie pan. Keep frozen until ready to use.

For a baked pie shell, prick pastry with a fork. Bake in a 375-degree oven for five minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 15-20 minutes longer.

On her 96 in '96 Bicentennial tour this summer, Daisy King will visit each of the state's 95 counties, plus the site of the lost county of James.

King will be promoting brick sales for the Tennessee Bicentennial Mall Path of Volunteers and signing copies of her best-selling cookbook Miss Daisy Celebrates Tennessee.

Look for "Miss Daisy" at Cracker Barrel Old Country Stores, at Bicentennial Exposition Train stops, and at book retailers across Tennessee.

In conjunction with the '96 tour, the publisher is sponsoring a recipe contest looking for special dishes and corresponding family stories that truly express who we are as Tennesseans.

Wine scientists at the University of California at Davis are testing to discover what element in red wine helps prevent heart disease. The key to the helpful phenolic compounds, they report, is the amount of tannin in the wine.

More wonders from wine: researchers in Hawaii found that wine can kill the bacteria that cause upset stomach and diarrhea—better than toquila, pure alcohol or even Pepto-Bismol. Credit may go to wine's acidity and to its polyphenols.

Newest research at Harvard found no correlation between fat in the diet and breast cancer. (A low-fat diet does protect against heart disease, though.)

Rings in pierced noses or the outside edge of the ear present risk of infection because the pierced tissue is cartilage. Make sure the piercer is experienced and uses sterile equipment; and see a doctor promptly for any sign of infection.

We've been helping everyone—including car piercers—guard against infection with alcohol, antibiotic cream and lots of first-aid supplies. It's time to stock up at Arnold's Health Mart Drug Co., 111 East Main St., Halls. 836-7211.

Halls Leaves Region In Visit To Dresden

Halls High School's Tigers, blanked last Friday in Huntingdon, 43-0, visit Dresden this Friday for a non-region tilt.

Huntingdon's wipe-out ties it with Martin Westview, also undefeated, for 2-0 records to lead Region 7-2A.

Tied for second in the 8-team region are Camden, McKenzie, Trenton Peabody, and Union City, all 1-1 in the region.

All but Camden are 3-1 overall this fall. Camden is 2-2.

Huntingdon's win, on 221 yards rushing to 74, 58 yards passing to one, and 11 first downs to seven, dumped Halls into the region cellar, with Middleton, both 0-2 regionally.

Halls, however, is now 2-2 for the year, Middleton 1-3.

Lions Have Yet To Win

Dresden, picked by a coaches' poll to run second in 7-team Region 7-1A, has four all-region players back from a 1995 season which began like this one.

Dresden last fall lost its first five games, then won five, including a first-round play-off upset of Auburndale - St. Benedict.

The Lions lost in the second round of the play-offs to Moore County, 34-7, to end the year 5-7.

This fall, Dresden has lost to Martin Westview, 50-12, Bruceton, 42-13, Camden, 21-15, and Lake County, 50-22.

Halls won from Dresden last fall, 27-18.
